But the greatest loss experienced by this deplorable and needless state of things is in the morale of the shop. Workmen compelled to work in a dingy, ill-kept, and ill-lighted shop will suffer loss of ingenuity, loss of ambition, loss of self-respect and respect for their employer and his interests. If they are forced to work at disadvantage the stimulus to activity and ingenuity suffers a gradual decay, and no one will pretend to deny that this decadence on the part of the workman is not a direct money loss to the proprietor.

Tidy workshops stimulate manliness and ingenuity on the part of workmen, and right here may be found the profit on the year's business, or if neglected the years losses. There are plenty of establishments, east as well as west, which, by a careful attention to these matters—which they regard, in fact, as non-essential—could easily increase the efficiency of their workmen 10 per cent, and that per cent would determine the difference between a profit and a loss.—The [illegible] Gazette.

THE WORK OF THE STORM.

Lightning Fires a Barn at Tamworth—A Fatal Bolt at Norwood.

Tamworth, July 7.—A severe storm passed over this place this afternoon doing considerable damage. The house and barn of Henry Richardson were struck, the barn being set on fire and burnt with all its contents. Loss about $1000, partially insured. The grist mill of Keech & Vanesse was also struck, the roof being badly damaged.

Killed by Lightning.

Norwood, July 7.—During a thunderstorm this afternoon George Howson, a farmer living about three miles from Norwood, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Mr. Smillie Withdraws.

Montreal, July 7.—For some time past it has been known that a change was to be made in the management of the Canada Bank Note Company. This change has now been effected, and it consists in the permanent withdrawal of Mr. W. C. Smillie, the president, from the engraving business. All the skilled workmen have returned to New York. The company has been organized on a new basis.

London, July 7.—The Leicester summer meeting opened to-day. The race for the Zetland plate of 2000 sovereigns was won by Brodick Closte's Cereza, Blaine's La Butard 2, Harrison's Lady Primrose 3.

Scales That Will Weigh A Hair.

The finest thing in the way of delicately adjusted scales of which I have heard recently has just been turned out by a Philadelphia firm for the mint at New Orleans, and they are certainly marvels of mechanical invention and expert workmanship. There are two pairs. The larger has a capacity of 10,000 ounces troy, or about 786 pounds avoirdupois, and when loaded to its full capacity will indicate the variation of one-thousandth of an inch. The other pair is intended for lighter work. All its bearings are of agate. This instrument is believed to be the most delicate in the world. It will give the precise weight of a human hair and is susceptible to the slightest atmospheric change. A signature written on a card with an ordinary pencil will make a perceptible difference in the weight of the card—Interview with a St. Louis Scale Dealer.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

Four Arrests Growing Out of the Strike on The Montreal Herald.

Montreal, July 7.—In connection with the strike of The Herald's printers President W. Kydd of the Typographical Union and three of The Herald's printers, T. W. Rennie, Charles Beattie and Silas Reed, were arrested this afternoon on a charge of conspiracy. The complaint is made by Manager W. S. White of The Herald, who makes affidavit that he believes the defendants conspired to prevent one Stephens and one Greenway from working for The Herald by inducing Stephens to go to Boston and offering to send Greenway west. The accused were admitted to bail in $200 each. The trial was fixed for Aug. 9.

The Herald people are advised that they can cause to be arrested the whole of the job room printers who were engaged by the week and who left their work without notice, but they are unwilling to do this at present, as the majority of the job room men were unwilling but were compelled to go out.

Flint Glass Workers in Session.

Baltimore, July 7.—The National Union of American flint glass workers met here to-day. All the skilled laborers in the flint glass houses, including cutters, grinders, moulders, and engravers are embraced in this organization.

REFUSED TO SHOVEL COAL.

Trouble Among the N. & N.-W. Brakemen—An Octogenarian Drowned.

Hamilton, July 7.—Saturday a crew of brakemen on the N. & N.-W. Railway were laid off because they refused to shovel coal at Georgetown. The crew which went up today say they will refuse to do any shoveling if ordered to do so. If they refuse they will be laid off; if they obey it is likely that the first crew will be discharged. The brakemen say that if the railway authorities persist in requiring them to shovel coal they will make a union matter of it and appeal to the International Brakemen's Union for support.

C. N. Axworthy, Cleveland's ex-City Treasurer, has bought an island in Muskoka. It is said that the city's claims against Axworthy have all been settled and that he has a comfortable remnant. He will build a summer residence on the island.

Patrick Earles, aged 83, was drowned in the slip at the foot of James-street Saturday night. It is thought that he accidentally walked into the water, the end of the street being unguarded.

Alfred John Brennen, fourth son of M. Brennen, died this morning after six weeks' illness of typhoid fever. He had been managing the mills at Sundridge and Huntsville.

NO CYCLONE ABOUT IT.

But This "Straight Wind" Killed a Lot of Children and Tramps at Fargo.

St. Paul, July 7.—The Wahpeton (N.D.) correspondent of The Pioneer-Press telegraphs: A straight wind from the northwest struck Fargo at 2½ a.m. Great damage was done the city. Electric light towers were blown down, whole blocks were unroofed, dozens of small houses were raised and almost every plate glass window in Front-street and Broadway was broken.

Seven children were instantly killed. Two unknown tramps stopping in a box car were killed.

No. 1 passenger train on the Northern Pacific had just pulled out of the yards and had stopped at the Milwaukee crossing. The train was made up of three baggage cars, nine coaches and sleepers, private car containing a party of Chicago & Northwestern officials and Superintendent McCabe's car. All the coaches and the tender were blown from the track but no lives were lost. The lights had been put out, so that there was no fire or steam. Nearly 20 passengers sustained slight injuries.

A CITY IN THE AIR.

Chicago Produce Men Have a Unique Scheme in Contemplation.

Chicago, July 7.—That a city in the air is possible will soon be demonstrated by Chicago, where it is proposed to build a city of business houses high in air, a city with streets, sidewalks, alleys and perhaps shade trees. This enterprise is in contemplation by the South Water-street commission produce men. Ten acres of land north of Randolph-street, literally covered with railroads and owned by the Illinois Central, is to be set apart for the purpose, and 150 houses, 20x80 feet and two stories high, are to be built upon high street posts. Viaducts will run in front of these buildings. The stores will be supplied with cold storage rooms, electricity, heat and all modern appliances. The railroad will lose none of its ground and Chicago will gain a business city. The plan, which is decidedly unique, has the approval of architects and engineers. It is declared to be feasible, and while providing the commission men with just what they want at reasonable prices will yield the company a handsome income.

ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

Weather Notes.—June, with its bright flowers, waving fields and charming landscapes, has passed away, but it was a month which will long be remembered for its hot wave on its two last days. The two first were nothing particular, but on the 3rd three days of thunder and rain commenced, doing a large amount of damage throughout the country and only finishing on the morning of the 6th, on the 5th, from 1 p.m. to 6 a.m., falling 1 inch and 10-100 of an inch, while rain fell on 11 days to the depth of 2 inches and 46-100 of an inch. Some hot weather occurred during the month. At 2 p.m. on the 4th the thermometer stood at 88° in the shade, on the 16th at 90°, on the 17th at 87°, on the 23rd at 90°, on the 24th at 85°. And as a number of your readers take pleasure in my weather table and might not see them regarding the hot wave on the 29th and 30th, I will take the pleasure of again inserting them. On Sunday, the 29th, at sunrise the thermometer stood at 64°, at 8 o'clock up to 80° in the shade, at 10 to 86°, at noon to 90°, at 2 to 95°, at 4 to 90°, at 6 to 90°, and at sundown at 80°. On Monday the 30th, at sunrise 65°; at 8 o'clock up to 85°; at 10 to 92°, at 12 to 94°, at 1 to 98°, at 2 to 96°, at 4 to 92°, at 6 to 86°, and at sundown to 80°. What do you think of that for Canada? On the morning of the 8th we had frost, with the thermometer at 34°, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 62 23/30°, being a high average. On six days there was thunder and on three fog. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, viz.: North-west 8 days, north-east 2 days, south-east 4 days, west 2 days, south 2 days, south-west 7 days, east 2 days, and north 3 days. Clover was in bloom on the 7th; fall wheat and timothy headed out on the 14th; barley on the 15th, and spring wheat on the 3rd of July.

Struck It This Time.

The report comes booming along—somehow reports always boom—that a York County editor has been granted a government office on the plea that his health had been ruined by hard party work and indigestion. A FATAL FALL.

Mr. George Bick, jr., of Bobcaygeon, Killed by an Accident.

Mr. George Bick, jr., of Bobcaygeon, met with a sad death yesterday in a simple yet tragic manner. He and his father, Mr. George Bick, sr., were in Peterborough and the younger man went to Chemong on the morning train and took the steamer Maple Leaf for home. At the Indian village some freight was put off, and Mr. Bick took hold of a bag of meat to assist in throwing it off. He took one end of the bag and a young man on the boat the other, and they swung it to give an impetus to the throw so as to land it on the wharf. The boy let go first and Mr. Bick was thrown off his balance, but let go of the bag and sprang for the land. He between the wharf and the steamer, but was soon rescued from that position. He did not seem at first to be seriously injured and even joked about his fall. Soon after he was seen to place his hand to the side of his head, and on being asked if he was sick did not reply and did not speak again. At Oak Orchard the boat stopped, and stimulants were given him to revive him and restoratives applied. At Bobcaygeon three physicians were called and attended him to the end, for the unfortunate man sank rapidly and passed away. His father was telegraphed to in Peterborough and asked to take a physician from here. Mr. Bick and Dr. King were ready to proceed on the afternoon train, but a message was received that the end had come and the doctor did not go.

There was no mark or bruise on Mr. Bick and no sign of any blow or injury and the cause of his death must have been some internal injury. He was a man in the prime of life, and his death was a sad one. He leaves a wife, daughter of Mr. John Stinson, of Verulam and formerly of Smith, and six children to mourn his sudden and untimely end.

Reported Drowning.

A report reached town to-day that Mr. Richard Morrissey, of Emily, was drowned on Sunday in Pigeon Creek. He went into the water for a bathe and by some means was overcome and drowned. A search was instituted and the body recovered yesterday. He was a young man about 28 or 30 years of age.

A Disputed Question Settled.

For his own satisfaction and to settle an often disputed fact, Market Clerk Doherty tested a load of hay on the market for the purpose of ascertaining what rain a load will hold as regards weight. Just before the rain storm came up he weighed a load which turned the scales at 4310 pounds and immediately after the rain the same load turned the scale at 4620 pounds, a difference of 310 pounds.

What Might Have Resulted in a Serious Crime.

A gentleman who was possessed of means and being in the habit of carrying a large amount of cash was sauntering his way home. He was accosted at the corner of George and Simcoe-sts. (police not present) by a gentleman who hailed him and asked if he were going home, this being between 9.30 and 10 o'clock p m. He answered "Yes" and walked as far as the Lock Works, placed his hand to his hip pocket, pulled out a list of prices and handed it to him, he being a brother grocer, stating at the same time it would be impossible to live if w j morrow continued selling goods at the prices he was, but after considering he paid cash for his goods, secured discounts, it would be impossible for them to compete. d3

To Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

There have been several excursions from town to Niagara Falls during previous seasons, all fairly successful. This time we have a still further advantage, for Court Little John, C. O. F., have arranged for a grand excursion on Civic Holiday to Niagara Falls and on to Buffalo. This addition will make the trip very attractive and a large crowd will no doubt avail themselves of it. There will be two trains over the C. P. R. on the Civic Holiday, one leaving at 5 o'clock and one at 7 o'clock a. m At Toronto the fine steamers "Chicora" and "Cibola" will take the excursionists to Niagara. The Michigan Central Railroad Company has inaugurated a fast train service between Niagara-on-the-Lake and Buffalo in connection with the Niagara Navigation Company's palace steamers Cibola and Chicora. After leaving the old town of Niagara-on-the-Lake the route is continuous along the river bank, passing Paradise Grove and the Canadian Chautauqua grounds, delightfully located on the west bank of the river (six miles beyond is the historical grounds of Queenston Heights, where stands the famous Brock monument) stopping at the entrance to Wesley Park and the Canadian Free Park. On reaching Falls View station all trains stop 5 to 10 minutes, affording passengers a most comprehensive and satisfactory view of the great cataract. The time between Toronto and Buffalo has been reduced to four hours. The tickets will be good for 2 days and prices will be announced later on. Be sure and go with Court Little John. 2d6

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes Twenty-five cents a bottle.

DESTRUCTION AND DEATH

GEORGE H. HOWSON INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

A Terrible Sight for His Wife—Richard Greaves also Prostrated by the Shock—The Particulars as Given by a Next Neighbor—His Hair and Clothing Badly Burned—The Sorrowing Family.

The storm which swept over this district yesterday afternoon did not come and go without leaving destruction and death in its track. It was shortly before four o'clock that the dense and murky clouds which had been banked against the northern horizon began to unscroll themselves and people prepared for a hurricane and deluge. In Peterborough, fortunately, the wind did not work much destruction, but in other places in the district reports show that some damage was done. A number of shade trees in different parts of the town were blown down, while a large pine tree in the Central Park was struck by a bolt and demolished. On Aylmer-st. another tree fell a victim to the lightning, but no serious damage was done outside this.

While the celestial artilleries flashed and thundered with no serious results in town, a fatal bolt killed a farmer near Norwood and the wind wrought destruction in Keene. At the latter village the hurricane lifted the north-west corner of the roof from the Presbyterian church and dashed it to the ground, demolishing part of the iron fence surrounding the church yard. The damage will be about $500.

In South Dummer Mrs. R. S. Spence, wife of the cheese maker at the cheese factory, had a narrow escape. She had taken a pail and was going out to a rain barrel to dip up some water when the lightning struck a tree close to her and she fell from the electric shock. She recovered with no serious results. The farmers from other townships who were seen in town report that the storm was a severe one, but they hope the crops will not suffer to any great extent. Some grain has been beaten down but they hope it will rise again.

The Fatality in Asphodel.

George H. Howson, a prosperous young farmer, well-known in this vicinity, living on the Hastings road about three miles from Norwood, met a terrible death yesterday during the heavy storm of rain and electricity. The unfortunate man was in his barn at the time the storm reached that locality and while he was sitting on the sill of the wooden structure the lightning struck the barn and, moving down the board, smote its victim so suddenly and so fatally that when found he was still in a sitting posture, stiff and cold in death. It was a sad fatality and leaves a sorrowing widow and three children who will remember with mourning the terrible storm of July 7th, 1889.

The particulars of the accident as gathered by the REVIEW from the unfortunate man's next neighbor were these: Howson, with a young man named Richard Greaves, were engaged working in his barn a short distance from his house when the storm came up. It is supposed that Howson had sat down on the sill of the barn to rest when the lightning struck the building directly above where he was seated. The fluid ran down the boards, splitting them to splinters, and struck Howson on the left side of the head, causing instant death. Greaves, the young hired man, was prostrated on the barn floor by the shock and when he recovered consciousness he was so frightened at the appearance of Howson setting in his upright position that he ran to the house. Mrs. Howson was at the door and when Greaves shouted that immediately started for the barn. When she entered a terrible and shocking sight met her gaze. Her unfortunate husband was seated where the death stroke had found him and his hair, whiskers and part of his clothing were in flames. The horrified woman and the frightened Greaves extinguished the flames and found that their worst fears were realized—the poor fellow was dead. The track of the death-dealing fluid was plainly discernable in the unfortunate man's body. It had struck him on the left side of the head, ran down his left cheek, crossed his neck, passed down the right side, crossed again and went down his left leg, burning the flesh in big patches and tearing his clothing and boots to shreads. It was a terrible shock for the poor wife and she was almost crazed with grief. Strange to say the barn did not take fire and was only damaged to the extent of a few boards down which the fluid had passed. Greaves was not much injured by the shock he received, but was badly frightened.

The deceased farmer was only 32 years of age and, as stated, leaves a wife and three children. He was well-to-do and was very much respected by all who knew him. He has relatives living in Otonabee and also in Peterborough. The entire neighborhood has been cast into gloom by the sad fatality, and the most heartfelt sympathy is felt for the family.

The Cricket Match.

The Manitoba and North West vs. Peterborough match will be played on Wednesday and Thursday from 12 to 6 o'clock each day. The visitors are stronger than ever with Mc Givern, the renowned bowler, added to their team.

Personal.

Miss Kaland, organist at St. Peter's Cathedral, has gone to Paris, her home, for a few weeks vacation.

Mr. Brick, the principal of the Separate school, is taking his holidays in Hamilton, his former home.

Mr. W.H. Hill and his bride arrived home last night from their honeymoon trip.

The Trouble Among the Italians.

The Italian colony was well represented at the Police Court this morning when the trouble between Frank Anthony, the peanut vendor, and Mrs. Carolina Thomeson, the wife of Anthony's partner, was laid before the Magistrate. Mrs. Thomeson had sworn out an information against the dark complexioned Frank charging him with having assaulted, beat and ill-treated her. Both parties were represented by counsel, Mr. W. H. Moore appearing for the plaintiff and Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., for the defendant. A bright-eyed Italian boy of some eleven or twelve years acted as interpreter, the plaintiff being unable to speak English. The story as it appeared from the evidence was this: Frank has Mrs. Thomeson's husband working for him and they all live together on Aylmer-st. in a house owned by Frank. Thomeson and his wife have lately expressed a desire to part company with Frank, but that gentleman was unwilling and the matter gave rise to more or less disputing. Yesterday Frank went to the house and after talking about the separation he laid hands on the women and threw her around, and during the proceedings the woman had her finger cut. Mr. Poussette was willing for his client to plead guilty to common assault and the Magistrate considering there was nothing more in the case agreed and fined Frank $10. The fine was paid, although the peanut vendor thinks he was an abused man.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

A Sad Accident that will Probably Prove Fatal.

This forenoon an accident of a sad character occurred at the Grand Trunk station. Mr. John Haggerty, an old man of about 80 years of age, who resides on Elm-st., was standing near the station platform with one track between him and the platform. There was a freight train on the track and as it moved out he stepped between the rails. The Chemong Lake passenger train was just coming in, following close on the freight, but with his eye on the freight the old gentleman did not see it and being partially deaf he did not hear it. The before he was aware of his danger. He caught the pilot of the locomotive in a desperate attempt to save himself, but his feeble grasp was not strong enough and he fell in front of the train on the rail. His legs were shoved along for a short distance, in fact a very short distance, for the accident was seen by the engineer, Mr. Taylor, who at once whistled, applied the break and reversed the engine almost simultaneously and brought the train to a standstill in a wonderfully short space of time. Owing to the driver's promptness the old man was not run over, but it was evident that he had sustained

VERY SERIOUS INJURIES.

Physicians were sent for at once and Dr. King and Dr. Bell were called. The aged sufferer was unconscious and was taken to the Nicholls Hospital. It was found that the right leg was broken near the ankle and bruised. The left leg is also injured above the knee, is fearfully swollen and it is feared that it also is fractured. Up to a late hour this afternoon he had not recovered from the terrible shock, and on account of the severity of the injuries and the shock, together with the injured man's age, Dr. King could hold out almost no hope of his recovery.

A Gift to an Employee.

A pleasing incident occurred at the office of the Wm. Hamilton Company on Monday night, and one which reflects alike on the kindness of the donor and the faithfulness of the recipient. When Mr. Thos. Couch, who was leaving for the Old Country, went to the works office to say good-bye. He was wished a pleasant and enjoyable time by the heads of departments who happened to be there, and was also surprised at receiving from Mr. Wm. Hamilton, sr., a generous purse of money towards the expenses of the trip. Mr. Couch was clearly taken by surprise, as he had no inkling of Mr Hamilton's intention, who thanked Mr. Couch for his long and faithful service of over twenty years in his employ and mentioned his high appreciation of Mr. Couch's fidelity and care for the interests of the establishment. Mr. Couch, in a modest way, returned thanks, and at first declined the gift, but recognizing the kindness that prompted it, accepted. It is understood that the men of the works proposed to subscribe a purse to be presented to Mr. Couch, but he hearing of the intention, declined to accept, as not being entitled to it Mr. Couch left by the night train, happy in the evidence of appreciation on the part of his employers.

Mr. Wall applied for a crossing, which was granted.

A culvert at the corner of Robinson and Lake-sts. which was partly washed away, was proposed by the Council to be repaired.

After discussing a couple of minor matters the Council adjourned.

REVIEWS.

THE METHODIST MAGAZINE.—The July number begins the thirty-second volume of this excellent family Magazine. The first article gives a graphic account of Damascus, the oldest city in the world, and one of the most interesting. "On the Youghiogeny" is a finely illustrated paper on one of the most picturesque rivers and mountain regions of the Alleghanies. Lady Brassey's "Last Voyage" describes some of her striking adventures in the Southern seas. A portrait and life sketch of Joseph Cook follow; and a brilliant article from his pen on Woman's Work for Women in India. A noble sermon by Dr. Douglas follows. Then a touching temperance story, "Jack the Fisherman," by Mrs. Phelps Ward, and Mrs. Barr's fine tale of Yorkshire Methodism. The present is a good time to subscribe. The current volume will contain a condensed record of the proceedings of the several Annual Conferences, and of the approaching General Conference—one of the most important in the history of the Church. Among the forthcoming papers will be copiously illustrated articles on "The Austrian Tyrol and the Black Forest," by the Editor; "In the Track of St. Paul," by Rev. George Bond, B.A.; "Napoleon at St. Helena," by Percy B. Punshon; Lady Brassey's adventures at the Antipodes, and her tragic death and burial at sea; also important papers on "Applied Christianity," on Social Progress, on Prison Reform, on Alleged Progress in Theology, on Christian Co-operation, etc.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.—Perhaps the most striking feature of the July Century is the long-expected debate on The Single Tax, by Edward Atkinson and Henry George. Mr. Atkinson opens the discussion in a paper on A Single Tax upon Land; Mr. George replies in A Single Tax on Land Values, and there is a rejoinder by Mr. Atkinson. Another article that marks this number of the Century is the beginning of the Century's Prison Series, the first paper being a thrilling account of the life of A Yankee in Andersonville, by Dr. T. H. Mann, accompanied by a plan and pictures made from rare photographs. Dr. Edward Eggleston in an illustrated article tells the story of Nathaniel Bacon, the Patriot of 1676. John Burroughs, who has not lately appeared as often as usual in the magazine, prints a characteristic out-of-door paper entitled A Taste of Kentucky Bluegrass. The pictures are by a Kentucky artist, W.L. McLean. Joseph Jefferson in his charming Autobiography describes his early experience in Peru and Panama; he also tells how he revived the play of Rip Van Winkle in London with the literary assistance of Dion Boucicault. Mrs. Amelia Gere Mason describes the Women of the French Salons of the 18th Century; and the engraver Cole presents us with one of his exquisitely engraved blocks—the frontispiece of the number,—after a painting by Filippino Lippi. The fiction of the number consists of the second part of the anonymous Anglomaniacs; the ninth part of Mrs. Barr's Olivia; a story, The Reign of Reason, by Viola Roseboro' (a young Southern writer with a rapidly growing reputation); and a complete novelette, Little Venice, by Grace Denio Litchfield, with a full-page illustration by Mary Hallock Foote. The Editorial Topics are: On Lack of Conscience as a Means of Success, New-York's Reformed Electoral System, A Recent Sermon, and Tom-Toms in Politics. There is an Open Letter on The Inside Facts of Lincoln's Nomination.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

AFRICAN EXPEDITIONS.

THOMAS STEVENS TELLS HOW THEY ARE FORMED.

Boys Who Are Anxious to Explore the Dark Continent Will Find Valuable Hints Below—How to Make Yourself a Second Henry M. Stanley.

For every African expedition that is heard of by the general public there are probably a half dozen that are organized, come to grief and are never heard of outside of Zanzibar and a limited circle who were immediately connected with their inception.

All the failures are brought about by the unstability of the negroes whom you have to depend on to carry the supplies, as a first cause, and, as a second, the unfitness of the white man in charge to control and command that class of people. Some men are peculiarly fitted to manage a crowd of half-civilized, rattle-brained Africans; others are wofully out of place trying to command anything less civilized than their tailor.

Notice is circulated that men are wanted for a white man's expedition. In a very short time everybody in Zanzibar is talking about it. Young men desirous of acting as porters go to your agent and have their names put down. Three months' wages are paid them in advance to bind them to their contract. From the day of signing until the starting of the expedition, whether it be a week or six months, each man draws about five cents a day posho, or ration money. The wages of the porter is $5 a month and rations. The old Maria Theresa dollar is still the unit of account in Zanzibar, although the currency is rupees.

WHAT IS USED FOR MONEY.

In the interior there is no money, the currency of the interior is American or Bombay domestics, Manchester prints and handkerchiefs, beads of any kind and colors, and iron and copper wires. It is the absence of money and the bulky nature of these supplies that makes travel in Central Africa so difficult and expensive. Instead of putting a roll of notes or a purse of gold in your pocket you have to buy bales of cloth, sacks of beads and coils of wire, and hire a rabble of Zanzibar porters to accompany you and carry them on their heads.

The regulation porter-load weighs sixty pounds. Lighter loads and better food are expected from a European than from an Arab. A load of domestics cost in Zanzibar about $15, a load of beads from $15 to $50, according to quality; a load of senega, or iron ware, $7, and a load of copper wire $60. Your load of senega for which you paid $7 in Zanzibar, will cost you from $40 to $50 to transport it to Ujiji and $75 to Uganda.

Much care and forethought have to be exercised in the selection of the various kinds of beads. Certain tribes will take only certain kinds. Savages are most conservative people in the matter of trade, and will no more think of accepting a necklace of beads to which they have not been accustomed than an American shopkeeper would think of accepting across his counter a Russian rouble.

Many an explorer has bitterly rued his ignorance of this nice point when hundreds of miles beyond the possibility of rectifying the mistake. Because the beads he had taken with him were not current in Sigumin, Count Teleki, in 1878, was compelled to make war on the natives and seize food to prevent his people from starving. Unscrupulous bead merchants take advantage of the unsophisticated new arrival to unload on him their old stock; and interested parties will give him misleading information about the kind of beads he requires.

A SMALL ARMY.

If you are going on an expedition that will last about a year you have probably engaged 200 porters, a dozen askari, or soldiers, and three head men. In addition to the supplies above mentioned are boxes of European stores for your own use, medicine chest, ammunition, tents, axes and, lastly guns for arming the men. Every member of the expedition must have a gun. Information on this latter subject may save much expense and annoyance. The best rifle for the men is the British Government Snider. I tried a few Winchester carbines, but found them altogether too good and expensive a weapon for the careless and destructive Zanzabari. In spite of the utmost precaution on our side the porters will use their guns for crowbars for turning over their loads and for all sorts of things for which a gun was never made. A little influence in London will enable one to obtain and ship to Zanzibar all the Sniders needed at a cost of about $7 apiece landed in Zanzibar.

The porters are very like animals in the matter of never looking beyond the wants of the moment. They require the same attention from their leader as the same number of mules would, often a great deal more. They have a marvelous capacity for doing things the wrong way. If a box is breakable, it is certain to be smashed before the end of the first day. If the weather is rainy, your gun-case, portmanteau, camera, &c., will be sure to be carried upside down, so that the water gets in under the lid. The wretch carrying your drinking water to tide you over the first four days will lag behind and empty half of it away to lighten his load ere you are an hour on the road.

No matter how irritated or dismayed you may feel, however, at the dismal exhibition of incapacity, asinine stupidity, laziness, drunkenness, rebelliousness and other admirable traits from one end of your caravan to the other as it files along the winding footpath on the memorable first morning of your march, let not the slightest symptoms of either one or the other betray themselves to your men. Keep cool.

STARTING EASY.

Let your first morning's march be short and easy. At this stage of the expedition the Zanzibar porters are slippery and uncertain to a degree. One out of every six has joined the expedition for no other purpose than getting the three months' pay in advance. They intend to desert at the first favorable opportunity. Treat them royally, and take pains to have it circulated through the crowds that you love the African and are chiefly interested in making them all fat and wealthy. Some who have intended to desert within the first three marches may then change their minds.

Another sensible precaution of yours has been the employment of a hundred auxiliary carriers at a month's pay each, to help you along for the first ten days. Consider yourself lucky if no more than a half dozen of regular pagazis have deserted from the first night's camp. Of the auxiliaries you have but a dozen. Only one box has been lost and only one man crippled by the accidental discharge of a gun.

Much, very much depends on the proper selection of a head-man. The head-man is a go-between; the connecting link between the "bwana" and the porters. By secretly intriguing with the men against you he can do more towards smashing up your expedition than any other agency. With a faithful, competent head-man all things are possible; with a treacherous imp who is always conspiring with the men to thwart your ambition, purgatory is a mild sort of place compared with an African caravan.

How Cablegrams are Sent and Received.

Although the ocean cable is in fact a telegraph line, it is so differently constructed that the rules for working land lines are almost entirely dissimilar. With the first long cable, great difficulties were encountered in sending through them a current of electricity of sufficient power to record the messages rapidly. The methods for overcoming these difficulties, and in use at present, are described as follows:

Keys which, when depressed, transmit positive and negative currents, are employed at the sending station in connection with the regulation battery. The current of the battery does not pass directly into the cable, but into a condenser, which passes it into the submarine line.

This greatly increases the force of the current used, and serves to cut off interfering ground currents.

But this method of recording messages was found to tax the eyesight of the operator severely, a few years' work often rendering them almost, if not totally, blind. Recognizing the fact that there must be something wrong with such a system, inventors set about repairing the defect, which resulted in perfecting the syphon galvanometer, which has all but superseded all other receiving devices.

In the syphon receiver the movements of the needle are recorded by means of ink spurted from a fine tube. This tube is attached to a coil suspended between two fixed magnets, which swing to the right or left as the pulsations pass through it. The syphon galvanometer is a great improvement, is not hard on the eyes, and enables the operator to receive much more rapidly than with the flash receiver.

A CREMATION FREAK.

The Body of a Veteran Turns to Marble While Being Burned.

A letter from Caseville, Mo., to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat tells this: Great interest is manifested here over a remarkable circumstance which has just come to light. It happened on Off Davis, near Buzzard Roost. When old man Clayback came out of the late war he was a physical wreck, but like many others of the State militia was too independent to ask for a pension, even if he could have secured one, and made his living in the best way he could until his six boys and seven girls got old enough to help him. About five years ago the old man began to get very bad with rheumatism, as he thought, and, although he used the entire crop of spicewood berries which grew on the creek, he continued to get worse. Two years ago he got so stiff as to be confined to his house and called in a physician, who, after carefully diagnosing the case, gave as his opinion that instead of rheumatism ailing the man it was a true case of ossification.

The disease continued, complete ossification took place, and the old man died. How to carry out the wishes of the deceased, who had expressed a desire to be cremated, at first troubled the bereaved family, until they learned that Stephen Symphony was burning lime in his kiln which had been fired three days and was reaching a white heat. Desiring to save the ashes, they procured a large evaporating pan belonging to a molasses mill. Placing the remains in this, they carefully shoved the whole into the kiln, which was an open one on top, and being built in the side of the hill, was easily accessible. The sorrowing family gathered around, expecting the rapid incineration and disintegration of the departed. In a few minutes the winding sheet was gone and the naked body was exposed to the intense heat. From the ears, nostrils and mouth came jets of steam, broken at first, then solid, and in an hour had ceased, but no change was perceivable in the silent form. More wood was fed to the glowing furnace to make the vigil of the bereaved briefer, but still no change. More wood was pitched in, and hotter still the fire raged. Hour after hour passed, and from a glowing red to an opaque white the body turned, while on the countenance seemed to rest an expression of infinite peace and satisfaction. So three days wore away, and the fire must be drawn or the lime spoiled. Twenty-four hours later, by means of grappling-hooks, the pan and body were raised, and, to the surprise of every one, the body was still intact and glowing. A greater and more pleasant surprise, however, awaited the family, for when the body became cold it was ascertained that the intense heat acting upon the ossified body had changed it to perfect marble, a little lighter in color than the natural body, but retaining its natural shape, except on the back, which is a little flattened. The only defects are where there was a bullet wound and in the left foot, which is broken in two. In 1865 Mr. Clayback cut his foot very severely, splitting it between the second and third toes, and following this wound a rupture appeared, which caused the loss as above stated. Where a small blood vessel had burst in his leg there appeared a delicate tracing of the circulation. The family are having a pedestal cut out of native limestone, and will mount the "statue," but at present they are using a black gum block for the purpose.

The French Woman's Advantage.

When talking of French women and the important place they hold in the world, it must be remembered that they have one great advantage over their English and American sisters. The French woman until the day of her marriage is a mere cipher. Anything in the shape of originality and power is discouraged in a young girl; even exceptional beauty is not desired. The mother of a young girl rather under than overdresses her, and would infinitely rather hear you say: "She is modest," or "What a graceful young lady your daughter is," than have her physical attributes alluded to.

Thus, all the petty jealousies, untrue gossip and personal remarks which assail an English or American girl having pretensions to rank, fortune and beauty are avoided, and the lady only becomes a possible personality when she has obtained a husband's protection and care. The single woman is an unknown phenomenon in French society; a girl who does not wish to be married is supposed to have as a matter of course, a religious vocation and accordingly becomes a nun without more ado. Every liberty is given as to choice of convent, order, etc., but with one or two exceptions, which prove the rule, every French woman of good family devotes herself to religion or a husband.—Paris Letter to New Orleans Times.

A Step Too Far.

She could figure to a fraction the exact
 æsthetic action of each prismatic shading down to infinite detail.
Her taste was undisputed and 'twas everywhere reputed that in color combinations she was never known to fail.
She'd expend upon a ribbon all the energy of Gibbon, and to her a simple threading would transform the face of day.
In the art of woman's dressing she was great beyond expressing; but she bought her hub a necktie and he fainted dead away.

'Tis An Old Saying

that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak today. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. We are going to quote prices that are lower than asked by any other dealer. If you are wanting or will want in this line this year, you cannot afford to ignore this opportunity.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

THE WORK OF THE STORM

AN UXBRIDGE FARMER KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Another Fatality in the Township of Reach—Capt. Andros Upset in a Squall on the Bay and Drowned—Other Casualties.

UXBRIDGE, July 8.—The heaviest thunderstorm ever known in this section passed over between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon, doing considerable damage. Daniel Munros was churning in the cellar accompanied by his wife, when he was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He was a prosperous farmer and was married last fall. The lightning also struck the house of A. Spears and set fire to the telephone office. The flames were pluckily extinguished by Miss Hamilton, the attendant.

Another Fatal Bolt.

UXBRIDGE, July 8.—During the storm today lightning struck the barn of Joseph Watson, in the township of Reach, about five miles from here, killing his hired man Norman Davidson, and seriously injuring Davidson's brother, who stood beside him. The bolt set fire to and burnt the building, together with eleven head of thoroughbred young cattle. Loss $4000; no insurance.

UPSET BY A SQUALL.

Capt. E. B. Andros Drowned in the Bay at Barrie.

BARRIE, July 8.—Capt. E. B. Andros, an English gentleman living on the bay shore here, was drowned this afternoon. He was coming up the bay in a small sail boat when a squall struck the boat, upsetting and throwing him into the water. Parties on the shore saw the accident and used every effort to rescue him but without avail. His body has not been recovered.

A Hotel Blown Into Lake Champlain.

SARATOGA, July 8.—Reports received here give no particulars in regard to the reported storm, but the rumor at the railway station here is that Bluff Point Hotel on the Lake Champlain shore, owned by the Delaware & Hudson Company, was blown into the lake this afternoon and several persons lost their lives. Fort Kent is the farthest point north that can be reached by railway or Western Union wires. That place reports a terrible blow in that section.

The first reports were that 16 lives were lost, but later accounts say only one person is missing.

Heavy Losses in New England.

BOSTON, July 8.—Despatches from various sections of New England report that a disastrous storm swept the country to-day doing incalculable damage.

HENRY SHARON BOBS UP AGAIN.

He Invades the House of His Chicago Brother-in-Law and Is Arrested.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Henry Sharon, whose varied marital experiences have made some stir in Chicago, has been getting into trouble again. Saturday night he visited the home of his wife's brother-in-law, George W. Salter, No. 120 West Adams-street, in company with N. J. Thompson of the law firm of Bangs & Thompson and another man, and asked to see his (Sharon's) wife. Salter told him she had gone on a visit to Ingersoll, Canada. Sharon impugned his veracity and a fight followed. The clothing of both men suffered more than their persons. Sharon and his friends then retreated to their carriage. Sharon was arrested, but gave bail.

It seems that Sharon is desirous of having his wife sign certain papers, but just what they are no one seems to know. Mrs. Sharon is here for the purpose of securing a legal residence with a view of beginning divorce proceedings. She married Sharon three years ago in Ingersoll much against the wishes of her parents—in fact, it was a runaway match. She is but 19.

About a month ago Sharon forced his way into the Salter residence, and his wife forced him out again at the point of a pistol. Sharon had also quarreled with Salter on several occasions.

Vanderbilt's Latest Acquisition.

CHICAGO, July 8.—A paper here says: The Chicago Stock Yards will henceforth be controlled by the Vanderbilts. These eastern money kings have secured control of them and the concern is to be capitalized for $22,000,000 and the stock placed upon the market. It is understood Chauncey M. Depew will be president of the company.

Fate Cannot Harm Me, I've Dined To-day.

KINGSTON, July 8.—John McGlynn, aged 53, died suddenly yesterday while taking an after dinner nap. McGlynn had been suffering from an abscess behind his left ear, but yesterday felt easier and ate a hearty dinner. Strange to say before sitting down to his meal he said to his wife: "I want a good dinner. If I do die I won't die hungry." Within an hour he was dead.

Drowned at Paris.

Davis' Confession.

BELLEVILLE, July 8.—Peter Davis, who died on the gallows on June 20, is said to have stated to a fellow-prisoner that he did not fire the fatal shot, but that Mrs. Emory did the deed.

A Kingston Rumor.

KINGSTON, July 8.—The Whig says it is rumored that the election of J. H. Metcalfe, M.L.A. for Kingston, is to be protested. The time for entering a protest expires Friday.

MUST HAVE OUR BARLEY.

A GRAND KICK BEING MADE BY UNITED STATES BREWERS.

They Object Strongly to the McKinley Bill, Which Will Shut Out the Dominion Product and Prevent Them From Making Good Beer.

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—Philadelphia brewers, together with those of Oswego, Buffalo and other beer making cities of the United States, are just now considerably agitated over the proposition in the McKinley tariff bill now pending in the United States Senate to raise the import duty on barley from 10 to 30 cents a bushel.

The number of bushels of barley imported yearly by the extensive system of breweries in Philadelphia is close to a million. All of this comes from Canada, which raises a grade of barley, it is said, superior to any produced in this country, and a grade the place of which no American raised barley can take.

The consequence, therefore, of such an increase as that proposed would be, so the brewers of Philadelphia unanimously say, merely to make them purchase the Canada barley, which they must have, at an exorbitant rate and stand the loss. Another direct effect will be to make the brewers, who may prove unwilling to suffer this loss, flood the market with an inferior quality of beer. The Times prints several interviews with prominent brewers who kick against the proposed duty.

A. W. Woebken, secretary of the Bergner & Engel Brewing Company, has some decided opinions on the matter and spoke them very freely. The Bergner & Engel company have about the largest brewing establishment in this city. They have a plant worth about $4,000,000 and import every year about 300,000 bushels of Canada barley. Mr. Woebken said that in saying what he did he voiced the opinions of the other members of the firm and of many city brewers.

"The effect of an increased duty on barley," said Mr. Woebken, "will be just this: If we are to brew the same quality of beer as we are now doing we shall be forced to pay the advanced price for imported barley and stand the loss. We do not buy Canada barley for fun. We have no particular interest in sending our money to Canada, but the point lies just here—we can never get along without it. Canada barley yields much more malt than western barley, and what is more important, in order to make our finer beers and fine grades of Tannhauser we absolutely must have it, just as in order to give the fine delicate flavor to these beers we must have German hops.

"There is one thing which shows pretty conclusively how absolutely necessary Canada barley is. Even the western brewers, especially the better brewers of St. Louis, Milwaukee and Chicago, use Canada barley. Wisconsin is a great barley-growing state, and the brewers there, who could buy their grain right at home and save transportation, certainly would not use Canada barley if it were not necessary.

"It will be the better brewers, those who have a reputation to maintain and something at stake," Mr. Woebken continued, "who will suffer. Of course we all use great quantities of western barley, but it is inferior stuff and we have to use it in connection with the better quality, which is imported. There is a certain amount of the Canada barley which we will use anyhow. Unless we should stand the loss we should have to drop the better grades of beer. We would make the best we could out of the American barley and say, 'Here, you've got to take this.'"

In conclusion Mr. Woebken said: "If the duty on barley is to be increased as a means to raise revenue I think it will be very successful, but as a protective measure I don't think it will work very well. There is one sure thing about it anyhow, and that is that it will benefit nobody but the United States treasury. It would not benefit so very much our western producers, for there is a certain amount of Canada barley which we must have.

"The duty should not be more than what it is now, 10 cents a bushel, or at the most 15 cents a bushel."

Albert Baltz, of the J. & P. Baltz Brewing Company, was seen next. He said: "If the duty is raised on barley of course we will lose by it. We use about 100,000 bushels of Canadian barley every year. The competition at present is so great that it would be hard to raise the price of beer, and consequently there would be a great loss to us.

"Canadian barley," Mr. Baltz said further, "is decidedly of better grade than western barley, and we could not make the same quality of beer without it."

Mr. Baltz said he did not think the increased duty would lead the brewers to buy a bushel more of American barley. The only ones who would get any benefit would be the Government.

Max Elbe of the brewing firm of Elbe & Herter at Thirty-third and Thompson-streets said: "If the advance is made we have to do either of two things—pay more money for our barley or raise more western barley. Last year we used 60,000 bushels of Canadian barley, but if this advance is made I don't know that we shall use as much as we used to. It is just the same in the case of the proposed advance in German hops. If the duty is put on we won't use the German hops, but the beer won't be as good. Still I ought to say that no matter what it costs we must have some Canadian barley and some German hops."

Charles Schoening, a member of the Bergdoll Brewing Company, stated that if the duty was increased all they could do would be to pay the increase. They could not do without Canada barley altogether.

A number of other brewers, when questioned as to the probable effect of the passage of this clause of the McKinley bill, stated their opinions substantially the same as those given above. All gave emphatic endorsement of the view that the only result of the proposed change will be to entail loss on the brewers, or cause an inferior article to be furnished the consumer.

AT THE FLOUR CITY.

Rochester Brewers Say They Must Have It at any Price.

ROCHESTER, July 8.—The proposition in the McKinley Tariff Bill now pending in the United States Senate, to raise the import duty on barley from 10 cents to 30 cents a bushel, is the cause of considerable anxiety among the brewers and maltsters in this city, and is the leading topic of conversation just now.

William Bartholomay, manager of the Bartholomay Brewing Company, is also the head of the combined breweries and malt houses under the new deal, and is, without doubt, the man who has larger financial interests in this business than any other in Rochester. "The effect," said he, "of the proposed tariff on barley will be simply to force the brewers and other dealers in barley in this country to pay 20 cents more for barley than at present. Canadian barley is indispensable for certain fine grades of beer, and no matter how high the tariff is placed we must have it. There are certain beers which we cannot make with domestic barley. The McKinley bill will not protect the farme[illegible] simply force the brewers to pay more money into the treasury. The barley raised in Canada is nearly always paler and of a better color than any we can buy here. The domestic grain is almost invariably stained, as is the case in the present year. In our own establishment, we use each year 800,000 bushels of barley, which makes 1,000,000 bushels of malt. Buffalo malts 400,000 bushels of Canadian barley every year. It is impossible to buy more than 500,000 bushels of New York State barley, so we are forced to go to Canada for more."

John Kiley, secretary of the E. Bloss Parsons Malting Company, thought the proposed duty little short of prohibitory.

Mathias Kondolf, president of the Genesee Brewing Company, said: "There is never enough good barley raised in this country to supply the demand. The western barley is poor stuff for our business. Even the Western folks go to Canada for a good deal of their supply, although they have a great plenty at home—such as it is. Barley seems to need a cooler climate than we have. Canadian barley not only makes a better malt, but it yields more malt to the bushel than the barley raised here."

FROM ONE JAIL TO ANOTHER.

HAMILTON, July 8.—Dolly Besley, the notorious confidence woman, who completed her term of two months in Brantford jail Monday, is now a prisoner in the Hamilton jail. Chief McKinnon went to Brantford and found that the fair Dolly was sick. He got there ahead of the officers from other cities, where she is wanted to answer similar charges of fraud, and brought her back here. She complained about feeling sick, but she recovered when she arrived here. Dolly swindled Mrs. Imboden out of $5 about eighteen months ago, and she got ahead of Miss Coleman, formerly of the hospital. There are other charges against her. She will remain in jail until Thursday, when she will be brought before the magistrate. Governor Ogilvie told a reporter that the woman was not very ill.

On the early train that swung into Hamilton from Buffalo at 3 o'clock this morning was a party of ten non-union printers. As the train left the Buffalo station at midnight a crowd of union printers made night hideous with cries of, "Good-bye, rats," "Good riddance to scabs." The men are bound for Montreal, where they have been engaged by The Herald to fill the vacancies in that office. Their fares from Buffalo to Montreal were advanced to them.

This morning Detective Gates arrested James F. Bennett, who is wanted in Orangeville for stealing a watch.

The T., H. and B. workmen have struck a very extensive bed of quicksand in the Caroline-street gully, and it is liable to give them lots of trouble. One team sank into it and was with difficulty extricated. No more property has been secured lately.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

An Eloping Couple in the Toils of the Law After Many Months' Search.

MONTREAL, July 8.—The last act but one in a domestic drama of infelicity, which had its first scene in Montreal, is taking place in Sherbrooke. Some four years since a young man named Morin married a young lady at St. Jean Baptiste church, Rev. Father Auclair performing the ceremony. For some time the young couple lived happily together, but one day the husband met on the street a Miss Emma Beaulieu, with whom he had been acquainted before his marriage. A few weeks later he disappeared in company with Miss Beaulieu, leaving his wife almost penniless. For some weeks her husband's whereabouts were unknown: then word came that he and his paramour were living at Springfield, Mass. Thither his sorrowing wife went, in the hope of inducing her erring spouse to return, but when she arrived the birds had flown. She returned here only to spend many months in lonely sorrow. Last week she entrusted the search to Detective Cinq-Mars and he traced the couple to Sherbrooke. There he secured the services of High Constable Moe and Deputy High Constable Reed and they found the Beaulieu woman living at Lennoxville and having in her arms a child of her union with Morin. She was arrested and then the party returned to Sherbrooke, where Morin was found working in an iron foundry. The couple were brought before Judge Rioux and were remanded until Saturday next, bail being accepted.

MONTMORENCY ELECTION.

Nominations Will Take Place July 18 and Polling July 25.

OTTAWA, July 8.—The writ for the new election for the House of Commons in Montmorency County has been issued. Nominations will take place July 18 and polling July 25. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Mr. Charles Langelier to enter the recent provincial contest in Quebec.

Mr. H. H. Killaly, who is talked of as the probable successor of the late Mr. Page as Chief Engineer of Canals, is here.

It is understood that the candidates will be Messrs. Desjardins and Joseph Turcotte.

Nova Scotia's New Governor.

OTTAWA, July 8.—Mr. M. B. Daly, ex-M.P., Halifax, will be the next Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia. Mr. Daly is a prominent lawyer and sat for Halifax in the Parliament of 1878-'82. He was born at Marchmount near Quebec in 1836. His father, Sir D. Daly, who belonged to an old Irish family, was for 25 years colonial secretary and represented Megantic in the Canadian Legislature. He was also Lieutenant-Governor of Tobago and Prince Edward Island and Governor-in-Chief of South Australia. Mr. Daly was private secretary to his father during the six years he was Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island. He was also private secretary to Governor Macdonnell of Nova Scotia, and to Sir Hastings Doyle.

Mr. Masson Is Better.

MONTREAL, July 8.—When Mr. J. A. Masson, M.P. for Richelieu, was so seriously ill a couple of weeks since, a cablegram was sent to his sister, Madame Gustave A. Drolet, in Paris. She, in consequence, left at once for Canada and arrived here yesterday morning in company with her sons, Messrs. Gustave, Rene and Boileau Drolet. Happily she found that her brother was, although still under the care of Dr. Brodeur, much better, and it is hoped on the high road to recovery. Madame Drolet and her sons will remain here until Mr. Masson is out of danger and may be joined before returning home by Chevalier Drolet.

MILWAUKEE, July 8.—The parade of the Knights of Pythias here to-day was an imposing spectacle. There were 10,000 knights in line and the number would have been larger but for the heat.

DOMINION NEWS NOTES

HENRY AYKROYD MAKES AN ATTEMPT ON HIS OWN LIFE.

The Strange Freak of a Well-known Toronto Boatbuilder—More Trouble in Store for Police Magistrate Denison of the Queen City.

TORONTO, July 9.—The Police Court Investigation Committee has unanimously decided to report in favor of requesting the Attorney-General to look into the various complaints against Police Magistrate Denison with relation to alleged absences from his post without leave, failure to make return of fines and fees and his refusal to treat with the committee as to remedying defects in the present system.

The protest against the election of Mr. T. H. Stinson, M.L.A. for Hamilton, did not materialize yesterday, but one was lodged against the return of Mr. Nicholas Awrey for South Wentworth.

The Police Commissioners decided yesterday to at once place a cover on No. 1 patrol wagon, and if the test is a success the remaining patrol wagons will also be covered.

"My God, boys! I've done it!" was the cry which startled A. Lockhart and a companion in a boat house on one of the islands east of the Gap at 10½ last night. The water was very high, and simultaneous with the cry a boat shot half way into the boat house. Seated in the centre was an old man 65 or 70 years of age, each hand grasping an oar, and the startled boatmen observed blood oozing from a gash in his throat. The man was recognized as Henry Aykroyd of Aykroyd & Son, the well-known boatbuilders of the Esplanade, at the foot of York-street. As soon as Lockhart and his companion came towards him Aykroyd dropped his oars and picked up an open razor which had been lying in a small pool of blood in the bottom of the boat. Lockhart took the razor from the would-be suicide and threw it in the stern, and with the proprietor of the boathouse rowed Aykroyd across the bay to Thomas Saulter's boathouse at the foot of Sherbourne-street, arriving there at 10¾. Saulter summoned the ambulance and Aykroyd was conveyed to the Hospital. An examination showed that the wound in his throat was not serious, none of the arteries being severed. He had lost considerable blood, however.

On the road over Aykroyd explained his attempt on his life by stating that he had been out of his mind for several days; that he went for a row on the bay, and started for home, and discovered some time afterwards that he was about 1½ miles out in the lake, and becoming despondent had cut his throat. He did not explain, however, how he happened to have the razor in his possession.

Mr. Aykroyd and his son "Matt" have been boatbuilders here for years, and are well-known.

MR. JOHN KENLY DEAD.

The Well-Known Hotel Man at the Capital a Victim of Cancer.

OTTAWA, July 8.—Mr. John Kenly of the firm of Kenly & St. Jacques, proprietors of the Russell House, died at 3 o'clock this afternoon, aged 56. He was a native of Fifeshire, Scotland, and came to Canada when two years old. Before coming to Ottawa he was in the hotel business at Tadousac, Murray Bay and Caledonia Springs. Three years ago signs of cancer appeared on his tongue, and Mr. Kenly underwent a serious operation. The disease was stayed but not eradicted and after a tedious and painful illness, borne with the greatest patience, he passed away to-day. He married about 30 years ago Miss Maggie Cairns of Niagara, who survives him.

Disasters Come Not Singly.

GRIMSBY, July 8.—The home of Lewis L. Hager, a wealthy Grimsby farmer, has been darkened by two tragedies within a year. Early last fall his little son Roy fell under the wheels of a heavily-loaded grain wagon and was crushed to death. Yesterday morning the lifeless body of another son—Charles, a boy of 10 years—was carried home. The lad was bathing in the lake, off Ed. Hunter's farm, about two miles west of the village, when he got beyond his depth and was drowned. Mr. Hunter got the body out of the water.

The Vreda in Quebec.

QUEBEC, July 8.—This morning the pleasure yacht Vreda from England, cutter rigged, of about 35 tons register, arrived in port and is at anchor in the stream. The Vreda, which is known as a fast sailer, was purchased this spring in England by Commodore Boswell of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. She is on her way to the Queen City in charge of a crew.

The Inquest at Locust Hill.

LOCUST HILL, July 8.—The inquiry into the cause of the C.P.R. disaster was continued to-day. The evidence of Sectionmen White and Shepherdson and Section Foreman Roche was taken, but there were no new developments in the case. The monotony and oppressive heat were forgotten during some lively passages between Crown Attorney Farewell and Hon. R. M. Wells, the C.P.R. solicitor.

D. B. Nighswander, one of the hands on the ill-fated train, has partially recovered from his injuries and was present, but Coroner Ferrier adjourned the inquest at 7½ p.m. without having taken his evidence.

The investigation will be resumed Monday morning at 10½ o'clock.

Was a Tragedy Buried There?

BROCKVILLE, July 8.—While digging for mould on Mrs. Meighan's property in Perth, the men came across the remains of a body evidently buried many years ago. It was only two feet under ground, and the bones when lifted fell to pieces. There was no trace of a coffin, but there were the remains of a pair of long boots, and a silver military button, and the letters "S.C." on either side. It may be the record of some old tragedy, but the oldest inhabitant knows nothing of it.

Lead in the Lobster.

MONTREAL, July 8.—A young woman named Marie Saube from St. Leonor, Montcalm county, who has been an inmate of Notre Dame Hospital for three weeks past, has died from eating some canned lobster which contained lead, probably from the solder used in fastening the tin.

A Grand Trunk Brakeman Killed.

GUELPH, July 8.—Patrick Dooley, a Grand Trunk brakeman, was accidentally run over and killed by a shunting train in the freight yard here last night.

Rash Mr. Masson.

QUEBEC, July 8.—A new paper entitled L'Association has just made its appearance here. Mr. Masson is the gentleman who committed the rash act.

Young Leggatt Admitted To Bail.

OTTAWA, July 8.—Ten-year-old Harold Leggatt, who accidentally shot Mabel Berthier, aged 13, was bailed out to-night. Judge Ross placed the bail at $500 for the prisoner and two sureties of $000 each.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 1890.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

THERE are a few rules regarding the sending of correspondence to newspapers that have been so frequently explained that one would think they would be known by everyone. Yet quite frequently letters have to be rejected because these rules are not complied with, and no doubt the writers wonder why their productions do not appear.

One of the most important of these rules is that the name and address of the writer must accompany his letter, even though the communication is intended to appear in print anonymously. This rule is required to protect the newspaper against imposition, for while the communication may be genuine and contain nothing but facts, the newspaper has no means of knowing that such is the case unless the name of the writer is sent. Within the last few days the REVIEW has received three or four communications that could not appear because this rule was not complied with. One was from Westwood, another from Lang and another from North Monaghan. Two of these, at least, would have been publish if the name and address of the writer had been sent with them, but as this was not done they were not printed.

Another rule is that the communications must be written on one side of the paper only. Although the reasons for this rule may not be obvious, it is an important one, especially in the case of long communications. Printers would also prefer to have the manuscript folded when mailed instead of rolled.

The REVIEW is always pleased to receive items of news from any part of its district, or communications on matters of public interest. It is not at all important that the communications should be precisely in accordance with grammatical rules or the spelling always correct, for errors of that character can easily be corrected before the letter is printed. But it is important that the name and address of the writer should be sent with the letter, for unless that is done the writing of a letter is labor lost.

IN one issue the Globe devotes four editorials to rebuking Mr. Mercier. But Mr. Mowat wrote to the promoters of the banquet to the Quebec Premier:—"I have much pleasure in congratulating you all and your able leader on the great victory which you have just achieved."

ONE of the best known newspaper men in Canada, Mr. Alex. Jacques, known as "The Old Man," died at Ottawa on Sunday. Mr. Jacques published Toronto's first daily newspaper, and has during his long and active life been connected with the Globe and Leader, and Quebec and Ottawa papers. During late years he travelled as advance agent for various circuses. He was not only well-known throughout the country, but popular as well.

THE Cobourg World, the Liberal organ of that town, thinks it incredible "that an self-respecting Catholic should continue to support the Old Man at Ottawa." But another section of the Liberal party is preaching an opposite doctrine to that and claiming that no Protestant should support Sir John. Such double-dealing on the part of the Liberals will not succeed.

In regard to money the popular notion is wonderfully erroneous, and seems to be founded on fairy stories, which speak recklessly of mountains of gold and silver, and rooms full of guineas. To those people who think that all the gold in the world if gathered in one heap would make a respectable sized mountain, it would be a surprise to hear that it would not make a small hill. It is quite easy to find the figures which justify this conclusion. At the commencement of the Christian era there was in the world $427,000,000 in gold. This is an estimate based on careful calculations, and must be very correct. But gold is very soft and wears away to an astonishing extent; in consequence, this amount has diminished 57,000,000 at the time America was discovered. Then it began to increase. Peru and Mexico added to the world's supply. California increased it still further, and finally comes Australia and South Africa. With all these sources of supply the amount of gold increased, until at the present day it is estimated at 6,000,000,000. Six billion of dollars! And is that not a mountain of gold? you ask. No, nothing like it. Taking gold at $18 an ounce, which is below its coin value, a cubic inch is worth $210, a cubic foot $362,880, a cubic yard $9,797,760. Thus the total amount of gold is about 613 cubic yards. Now, suppose you had a room twenty-four feet each way—length, breadth and height—that is to say, a cube of twenty-four feet. This cube will contain 512 cubic yards, within a fraction, and in this room you could put all the gold in the world. Of course, the gold would have to be one solid mass, but even with that proviso does it not seem almost incredible? Yet it is absolutely true. As to silver that is a different affair. In all the world there is probably a very respectable hill of silver, but all the gold, as you have seen, might be easily stored in an ordinary dwelling.—Exchange.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

More Disorderly Scenes in Bow-Street. The Police Strike Collapses.

LONDON, July 8.—The chairman of the Committee on the Procedure of Business in the House of Commons to-day submitted a resolution to the committee embodying a standing order prolonging bills from session to session. The Liberal members of the committee, who composed the minority, protested against the action of the chairman and declared the order was uncalled for. They then withdrew from the committee and the majority thereupon passed the resolution.

The Bobbies Weakening.

LONDON, July 8.—Two members of the police force who were taken into custody for assaulting superior officers yesterday have each been sentenced to 40 days' imprisonment. The men are weakening. They have no organization, and it is not likely they will attempt to enforce their demands by a general strike. It is probable, however that further isolated disturbances may occur. The constables who were dismissed from the force for their connection with the present troubles are petitioning for reinstatement.

The Bow-street mob last night tore down railings, shutters, boardings, etc., and used them as missiles. Several persons were injured by being hit with stones, and three were taken to the hospital.

Another disorderly mob gathered in Bow-street to-night and there were several ugly rushes during the evening but the mounted police sufficed to preserve a semblance of order. The shops were closed early. The night police went on duty punctually. At 10 o'clock the police cleared and occupied taverns about Bow-street, arresting 16 persons. The mob made furious attempts to rescue the prisoners, and four constables were badly injured with missiles. It is estimated 800 constables were on duty in the vicinity, but the majority were withdrawn after midnight when the excitement subsided. The Prince and Princess of Wales visited the opera again to-night.

Stuck to Their Stories.

PARIS, July 8.—Eyraud and Gabrielle Bompard were confronted to-day at the scene of the murder of Gouffe. They adhered to their previous statements.

GOLD GALORE.

The Richest Find on Record Just Made in Colorado.

DENVER, Col., July 8.—A special from Tincup, Col., gives an account of what is claimed to be the most wonderful discovery of gold ever reported. The find is six miles from Tincup on Cross Mountain, and is owned by McCormick & Lewis. Between the two lines there is ten feet in thickness, the lower six feet iron manganese, the upper four gold-bearing quartz of free gold. The lowest assay from the rock is $440 per ton, and there are specimens which put through a common mortar, return $30,000 in gold to the ton. Two men are now taking $75,000 per day. If this streak is only one yard in depth and extends the full length of the claim, 1500 feet, there is $568,000 worth of gold in it. If the dip goes down 1000 feet it is worth $187,479,000. The average value is placed at $1000 per ton. The excitement over the discovery is intense, and thousands of miners are rushing into the camp.

THE BUFFALO FIGHT.

Connors Knocked Out by the Belfast Spider in Three Rounds.

BUFFALO, July 8.—The much talked of prize fight between Ike Weir, the Belfast Spider, and Prof. James Connors, the instructor of the Buffalo Athletic Club, came off this evening. No such crowd has ever before attended a pugilistic entertainment in his city. The fight was for a purse of $1750, of which $250 went to the loser. Two-ounce gloves were used. The fight only lasted three rounds. The first two were tame. In the third Weir landed a blow on Connors' jaw that knocked the professor flat. Connors did not rise until the 10 seconds were over. But Weir waived his claim. Connors advanced and was floored again and did not re-appear.

The McGlynn Case Over Again.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The announcement that the Pope had personally ratified the sentence of the Propaganda directing the Rev. Dr. Burtsell to obey the orders of Archbishop Corrigan, transferring him from the Epiphany to a country parish, promises to cause quite as much of a disturbance in Catholic Church circles as the case of Dr. McGlynn. Practically speaking, it is the McGlynn case all over again and it remains to be seen whether Dr. Burtsell will abide by the decision made in the case by the highest authority in the church, or whether he will bid it defiance and incur the full force of the discipline of the church as was applied in the case of Dr. McGlynn.

Down by the New Brunswick Coast.

DALHOUSIE, N.B., July 8.—The weather is very fine here. The Inch Arran House has been refitted and under the management of Mr. Hale, an experienced American, is rapidly filling with the best families from Canada and the United States. The Governor-General's fishing lodge is about 30 miles from here on the Cascapedia, where he is having very fine sport. It is reported that the British North American fleet, in which Prince George of Wales commands one of the gun boats, will stay here several days when on his way to Quebec next month.

Plowing in Peru.

The land is plowed in the following manner: From six to a dozen teams of oxen are put at work in a single field of twenty or thirty acres. The oxen are "yoked" by tying a heavy beam across their foreheads. To this beam the plow is attached, all the force being applied by the head instead of the shoulders. The plow is a crooked stick or branch of a tree, the point faced with iron. The Hebrews, when they tilled the soil in the time of Moses, had a plow made in the same way. Intelligent Peruvians contend that they do not need to plow more than two or three inches deep—simply enough to loosen the soil so as to enable the seed to take root. The water used in irrigating is said to be rich in plant food, further obviating the necessity of deep plowing. It may also be added that improved plows, suitable for this country, are now manufactured in Europe and the United States, but it goes without saying that they are very different from the plow used by an American farmer. They are light and small, having a close resemblance to the original crooked stick. Another peculiarity of every Peruvian plow is that it has only one handle. The driver carries in one hand a large goad, twelve or fifteen feet in length, with which to touch up his team, and he manages the plow with the other hand.—Minister Hicks.

THE SONS OF ENGLAND.

An Enjoyable Excursion Down the River to Jubilee.

The Sons of England picnic to Jubilee Point yesterday was a success. There was a good attendance and the trip down the Otonabee was enjoyed immensely. Music was furnished on the scow and dancing was indulged in by the young people. Jubilee was reached about noon and picnic lunches were soon spread beneath the trees and duly discussed. In the afternoon a programme of games and sports were run off, the following being the prize winners:—

FAT MANS RACE—1st R. Tivey, 2nd Dr. Pigeon.

COMMITTEE RACE—1st T. E. Stevenson, 2nd W. Stocker.

NEWEST MARRIED COUPLE—1st W. Stocker.

LARGEST FAMILY—1st W. Roberts, 2nd C. Stevens.

OLDEST MARRIED COUPLE—1st W. Taylor, 2nd R. Tivey.

CHILDS RACE—1st Gorton Butcher.

The heavy rain drove the dancers back again int the pavillion, while the other picnickers took shelter in the hotel and passed the time socially. During the return trip the prizes were distributed and singing, music, readings, etc., made the the sail a pleasant one, home being reached about nine o'clock.

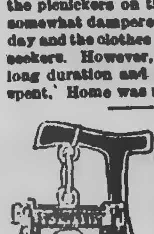
St. Paul's Sunday School.

The annual picnic of the St. Paul's church Sunday school took place yesterday to Jacob's Island. There was a good attendance and, notwithstanding the rain, a very pleasant outing was enjoyed. The heavy rain which fell early in the afternoon drove the picnickers on the scow for shelter and somewhat dampered the enjoyment of the day and the clothes of some of the pleasure-seekers. However, the storm was not of long duration and the day was pleasantly spent. Home was reached about 6.30.

One of the Prizes.



The Forester's of Court Peterborough have arranged for a capital list of games and sports at Sturgeon Point, the picnic ground and destination on July 22nd next. One of the prizes may be a portrait of the winner, handsomely framed; who will get it? Attend the excursion and you will find out. Remember, by G. T. R. and steamer, to the Point, and the date is July 22nd. Return tickets 50c. Children half price. 1d7

The Festival at St. John's.

There was not as large an attendance at the strawberry festival held last evening on the beautiful grounds at St. John's Church as was to be expected. The beautiful, grass-carpeted terraces, the excellent music of the Fire Brigade Band which was in attendance and the charming evening should have attracted a large crowd, but no doubt the heavy rain of the afternoon interferred with the attendance. However, a most enjoyable evening was spent by those who attended, promenading through the grounds. A large tent had been erected on the second terrace and here the ladies dispensed strawberries and cream, cake and other refreshments. The church was open for any strangers to inspect and the beautiful grounds never looked better.

THEIR PLEASANT RELATIONS.

Mr. W. H. Hill the Recipient of an Address and Presentation from the Sun Life Insurance Men of Central Ontario.

An event of the most pleasant and happy character took place at the residence of Mr. W. H. Hill, on Bethune-st., last evening, when Mr. Hill, who is manager for Central Ontario of the Sun Life Assurance Company, was made the recipient of a nicely-worded address from the agents of the company under his jurisdiction. The occasion which was so happily taken advantage of by the insurance men under Mr. Hill was his recent marriage. The address, which extended the warmest congratulations and referred to the harmony which had always characterized their business relations, and the "faithful, intelligent and successful" efforts of Mr. Hill in the company's interest, was accompanied by a handsome gold headed walking cane for Mr. Hill, and an elegant and complete five o'clock Japanese china tea set and silver tray for Mrs. Hill.

Among the Sun Life men present were Mr. J. Little, District Agent, Belleville; Rev. R. B. DeMike, Campbellford; Mr. Wm. Thompson, Whitby; Mr. J. R. Margach, Port Hope; Messrs. A. E. Scott, R. A. Hamilton, F. S. Dunnigan and F. Dixon, of Peterborough. Mr. Scott read the address which was worded as follows:—

To W. H. Hill:

DEAR SIR,—We, the Agents of the Sun Life Assurance Company under your jurisdiction, desire to signalize the occasion of the most important step of your life by offering you our most cordial congratulations and giving you our best wishes for the happiness of yourself and your bride, and to offer you a slight memento which will serve as a tangible reminder of the pleasant—mutually pleasant we hope—associations it has been our privelage to enjoy.

While our business relations with yourself have been marked by harmony, and on your part a hearty appreciation of honestly directed efforts for the promotion of the interests it has been our duty to advance, it is a pleasure to bear emphatic testimony to the invariable personal kindness which has marked your bearing towards us. As you have worked faithfully, intelligently and successfully to make the "Sun" shine, you have also done all in your power to make pleasant the duties of those who have been associated with you.

In extending you our congratulations and good wishes we would not forget the act on your part that has added to you another and better self. The circumstances suggest that our warmest felicities are mutually due to both yourself and Mrs. Hill.

We unite in asking you to accept, for yourself, this slight token of our regard, and for Mrs. Hill this little gift; which we hope will be the adjunct to many happy seasons of domestic felicity that we trust and pray may mark the course of a long and prosperous married life.

Signed on behalf of the agents of Central Ontario District by

A. E. SCOTT,
Secretary.

The event was a complete surprise to Mr. Hill, but in a short, timely-worded speech he replied. He thanked the gentlemen for their kind words and gifts to himself and Mrs. Hill, and said he felt more pleasure in the spirit of the address than he did in the gift, but he would always prize both very highly.

The Fire Brigade Band, later in the evening, also paid their respects to Mr. Hill and his bride by seranading them at their residence.

Chemong Lake Boat Club.

The members of the Chemong Lake Boat Club are requested to meet at the boat house at Chemong Park on Friday afternoon next. A 'bus will leave town at three o'clock for the purpose of conveying them to the park. Every member is particularly requested to be present. The new club house is now completed, and with the united co-operation of the members will soon be clear of the small debt which is now upon it. 2d7

ADVERTISER.—Hem! Please put it alongside the baseball news or next to Kidd, the shoe man's locals. People seem to read Kidd's items every time, and, by George, buy his shoes right slap afterwards. Don't doubt but its the value Kidd gives that fetches 'em. d5

Equal Rights.

The topic of the day and that which we al want is not only Equal Rights in a political sense of the word, but in many others. Here are people throwing away their hard earned money with unprincipled houses who do not as much as thank them for it. Why should they do it? Why not call on W. J. Morrow, where you are received courteously, your money placed to a good advantage and you are placed on a solid basis in future for buying cheap groceries. dw

A Free Trip to Europe.

The Publishers of the Canadian Queen will give a free trip to Europe to the person sending them the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the name of their well known magazine, "The Canadian Queen." Additional prizes consisting of Silver Tea Sets, Gold Watches China Dinner Sets, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantle Clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. Webster's Unabridged Dictionary to be used as authority in deciding the contest. This is a popular plan of introducing a popular publication. IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL GROUNDS BELONG TO THE "GRAMMAR SCHOOL."

At Least This is What now Appears to be the Fact—Mr. Dumble Discovers that no Patents have been Issued—An Old Letter Brought to Light—The School Board of 1857—The Estimates for the Year Referred Back to the Committee as a Result of the Discovery—The Collegiate Institute Principalship—Inspector Tilley's Annual Report—A Public Closing Entertainment to be Held—Other School Matters.

Mayor Stevenson, Chairman of the Board of Education, was on his way to Buffalo when the Board met last evening. The gentlemen present were Messrs. McKee, Denne, Ferguson, Hamilton, Dr. Boucher, Wrighton, Kendry, Corkery, English, Dumble. Mr. Denne was the choice of the Board to preside as chairman and he performed his duties in the most approved manner.

Mr. Thos. Morrow acted as secretary in the absence in Europe of the regular secretary, Mr. W. G. Morrow.

COMMUNICATIONS.

After the minutes had been read the following communications were read:—

Miss Annie M. Smith, of Ashburnham, made application for position of teacher to fill any vacancy that might occur.—Committee on Appointments.

The Canadian Office and School Furniture Co. returned thanks for payment of account and expressed their willingness to make any needed repairs.—Property Committee.

Mr. J. H. Long asked the Secretary to notify the Board of his resignation of the principalship of the Collegiate Institute.—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were presented:—

Pay sheet for work at North Ward School	$89 68
T. M. G. Denne	1 70
E. G. Rundle, 18 wands	2 70
G. W. Wyatt, repairing clock	1 25
Ed. Green	9 36
J. R. Stratton	22 57
Dennistoun & Stevenson	72 04
J. H. Long, balance of salary	55 90
F. Mason, cut flowers	75
J. R. Stratton	45
McKee & Davidson	39 50
Geo. Benton	56
Jas. Miller	3 10
H. S. Macdonald	15 67

The accounts were all referred to the Finance Committee.

THE ATTENDANCE.

The report of attendance for the month of June were presented as follows:—

	On Roll.	Ave.
Collegiate Institute	144	132
Central School	509	461
North Ward School	139	127
South Ward School
West Ward School	198	157

Two dollars were handed in from Miss Warner as the fees for the Kindergarten school.

THE SCHOOL ESTIMATES.

Mr. DUMBLE, in the absence of Dr. Burnham, Chairman of the Finance Committee, then read the annual statement of receipts and expenditures for the year for the Public schools and Collegiate Institute. The total expenditure for the Collegiate Institute was $8,044, and the revenue $2,500, making $5,544 required from the town. The total expenditure for the public schools was $14,015, and the revenue $2,050, making $11,965 to be required from the town, or a total requirement for both of $17,509.

For comparison Mr. Dumble said that the expenses last year in the Collegiate Institute were $7,800 against $8,044 this year, and the amount required last year was $4,980 as against the $5,544 this year. In 1889 the expenses for public schools were $11,000 and the demand was $10,140 as against the $11,965 this year.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

Continuing Mr. Dumble said there was one item, that of rent, which he had discovered should be re-considered. He thought he would have to ask to have the report referred back as he had discovered that the committee had not the means of making an equitable adjustment of the expenses. The item of $1,000 for rent taxed on the Collegiate Institute was unfair, as he had found that the Collegiate Institute owned the land, and it was a question which was the more valuable, the buildings or the land. Mr. Dumble said that when in Toronto recently he had business in the Crown Lands department and he had looked these lands up. He had found that no patents had been issued for the lands and he had found a letter there refusing the applications for patents to

THE SCHOOL BOARD OF 1857.

The Board at that time, Mr. Dumble said, was composed of good men, as their names which he had written down would show. Their names were:—Rev. John Gilmour, Rev. Mr. Rogers, Rev. Wm. Scott, George Burnham, Geo. Hazelhurst, Robt. Nicholls, Wm. Hall, James Hall, W. S. Conger, Robinson Rutherford, Fred Ferguson, Thos. Fortye and James Stevenson. Mr. Dumble remarked that only two of these gentlemen were now living. The letter he had copied and it read as follows:—

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
Canada,
TORONTO, Oct. 9, 1857.

In the matter of the application of the Joint Board of the Grammar and Common school trustees of the Town of Peterborough for a patent for certain lots in Peterborough assigned by order in Council of 10th August, 1843, to the District Grammar school of Peterborough, in my opinion the patent cannot issue to the Joint Board as prayed. It can only issue to the Peterborough County Grammar School which is a corporation under 16 Vic. cap. 186, sec. 12.

Signed,
JOHN A. MACDONALD.

TO BE RE CONSIDERED.

Mr. DUMBLE asked if this fact had been taken into consideration in the adjustment of the expenditure. He thought if it had not they were asking Roman Catholic ratepayers to pay more in Collegiate Institute taxes than they were entitled to. He, therefore, moved that in view of the fact that this Board has learned that the land occupied by the Central school buildings is Grammar school property, and this fact has not been considered by the Finance Committee in fixing the proportion of expenditure to be borne by the Collegiate Institute and Public school respectively, that the report of the Finance Committee submitting the estimates for the year be referred back to that committee for re-consideration and a new report, and that this Board do meet this day week to receive the report.

Mr. KENDRY seconded the resolution, which was carried.

THE COLLEGIATE PRINCIPALSHIP.

Mr. DUMBLE brought up the question of filling the vacancies on the teaching staffs caused by the resignation of Mr. Long and the departure of Misses Rutherford, Wrighton, Peters and others for the Normal school. Mr. Dumble pointed out that steps should be taken to fill these vacancies, but he thought they should first decide what salary they would pay the new principal. He thought they would have to pay at least sixteen, seventeen or eighteen hundred dollars to secure an able and efficient A 1 man who could command respect. He thought the Committee on Appointments should deal with the matter.

Mr. KENDRY endorsed what Mr. Dumble said, and thought they should get a first-class man who was known as a good principal.

Dr. BOUCHER also was of this opinion, saying that the Institute had improved greatly in the last six months and he thought they should get a good man and not look too much at the matter of pay. He favored leaving the matter to the Committee on Appointments to report to the Board. The committee was already in possession of valuable information which it would be better to discuss in private.

Mr. FERGUSON said that he thought they should get a first-class man but he thought they had been paying the principal too much already.

Mr. HAMILTON moved, seconded by Mr. FERGUSON,—That the Committee on Appointments is hereby authorized to secure a principal for the Collegiate Institute, and as soon as they are able to report that this Board be called together to receive that report, and that the committee be authorized to fill the vacancies in the Public school staff.

The motion was carried.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. DUMBLE then read Inspector Tilly's report on the condition of the schools for the year ending 30th June, 1890. The report was an exhaustive one, and one which showed that the schools were in a satisfactory condition and improving. The report will be published later.

Mr. DUMBLE expressed his pleasure and gratification at the detailed report and referred to the improvement that had been made in the teaching as shown by the report and the result of the examinations. There were some suggestions in the report which he thought should be dealt with and he thought a committee should report on the report.

Mr. TILLY addressed the Board referring to his report. He said he knew that the Board had been to greater expense lately in making improvements and he did not wish to press for the improvements mentioned, but the matter of ventilation he thought should be dealt with. He thought the teachers had, as Mr. Dumble had said, put forth an earnest effort to improve and the Public schools could be said to be in as satisfactory condition as could be expected and were equal to any in the Province. With the settled staff and other changes he thought the next year would even be a better one than the past.

Mr. DUMBLE then moved, seconded by Mr. ENGLISH,—That the Inspector's report be referred to Mr. Ferguson, Dr. Boucher. Mr. McKee and the mover, to report at the next meeting of this Board on such matters referred to therein as they may deem necessary to be dealt with by this Board.—Carried.

ADJUSTING HIS VISITS.

Mr. KENDRY moved, seconded by Mr. McKEE,—That the Committee on Appointments consider the matter of re-adjusting the Inspector's time and salary.—Carried.

A PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. DUMBLE referred to the charming closing entertainment given by the kindergarten room and suggested that a public entertainment be given under the auspices of the Board, and he was sure that any hall would be crowded and would be a good way of inspecting the kindergarten work as well as inspire the pupils. He moved, seconded by Mr. FERGUSON,—That the interests of the schools would be advanced by a public announcement at the close of each scholastic year and that the principals of the High and Public schools be requested to arrange for such announcement.—Carried.

Mr. KETCHUM, the music master, addressed the Board, asking for more time for music in the schools, three days a week in 24 rooms being too short.

The matter is to be brought before the Board again.

The Board then adjourned.

BETTER FREIGHT RATES.

An Important Letter from the Grand Trunk Traffic Manager.

One of the important matters which the Board of Trade has taken up has been the question of through freight rates. Heretofore importers in Peterborough were compelled to pay rates higher than the rates to Toronto, although the distance from the sea-board was not so great. This placed Peterborough importers and manufacturers at a disadvantage which has now been removed, as shown by the following letter:—

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY COMPANY,
MONTREAL, July 7, 1890.

DEAR SIR,—The minutes of meeting of the Board of Trade of Town and County of Peterborough of 16th June, a copy of which you sent to our General Manager, have been sent to me, and I have pleasure in advising you that the rates on import traffic to Peterborough will be placed on the same footing as the rates on the same traffic to Toronto. The steamship lines connecting with this Company at Montreal have been so advised and they in turn have so advised their correspondents in England and the continent of Europe.

Yours truly,
L. J. SEARGEANT,
Traffic Manager.

J. H. BURNHAM, ESQ.,
Sec. Board of Trade,
Peterborough.

This, although it does not place Peterborough on the footing it should occupy, is an important concession, and it will be of considerable advantage to the import trade and the manufacturers of the town. The difference on freight from England will be about $2.50 a ton.

The Cricket Match.

The Winnipeg cricketers arrived here at noon to-day and commenced play with the local eleven shortly after noon. The match will be continued to-morrow. The Winnipegers made 102 in their first innings.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Succumbed to His Injuries.

The accident at the G.T.R. station here yesterday morning of which Mr. John Haggarty, of Elm-st., was the victim, as was feared, has proved fatal, the unfortunate gentleman having died at the hospital last evening without ever recovering consciousness. The relatives of the deceased will have much sympathy in their sudden bereavement. The funeral of the deceased will take place to-morrow morning to the R.C. Cemetery.

A Public Half Holiday.

Friday afternoon next will be a civic half holiday in honor of the Oddfellows Decoration Day. A petition was circulated and signed by nearly all the business men of the town and in compliance therewith the Mayor's proclamation for a half holiday will be issued. The arrangement for the decoration ceremonies have all been made and it is expected that there will be a large turnout of the members of the Order to pay this annual tribute to the memory of their departed brothers. All who intend contributing flowers are requested to leave them at the stores of Mr. H. Long or A. Mercer & Co. to-morrow morning.

The Non.-Coms. of the 57th.

A meeting of the non-commissioned officers of the 57th Battalion was held last evening in the drill shed to consider the matter of establishing a permanent sergeants' mess. Sergt.-Major Rundle presided. A vote of thanks was passed to the non-coms. of the Grenadiers and Queen's Own, of Toronto, acknowledging their courteous entertainment during the recent visit to Toronto. After considerable discussion a committee was appointed to consider and report on the probable cost of establishing the mess and the meeting adjourned for one week.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we haven't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

WOMEN AND HOME.

A SAD TIME IN A WOMAN'S LIFE. WHEN SHE HAS NO PLACE.

Happy, Careless, Motherly Woman—Some Things Never in Fashion—Fifth Avenue Belles—It was a Woman's Idea—Gentle Hints.

There is a time in a woman's life when she is too old for the dance and frolic of the young, and too young for the quiet corner of the old. No class claims her. She feels often like an alien from the commonwealth of womanhood. In charitable work and in social life the invisible line is passed. No one invites her now to preside at the fancy booth or hasten the sale of flowers with her gracious smiles. Neither is she asked to give the dignity of her age and position as one of the patronesses of the fair. She is laughed at if she dresses in the gay colors her soul loves, or scolded (by her family) for always wearing black.

She has no part in the play, but is quietly relegated to the position of stage setter and prompter while younger and older women pose and win applause. Her beauty is not at its best. She has neither the fair girlish face which is the prophecy of what it will be, nor the sweet old face which is the history of what it has been. White hair does not crown her with glory, and she has lost the golden curls of her youth. The blossom has faded and the fruit does not yet compensate for its loss.

The trials of the transition state envelop her in the home. Sometimes she feels that her husband is almost deserting her for the young daughter who is the second edition of the girl he fell in love with years ago. The solving of the domestic problem has not made such drafts upon his mental and physical resources as it has upon hers. He is a comparatively young man, and no one dreams of asking him to step aside from any familiar path.

At times she wonders if she is not a childless woman. She was necessary to her little children, but her growing sons and daughters do not seem to need her; at least they do not cling to her with the tender caresses of their babyhood. Studies, teachers, classmates and embryo love affairs fill their lives so full that the mother almost feels crowded out.—Harper's Bazar.

The Happy, Careless, Motherly Woman.

But there's something white waving in the air further down. It is on the wrong corner, It isn't—yes it is—a baby. The woman's hands are so full she can't wave anything else but the baby, and he likes it. Careless women's babies always do like all manner of irregular things, and thrive on them. And she is such a careless, happy-go-lucky woman, with her bonnet all awry, her arms full of bundles, and the baby almost upside down on her shoulder. Such an indignant woman for a moment when the car rumbles past her, such a good-natured one when she sees the mistake she has made. Over the cobble stones, through the mud, splash into a puddle she hurries, her face growing more crimson, her bang straighter every minute, and at last half falls, half plunges into the car as the conductor, angry at the delay, pulls the bell rope sharply, and we trundle on again, while the careless woman drops one bundle, lets fall two more trying to secure the first, and nearly drops the baby picking up all three.

It is safe to wager that she is as kind as she is careless, that her house looks as if two cyclones have held a courtship in it, but that you'll have the nicest home dinner if you drop in unexpectedly that hungry man ever devoured. Not the fancy ices and frills, but the cream gravies and a welcome warmer than an August noon. The dear, motherly, careless woman, a little too stout, a little too noisy, but with room in her big, warm heart for all suffering humanity. There are days when you'd rather be held to her capacious bosom, even at the risk of being smeared with the molasses one of the twins has just wiped off on her as she caught him up, because he dumped his precious head with the hammer, than be admitted to the presence of a queen.—N. Y. Sun.

The Natural beauty of the Nail.

The nails of the fashionable women are often—to put it strongly—a positive abomination. They are vulgar, just as anything that is overdone or pronounced is vulgar. And they are altogether "agin natur'," quite as much so as if they were stained with henna like those of her East Indian sister. To conform to nature the nail should be trimmed round, to follow the line of the finger tip, instead of being slanted up in a long sharp point, which is supposed to add a tapering look to the finger, but which really suggests the claws of a bird.

And then they are polished too highly. To a fastidious mind the overwrought glistening of the nail is as offensive—because it is as unnatural—as the painted cheeks or the darkened eyes. Artifice in the finger tips is no less vulgar than artifice in the face. And it is not beautiful. Nature is an artist who does not make mistakes. If the beauty of the nail were really enhanced by laying a hard glistening polish upon it, she would have known how to do so.—New York Evening Sun.

A Good Work in Scotland.

The Girls' Brigade in Scotland is fast becoming as popular and beneficial an institution as the widespread and famous Boys' Brigade. The girls belonging to these brigades are usually from 12 to 18 years of age, and are wage earners in printing offices, factories, shops, etc. They wear red aprons with red and white borders and red and white shoulder sashes over their dark dresses, and the girl officers have scarlet and silver stripes denoting the rank of the corporals and sergeants. Their drill consists of calisthenics to music, without apparatus, but with precision and grace, exercises in which rings, flags and ropes are used, and marches including several intricate figures—wheeling, turning and a maze. There is also singing, and sometimes a May pole dance, with a little address from the superior officers, who are usually ladies of leisure with philanthropical purpose. The work was inaugurated by two or three young ladies in Edinburgh, who formed the first brigade, and there are companies now in all parts of Scotland. In addition to the drill there are classes for singing, sewing and Bible teaching, and kindly talks on temperance, thrift and purity, somewhat of the same nature as our working girls' clubs in America.—London Letter.

It Was a Woman's Idea.

A bit of Vassar history not generally known to the public is the fact that the college, founded by a man, was the thought of a "weaker vessel."

Mr. Matthew Vassar had a kinswoman who was principal of a young ladies' seminary in Poughkeepsie, Miss Lydia Booth by name, an estimable and accomplished woman. When Mr. Vassar was considering the question of his fortune he was strongly inclined toward the establishment of a hospital which should be upon the lines of Guy's hospital in London. While considering this scheme Miss Booth suggested that a wise plan would be the foundation of a college for women, to be to them what Yale and Harvard were to men.

Mr. Vassar was what is called in the popular phrase "a self made" man. This was true of him intellectually as well as financially. The deficiences of his early education he sought to supply by culture in the latter years of his life, and to a great extent was successful. Mrs. Vassar, the wife of his youth, did not keep pace with her husband in this direction, and therefore the importance of a thorough training for young women which would send them into the world with a thorough mental equipment appealed to him with peculiar force. Miss Booth's suggestion was adopted, and a charter for the incorporation of Vassar female college was granted by New York legislature in 1861.—New York World.

Some Things Never in Fashion.

There are some things that are never in fashion, although the enterprising shopman may fill his windows with them. One is green gloves. If one green glove can be worse than another it is that kind with V shaped sections of white kid set in them. These never were and never will be fashionable, and do not let anybody induce you to spend your money on them.

Then while scarlet crepe bonnets and scarlet trimmings are in good taste leave all red hats, especially the large ones, to the people in the nursery. Arrange your red coloring in some other way and do not have it all in a hat. La Mode never approves of them.

Then do not believe that blacks, grays and browns are to be forgotten for some odd shade of green, pink or blue; the first are always in good taste. Peculiar tints are never to be desired unless one has a wardrobe in which gowns are very numerous.

Do not be persuaded into buying anything. Think out before you start what you want, and endeavor to get it. The penance of wearing unbecoming and unsuitable costumes, or adjuncts, is a trying one; so be wise, and by choosing judiciously do not put yourself in a position that will involve your having to undergo it. Sackcloth and ashes mean happiness as compared with silk and tulle for all hours and occasions.—Ladies' Home Journal.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

A PROTEST FILED AGAINST MR. STINSON'S ELECTION.

Immigration to Ontario—Mr. Manley's Body Found at Lewiston—Another Bather Loses His Life in the Don—A Fatal Scaffolding Accident.

TORONTO, July 10.—A petition against the return of Mr. Thos. H. Stinson to the Ontario Assembly from Hamilton was filed yesterday with the registrar of the Court of Appeal. The protest was accompanied with the necessary deposit of $1000. Mr. J. V. Teetzel, Q. C., of Hamilton, filed the document through his Toronto agents, Messrs. McCarthy, Osler, Hoskin & Creelman. Mark J. Patterson, the petitioner, is described as a gentleman. He is an ex-landing waiter in the Hamilton Customs House. Mr. Stinson and his agents are charged with a variety of offences against the election law; with betting money on the result, bribery, intimidation, aiding personation and with violating the License Act.

Captain Fred Manley and his brother Hubert returned from Lewiston last evening on the Cibola, bringing over the remains of their father, who was accidentally drowned in the Niagara river on Monday evening. It is supposed that the old gentleman, after leaving his home in Maitland-street Monday, went to the wharf to take a boat for the Island, as he had expressed such an intention to his daughter earlier in the week. It is also supposed that his mind being unsettled by his recent severe illness he got on the Niagara boat instead of the ferry and did not notice his mistake until the steamer was far out. On arriving at Lewiston he walked up to the vicinity of Brock's monument. He was very much exhausted at the time. He spoke to a man on the road and seemed to be suffering greatly. Shortly after his body was found in very shallow water. His hat was on his head. It is thought that he tumbled off the bank, and being so weak was unable to save himself.

For the six months ended June 30 there arrived at the five agencies in the Province of Ontario 32,502 immigrants; 6120 came via the St. Lawrence and 26,352 via the United States; 24,936 went to the United States, 65 to Quebec, 976 to Manitoba and 6525 remained in Ontario. The nationality of the latter is: English 3720, Irish 923, Scotch 978, German 397, Scandinavian 95, American 389, other countries 23. The totals for the same period of 1888 and 1889 were 54,319 and 48,319, of which 12,746 and 9816 remained in Ontario.

While several men were at work on a scaffold on a building in course of erection at Ulster-street and Euclid-avenue at 4½ yesterday afternoon the supports gave way and the workmen were precipitated to the ground, a distance of 35 feet. John Boyle of 37 Brunswick-avenue sustained serious internal injuries. The ambulance was summoned and he was conveyed to the Hospital. It is impossible as yet to say whether his injuries will terminate fatally.

William T. Humphrey, aged 13, son of Thomas R. Humphrey, contractor, 31 Queen-street east, went bathing in the Don above Winchester-street bridge yesterday with a companion named John Schaefer. He either waded beyond his depth or was seized with cramps and sank to the bottom. Young Schaefer gave an alarm and the body was recovered an hour afterwards by Superintendent Bulmer of the Necropolis and conveyed to his father's residence, 301 Church-street. The funeral will take place to Mount Pleasant Cemetery to-morrow.

Ontario Government Appointments.

TORONTO, July 10.—At a meeting of the Ontario Cabinet, held yesterday afternoon, A. W. Thompson of Port Arthur was appointed Sheriff of Thunder Bay; James Meek was made Clerk of the District Court and W. C. Dobie police magistrate, vice Thompson. Sir Alexander Campbell, Lieut.-Governor, leaves on July 16 for a trip to England and during his absence the administration will devolve upon Chief Justice Sir Thomas Galt.

Montreal's Population 277,000.

MONTREAL, July 9.—By the report of the assessors, who have nearly finished their work, it appears that the population of Montreal is 277,000. In 1886 the city and suburbs were supposed to contain 230,700 inhabitants and the gain for the four years is 47,000, or at the rate of nearly 12,000 per annum.

U. S. Census Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The rough official count of the population of St. Louis by the census office was completed to-day. It shows the city's population to be 448,124. The result of the official rough count of the population of Baltimore by the census office here shows a total of 433,699. St. Louis will be fifth in the list of large cities.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The revised estimate of Census Supervisor Gilbert puts the population of Chicago at 1,100,000; possibly a few more than that number.

Requisition for Nettie Clark.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Governor Hill has granted requisition papers to Rhode Island authorities for the return to Providence of Nettie Clark, who forged a $6000 check and fled to this city.

The Halifax and Bermuda Cable.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND DELEGATES SAIL FOR HOME.

It is Reported That Bulgaria's Premier Has Been Shot by a Woman—Fatal Epidemic of Influenza in China—The Congo State Bill.

LONDON, July 9.—The delegates appointed by the Government of Newfoundland to lay before the Home Government the claims of Newfoundland in the fisheries matter sailed from Liverpool for St. Johns to-day. The delegates expressed the conviction that the fishery dispute would be satisfactorily settled.

Five hundred persons attended a Postmen's meeting in Clerkenwell Green this evening. The Postmen's Union has decided to strike in the morning unless "blacklegs" are dismissed.

One hundred postmen concerned in an attack upon "blacklegs" have been dismissed.

There was a mild renewal of the rioting in Bow-street this evening.

Belgium and the Congo State.

BRUSSELS, July 9.—Premier Beernaert introduced the Congo State Bill in the Chamber of Representatives to-day. Belgium will loan the Congo State 25,000,000 francs, of which 5,000,000 francs will be advanced immediately, and 2,000,000 francs will be advanced annually for ten years, the loan to be free from interest. Six months from the expiration of the ten years Belgium can annex the Congo State and all its properties and rights in conformity with the acts signed in Berlin Feb. 26, 1885, and in Brussels July 1, 1890. Belgium assuming all responsibility toward other parties, and King Leopold renouncing his claims for indemnity for sacrifices made by him. If on the expiration of the term Belgium does not desire to annex the Congo State, the loan will bear interest at 3½ per cent., and re-payment can be demanded on the expiration of a further ten years. The bill was referred to a committee. King Leopold's bequeathal of his entire rights in the Congo State to Belgium, dated Aug. 11, 1889, was read and was greeted with loud applause.

Bulgaria's Premier Assassinated.

LONDON, July 9.—It is reported that a girl shot M. Stambuloff, the Bulgarian Prime Minister, with a revolver at Sofia to-day. The report comes by way of Bucharest and Vienna.

The Bulgarian Throne.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9.—The report that Russia would soon propose the Duke of Leuchtenberg for the Bulgarian Throne is semi-officially denied. It is held the present condition of Bulgaria does not favor Russian intervention.

Mousa Bey to Be Tried Again.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 9.—The public prosecutor has appealed against the acquittal of Mousa Bey and a new trial has been ordered.

The Tennis Championship.

LONDON, July 9.—At Wimbledon to-day Hamilton of Dublin won the tennis championship, defeating Renshaw with the score of 27 games to 18.

Restless Russia.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The Japan Mail states that a rumor is prevalent that Russia has seized an island off the coast of Corea.

The Grip in China.

PARIS, July 9.—Despatches and letters from China report an extraordinary epidemic of influenza, which has spread with terrible rapidity throughout the empire. Half the population of Pekin and of several other large cities have been attacked by the malady. A large number of cases proved fatal. Trade is suspended and public business interrupted.

Princess Henry Ill.

BERLIN, July 9.—Princess Henry of Prussia is ill. It is rumored she is suffering from diphtheria.

Emperor William has arrived at Bergen, Norway, where he met with a hearty reception. He will remain there one week.

GEN. MIDDLETON'S FAREWELL.

An Address to the Militia to Appear in The Gazette Saturday.

OTTAWA, July 9.—Gen. Sir Fred Middleton has written a farewell to the militia of Canada. He expresses in the first place his acknowledgment of the manner in which they have always responded to the call of duty, for the interest they take in their work, for the efficiency displayed and for their reception and treatment of him. He assures them that he shall always look forward to their fulfilment of the great future before them with intense interest. The address will appear in The Canada Gazette Saturday.

The section of the B.N.A. Act affecting the commander-in-chief for the Canadian forces reads: "There shall be appointed an officer who holds the rank of colonel, or superior rank thereto, in Her Majesty's regular army, who shall be charged under the orders of Her Majesty with the military command and discipline of the militia and shall be paid at the rate of $4000 per annum in full of all pay and allowance."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Hon. S. H. Blake, Q.C., Slightly Injured by a Boiler Explosion.

MONTREAL, July 9.—A tourist party composed of Hon. S. H. Blake, Q.C., Toronto; George T. Brown, manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, London, and Edward Cronin of London arrived in town today by train after escaping from a serious accident. The party left Toronto on Monday in a steam yacht for Murray Bay, where they intended spending the summer. They experienced very heavy weather. Opposite Gananoque yesterday the boiler exploded and the yacht took fire. The party was rescued by a tug attracted by the sound of the explosion a mile distant. They continued their journey this evening by train. Mr. Blake was slightly burned.

The Northern Atlantic Railway.

QUEBEC, July 9.—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bender returned from England yesterday. Mr. Bender says that in about three or four weeks English engineers will come to Canada and enter at once on the task of surveying the ground for the Northern Atlantic Railway. Mr. Bender is hopeful of seeing his scheme carried through. This railway, when built, will reduce the Atlantic navigation to four days. The track will run from Quebec across the Saguenay district to a point on the Labrador coast, probably St. Charles Bay, where a port will be opened.

He Smoked Cigarets.

AMSTERDAM, N.Y., July 9.—Michael Roche, aged 15, died here to-day, the result of excessive cigaret smoking.

59 Japs Drowned at a Launching.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Advices from Japan state that 59 persons were drowned at Osaka on June 15 during the launching of a sailing vessel. Twenty were injured. The vessel turned completely over on the launchways.

RUN ON THE FARO PLAN.

A New York "Mining-Stock Exchange" Raided by the Police.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The police to-day raided the "Mining Stock Exchange" at 51 New-street and captured two of its officials and a large amount of paraphernalia. George W. Runkle, the president of the "Exchange," and James W. Waldron, a broker who is interested in the business, were taken into custody. The people connected with the place and a number of stock speculators escaped.

The "plant" of the "game" consisted of a good-sized room, a big blackboard containing the names of alleged California mining stock, a little cubby hole labelled "Clearing House," a "fly" young man who acted as spokesman for the faro game and some "stool pigeons," who posed as members of the exchange. These were the principal actors. In addition there was a youth who chalked up bogus quotations, a cashier hidden in the recesses of The "Clearing House" and an elderly gentleman, apparently president of the exchange, who explained the modus operandi to customers.

The names of the stocks dealt in at this exchange are the Maple, Zenia, Mak-saw-be, Alpena, Orange and Yorke. A chalked up notice on the blackboard declares that these compose the well-known Orange group of mines, six in number, located in Southern California, and which produce from $4000 to $8000 a day.

The prices of these stocks fluctuate rapidly. Alpena, for instance, frequently falls or rises a half-dozen points in as many minutes, and Mak-saw-be is a regular Jonah to those who deal in it on small margins. The stock in the Orange mine wilts like a paper collar in July, even when the mine is at its acme of prosperity. Often when the Maple is shut down and has produced nothing for months she soars away above par, just as if she were a dividend payer.

These remarkable ranges are caused by the fact that chance and the "fly" young man at the rostrum of the Exchange dictate the prices. There are a lot of cards in a box, on which are written such remarks as "Advance Mak-saw-be three-eighths," or "Lower Alpena one-half." These the "fly" young man draws out one by one at the rate of about two a minute. As he reads the legends they are transferred to the blackboard. They become the duly authorized quotations on Alpena or Mak-saw-be until the faro box knocks them out by making a new figure.

When I entered the place yesterday afternoon a bull movement in the Yorke stock had just been started. It looked a tempting thing just then to try a "flyer." It was not many minutes, however, before there was another turn of the cards, and that poor stock was smashed until there wasn't enough left of it to pick up.

The "fly" young faro dealer kept at it, however, with an imperturbability that was amazing. One moment he was the leader of a powerful bull campaign. The next he was the worst bear uncaged. Maple rose and fell. Zenia tumbled three-eighths at a time, but the faro cards leaped from the box with clock-like regularity, and the dealer was unmindful of the fortunes won or lost by his drawings.

STORM ECHOES.

Maine's Disastrous Cyclone—Fatalities in Northern New York.

LEWISTON, Me., July 9.—Specials from Somerset, Waldo, Oxford and Franklin counties indicate that last evening's cyclone was one of the most disastrous that ever visited Maine. The Sandy River railway bridge near Phillips was blown from its abutments into the river. Many barns were blown down all through Franklin county. At North Anson the bridge across Carrabasset river is so twisted as to be unsafe. The Maine Central institute at Pittsfield is damaged. Capt. Goodrich's cottage at Madison was blown flat. The barn and stable of Hamilton Marston was struck by lightning and burned. At Thorndike a store was demolished. In various parts of Maine nearly 00 barns were blown down or unroofed.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., July 9.—Reports received from towns in this county show that yesterday's gale did considerable damage. Fruit and shade trees were blown down in great numbers and many were torn up by the roots. Several barns were unroofed and some orchards were destroyed.

TROY, July 9.—Despatches from Willsboro and Westport show that the cyclone there, while severe in its force and doing considerable damage to barns and crops, did not destroy any lives. So far as learned the three persons drowned at Rouse's Point and the man drowned at the Bluff Point Hotel were all the persons who lost their lives during the storm.

ROUSE'S POINT, N.Y., July 9.—The tug Little Nellie, towing a pile driver from this place to Alburg, Vt., was struck by the storm about ¾ mile south of Windmill Point Lighthouse at 4½ o'clock yesterday afternoon and at once sank to the bottom. Captain George Clark of Keeseville, the owner of the steamer, his son and George Hill, the engineer of Rouse's Point, were drowned. The pilot escaped, as did several men, upon the spile driver.

A LIMIT ON DRINKS.

MILWAUKEE, July 9.—An unpleasantness exists in the ranks of those Knights of Pythias who wear red and gold-embroidered uniforms. The trouble has all grown out of the iron-clad rules laid down for the regulation of the Milwaukee Encampment by Major-General Carnahan, the head-centre of the Knights of the Uniform Rank. Gen. Carnahan is a temperance man from way back and he has issued an ultimatum to the effect that not one drop stronger than pop shall find its way into camp. In addition to this he has declared the camp shall be governed on the strictest military lines. The purely civic lodges are pleased as they will shift for themselves at Milwaukee, the camp being occupied solely by the warriors, who will be forced to go dry or form a skirmish line every time they want a draught of the Cream City's famous beverages.

The regiment from California, already in quarters at Milwaukee, brought along a carload of the output of the Pacific coast vineyards. The Knights were in ignorance of their Chief's order and proceeded to roll their wine into camp. It was ordered out, and a row ensued. The Far West men said they would camp beside their grape-juice outside the walls. This they have done, and the regular encampment is minus a stalwart regiment.

U.S. Consuls Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Senate to-day confirmed these nominations: Consuls—W. F. Holloway of Indiana at Stratford, Ont.; G. D. Joslyn of Michigan at Windsor, Ont.

Rather Rapid Matrimonial Experience.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 9.—Charles Lagrange, who was arrested on the charge of bigamy a week ago, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three years in the State penitentiary. He married a girl in Sedgwick June 8 and one in Hutchinson June 13.

PRISON REFORM INQUIRY.

OPENING SESSION OF THE COMMISSION HELD AT HAMILTON.

The Chairman States the Scope of the Investigation—Many Sheriffs and Jailers Present—Governor Ogilvie's Evidence as to the Hamilton Jail.

HAMILTON, July 9.—The Prison Reform Commission, consisting of J. W. Langmuir (chairman), Hon. Timothy Anglin (Secretary), Hon. Charles Drury, Dr. A. M. Rosebrugh and A. F. Jury, met here to-day.

The commission was appointed by the Ontario Government in consequence of resolutions passed by the Prison Reform Conference held in Toronto last November requesting the selection of "a commission to investigate and report upon the question of prison reform, with the view of suggesting improved methods of dealing with the criminal classes," and their first session was held in the court house here at 11 o'clock this morning.

There was a large attendance of witnesses including Sheriff T. C. Dawson and Jailer Hamilton of St. Catharines; Sheriff James Smith and Jailer John Coulson of Welland; Sheriff McKellar and Jailer Ogilvie of Hamilton; Rev. T. Geoghegan, Rev. Father McEvay, W. C. Barnes and Rev. J. S. Ross.

The chairman explained that the commission had a large scope, but would make enquiry especially on these points: 1, the cause of crime; 2, any improved means for providing and conducting industrial schools; 3, improved means of rescuing destitute children from a criminal career; 4, improvements in the management of county jails and the management of prisoners; 5, the most fitting practicable employment for prisoners in the province; 6, the question of indeterminate sentences for offenders against provincial laws; 7, improved way of dealing with tramps and habitual drunkards. The commission had chosen Hamilton to open in, not on account of its prominence as a criminal centre, but simply because it was near Toronto.

Governor James Ogilvie of the Hamilton jail was the only witness this morning. He gave a long statement of the treatment and classification of the prisoners in his charge. He could not keep those awaiting trial separate from the sentenced offenders. He never knew of any boys being corrupted in his jail, in fact the boys used much worse language than the men. He had never heard old prisoners recounting their crimes to the younger men; on the contrary, they are very careful about talking of previous crimes, though they frequently tell how often they have done time. The Central Prison takes the worst prisoners away, and sometimes even the 30-day men are sent when they are short of labor at the Central.

The establishment of a municipal workhouse would reduce the number of prisoners in the jail, enable them to improve the classification and discipline of the jail. It would be an impossibility to adopt the cellular system in the Hamilton jail, because all the inmates of the cells in one corridor can speak to each other. He thought the isolation of prisoners would be cruel, would weaken their minds by brooding and injuriously affect the morals of prisoners.

Last year 401 prisoners were sent down for being drunk and disorderly, of whom about one-fifth were confirmed drunkards, and they were hardened rather than reformed by the committals. He could not say that he knew one case where a committal to jail has had a deterrent effect on them. Drunkenness among women has largely decreased in recent years, due in his opinion to fear of the Mercer and also to the excellent work of Christian societies. Habitual drunkards may generally be looked upon as a charge on their families, not as supporters of their families. He would favor sending them to an inebriate asylum where they would be subject to medical treatment, especially for men under thirty.

In his opinion the chief cause of crime is intemperance, with ignorance a good second. Illiterate children are usually the children of drunken parents. One of the grandest institutions for the prevention of crime among boys is the field sports instituted by the clergy of St. Matthew's, where the boys can assemble in the evenings and amuse themselves under supervision.

In answer to Mr. Drury the witness said that prisoners should have hard labor, and that it should be real hard. The jail here always has a large supply of stone on hand for this purpose. There was only one month in five years when there was no stone at the jail, and the news spread about so quickly that the jail was immediately overflowed with tramps.

A BAD MAN OF BERLIN.

BERLIN, Ont., July 9.—High Constable Klippert yesterday arrested a man named Conrad Ortwein, charged with polygamy. It is claimed that he has now the seventh wife, the last one living in this town. He is a well-dressed German with a large amount of glib talk, and it appears found no trouble in gaining the affections of the gentler sex. He had a mania for widow women. The charge was laid against him by a Mrs. Rosko, a widow living in the north ward, to whom he proposed at first sight. She was interviewed by a reporter and told a rather amusing story, which is as follows:

About a month ago Ortwein visited Mrs. Rosko and made a proposal of marriage to her, but as she was not willing to accept without taking the matter into consideration and counselling her family he gave her two weeks' time. At the end of the two weeks he called again and told her a silver-lined story about owning a fifty-acre farm near Stratford, and said he was shortly to inherit $1000. His prepossessing appearance and the offer to clear the debt on her property was too much for her and he soon won her affections, and the date for the marriage was fixed, which took place a week ago Sunday.

After they had been made one, Mrs. Ortwein No. 7 became suspicious, and on enquiry found that she only possessed a seventh part of his affections. Yesterday morning when he made his appearance she accused him of infidelity and polygamy and belabored him with a broom. Soon after this he was arrested. He will be tried on three charges, which will be made against him by Mrs. Wolf, Wellesley township; Miss Gildner, Wellesley township, and Mrs. Rosko, Berlin. He is about 50 years of age and is said to have married children living near Stratford. It is estimated that he has seven wives and about thirty children.

Barns Burned.

NORWICH, Ont., July 9.—The largest barns in this part of the country were burned last night. They belonged to J. Stover and were insured for $3000 and $1000 on contents. The loss will be heavy, as there was considerable stock and machinery destroyed. Insured in the London Mutual.

Protection in Spain.

MADRID, July 9.—The new cabinet has issued a circular outlining its policy. It announces its intention to give decided and sincere protection to national productions by a revision of the tariff.

BOBCAYGEON BUDGET.

Further Particulars of the Death of Mr. Geo. Bick, Jr.—A Presentation.

Correspondence of the Review.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. George Bick, jr., son of Mr. George Bick, of this place, met with an accident on last Monday morning which cost him his life. He and his father were returning from Deseronto, where they had been visiting Mr. Wm. Bick, brother of the deceased, and had reached Chemong, and as soon as Mr. Bick left the train he went to the boat to help a man to put some bags of grain on a scow, but while doing so he missed his footing and fell into the water. He was taken out at once and seemed all right for some time. When he was on his way home he was seized with a heavy stroke of paralysis, and in spite of all available medical aid he passed away after about six hours' suffering. He leaves a wife and five small children to mourn their irretrievable loss. The funeral took place on Wednesday and was attended by a large number of friends and acquaintances, all of whom deeply sympathized with the surviving members of the family in their sad bereavement.

SCHOOLS CLOSED.—The schools closed on Friday last for the holidays and will not reopen till Monday, August 25th.

PICNICS.—Picnics are the order of the day these last three or four weeks; in fact they are as thick as blackberries will be after a week or two. On account of the great number I shall not attempt to describe any of them as it would take too much space in your valuable columns.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.—On Friday evening last Mr. W. Hickson's class for the teacher's examination presented him with a beautiful gold pen and pen holder, all enclosed in a neat case, accompanied by an address that showed that they appreciated the work that had been done in the class. Mr. Hickson made a most suitable reply.

NEWS FROM ZION.

A Contradiction of a Report—Building Notes—Personals.

Correspondence of the Review.

A CONTRADICTION.—In the issue of the Peterborough Times of July 2nd, the Zion correspondent of that periodical has thought fit to try to belittle the concert given here lately by the Keene Lodge of Good Templars, by saying that it was poorly rendered. Now that is only that scribbler's opinion and not by any means that of the audience, judging by the liberal applause that followed every selection given. He also stated that the people of Zion are capable of judging good talent—which is certainly true—but he puts himself on the opposite side, which is the same as saying he does not possess the ability to judge anything of the sort. Now, with this admission, we must take his statements—not for facts—but simply for what they are worth. We hope to have the concert at Zion again and to have a full house, and also have present the Times man and we will sincerly hope that he will, the next time, give a fair and unbiased account, no matter how unaccustomed he may be to giving a correct report of anything. We would strongly advise him in the future to stick closer to the truth and his items will be far more acceptable.

BUILDING.—Building is booming in our village. Mr. Walter Dickson has again erected his barn which was blown down last winter and it is more likely to stand the blizards as it is built on a stronger foundation. Mr. William Gratton has commenced work on his dwelling house and expects to have it finished before the season closes. The members of the Methodist church have enlarged their shed to twice the size it formerly was. Mr. Benjamin Cooney has added a new kitchen to his house, making a decided improvement in its appearance.

VACATION.—Our public school has now closed for the summer vacation and the teacher, Miss Edith McLachlan, has gone to her home in Norwood. We wish her a pleasant time.

PERSONALS.—Miss Trueona Kindred has returned home on a short visit....Mr. Thomas Cooney, who, a short time ago, got his foot hurt is again able to walk around.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Why will you cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief? Price 10c. 50c. and $1. For sale by Geo. A. Schofield, Druggist, Peterborough.

A NORTHUMBERLAND MURDER.

Killed by a Blow—A Dog Prevents Another Tragedy.

BRIGHTON, July 9.—On June 26 Charles Gereau went into the blacksmith shop of Franklin E. Minor of Haldimand, Northumberland County, on a run, caught hold of Minor and gave him a squeeze, let him go and exclaimed, "I'll show them. I have had too many of these things." He went to the door just as Robert Lockhart was coming in, who said, "Hello, Charlie." Gereau picked up an oak scantling three feet long and three inches square and struck Lockhart over the head and knocked him senseless. Gereau helped to take him into the shop and said, "Now that I have done it you can go and bury him. I have killed him and I'll kill another." It appears that all this must have been premeditated.

When Miss Lockhart was in the field calling her brother she saw Gereau coming towards her. She ran for the house and he ran after her with a club in his hand. Just as he was about to strike her over the head Lockhart's dog came out and kept him at bay and saved the poor girl's life.

After this Gereau was tied by his neighbors, taken before a magistrate and sent to jail for trial.

Lockhart lingered in an unconscious state until July 3, when death put an end to his misery. A jury is now considering the case.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Two Men Killed in a Riot at West Superior—Lake Seamen's Strike.

MILWAUKEE, July 9.—A special from West Superior says striking dock laborers attempted to prevent all work in the city this afternoon. A riot ensued. Two men were mortally shot and others wounded.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The recent strike of lake seamen tying up the commerce of this port for several days has brought about "a state of things" between the Sailors' Union and the Vessel Owners' Association. The latter met yesterday afternoon and resolved that after Aug. 1 they would employ only non-union men and that in default of help of that sort they would tie up their vessels. It was also decided to advertise for men on the Atlantic coast.

TOLEDO, July 9.—A strike of the freight handlers on all the leading railroads of the city took place this afternoon. The men want an advance of from 12 and 12½ cents per hour to 15 cents. About 350 men are out.

LEFT WITHOUT NOTICE.

The Montreal Herald has Warrants Issued for its ex-Printers.

MONTREAL, July 9.—Quite a commotion was raised to-night when it was learned that The Herald management had served warrants on twelve of its ex-employes who left without giving the proper week's notice. The foreman of the job room and some of the other job hands have returned and ignored the union. The Herald people say that the strikers have been beaten at every point.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

The McGillivray Cases Postponed—Accident to Mrs. MacKelcan.

HAMILTON, July 9.—The McGillivray abduction cases have been postponed until Friday.

Mrs. Frank MacKelcan of this city, was at the Pines, Mr. and Mrs. MacKelcan's summer residence on the mountain, yesterday. She was in the garden when the storm broke. A flash of lightning struck quite near, and the shock and concussion threw her forward. She fell on her face, cutting and bruising it severely.

A woman named Lucy Sytes died at the Hospital yesterday from the effects of a paralytic fit. Dr. Olmsted has been unable to find any of her friends, and her body will probably be sent to the Medical School at Toronto.

The South American Panic.

BUENOS AYRES, July 9.—The President of the Argentine Republic has authorized the issue of bank notes to the amount of $100,000,000 for the purpose of relieving the financial situation. The rejection of the proposed sterling loan has caused great excitement on the Bourse here.

MONTE VIDEO, July 9.—The run on the banks in this city continues notwithstanding the Government has decreed a forced currency of the notes of the National Bank for six months.

MONTE VIDEO, July 9.—There is only one private bank here doing business in gold dollars.

The Lottery Bill.

BATON ROUGE, La., July 9.—The Senate, by a vote of 23 to 12, postponed action on the Lottery Bill and veto until 12 o'clock to-morrow, one of the Senators favoring the bill being absent.

The Senate to-night decided that the Governor had no authority under the constitution to veto the Lottery Bill. This disposes of the whole matter.

Diphtheria Spread by the Cow and Cat.

Dr. Klein, F. R. S. read a paper before the members of the Royal society, at Burlington house, recently, having for its subject "Diphtheria as it effects animals," and treating specially of the disease in the cat and milch cow. Dealing with the disease in cats, Dr. Klein stated that during three years past the relations existing between a mysterious cat malady and human diphtheria had been prominently brought to his notice, the illness of the cats being generally of a pulmonary character. The animals were frequently, while ill, nursed by children, who in turn fell ill with the disease, which was in them well-marked diphtheria: or where children developed the disease, cats in the house sickened simultaneously or later. In north London last year the malady in cats was of a widespread nature. After various experiments, Dr. Klein was able to state that the disease in question in these animals was undoubtedly diphtheria. As regarded diphtheria in the milch cow, Dr. Klein has proved that her milk is affected by the disease permeating her system; and he showed how by artificially induced diphtheria, the symptoms so often found in milch cows, where milk was discovered to be the the means of desseminating diphtheria were well marked in the udder. Dr. Klein further gave an illustration of diphtheria conveyed from cow to cat at the Brown institution, where he was working. The milk of two diphtheria-infected cows, instead of being thrown away, was used for feeding two healthy caged cats. These became ill of diphtheria, and subsequently all cats placed in these cages developed the disease. Both animals, therefore, may reasonably be accused of infecting man, and the greatest interest now attaches to the conditions under which the cow can acquire this property of inflicting injury upon the drinkers of her milk. Dr. Klein has shown what was long ago suspected by Mr. W. H. Power, an assistant medical officer of the local government board, that the infection of milk with diphtheritic poison is due to a cow disease. There is no prospect that any legislation would be able to protect households against cat maladies, but some immediate steps ought to be taken with regard to the cow, this animal being already under legislative control for certain other diseases. In the meantime it behooves every one having charge of young children to boil the milk which is daily received. Experience has amply shown that the boiling of milk destroys the infection which this article of food occasionally contains.—St. James' Gazette.

Delicious Corn Muffins.

Two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar beaten together. Add one and a half teacupfuls of sweet milk (water may be substituted), a half teaspoonful of salt, one teacupful of Indian meal (white preferred), two teacupfuls of flour sifted with two heaping teaspoonfuls of best baking powder, and last, one tablespoonful of melted butter. These are delicious.

A HORSE DU COMBAT.

Savage Geldings Do Battle with their Teeth.

A novel street fight took place on Main street, between San Jacquin and Sutter streets. The combatants were two geldings which were being led from Doak's livery stables.

One of the horses was tied to the other one, the latter being led by a halter. The rear horse had some difficulty in travelling because the rope was too short, and he objected by snapping at the other animal with his teeth.

A terrific battle began at once, the geldings biting each other with great savageness. The man who had charge of them lost his grip on the halter-strap, and the brutes then circled around each other, endeavoring to fasten their teeth on each other's legs. Suddenly one of them stumbled and fell, dragging the second gelding down.

The animals got onto their knees, but were unable to rise to their feet, the rope having become wrapped around the leg of one. This predicament, however did not stop the battle. They seemed to be even more savage than before, and snapped at one another's face and throat, at the same time giving vent to cries of anger that could be heard two blocks away.

A large crowd gathered, and several drivers of teams near by ran to the scene and belabored the brutes unmercifully with their whips, but it did no good. Finally one of the geldings seized the other by the "arm," so called—the fleshy portion of the foreleg—and held on despite the bitings he received as a return compliment.

None of the spectators would trust themselves within reach of the vicious teeth. But after the combat had continued for several minutes Police Officer Simpson drove up in the police cart, attracted by the noise and the crowd. Taking the situation in at a glance, he sprang on the neck of one of the geldings and drew the animal's head to one side, at the same time calling on the crowd to cut the rope. This was done, and the combat came to an end.

Strange to say, neither of the horses was much hurt, the injuries consisting only of the tearing of the hide.—N. Y. Sun.

DEBT OF EUROPEAN NATIONS.

Increased at a Wonderful Rate During the Last Years.

The wonderful increase of the public debt of European States within the last few years, says the Cincinnati Times-Star, suggests the question, "Whither will this tendency lead them?"

In 1870 the total indebtedness was $15,000,000,000. This had been increased to the amount of $22,000,000,000, in 1886. In sixteen years, therefore, the public debt has increased $6,000,000,000.

During this period the reduction of interest has been going on just as it has done in the United States.

England is now arranging to reduce her interest from 3 to 2½ per cent., and the other European governments are attempting to reduce the rate of interest from 5 and 5½ to 3, 4 and 4½ per cent.

The immense reduction of interest, however, does not seem to benefit the people, for the government take advantage of it to increase their total indebtedness.

Here we are paying off the debt and reducing the interest at the same time; in Europe they are reducing the rate of interest, but are increasing the nominal capital of the debt, so that no reduction of taxes can take place.

The total annual interest upon European indebtedness is about $1,070,000,000, while the total annual expenditures of the War and Navy departments of the same governments reaches the enormous sum of $900,000,000.

The European powers are all of them troubled with financial difficulties. They are immensely in debt; yet the political situation is such as to require increased armaments.

They cannot go to war because they have not the financial credit to extend their indebtedness; and the question now is: "How can this intricate situation be relieved?"

PUNISH THE LEADER.

In a case of general insubordination, which is sure to occur sooner or later, instead of attempting to punish the lot the wiser plan is to elect the ringleader and punish him until you are ashamed of yourself. Then give the others to understand that this is a mere hint of what will happen to the first one who fails to jump as quickly as he knows how at the word of command. Witness Stanley's hanging of the ringleader of Emin's conspirators, and of two or three of his own men at various times.

A general revolt occured among my men in Masailand. Dr. Abbott and I were compelled to use our shotguns on them. One was killed and another wounded. The whole crowd were, by these summary proceedings, quickly brought into a reasonable frame of mind.

There comes a period in the life of every African expedition when there is a struggle for the mastery between the European leader and his people. The European must be prepared to gain the upper hand, no matter what the cost, or the expedition will very likely go to smash. Treat the African kindly, even indulgently, like children, for ever within reach. If he fear you he will also love you; if he thinks you incapable of punishing him he will treat you with contempt and try his best to bring about your ruin. The story of Stanley and Emin is the finest essay on the African character that I know of.

Bismarck as an Organ Grinder.

Prince Bismarck was one day passing through the Royal Palace at Berlin when he entered a room in which the young Princes were merrily romping and dancing to the music of a barrel organ. The youngsters insisted that Prince Bismarck should stay and dance with them. "I am too old," said the stiff and stately septuagenarian, "and really I cannot dance, but if the Crown Prince will dance I will grind the organ." The bargain was at once struck. The Crown Prince joined his two brothers, and Prince Bismarck ground away merrily at the organ while the children danced on in high glee. In the midst of their mirth the door opened and the young Kaiser entered. He smiled to see the redoubtable Reichskanzler grinding the organ, and, after a word of greeting to his sons, he observed in mock displeasure to Prince Bismarck, "You begin in good time to make the heir-apparent dance to your piping. Why, this is the fourth generation of Hohenzollerns to whom you devote yourself."—St. James' Gazette.

CARE OF THE HEALTH.

Weariness of Brain or Body is Nature's Demand for a Holiday.

Weariness, says the Hospital, is generally a physiological "ebb tide" which time and patience will convert into a flow. It is never well to whip or spur a worn out horse, except in the direst straits. If he mends his pace in obedience to the stimulus, every step is a drop drawn from his life blood. Idleness is not one of the faults of the present age; weariness is one of the commonest experiences. The checks that many a man draws on his physiological resources are innumerable, and, as the resources are strictly limited, like any other ordinary banking account it is very easy to bring about a balance on the wrong side.

One day's holiday in the week and one or two months in the year for those who work exceptionally hard usually bring the credit balance to a highly favorable condition; and thus with care and management physiological solvency is secured and maintained. But a physiological fortune is as good a thing, or even a better thing, than a money fortune. Stored resources, well invested, keep the mind easy and the body youthful. If, however, a man have not these, but only enough of strength to go on steadily from day to day, he should watch carefully against excessive weariness. A feeling of prostration is the dark thunder cloud that portends a change in the atmosphere. Health, like weather, may "break;" and when once it is broken nobody knows when the barometer will mark "set fair" again. Weariness, coming on in the ordinary course of work, without any special and temporary cause, is nature's demand for an immediate holiday. As nothing in the world can properly satisfy hunger except food, so no drug or stimulant of any kind except rest can restore the weary to energy and health. The doctor's tonic is a very good thing in its way, but it will no more act as a substitute for rest than a glow worm's light will serve the same purpose as the moon.

Peterborough Boat Club.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Boat Club held this week, it was decided to have the club incorporated and make some improvements about the club house and premises. Owing to the removal of the boats owned by the Lansdowne Boating Club to Chemong Lake, some racks for canoes are now available, and parties wishing to rent racks can do so on application to the President, Mr. E. H. D. Hall, or the Secretary, Mr. F. H. Dobbin.

Wanted, a Home!

The following notice, written in a plain hand is posted on the telephone service pole near George-st. Methodist church. In the interest of the pretty little girl, who is prepared to be adopted, we transfer the notice to our columns:—

READER,

Do you know of a family that would adopt a pretty little girl nearly 4 years of age legitimate. If you do will you tell them to drop a note to

MOTHER,

The note will be replied to.

Decoration Day.

To-morrow will be Oddfellows Decoration Day and as a civic half holiday has been proclaimed by the Mayor and most of the business men have agree to close their places of business there is sure to be a large crowd at the cemetery to witness the ceremony. The Oddfellows are to meet at 1.30, and form in procession at Central Park and proceed to the cemetery where the usual ceremony will be gone through with. All those who can contribute flowers are requested to leave them this evening at the stores of Mr. H. Long or A. Mercer & Co.

If you're going camping do yourself a sensible service. Go to Kidd's and get a pair of those rubber and canvas camping shoes. Just the thing for an outing trip. d5

TO OPEN ON SATURDAY.

The New Market Hall to be Opened for Business—A Word About it.

The new market building will be open for the public use on Saturday next. The building throughout is now rapidly approaching completion, so much so that it has been decided to open the market this week. The hall is ready for the reception of the tables and chairs, the former of which will be in their places before Saturday. The farmer's wives and daughters will have true cause for rejoicing when they enter into their new sale room, while the general public who frequent the market as purchasers will also hail with delight the opening of the new hall, which will give them more elbow room and plenty of fresh air.

At present any description of the new building will be confined simply to the market, the whole building coming in for some space when it is finally completed. Upon passing through the broad arcade, upon either side of which are the butcher stalls, the first thing to strike the eye are the two wide and imposing stair cases leading to the market above. These stairways are eight feet in width and circle upwards from opposite corners of the arcade. They land the visitor in a large lobby, opening off of which is a private room for the use of the Market Clerk and a washroom and closet for the ladies. Two large swinging doors give entrance into the market. Here the contrast with the old hall will cause a smile of satisfaction to pass over the countenance of the frequenter of the busy market place. The high roof of the building forms the ceiling so that their is plenty of room over head, which is kept filled with the purest air by the large airy windows and ventilators on all sides. Then the size of the hall is in striking contrast to the old one. It measures 120 x 60 feet, and when the tables have been placed in position there will be ample room for salespeople and buyers.

Personal.

Mr. T. S. Cole, Travelling Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, is in town to-day, and will be present at the meeting of the Board of Directors in the parlor of the rooms at 8.30 this evening.

Chemong Lake Boat Club.

The members of the Chemong Lake Boat Club are requested to meet at the boat house at Chemong Park on Friday afternoon next. A 'bus will leave town at three o'clock for the purpose of conveying them to the park. Every member is particularly requested to be present. The new club house is now completed, and with the united co-operation of the members will soon be clear of the small debt which is now upon it. 217

ADVERTISER.—I wish this notice placed in the paper where it will be sure to be seen.

EDITOR.—Yes, sir—yes; I can have them run it in right alongside an editorial if you wish.

ADVERTISER.—Hem! Please put it alongside the baseball news or next to Kidd, the shoe man's locals. People seem to read Kidd's items every time, and, by George, buy his shoes right slap afterwards. Don't doubt but its the value Kidd gives that fetches 'em. d5

Equal Rights.

The topic of the day and that which we al want is not only Equal Rights in a political sense of the word, but in many others. Here are people throwing away their hard earned money with unprincipled houses who do not as much as thank them for it. Why should they do it? Why not call on W. J. Morrow, where you are received courteously, your money placed to a good advantage and you are placed on a solid basis in future for buying cheap groceries. dw

A Day at Jubilee.

The Mark-st. Methodist Sunday school held its annual picnic yesterday at Jubilee Point. There was a good crowd on board when the Golden Eye left in the morning and a most enjoyable day's out was experienced. Jubilee Point, which is such a popular picnic resort, never looked better or was never better managed than this year, and the time spent on the grounds passed most pleasantly. The picnickers arrived home at about 9.30 without accident.

Peterborough Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Peterborough opened at Port Hope on Tuesday morning in the Walton-st. Hall of the First Presbyterian church. Besides the moderator, Mr. Gilchrist, of Baltimore, there were present Revs.' Messrs. Hay, Cobourg; Laird, of Grafton; McLeod, of Brighton; Ross, of Bethesda; Bennett, of Springville; O Bennett, of Minden; McMillan, of Havelock; McWilliam, Cleland, Jones and Cosgrave, of Port Hope. A call from the First church, Port Hope, was placed in the hands of Rev. B. C. Jones and accepted by him. The Induction was appointed to take place on July 22nd, at 2 30 p. m., in the First church. Rev. Jas. Cleland was appointed to preside, Rev. A. Gilchrist to charge the people, Rev. John Hay to charge the pastor, and Rev. P. Duncan, of Colborne, to explain the Presbyterian Law of Ordination. Rev. Dr. King, President of Manitoba College, was present in the morning and addressed the Presbytery upon the work of his college.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Second Annual Report of Inspector Tilley—For the Perusal of all Parents and Teachers.

The following is the annual report of Dr. Tilley, Inspector of Public schools for Peterborough, which was presented at the meeting of the Board of Education on Tuesday evening last:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education, Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith submit for your consideration my second annual report on the condition of your Public schools for the year ending the 30th day of June, 1890.

ACCOMMODATION.

Your Public school accommodation has been much improved during the past year. The South Ward building has been remodelled and enlarged and a new building has been erected in the North Ward. Both these schools are heated and ventilated by the Smead-Dowd system and are furnished, almost throughout, with the latest style of single desks. Some rooms in the West Ward and the Central schools have been re-seated and the Principal's room has been re-modelled. The old Board room has been nicely fitted up and re-furnished, and is now used for the kindergarten classes.

The school grounds, in the different wards, have been levelled and rendered more attractive, and in various ways the school premises and surroundings have been made more suitable for effective work on the part of both the teachers and the pupils. The ventilation in the West Ward and the Central is much inferior to what it is in the North Ward and the South Ward schools. In the Central especially there are rooms which still cry aloud for purer air, more light and better desks for the little folks. With these few exceptions, however, your public school accommodation ranks in my opinion among the best in the Province.

CLASSIFICATION.

The changes made in the classification at the Central after my report a year ago, tending to lessen the number of rooms to be gone through in the public school course, and to bring the grading of the Central and the ward schools more into harmony with one another, have worked satisfactorily and will, no doubt, be productive of even better results when the teachers become more accustomed to the management of two classes, and can with ease keep the one actively and profitably employed at desk work, while the other is receiving instruction. There is, perhaps, no greater weakness in our schools to-day than the tendency to tax to the utmost the patience and ability of the pupils to give close attention to the words of the teacher, rather than to take advantage of the endless variety that may be had by allowing the pupils to think and to do for themselves, their thinking and their doing being, of course, interspersed with encouraging hints and wisely-considered helps from the teacher.

ORDER AND DISCIPLINE.

The order generally is very good. As a rule the pupils are prompt in standing to answer questions, in passing from their seats to their classes, in entering their rooms or in passing from them, and in many ways show that they have been carefully trained to habits of obedience and politeness. A lack of this definite training was, however, quite noticeable in two or three rooms, especially in the early part of the past term.

The noise and confusion in the halls at the Central is still a source of annoyance to the adjoining rooms. Perhaps a system of monitors might be used that would lessen the trouble, but I fear it cannot be wholly removed so long as the two institutions are in the one building. If Major Rundle could take charge of the pupils who go out for drill from the time they leave their rooms until they return to them again it would be a decided improvement. I am of the opinion also that the Public school pupils would be greatly benefited in both discipline and school work if some arrangements could be made to give them a little drill occasionally. It might be also well to give some attention to fire drill, at the Central school at least.

SCHOOL WORK.

The work in your Public schools has shown marked improvement in nearly every department during the year, and especially is this the case in such subjects as reading, writing, drawing and junior arithmetic. As might be expected, the improvement is most noticeable in the junior departments of the schools, but fair progress has been made in most, if not all, the departments. At the examinations held on the 26th and 27th of June, the Senior III. and the Junior IV. Classes did not do as well as they should have done. La grippe, changes in the staff at Christmas, an attempt to cover too much ground without being sure of the foundation laid, a disposition to put off close, searching work and careful review until towards the close of the term, may each or all have played a part in bringing about the somewhat unfavorable results. Certain it is, that teachers must share with their pupils the responsibility of their failures as well as the credit of their success, since sympathetic, painstaking, efficient instruction on the part of the teacher seldom fails to leave its impress on the pupils in such a way as to be responsive to just and proper tests, even though these tests be searching. I believe your teachers recognize this, and while they may not be prepared to work harder the coming year than they have done the past one, they are, I feel assured, prepared to put forth an honest effort to work, if possible, more skilfully.

During the past year the teachers have several times assembled at the Central building to talk over school work, and those in the different schools have had meetings among themselves with a view to assisting one another in their work. Last December the whole staff paid a visit to the public schools at Port Hope that they might have the benefit of the comparison of the work done in their own schools with the work done there. These meetings and the visit have had a beneficial effect on your schools, and it is intended with your permission to continue similar efforts to foster a spirit of professional zeal in the future. The members of your staff, without an exception, so far as I know, are in active sympathy with every effort to increase their own efficiency or to promote the welfare of your schools. With your school buildings completed, your principal restored to health and at his post, and your staff somewhat settled, we may reasonably hope for more effective work and more gratifying results in the future than we have witnessed in the past, and from my knowledge of your schools and your staff I feel sure that this hope will be realized.

The remainder of the report consisted of "remarks on individual rooms," and the report said were "intended strictly for the benefit of the Board and the teachers interested." They are, therefore, not published except those referring to the Kindergarten department which we take the liberty of publishing as follows:—

KINDERGARTEN.—Central—Miss M. Rose Warner, teacher.—Room neat and comfortable and suitably furnished. Teaching cheerful, pleasant and effective. School life in this room has all the charms of a busy, active world. The songs tend to make the little ones, in an easy, natural way, good and obedient, the occupations to make them wise and skilful, and the free, pleasant intercourse between the pupils and the teacher to make them considerate and polite. The best influences of the home, the school, and society are brought to bear on the little ones who are in attendance at the kindergarten.

THE CRICKET MATCH.

The First Innings of the Match Results in a Score of 103 for Winnipeg and 48 for Peterborough.

The weather yesterday was most favorable for the cricket match which was commenced on the P.A.A.A. grounds between the Winnipeg team and a local cricket eleven. The first innings which was played yesterday afternoon resulted in leaving the visitors 55 runs ahead of the Peterborough men. It was the latter's off day, for although they played very good cricket the fates seemed to be against them. The Northwest men played steady throughout and succeeded in running up 103 runs before their last wicket went down.

The Winnipeggers went to bat first and ran up their 103 runs in good form. Rokeby, Prest and Bannatyne each got double figures, making 16, 25 and 25 respectively. The bowling for Peterborough was done by Rogers, Attewell, W. Hamilton and Cameron and was good.

The Peterborough eleven went to bat and were retired with a score of 48 runs, of which Sam Ray made 23. This was the only score that went into the double figures and was made in fine form, Ray going to bat first and carrying his bat through. Goldsmith came next in the scoring for the home men with 8 runs to his credit, while Cameron and Parker were next on the list with four each. Cameron, Bannantyne and Truckwell did the trundling for the visitors and their bowling was effective. The Peterborough team was composed of the following:—S. Ray, J. H. Burnham, W. F. Hamilton, Attewell, Cameron, Rogers, Rutherford, M. Hamilton, Goldsmith, Parker and Dr. Brennan. Stratton was unable to play, being away from town.

The match is being finished this afternoon, play commencing at noon. Peterborough has its work cut out for them, having to pull up the 46 runs to win.

The result of yesterday's innings was as follows:—

MANITOBA.
Rokeby c Hamilton b Rogers	16
Campbell b Attewell	0
Prest b Attewell	25
Truckwell c Burnham b Cameron	8
Cameron b Attewell	0

In the second innings Manitoba had 25 runs for two wickets.

The complete score will be published to-morrow when the match will be concluded.

NORWOOD NEWS.

Educational Examinations—A Festival and a Presentation—Other News.

Correspondence of the Review.

LAST SAD RITES.—The funeral of the late Geo. Howson, who was killed by lightning, which took place to-day, was largely attended and much sympathy is felt in the neighborhood for the bereaved family.

ENTRANCE EXAMS.—There were fifty-five candidates writing here for admission into the High school—23 boys and 32 girls.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMS.—The matriculation and departmental examinations are now going on. The presiding examiner is Jas. Coyle Brown, P.S. Inspector, and the assistant examiners are Mr. Fife and Rev. Jas. Carmichael.

FESTIVAL AND PRESENTATION.—The usual strawberry festival in connection with the Presbyterian church was held on the evening of the 4th, but the attendance was not as large as usual owing partly to the unfavorable weather. A pleasing feature of the entertainment was the presentation to Mrs. A. Richardson (who was Miss Kemp a few days ago) of a beautiful dinner set with a complimentary address. The recipient was an active member of the church choir and on her return from her wedding trip she was agreeably surprised with such an expression of esteem on the part of the congregation.

THE SUMMER RESORT.—The usual preparations for the Stony Lake outing are in progress and several of our citizens are erecting buildings on their islands. The Rev. Jas. Carmichael has just completed a comfortable little building for himself and family.

Brevities.

—Two drunks who were run in by the police last night were allowed to go by the Magistrate this morning.

—Three Sunday schools are picnicking to-day. The George-st. church school went to Hastings, the St. John's church to Chemong, and the Baptist church to Hale's Bridge.

—The funeral of the late John Hagerty who met with the fatal accident at the G.T.R. station on Tuesday morning last, took place to the R.C. cemetery this morning and was largely attended.

Pulling Teeth by Music.

"I saw an itinerant dentist pulling teeth by the music of a brass band at Hillsboro, Mo., a few days since," said J. C. Furman to a St. Louis Chronicle man.

"The toothpuller had a chair upon a high platform in the street, and extracted teeth for all who applied without charge. He was surrounded by a large crowd, and, as the band discoursed low, sweet music, he pleaded for some one to come forward and have a tooth pulled. "It won't hurt you. Don't be afraid!"

"Presently a big, rawboned countryman accepted, took a seat in the chair, opened his mouth, and pointed out a snag. As the dentist seized the forceps the band began to play louder, and at the critical moment drowned the yell of the patient by a furious clash of cymbals and drum, and the toothpuller triumphantly held the tooth up in the bloody forceps for the crowd to inspect. The music died away, and the artist, giving the instrument a quick flip, threw the tooth against the side of the house near by. The patient holding his jaw, vacated the chair, which was immediately filled by another. Then the music quickened. Another crash, another yell of triumph, and the first tooth by the house had company.

"I watched the performance an hour, and I believe that in that time he pulled forty teeth. Before I left the fellow had pulled off his coat, and he was bloody almost to the elbow. None of the victims would admit that the operation hurt."

A newly invented German explosive named "petraget" is said to be made from molasses and to be three times as powerful as nitro glycerine.

YOUNG'S POINT.

Severe Storms—The Excursion Season Open—Damage by Lightning—An Exciting Time.

Correspondence of the Review.

THUNDER STORM.—A severe thunder storm passed over here on Tuesday last with torential rains, and in Wednesday's storm the roof of an old dwelling at the foot of Clear Lake belonging to James Edwards was blown away several hundred yards into the lake. Luckily no one was hurt, as several lumbermen were in the vicinity sorting logs. A water spout was also seen near the foot of Clear Lake which rose some hundred feet into the air.

NEW POTATOES.—Your correspondent got a fine mess of new potatoes given him from Mr. Thomas Hetherington, near here. He always has a fine early garden.

THE STEAMERS.—On Monday morning last no less than three steamers with passengers passed through here for Stony Lake, the Mary Ellen, the Cruiser and the Undine. Capt. Eden, of Lakefield, has chartered this fine little steamer from Mr. S. Parser, of Buckhorn, and intends to run her from Lakefield to Young's Point, Burleigh, Buckhorn and Bridgenorth three times every week during the tourist season. We wish Capt. Eden success and have no doubt a good many will take this delightful round trip.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—During the severe thunder storm on Monday afternoon last, the Burleigh Falls hotel was struck by lightning. One of the verandah posts was torn to shreds and scattered around, also the east gable of the building and the clapboards were all torn off several feet. The shingles also were torn off and worst of all Mrs. Holmes' niece, a Mrs. Smief, was knocked down when in the kitchen with the shock and fell on her head. She has received a great shock to her nervous system which will take some time to fully recover. The lady guests were very much frightened. About 12 or 14 guests were enjoying their smoke on the verandah including Jolly Jack, who all felt the shock and hope some time will elapse before being so close to another flash of lightning. Mrs. Holmes had left the hotel for Young's Point with her team of spirited black horses when a flash of lightning frightened them and they were pretty near running away. She drove them into Mr. W. Raid's farmyard. Had she not been the splendid driver she is there would have been some damage done, but all went well after the storm abated. Messrs. McGregor and A. Wilson of this place went up on Tuesday morning to repair the damage done to the hotel.

A Physician on Hypnotism.

The first thing that strikes me in connection with hypnotism is the confidence with which it is asserted that it has been proved beyond dispute to be so successful that it cannot drop. But I am old enough to remember that this was said in the time of mesmerism. Practically, mesmerism fell into desuetude 15 years ago. Except in distant corners such a thing is scarcely heard of. Now from some researches which have been conducted at Nancy and stimulated by the opposition of the Salpetriere school, we have the subject once more brought before us, and we are told of the advent of a great important practical truth. Once more we are told that hypnotism has established itself for all good. I have no hesitation in prophesying that before 25 years have passed it will be in the same position that it was 25 years ago. There is a measure of physiological truth in the assumed influence of hypnotism, and the explanation must be sought in the relation of what we call will to the body. In these experiments, too, we have attention and expectancy, which, being combined with will in a remarkable degree of concentration, are capable, as is well known, of bringing about very remarkable results. There are many homely illustrations of this fact. You have got a racking headache; suddenly some person is unexpectedly announced, and your headache is gone. Or you may have a patient suffering from costiveness, and racked with aperients, until the mucus membrane has got into a state of chronic irritation. By giving a bread pill aided by suggestion, you can so influence the mind that the bread pill will be certain to succeed in eight cases out of ten. In these facts we have the groundwork for a great many of the phenomena of hypnotism.—Sir Andrew Clark in the Lancet.

Scientific News.

From Norway comes the report that Dr. Nansen, the Greenland explorer, will next year set out on a new Polar expedition. A special steamer, which can be hauled on to the surface of the ice, is being constructed for the use of the explorer, who had determined to pursue the same course which was taken by the ill fated Jeannette—namely through the Behring straits to the islands of New Siberia.

After Nov. 1, 1892, the bill passed by the New York legislature requiring the equipment of engines and freight cars with automatic couplers will be in force, with a $500 penalty for each instance of non-compliance with the law.

M. Fouquet, a mineralogist, claims to have discovered in a mixture of silicate of copper and lime a perfectly unchangable color identical with the beautiful Alexandrian blue, the composition of which has long puzzled artists.

Scientific writers have recently noted a curious phenomenon, by virtue of which electric cars can ascend unusually heavy grades. When the current passes from the car wheel to the track it causes an increased friction or resistance to sliding between them, the result of which is that slipping is to a large degree prevented.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

CONSUMPTION SURELY CURED

TO THE EDITOR:

Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and Post Office Address. Respectfully,

T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 186 West Adelaide St., TORONTO, ONTARIO.

'Tis An Old Saying

that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak today. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. We are going to quote prices that are lower than asked by any other dealer. If you are wanting or will want in this line this year, you cannot afford to ignore this opportunity.

"FAWCETT OF NEWNHAM"

A GLIMPSE OF THE MOST FAMOUS WOMAN IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The Highest Mathematical Honors at Cambridge Carried Away by a Girl of Twenty-Four—She Got 400 Marks More than the Highest Man.

The greatest event in the history of woman's education is the recent triumph of Miss Phillippe Garrett Fawcett in the mathematical tripos of Cambridge. Probably no one ever entered a contest with more complete control of all her faculties and less nervous apprehension than did this woman, whose rivals were of the best mettle, whose most formidable opponent was so distinguished a mathematician that a former senior wrangler on learning the result was heard to declare: "If she is senior to Bennet she would have been senior in any year." In the achievement of so important a success Miss Fawcett possessed the advantages of inherited intellectual power from both parents, a habit of close attention to study, an education of the most thorough and advanced type, and, above all, a wonderful deliberation and determination of character and unfailing good judgment and common sense in her habits of study and living. She was not one of the foolish virgins who indulge in the traditional wet towel and teapot treatment, or burn the midnight and morning oil in their feverish anxiety until brain and nerves are exhausted. Despite her keen desire to succeed she never violated her rigid habit of retiring at 11 and rising at 8 o'clock. About six hours a day was her usual allowance for study, but during these six hours her work was conscientious and rigorous, as may be inferred. She went freely into general and college society, enjoyed plenty of exercise of her favorite games of lawn tennis and hocky, handled the foils with skill and ease born of experience and admiration for the encounter, occasionally took a hand in the debates of Newnham Political Society and altogether disported herself in a healthy, happy way, quite the reverse of the typical prize winning grind. When some one asked her at the approach of the contest "Don't you wish it were all over?" she answered simply "No, I don't want to have three weeks taken out of my life." When the ordeal presented itself she faced it with the resolution that she would do her best, and not worry, as anxiety only lessened her chances of success. She slept every night as soundly as ever, wrote her papers coolly and carefully without erasure, and at the end was convinced that she had done badly because she was not wearied.

On the morning of the day the lists were read she confesses to an early awaking, but when Mr. Ball took off his college cap and read, amid the cheers of the assembled students, "Fawcett Newnham, above the Senior Wrangler," she stood in the little balcony beside her principal the most serene individual in the house, and when it was all over and she returned to Newnham, escorted by a procession of students beating bells and waving banners, she marched composedly up to the pegs on which the "In" and "Out" labels were hung and calmly put her own right before proceeding to her room.

The furniture in the pretty little chamber she occupies consists of polished old wood pieces and cosey chairs, the decorations a low relief of Donatello's in white plaster, a few panels, and a water color bit of Sussex near her mother's house, all hung on severe plaster walls. Among the books on science, poetry, and romance in her bookcase above the heavy volumes of mathematical lore are a few prettily bound by the fingers of their owner, who is an expert needlewoman, with a nice skill in embroidery as well. At tea time a kettle singing on the hob gives an air of hospitality and cosiness to the student's chamber.

In dress Miss Fawcett conforms to conventionalities, though selecting always the most unassuming of fashion's vagaries. When she was younger she wore her thick brown hair down on her shoulders and expressed her idea of dress in simple and careless unconventionality, slightly Bohemian in its style, but after entering Newnham she realized that originality in dress or deportment would be seized upon as indicative of eccentricity, due to the atmosphere of the woman's college, and promptly resigned her independence to the demands of the mautua maker, reserving only the right to array her slight, girlish figure in the simplest way conformable with good taste. In manner she is vivacious and merry, with a quick sense of humor and hearty appreciation of and relish for jokes.

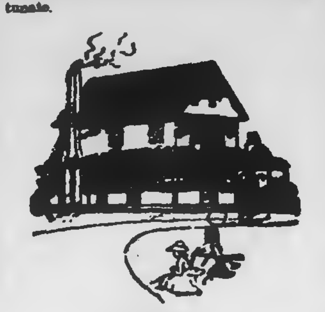
In her work her methods are marked by extreme clearness and decision. She always has a definite purpose in tackling a problem, and invariably accomplishes it. She usually deliberates until she discovers the quickest way to a result, and then more than regains in rapid solution the time lost in contemplation. Her health has constantly improved under the college training and she is quite as well now as ever in her life, despite the excitement and nervous strain she has undergone. And there was excitement, for as Newnham had shown itself equal to producing a senior wrangler, it showed itself equally capable of celebrating the victory with royal rejoicings. Miss Fawcett was chaired twice all about the court, inundated with congratulations and floral tributes, and in the evening her initials flashed in fairy lamps over the doorway, and a huge bonfire blazed upon the lawn, around which the Newnham girls danced in a veritable witches' ring in their dainty evening dresses, shouting "For she's a jolly good fellow" until they were hoarse, and until the Selwyn College men across the lane caught the inspiration and broke through the hedges to join in the [illegible]. For the first time in centuries the bells of St. Mary's did not ring any peal, doubtless through the graceful courtesy of Mr. Bennet in refusing to claim his technical honor as senior wrangler.

Miss Fawcett will gain no fellowship, reap no pecuniary reward, and receive no degree from her wonderful triumph. In the records of the university will be written simply the words which awakened in the Senate Chamber the havoc and cheers of the assembled students and masters: "Fawcett, Newnham, above the Senior Wrangler."—N. Y. Sun.

Fresh Air Fund Cottage.

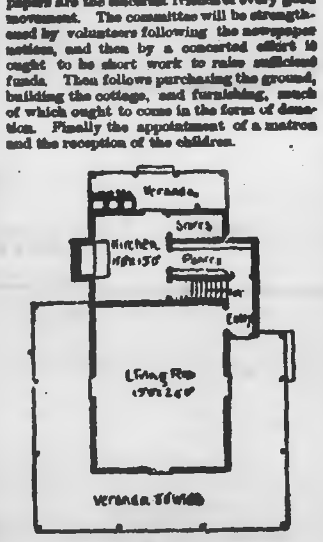
The frightful mortality among children is not inevitable by reason of tender years but is mainly caused by neglect. The heated term is the period of greatest mortality for those who dwell in cities and large towns. When the brick walls and stone pavements become heated like an oven and remain heated during the nights, the poor children literally gasp their lives away.

At this time thousands of these young lives may be saved by giving them an "outing" in the country. A month, or a fortnight, or even a week of fresh air and wholesome food will fortify them to endure the miseries of their lot. Do not call it charity or alms—these are unmeaning words to describe a duty that the well-to-do owe to the unfortunate.



PERSPECTIVE.

A practical way to commence is for two or three ladies to lay the matter before some lawyer friend and have him prepare a clear statement of purposes and preliminary papers of organization, including a subscription list. Then fully acquaint the press with the movement. With all their alleged faults, which carping critics magnify, the newspapers are the sincerest friends of every good movement. The committee will be strengthened by volunteers following the newspaper notices, and then by a concerted effort it ought to be short work to raise sufficient funds. Then follows purchasing the ground, building the cottage, and furnishing, much of which ought to come in the form of donation. Finally the appointment of a matron and the reception of the children.



FIRST FLOOR.

During the Summer, as detachment after detachment of rosy cheeks vacate the Fresh Air Fund Cottage to make room for pale and emaciated brothers and sisters, the patrons of this modest institution will experience an exquisite pleasure that will be apt to find expression in tears, if they be women, or in violent blowings of the nose, if they be men.

Following will be found a detailed description of a cottage that will answer the requirements referred to:

General Dimensions: Width, including verandas, 36 feet; depth, including verandas, 52 feet. Heights of stories: First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet 6 inches.

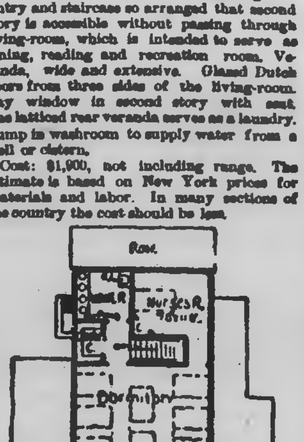
Exterior Materials: Foundation, brick piers; first story, clapboards; second story, gables and roofs, shingles. Outside blinds to all outer doors and windows.

Interior Finish: Two coats plaster. Soft wood flooring, trim and stairs. All interior wood work finished with hard oil.

Colors: All clapboards medium green. Trim, veranda posts, all cornices and mouldings, frames of all lattice-work and outside blinds dark green; veranda floor and all lattice-work and brick-work dark red; veranda ceiling, oiled natural color; wall shingles of second story dipped and brush coated red stain.

Accommodations: The principal rooms and their sizes, &c., are shown by the floor plans. No cellar. Attic is floored for storage purposes, and is reached by a scuttle over second-story hall. Dormitory has space for twelve or thirteen cots. Nurses' room connects directly with the dormitory. Clothes-closet and washroom conveniently accessible from dormitory. Kitchen isolated from main part. Range is deeply recessed, with a window at either side to carry off heat and odors. Pantries are all well lighted. Entry and staircase so arranged that second story is accessible without passing through living-room, which is intended to serve as dining, reading and recreation room. Veranda, wide and extensive. Glazed Dutch doors from three sides of the living-room. Bay window in second story with seat. The latticed rear veranda serves as a laundry. Pump in washroom to supply water from a well or cistern.

Cost: $1,900, not including range. The estimate is based on New York prices for materials and labor. In many sections of the country the cost should be less.



SECOND FLOOR.

Feasible Modifications: Heights of stories, sizes of rooms, materials and colors may be changed. Part or all of outside blinds may be omitted. Size of veranda may be reduced or extended. Washroom and clothes-closet may be planned for first floor, thus giving space for three additional cots in the dormitory. That portion of rear veranda used for laundry purposes may also be inclosed. Part or all of plumbing may be omitted, or placed in a separate building connected by a suitable covered passage. All plastering may be omitted by planing all timbers and papering between, thus saving about $150.—R. W. Shoppell.

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H., July 9.—The mercury has gone down to [illegible] to-night.

Fighting the Beer Syndicate.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The English syndicate that purchased 17 St. Louis breweries is somewhat disappointed. The sellers were bound by contract not to go into the brewery business for 10 years. Every president was made a manager at salaries of not less than $5000 a year. Orders have since been served by the local representatives of the executive committee cutting these salaries down to $3000 and dismissing several managers. The retrenchment saves nearly $100,000 a year in salaries and cuts off 12 high-priced employes. The three non-syndicate breweries are taxed to their capacity and the sellers are exasperated. At a secret meeting held a few days ago it was decided to start three new breweries to fight the syndicate.

Fire at Sandy Beach.

SUTTON, July 8.—The residence of William Moore at Sandy Beach, near Jackson's Point, was completely destroyed by fire about noon to-day, supposed to have caught from the chimney. No insurance. Mr. Moore had only yesterday finished extensive enlargements and improvements to accommodate the large number of visitors from Toronto and elsewhere who have made his house their home for years during the summer

WAR WITH COLORS.

GEORGIA AND WEST VIRGINIA THE BATTLE GROUND.

Sixteen Killed and Wounded and Still More Expected—General War Between the Blacks and Whites—Trouble Looming up in West Virginia.

ATLANTA, July 11.—A terrible race riot, in which the list of killed and wounded is placed at 16, is raging in Fayette County. The scene of the tragedy is Staus Mills, and the occasion was the drawing off of a fish pond. A large crowd had assembled to catch fish, and a row occurred between a negro and a white man. Others were soon interested and engaged in the difficulty, and a general war ensued. The result was that four negroes were killed, eight wounded, two white men seriously wounded and three or four grazed.

The row is still going on at last reports, and probably will continue to-night, as the white men, who were comparatively unarmed, telegraphed to Griffin for guns and ammunition. About 100 shots were exchanged. One wounded white man is W. B. Harril and the other McElwaney. When the rioters had exhausted their ammunition they looted the stores of a neighboring merchant and took all his powder, as well as every knife and pistol in the place. The crowds on both sides are being augmented by friends, and bloodier times are expected to-night than even those of to-day.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 11.—There are grave fears that a serious race war will break out in the Pocahontas and Bramwell mining region, arising out of a riot occurring on a train on the Norfolk & Western Railroad on July 6th. Nearly 300 colored miners from Pocahontas had been on an excursion on the Blue Stone branch of the railroad, and when returning many were under the influence of liquor. While in the cars some of the negroes got into a row with an unknown white man and were proceeding to cut his throat when Detective W. G. Baldwin and three assistants who were on the train interfered. The detectives were attacked and a riot ensued. The seats were broken to pieces and used as clubs. Baldwin was terribly beaten about the head and is in a precarious condition. Detective Campbell was badly wounded in the side. Detective Robertson had his right arm broken. R. M. Baldwin, the fourth detective, escaped. Nine negroes were knocked down and one was shot in the shoulder and in the left arm. The train was stopped at Bramwell, where the citizens came to the aid of the detectives and probably saved their lives. Six of the negroes are in jail.

WHEN THIEVES FALL OUT.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Ex-Ald. Michael Duffy has brought suit against John Keenan, who has just returned from Canada, to recover $40,000, the balance of $50,000 which he claims was promised for his vote in favor of granting a charter to the Broadway railway. Duffy has confessed that he was in the "combine" of aldermen bribed to vote for the Broadway railroad franchise, and has testified against several of his co-councilmen.

Henry Sharon Sues for Libel.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Joseph B. Stein, otherwise known as Henry Sharon of Ingersoll, Ont., sued The Chicago Times Company, Herman J. Huiskamp and Joseph R. Dunlop in the Superior Court yesterday for $50,000 libel. The action is based on a two-column article in The Times of Tuesday, which makes several charges of an uncomplimentary nature. Among them are statements that Sharon is the meanest rascal out of jail; that he is refused admittance to several hotels; that he has made his living by taking money from unfortunate women and spent it with other women; that he is a general all-round crook, and that he was convicted of bigamy Feb. 9, 1880, before Judge Collins.

Jewelry Robbers Arrested.

BREWSTER'S, N. Y., July 11. The two robbers of C. M. La Rue's jewelry store at Danbury, Conn., last night were caught in the woods near here this afternoon. They were committed to Carmel Jail to await requisition papers. They gave their names as George W. Wallace, aged 24, shoemaker, of Albany, and George Wallock, aged 21, hatter, of Bridgeport, Conn. The money and jewelry has nearly all been recovered.

NEWPORT, R.I., July 11.—Newport was startled this afternoon when it became noised about that Mrs. Paran Stevens had again been robbed, this time to the extent of $10,000 worth of diamonds and emeralds. The local police are very reticent and mysterious, but it is generally believed that they are working in the dark, practically without any clues whatever.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

STANLEY, THE EXPLORER, A VERY SICK MAN.

Closing Scenes in the Commons—England and the McKinley Bill—Interesting Decision as to a Landlord's Responsibility—The Police Beaten.

LONDON, July 11.—Mr. Stanley is somewhat better this evening and if he has no relapse the wedding will take place in the Abbey to-morrow according to program. Among the numerous wedding gifts presented to Mr. Stanley is one from the Queen of a miniature of herself set with diamonds. Accompanying the gift is a letter from Her Majesty, praising in the highest terms the work of exploration carried on by Mr. Stanley and wishing him much happiness in his wedded life. The illness of Mr. Stanley causes general regret. His doctors are overwhelmed with anxious enquiries as to his condition and messages of sympathy are constantly arriving. Surgeon Parke states that the same trouble attacked Mr. Stanley in Africa. It is of an obstinate character and yields very slowly to treatment. The explorer is suffering intense pain, and is seeking relief in enforced sleep. In reply to questions as to the probability of Mr. Stanley's recovery to an extent that will enable his marriage to take place to-morrow Dr. Parke will only say that he hopes for the best. The general impression now is that the ceremony will have to be postponed.

Stanley is the recipient of costly and curious presents. Among the latest are the gifts of the men of the advance guard of the Emin Relief Expedition. A firm of watch makers presented a patent gold geographical watch, the first of the kind ever manufactured. It tells the exact time in almost every important city in the world. The Prince of Wales sent a large family Bible and Gourand sends him a photograph. There are only four of these instruments in England. Three of them will be placed in Westminster Abbey during the marriage ceremony. The bridal cake is mounted on a circle of fluted silver pillars. A white silk shield with the initials "D. T. H. M. S." hand painted, will be pinned in front.

CLOSING SCENES IN THE COMMONS

Mr. Parnell and Mr. Balfour—He Will Get His Wages.

LONDON, July 11.—Mr. Parnell, in the House of Commons this evening, made the closing speech in the debate on the vote for Mr. Balfour's salary as Chief Secretary for Ireland. He made suggestions which he said would aid Balfour in settling the land problem in Ireland. He thought Mr. Balfour relied too implicitly upon the advice of effete and rotten castle officials. He said he spoke in the interests of peace and justice.

Mr. Balfour thanked Parnell for the moderation of his speech and promised to consider the matter.

The Parnellites engaged in animated conversation upon the moderation of Parnell and Balfour and allowed the vote for the Chief Secretary's office to be passed without challenging a division.

Mr. C. Graham, member for the Northwestern District of Lancashire, asked the Government what truth there was in the report that insubordination prevailed in the Grenadier Guards. Right Hon. Edwin Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, in reply to Mr. Graham, stated that the reports were much exaggerated. There was some dissatisfaction, he said, on the battalion being ordered to parade on Monday. For a short time the men failed to appear, but eventually the whole battalion paraded for duty and marched in perfect order to perform the duties assigned to them.

Trouble is expected with the Grenadier Guards, owing to the disaffection and restlessness that pervade the barracks. The officers are doing all in their power to keep the men quiet, but the uneasiness is plainly to be seen. When the Yorkshire Regiment of foot was marched into the barracks it excited the surprise and indignation of the Grenadier and Coldstream Guards, who think that the Yorkshires have been sent to shoot them down in case of mutiny. Several free fights have already taken place between men of the Grenadiers and those of the line regiments.

The War Office virtually admits that the men have right on their side by releasing the mutineers from their confinement to barracks. There is no disloyalty towards the Crown, no dislike to the service, no disinclination to their duty, but a strong personal feeling among the men that they are crushed, overdrilled and reduced to a state of military slavery.

Mr. Vincent asked inwhether in view of the free market accorded to American imports in Great Britain while the heavy duties imposed on British goods in the United States have nearly extinguished the national debt of that country, the British Government would invite the United States Government to refrain from passing the prohibitory tariff bill now before Congress and instead adopt a measure giving fair commercial reciprocity.

Sir James Fergusson replied that no such representations were likely to be successful.

Mr. Vincent: "Then does the Government know what action Germany proposes to take in response to the appeals of German trades regarding the effect of the new American tariff? Could not advantage be taken of the present friendly relations to develop free trade between England and Germany as well as between Great Britain and the colonies as a set off against the hostile tariff in America?"

Sir James Fergusson replied that he had reason to believe the German Government did not intend to take action at present. He said it would be inconsistent with the fiscal policy of England to take the joint measures which Mr. Vincent suggested.

TOURISTS, TAKE NOTICE.

Interesting Decision as to a Landlord's Responsibility.

LONDON, July 11.—In the Court of Queen's Bench a verdict has been returned awarding Mr. Henry Astor Carey of New York £586 damages against the proprietors of Long's Hotel for the loss of bank notes and a quantity of jewelry which were stolen from him while he was stopping at the hotel during his honeymoon.

The defence pleaded that the plaintiffs had not exercised ordinary care, as the property was taken from a drawer of a wardrobe which was left unlocked. Plaintiffs answered that there was no key. Defendants denied this and asserted that the door of plaintiff's room was not locked either. Plaintiffs replied that the door was left open so that the servants might attend to the fire. Defendants said that plaintiffs ought to have given the valuables into the care of the manager and that they had allowed other people to know that they had a quantity of jewelry and money with them.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs, assessing the loss at £586, the original sum claimed, and judgment was given accordingly.

The Police Are Beaten.

LONDON, July 11.—Sir Edward [illegible], Chief Commissioner of Police, is displaying an amazing degree of energy in the administration of his department. To-day he personally made the rounds of the various districts and sharply lectured the men at each station. In every case he gave them to understand that their success in obtaining the concession they have demanded depends wholly upon the excellence of their conduct, and he also plainly expressed his opinion that thus far in his official experience he had not been able to discover that they were deserving of the benefits they seek. In the course of his tour he dismissed fifteen men for insubordination and neglect of duty, and thoroughly re-organized the force at the Bow-street station. The old men are scattered all over the city, and the new force is made up of detachments from a dozen or more districts.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

DETROIT, July 11.—A boy named Johnson, about 9 years of age, who resided in Livernois-avenue, met his death in a shocking manner this afternoon. He had taken a horse out to feed on grass in the vacant plots of ground in the vicinity of Livernois-avenue and the Michigan Central Railroad crossing and had tied a strap to one of his own legs. The horse in some manner became frightened and the boy was dragged to his death, the horse galloping at the top of its speed, and followed by the rebounding burden, which soon became a shapeless mass of humanity, hauled headlong at the end of its tether, rushed down Livernois to Michigan-avenue, and down Michigan-avenue to some distance beyond the city limits. The spectacle is described as a frightful one, but those who saw it were powerless to aid the unfortunate child. It is said the boy was dragged over a mile before the strap broke and left the battered remains, with every bone in his body broken, lying on the ground.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The suit of the Wabash Railway Company against the Chicago and Western Indiana to maintain its hold on the tracks of the Western Indiana between Auburn Junction and Hammond was taken up by Judge Tuley yesterday and is being earnestly contested. On the outcome of the suit depends the Wabash road's power to keep up its Detroit branch from Chicago. When the Western Indiana road was built into the city in 1879 the Grand Trunk, Louisville and New Albany, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Atlantic and Wabash combined to secure an entrance to the city. The various roads were tapped at different points, the Chicago and Atlantic connecting at Hammond, Ind., and the Wabash at Auburn Junction, about eight miles south of the city. For a long time all went smoothly each road using the tracks from the original point of connection, and each paying a pro rata rental based on the mileage of its cars and locomotives.

In 1882 the five companies made a new agreement, each taking $1,000,000 worth of Western Indiana stock and assuming a joint control of that road. New leases were made out, and these were amended in 1886 and again in 1889. It is on the interpretation of the Wabash lease by the court the entire case depends. In 1880 the Wabash made an arrangement with the Chicago & Atlantic for the use of that company's lines from Hammond, Ind., to Laketon in the same State, where they cross the Wabash road's line from Detroit to St. Louis. This gave the Wabash a direct line from Hammond, Ind., to Detroit, but there were a dozen or so miles of Western Indiana track between Auburn Junction and Hammond which had to be used in order to bring the line to Chicago. The Wabash claimed the right, under its lease, to use all the lines of the Western Indiana on paying mileage, and proceeded to run its trains through from Chicago to Detroit.

The claim was, however, disputed, and the Western Indiana notified the Wabash that after Dec. 31, 1889, it would not be allowed to run trains between Auburn Junction and Hammond, its lease only providing for the use of the tracks between Auburn Junction and Chicago. The Wabash secured an injunction restraining the Western Indiana from interfering with its trains pending a hearing of the case. It was claimed that the refusal of the right to use the tracks was instigated by other roads and persons connected therewith who entered into a conspiracy to injure the Wabash road. The Wabash claims that the lease permits it to use all the lines of the Western Indiana, while the latter road asks the court to construe the agreement so as to cover only the line from Auburn Junction to Chicago.

Should the decision of the court be against the Wabash this company will be prevented from doing any east-bound business from Chicago, as it would deprive it of a direct outlet from this city, and it could not well take business by way of Bement, about 100 miles south of Chicago, where its Chicago line connects with its Detroit line. But by far the most important effect of such ruling would be to keep the Canadian Pacific out of the city for the present. The latter has a traffic contract with the Wabash whereby it uses this company's line from Detroit to Chicago and enjoys its Western Indiana terminals and depot facilities. Under an adverse ruling the Canadian Pacific would be stopped at Laketon, Ind., about 122 miles from this city, and it would be compelled to find some other entrance from that point, which it could hardly obtain except by building a new line from that point into Chicago.

Where Faith Did Not Prevail.

OMAHA, July 11.—A verdict of criminal negligence was to-day rendered against Mrs. Jennie Fenn, a faith-cure practitioner. She was called in to treat Mrs. W. W. Lemon during confinement. Mrs. Lemon died three hours after the child was born. An inquest was held, at which witnesses testified that her death was due to the failure of Mrs. Fenn to treat her properly after the child was born. Mrs. Fenn testified that death was due to the lack of faith on Mrs. Lemon's part, and not to her physical condition. A warrant has been issued for Mrs. Fenn's arrest.

A Fatal Fall.

NEWMARKET, July 11.—An old lady named Mrs. Bonge, who resided with her sister, Mrs. Eli James, fell down stairs about 11 o'clock last night and died in half an hour. Death was caused by the nervous shock and fracture of the skull.

A Blaze in Michigan.

ITHACA, Mich., July 11.—Fire broke out in the Desermia block in Main-street shortly after dark last evening. It spread rapidly in all directions, burning up wooden buildings like tinder, and was from the start beyond control. The Desermia block, in which it originated, was an old rookery and offered excellent material for the fire to feed upon. Before the fire burned itself out 29 buildings had been consumed and most of their contents a total loss. Cause of fire unknown. Loss, nearly $90,000; insurance about one-quarter that amount.

SWALLOWED BY THE SEA.

DARTMOUTH, N. S., A SCENE OF MOURNING.

One Hundred and Fifty People Thrown Into the Water—The Collapse of a Ferry Landing Stage—Five Bodies so Far Recovered.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 11.—A terrible disaster occurred in Dartmouth to-night. A ferry landing stage crowded with 150 people collapsed, precipitating the throng into the water. There is an immense loss of life. Five bodies, including a woman named Silver and her child, a woman named Synott and two soldiers, have been already taken out.

The Second Despatch.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 11.—A terrible accident occurred in Dartmouth to-night by which a number of people were drowned, but the exact number of victims will not be known till to-morrow. The disaster happened by a chain attached to a ferry float slipping out of place, allowing the front of the bridge to sink and precipitating a crowd of six or seven hundred men, women and children into the water. The people were crowded there waiting for the new ferry steamer Annex just arrived from New York to dock. When the steamer got within two feet of the landing a number jumped on board and at that moment the accident occurred. The outer end of the bridge went down suddenly and the horror-stricken crowd slipped off into the harbor as though they were descending a slide, piling on top of each other, shrieking for help and scrambling for means of safety. For some minutes there was a confused crowd of men, women and children struggling in the water, but the accident had hardly happened before a dozen brave youths and men leaped to the rescue without waiting to throw aside their clothes. The drowning people were rapidly passed up to men standing above on the wharves, and the rapidity with which the rescuers performed their work resulted in the great majority of those who fell in being saved from death. There were many able swimmers in the party, and these worked till exhausted, helping people to land until there were no faces in sight on the surface, and those who could not be saved had sunk out of sight. When the crowd slipped off the landing stage the people around, numbering some hundreds, crowded to the sides of the wharf and threw sticks and boards to the struggling mass while a number of life preservers were thrown to them from the steamer. Many people were struck and injured by the flying boards and all the bodies recovered bear cuts and bruises.

Several men and their wives were thrown in and the former struggled heroically to save their loved ones succeeding in every instance so far as known.

The names of those whose bodies have been recovered are:

MISS BESSIE FOSTER, daughter of Edward Foster.

PETER BOYLE, a Crimean veteran.

MISS ALLIE SYNOTT, daughter of Michael Synott.

JOHN BUNDY, a colored boy.

THAT FLAG INCIDENT.

Washington Officials Think the Mount Hope Affair Is Not Casus Belli.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The State Department officials don't look upon the recent flag incident at Mount Hope, Canada, as calling for diplomatic intervention. Undertaker Joel Smith, a patriotic citizen of the United States, hoisted the Stars and Stripes over his residence on the Fourth. The Queen's loyal Canadian subjects had the bad taste and ill temper to riddle it with bullets. But Undertaker Smith wasn't a consular official of the United States and, however praiseworthy his motive, in an international sense he has no right to hoist his country's flag. No one has the right to hoist the flag of a foreign nation in any country. The floating of the United States flag over a Consulate of this country in a foreign land is a privilege which has to be guaranteed by treaty, and in nearly every case the hours during which the emblem can be flown are specifically stated. In Mexico the law is so strict that the flag of no other country can be raised within the borders of that Republic. It is out of respect to this law that the United States Minister and Consuls never fly the Stars and Stripes.

An interesting incident occurred some years ago in Mexico which is worth relating. An American citizen having contracted a debt mortgaged his piano. Failing to pay the mortgagee proceeded to seize the piano whereupon the American covered the instrument with a flag of the United States. The Mexican roughly threw the flag aside and accidentally stepped upon it. The case was reported to the State Department as an outrage and an insult, but nothing was ever done about it, "because," as Assistant Secretary Adee says, "a flag when used as a piano cover is not an emblem of authority."

THE SAN SALVADOR REVOLT.

Gen. Easta Holding Possession of the Capital by an Armed Force.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 11.—Advices from San Salvador to-day state that the little Republic is in a state of anarchy, notwithstanding the misleading protestations of Gen. Carlos Easta, who proclaimed that he had assumed supreme control of the Government at the instance and by the will of the people. He is in possession of the Capital and is holding it by armed force. San Salvador is overrun with armed men, who are taking the part of various pretenders, and small skirmishes are the order of the day in that afflicted country.

An "Efficient" Policeman Who Forged.

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 11.—Chief of Police Albert W. Webb shot himself through the head last evening, inflicting wounds from the effects of which he will die. He had forged the name of a friend to two notes for $375, and the crime had been discovered after a conference with the lawyer of the bank where the notes had been negotiated. Webb left the office of the attorney with the understanding that he should find some one to go upon a new note to take the place of those forged. Instead of doing this, however, he went to his office, took from his desk two revolvers, walked up stairs to the police court room, deliberately placed a weapon to each ear and fired them simultaneously. He had been Chief of Police for six years and was a most efficient officer. He leaves a wife and two children.

Struck by an Engine.

ORANGEVILLE, July 11.—Mrs. Hollinger, wife of a quarryman employed in the Mono quarries, was struck by a C.P.R. engine which was making a running shunt. Her right foot was badly crushed and her head cut.

Keep alfalfa closely cropped if the weeds are growing among it. In this manner the weeds will be killed, while the afalfa becomes stronger.

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP LITERATURE.

THE leadership of the Liberal party is a frequent, a periodical subject of discussion in the organs of that party. There is a large section that is dissatisfied with Mr. Laurier's leadership, and the family differences are aggravated by the divergence of opinion among themselves regarding the tariff question. Here are some specimens of the discussion. The Dundas Banner, Liberal, said:—

"It is undeniable that Mr. Blake overshadows his colleagues on the Opposition side of the House, and his proper place is at the head of the party. There is no finer character in the public life of the country than Mr. Laurier, but in the present state of the public mind, more especially in Ontario, it is evident that a French-Canadian leader is at a disadvantage, not through any fault of his own, but owing to the prejudice that has been unfairly aroused."

The Banner went further and indicated its opinion on the tariff by saying:—

"Free trade is a sound principle and if the whole world were to adopt it and abide by it the result would be grand. There is not a country in the world that does not impose duties on imported goods, if not on the grounds of protection then on the grounds of revenue. Canada cannot have free trade with the United States for the simple reason that the United States will not trade free with Canada. Jug-handled free trade is not free trade at all. When you cannot get what you want it is the part of wisdom to make the best of what you have. Canada has thrice voted for the N. P. The people of Canada have the right to have what they ask for. If they ask for the N. P. they cannot be denied it. The N. P. is here and we must make the best of it."

"For our part, we do not want to see Mr. Blake resume the leadership of the Liberal party unless he is prepared to recant his Malvern heresy. He made the statement that the requirements of the revenue necessitated the retention of customs duties which would be highly protective in their operation. Mr. Blake may have believed what he said, but his statement was not true, and he ought to have known better."

But the Banner was not alone in its its opinion, and the Berlin Telegraph, another Liberal paper, took a hand in and thus replied to the Times:—

"We cannot agree with it that Mr. Blake was guilty of a political 'heresy' in the views he set forth in his Malvern speech. We are as strongly opposed as the Times can possibly be to the National Policy, or in other words to our present unjust and high tariff, but we have not yet been convinced that free trade, pure and simple, could at once be adopted, even if the Liberal party was placed in power. The adoption of the National Policy led to the investment of too much capital in various industries, to warrant even the Liberal party with their broad views of trade and commerce, even if they obtained power tomorrow, in making so radical a change in the fiscal policy of the country. The interests of these industries must be protected. The tariff, no doubt, would be readjusted so as to make it less oppressive and more just in its operations toward the farming and working classes, but beyond that, for a time at least, no government would be justified in going."

The Toronto Globe, which favors free trade, tried to quell the rising storm in the ranks, and Mr. Blake felt forced to do something, so he wrote to the Globe as follows:—

"SIR,—My attention having been called to the fact that your recent article has given circulation among Liberals to Conservative allegations that I desire to resume the leadership of the Liberal party, I beg space to say that there is not a grain of truth in these allegations, and that I am no more desirous to resume than I was to assume or to retain that post.

"My only wish is that the confidence and affection of Liberals of all shades may induce Mr. Laurier to hold the place which he so admirably fills. I have, etc.,

"EDWARD BLAKE."

This has not been sufficient to quiet the storm. Mr. Blake's letter does not settle the difference between free trade and the more cautious sections of the party. Besides he may be more desirous "to resume" the leadership than he was "to assume" it, but it is not forgotten that he did assume it whether he desired to do so or not.

This is largely a Liberal family matter, but it would not be out of place for the people generally to consider whether a party so divided on questions of policy, and without a leader who leads the whole party, could give stable or satisfactory government.

AROUND THE HOUSE.

Household Hints for All—A Number of Useful Recipes.

A "rose ball" was the charming and expensive form of decoration chosen for a recent English fancy ball. Roses of every description smothered the house and burdened the air with perfume. Roses from the deepest flame to the palest yellow. The staircase was covered with arches of roses. The mirrors in the ball-room were curtained with roses. They hung from the ceiling, and there were trails of flowers from pillar to pillar. Most of the ladies carried posies of roses, and the gentlemen wore roses in their button holes.

In place of the heavy bouquet there is a pretty fancy for carrying posies from which hang chatelaines of flowers or ribbons picked out with blooms. They drop nearly to the edge of the dress. Women also carry flowers in reference to their names. Thus at a wedding the bridesmaids will carry roses or lilies if the bride's name happens to be Lily or Rose.

French Pancakes.

Beat up two ounces of butter to a cream, and add the same weight of flour and sugar. When well beaten together add half a pint of milk, a few drops at a time, and keep on stirring. Butter some saucers, and fill them with the mixture; bake in a slow oven; when done, turn them out, and arrange them one on the top of the other, with jam spread in between. They can then be cut, if desired.

To Refinish a Hard Wood Floor.

A practical workman recommends the following recipe for refinishing a hardwood floor: Melt one pound of beeswax and mix it with a pint of turpentine. When mixed it should be of the consistency of lard or axle grease. Apply it sparingly to the floor with a rag; allow it to stand four or five hours, until the turpentine has evaporated, and then whip the floor dry with a clean cloth.

Tea Cakes.

Mix two pounds of sifted flour, one and three-fourths pounds of sugar, one and a half pounds of butter and seven eggs (or half these quantities) rubbing the flour and sugar together first, then the butter, as you would for short bread; then add the whites of the eggs when they are beaten to a stiff froth. Roll out the mixture very thin, and cut into biscuits with a paste cutter. Bake on a hot griddle. These are a delicious afternoon tea cake! Another recipe is as follows: Rub one-half pound of butter into one pound of sifted flour, beat up an egg and mix it with half a pint of new milk, and sweeten with one quarter of a pound of sifted sugar. Mix the flour and milk into a paste; roll it out thin, and cut into any shape you like. Bake on a griddle, and when done let the cakes stand on their ends till cold.

In The Dining-room.

In selecting the furniture of the dining room The Decorator and Furnisher advises to avoid the stereotyped and inartistic buffet. There is one made with an oval beveled mirror running the whole length of it at the top, with one narrow shelf above. Under the drawers are three sliding panels, instead of doors, covering as many compartments, which is unique and useful. It costs $40 in oak, and there is no better wood for a dining-room. Chairs and a lounge to match may be either covered with leather or simply cane bottomed, but they must be well made and strong.

Where the outlook is dingy and the light poor the dining room is greatly enlivened by extra sashes of painted or tinted glass, not more than twelve or fifteen inches wide. These can be fitted into the other sash, and the shade and window hangings are suspended to its lower edge.

As for the floor, no one who has ever used wood, either hard or soft pine, strained, will ever willingly carpet the entire room. The rug of Indian figures ought to be large enough to prevent the scraping of chairs on the bare floor.

Ice Creams.

Ice cream freezers are so cheap and easily managed that many persons would make their own cream if they only knew how. California Fruitgrower gives a few hints which may prove useful:

Coffee extract is used in flavoring coffee cream.

Always cook custards slowly.

In making ice cream if it is to be frozen at once let the cooked mixture cool in the saucepan, otherwise turn it into a bowl.

Too rich cream will spoil ice cream.

Very rich milk will make a fair ice cream but thin cream, such as is suitable for whipping, is best.

In making ice cream from clear cream, heat the cream to the boiling point, add the sugar, and if the flavoring is added at this time it will be better, but a larger quantity will be needed.

For fruit cream the fruit should be crushed, the sugar added and allowed to stand one or two hours, then strained.

For strawberry cream use one quart of cream, one quart of fresh strawberries and one pint of sugar. Crush the strawberries, add the sugar, let it stand two hours and stir in Sudden Death at Bothwell.

BOTHWELL, July 11.—A man named McLaren, who was working at the new iron bridge on the town line between Bothwell and Moss, died suddenly this week. On Tuesday about noon he felt a peculiar sensation, but kept at work, and in the afternoon fell insensible. He was taken to Bothwell and received medical attention, but died yesterday morning. He was married and had just arrived from Ireland.

Board of Health Resolutions.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—The Board of Health passed a resolution reciting the necessity for a greater stringency of sanitary regulations. This was for one part of public sentiment. This Board passed a resolution allowing citizens to run private sewers into the Otonabee. This permission is in direct violation of the former resolution but it satisfies the remaining half of public sentiment which goes in for the accommodation of number one. I am not surprised that a weak-kneed doctor should feel that the public health should not interfere with private wealth, but I am surprised at a gentleman of Mr. Pearse's well-known back-bone and integrity allowing such tom-foolery without publicly protesting. That Board of Health is useless if it is going on as it has done recently. Its affairs need investigation and I for one pledge myself to draw up a report for the Government and for publication if the Board of Health does not cease cowardly pandering and yield up shy and hypocritical professions to practical well-doing.

Yours, &c.,

REVIEWS.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.—For July begins the eighth volume of that periodical, which promises to contain many features of remarkable interest. This issue is especially well suited to the season—containing articles on Surf-bathing, the building of Birds-nests, and on Suburban Houses—all of them elaborately illustrated. Robert Louis Stevenson sends a poem from an obscure island in Polynesia; a prominent physician of New Orleans tells of a voyage which he took in a slaver, many years ago; the editor of the Evening Post discusses the citizen's rights to his own reputation, and there is plenty of entertaining fiction in the second instalment of the striking anonymous serial, Jerry, the short story by the author of Expiation, and the conclusion of Harold Frederic's successful historical novel, which has been so widely noticed during the year. Under Five Shillings, is another Elizabethan story by Octave Thanet, whose Sir Guy the Neuter, will be remembered. The frontispiece is another of J. R. Weguelin's beautiful pictures, made to accompany selected Odes of Horace. Austin Dobson's translation of Fons Bandusiæ has been chosen for this illustration. Other poems are To the Cricket, by A. Lampman, and In Glad Weather, by Charles B. Going. The subjects discussed in the Point of View are: Taking It Seriously, The Pursuit of Happiness, Mr. Allen's Anxiety, Feathers of Lost Birds.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

Interesting Statistics in Regard to Health Among Women Students.

The health of women students has been a subject of recent investigation by Mrs. Henry Sidgwick. Mrs. Sidgwick in her English statistics introduces an element not found hitherto in similar inquiries by including for comparison the health of one sister of each student (that one who was nearest to the student in age in the family and over 21 and who had not been to college); so that facts have been recorded relating to two sets of women of whom it may be said roughly that they lived under the same circumstances, except that one set had been to college and the other had not. The statistics show that a decidedly higher level of health is maintained by the students than by their sisters; for example, 68 per cent. students as compared with 59 per cent. of their sisters report themselves as enjoying excellent or good health at the time the reports were sent in.

It is also shown that on the average the present health of students is almost exactly the same as their health on entering college—a period which would in each case be determined largely by the health being then at least up to its normal, and when the average health (of all students) would therefore be especially high. These two periods being on an average about seven years apart, it would seem that any deleterious effects would have had time to show themselves. It has often been suggested that a university education tends to prevent women from marrying. It is no doubt probable that it tends to raise the age at which they marry, since this would not occur till they had left college. But, allowing for this, it is shown that the percentage of students who marry is quite equal to that of their sisters who do so. The percentage of those married who have children is larger among students than among either their sisters other American students, and the level of health of their children is higher.

The Physiology of Taste.

The localization of the different forms of taste sensations is a subject which is usually cursorily passed over in text books, with the statements that the posterior third, the tip and sides of the tongue only are sensitive that sweet substances are best perceived by the tip, bitter ones at the back and so on. Science calls attention to the results of observations by Oehrwall, who, by the aid of a lens, stimulated the individual papillæ by means of a fine brush dipped in solutions of sugar, quinine, acetic acid and salt. He found that, as had before been observed, the circumvallate papillæ were particularly sensitive, but that on the sides and tip the fungiform papillæ only were sensitive. He estimated that in the whole tongue there were 350 to 400 of these papillæ, of which he found 125 only to respond to stimuli.

Many of them appeared to be excited by all four of the substances employed, but in other cases papillæ were found to respond to one form of stimulus but not to another. Thus 19 per cent. responded to acetic acid, but not to sugar; 34 per cent. which were sensitive to acid were unaffected by quinine, while 15 per cent. which recognized sugar did not respond at all to the application of quinine. All of the papillæ were sensitive to touch, pain, heat and cold. When stimulated by a mild faradic current an acid taste only was excited. He confirmed the observations of older authors, that most of the anterior two-thirds of the dorsum of the tongue was devoid of gustatory papillæ.—Buffalo Times.

Labor Troubles Ahead.

DETROIT, July 11.—President Fitzpatrick, in his annual address to the moulders' union, made suggestions which may result in a war of extermination on the part of the union against the brotherhood of machinery moulders. In many shops in the east stove, machinery, brass and bench moulders work under one roof, and dividing of the moulders' trade into half a dozen national bodies is regarded by union men as a disastrous prospect. It is stated the brotherhood eagerly accepts expelled members of the union and that it has sent its members into the union to obstruct legislation in the brotherhood's interest. Mr. Fitzpatrick advocates a "stringent" policy, and that policy may mean a refusal of union men to work beside brotherhood men and their expulsion from the union.

A Floater Identified.

OTTAWA, July 11.—About 3 o'clock this afternoon a body was found floating in the stream of water which runs down from Hurdman's mill into the Ottawa just below the Chaudiere Falls. Upon examination by the mill hands it was identified as the remains of young Charron, who mysteriously disappeared one afternoon about two months ago while at work in Hurdman's saw mill on Hull side.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS.

St. Luke's Picnic.

St. Luke's S. S. picnic will take place on Wednesday, 16th inst., at Jubilee Point. Golden Eye starts at usual hour. 1d10

Bengal Club Chutney.

This condiment is made in India and affords an excellent relish for all kinds of meats, sandwiches, curries, &c., &c. For sale at ALEX. ELLIOTT'S, 363 George-st.

A Pensioner in Trouble.

Wm. Golden, the pensioner who was arrested for abusing Lt.-Col. Milligan, Staff-Officer Pensioner, appeared before the Magistrate this morning at the Police Court and pleaded guilty to having been drunk. The Magistrate said he never liked to fine an old soldier and, giving the veteran some good advice, allowed him to go.

The May Pole Dance.

This thoroughly English diversion will form one of the features of the programme of sports at the Sturgeon Point excursion of Court Peterborough Foresters on July 22nd. The committee have arranged for a splendid list of sports for which prizes will be given. If you want a day's pleasure in good company arrange to attend the excursion by G. T. R. and boat on above date. 1d10

Six Month's Hard Labor.

Wm. Cairns, an unfortunate fellow who does not appear to possess all his mental faculties, and who has been serving a term in gaol for vagrancy, was brought before the Magistrate this morning and charged again with vagrancy. The poor fellow, it is said, is not fit to be allowed his freedom, and some of his friends are desirous of having him sent to an asylum. Cairns said he had no home, no work, no money, no anything, and the Magistrate sent him back to gaol for six months at hard labor.

The New Market.

The arcade in the new market building was thrown open last evening and, as stated in the REVIEW a few days ago, the new market was opened this morning. The appearance of the arcade is fine, and the general comments were decidedly favorable. The new market hall was also the object of many words of admiration and satisfaction. Instead of the crush of the old building, there was plenty of elbow room for everybody and the air was pure and cool.

If you're going camping do yourself a sensible service. Go to Kidd's and get a pair of those rubber and canvas camping shoes. Just the thing for an outing trip. d5

A Smashup on the C. P. R.

The Norwood Register says:—On Sunday at 11.30 a. m., two freight trains left Indian River station on the C. P. R., both going east, there being 11 minutes between the starting of the two. When about four miles west of this place, near Knox's crossing, some of the cars attached to the first train broke loose and the delay in coupling allowed the second train to come too close before being flagged. Engineer Hindman of the last train did his utmost to stop it, but failed. He stuck to his post, while the fireman jumped and sustained a sprained ankle. The van of the first train was badly smashed and knocked off the track, the truck wheels of the engine were broken off, the draw heads on about a dozen cars stove in, and the cars more or less injured. A cattle drover asleep in the van of the rear train was knocked over and had several of his ribs broken. The auxiliary gang from Havelock were summoned and the track was cleared at 10 p. m.

CLOSING DECORATION DAY.

The Oddfellows at the Lodge Room—Resolutions of Thanks.

The Oddfellows Decoration Day, as the report in last evening's REVIEW stated, passed off most successfully without anything to mar the interesting ceremony. The procession of Oddfellows returned to Otonabee lodge room about five o'clock, where the brethren went into open lodge, Bro. T. Armstrong, N.G., of Otonabee Lodge, presiding.

Short speeches of an appropriate character were made by Bro. Dr. Bell, Grandmaster, of the Order, Bro. W. Hill, N.G., of Peterborough lodge, Bro. C. Huffman, V.G., of Otonabee lodge, Bro. J. Mathieson, P.G., Otonabee Lodge, and Bros. H. Long and F. Foote, of Peterborough Lodge.

Grand Master Bell moved, seconded by Bro. H. Long, a resolution extending the hearty thanks of the brethren to those who contributed flowers, to the visiting brothers who had turned out with their Peterborough brethren and to Mr. and Mrs. Foord for their kindness and hospitality in opening their house at the cemetery to the Oddfellows.

Bro. Nugent, P.G., moved another resolution of thanks which was seconded by Bro. Hill, N.G. of Peterborough Lodge. This resolution expressed the thanks of the Oddfellows to the Mayor and Town Council for proclaiming the civic half holiday and for having the streets leading to the cemetery sprinkled, and to the merchants of the town for the general manner in which they observed the holiday, thus adding much to the success of the occasion.

Resolutions of thanks were also passed to Bro. W. J. Miller for the able manner in which he performed his duties as marshall and to Canton Peterborough for turning out with the subordinate lodges.

The following is a list of the donations of flowers made:—Mrs. T. Hooper, Otonabee, cut flowers; Mrs. McIntosh, hand bouquet; Mr. J. D. Tully, cut flowers; Mr. W. H. Manning, 2 hand bouquets; Mrs. Cooney, 6 hand bouquets, cut flowers, a floral anchor, a wreath of flowers and 2 button hole bouquets; Mrs. Fitzgerald, 4 hand bouquets, 7 button-hole bouquets; Mr. Fanning, hand bouquet; Mrs. Hilliard, cut flowers; Mr. W. Sanderson, cut flowers; Mrs. S. White, 2 hand bouquets; Mrs. McGill, hand bouquet; Mrs. J. Millar, cut flowers; Mrs. John Mowry, cut flowers; Mrs. R. J. Weir, cut flowers; Mrs. J. Mills, hand bouquet.

To these persons who so kindly contributed the joint committee wishes to return its warmest thanks, while Mr. Foord, superintendent of the cemetery, also comes in for a lion's share of credit for the successful and pleasant character of the afternoon and to him the committee wish to return thanks. Not only had he the cemetery looking its very prettiest, but he had remembered the small things and little conveniences which added so much to the Oddfellows' comfort. He opened his house and the brethren thus were given a cool and comfortable place in which to drink their lemonade and partake of the prize picnic cake which was cut and eaten yesterday.

Their Annual Outing.

The Sunday school of St. Andrew's church enjoyed a most pleasant outing at Chemong Park yesterday. There was a good attendance and a grand time was spent at this beautiful picnic park. Several fine catches of fish are reported.

Struck It This Time.

The report comes booming along—somehow reports always boom—that a York County editor has been granted a government office on the plea that his health had been ruined by hard party work and indigestion. He probably neglected one of the plain rules, that followed, leads to perfect health, to buy your teas at Hawley Bros'., George-st., where the quantity and genuineness of the article sold is a first consideration. d5

Equal Rights.

The topic of the day and that which we al want is not only Equal Rights in a politica sense of the word, but in many others. Here are people throwing away their hard earned money with unprincipled houses who do not as much as thank them for it. Why should they do it? Why not call on W. J. Morrow, where you are received courteously, your money placed to a good advantage and you are placed on a solid basis in future for buying cheap groceries. dw

ADVERTISER.—I wish this notice placed in the paper where it will be sure to be seen.

EDITOR.—Yes, sir—yes; I can have them run it is right alongside an editorial if you wish.

ADVERTISER.—Hem! Please put it alongside the baseball news or next to Kidd, the shoe man's locals. People seem to read Kidd's items every time, and, by George, buy his shoes right slap afterwards. Don't doubt but its the value Kidd gives that fetches 'em. d5

Excursion.

First of the season to Burleigh Falls and Gin Island, on Thursday next, July 17th, under the auspices of the I. O. G. Templars. This beautiful trip will gladden the hearts of all who take it in; everything will be done for the comfort of passengers by the committee in charge. Races for young and old. Good prizes in store for the winners; archery and other sports. Let there a large turnout on the above date. Refreshments on board. Train leaves Grand Trunk at 8.30 a. m., and will stop at Ashburnham and Auburn. Steamer Cruiser leaves at 10, arriving here at 8.30 p. m. Fare for round trip, gents, 70 cents; ladies, 60 cents; children, 35 cents. 1d10

A POPULAR OFFICER.

Capt. W. H. Hill the Recipient of an Address and Presentation from the Officers and Men of His Company.

Capt. W. H. Hill's residence on Bethune-st. was again the scene of a pleasant surprise last evening, when a squad of thirteen men under Lieut. Hamilton from "C" Company of the 57th Rangers, visited their captain and presented him with an address accompanied by a handsome pair of field glasses. It was only the other evening that the insurance men of the Central Ontario District of the Sun Life extended their congratulations and testified their esteem and respect for their business head, and last evening the officers and men of "C" Company, of which Capt. Hill is in command, also took advantage of his recent marriage to express the esteem and respect which they held towards him as soldiers serving under his command and also to congratulate him and his bride and wish them all success and happiness. The event was a most pleasant one, and the popular manager of the Sun Life Assurance Company must indeed feel flattered.

Sergt. Mellor read the address, while Col.-Sergt. Packenham made the presentation. The address read as follows:—

To W. H. Hill, Captain "C" Company 57th Batt., Peterborough Rangers:

SIR,—On the occasion of your taking the most serious as well as the most pleasant step in your life, we, the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of "C" Company, 57th Batt., desire to convey to you some token of the esteem in which you are held by us.

Far-sighted as you have shown yourself to be in the selection of a partner for your joy, we desire that your sight may be as penetrating in the field as by the fireside, and therefore have selected as our gift this pair of field glasses which we hope you will keep in remembrance of the good wishes of us all.

A. STEVENSON, Lt.,
for Officers of "C" Co.
F. PACKENHAM, Col. Sergt.
JNO. G. MELLOR,
for Men of "C" Co.

Capt. Hill made a happy reply, returning his thanks to the officers and men and expressing his pleasure at the pleasant existing feelings which were evidenced by the presentation and address.

A short time was very pleasantly spent in social intercourse by the captain, officers and men, after which the latter marched to Mr. J. Craig's restaurant and partook of supper.

NORTHERN DIVISION CANOE MEET.

The Camp Site—How to Reach Camps—How to Live There—Railway Fares, etc.

The official report of the Northern Division Canoe Association Camp site and arrangements has been issued, and we transfer the particulars to our columns in order that canoeists in this district may be fully acquainted with the report. It is hoped that there will be a good representation from the local clubs at the meet.

THE CAMP SITE.

There are so many attractive points on the Lake of the Two Mountains that the committee had some difficulty in fixing upon the one best suited to the A. C. A. Camp, and after a careful examination of the available places, has chosen Ile Cadieux, which is by all means the best. The camp will be about four miles from Ste. Anne de Bellevue, about the same distance from Vaudreuil, and five miles from Como. It is the last of the series of islands which skirts the shore from Ile Perot up, and thus offers exceptional facilities for both paddling and sailing water. On the upper side there is a broad open stretch of water, which narrows somewhat at Como, and then broadens to the end of the lake, and extends in the other direction seven or eight miles to the Back River. On the lower side of Ile Cadieux is a fine sheltered bay, which narrow channels lead amongst the islands, which are thickly wooded and very pretty.

The camp landing will be in the Narrows between Ile Cadieux and the mainland, and well protected on all sides.

The main camp will be on rising ground, well drained and with a fine outlook over the lake, so that the races can be seen from the tents. The ladies' camp will be sheltered by trees and is a short distance from the main camp. The island is about a mile long, and the lighthouse at the opposite end from the camp is the only dwelling upon it.

HOW TO REACH THE CAMP.

The objective point will be Ste. Anne de Bellevue, which is on the main line of both Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways, about twenty miles west of Montreal, and a point of call for all steamers on the Ottawa river, which have to lock through at this place. From St. Anne's a special steamboat will be run to the camp, managed by this Association, and connecting with the trains morning and evening. Campers are recommended to take trains arriving at St. Anne's in the morning.

THE CAMP MESS.

Arrangements have been made with an experienced caterer in Montreal for a camp restaurant at a cost one dollar per day and single meals fifty cents.

There will be a barber constantly in camp.

There is good fishing in the immediate vicinity of the camp.

Excursions may easily be made to Oka, Carillon and other points on the lake and Ottawa river, and to the numerous summer resorts along Lake St. Louis to Lachine and Montreal.

The St. Lawrence Yacht Club has accepted an invitation to visit the camp, and will probably arrange a cruise in the Lake of Two Mountains during the meet.

FARES.

The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways have agreed to issue round trip tickets from 23rd July to 7th August, good to return up to 21st August, at single fare; and will also allow each passenger canoes and camp kit to the extent of 200 lbs., free in baggage car. The special certificate required to obtain these tickets may be had an application to the Purser.

Approved,

Vice-Commodore.

The County to Have a Say.

The matter which Mr. Dumble brought up at the last meeting of the Board of Education in regard to the ownership of the ground whereon stands the Central school buildings, is likely to receive some attention from the County Council. It will be remembered that letters brought forward by Mr. Dumble from the Attorney General in which the School Board of 1857 was refused the patent for the land also stated that "it (the patent) can only issue to the Peterborough County Grammar School." At a committee meeting of the County Council held this morning this matter was brought up, and discussed, the point raised being in regard to the rights of the county in the ownership of the lands. As it is now the county pupils pay fees, and the county councillors are anxious to find out what their rights in the light of this discovery really are. The matter will be followed up and investigated.

Steamers Inspected.

The Golden Eye and steamers of the Calcutt line were inspected this morning by the government inspectors. Inspector Adams, inspector of the machinery, and Inspector Donnelly, local inspector, both pronounced the steamers in first-class condition and thoroughly seaworthy. The Golden Eye was said to be in a more tidy and satisfactory condition than ever before and Capt. Calcutt came in for some words of commendation from the inspectors.

A Free Trip to Europe.

The Publishers of the Canadian Queen will give a free trip to Europe to the person sending them the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the name of their well known magazine, "The Canadian Queen." Additional prizes consisting of Silver Tea Sets, Gold Watches China Dinner Sets, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantle Clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. A Fortunate Escape.

Yesterday afternoon there was a narrow escape from a drowning accident at the locks, and an accident which could only be accounted for, either by the fool-hardy recklessness or confirmed stupidity of the young man who was in the canoe. Two of the men employed on Calcutt's line of steamers were engaged locking a scow through when the accident happened. A young man with two young ladies in a canoe came paddling down the river and when they came to the locks, instead of portaging, the young man, with more recklessness or ignorance than good sense, attempted to run the slide just at the steps this side of the locks. Needless to say the canoe was upset and its three occupants were thrown into the rushing current which is very swift at this point, owing to the unusually high state of the water. Fortunately the two men on the scow noticed the accident and rescued the two young ladies, while the young man's canoe and coat and vest were carried away down stream. It was an accident which would never have occurred, except either from ignorance of canoes and the river or inexplicable carelessness.

THE GLORIOUS TWELFTH.

A Very Creditable Procession of the Orangemen Before Leaving for Cobourg.

This is the glorious 12th of July and the members of the Orange Order in town and vicinity were early astir, active in making preparations for their departure to Cobourg, where the grand demonstration is to be held. The Lakefield Lodge of Orangemen assembled at their lodge at 7 o'clock in the morning and headed by their band, marched to the station, where they took the train to Nassau. Here they were met by the Fire Brigade Band, of Peterborough, and the Nassau Orange Lodge. A procession was formed and after a short march the train was taken for Peterborough. Here the members of the Orange Lodges Nos. 49 and 80, together with the True Blues, had marched to the railway crossing in Ashburnham and were waiting to receive the brethren from Lakefield and Nassau.

A procession was formed, headed by the Fire Brigade Band, and marched to the Grand Trunk station where the train was taken for Cobourg. The order of the procession was as follows:—

Fire Brigade Band.
Bro. Alex. Hamilton, County Master, and Bro. J. G. Weir, District Master.
King William Lodge True Blues.
Jubilee Lodge True Blues, with banner.
L. O. Lodges, Nos. 49 and 80, with banner.
Lakefield L. O. Lodge, with banner.
Nassau L. O. Lodge, No. 173, with banner.
Smith Brass Band.
Smith L. O. Lodge, No. 457.
Royal Black Knights.

The procession was a most creditable one, the turnout being large and the appearance of the men exceedingly good. The Nassau men as usual in their spotless white vests and shiney silk tiles were an exceptionally fine looking body of men. The True Blues of both the local lodges also looked well. They will return this evening.

Brevities.

—The Oddfellows, Sons of England, 'Prentice Boys, True Blues and Foresters of Belleville will decorate the graves of deceased brethren on July 16th.

—The Intelligencer says the Belleville cricket club is in a flourishing condition and prepared to meet any of the clubs of the district in a friendly match.

—The News states that Messrs. Holgate and Dench, the commissioners appointed by the County Council to take the population of Tweed, were there for several days and completed their labors. They report a population of upwards of nine hundred. It will probably be incorporated as a village.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we haven't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

'Tis An Old Saying

that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak today. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. We are going to quote prices that are lower than asked by any other dealer. If you are wanting or will want in this line this year, you cannot afford to ignore this opportunity.

FACES AND CHARACTERS.

Studies in Physiognomy—Judging Character by the Face.

We deny physiognomy, but in spite of ourselves we are forced to believe there is some merit in a pretty face.

In judging character by the face, remember that one feature must not be taken separately as an indication of character, since its effect is modified by others. For instance, lips tightly set denotes firmness, and a softly rounded chin gentleness and irresolution. When both occur in the same face, we are not to take the absolute testimony of either, but "that sweet calm which is just between."

THE FOREHEAD.—A large forehead denotes liberality; a very narrow one, bigotry; if it projects sharply over the eyes, strong perceptive faculties and extreme acuteness; if wide and full at the top it indicates a thoughtful person with a logical mind; horizontal wrinkles show either age, deep thought, or care.

EYES.—The eye often discloses what the tongue would hide. Pleasure causes the eye to sparkle, anger or contempt to flash or glare, sorrow to dull, astonishment to fix, fear to waver, respect or timidity to fall, tenderness to soften, curiosity to open, and ennui to deaden.

A glance which roves about while its owner is speaking denotes deceit, or indifference assumed or real. An eye that looks every one cheerfully and frankly in the face without affection, shows honesty and faithfulness; but there is either treachery or great timidity in an eye that can never meet another squarely, but constantly drops as soon as raised.

Very blue eyes betray an inclination to coquetry, but are loving withal; gray eyes denote intelligence; green ones, gossip; light yellow hazel, stubbornness; black, a passionate, lively temperament, and brown eyes a happy disposition.

NOSE.—A bold projecting Roman nose indicates enterprise; a large nose, strength of will and character; a small one, good nature and a lack of energy, a turned-up nose, a spirit of mischief, sometimes forwardness. Large dilating nostrils are a sign of sensitiveness, and a nature not quick to anger, but high when once aroused.

CHEEKS.—Soft, round cheeks denote gentleness and liberality; flat, hard ones, covetousness; hollow ones, age or ill-health.

LIPS.—Very thin, straight lips, tightly closed, denote firmness, selfishness, and even cruelty; thick lips, frequently stupidity, but sometimes genius. Lips slightly swelling and curved upward at the ends indicate a fine sense of humor; drooping at the corners, grief or a morose temper: lips always open show either facial defects or weakness of intellect or character.

CHIN.—A very sharp chin indicates decision, and a sharp temper; a soft round chin, gentleness, and indecision; a broad, very fat chin, in a young person, gluttony or a gross temperament.

Dimples in the cheeks signify roguery; one in the chin, a person who falls easily in love. N. B.—A man with a dimple in his chin never wears a beard over it.

EARS.—Large ears indicate generosity; small ears, delicacy, and an economical turn of mind. If you meet a person with a large right ear and a small left one, keep on the right side of him.

HEAD.—The greatest indiscretions and follies are committed by people who have either very large or very small heads; a medium size, well balanced, shows wisdom.

FACE.—A wide face is usually a selfish one; a round face, jolly; a long face, is inclined to be sad.

"But that is dearest all the while Which wears for us the sweetest smile."

AMBERGRIS.

The Product of Some Disease in the Sperm Whale.

The word ambergris is French, and signifies gray amber, but by whom or when first applied to this marine phenomenon we have not been able to discover.

The scientific explanation of the nature of ambergris is that it is the product of some disease in the sperm whale analogous to gall stones. It is found sometimes in the intestines of the creature, but more frequently is found, after expulsion, floating on the surface of tropical seas. It floats in masses which have a speckled, grey appearance, and mixed with which are generally found some remnants of the known food of whales.

The best quality of ambergris is soft and waxy, but it is said not to be uniform in color. The streaky or marked specimens are preferred. It is opaque and inflammable, remarkably light as to specific gravity, as may be understood from it always keeping its surface, and it is rugged to the touch.

Most of what comes into the market is found near the Bahama islands, but it is also found at the Moluccas and other parts of the Indian ocean, off a portion of the coasts of South America, but sometimes floating on the Atlantic ocean.

The essential characteristic of ambergris is its powerful and peculiar odor. It is so peculiar that art has never been able to imitate it, although the scarcity and enormous price of ambergris has lent every stimulus to invention. It is so powerful and diffusive that the very minutest quantity is perceptible in the most fragrant perfumes.

The chief component of ambergris is a fatty matter called ambrein, which is obtained by boiling in alcohol. This ambrein—and there is said to be about 85 per cent of it in the best ambergris—is what gives it its value, for it is in this ingredient that the perfume lies.

There is another peculiarity ascribed to ambergris, and that is the power to exalt the flavor or perfume of other substances with which it is brought into combination. Thus a grain or two rubbed down with sugar is often added to a hogshead of wine, giving a perceptible and, what is considered by some, an improved flavor to the whole. And a small particle of ambergris added to other perfumes is found to exalt the odor of the blend.

In fact ambergris is too dear to use alone, and it is so dear that it is one of the most adulterated articles known to chemists. It is adulterated both by those who export it and in the countries in which it is used.

Always give an abundance of room for the storage of surplus honey. When bees fill all available space with honey they will make preparations to swarm.

The popularity of the Merino sheep is largely due to the fact that it is an active forager and that a larger number can be kept together than of any other breed.

ANOTHER HORROR AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A frightful explosion occurred to-night on the steamer Tioga, one of the largest vessels on the great lakes. Thirty-eight people were aboard the steamer at the time. When the work of rescuing survivors, which commenced almost instantly, was well under way only two persons could be found who escaped unhurt. To make matters worse fire broke out on the wrecked vessel and huge volumes of flame and smoke impeded the searchers for the dead and dying.

The bursting of the steamer's boilers was the cause of the catastrophe. It was in the Chicago River, at the foot of Washington-street, that the explosion occurred. This locality is in the heart of the business section of Chicago, and the terrific shock of the explosion brought people running in terror out of the tall buildings a block away. Most of the victims were Chicago stevedores, who were unloading the vessel. Only three of the Tioga's crew were reported on the list.

The fire proved a stubborn one and made it impossible at the time to verify the report that the boilers had exploded. A statement was current that the explosion was due to another cause—the accidental lighting of a large quantity of combustibles in the narrow confines of the Tioga's deep hold. In the hold near the steamer's stern was where the fire held sway. Through the bursts of fire could be seen a great jagged cleft in the Tioga's decks and cabin, and aloft on the tall smoke-stacks dangled a huge framework of timber fantastically swaying backward and forward, telling of the terrific force of the explosion, which sent it there from 30 feet below. While the fire was still in progress a reporter met the captain of the illfated steamer on the forward deck.

The officer stopped in his task of straightening out the confusion to give a statement. Said he:

"My name is Captain A. A. Phelps. I arrived here last evening from Buffalo in command of the Tioga, and we were unloading at this dock when the explosion took place this evening. I was in the freight shed on the dock when I heard a terrific noise, and running out I saw the north quarter of the vessel enveloped in steam. All the crew of 25 were either aboard at the time or were on the dock or in the freight-house. I found after a careful search that all but three were accounted for and safe. Those three, all from Buffalo, were: Second engineer, George Haig; lookout, C. Levalley; deck hand, William Cuthbert. Besides the three missing men who belonged to the crew there must have been from twelve to fifteen other men killed and probably half a dozen additional wounded.

"There were laborers in the hold who were doing the unloading. Eight colored men are positively stated to have been below and six or seven others were at the hatches aiding their fellow stevedores lower down. The explosion occurred in the hold, not in the machinery or boilers as near as I could ascertain, and was probably in some combustible freight stored there."

It appeared that the explosion occurred just after a porter named William Palmer had gone below with a lighted lamp. He had scarcely reached the decks again when the fearful shock came. It was said that 200 barrels of oil were among the cargo and that these had become ignited. Others insisted that the explosion must have been due to a lack of water in the boilers and that the second engineer, who was known to be missing, was the man whose duty it would be to start the pony pump in such an emergency. Up to 10 o'clock nine dead bodies had been taken from the wreck and five or more wounded had been conveyed to hospitals. The victims were now more accessible, the fire having been extinguished by the inrushing of the river.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

THE ILL-FATED TIOGA.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION SETTLES THE VESSEL'S FATE.

CHICAGO, July 12.—To-night another terrific explosion occurred on the big freight steamer Tioga that was wrecked last evening by an unexplained concussion in the hold. Fire again broke out, and for a few minutes it seemed as if the huge vessel and a cargo worth $250,000 was doomed. The timely presence of fire engines, however, soon put a different face on matters, and the fire in a short interval, though still raging fiercely, was well under control. Unlike last evening's explosion, to-night's produced no loss of life, and only two persons were injured. The second disaster puts out of the question all attempts to learn to a certainty the number of victims in the first explosion.

Up to nightfall 13 burned and mangled corpses had been taken from the fatal hold and one of the wounded in the county hospital had died. Conservative estimates put the probable fatalities at a total of at least 20. What caused the explosion so late tonight is still a disputed question. One theory was that a new supply of explosive vapor had gathered in the hold. Capt. Phelps, in command of the vessel, expressed the opinion, however, that something else besides oil or its gases was in the hold, but what he would not venture to say.

This afternoon a coroner's jury was impaneled, which, after viewing the wreck, adjourned until next Thursday. James Burke, chief engineer of the Home Insurance building, is foreman of the jury. The other members are mostly commercial travelers.

This was Capt. Phelps' first trip on the vessel, and there are rumors that all was not pleasant among his subordinates and crew. There is vague talk of spite work cutting a figure in the terrible affair, but such gossip seemed impossible of verification.

The two men injured to-night were two of the wrecking crew, Hans Christianson and Thomas Johnson. They went below with a lantern to look at a suction pipe which had become clogged. Both men were taken out alive, but seriously burned and bruised.

The List of Dead Growing.

CHICAGO, July 13.—During the fire on the wrecked steamer Tioga last night flames got into the forward part of the hold and before they were finally quenched the flood of water poured in from the engines had sunk the steamer to the bottom of the river. Friday night only the stern sank, but last night the entire length of the keel rested in the mud. Much of the cargo was removed before the second explosion, but it is feared the total loss from the series of mishaps will nevertheless each $150,000. Six more bodies were recovered to-day from the wreck of the Tioga, making 19 so far, exclusive of the injured who died at the hospital. One of the corpses taken out today was that of a white man, the others those of negroes. Only two were identified, those of Louis and Henry Alexander, colored stevedores and brothers, who were recognized because of their great size. The body of John Ne , the head stevedore, was not found but a workman picked up his watch and time book in the fatal hold. The discovery of these articles leaves no doubt as to Neile's death. How many more men were killed is not known. Probably it would not be too much to assume 30 deaths are about the correct total. Half of the Tioga's hold is yet filled with wreckage from the two explosions. The bodies of 6 colored stevedores were taken to Columbia to-night.

OLD PATHFINDER GONE.

Gen. John C. Fremont Dies Suddenly at New York—A Brilliant Career.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Gen. John Charles Fremont died in this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon of peritonitis. His death was sudden.

John Charles Fremont was born in Savannah, Ga., Jan. 21, 1813, of a French father and a Virginian mother. He married Oct. 19, 1841, Jessie Benton, daughter of Col. Thomas H. Benton, then Senator from Missouri, the marriage being a secret and romantic one. Since 1864 Gen. Fremont has not taken an active part in public affairs. There is in all American history no more picturesque figure. Four times he made the transcontinental journey to the Pacific through what was then as unknown and savage a wilderness as that penetrated by Stanley in darkest Africa. On one of these trips some of his party were reduced to cannibalism and on another subsisted on horseflesh for 50 days. He wrested the great Pacific slope from Mexican rule and gave to his native land the vast empire of the west. But the same erratic disposition marked his career through life: expelled from college for repeated absences, court-martialled and dismissed from the army for disobedience of orders, relieved from his command in the war of the rebellion for issuing prematurely an order freeing the slaves of those in arms against the government, refusing another command because it placed him under Pope, whom he ranked. He was the first Governor of California, and the first Senator from that State. He was the first Republican candidate for the presidency, his platform being opposition to the extension of slavery, but he was defeated by James Buchanan. Again in 1864 dissatisfied Republicans placed him in nomination, but finding that he could not be elected and fearing that his candidacy might defeat Lincoln and result in the success of McClellan he retired from the field. He entered the army as a second lieutenant and during the war held the rank of Major-General.

WITH ROYAL HONORS.

THE NUPTIALS OF MR. STANLEY AND MISS TENNANT.

A Brilliant Gathering in Westminster Abbey—The Bride's Costume and Jewels—Guests Injured by the Collapse of a Platform—The Explorer's Illness.

LONDON, July 12.—The marriage of Mr. H. M. Stanley and Miss Dorothy Tennant took place in Westminster Abbey this afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. George Granville Bradley, Dean of Westminster, Very Rev. Frederick William Farrar, D.D., F.R.S., Archdeacon of Westminster, and Right Rev. William Boyd Carpenter, D.D., Lord Bishop of Ripon. A large crowd gathered about the Abbey and loudly cheered Mr. Stanley and Miss Tennant and the wedding guests on their arrival.

Mr. Stanley reached the Abbey at 1.50. He walked erect up to the transept, showing no signs of his illness and took a seat near the altar. He wore a frock coat with a white flower in the button hole and white kid gloves. Count D'Arche, the representative of King Leopold of Belgium, and the groom's best man, Mr. Myers, a brother-in-law of Miss Tennant, and Dr. Parke, Mr. A. M. Jepson, Captain Nelson and Lieutenants Stairs and Bonney, who were with Mr. Stanley on his last expedition into Africa, grouped themselves around Mr. Stanley.

Five minutes later Miss Tennant accompanied by her brother Mr. Charles Coombe Tennant entered the Abbey and walked with stately grace along the aisle. Her train was borne by two of her nephews dressed as pages. Their costumes were of the time of Charles I. and consisted of white satin cavalier suits with large hats ornamented with ostrich plumes.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sylvia Myers, the bride's niece, and Miss Finlay, both of whom are very pretty. The dresses were white satin sacks and overskirts of crepe lisse and they wore wreaths of jasmine and carried bouquets of white roses.

The bride's costume was a petticoat and long court train of duchess satin and corded silk and a bodice of white satin trimmed with lace. The front of the skirt and the corsage were embroidered with white silk and pearls and the edge of the petticoat and train was trimmed with garlands of orange blossoms. The bodice was set off with a high medici collar embroidered with pearls. A tulle veil was fastened in her hair with diamond stars and this was surmounted by a wreath of orange blossoms. Her shoes were of silver leather with diamond buckles, around her neck was a superb diamond necklace, the gift of Sir William W. McKinnon, chief of the English East African Colony, from which depended the diamond set miniature of the Queen presented by Her Majesty as a wedding gift. Miss Tennant also wore a diamond aigrette and diamond brooch, the gifts of Mr. Stanley. Her bouquet was made up of White Cape jessamine, gardenias and tuberoses and in its centre was a pancratium lily.

While moving toward the altar the bride stopped, broke the line of the procession and walked slowly to the tablet under which lies the dust of Livingstone and placed thereon a wreath of white flowers, in the centre of which was a scarlet letter "L." Then, resuming her place, she walked to the altar with head erect and flushed cheeks. Mr. Stanley rose to receive her and both took their places at the altar.

The service was begun by Canon Farrar and was taken up by the Bishop of Ripon on the plighting of the troth. Then followed a full choral service, after which Dr. Butler made an address of congratulation and the ceremony was concluded by the rendering of the marriage hymn.

Mr. Stanley's voice was almost inaudible as he repeated the service, but Miss Tennant's was clear and steady and only faltered as she repeated the words "in sickness and in health."

After the service the party proceeded to the residence of the bride's mother in Richmond-terrace, where a reception was held in two large marquees, which were crowded. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, Sir Garnet Wolseley, Lady Wolseley, Sir Lyon Playfair and Lady Playfair, the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Mr. John Morley, Sir John Millais and a host of others were present.

After the ceremony in the Abbey had been concluded a platform which had been erected for the convenience of guests collapsed and several persons who were sitting or standing upon it were bruised more or less severely. The town of Denbigh, Wales, the birthplace of Mr. Stanley, was gaily decorated with flags in honor of the explorer, and at the hour set for his marriage all the church bells rang out merrily. The mayor sent a congratulatory message to Mr. Stanley on behalf of the citizens.

Mr. Stanley Still Ill.

LONDON, July 13.—Henry M. Stanley has not recovered from his recent indisposition. The display of homage to the great explorer and the perhaps too early leaving a sick bed in order to prevent an hour's postponement of the wedding ceremony proved no light ordeal to the strength of Mr. Stanley. His weakness from the malady under which he was suffering was noticeable to many of the distinguished attendants at Westminster Abbey yesterday, but it was very happily remarked, as Dr. Parke had already said, that Mr. Stanley's illness was of a temporary character altogether. Mr. Stanley is to-day confined to his bed at Melchet Court. He has been overwhelmed with notes and telegrams of congratulations on his marriage.

The McKinley Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Although just before adjournment yesterday the Senate formally took up the Tariff Bill and thus made it the pending business for to-morrow, it will forthwith be informally laid aside according to the present intentions of the majority, while the Senate takes up and considers the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill and probably the Indian Appropriation Bill. With the possible intervention of a day for the consideration of routine measures on the calendar, the way is expected to be then clear for the beginning of the debate upon the Tariff Bill. The execution of the latter part of this program, however, is somewhat conditioned upon the action of the Republican caucus, which is expected to be held Monday night, as some senators desire to provide for action upon other measures, notably the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill and even the House Election Bill in advance of entering upon the tariff debate.

A Mercierite Elected in Gaspe.

MONTREAL, July 13.—The election in Gaspe yesterday for the Legislative Assembly resulted in a victory for Carrier (Mercierite) by about 40 majority over Hon. E. J. Flynn Con.)

The Brighton Tragedy.

BRIGHTON, July 12.—The jury empanelled to enquire into the death of Robert Lockhart returned a verdict that "death was caused by a blow delivered by Charles Gerow with a piece of oak scantling on the side of the head on June 26, 1890."

NEARLY $600,000 IN ASHES.

A Destructive Sunday Fire in the Quaker City—Losses and Insurance.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—One of the most destructive fires that has occurred in this city for several years broke out about 4 o'clock this morning in the turning and planing mill of H. T. Atkinson at 10th-street and Susquehanna-avenue. The wind blowing from the southwest carried the flames across 10th-street to the east side and Atkins' lumber yard also caught fire. While the firemen were fighting the flames the wind veered around to the southeast, and the flames, fed by sheds and dry lumber which surrounded the planing mill, were carried against the extensive wall paper manufacturing establishment of Carey Brothers, which was separated from Atkins' mill property by a narrow street. About a dozen of the employes of the wallpaper factory had been summoned to the building and stood with hose in hand ready to pour water upon the blaze, but as soon as the fire entered the building it spread with such startling rapidity that the men were compelled to flee for their lives. The upper floors were filled with paper, which had been printed and spread on racks to dry and thus burned almost like powder. Long flaming sheets were caught by the wind and carried blazing through the air, a distance in some instances of half a mile or more.

Inside of half an hour from the time the flames attacked Carey Brothers' establishment that magnificent building was a complete mass of ruins. Thousands of people surrounded the burning property and gazed at the gorgeous effect produced by the combustion of the coloring material used in the manufacture of wallpaper. Meanwhile the planing mill had been completely destroyed. The firemen succeeded in quenching the flames in the lumber yard after its contents had been partly destroyed.

Carey Brothers estimate their loss at $500,000. Their insurance is $120,000. Mr. Atkinson places his loss at between $75,000 and $80,000 on his planing mill property, stable and lumber yard. His insurance foots up $26,500. Dwelling houses in Nevada-street were damaged to the extent of $6000 and other small losses to surrounding property will make the total very nearly $600,000.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. It was discovered by a police sergeant who was making his rounds. He immediately turned an alarm. About 200 men and women were employed by Carey Bros. The firm considered their building was about as near fireproof as it was possible to make it. The stairways and elevator shafts were solidly bricked up and iron doors separated the roof. A complete fire brigade was maintained, and it was a portion of this brigade that stood ready to battle with the flames the moment that they should appear.

Among the risks held by insurance companies in Carey Bros.' establishment was one in the Western of Toronto for $2500.

An Ontario Blaze.

CLAREMONT, July 12.—Fire at 2 o'clock this morning destroyed the foundry, machine shop and planing mill owned by Mr. Ward and occupied by Dodwell & Saunders. Loss $3000, no insurance.

DR. SPRAGUE IS THE 14TH.

The Liberal Member for Prince Edward Asked to Step Down and Out.

TORONTO, July 14.—The 14th protest was filed at Osgoode Hall on Saturday. This time it is Dr. John A. Sprague, the Liberal member for Prince Edward, who is being proceeded against. Mr. Sprague defeated James Johnston, Con., after a recount, at first it being supposed that Mr. Johnston had been elected by a majority of one. The petitioner is W. H. Orser, farmer, of Ameliasburg.

There are fourteen protests up to date, six Conservatives and eight Liberals:

A MERRY TEXAS TOWN.

Pitched Battles and Lots of Gore at Yeleta.

DENVER, Col., July 12.—A telegram from Yeleta, Tex., says a pitched battle is in progress there between two local factions, both of which claim control of the town government. They held an election in April, and each side claimed a victory. Both sets of officials were sworn in and the town has had two governments ever since. One party, led by an intelligent Mexican, was called the "People's Party," and the other was led by a Hebrew named Gaal, and called the "Republican Party." Several fights took place and a bloody conflict was in progress last night.

Another dispatch says the fighting has ceased, but both sides hold their ground and it is impossible for any one to venture out to discover the number of dead and wounded. The telegraph operator wires that he can count six dead bodies from his window.

EL PASO, Tex., July 12.—The sheriff of El Paso reached Yaleta at 3 o'clock this morning and stopped the battle by persuading the forces of Mayor Alderette to withdraw. The party headed by Gaal, who resisted arrest, is in his house, which the sheriff has surrounded. It is now believed only three men were killed.

The Canadian Roads Got the Business.

CHICAGO, July 13.—A meeting of the Chicago committee of the Central Traffic Association was held yesterday for the purpose of adjusting dressed beef rates to local points in New York state and other eastern points to the through rates now in force. The Grand Trunk and Wabash-Canadian Pacific road based their local rates on percentages of the reduced through traffic, but the other roads being desirous of keeping up local tariffs fixed arbitrary rates and made them as high as they could without coming into conflict with the Interstate Commerce Law. The consequence was that the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific roads got the business. It was therefore agreed at to-day's meeting to bring the local rate into conformity with the through rates. The rate to Albany was made 24 cents, to Rochester 21½ cents, Syracuse 23½ and Elmira 21½ cents. These rates will go into effect July 17.

A MINNESOTA CYCLONE.

FIVE ST. PAUL PEOPLE KILLED AT A SUMMER RESORT.

Terrible Loss of Life Reported at Various Places—Meagre Particulars of the Storm—The Dartmouth Disaster—No More Bodies Recovered.

ST. PAUL, July 13.—A few minutes before 5 o'clock this afternoon the clouds which had been threatening a storm began to collect over the region of Lake McCarron, two or three miles north of this city, soon taking on the rotary motion and the terrible appearance of the cyclone. Hundreds of citizens watched the clouds as they swept together and followed their course to the northwest, in which direction many friends had gone to spend the day at some of the many little lakes that are scattered over this country. Anxiety for the absent drew many down town during the evening to learn the first possible particulars of what was thought to be undoubtably a disastrous storm. A young man drove in from Lake Coleman soon afterwards with the information that at least two persons had been killed and over 100 injured at that point. He had been out there with a young lady friend, and having gone after the buggy to drive home, on his return to where she had been standing he found his companion seriously injured by the storm which had so suddenly came upon them. Other reports followed quickly, each being a little worse than what had preceded it. To the north and east of the city there are a great number of little lakes which are sought by the multitude every Sunday, and on the shores of these lakes many campers pass the hot months of the summer. Lake Coleman is one of these and the damage there was very heavy. When the storm struck the little lake the boat house was lifted up bodily and overturned in the water and a boatload of persons was given similar treatment. Buildings were demolished or badly wrecked.

Passing from the starting point the cyclone struck Lake Joanna, Lake Gervais, Lake Vadnais, Little Canada and passed on about four miles to the east of White Bear Lake. The passengers on the St. Paul and Duluth train which left White Bear at 4.35 were approaching Gladstone when they observed the cyclone forming and watched its whirling motion with interest rather than fear or excitement. Not so with the engineer, however. He saw the threatening aspect of the sky and with a startled look ahead to see if all was clear he took a firmer grip on the throttle and the engine leaped forward. His judgment and quick action undoubtedly saved the lives of the whole crowded train full, for the twisting, terrifying devastator crossed the track scarcely more than a minute after the train had passed. The help that had been called for from the stricken districts was at once sent to them, doctors and other assistance going as fast as they could be taken.

The place where the cyclone struck the ground and caused loss of life was on the shores of Lake Gervais where J. H. Schurmair of this city had a summer cottage in a little basin, where Simon Good was also located. The funnel-shaped cloud swooped down on them, demolishing the dwellings and a number of other buildings in the same neighborhood. The camp of Col. Helleher of this city was blown down, but the large party in it all escaped injury. In the wreck of the Schurmair house, however, five were killed, and there and at the Good cottage ten were injured.

Following are the killed: MRS. J. H. SCHURMAIR and CHARLES SCHURMAIR of St. Paul.

REV. MR. PHAEFLER of Brennan, Tex., who was visiting them.

"PETE," Schurmair's driver, whose name was unknown.

The bodies of Mrs. Schurmair, her son and Mr. Phaefler have not yet been found.

The injured were: J. H. Schurmair, scalp wound; Charlie Good, serious injury to scalp; Mrs. Phaefler, shoulder broken; Thomas Barnard, not seriously; Mrs. George Miller, injuries to head, shoulder and foot; Miss Carri Mass, wounded on the head and shoulder; Clark Hansen, bruised hip; Roy Good, three scalp wounds and an injury to the spine; Mr. Genter and Miss Minnie Mass.

It is said that the cyclone was confined to a district only 3½ miles long and that the worst damage was within a limit of half a mile.

It is reported that from 11 to 25 people were killed by the cyclone at Coleman's Lake, 20 to 30 at Little Canada, two or more at Lake Joanna and several at Bass Lake.

THE DARTMOUTH DISASTER.

No More Bodies Recovered—Evidence at the Coroner's Inquest.

HALIFAX, July 12.—The coroner's inquiry into the cause of last night's disaster in Dartmouth has been adjourned till Wednesday. The evidence so far shows that some person slipped a chain from a wheel, causing the landing stage to fall and precipitating the crowd upon it into the water. Whether this was accidental or otherwise is unknown, but the coroner's jury has recommended that the town offer a reward for the discovery of the person who committed the act. No more bodies have been recovered and Edward Foster, who was reported to have died from the shock, is still living and expected to pull through.

The funerals of three of the victims of Friday night's fatality at Dartmouth took place to-day and were attended by great crowds of people. Many of those rescued received serious injuries by being struck while in the water with planks and pieces of wood thrown to their relief. It was believed that Miss Foster was struck and stunned if not killed in this manner.

Drowned.

NAPANEE, July 12.—Miss Lizzie Davis, aged 30, a public school teacher at Sydenham, was drowned near Verona while fishing in the lake.

Frank Rivers, a young man who lived east of Tweed, was drowned near Flinton while driving the river.

ST. CATHARINES, July 13.—A lad named Kingston, 15 years of age, was drowned while bathing in lock 6, new canal, last evening. He was seized with cramps.

Other Casualties.

A wagon containing 15 people was run into by a train Sunday afternoon at Baden, near San Francisco. Six persons were killed outright, the others injured.

Thirteen persons went out sailing Sunday near Gainesville. The boat capsized and [illegible] were drowned.

The U. S. Silver Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The House has adopted the report of the Conference Committee on the Silver Bill 112 to 90. This finally passes the bill. The Senate has passed the Tonnage Subsidy Bill and the Postal Subsidy Bill.

Preferred a Quiet Village.

ST. PAUL, July 13.—The National Educational Association has practically determined to hold the next annual session at Saratoga in preference to Toronto, its chief competitor for the honor.

MONDAY, JULY 14, 1890.

THE DOMINION VETO.

MR. MERCIER, in his advocacy at Quebec of what he termed Provincial autonomy, attacked the power of disallowance vested in the Dominion authorities and said:—"He affirmed also that the Provinces should be left entirely free to act upon matters over which they had jurisdiction, and that the exercise of the veto power was a usurpation of power and consequently an imminent danger to the Provinces. If the Federal veto should not be exercised—and he believed that that was the true theory—then it became useless and should be abolished." It sounds very strange to hear a lawyer state that the exercise of the veto power is a usurpation. If the Dominion Governments—for every administration since confederation has exercised that power—have usurped that authority, then they should have been and should be now brought to task. But a legitimate power, bestowed by competent authority and used in a legal manner is not a usurpation, and, as by British North America Act the Dominion executive is vested with the power of disallowance, the exercise of that function is not a usurpation.

Apart from the question of authority, regarding which the Quebec Premier is clearly wrong, there may be a difference of opinion as to whether the Dominion should possess the power of disallowance. If this country clearly decided that it was imperious no doubt it could be abolished by petition to the Imperial Parliament, but the country has not in any way decided in favor of its abolition. It is true that the present Dominion Government has been attacked by the Liberals for vetoing Provincial measures, but the Liberals when in office made freer use of the power than the Conservatives have done, and it is also true that the Government has been as bitterly assailed by many of the same people for not exercising the power. There are, the REVIEW believes, good reasons why the veto power should be retained. It has been said that it was placed in the constitution primarily as a protection for the minorities in Ontario and Quebec, but it is not at all probable that this was the sole reason the fathers of confederation had for favoring it. In fact the speeches in the confederation debates show that it was not the only reason, and none endorsed the provision more strongly than did Mr. George Brown and Mr. Alex. Mackenzie. To hold a confederation such as Canada is together a strong central authority is necessary, and in order that the country may advance and prosper it is necessary that the policy of the Dominion, as such, should not be thwarted by Provincial action. Every Province is represented in the Dominion Parliament and all have a voice in shaping the policy of the Dominion, but if when the federal Parliament had adopted a course to follow a Province should be permitted to interfere by contrary action and thwart the general policy, confusion would be the result.

Mr. Mercier assumed that because four Provincial Governments that had taken part in the International Conference at Quebec had been sustained at the polls the abolition of the veto had been endorsed, but he should have known that those resolutions were not heard of during the contest in Ontario, for although Mr. Mowat once declared that they would be brought forward in the campaign, he and his colleagues were discretely silent regarding them when the elections came on.

The Dominion is one family and the Provinces are its members. As such the confederation should be viewed. Mr. Mercier's policy of depriving the head of the family of power, and increasing the power of the various members, would lead to disintegration.

WHY could not a municipal council manage street cars for the people as well as waterworks or other undertakings? Eh, Toronto?

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Throughout the United Kingdom "Montserrat" Lime-Fruit Juice has eclipsed all others as a hot weather beverage, and it is rapidly becoming equally popular here.

DAINTY GATHERINGS OF INTEREST TO ALL.

What the Proper Things are in Gloves, Boots, Hats, and Ties—Fancies in Flowers—Little Pickings Formed into Fresh Paragraphs.

The belt buckle has shifted round to the back of the Summer waist.

Wreaths of cress and box make a yellow straw hat a thing of beauty.

What has become of the pert lorgnette and where is the girl with the monocle?

Silk tissues that are used for trimming are doubled before plaiting. Heavier material is pinked or hemmed.

An ounce of rum thrown over a dish of sliced fruit will produce the ambrosial sauce fashion is raving about.

Pretty little mignonette boxes, planted with the poet's flower, are used on toilet and dressing tables for a bit of sweet odor.

Country dresses in striped flannel or polka-dot sateen, with white vest of India silk, catch the eye in all the suburban resorts.

Gold mounting is now being used on card-cases, pocket and prayer books, shopping and visiting tablets in lieu of the blackened silver corners.

Mushroom is the fashionable shade for gloves, low shoes and leather goods such as side-bags, coin-purses and field-glass case and belt.

Now there is a jockey sun-shade, with a peak cap for the knob and a cover of bright red, blue, green, orange and purple, streaked with white.

Some of the beaded bonnets are made of horse hair. Lined with some bright silk to throw out the design the effect is gayety materialized.

The Swedish glove is a saffron kid of Suede finish and elbow length intended to tuck under the bishop sleeve just below the bend of the arm.

Hemstitching on some handkerchiefs is done in colored threads, but so delicately as to give not more than a faint suspicion of a colored border.

The correct walking glove for gentlemen is an undressed kid, tan shade, with wide braid on the back. For ushers at weddings pearl-gray are the thing.

The popularity of accordion plaiting has caused such a demand as to bring many into the business, and is now done in the very best style for 25 cents a yard.

Many fashionable ladies wear the Japanese tea-gown in gold and rich colors. It is of the crinkly crepe and gorgeous in floral figures. The underdress is of pale silk.

Accordion skirts lose their attractiveness when the plaits are allowed to flare. When firmly sewed down with tapes the plaits continue in form for a long time.

Swedish embroidery is the rage. The stitches are long and easily mastered and the use of colored silk and white canvas or linen makes the work interesting.

The only protection for the redundant letter-writer is notepaper, 3½ by 6 inches. Onion and porcelain blue, robin's egg green and shell-gray are the tints most admired.

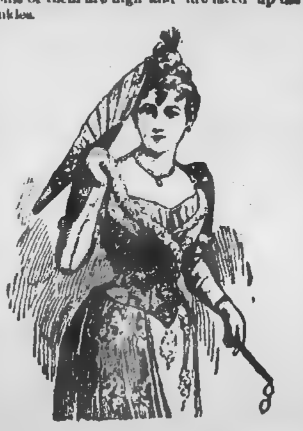
People who suffer from redness or inflammation of the nose should avoid the use of liquors and tobacco in every form, snuff, smelling salts and all pungent odors irritating to the nasal cavities.

The Summer zephyrs that play havoc with the broad-brimmed hat can be restricted by applying a butterfly bow of heavy velvet. This will weigh the light straw and defy the mischievous south wind.

Fashion has a new posy—the corn flower, better known as bachelor's button, or blueys. Mixed with sweet pea they make a lovely evening bouquet and worn alone they are first choice for morning toilets.

It looks as though the tight basque was losing its hold on fashion. In the lining the darts and seams are severely placed as ever, but under the bias effects the artist's folds and sculptor's drapery the identity of the position is almost lost.

White canvas shoes with tips and straps of white kid are being worn with Summer gowns. They are usually low, are laced on the instep and have half-high heels, although some of them are high and are laced up the ankles.



NEW YORK EVENING GOWN.

If your baby has cherry cheeks get her a yellow bonnet; if the lilies bloom in her face select a rose tint to fan them away. The small, sallow face may be relieved by a brown braid or brown muslin hat, brightened with a cluster of field flowers.

Figured gowns of silk, poplin, alpaca and cashmere for evening wear are very pretty made with a perfectly plain skirt and a draped short basque. With some soft plain silk of a contrasting tint make a shell ruching and finish the hem, cuffs and shoulders.

An effort will be made to introduce colors in the saddle at the Summer resorts. There is talk of white, gray, old-rose and almond brown habits with jockey caps to match, but the dark blue, invisible green and dead black are being made to order in the ladies' tailor shops.

Lace is gradually creeping into favor again and the new black piece goods show large patterns that are raised by an outline of cord, ribbon or kismet. This cloudy stuff is in demand for collars, jackets and shoulder pieces, girdles, hem facings and the whole list of mantles generally known as sling shoulders.

By all odds the sweetest thing in millinery is a fancy Milan braid, trimmed with gold ribbon bows and clusters of real ripe cherries. At the races, where the amenities are not always rigidly enforced, it is not unusual for the cavalier attendants to gobble up the tempting ox-hearts.

External applications are rarely beneficial. Frequent foot baths in hot water will never fail to lessen the quantity of blood in and about the head, and it is also a good plan to exercise the muscles by systematic breathing through the nose, taking in and exhaling [illegible]

Is there any use for other towels that have developed very thin "middles" and lost most of their fringe? If one has time to devote to such saving work, or if there are little girls in the family who need employment, my advice is to cut the towels down the center, lengthwise, and "over and over" the edges together. This gives a firm "middle," good enough to cut square wash cloths from, for those who like such, or to use for any other purpose for which soft old linen can be used. —Good Housekeeping.

A Feminine Freak.

Miss Ella Ewing, living near Rainbow, Mo., eighteen years old, is now 7 feet 5 inches high, weighs 225 pounds, wears a 15 shoe, which of course she has to have made to order, and her shoemaker had to order a special last. The girl's parents are of about the usual size, the father being possibly a little taller than the average man.

A RECTOR'S DOWNFALL.

Attempted to Drown Grief in Drink—A Sensational Incident Recalled.

LINCOLN, Ill., July 12.—A sensation was created yesterday when it became known that Rev. Oliver J. Booth, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, one of the wealthy and fashionable congregations of this section, had been removed by friends to an hospital in Chicago to recover from the effects of liquor. The clergyman went to Chicago recently to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who had refused to live with him. His mission was futile and he returned to this city in a nervous and unstrung condition.

Morose and melancholy over the loss of his wife's love, the unfortunate rector began to drown his sorrow in deep potations. Close to his lodging house was a saloon, to which he paid frequent visits every day. He bought liquor by the quart and consumed it in the solitude of his room. When the facts became known the bishop of the diocese demanded Mr. Booth's resignation. The rector refused to resign, and only when served with papers making him defendant in a divorce suit brought in Cook County by his wife did he obey his superior. By direction of the bishop he was sent to an Episcopal retreat in Chicago, where he now is. Mr. Booth is a native of St. Catharines, Ont.

BUFFALO, July 12.—Mr. Booth was formerly rector of Ascension Church, Buffalo, which position he assumed on the death of Rev. J. M. Henderson. Within a year after his coming here, or on Jan. 4, 1887, he journeyed to St. Catharines, Ont., his old home. On the train was Gen. Secy Smith of that city. The General approached the minister, a row followed and the General threatened to shoot. He was interrupted in the act by a brakesman who took away his revolver.

The General accused Mr. Booth with undue intimacy with his wife and claimed that he had written to his wife that he would meet her. Mr. Booth denied this, saying that he was on his way to St. Catharines to bring home his wife and children who had visited their old home during the holidays, and also to settle some affairs of his wife's estate.

A partial lull followed this breeze, but other acts on the part of the minister were alleged, ending finally in the retirement of Mr. Booth from this city and his pastoral charge.

Was Gibbings Drowned?

GODERICH, July 13.—Thomas Gibbings, a well-known resident of Clinton, was reported drowned last week. Gibbings came to Goderich on Dominion Day ostensibly to visit friends who reside here. On a stump near the International salt-block was found his coat, and close to that his hat was picked up, but no trace of Gibbings could be found. Near the pier was an old scow in which some surmised he had been rowing and had fallen out, but there was nothing further to bear out this theory. Some time was spent "dragging" the vicinity of the supposed accident, but that was soon given up, and the theory of suicide or drowned by accident was abandoned. It is now believed that Gibbings has gone to parts unknown, and that the placing of the hat and coat at the place named was with the design of giving an air of death by drowning to his disappearance. It has been ascertained that on the day of his disappearance he purchased a new suit of clothes here, and that he enjoyed the luxury of a clean shave and hair cut. It is also stated that he took train from Goderich the same day.

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE.

Some Interesting Suggestions About "Afternoon Tea."

To people of small or moderate means an "afternoon tea" offers a solution of a difficult problem. It is inexpensive, enjoyable, and in its simplicity above criticism. Concerning this pleasing form of hospitality Good Housekeeping has, among other useful suggestions, the following: When one feels one's house too small to comfortably accommodate the desired number, a good plan is for the hostess to send out her own visiting card, which is, by the way, the only correct invitation to such an affair as this, the card, in addition to the name, bearing the written or engraved words, "At home Thursdays in December."

Of course no reply is required to such informal invitations. The latter plan will do away with the danger of a crush, as people will not naturally all select the same day. More people, however, may be expected on the fourth afternoon, as in all such things procrastination is characteristic with many. But the guest once bidden, let the faith of the hostess in the simple form of her entertainment remain perfect, as it will if she owns the truly hospitable spirit. Let her remember that to ask a friend to break one's bread is a compliment, and to entertain according to one's means is always in good taste.

The lady who presides over the tea urn has a very dainty office to perform, but if she has a correct understanding of her duties she will not find her place a sinecure. The hostess cannot perform her task as such and preside at the tea table, but she will, if there be no daughter of the house, select some guest under her roof or an intimate friend to act for her. It is the duty of this person to see that each cup of tea which she dispenses, is as perfect as it is possible for her to make it, and one of the first requisites of this is heat. The English complain that it is impossible to get a cup of hot tea in America, and yet this difficulty is an easy one to overcome. But of the method of preparing this piece de resistance I will speak later. The water boiling the tea "drawn," a "cosy" should be pulled over the teapot to keep in the steam with which would escape much of the aroma. Before pouring a little boiling water should be left for a few moments in the cup. With these precautions our transatlantic friends will find no fault, though there may be some truth in the statement I once heard made that their throats, like a ship's bottom are "coppered."

Each guest will find the way to the tea table, and make her wishes known without waiting to be asked. Here let me say what would hardly appear needful but for many inquiries which have proved it so. No special introduction to the lady presiding is required. It is not only proper but obligatory that the guest show breeding as well as kindliness, by making, if need be, an effort to enter into conversation with her. The fact of meeting under the roof of a mutual friend is sufficient introduction. A witty and observing person should fill this place that she may aid in setting the ball of conversation rolling among those she gathers about her. In the drawing room even quite young children will prove useful in passing biscuits, tea and plates. The help of a servant will be needed most in quietly replenishing and removing dishes.

Apropos of dinners, one of the burning questions in society relates to the length of time that hosts should wait for dilatory guests on such occasions. There are a few people, most of them women, who are notoriously unpunctual, and it is embarrassing to decide whether dinner shall be kept waiting for them or whether it shall be served without their presence. According to The New York Sun, common sense declares that fifteen minutes' grace is enough to allow for difference in timepieces and for accidents, and that after that period has elapsed the banquet should go on with those who have arrived, and the others be allowed to come when they choose. A longer delay destroys appetites, is detrimental to the cookery, and where the theatre or the opera is to follow the pleasure of the evening may be spoiled by it.

Too much enthusiasm over new varieties sometimes ends in disgust. No new variety should be used in place of the old until it has first been tried and tested on a small plot.

Experiments with the Bordeaux mixture, as a remedy for grape-rot, is being made in every section this season, and it is believed that in a few years the disease will be under control.

From recent observations it is stated that there is reason for believing that fresh dirt thrown upon potato leaves when wet starts the mildew on the leaf, which later in the season results in blight.

The Accident at the Locks.

In justice to the young man who was in the canoe which was upset at the slide at the locks on Friday afternoon we might state that our informant on Saturday was in error when he said that the young man attempted to run the slide. The fact is the canoe was overturned above the slide and none of its occupants went over, although one young lady had a narrow escape. It was an unfortunate accident which attaches no blame to anyone.

Crowds for Stoney Lake.

The summer exodus to Stony Lake has set in in earnest this week. Citizens who are opulent enough to own a cottage are sending up furnishings and their families to follow. Citizens who are not opulent but who desire an outing are to live like the Arabs, in tents. In making up a list of supplies tea should not be forgotten. Let it be good. To ensure this latter desideratum buy your tea at Hawley Bros., the tea merchants, of George-st. Any quality, any blend. All good at the prices and the prices are good as the tea is superior. d1ltf

An Ode to Campers.

Camper, leave that worn out shoe,
Served its purpose—more than true,
Stood the racket, felt the wear,
Roads or sidewalk—foul or fair
Be the weather, well they've stood,
Clearly, buyer, well they should,
Doff them, try anew a pair,
Quality first-class, prices fair.
Canvas tops and rubber soles
Fit for gravel, rock or boles,
Joyous you will tread the brakes
Round the shores of Stony Lake,
Take your pleasure as you did,
Buy these rubber shoes of Kidd. d1ltf

Valuable Services Recognized.

Mr. Thos. Rutherford, Chief of the Fire Brigade, has received a cheque for fifty dollars from the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company "as a slight recognition of the services rendered by the Fire Brigade" at the recent fire at the Company's Works. The Brigade are always grateful when their services are recognized in any, and when the recognition is accompanied by a cheque they have no reason to doubt the sincerity of the gratitude. Chief Rutherford wishes, on behalf of the Brigade, to publicly return thanks to the Company for their handsome gift, which the men appreciate as a tangible recognition of the services they rendered.

WHO THREW THE STONE?

There was a disturbance at Halpin's hotel on Hunter-st. on Saturday, which furnished business for the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning until noon. As a result of the row, John Halpin was charged with disorderly conduct, Garrett McMurry, of Douro, was charged with having assaulted Cornelius Halpin and also with having been drunk and disorderly. It appears that a man named James Dwyer and Garrett and John McMurry, all of Douro, went to Halpin's hotel shortly before nine o'clock and wanted to get a meal. They were refused anything to eat, and it was said at the Police Court this morning that Dwyer got into a quarrel with Michael and Cornelius Halpin. The two McMurry's and Mrs. Halpin also took a hand in, for the purpose, so they say, of separating Dwyer and the two elderly men. Finally the three men went out and Mr. Cornelius Halpin, who is an old man, went to the back door and was struck in the mouth with a large stone by one of the men who was in the yard. Mr. Halpin's mouth was badly cut and his teeth were loosened. He was certain that the man who threw the stone was Garrett McMurry, and he told his son, Mr. John Halpin, that Garrett was the man. Mr. John Halpin, feeling indignant at the cowardly assault on his aged father, went out on the street and met McMurry and was proceeding to give him a thrashing when Constable Stewart appeared on the scene and arrested McMurray. After locking this man up the Constable went out and arrested John Halpin also for disorderly conduct. At the Police Court Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for John Halpin and pleaded guilty to the charge of striking McMurry but submitted the aggravating circumstances. The charge of assault laid by Corneilous Halpin against McMurry was taken up before any sentence was passed. Mr. Halpin, whose face bore the marks of the cowardly blow he had received from the stone, was certain that Garrett McMurry threw the missle. However the evidence to establish this identity was not strong, and the prisoner and his brother John, who was present at the row, swore that it was Dwyer who had raised all the row and that Garrett McMurry never threw the stone or was not in the back yard at all. The Magistrate looked upon it as a case of mistaken identity and discharged the prisoner on the charge, of assault and disorderly conduct. Having found that McMurry was not guilty of the assault upon Cornelius Halpin and Constable Stewart stating that John Halpin struck McMurry after he had taken him in custody the Magistrate fined John Halpin $10 and costs for disorderly conduct.

A Small Blaze.

Shortly after ten o'clock this morning an alarm of fire called out the brigade to Ashburnham where an incipient blaze had been discovered at the Ontario Canoe Company's factory on Elizabeth-st. The brigade was out promptly, but their services were not required, as the fire had been extinguished by the aid of the hose and water tanks in the factory. A spark from the smoke stack started the blaze on the roof, but no damage was done.

A Pair of Inebriates.

John O'Brien, an aged drunk who was remanded for a week for drunkenness, was brought down from the gaol this morning and discharged, promising to go to work at once. Members who propose attending the Long Island meet should at once notify Mr. M. T. Bennett, Room 24, No. 31 Broadway, New York City, of their intention to do so, and of the date on which canoes will be shipped. A reference to the circular-instructions now in the hands of members will afford additional information on this point.

Obituary.

The death is announced of Mr. John C. Robinson, of Bridgenorth, which took place on Sunday last, the 13th inst. Mr. Robinson was one of the oldest residents of Smith township having resided there since 1833. He was born in Birmingham, York, England, in 1823 and had reached the age of 67 years at time of death. He came to Canada when a child with his parents, late Christopher and Mary Robinson, and lived at the Front for three years. The family then removed to Smith where he grew up and resided. He was married to Mary eldest daughter of the late Matthew Waram. He had a family of eleven children three of whom are dead, others are living in the States and this district. Mr. Robinson was a faithful member of the Methodist church and generally respected. The funeral takes place on Tuesday, 14th inst., interment at Bridgenorth cemetery.

AT STONY LAKE.

The Cottages Filling up—New Additions to the Summer Residence.

(By a Correspondent.)

STONY LAKE, July 11.—The cottages on the numerous islands of this lake are being opened and occupied for the season. Stony Lake bids fair to be as popular, or more popular, than ever as a summer resort. From Peterborough and Lakefield people are coming up, either to stay for a time or for a day, in large numbers, and from across the lines—from Rochester and New York—tourists have already found their way here, some of them to remain during the season. The steamers on this route, the Cruiser and the Mary Ellen, are doing a good business, each day carrying a number of passengers, as well as camp and cottage baggage and freight and mail for those who are "up the lakes." Quite a number of

are being put us this season. I believe the REVIEW has already mentioned two or three of them. The one that has been the talk of the lake since it was commenced is a—shall I call it cottage, residence or summer mansion?—now nearly completed near Boschink narrows. It is being built for Capt. Sloan, of New York, and is situated on a pretty island in a good quarter. It is about 120 feet long and about twenty wide. A verandah surrounds the building, and in the centre there are two extensions. All the outhouses—bath, ice and boat—are complete, and the cottage is finished in ash. This cottage will, it is estimated, cost between $4,000 and $5,000. An arcade runs through the centre of the building, and the whole plan is designed with a view to pleasantness and comfort. The owner will bring a yacht with him in which the better to enjoy the fresh breezes and fine scenery of the lake. Mr. F. Lillicrap, of Lakefield, has just completed a fine cottage, Mr. D. H. Moore, of town, and Mr. J. Graham Weir have erected cottages on adjoining islands. Mr. H. Best and Shortly have also built, and Mr. R. W. Grubbe is building an addition to his cottage at Eel's creek. Rev. J. Carmichael, of Norwood, is also, I was informed, putting up a cottage, and Mr. John Richardson, of Lakefield, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Craig, of Belleville, and Mr. W. McDonald, of Lakefield, will have new cottages this season, while Dr. Bell, of Lakefield, is building an addition. There is talk of other building and if this sort of thing keeps on the steamers, with their most obliging officers and crews, will have all they can do to attend to the requirements

THE ISLAND POPULATION.

A convenience that the islanders enjoyed last year has again been established this season, for Mr. T. W. Robinson's store on Juniper Island, in charge of Mr. Hamilton, was opened to-day. Among the early arrivals who have already sought a retreat from business worries among the picturesque islands are Messrs. J. D. Collins, P. Conal, Sheriff Hall, Richard Hall, Wm. Hall and C. Wynn, of Peterborough. Mr. and Mrs. Lech came up yesterday, as did also Mrs. W. G. Ferguson, Mrs. Brodigan and Miss Caldwell. Mr. R. Hall came up to-day. Mr. J. G. Weir, of Otonabee, Mr. Hopkins, of the United States, Mr. Lillicrap and Dr. Bell, of Lakefield, have also come up for the summer, and Mr. R. C. Strickland's cottage is occupied. Mr. R. J. Kidd is occupying Mr. Grundy's cottage. The waters seem quite lively with boats, and probably other islands have been taken possession of for the season. The boats were well loaded to-day, among the passengers being some Toronto people who have before enjoyed the advantages of a summer's residence at Stony Lake.

The weather has not been all that could be desired for camping or cottaging, but the last couple of days have been delightful.

Capt. Eden has put the Dawn on the route from Lakefield to Bridgenorth, leaving Lakefield and Bridgenorth on alternate mornings.

Capt. Reynolds, the new master of the Cruiser, seems as familiar with the waters and islands as if he had spent his life running the Cruiser on these Lakes, and he is as courteous and obliging as he is competent—which is saying a good deal.

The Mary Ellen, under the charge of the genial Capt. Scollard, is doing a good business, and is another popular boat.

Huckleberries are ripening and there are signs of a good crop.

The Orangemen at Cobourg.

The Orangemen who went to Cobourg on Saturday monrning from this town and district arrived home about eight o'clock on Saturday night. The glorious 12th was celebrated with more enthusiasm and display than for many years in Cobourg and the brethren from this district were immensely pleased with the success of the day. Everything went off most successfully and there was an entire absence of anything which could cast any stain on the good name of the Order. When the train having on board the Peterborough brethren pulled into the Cobourg station they were met by the Cobourg lodge and band. A procession was formed and the principal streets paraded. The procession proceeded from the G.T.R. station southward along Division-st. to Chapel, thence to King, along King to Bagott, and counter-marched to Victoria hall, where the lodges were dismissed for dinner. At 1.30 o'clock the procession reformed at Victoria hall and proceeded to Boulton's grove, where addresses were delivered, after which the visiting brethren were escorted to the railway station at 5 p.m. to take the train for home.

200 PERSONS DROWNED.

A TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE ON LAKE PEPIN.

A Steamer and Barge Struck by a Cyclone and Two Hundred or More People Swept to a Watery Grave.

By Telegraph to the Review.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—Late yesterday afternoon the steamer Seawing left Lake City, where the State militia are in camp, bound on her homeward trip to Redwing; and several small towns along the shore of Lake Pepin, with 200 passengers on board and having in tow a barge which carried 100 more. When in the middle of the lake off Lake City, the cyclone struck the boat. She became unmanageable at once. The barge was cut loose and after an hour the Seawing drifted to shore with about twenty persons on board. The other two hundred or more were drowned. Among those lost were some of the best known and most prominent people of Redwing and vicinity.

THE SINGLE TAX SYSTEM.

First of a Series of Letters on this System of Taxation—An Explanation of the Single Tax.

At the request of the Single Tax Association of Peterborough and of the REVIEW, Mr. J. Hampden Burnham will contribute a short series of articles on this subject. The first of the series is given to-day.

THE SINGLE TAX SYSTEM.

Taxation is something intimately connected with the affairs of every nation. The necessity for it is not denied. The system of taxation at present employed is, however, unjust. This is universally admitted. It were waste of time, then, to proceed to its demonstration.

The question at once arises, "What is the proper system of taxation?" The answer, I imagine, is, such a change as will remove this injustice or else the substitution of another plan. Men were originally started in life with the materials for fully supplying all that was necessary for the proper consummation of their earthly existence. They lost possession of some of these materials long ago when what was intended for public weal was appropriated for private gain. Land was one of these instruments of supply. We postulate that a humane and just Creator furnished all the land that was required or will ever be required, as land for the sustenance of men. This supply can be shortened only by the action of men themselves. The appropriation by one man of more land than is necessary for him will evidently reduce the supply. This has been done. Individuals have taken to themselves quantities of land which they have fenced in by a premium upon its use and occupation, called "rent." Even if plenty were left it is quite clear that no man has a right to the exclusive enjoyment of that which he has not produced in any way. It is a breach of trust toward the Creator in regard to his fellowmen. If, however, all men agree that a rent or tax accruing to the commonwealth shall be placed upon that which is the property of all by the first gift, so that no man shall be allowed to take advantage of an unearned privilege then no charge of injustice can be made. Such a charge involves a contradiction. If the general public agree upon a single tax they have a right to do so. Is this proceeding—this single tax wise? Since there must be public contribution to carry on a public government, it is wise and scientifically correct to tax public property. Is anything else of public property susceptible of taxation or contribution? Land (including water and minerals) is alone of material things susceptible of such a taxation in regard to the general public. Morality and human sympathy are susceptible of and do yield to the execution of a public duty. Are the products of the industry and thrift of men properly amenable to such taxation? The answer is in the negative. All men do not engage in production either with their hands or heads, therefore such a tax would be unjust. Let it be granted then that the single tax is the proper one. How, or in what relation should it be imposed? By means of the value of the land.

All land has a value, some infinitesimally small, some extravagantly large. Taxation should be like the diffusion of water, always towards a level. To say that land should be taxed is to state only half the proposition, the other half is "in relation to its value." Is "the value of land" an individual production of which we have spoken and which would be unjustly injured if taxed? Certainly not. It is made by the Public alone and such a tax does not in any sense violate the correctness of the original proposition. It must always be borne in mind that when "land" is mentioned "land exclusive of improvements" is intended. Political economists have been ages in developing or in discovering what are now regarded as the elementary principles of political economy. Unfortunately for the great mass of wage-workers these elementary principles have remained unapplied. Mr. Henry George is the apostle of the application of these truths. Advocates of the Single Tax differ even now but only in minor details and in nothing subversive of the true principle. Mr. George says that value does not attach to all land. Though it may seem grotesque to differ from the opinions of so great a man still I hold that to admit that all land has a value though of different degree is more distinctly in consonance with scientific accuracy. J.H.B.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting on Saturday evening was well attended, and a delightful praise and prayer service was enjoyed by all.

Mr. John Kennedy led the consecration meeting Sabbath morning. It was a season of refreshing to the large number present

Our first open air service was held in the Central Park yesterday afternoon. It was so gratifying to see the large number of young men who, by their conduct, showed how much they enjoyed the service. The singing was hearty, being led by Mr. John Miller on the cornet. These helpful services will be held (D.V.) each Sabbath afternoon during the summer months.

Rev. B. Canfield Jones, of Port Hope, gave a very practical address on the parable of the "Prodical Son" at the Gospel and song service. The attendance was good and valuable lessons brought out by Mr. Jones is sure to do much good.

BRIDGENORTH NOTES.

Meeting of Orange Lodge No. 178—Chemong Park Doings—Notes of the Park.

Correspondence of the Review.

VOTE OF THANKS.—At a special meeting of Jubilee L. O. Lodge, No. 178, Smith, on Tuesday evening, July 8th, it was moved by Bro. R. N. Scott, seconded by Bro. Ed. Sanderson, That this Lodge desires to return thanks to the trustees and the members of the Methodist church, Bridgenorth for their kindness in allowing us the use of their fine church on the occasion of our annual church parade, and also to the Rev. Mr. Houck for the very able and instructive sermon delivered to us, and that the Secretary send them a copy of this resolution.

CHEMONG PARK.—The cottages in the park are nearly all occupied and every one will be taken up in the course of a few days. There is several new ones going up which will be finished in a short time. This is the place for the business men of Peterborough to spend their summer holidays. Bring out your families, but first buy a lot and build a cottage, as this is going to be the finest place in Ontario before long. Your children can romp and play and grow healthy and strong and have a good time in general, and you can attend to your business every day and come out every evening in good time for tea and lots of time to have a fish before dark by taking "Bob's" bus, which leaves town every evening at 5 o'clock, except Saturday, when it leaves at 3 o'clock.

NOTES.—Mr. Elliott has had three fine flags placed in the park, one very fine one has the name of the park printed in large white letters, he has also had large swings erected, also tables for picnic parties. Messrs. F. Bell, G. Fitzgerald, G. Hutchinson and Rutherford, are erecting new cottages. Arrangements are about completed to build a large summer hotel, to be ready for next season.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

THE FUTURE QUEEN OF ENGLAND

A Lovely Woman With a Most Magnificent Figure.

H. R. H. the Princess Victoria of Teck, daughter of Princess Mary of Teck, one of the German royalties is a tall, fair girl, with rather full face and blue-gray eyes. She is lucky enough to have such a wide shoulder and swelling bust as are seen to best advantage in a tailor made gown. Her figure is truly magnificent, and she is reckoned among the divinest and fairest daughters of Europe. Princess Victoria is 18 years of age, and is partially engaged to Prince Albert Victor eldest son of the Prince of Wales and heir-apparent to the throne of England. The Prince is much in love with the charming Victoria, but his grandmother, the Queen and his father, do not as yet quite approve of the match. "Collars and Cuffs" as the Prince is facetiously called is the Princess' second cousin, and has been fortunate enough to gain her favor. The Princess is a very cultivated and clever woman and is admirably fitted to fill the position she may in the future be called upon to occupy—that of Queen of England. The accompanying cut is from one of the latest photographs of the beautiful girl that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak today. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. We are going to quote prices that are lower than asked by any other dealer. If you are wanting or will want in this line this year, you cannot afford to ignore this opportunity.

'Tis An Old Saying

AIRY FAIRY FABRICS.

THE VERY LATEST FASHIONS FOR SUMMER WEAR.

Charming Costumes, Dainty Dresses and Graceful Gowns—Jaunty Jackets and Marvellous Mantles—Pretty Parasols and Beautiful Bonnets—Summer Styles in London, Paris and New York.

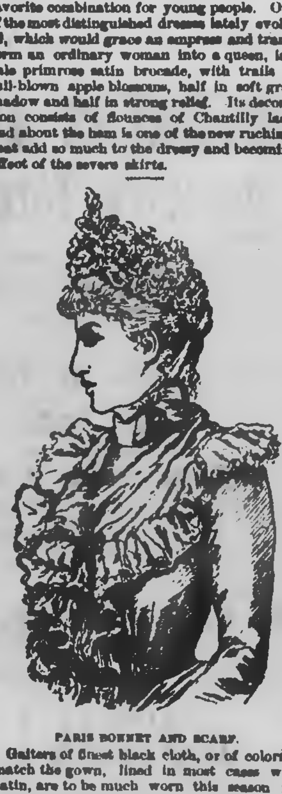
To keep cool is a study, but with grass linen underwear, corsets which are a strap of linen with puffings of gauze and the lightest of lawn and Shanghai silk above, a woman finds the nineties endurable in the shade.

All the new ideas in dress are airy as possible. The figured India and French silks are made with plain gathered skirts, trimmed with two broad insertions of black lace above the wide hem. Or the new French fashion is adopted of six or eight three-inch ribbons in contrast to the dress carried down the front and sides, a quarter of a yard apart, and knotted in a square bow with four short loops and two long ones, known as the windmill bow, because it recalls the rosette effect of flyers and sails. Ribbon gowns are very airy, of wide black lace insertion, with ovals through which narrow ribbon is threaded, and these lengths are set together by wider ribbon of the same or contrasting color, the whole mounted on a foundation of silk.

Very pretty jackets and lace skirts are made of this insertion striped with fine ribbon, and are inexpensive; the lace five inches wide, of firm quality and selling at 25 cents a yard, with eyelets for five and seven lines of the narrowest ribbon.

The handles of parasols are shorter, and the parasols themselves increase in size. The effort to introduce the tartan covers has so far proved unsuccessfully and it is doubtful if they will be much used except with special dresses. Very pretty full dress sunshades are trimmed down the ribs with frilled chiffon and decorated with huge bows of ribbon at the top. Mousseline de soie sunshades are edged with lace and vandyked toward the top. Crepe de chine parasols, with a cascade of transparent material or lace down every seam, look more like huge flowers than anything else, and are extremely dainty and dressy. But the greatest novelty is the "Pedestrienne" sunshade, which will be eagerly appropriated by ladies. Everyone knows the woman's trick of transforming her downturned sunshade into a basket for the reception of flowers, weeds, and grasses on her country rambles, though she suffer much discomfort meanwhile from the rays of the sun upon her unprotected face. Some clever genius has conceived the original idea of producing a sort of double headed sunshade, which, contrary, to the axiom, can do two things at the same time very successfully. The upper part resembles the ordinary sunshade, but in the handle is inserted a miniature parasol in a reverse position which, opening outward, forms a convenient receptacle for the freshly gathered flowers. To a lady gathering nosegays in her own well-ordered garden on a sunny morning the invention would be acceptable, while to the pedestrienne it is indeed a delight and joy.

All tones of yellow are considered most chic and correct in costumes for both simple and elaborate occasions, and black and white is a favorite combination for young people. One of the most distinguished dresses lately evolved, which would grace an empress and transform an ordinary woman into a queen, is a pale primrose satin brocade, with trails of full-blown apple blossoms, half in soft gray shadow and half in strong relief. Its decoration consists of flounces of Chantilly lace, and about the hem is one of the new ruchings that add so much to the dressy and becoming effect of the severe skirts.



PARIS BONNET AND SCARF.

Gaiters of finest black cloth, or of colors to match the gown, lined in most cases with satin, are to be much worn this season for wearing over walking shoes. They are cooler and easier than boots and answer the same purpose, for town wear especially. The best ones are most carefully made and fitted and button up like a boot.

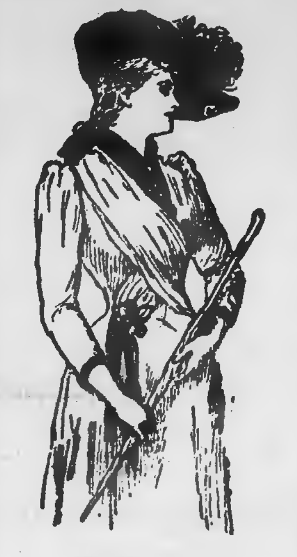
Among novelties in millinery are the flower toques, which promise to be popular this season for youthful heads, one in corn-flowers and yellow crocus on a rolled band of blue velvet, and another cowslips, with two large black lace butterflies, being especially pretty. A fancy black crinoline hat, much bent up and almost hidden by a mass of shaded corn-flowers, is finished off at the back with a band of the field blossoms resting on the hair.

Among bonnets is one composed of bands of rolled red velvet, with large half beads of cut jet placed in between, two red silk rosettes and a large butterfly of black lace. Another of cream Tuscan, edged with tinted lilac, had the open space above laced across with gold ribbon, which emerged at the back and formed strings.

Velvet ribbon is beginning to be worn about the neck again, and the advent of collarets of velvet will be hailed with delight by thin women. The collaret is made of piece velvet shaped to fit the neck, and is fringed with pearls and beaded with a single row of diamonds. Jet coronets, long in disfavor, are now seen gleaming in fluffy hair, and anything fanciful in the way of hair ornaments that is not too high is allowable, not only in the coiffure, but on a part of the bonnet or dress hat.

A charming racing costume is of pale coral and white striped canvas, bordered with silk galon checked in the same colors. The drapery is opened on one side over a skirt of coral faille of a peculiar shade holding a tint of yellow, and the bodice is somewhat elaborate, being composed of coral faille, with folded vest and sleeves of the canvas, just touched here and there with gold and coral embroidery.

A piquant jaunty dress of the same character is of white serge, with fine lines of dark red and woven borders about eight inches deep of red spotted with white moons. The gown is made with a loose-fronted polonaise draped over a plain skirt, and has a half handkerchief fichu of the spotted material falling from the throat to the waist.



LONDON'S LATEST HAT.

Mantles are fantastic and elaborate, and come in an endless variety of styles. This is a jet season, and handsome jet trimmings brighten up almost every handsome wrap. Lace is used in great profusion, and velvet is once more restored to favor. Very beautiful guipure work, edged with fringe quite a quarter of a yard deep, exactly shaped to the shoulders, and half the front and back, of the bodice is connected with a bit of silk down the centre of the back to form one of the prettiest mantles seen. The guipure is usually accompanied with beads, though sometimes it is worked like chain armor in the silk with a fringe of beads. Pretty summer models have bodices of jetted velvet with lace sleeves and skirts, or sleeves of long jet fringes with the lace skirts, which are very effective over a colored dress.

In gloves the craze is still for the seamless kids with their mysterious fastenings. Mrs. Langtry has ordered a dozen pairs of them, and other fastidious women find them faultless in fit, and especially well suited to plump hands. New driving gloves are of white cheverette suede with linings in the thumb and fingers of tan kid, and are fastened with four buttons. They have embroidery of thick silk in white, cream, or lavender up the back. Very quaint gauntlet gloves, intended to be worn with lace sleeve ruffles, have three little straps and buckles placed at intervals, through which the ruffles are revealed with pretty effect.

The latest whim, particularly if the gloves are intended as a souvenir, is to have the fair wearer's name embroidered in silk at the top, in exact facsimile of her chirography, with a dash beneath.

Some gloves recently designed to be worn with a black and silver dress were of black, and embroidered very daintily up the back of the arm in silver; but this decoration is as yet hardly well established and rarely seen.

Rules for a Clear Skin.

You want to keep your skin nice all summer? Well, then, here are some rules for you;

Don't bathe in hard water; soften it with a few drops of ammonia, or a little borax.

Don't bathe your face while it is very warm, and never use very cold water for it.

Don't wash your face when you are traveling unless it is with a little alcohol and water, or a little vaseline.

Don't attempt to remove dust with cold water; give your face a hot bathe, using plenty of good soap, then give it a thorough rinsing with water that has had the chill taken off it.

Don't rub your face with a coarse towel just remember that it is not made of cast-iron, and treat it as you would the finest porcelain—gently and delicately.

Don't use a sponge or linen rag for your face; use instead a flannel one.

Don't believe you can get rid of wrinkles by filling in the crevices with powder. Instead give your face a Russian bath every night that is, bathe it with water so hot that you wonder how you can stand it, and then, a moment later, with cold water that will make it glow with warmth; dry it with a soft towel and go to bed, and you ought to sleep like a baby while your skin is growing firmer and coming from out of the wrinkles, and you are resting.

Care of the Nails.

The nails should be cut carefully once a week before washing, for if soft one is apt to cut them too short. When washing rub diligently every knuckle and every nail with the rag. The hand cannot be rubbed too long. With the nail of one finger push down the flesh around another and clean the nails with one another while still in the hot suds. Then rinse and put on glycerine, rubbing very long; then rinse this off and put on almond flour, which will give softness and gloss to the skin. When this is rinsed off and the hands dried carefully the result is a success.

Never use either scissors or anything sharp under the nail, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. If a cleaner is necessary, fold a piece of the edge of a newspaper into a point, and use that. Then polish the nails with the chamois rubber, and finally rub the nails upon your cheek and all the oil necessary will be obtained.

Should any stain like shoe polish or ink get under the nail put on some cold cream, and after rubbing carefully rinse off with hot water. When fruit picking and preserving time comes rub a little butter on the finger tips and under the nails; then rinse off with hot water before using soap, as the soap is apt to set the stain.

Serving a Pineapple Ice.

The delicate water ice made from a rich flavored pineapple should be served in round molds on a low crystal platter, decorated with a wreath of whipped cream, flavored with pineapple juice and candied pieces of the fruit, and with the green tuft of the leaves set in the center of the cream. This is the tempting fashion in which The Hotel Grande would have it.

Sudden Death of Dr. O'Reilly.

KINGSTON, July 13.—Dr. William T. O'Reilly, Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities for Ontario, died suddenly here yesterday, aged 55 years.

The Pan-American Railway.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 12.—The first step towards the great Pan-American Railway from North to South America was taken here to-day. Ground was broken for the Corpus Christi and South American Railway. The first division is 150 miles long and extends from the Rio Grande to Corpus Christi, at which point it connects with the railway system of the United States. The Mexican and United States authorities participated and a national salute was fired across the Rio Grande.

A Chicago Judge's Morning Work.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Judge Jamieson had 38 divorce cases on his docket this morning. Two decrees were granted for adultery, five for desertion, three for drunkenness, two for cruelty and one for conviction of a felony. The other cases were dismissed for non-appearance of the complainants.

An A. P. Snake Story.

CARTHAGE, Ills., July 12.—A huge black snake was killed in the Exchange Bank of Cheill, Soliet county, yesterday. The bank is on a principal street, and nobody saw the snake enter. The reptile had swallowed two large packages of notes and was about to escape with the plunder.

Silk That is Missing.

DUNDAS, July 12.—On July 1 John Silk, who has been working for Thomas Nicholson, a Saltfleet farmer, for three years, went to Toronto, intending to return the same night. Since then he has not been seen or heard of, and Mr. Nicholson is alarmed about his disappearance. Silk is about 23 years old. He wore a black suit and a Christy stiff hat. He had only $5 with him when he went away. There is $50 coming to him from Mr. Nicholson.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

DAVID DUDLEY FIELD'S ADDRESS AT THE PEACE CONGRESS.

Italy's Mobilization Scheme—Sweden's Hostility to Russia—Nothing Short of War Likely to Settle the Bulgarian Question—The Zanzibar Protectorate.

LONDON, July 15.—The address delivered by Mr. David Dudley Field at the Universal Peace Congress created a veritable sensation, both in respect of the manner of the speaker and the matter of his speech. Mr. Field cited the United States as a most conspicuous example of sovereign powers living together in perfect peace and harmony, and ascribed their entirely amicable relations to the principle of arbitration vested in the general Government and so universally accepted as to render resort to it most infrequent. He regarded the modern willingness of powers to submit their disputes to arbitration as one of the hopeful signs of an era of peace. He honored the wisdom which had directed the settlement of the African dispute between England and Germany, a settlement which had set an example for the world. During the century he said, 16 shillings of each pound sterling of national debt throughout the civilized world had been expended in the maintenance of armies and the prosecution of wars.

A report was in circulation yesterday that Mr. Gladstone was ill and his absence from the sitting of the procedure committee lent to it a strong semblance of the truth. On the strength of the rumor hundreds of reporters and friends called at Mr. Gladstone's residence to obtain information as to his condition and express their sympathy. Mr. Gladstone's appearance in his usual good health and spirits attested the falsity of the report and the callers departed satisfied and pleased that they had been mildly hoaxed.

The Italian Government is engaged in devising new and elaborate plans of mobilization of its land forces, a movement which is strikingly at variance with the very recent assurances by Premier Crispi of the gratifying outlook for prolonged peace.

As the audience was assembling at the Illusionist Theatre in Rome Sunday evening the building suddenly took fire. The people who had entered the theatre beat a hasty retreat and drove back those who were attempting to enter. The fire brigade were powerless to check the flames and the structure was rapidly burned to the ground. Fortunately no one was injured, but had the fire occurred an hour later frightful loss of life must have resulted.

Considerable feeling is aroused in St. Petersburg by the statement ascribed to the King of Sweden, that, while in the event of war between Germany and any other power he would remain neutral as long as possible, he would fight, if compelled to take part, on the side of Germany. This is regarded as a declaration of hostility toward Russia, whom the Swedes have never forgiven for the annexation of Finnland.

The Russian newspapers indicate a conviction that nothing short of war can settle the Bulgarian question satisfactorily to Russia. The temper of the Bulgarians is warlike and it is more than doubtful that they would be [illegible] to accept any prince whom the powers would agree to place over them.

Not much importance is attached to the encounters between Turks and Montenegrins near the Montenegrin frontier. The people of the two nations on the borders have for a long time been quarreling over some pasture land, the ownership of which is disputed, and the quarrel has more than once given rise to bloodshed.

The English cabinet has discovered that the same agreement which bound England and France to respect the independence of Zanzibar also required the two countries not to interfere with the independence of Madagascar. Notwithstanding this France has violated the agreement by establishing a protectorate over Madagascar against the consent of the native rulers, and England, it is claimed, has an equal right to establish a protectorate over Zanzibar.

The Behring Sea Question.

LONDON, July 15.—In the House of Commons yesterday Sir James Fergusson declined to make any statement regarding the Behring Sea question in view of the present state of the negotiations on that subject. He said, however, that voluminous papers relating to the Behring Sea troubles would soon be laid before Parliament.

The Cholera Advancing.

LONDON, July 15.—A Madrid special says the cholera is spreading to more towns in the Province of Valencia. There were 35 new cases and 10 deaths reported yesterday, one death occuring in the city of Valencia. The authorities at Castello de Rugato concealed the fact that the disease raged there for a fortnight, 50 cases occurred at that place, 17 of which proved fatal. The fact that the disease prevailed was concealed to avoid the isolation of the place. A suspicious case has been received at a hospital in Madrid.

Wrecked by a Misplaced Switch.

RICHMOND, July 15.—Yesterday an eastbound passenger train on the James division of the C. & O. Railway ran into a freight train at Gladstone. The engine was slightly damaged. A negro tramp riding on the tracks of the baggage car was killed. Engineer Clowes of Richmond had his ankle hurt; Fireman W. G. Miller, Richmond, his ankle hurt; J. E. Turner, clerk in the Richmond yard, hip cut; Joseph Hargrave, ankle hurt. Passenger Fireman W. B. Holt of Richmond was killed. The cause of the accident was a misplaced switch.

MINNESOTA IN MOURNING

APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE IN THE WATERS OF LAKE PEPIN.

Sixty-eight of the Dead at Lake City Identified—It is Feared that at Least as Many More Lie at the Bottom of the Lake—The Lake Gervais Disaster.

RED WING, July 15.—The early reports of the disaster which overtook the steamer Seawing on Lake Pepin did not exaggerate the terrible loss of life. At least 100 lives were lost, and it is feared that the death roll may be swelled to 125 or 150. Seventy-five bodies were recovered yesterday. It is probable there are yet 50 or 60 people missing in addition. It is thought that all of these are in the wreck, which lies off the point near Lake City. The undertaking establishments here are crowded with friends of the dead and many cases of prostration have occurred. Business is completely at a standstill. John Gerkin, wife and five children, comprising the entire family, are among the dead. "Red" Mero, a brother of Charles Mero, an insurance agent of Minneapolis, and his entire family were drowned. They went down wrapped in each other's arms and were picked up last night floating together in the embrace of death. The scenes at the morgue are simply indescribable.

SAVED 16 LIVES.

Corporal Perry's Heroism — Sixty-Eight Bodies Identified.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 15.—Corporal B. L. Perry of St. Paul saw the wreck of the Seawing and at once hastened to the spot to render assistance. Finding a man standing near a boat on the shore he asked to be taken out to the overturned steamer. When the man refused Perry threatened to kill him unless his orders were obeyed, and with the help of his unwilling assistant he saved the lives of 15 or 16 women. Adjutant-General Mullen says the man has earned a commission.

From early morning a patrol of row boats was kept up all over the neighborhood of the wreck looking for bodies. Several were found in that way Sunday night and a small boy was found floating and yelling three miles down the lake from the disaster. Battery A of St. Paul kept up a cannonading during the day, trying to raise bodies, but without success. The little steamer Wanderer tried unsuccessfully to pull the wreck apart, and then the Ethel Howard came up the river and with the assistance of the Luella pulled apart the frame of what had been the top of the steamer. The Luella then pulled the Seawing up out of the water, releasing three bodies, one woman and two young men. Alice Palmer of Trenton, was one of them, but the two men have not been identified. This makes a total of 65 bodies now identified. It was stated yesterday that to keep the water out of the cabin and to keep the people under shelter, Captain Weathern had locked the door of the cabin. If this is true it may explain much of the loss of life, although the loss would still have been great.

Estimates vary as to the total number of dead. There were over 300 persons on the steamer and barge when they started to return to Red Wing, very few remaining behind on account of the storm, although many protested against the proposal to steam up the lake in the face of such a gale as was then blowing. Of the whole number it is known positively that about 50 were saved. More may have escaped, but only this many are known at this time to be safe. That would leave about 150 victims of the disaster, but everyone hopes the number will not go beyond 125. A good number are still in the wreck, and a great many are in the bottom of the lake where the gale first struck the steamer. Just how many will not be known for some time yet.

During the morning a systematic patrol of the water over which the hulls had drifted, after being first struck by the gale, had been kept up by citizens of Lake City. After the last bodies had been taken from the wreck Adjutant-General Mullen pressed into service all the rowboats within reach, and with four soldiers in each boat began late this afternoon a thorough dragging of the lake all about the scene of the disaster. No bodies were found, and at dark the search was abandoned for the day. Dynamite will be used to-day. There were a good many who made use of the life preservers, but probably none had as good and as much use of them as had Robert Adams, the 17-year-old son of Dr. Adams, of Lake City, and another boy, whose home is in Red Wing. They secured three life preservers and were in the water for six hours before being rescued. Young Adams could swim, but his companion could not. They had the good sense to float quietly and not attempt to fight against the waves to the shore. During the time they were in the water, from 9 to 3, they were buffeted by the billows and blown hither and thither by the gale. They first drifted about a mile down past the town, and then a change in the wind carried them up the river to Frontenac, seven miles from here, where they were rescued by Dr. Kain and party, still alive and well, but considerably the worse for their hard experience.

Following is a revised list of the dead or those missing and known to be dead at Lake City: Mamie Adams, Mrs. Bakeley and two children, Miss Brennan, Katie Burkhardt, Phœbe Pierson, John Bahrus and wife, Charley Brown, Fred Christ, Eddie Christoferson, Katie Davis, Katie Daly, Charles Dinstage, John Engelbertson, Miss Fentes, Minnie Fisher, Ira Fulton, Peter Gerkin, wife and five children, Mrs. Merritt Green, Miss Ida Green, Fred. Hempling and wife, Herman Hempling, Wm. Hempling, Lizzie Hempling, Fred. Battemeyer, Will Hippe, George Harris, Theodore Hardwell, Lizzie Ann Harrison, Mabel Holten, Theodore Hornedel, Mrs. Humber, Arthur Haglen, Cora Johnson, Thomas Leason, Myrtle Mero, Nellie Myles, Emma Nelson, George Nelson, Owen Osky, Sadie Pearson, Julie Persig, Annie Persig, Alice Palmer, Nettie Palmer, K. Peterson, C. H. Roheder, two children of Mrs. Scuenberg and daughter, Mrs. F. Sherf and daughter, Annie Steiger, Francis Steiger, Fred Severes and daughter, Henry Stiffney, Floy Smith, Mrs. Slawson, John Schaffler, wife and two children, John Strope, Annie Snyder, Miss Zebrame, Mary Skoglund, Mrs. Nellie Wethern, Pearl Wethern, Addie Wing and sister, Bertha Winters, O. A. Anderson, Leon Creamer, Johanna Humphert, Mrs. Ed. Larson, Mrs. Ole Nelson, Mary Obern, Martin O'Shaughnessy.

Knute Peterson's body was found about a mile up the shore. The watches on the other bodies had stopped at from 6¼ to 6¾, showing pretty accurately the time of the wreck, but Peterson's watch had kept going for some three hours in the water and stopped at 11¼. Major Fitzgerald, surgeon of the regiment, who had charge of the hospital corps and also of the arrangements for handling the bodies, says death was very quick in every case and there was scarcely an evidence of any struggle on the part of the dying. Neither had the bodies any marks of injury upon them. The fact that the militia were within easy call undoubtedly resulted in the saving of many lives.

MRS. EACHUS' STORY.

ST. PAUL, July 15.—Mrs. (Dr.) Eachus, a daughter of Mr. Good, who was an inmate of the Good cottage which was destroyed at Lake Gervais, tells this story:

All our family were in the house waiting upon company. We noticed the storm approaching. Some of the household suggested we get into the cellar. My husband and I were standing at the window while the others were scattered around the house and all suggesting some place of security. After a few moments the great spinning cloud reached the centre of the lake and I saw the water divide and overflow the banks some 40 feet. As papa was looking out the door he saw the trees near the Mullanch cottage crash beneath the whirlwind, and then Mullanch's cottage was swept away, and then our barn was blown broadside against our house. Just at this time my husband threw me bodily down the cellar stairs, and I landed into the potato bin. Then he threw Miss King and Mr. Macpherson jumped after. My husband then tumbled down and called to the rest to follow. The building crushed in upon us, and then portions of it were hurled skyward. Trees were blown by and a huge ice chest fell into the cellar and pinned us all down. As we lay there in the painful refuge we heard the Schurmair house crash and scatter timbers in all directions. For 15 minutes the timbers and furniture of both houses were hurled about the site of the houses.

After our release from the cellar we began looking for members of the household. We found them scattered about. Minnie Mass lay in the road, her head cut and her mouth bleeding badly. Carrie, her sister, was pinned under a tree and I guess the girl is hurt internally. While I was dashing through the mud I ran across the body of George Miller, dead and mangled. His wife also was buried beneath the wreck and hurt quite badly. Mrs. Hastings and her daughter Stella were badly bruised, and Mrs. Hastings will loose the sight of an eye.

A BAD FRENCH-CANADIENNE.

She Helps Her Brother to Murder Her Husband—Arrested Across the Line.

BOSTON, July 15.—At daylight yesterday Superintendent Cornish of the Pinkerton detective agency arrested at the Arrow House, near Newton, N.H., a Canadian woman, Leda Lamontagne, aged 20, on a charge of arson. A few years ago she married Napoleon Michel in Wolfestown, Que. Not long after their marriage the husband charged his wife with improper relations with her own brother, Remi Lamontagne. On the night of July 19, 1889, the brother came to the house bringing a bottle of whisky. The wife admitted him and all drank of the liquor. Remi left the house for a few minutes. On his return his sister again admitted him. As soon as he entered the house he opened fire on Michel, shooting him in several places, and afterwards cut his throat. The brother and sister then placed the body of the supposed dead man on a mattress, set fire to the house and ran away. The dying man, roused by the fire, succeeded in crawling through a window, and reached the house of a neighbor named Bonche. The woman sought shelter in the house of another neighbor. Later she went to the house of Bonche, not knowing that her husband was also there. Bonche suspected her and set officers on her track. She was arrested and acquitted. She fled before a new indictment charging her with arson could be procured. After her arrest in New Hampshire she was brought to Boston.

IT IS MURDER OR SUICIDE.

A Supposed Hamilton Man Found Dead in the Grand River.

CAYUGA, July 15.—There was taken from the Grand River Sunday evening near Cayuga, the body of a stout man about 5 feet 11 inches in height, supposed from papers on his person to be that of James Cleland, who lately was an inmate of the Hamilton general hospital. Whether it is a case of murder or one of suicide the jury has not determined, though the consensus of opinion inclines to the latter.

HAMILTON, July 15.—The authorities of the hospital say that no man of the name of James Cleland has been an inmate of the hospital within many weeks, and they have never heard of any such man.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, July 15.—Options on three-fourths of the T., H. & B. Company's right of way through the city have been secured. Four surveyors are now at work on the route between Hamilton and Welland. It is probable that the company's head offices will be in the old postoffice building. An offer has been made to the Government for the building, and it is likely to be accepted. The price offered is said to be $15,000.

The McGillivray abduction cases were yesterday postponed until Wednesday. Counsel have nearly completed the details of a settlement.

Big Fire in Wheatley, Ont.

LEAMINGTON, July 15.—The village of Wheatley, about nine miles from here, was on Saturday night visited by a disastrous fire. It started in Underwood's livery barn and soon spread over the remainder of the block, which consists of Merrith's barn, Lightfoot's hardware store, McLean's butcher shop, Scott's general store, the postoffice and telegraph office and Eastman's general store. The latter building was owned by Lewis Wigle, ex-M.P. Messrs. Scott and Eastman are the heaviest sufferers, but are well covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Another Niagara Tragedy.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. July 15.—An unknown man aged 25, said to be from Buffalo, jumped on the parapet at Prospect Point in the New York state reservation at 3½ yesterday afternoon, and in full view of a number of visitors leaped into the boiling flood at the edge of the falls.

Johnny MacDougall, son of the late chief of the Ontario police, fell over the precipice near Wesley Park yesterday afternoon and was fatally injured.

Burglary at Roslin.

ROSLIN, July 15.—An attempt was made at 2 o'clock yesterday morning to blow open the safe of James Holbert at Thomasburg, but the burglars were surprised in the act and fled. The tools left behind were stolen from Hudson's wagon shop here. The thieves also broke open Miss Hewitt's store here but secured nothing of value. The object of the raid was probably to get hold of $800 in Mr. Hudson's charge, the proceeds of the Orange demonstration here.

Nova Scotia's New Governor Sworn.

HALIFAX, July 15.—The oath of office was administered to Lieut.-Gov. M. B. Daly by Chief Justice McDonald yesterday morning in the presence of the judges of the Supreme Court and many prominent citizens.

MISTAKES OF M'KINLEY.

SET FORTH IN A LETTER FROM SECRETARY BLAINE.

The Free Sugar Basis of the United States Tariff Bill Closes the Door to Reciprocity With Latin America—An Opportunity to Benefit the Farmer Lost.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—This letter from Secretary Blaine was received to-day by Senator Frye:

BAR HARBOR, ME., July 11, 1890.

DEAR MR. FRYE,—I have just received intelligence from the highest commercial authority in Havana, that American flour under the new duties imposed by Spain cannot reach the Cuban market under a cost of $11.48 per barrel—counting the shipping price in New York at $4.50 per barrel. Spain holds the market for herself and is able to send European flour at a price which totally excludes the American flour from the markets of Cuba and Porto Rico. Other articles of American growth are likewise taxed by Spain to the point of prohibition. This one-sided commerce will seriously injure the shipping routes, which are still in American hands, largely if not universally.

It would certainly be a very extraordinary policy on the part of our Government just at this time to open our markets without charge or duty to the enormous crops of sugar raised in the two Spanish islands. Cuba and Porto Rico furnished the United States with nearly or quite one-half of the sugar which we consume, and we are far larger consumers than any other nation in the world. To give a free market to this immense product of the Spanish plantations at the moment Spain is excluding the products of American farms from her market would be a policy as unprecedented as it would be unwise.

Our trade with the American republics as well as with the West India islands has been for many years in a most unsatisfactory condition. The aggregate balance of trade with all Latin-America is heavily against us. A single illustration will suffice: Since we repealed the duty on coffee in 1872 we have imported the products of Brazil to the extent of $821,806,000 and have sold to her only $156,135,000 of our own products. The difference—$664,671,000—we have paid in gold or its equivalent and Brazil has expended the vast sum in the markets of Europe. You can readily see how different the result would have been if in return for the free admission of Brazilian coffee in our markets we had exacted the free admission of certain products of the United States in the Brazilian market. To repeat this error with sugar to an amount three times as large as with coffee will close all opportunity to establish reciprocity of trade with Latin America.

The charge against the protective policy which has injured it most is that its benefits go wholly to the manufacturer and the capitalist and not at all to the farmer. You and I well know that this is not at all true, but still it is the most plausible and therefore the most hurtful argument made by the free trader. Here is an opportunity where the farmer may be benefited—primarily, undeniably, richly benefited. Here is an opportunity for a Republican Congress to open the market of 40,000,000 of people to the products of American farms. Shall we seize the opportunity, or shall we throw it away?

I do not doubt that in many respects the tariff bill pending in the Senate is a just measure, and that most of its provisions are in accordance with the wise policy of protection. But there is not a section or a line in the entire bill that will open a market for another bushel of wheat or another barrel of pork. If sugar is now placed on the free list without exacting important trade concessions in return, we shall close the door of a profitable reciprocity against ourselves. I think you will find some valuable hints on this subject in the President's brief message of June 19, with as much practical wisdom as was ever stated in so short a space.

Our foreign market for breadstuffs grows narrower. Great Britain is exerting every nerve to secure her bread supplies from India, and the rapid expansion of the wheat area in Russia gives us a powerful competitor in the markets of Europe. It becomes us, therefore, to use every opportunity for the extension of our market in both of the American continents. With nearly $100,000,000 worth of sugar seeking our market every year we shall prove ourselves most unskilled legislators if we do not secure a large field for the sale and consumption of our breadstuffs and provisions. The late conference of American Republics proved the existence of a common desire for closer relations. Our Congress should take up the work where the International Conference left it. Our field of commercial development and progress lies south of us.

JAMES G. BLAINE.

Sheffield's Protest.

LONDON, July 14.—At Sheffield to-day the mayor of that city presided over a meeting attended by 12,000 persons, called to protest against the McKinley Tariff Bill, as seriously affecting Sheffield's manufacturing interests. A master cutler proposed and the president of the Chamber of Commerce seconded a resolution calling upon the Government to take protective measures against the McKinly Tariff Bill, which, it was stated, threatened to become the means of destroying Sheffield's trade with America. The resolution was carried by acclamation.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

The Americans Roll up 269 at Philadelphia in the First Inning.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—The annual cricket match between Canada and the United States began to-day on the Wissahickon grounds.

When play stopped at 6 o'clock the United States had completed an inning with a score of 269. Canada's score with the loss of one wicket was 14.

The wicket was rather heavy. The United States team is made up of experts from local teams, including several who went to England last year with the Gentlemen of Philadelphia team.

The feature of the United States inning was G. S. Patterson's score, 126, which is one of the finest ever made in this country. It was made without a semblance of a chance for an out.

The visitors played a marvelous fielding game early in the day and made many phenomenal catches. After dinner they seemed to go to pieces.

The Baseball Score.

PLAYERS—Boston 18, Buffalo 2; Philadelphia 18, Chicago 7; Brooklyn 6, Pittsburg 2; Cleveland 10, New York 5.

NATIONAL—Boston 17, Cleveland 8; Chicago 3, Brooklyn 10; Philadelphia 17, Pittsburg 1; New York 1, Cincinnati 6.

The Dead.

John Ralfs, a botanist who was well known in America, is dead at Penzance.

The death is announced of Rev. P. J. Gavan, formerly of Toronto, who went three years ago to the Pacific slope. Father Gavan was for ten or twelve years in charge of St. Paul's and St. Mary's Churches in Toronto.

Hon. Thomas Coffin died at Barrington, N.S., Saturday, aged 77. He represented Shelburne county in the Provincial and Federal Parliaments from 1851 to 1879, when he was defeated by Thomas Robertson. Mr. Coffin was receiver-general in Mr. Mackenzie's administration.

Could Have Waded Ashore.

LANCASTER, July 15.—Four unknown Italian laborers on the Maine Central road's extension were drowned while attempting to cross the Connecticut River in a boat opposite Stratford Hollow. The water where the bodies were recovered was only five feet deep, and if they had stood up the men could have waded ashore.

Burial of the Fourth Dartmouth Victim.

HALIFAX, July 15.—Peter Boyle, one of the victims of the Dartmouth disaster, was buried yesterday. Deceased was an old Crimean veteran and member of the Royal British Veteran Society and a large concourse walked in the procession.

LUXURIES AND NECESSARIES.

A LIST of duties paid upon two classes of articles, divided as necessaries and luxuries, having been published by the Globe, the following observations upon it were made by the Hamilton Spectator:—The luxuries are carriages, fancy goods, furs, silks, spirits and wines, tobacco, gold and silver, and jewelry. These pay customs duties aggregating $4,267,799.

It may be noted that the list of luxuries is remarkably short. Ale, velvet carpets, embroideries, kid gloves, silk hats, marble, pianos, paper hangings, fancy goods, spices, watches, and many other articles are apparently not included in the Globe's list of luxuries. That astute journal evidently considers the condition of the workingman of Canada to be so good that these things are not only articles of daily use but of prime necessity.

It may also be noted that the Globe has quite forgotten the excise duties imposed upon malt and spirituous liquors, and tobacco. These amounted last year to $6,800,000. So that without counting the articles of luxury included in the Globe's second list to which reference will be made, we find that the luxuries already named are taxed, not the modest sum which that impartial journal makes up, but nearly three times as much, say $11,000,000 or $12,000,000.

Further, it may be pointed out that the customs duties on the articles in the Globe's list of luxuries was $2,081,365 in 1879; and $4,267,799 in 1889, an increase of 105 per cent.

The Globe's list of necessaries included woolens, sugar and molasses, iron and steel, cottons, provisions, fruits and nuts, oils, books, papers, etc., breadstuffs, drugs, etc., leather, wood and its manufactures, manufactures of glass, guttapercha and india-rubber, earthenware and china. The duties on these were $16,255,000. In 1879 the duties paid on the like articles amounted to $9,700,000, so that the increase in duties on articles of luxury have been increased far more in proportion than on those which the Globe considers articles of necessity. But it is a remarkable fact that while our contemporary considers broadcloth and kid gloves to be articles of necessity, it has forgotten all about tea and coffee. Last year these were free, except the small parcels imported by way of the United States, and on such the duties amounted to $18,687. In 1879 the duties on tea and coffee were $640,807. If these be included—even allowing kid gloves, patent leather shoes, fancy stationery and broadcloth to be articles of necessity—the increase in the duties has been about 74 per cent, and that increase has been due, not to an average rise in the rate of duty, but to increased consumption. For example: In 1879, we imported 165,215,279 pounds of sugar, of all kinds, on which the duties were $3,815,658, or $2.29 per 100 pounds. Last year we imported 229,841,171 pounds, on which the duty was $3,675,724, or $1 64 per 100 pounds.

It is not easy wholly to separate luxuries from articles in such common use as to be considered necessaries. If that could be done it would be found that duties on the necessaries are not increased at all; and that if increased revenue is derived from them it is because of increased consumption, due partly to the growth of population and partly to the greater prosperity of the people. We have shown the greatly increased importation of sugar, an article in such common use that times must be very hard indeed when people are compelled to restrict its consumption. Tea may be taken as another example. In 1879 we imported 11,920,000 pounds of that article, in 1889 no less than 17,442,000. Of coffee the import in the former year was 1,832,000 pounds; in the latter year, 2,700,000 pounds. The increased consumption of these articles was due to the greater ability of the people to buy them.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

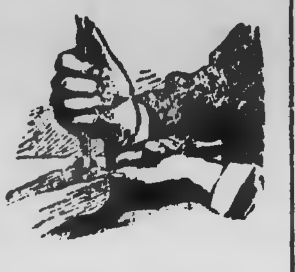
SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS.

POPULAR SCIENTIFIC RECREATION AND KNOWLEDGE.

A Simple Process for Converting a Knife Blade Into a Permanent Magnet, Illustrated and Described—A Phenomenon. Ironing by Electricity.

Take a pair of iron tongs and a knife, and holding them as shown in the engraving, rub the knife blade briskly with the end of the tongs, taking care to rub only in one direction—towards the point of the knife. When the point is reached the tongs must be lifted back towards the handle and the motion repeated. The knife should be occasionally turned over, so that the friction may be applied to both sides.



MAGNETIZING A KNIFE BLADE.

In about a minute the knife blade will be found to be magnetic, and capable of supporting a needle or steel pen, and the magnetism is quiet permanent. The point of the blade corresponds to the north pole of the magnet. Popular Science News, which is authority for the foregoing directions, says the cause of this phenomenon is not quite clear, and is worthy of further investigation.

Ironing by Electricity.

And now comes the report from St. Paul of the successful application of electricity to heating the ironing rolls of a laundry. It is claimed that this method gives an economy, by meter measurement, of more than 25 per cent. over that of gas at $1.25 per thousand, as formerly used for this purpose. Stationary Engineer explains that the device by which the heating effects are obtained consists of German silver wire wound on a cylinder of asbestos paper which slips inside the iron roll. The current is obtained from the commercial lighting circuit and is paid for at the same rates and under the same conditions as that used for lighting, the current passing through a meter.

Is Electricity Manufactured?

The question whether or not electricity is manufactured is now being tried in certain courts. If it is manufactured, the producers in numerous states are liable for taxation. Benjamin Franklin held that electricity was not manufactured, but was taken from one body to be delivered to another, and that practically nothing was lost in the transaction. Hitherto, says Industrial World, our scientific men have held this to be true in a broad sense.

A Great Golden Vessel Four Centuries old

A Jar Worth $36,000.

The Philadelphia Record says that the vessel is known to be over four centuries old, and it is one of the most valuable jars in the world, being worth much more in the open market than even the celebrated peach blow vases of which so much was said a few years ago. The metal and the gems in the "Kendiya" are appriased at $36,000.

DAINTY DISHES.

Valuable Receipts for Making Edibles of all Descriptions.

HAM OMELET.—Six eggs, one tablespoonful of flour made smooth in a little milk, two-thirds of a cupful of very finely chopped fried ham, all lean. Beat the yolks thoroughly, add the flour and milk and the ham, and, lastly, the whites beaten to a stiff froth. Beat all together and pour into a hot and well-buttered spider. Shake gently while the omelet is cooking a rich golden brown on the bottom. When nearly done set the spider in a hot oven until the omelet has begun to brown on top. Double over carefully and serve immediately on a hot platter. If preferred without ham use salt to taste. A very pretty omelet is made by reserving three whites and placing them, beaten stiff, on one half the omelet when partly cooked, and then doubling the other half over them.

SCALLOPED FISH.—Pick fine the remnants of fresh fish left from dinner, either baked, boiled or fried, removing all bones and skin. Butter a pudding dish and lay in the fish in layers, seasoning each layer with bits of butter, salt and pepper. Spread one-half of a cupful of cracker crumbs over the top, well buttered, pour enough milk over the whole to quite thoroughly moisten it, and bake 20 minutes in a quick oven. Any kind of fish will do, but fried halibut is the nicest. Halibut requires a little more milk than fresh cod.

BAKED RICE WITH CHEESE.—One pint of boiled rice, half a cupful of grated cheese, placed in alternate layers in a buttered earthen dish. Spread powdered cracker over the top with bits of butter, and over the whole pour one egg well beaten, one cupful of milk, one saltspoonful of dry mustard half a teaspoonful of salt and a shake of cayenne pepper, thoroughly beaten together. Bake twenty minutes in quick oven and serve very hot.

BEEF TEA.—Cut two pounds of lean beef very fine with a sharp knife. Pour a pint of cold water over it, and let it stand for several hours in a double boiler on the back of the stove, where it will heat to the boiling point but not boil. When the juice is all extracted from the meat so that the meat is white, drain off the liquid and salt to taste.

RASPBERRY TARTS.—Roll out some puff paste to the thickness of about half an inch; butter some patty pans, line them with it and cut off the superfluous paste close to the edge of the pans. Put a small piece of bread into each tartlet to keep them in shape and bake in a brisk oven for ten minutes or rather longer. When they are done and of a nice color take out the pieces of bread and replace them by a large spoonful of raspberry jam. Dish them on a white d'oyley and pile them high and serve.

RASPBERRY SPONGE.—Cover half a box of gelatine with a half cup of cold water and soak for twenty minutes; then pour over a pint of boiling water and add half a teacup of sugar; stir until dissolved, and add a pint of raspberry juice; strain in a tin pan; set on ice until thick, when add the stiffly-beaten whites of four eggs; pour into a mold to harden. Serve with vanilla sauce.

RASPBERRY SHORT-CAKE.—Take one pint of buttermilk, one teaspoonful of salt, two-thirds of a cup of butter, mix as soft as can be worked, make four layers, spreading each one with butter as you lay them on top of each other. Bake in a moderate oven. When done and cool spread the berries, which have been well sweetened, between the layers and sprinkle white sugar over the top.

CARE OF THE HEALTH.

Antiseptic Properties of Coffee—Deafness by Using Telephones.

From observations recently made as to the destructive power of coffee on various microbes, Dr. Luderitz has found, according to The Lancet, that the organisms all died in a longer or shorter period—e. g., in one series of experiments anthrax bacilli were destroyed in three hours, anthrax spores in four weeks, cholera bacilli in four hours, and the streptococcus of erysipelas in one day. It was, however, remarkable that good coffee and bad coffee produced precisely similar effects. He believes that, as previous observers have suggested, the antiseptic effect of coffee does not depend on the caffeine it contains, but on the empyreumatic oils developed by roasting.

Deafness and the Telephone.

Dr. Francis Dowling, in an interesting paper read before the Academy of Medicine, Cincinnati, says that there is much more deafness in America than in Europe, and this the doctor attributes to a more general use of scientific instruments, such as telephones, when one ear is used to the exclusion of the other. He cited a number of cases where he had examined telephone operators, and he generally found the right ear the weaker organ, as it was used almost entirely in telephonic communication. A remedy was to use both ears. Either have two audiphones or alternate the ears.

He also states that between the ages of 10 and 40 at least one person in three is subject to a partial deafness. The great majority of cases of impaired hearing date from childhood and its diseases. Another prolific cause was cold and carelessness in bathing. At least one-fifth of the cases of impaired hearing are hereditary, and are largely owing to a too close consanguinity of the parents. Deafness is more prevalent among males than among females, owing to the fact that the male is more exposed to the vicissitudes of climate.

Advice to Prospective Fasters.

An English physician is credited with the following advice to those who would emulate Succi and Tanner: The great thing is to start fat. Some years ago a fat pig was buried in its sty for 160 days under thirty feet of the chalk of a cliff at Dover; it was dug out alive at the end of that time, reduced in weight from 160 pounds to 40 pounds, or no less than 75 per cent. The most remarkable facts connected with the loss of weight are that the fat is almost completely used up, no less than 93 per cent. being removed; the heart loses 44, the muscles in general 42, the bones 17, while the nervous system loses barely 2 per cent. It is evident therefore, that death occours when the stock of combustible material is consumed, and every other tissue gives up its components so as to save the nervous system as much as possible.

Cancer Cure.

The story is told that a young physician attached to an English hospital has invented and used, it is said with success, a machine, which, in cases of cancer, will direct a current of electricity against a diseased cell strong enough to destroy it and at the same time will not injure a healthy cell. Those that are destroyed are said to turn into a hard substance that remains without causing the patient any inconvenience. This statement is one that many people would be glad to see verified.

Soon to Astonish the World.

Two new antipyretics will soon burst upon an astonished world, Popular Science News tells, so far as lengthiness of name is concerned, at any rate—acetylethylenphenylhydrazin and ethylenphenylhydrazinsuccinic acid!

Rustless Iron.

The Sanitary Plumber says that "the rustless process has demonstrated that great economy can be used not only in ice pipes, but in every article where iron is used. In the past year over 2,000,000 kettles have been subjected to this process in Pittsburg. The method is very peculiar. After the article is made it is put into a furnace about 3½ feet high, 15 feet long and 8 feet broad. The furnace is made in an oval shape, air-tight. After the iron had been in the furnace for two hours and has attained almost a white heat, the air that comes through the regenerators and air-valves is shut securely off and the furnace is made air-tight. After the air has been shut off the super-heater, which is located in the combustion chamber at the rear of the furnace and at right angles from the air-valves, is opened, and the furnace is filled with steam and kept in this condition for eight hours. At short intervals a small valve is opened, so as to allow an exodus of steam in the furnace, allowing fresh steam to put into the furnace. When the articles have been ten hours in the furnace there has been accomplished the formation of magnetic oxide upon the iron surface. They are then put into an acid well, which is the last treatment."

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

DROWNED IN THE RIVER.

LITTLE EVERETT KIDD IS CLAIMED A VICTIM BY THE WATERS.

An Heroic Attempt at a Rescue by his Eleven-year-old Brother—The Particulars of the Sad Accident.

The Otonabee river claimed another victim this morning when a shocking drowning accident occurred just between the two dams at the Dickson mills, and immediately below the dam at the electric light works. The unfortunate victim whom the waters claimed was a nine-year-old son of Mr. M. R. Kidd, grocer, of George-st. The accident was a peculiarly sad one, in that the little fellow was almost brought to a place of safety by his elder brother, who was only eleven years of age, when the heroic little rescuer's grasp failed him and he was compelled to allow his brother to float away in the current. When the news of the fatality spread around the streets many immediately started for the scene and when the REVIEW reporter arrived quite a number were in the water searching for the body of the unfortunate lad.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The only person who witnessed the accident was Howard Kidd, aged eleven, who was with his brother Everett at the time. The two boys were fishing off the slab piles which line the river bank in the mill yard. Howard, the elder, had gone around the end of one of the piles below where his brother sat to select a slat to use as a fishing rod, and happening to look into the swiftly flowing water, he was horrified to see his little brother struggling in the current some distance from the shore. No thought of running for assistance, which could only have arrived too late, ever entered the mind of the brave little Howard, for no sooner did he see his brother's danger than he was off the bank and out into the stream to his assistance. He reached his brother all right and grasped him firmly in his small hand. The current here is very swift, so that the two lads were carried rapidly downwards and by working manfully Howard was gradually approaching the shore and boom of logs which were moored in the still water. Another minute and would have been accomplished, but an eddy caught them in its whirl and Howard's grasp of his drowning brother slipped and the latter floated away from his reach. Howard says he does not know what made him let go, but it seemed as though his brother slipped way from him no matter how much firmer he held on. The last seen of little Everett was about fifteen feet from where he escaped from his brother's grasp, and then he was seen to throw his arms above the water not three feet from the boom, at a place where the water is only about three feet deep.

The unfortunate little fellow was thrown into the river by the slab pile upon which he was sitting giving way. Strange to say, he uttered no cry when he was so suddenly precipitated into the water or at any time while he was fighting with the current, but, his brother says, he paddled away vainly trying to keep afloat.

Too much can hardly be said of the courageous conduct of Howard, for it is not every boy many years his senior who would jump to the rescue as promptly as he did. He is a bright little fellow, as also was his little brother.

The unfortunate boy's parents will have the sympathy of the whole community in the sad loss which they have sustained in such a shocking manner.

The work of searching for the body was continued for a couple of hours unsuccessfully and then Mr. H. A. Mulhern, of the Otonabee Mills, was asked to take the stop-logs out of his dam to lower the water. To this Mr. Mulhern readily consented, but it was not necessary, as the body was recovered a short time before 12 o'clock and before the Otonabee mills had been closed down.

The Witnesses Said to be in Error.

A friend of Mrs. M. Halpin called at the REVIEW office this morning to state that Mrs. Halpin was not connected in any way with the row which took place at the Halpin house on Saturday night, that at the time it occurred she was not in the house. The witnesses at the Police Court, it is claimed by Mrs. Halpin's friend, were in error when they stated that she was there at the time of the disturbance and was concerned in it in any way.

For the Lack of Two Dollars.

Michael Burns, an individual who was taking the hot weather very much to heart, as the heat or something else drove him to drink yesterday, and he was locked up by the police. Michael had evidently a weakness for green fruit, for when arrested, among a miscellaneous collection found in his pockets was a quart or more of green peas, together with some salt, a pack of cards, fishing lines, lead pencils, etc. At the Police Court he pleaded guilty and was fined $2 or ten days. Failing to have the cash he went up on the hill.

The Jubilee Beacon Lowered.

The electric light tower erected in honor of the Queen's jubilee in the Court House Park, no longer rears its lofty form towards the blue vault of heaven, as the Fire Brigade successfully undertook the work of laying it low. For some time past the tower has been shaky and it was feared that it might fall and do some damage when least expected. Accordingly Councillor A. Hall, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, requested Chief Rutherford of the Fire Brigade to engineer the work of taking it down. With a number of the brigade the Chief successfully performed the work last night, the lofty tower being lowered without the least damage to any of the surroundings and little to itself.

SATURDAY SHOPPING.

An Earnest Plea for the Overworked Shop Clerks—A Word to the Late Shoppers.

There has been a good deal of talk recently about the hours of labor, and in some occupations attempts have been made to reduce the length of the working day. Competition is so keen in various departments of life that it is often difficult for a merchant to curtail the hours of labor, and still continue solvent, even though he might desire to benefit his employees by reducing their work time. But there is a class in the community whose hours are unduly prolonged by the unintentional carelessness of their fellow citizens, many of whom are themselves wage-earners. Reference is made to the merchants' assistants, to the milliners, dressmakers, tailors and the thousand and one persons who are employed in contributing to the personal appearance or creature comfort to the community at large. How many of the great purchasing public give one thought to the welfare of those who are employed to clothe or feed them by the agency of the retail stores? Very few, judging by the way in which they order new clothes or make their purchases at the counter. People wait till the eleventh hour of the working day, even to the eleventh hour of the week, before they go to the stores. They crowd in, and leave their orders, demanding that they shall be filled and the goods delivered the same night. They wait till their clothing is worn out before they consult the milliner or the tailor, and they implore that the new garments shall be sent home in an incredible short space of time. What does all this needless hurry imply? Long hours and overwork for men and women. Not, let it be remembered, because the average employer believes in that sort of thing, or indeed finds it profitable, but because the great purchasing public are so inconsiderate as to leave their shopping and their reclothing till the last moment, and then take advantage of the intense spirit of competition everywhere prevalent to attain their selfish ends. Now, all this is wrong. It is especially an evil thing for people who can avoid it to shop at a late hour on Saturday night, and thus compel employes in stores to work till the approach of midnight. Yet there are shoppers with this habit abnormally developed who wondered why it was that so many of the employes of stores failed to go to church on Sunday morning.

What is needed in every city is an awakening of public conscience to feel the necessity for a reform in the matter of shopping.—Exchange.

Cheesemakers' Work, Wages and Thinking.

I would have every cheesemaker become an experimental cheesemaker. The whole business of making cheese is experimental. No man knows the peculiar qualities of any cow's milk right down to their ultimate and peculiar characteristics from day to day, and therefore every day's work is experimental. Now, we shall reach safe conclusions only when cheesemakers learn to carry on experimental work with clearness by regarding every relation and result, and when cheesemakers do that they will find by-and-by a plan by which they can make uniformly better cheese. I would not have a cheesemaker blindly grinding out blind results by routine practice. I would have him to think out his business that his thought will go ahead of his curd knife or steam pipe. No machinery and no printed code of instructions can take the place of personal thought with any man who wants to succeed in his business. This is rather trying for some cheesemakers. It is probably tiresome sometimes for a man to think or even to be stimulated to thought. Some men dislike to be called out of bed at 4.30 to catch the train by which they might be going to get married.—Prof. Robertson at Stratford.

GOD'S DAY.

"The Isles wait for Thee,"

MUSIC:—"When the swallows homeward fly."

God's sweet day of rest draws nigh,
Day-dawn glories flush the sky:
All the radiant heavens—in flame—
Shine hosannas to His name.
Blushing Isles—enrobed in mist—
By the shimmering light beams kiss'd;
Lift their laurell'd brows, unshorn,
Gladly greet the holy morn.

Nestled song birds in each breast,
Softly sing of Sabbath rest;
Zephyrs gather—glad and free—
All the Matin melody;
Rippling waves, in music low,
Chant their praises as they flow;
Rustling balsams blend their strain,
Cedars swell the sweet refrain.

Tassell'd fir plumes tossing sing,
"Glory unto God the King."
Fern-fringed bowers the tone prolong,
Sunlight glorifies the song.
Day of peace and joy and love,
Type of perfect day above!
Grant us, each, O, Lord we pray
An eternal Sabbath day.

BATTLE OF THE BOYNE.

CELEBRATION OF THE TWO HUNDREDETH ANNIVERSARY.

The Millbrook Celebration a Very Successful one—A Large and Splendid Turnout at Norwood—Speeches by Prominent Gentlemen.

NORWOOD, ONT., July 12.—Eleven lodges of Orangemen and True Blues celebrated the 12th of July in Norwood to-day. They marched to the martial music of eleven fife and drum bands under command of County Master James McAlpin. The newly organized Britannia Lodge of Loyal True Blues of Norwood, 22 strong, led the procession, Geo. Williams, Master. The other lodges represented were:—

L. O. L. No. 34, Norwood, Wm. Doughty, Master.
L. O. L. No. 222, Dummer, David Andrew, County Recording Secretary, Master.
L. O. L. No. 264, Warsaw, Richard Dean, Master.

L. O. L. No. 129, Seymour, F. Brown, Master
L. O. L. No. 125, Blairton, J. Bonar, Master.

In the afternoon the procession, accompanied by a very large crowd, marched to Grover's grove, where a mass meeting was held and short addresses were delivered by James McAlwin, chairman; James Robb, ex-County Master; A. M. Kidd, the defeated Equal Rights candidate; E. B. Stone, his campaign lieutenant; Rev. Messrs. Power and Hyde, Warsaw; Rae, of Havelock; Clarke, Peer and Carmichael, Norwood, and Rev. William Pattyson, Selwyn. The ladies of the Methodist church prepared dinner and refreshments in the school room of the new church and fed about 800 people.

One of the arches erected on Peterborough-st. fell on a buggy this evening, but no one was hurt. The absence of rows or drunks was a pleasing feature of the celebration.

THE DAY AT MILLBROOK.

MILLBROOK, July 12.—The two hundredth anniversary of the battle of the Boyne was celebrated here to-day in a most loyal manner. For days previous the local lodges had been busy decorating the town by building arches, etc. This morning the scene that met the visiting brethren on their arrival here was a gay one. The procession, composed of about 1,000 Orangemen, was promptly formed on the arrival of the trains under the guidance of Bro. R. Porteus, the district master, ably assisted by Bros. David Donnelly, Isaac Richardson, J. Fallis and A. Reynolds, who rode the proverbial white horses. The Manvers district presented a fine appearance, particularly the Bethany lodge, the members of which all appeared with high silk hats, gloves and canes. The lads from Pontypool were also greatly admired for their neat uniforms and splendid marching. Many prominent men were seen in the ranks. Past Grand Master of Ontario East, T. B. Collins, R. H. Holland, police magistrate of Port Hope, J. J. Preston, deputy reeve of Manvers, Joseph Thorndyke, deputy reeve of Cavan, and John Martin, of Port Hope, marched with the boys all through the day. Following was the order of the procession:—

The Speeches.

At 2 o'clock the procession was re-formed and marched to Madds' grove, where an immense crowd assembled to listen to the speeches. The first speaker was T. B. Collins, Past Grand Master of Ontario East, who delivered a most patriotic and loyal speech, receiving great applause. He was followed by Rev. W. C. Allen in an eloquent manner. Rev. J. L. Adams, R. H. Holland, District Master of Port Hope; Rev. Mr. Robertson, Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of Ottawa; Rural Dean Allen and Rev. William Burns all delivered fine addresses and were listened to intently.

The Orangemen of this district may well feel proud of this day's celebration, as not a single hitch in the day's programme took place and the visiting brethren expressed themselves well pleased with the day. The large crowd dispersed in an orderly manner and by 8 o'clock nearly all had left for home.

Hungarian grass or millet is the best crop to sow in the poultry yard.

If you must, or think you must, feed corn to the horses during the winter, do let up on the practice in summer. Feeding a horse corn in summer is a good deal like building a fire in the parlor stove on the Fourth of July.

It does not pay to put the best fruit or vegetables on top and have the purchaser find something not so good when he reaches the bottom, as it makes him suspicious, the consequence being that the sale of good fruit is injured.

The price of the cow does not indicate her value as a producer. Gilt-edged butter is something that depends on how it is made. The cow gives the milk, but upon the management of the milk, cream and butter depends the quality.

There is never too much good butter on the market, but there is always a large supply of inferior butter. The prices are not regulated by the quantity so much as by the quality. Good butter sells at a high price at all seasons of the year.

When beets, carrots or parsnips do not appear to grow, though given every opportunity by manure and cultivation, the slow growth may be due to the plants being too close in the rows. Thinning out the plants just after a rain will be of advantage.

It will pay to pack butter when it is cheap, provided there is a good tub to put it in and a good place to keep it. A damp or hot place will not do. The store-room must be dry, sweet and cool. Cover with damp salt and a cloth. This will make a paste.

The Michigan Farmer says: "When you kick a cow just pause and think that you are kicking dollars out of your pocket; and when you pound her with the milk stool that you are robbing you wife and children of the groceries, and you probably won't do it."

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

FARM AND GARDEN.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS AND HORTICULTURISTS.

Hints on Sheep-Raising—The Compost Heap is the Saving's Bank of the Farm—Live Stock Notes—Farm Notes and Horticultural Notes.

There is quite a difference between a compost heap and a manure heap. When manure is thrown on a heap, left undisturbed, and exposed to all kinds of weather, it suffers loss of fertilizing matter in many different ways; but the compost heap is a veritable manufactory of fertilizer, and is more valuable for all purposes than manure from the stable. While the food and the management of the manure gives it its value, the farmer is limited to such amount as may be voided by his animals; but the compost heap opens a wider field for his operations by enabling him to make more manure than he could secure from his animals.

The filling of the pig-pen with large quantities of dirt, leaves or other litter does not really make manure, for the pig cannot make something out of nothing. He works and roots in the litter, mixing it with manure, and at the end of the year the farmer hauls away several loads of what he considers first-class manure, but he has secured no more real manure than the pig would have produced under any circumstances, whether he had litter or not, and the mass is nothing more or less than compost, but it will show as good results as any other kind of manure, because it is composed of absorbent material that has preserved the manure and prevented loss of value. The making of compost is the accumulation of any and every thing that can be added to the manure, all liquids entering into the heap, and nothing wasted.

The compost heap is really the "savings bank" of the farm, for it induces the farmer not only to accumulate but to save. The weeds, feathers blood from slaughtered animals, soapsuds, night soil, and even earth, are thrown on the heap, to the advantage of ridding the farm of many unsightly objects, while the manure from the stable, which becomes a part of the compost heap, is better preserved and its value increased. As all the materials of a compost heap are fine the farmer can more easily haul and spread the compost, and the plants will find it more available as food. The compost heap, however, should receive attention. It should be under cover, and occasionally forked over. Though sufficient heat will be generated to decompose the coarse materials, yet there is less risk of "fire-fanging" than with manure, and more plant food can be collected in this manner than from any other mode.

Sheep Notes.

We find the following excellent notes and suggestions about the proper care of sheep in the American Wool-Grower:

Old, broken-mouthed ewes are dear at any price. If they cannot be sold to the butcher, feed them to the crows in the fall—they will get them anyhow before the voice of the turtle is heard in the land.

All sheep are subject to both internal and external parasites. Feed them occasionally a little hard-wood ashes or finely-pulverized tobacco, which will free them from worms and improve their general health.

Dip them thoroughly in some approved sheep-dip, and there is nothing better than a preparation of tobacco.

Do not overstock; better keep too few, rather than too many. If a flock of 100 sheep could be made as profitable as a flock of ten, shepherds would be "clothed in purple and fine linen."

Mix a little sulphur with their salt; it enriches the blood, and disagrees with ticks and other parasites.

Mark those ewes that have disappointed you; don't be fooled twice by the same sheep.

Keep a well-trained Scotch terrier in the sheep barn; he will clean up the rats and give notice of the approach of prowling curs or thieving tramps. The sheep will soon become familiar with his presence, and he may run between their legs or over their backs without exciting them in the slightest.

Give mixed feed, and always remember that oats should constitute a part of the food of the "golden hoof." If you are feeding a mixture of equal parts of cornmeal, ground oats, and wheat bran, and forget to exchange it for something else every 30 days, as the books direct, don't be alarmed, the sheep won't be insulted.

If you are giving it to them as a warm slop one pint of grain each, three times a day, stirred into enough warm water to make it into a thin mush, the lambs will dance and the ewes cry out for joy every time they hear the rattle of your pails.

Fowls of any kind are a nuisance about the sheep barn, and should be carefully excluded.

Examine carefully every ewe's udder before deciding to retain her as a member of your breeding flock. If you find one side spoiled, reject her.

After weaning lambs, milk the ewes twice a week and keep them on the shortest pasture until dry.

Any breed of sheep is good if they have a shepherd; all breeds are poor if they are neglected.

Farm Notes.

Alfalfa when once started will grow well anywhere that red clover will thrive. It demands a rich soil.

Making buttermilk-flavored butter is easily stopped by washing the butter while in small grains. A little salt in the water will do no harm.

There are some weeds that put in an appearance early in the season, and take possession of the land before the seed planted comes up. To assist in giving them a chance to grow plough the land early, and as soon as the seeds of the weeds have sprouted go over the field with the cultivator, and also harrow the ground before planting the crop. This will lessen the weeds and put the land in better condition.

Live-Stock Notes.

Shade in the pasture for stock is a modern idea, but it is a good one.

The average duration of the cow's service as a milker is estimated at eight years among the well-managed dairies, but individual cows often milk well until aged.

When a superior carcass of beef is placed on the market it at once attracts attention as show beef. Every farmer can produce such beef if he will, and secure heavier weight and better prices. The breed and the management are the prime factors for producing the best.

[illegible] cow's teats [illegible] as they can be rubbed dry unless [illegible] matter is removed. A wet [illegible] by exposure to cold air, just as hands do in cold weather. The best cure is to keep dry, and rub on a little vaseline to exclude the air.

Hogs that are not kept for breeding should always be in condition for killing. Their food need not while growing be of distinctly fattening character, but if well fed with nutrition to make bone and sinew, a good pig will lay on fat enough to furnish good pork at any time. They should always have plenty of not very rich food. This will improve their digestion, while either underfeeding or stuffing with fattening grain, like corn, will ruin digestion and make the pig stunted in growth.

Medical experts are unanimously of the opinion that diphtheria and the disease known as croupy roup (which is well shown by the membrane that forms in the throat of the fowl) are nearly identical. This should prompt parents to avoid handling such fowls as much as possible, and to wash the hands after so doing before coming into the house. Children should be kept away from the poultry-yard when roup occurs, and a thorough disinfection should be made. In some cases unprincipled persons will kill and sell diseased fowls, which is really criminal, as disease may thereby be carried into the families of unsuspecting persons.

It is believed by many, and there is some reason as well as fact to support it, that putting bells on sheep affords them protection against the attacks of dogs, as the canine brutes are intelligent enough to fear that the noise made by the bells when the sheep are chased may attract attention and lead to their being caught in their evil doings. If near by, the clatter of bells would most certainly reveal the fact that the sheep were in violent motion and give the owner a chance to go to their rescue. Bells might be put on part or all of the sheep. A Western writer bells one half of his. He says 50 bells with straps cost only $8. If they are made with smooth staples to pass the straps through, a set of bells will last for years. Those fastened with rivets soon wear loose and drop off. So long as the dogs are permitted to run at large, it would not be a bad idea to try the bells.

Horticultural Notes.

Many seeds have just vitality enough to sprout, and that is all.

Profuse spraying of house plants will greatly aid in preventing the ravages of aphides and other minute insects.

Hen manure should be spread on the plot intended for onions. Apply it quickly, and spade it in after the frost is out of the ground. The onion bed cannot be made too rich.

The cabbage delights in having the soil stirred. The plants grow rapidly when the hoe or cultivator is frequently used. Not only should they be well cultivated, but should have an abundance of manure.

Land that is too heavy for ordinary farm crops if sufficiently dry may yet make good pear land. The only difficulty with clay soil is that if undrained it is apt to hold stagnant water, and that will kill any tree except perhaps a willow. When drained the pear roots will run down deeply into clay soil, and thus be mainly exempt from those sudden changes of temperature that are often the predisposing cause of blight. Another reason why pears thrive on clay soils is that such land is usually rich in mineral fertilizers, and pear trees to grow successfully require a good deal of mineral plant food.

Facts For Housekeepers.

Cold rain water and soap will remove machine grease from valuable fabrics.

Fish may be scaled much easier by first dipping them into boiling water for a minute.

Fresh meat, beginning to sour will sweeten if placed out of doors in the cool air over night.

Milk which has changed may be sweetened or rendered fit for use again by stirring in a little soda.

A table-spoonful of turpentine, boiled with your clothes will gently aid the whitening process.

Boiling starch is much improved by the addition of sperm or salt, or both, or a little gum arabic dissolved.

Kerosene will soften boots and shoes that have been hardened by water, and will render them as pliable as new.

Thoroughly wetting the hair once or twice with a solution of salt and water will keep it from falling out.

One tea-spoonful of ammonia to a teacup of water applied with a rag will clean silver or gold jewelry perfectly.

Salt will curdle new milk, hence in preparing porridge, gravies, etc., salt should not be added until the dish is prepared.

Paint stains that are dry and old may be removed from cotton or woolen goods with chloroform. It is a good plan to first cover the spot with olive oil or butter.

Clear boiling water will remove tea stains; pour the water through the stain and thus prevent its spreading over the fabric.

Charcoal is recommended as an absorbent of gases in the milk room where foul gases are present. It should be freshly powdered and kept there continually, especially in hot weather, when unwholesome odors are most liable to infect the milk.

By applying kerosene with a rag when you are about to put your stoves away for the summer, you will prevent them from rusting.

A tea-spoonful of borax put in the last water in which clothes are rinsed, will whiten them surprisingly. Pound the borax so that it will dissolve easily. This is especially good to remove the yellow that time gives to white garments that have been laid aside for two or three years.—Household Companion.

Stanley is said to have received $70,000 in cash for his latest book. The story that he was paid $250,000 for it is absurd.

The Keiffer pear tree is a vig[illegible] and secures more height in proportion to thickness than is desirable. After the leaves fall off cut back the smaller shoots, and induce a more stocky growth.

Wherever weeds grow luxuriantly the ground is usually fertile, and such ground should be made to produce some kind of crop. At this season millet or Hungarian grass should be sown on such land.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

TORONTO, July 15.—A quiet trade is being done in eggs at unchanged prices; 12c to 12½c. Butter is quoted at 12c to 14c with an occasional extra tub at 15c. Pork is quiet at $6 to $6.25. Baled hay is dull and unchanged at $10 to $10.50 for choice and no demand for any other.

White wheat is quoted at 97c on the Northern, spring at 96c on the Midland, goose at 80c on the Canadian Pacific west. Oats are quiet, mixed at 31½c. Peas are 61½c on the Northern, 62½c on the Midland.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat, strong; corn, firm. Cargoes on passage—Wheat and corn quiet and firm. Mark Lane—Wheat, quiet and firm, turn dearer; spot mixed American corn, 18s, was 17s 3d; straight Minneapolis flour 26s, was 25s 6d; good cargoes No. 1 Cal. wheat off coast 38s was 37s 9d; ditto Australian off coast 38s, was 37s 9d; present and following month 37s 9d, was 37s 6d; ditto Chilian off coast 36s 6d, was 36s; present and following month, 36s, was 35s 9d; ditto Walla off coast 36s 6d, was 36s 6d; ditto mixed American corn off coast 18s 6d, was 18s 6d; present and following month 18s 3d, was 18s. London good shipping—No. 1 Cal. wheat, prompt, 37s 6d, was 37s 6d; present and following month 38s, was 37s 9d. Weather in England fair, with showers. French country markets strong. Liverpool—Spot wheat, not much demand; corn, moderate demand.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat firm, demand poor, holders offer sparingly. Corn quiet and steady, demand poor. Spring wheat 7s 2d to 7s 2½d, red winter 7s 1d to 7s 1½d, No. 1 Cal. 7s 3½d to 7s 4d. Peas 5s 6½d, pork 53s 3d, lard 30s 3d, bacon, light, clear and heavy 29s, light 29s 6d, short clear 29s, tallow 24s 3d, cheese, white and colored 43s.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: There was quite a free offering of cheese but buyers evinced no anxiety to take hold, and only two of the combinations represented sold at the current prices, viz.: 1800 boxes each of Marshfield and Cloverfield at 8 cents, Springville and Neff sold nothing, asking 8¼ and will consign to New York.

Little Falls reports: There has been a sharp difference between white and colored cheese, the former has commanded fully ¼ cent more than the latter and prices all around are about ¼c off from those of last week. There is a noticeable shrinkage in the production, but as to the extent of the shrinkage opinions vary, some asserting that it is very large, while others who have just as good opportunities are claiming that it is not greater than other seasons. Transactions: Three lots at 7c, 37 lots at 7½c, 13 lots at 7⅜c, 11 lots commission, total 2362 boxes. Sales of farm dairy cheese amount to 1221 boxes at 7 to 7⅛c, with the bulk at 7⅛c and very little at the top price. Creamery butter sold comprised 35 packages at 16 cents and 16 packages of farm dairy butter at 15 to 17c.

Utica reports: The cheese market was dull and depressed. It was a foregone conclusion from the opening of the market that prices would rule lower. There was a drop of ⅜c all around. The outlook is so uncertain that salesmen generally were disposed to let their offerings go. Transactions: 5 lots 500 boxes, at 7⅛c; 115 lots 9828 boxes, at 7⅜c; 18 lots 1621 boxes, at 7⅛c; 42 lots 359 boxes, at 7⅛c; 14 lots 1458 boxes, at 7¾; 14 lots 1197 boxes, on commission. Total 209 lots 18,305 boxes; ruling price 7⅜c. Transactions same date last year aggregated 19,876 boxes; ruling price 8c.

The Montreal Printers' Strike.

MONTREAL, July 15.—President Kydd of the local typographical union, Thomas W. Renny, Silas Reed and Charles Beatty, The Herald strikers, charged with conspiracy, were yesterday committed to the Court of Queen's Bench by Judge Desnoyers. They were admitted to bail in $800 each. McMaster & McGibbon have been instructed by The Herald Company to institute civil actions for damages against the accused printers and others concerned in the efforts to entice away their employes. Notice has been given of a civil suit against the typographical union for $5000 damages.

Unequaled for Richness and Beauty of Coloring.
They are the ONLY DYES that WILL NOT WASH OUT!, WILL NOT FADE OUT!
There is nothing like them for Strength, Coloring or Fastness.
ONE Package EQUALS TWO of any other Dye in the market.
If you doubt it, try it! Your money will be refunded if you are not convinced after a trial. Fifty-four colors are made in Turkish Dyes, embracing all new shades, and others are added as soon as they become fashionable. They are warranted to dye more goods and do it better than any other Dyes.
Same Price as Inferior Dye, 10 cts.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 16, 1890.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

SIXTEEN TONS OF POWDER FIRED BY A COLLISION.

A Cartridge Factory Touched Off and Several Houses Burnt—Ten Persons Killed and Many Wounded—Victims Blown to Atoms—A Scene of Desolation.

CINCINNATI, July 15.—Sixteen tons of powder in two freight cars exploded at King's Mills this afternoon, causing the explosion of a cartridge factory, the burning of several houses, the killing of ten persons and the wounding of thirty men and women.

Two empty freight cars were being rolled on to a side track where a car containing 500 kegs of gunpowder was standing. As the cars struck there was a terrific explosion and immediately afterward another car containing 800 kegs of powder exploded, making 1300 altogether.

William Franis, brakeman in the service of the Little Miami, was standing on one of the empty cars when the explosion occurred. His body must have been blown to atoms, as no trace of it has yet been found. Five others supposed to be employes of the powder company were killed.

The King Powder Company and Peters' Cartridge Works have works on both sides of the river along the railway. The explosion occurred on the south side and the destruction was enormous. There are a number of cottages occupied by workmen in the powder factory and situated close to the track. These were shattered by the explosion and their inmates injured; 12 or 15 girls at work in the cartridge factory were crippled by the explosion. The railway station and the freight house belonging to the Little Miami Railway, with the adjacent buildings, were set on fire and totally consumed. The havoc wrought by the explosion of these 16 tons of powder is dreadful. The track and ties of the railway are fairly torn out of the ground, and a great hole is plowed in the ground.

The Peters cartridge factory was burned to the ground. Nothing but a mass of smoking ruins remains to mark the spot where the building stood.

As soon as the news reached this city about 5 o'clock a relief train was despatched to the scene with Superintendent Peters and a large party of surgeons on board, and relief was afforded the sufferers as soon as possible. The work of searching for the missing and caring for the wounded is now progressing. Most of the girls who were injured live at Morrow and South Lebanon, and it is probable that they will be taken to their homes. The names of none of the killed or wounded are as yet obtainable.

Peters' cartridge factory was a large building and fully supplied with a great amount of costly machinery, both for the manufacture of shells and the loading of shotgun ammunition. A large force of employes was at work at the time the explosion occurred.

News from King's Mills at 9 o'clock to-night is that 10 dead bodies have been taken from the ruins and 30 are known to be wounded. Definite news is more likely to swell the list of casualties than diminish it.

The Pan-Handle train due here at 6½ this evening arrived at 11¾, the delay of 5¼ hours being caused by the accident at King's station. The passengers say the wrecked district presents a scene of utter desolation and state that in a dwelling shattered by the explosion an unknown woman had her back broken by the shock and an infant was killed. The reports of 10 killed and 30 or 40 wounded are also confirmed.

A messenger of the Adams' Express Co. arrived from King's station at 12¾. He says that at King's station at 11½ all was bright as day. Everything combustible was burning and people for a great distance around were fighting the fire. He says Peters' cartridge factory was a large three-story brick building, and it was still burning. The roadmaster of the Little Miami road informed him there were three families living in cottages near the place of the explosion, but six hours' search had failed to find any trace of them. He says more than 10 were killed.

The Minnesota Cyclone.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 15.—The lake shore was made to reverberate this morning with the thunder of dynamite, which was brought into requisition with the hope that it would bring some of the as yet unrecovered bodies to the surface. None, however, were found.

It is reported that Capt. Wethering of the wrecked Seawing has been jailed at Ellsworth at the instance of his friends to protect him from violence at the hands of friends of victims of the disaster. Forty-four funerals of victims took place to-day. The coroner began an inquest this evening, but being advised that no inquest could be held legally on bodies bearing no marks of violence dismissed the jury. The county attorney will have the grand jury investigate the disaster. The body of Rikka Vietha, aged 13, was found this afternoon along the shore below Lake City. This was the only body recovered to-day.

Stagnation in Railway Business.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Most of the western roads complain of stagnation in business, partly due to the recent rate war. A short crop in the Western States does not make the outlook encouraging and the managers are cutting expenses down. The Northwestern Railway yesterday discharged about 100 men employed in its shops because there was no work for them.

HOW IT FELL THROUGH.

HARRISON'S "SPIRITED POLICY" IN BEHRING SEA.

The President Proposed to Fire the Popular Heart and Carry the November Elections for His Party Even if it Brought on War.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Herald's Washington special says: On the day the McKinley bill passed the House the President, after a characteristic period of slow, quiet and non-committal deliberation, openly entered upon a spirited foreign policy by which our revenue cutters were to be required to visit, search, seize and confiscate British merchant vessels in Behring Sea. This policy was finally agreed upon at a cabinet meeting May 21. And here is a State secret which has never before even been hinted at. The proceedings of the cabinet were supposed to be a profound secret. The instructions that had been agreed upon to be sent to the commanding officers of the revenue cutters Bear, Rush and Corwin were also to be kept strictly confidential. Mr. Blaine was to proceed with the negotiations with Sir Julian Pauncefote as though we really desired to settle the Behring Sea question by arbitration.

The British Minister was even asked by Mr. Blaine what view his government would probably take of the pending negotiations, and received the frank assurance that they would proceed on the supposition that "nothing would be done during the coming sealing season to aggravate the question which made these negotiations a part of his diplomatic mission to the United States. The cutters were to sail and begin their depredations. It was calculated, coolly calculated, that perhaps early in August the first news of such seizures would reach the United States and a month at least would elapse before the real question in controversy would be publicly understood. The probable attitude of Great Britain was anticipated and, right or wrong, the administration was certain the country, regardless of political views, would stand by it to a man.

Here, then, was President Harrison's opportunity. The argument shaped itself in this way: If we, while negotiating with England, continue to seize and confiscate her ships, her Government, press and people will ferment over it, calling our Government and people bad names, and even blustering against them. This will excite our press and people, and in the warfare of words the rights and wrongs of the matter will be lost to sight. Whatever unites and rallies our people against a foreign power must unite and rally them upon the administration then in office. Hence, if we can fan the controversy with England into a popular quarrel and keep it lively, we can carry the Congressional elections, on the pure and simply ground of a patriotic duty to sustain the hands of the Government.

Why did the scheme fall through? Because somebody in the confidence of the President leaked. Perhaps the leak was not altogether without a purpose. That I will not presume to say. But on the morning of May 22 the very literal details of what were intended to be secret, confidential orders to the commander of the Bear, which was about to sail for Behring Sea, were printed thoughout the country.

The base treachery of the administration in its dealings with the British Minister confronted the President and all his cabinet. This story of President Harrison's interference with Mr. Blaine's conduct of the Behring Sea negotiations has been so fully and recently told that there is no need of saying another word about it, except that the facts have been in no wise exaggerated. Three weeks of mortification followed the exposure and betrayal of a plan to fire the popular heart for political ends. Some one had proved a traitor to the President's scheme, and had made it impossible for him now to honorably proceed with it.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

Growth of the Order—Election of Grand Priory Officers.

KINGSTON, July 15.—The reports to the Board of General Purposes of the Masonic Grand Lodge in session here show a substantial growth in the Order during the past year, and the financial condition of the Grand Lodge is, as a consequence, in such a state of health that they will be able to perform their great work of benevolence with added vigor. The Sovereign Grand Priory elected these officers:

Deputy Grand Master—Dr. J. A. Henderson, Q.C., Kingston.
Grand Chancellor—Daniel Spry, Barrie.
Grand Chaplain—Rev. Frederick Bates, Chatham.
Grand Constable—R. J. Craig, Port Hope.
Grand Marshal—W. G. Bell, Winnipeg.
Grand Treasurer—David McLellan, Hamilton.
Grand Registrar—G. W. Lovejoy, Montreal.
Grand Vice-Chancellor—S. J. Sanford, Barrie.

These members of the Grand Council were elected:

R. E. Sir Knights J. Ross Roberson, E. E. Sheppard, K. T. Malone, Toronto; J. S. Dewar, London; Daniel McWatt, Barrie.

The Grand Master appointed these members of Grand Council:

R. E. Sir Knights S. S. Lazier, Belleville; C. F. Lazier, Parkdale; S. F. Griffith, Quebec; Donald Ross, Picton; J. H. Mackay, Berlin.

A MINNEAPOLIS SCORCHER.

Over $1,000,000 Goes up in Smoke—Spontaneous Combustion.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 15.—The large seven story warehouse of the Security Warehouse Company on First and Fourth-avenue north owned by Wood & Morse was burned with its contents this afternoon, entailing a loss of nearly $1,000,000. The fire caught upon the second floor and is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. It soon spread to the upper floors, which were filled with agricultural implements, while on the fourth floor were 500 tons of binding twine. The firemen soon got to work, but were hampered by the intense heat, which old firemen say was the greatest they ever came in contact with. Upon the north of the storage house stood a three-story stone building. This was crushed flat by the falling walls, as was a one-story frame building used as a shipping room, in which was stored a quantity of machinery. The burned warehouse was erected in April last, and was used as a storage and transfer warehouse.

Look Out for This Swindle.

ORILLIA, July 15.—Here is another swindle which sharpers are working on farmers in this section. A stranger calls to see a fanning-mill. During his conversation and a walk about the farm with the farmer he is sure to see a horse that just suits him, and offers to pay a small sum to secure the bargain. If accepted he asks for a receipt of the money deposited, stating that he will go to the bank and return in a day or two for the animal. Such receipt turns out later in the bank as a note against the farmer.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Farewell Banquet to Gen. Middleton—Dental College Officers.

TORONTO, July 16.—Gen. Sir Fred Middleton was given a farewell banquet last night by about 50 of his friends, the majority of them being of the military. Dr. Goldwin Smith presided.

The Royal College of Dental Surgeons in session here has elected these officers: President, Dr. N. Pearson, Toronto (acclamation); vice-president, Dr. C. N. Snelgrove, Toronto; treasurer, Dr. Spaulding, Toronto; secretary, Dr. Bosanko, Barrie; auditors, Dr. Hipple, Stratford, and Dr. Swan, Glencoe. Barrie was selected as the place of the next meeting, which will be held on the second Tuesday of next July.

James Flannigan, aged 35, a sectionman employed on the G.T.R., met with a fatal accident last evening. He was engaged, with a number of others, in ballasting the track at the foot of Simcoe-street when a shunting engine approached. Flannigan delayed too long before stepping off the track and was struck by the engine and knocked down. The wheels passed over his left leg, mutilating it so badly that it merely hung together by a slender thread of flesh. The ambulance was summoned and Flannigan was taken to the Hospital, where the leg was amputated, but the shock was too much and he died from the effects at 7½. Flannigan leaves a wife and four small children. He resided at 178 Sackville-street.

MURDERED MISSIONARY LARGE.

His Widow and Child Pass Through Denver on Their Way to Canada.

DENVER, July 15.—Mrs. T. A. Large and child of Tokyo, Japan, arrived in the city yesterday evening. When upon the street she always goes closely veiled for the reason that a deep scar extends the entire length of the left side of her face. Two fingers missing from her left hand indicate that she passed through some terrible encounter. Until three months ago Mrs. Large and her husband were the leading missionaries in Tokyo, Japan, when, as related at the time, two assassins entered their house, killed Mr. Large and left his wife so seriously injured that she has just recovered.

She is now on her way to Toronto to visit relatives and will return to Japan this fall. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jameson of Hong Kong, China, and J. J. Wright, an English tourist, are in company with Mrs. Large. They will go to England. Mr. Jameson is an attache of the British Consulate at Hong Kong, and will spend several months in the Mother Country upon a leave of absence.

Escaped From Sandwich Jail.

WINDSOR, July 15.—Edgerton R. Sheply, who has been confined in Sandwich jail on a commitment for debt since January last, escaped Saturday. He at one time was a very prominent citizen of Essex county, and knowing Sheriff Iler and the attaches of the jail intimately, he was allowed considerably more freedom than that accorded to other prisoners. In the morning he went out in the yard, and at 7½, when the turnkey went to call him to breakfast, he could not be seen, but a wire ladder over the jail showed how Sheply had escaped. The police and constables were notified, but the only trace of him came from a man who knew him well, and says he saw him in company with another man driving westwards from the fish hatchery. He cannot go to the other side, so it is altogether probable he will be kept in hiding by some of his friends in Essex. Sheply was at one time manager of the Walkerville stores, leaving there for St. Paul, where he embarked in a large commission business and for a time bought for cash. Then he bought on ten days' credit, and at one time purchased goods to the amount of $40,000. He rapidly exchanged these goods for money and skipped to Canada and was arrested at Windsor. Since then he has been kept in jail on the charge of debt and Detective McKee says he could not have been held more than a week longer.

THE CANADIANS BEATEN.

United States Cricketers Win by an Inning and 21 Runs.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—The International cricket match between Canada and the United States came to a quick conclusion today owing to the complete inability of the Kanuck batsmen to cope successfully with the strategic American bowlers. G. S. Lyon was the only man to make a respectable showing. His 27 and 34 were put together in capital style. Lyon's hitting to leg greatly pleased the spectators. Senkler got 17 in the second inning in good form. The other men went in apparently without any confidence.

The trundling of the Americans proved to be too much for the Kanucks, and one of the strongest teams Canada has ever put in the field suffered an innings defeat. To the wonderful bowling of Brown, Baily and Clarke is the collapse of the visitors mainly due. The score:

Transportation in Bond.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Cullom offered a resolution which went over till to-morrow directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report to the Senate by what authority merchandise in bond and goods of domestic origin are permitted to be forwarded between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States on the Canadian Pacific railway, such merchandise on arrival at Vancouver being there transhipped, and whether or not such transportation and transhipment on foreign territory is consistent with the safety of the revenue; also other facts in that connection.

They Call Him William Cobourg.

STRATFORD, July 15.—A new-born infant was left in the yard of Justice Wilson Saturday night. Who the parents are is a mystery, but there is a well-defined rumor afloat. As the occurrence took place on the 12th in Cobourg-street the people here christened the infant William Cobourg.

The First Electrocution July 21.

ALBANY, July 15.—Governor Hill has received a petition for executive clemency in the case of Chapleau, the murderer confined in Clinton prison under penalty of death. His execution is set down to occur during the week beginning July 21, and unless the Governor interferes he will be the first murderer to be executed by electricity.

Killed in Dakota.

ORILLIA, July 15.—Word has been received here that Patrick Boyle, son of Peter Boyle of Mara, had been killed. He was a conductor on the Northern Pacific road, but no particulars as to the accident were sent. His body will be brought here for interment.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S ASSIDUOUS STUDY OF RUSSIAN.

Parnell and the Radicals—The League's Exchequer Drained—Reckless Stories About Mrs. Stanley's Presents Refuted—Bismarck's Busy Life.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Edmund Yates cables from London: Emperor William has been studying Russian assiduously during the last year in order to be able to converse in that language during his visit to Peterhof next month, instead of hearing nothing but French, as he did in 1888; for neither the Czar nor Czarina speaks German well. The Emperor is to command his Russian regiment of Viborg dragoons during the manœuvres at Tsarskoi Selo, and it is essential that he be able to make himself understood in the language of the country. Emperor William is very anxious that there shall be some great naval function at Heligoland when that island is formally transferred to Germany. It is proposed that the British squadron and German squadron meet there, with the Dukes of Edinburgh and of Connaught as representatives of our royal family. The Emperor desires to be in supreme command of the combined squadron during the review.

Parnell's speech on Friday created dismay among the Radical ranks. It was a direct invitation to the chief secretary to come to a friendly arrangement about the land purchase bill. If Parnell and the Government come to terms the measure will pass, and all the fulminations of the Opposition will be so much wasted energy. Sir William Harcourt's countenance was a study during the delivery of Parnell's speech. If ever anger, disgust and disappointment were legibly written on a human face it was on that of the member for Derby. Parnell's moderation was mainly due to the financial state of the league. New Tipperary and the Ponsonby estate cost the league £50,000, and the drain continues. America refuses to contribute to such playthings as New Tipperary, and the league consequently is near the end of business. When his story of the expenditure on the plan of campaign comes to be known it will, I think, be found that the Parnellite lawyers have not done badly. Parnell's speech gave deep offence to his own party. Messrs. Dillon and Healy detest moderation, and the compliments which the chief secretary gave to the speech of Parnell only rendered it more distasteful to the latter's followers. It was for the purpose of showing that they had no sympathy with the moderate course of their leader that Healy got up a violent scene later on in the evening, when he hurled a discharge of Billingsgate at the chief secretary.

There can be nothing to excuse the exaggeration about the magnificence and splendor of Mrs. Stanley's presents. They were very pretty and very numerous, but were not to be compared with those received by many of the brides who from time to time startle society by the magnificence of their corbeilles. The story that the Baroness Burdette-Coutts had given her £10,000 was a good illustration of the reckless way in which people invent stories. The Stanleys will remain at Melchet court until Stanley is better. His recovery may be slow. The bride and bridegroom took down a hospital nurse, and Dr. Parke was to be kept daily informed as to the condition of the patient and ready to go at a moment's warning.

Prince Bismarck leaves Friedrichsruhe in the course of a few days for his ancestral estate at Schoenausen, near Berlin. Thence, after a brief stay, he goes to his Pomeranian seat at Harzin. He devotes his whole time, not occupied by addresses, to deputations and interviews and to the care of his large landed property, which he manages under the advice of Herr Bleichroed with much intelligence. Prof. Schweninger saw him very recently and, although his general report was satisfactory, he warned his illustrious patient that he might have to insist on a visit to Kissingen or Gastein after all. His projected expedition to England is no longer mentioned.

The Chess Players.

LONDON, July 15.—A chess match between Lee and Blackburn began here yesterday. Yesterday's game was drawn. Twenty-three moves were made. To-day's game was won by Blackburn in 44 moves. The winner is to be the one who first scores six wins, drawn games not to count. The match excites considerable interest in London chess circles and a handsome purse has been provided for the winner.

The Pope Takes a Ride.

ROME, July 15.—The Pope in a carriage escorted by two soldiers of the Guardia Mobile left the Vatican grounds by way of the Fondamenta gate to-day and drove as far as the Musei gate, where he re-entered the grounds. The sentries at the Mint presented arms as he passed, and the workmen along the road knelt down reverently.

The object of the Pope's drive was to visit the sculptor Aureli and inspect his statue of St. Thomas Aquinas.

Dangerous Insanity.

PARIS, July 15.—The man who fired a revolver outside the Elysee yesterday while President Carnot was passing from his carriage to the palace was examined to-day by physicians and pronounced insane. He said that he fired the shot to attract the President's attention.

The firing of blank-cartridged revolvers at or near President Carnot in order to call attention to a personal grievance is becoming frequent. The last case was in May, 1889, at the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the meeting of the States General on May 5, 1789. The President, attended by his military and civil household, left the Elysee Palace shortly after midday in a state coach drawn by four horses to drive to Versailles. As the cortege turned into the Avenue Marigny from the Faubourg St. Honore, a man about 40 years of age suddenly drew a revolver and fired it point-blank at the President. Fortunately it was not loaded. On being taken to the police station the man said he merely wanted to call the President's attention to the injustice of the Minister of Marine towards him "in sending him to Senegal, where he did not want to go." The papers found on him showed that he was a steward on one of the government cruisers and that his name was Nicholas Perrin.

France's Demands.

PARIS, July 15.—The Temps says that in return for the British protectorate over Zanzibar France demands that England shall expressly recognize France's right to grant exequaturs to foreign officials in Madagascar and give France liberty of action in the Niger country, also France's right to terminate the Anglo-Tunisian treaty in [illegible] and to deal similarly with the [illegible] treaty. APSLEY AFFAIRS.

The Celebrations—Personals—The Courts—Births and Deaths.

Correspondence of the Review.

JULY 1ST.—The programme prepared by the Football Club had to be postponed on account of the rain—excepting the dancing which commenced at an early hour, in the Town Hall.

JULY 13TH.—The postponed football match was contested to-day by the rival Reds and Blues. After a keenly fought struggle of 35 minutes the Blues won the first goal, the ball playing off the goal keeper. This was the only goal allowed during the hour's play. Mr. T. Howland, now a resident of Warsaw, was visiting friends here and rendered very efficient centre forward service to the Blues—his former position. The burning heat of the sun was greatly mitigated during the whole hour of play by the friendly shade of clouds, which were dispersed a short time after finishing the game. The attendance of picnickers was fair in numbers although many were prevented attending on account of having begun haying operations previously.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Lonsborough, colonization road inspector, paid our burg a visit on Friday last.

DIVISION COURT.—His Honor Judge Weller held the usual Division Court sitting here on Thursday. There was a very small number of suits. The two suits against Mr. D. M. Moore were satisfactorily arranged.

FUNERAL.—The remains of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hawkins were laid to rest in the Apsley cemetery on Friday last. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad loss.

KILBORN VS. YOUNG AND WILSON.—These charges preferred by Mrs. Kilborn before C. R. D. Booth, J.P., have been withdrawn, the defendants making amply apology for their conduct and paying all costs.

DEATH.—Hawkins.—The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hawkins passed peacefully to rest on Thursday, 11th inst.

YOUNG'S POINT PENCILLINGS.

The Bridge—The Fishing—Taking a Trip—Church Picnics—Navigation—Notes.

Correspondence of the Review.

THE BRIDGE.—The flooring of the iron bridge has been temporarily repaired, but it won't last long. The fact of the matter is, the flooring is rotten; it was laid with elm, and it ought to be be cedar three or four inches thick and of the best quality. The sooner it is done the better for the travelling public. It was not repaired until a party came from Manitoba to do it.

FISHING.—A gentleman from Peterborough when up here last week, caught a fine maskinonge of 6 pounds weight with rod and line, and crawfish for bait when in company with Mr. C. Young in a canoe on Clear Lake. A greenhorn would have come badly off to get such a fish landed into a canoe.

STEAMER MARY ELLEN.—The steamer Mary Ellen commenced on Monday last to run daily from Lakefield to Stony Lake, calling at Young's Point, Julian's Landing and Burleigh. She meets the train from the south in the morning and leaves the upper lakes in time to catch the evening train from Lakefield. She is very well patronized by tourists and others going up the back lakes. The captain always stays in the locks or the wharf ten minutes for the gents to have a "saw log."

TAKING A TRIP.—Mr. J. Young is going to treat himself to a nice trip this week for the benefit of his health. He will take in the Thousand Islands and then go down the St. Lawrence Gulf to Murray Bay and Tadousac for sea bathing. We hope he will come back feeling thoroughly recruited to spend the winter with us.

BAPTIST CHURCH PICNIC.—On Tuesday last 8th inst., the members of the Baptist denomination of Lakefield chartered the Steamer Mary Ellen and Palace Scow to Clear Lake and were left off at the Orchard to hold their picnic. Their day's enjoyment was cut short by the fearful thunder-storm and rain and hail-storm. They were scarcely through with dinner when all had to fly to the village for shelter. It has been an unlucky season for holidays and picnics.

THE STEAMER CRUISER.—This fine passenger steamer is doing quite a passenger trade to the back lakes from Lakefield this season and Capt. Reynolds is getting very popular with the travelling public. As the steamer is on its way he keeps answering questions and pointing out and describing all that is beautiful around Stony Lake and its countless islands. A captain of a passenger steamer cannot do too much of this sort of business. It takes well and in the long run pays.

CORRECTION.—In last week's correspondence the Undine is mentioned as being chartered by Mr. Eden, it should be the Dawn. The former little steamer belongs to the Lakefield Lumber Company.

DUMPING MILL RUBBISH.—A little more care and attention to the beautiful young trees around the east side of the river would be a favor to those who delight in having the surroundings of this pretty little village look neat. It is generally boys who dump this shingle mill rubbish and should be told not to put it so very close to the trees, as it is set fire to and away goes the fire destroying everything green in its progress. This had better be stopped in time before much more damage is done.

EARLY VEGETABLES.—Mr. Richard Read of this place left a basket full of early vegetables for your correspondent's approval—and he thoroughly appreciates such presents—Mr. Read has a fine garden and in a beautiful spot.

LOST.—Tramp to our village doctor—"I have lost an arm, sir." Doctor (in great haste) "Sorry, but I haven't seen anything of it."

LOST NO. 2.—Your correspondent overheard an individual one day lately saying he never lost anything in his life. I wonder if he ever owned such a thing as an umberilla or a knife?

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Hemstitching, Drawn Work and Satin Stitch Embroidery on Linen.

Fine sheets, table cloths and table napkins are now hemstitched, many having still more elaborate ornament in the shape of an insertion of drawn work, the very simplest form of which is an improvement to anything with a straight edge. Beyond this is often worked a flowing design in white embroidery, principally satin stitch, and which is so arranged as to be a good deal raised above the background.

One of the handsome patterns for this embroidery resembles a thick piece of lace laid upon the linen. Such work is not very difficult to manage, and amply repays any trouble that may be bestowed upon it. A lace design is first of all traced upon the linen with tracing paper in the usual manner. The outlines are followed with overcast stitches, worked as delicately as possible; the fillings are made with lace stitches, the various lace being put in exactly as in lacemaking: in short, the work is executed just like point lace, except that the lace stitches are taken through the linen foundation, instead of being worked upon a background which is afterwards cut away.

Floral Decorations.

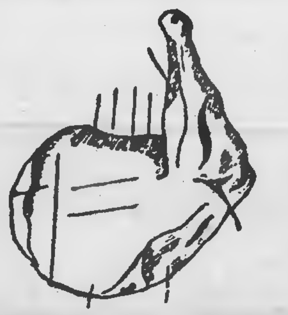
Each year floral decorations becomes more and more of an art. Among charming triumphs of the professional decorator's skill, recently noted, is an arrangement for the dinner table of a number of slender glass vases of graduated heights filled with various lilies, grasses and ornamental foliage. These are interspersed among the tall candelabra both branched and single. Trailing sprays of the same flowers are laid upon the cloth.

How to Clean Chenille Curtains.

Curtains taken down in the spring should be so cared for that they will be uninjured by moths, uncreased and spotless when wanted in the autumn. Table Talk tells that chenille draperies seem especially to invite the depredations of moths, but a little precaution will put these tiny despoilers to flight. Chenille curtains should never be wiped off, nor should they be shaken vigorously. When taken down the curtains should be laid at full length over a clean sheet stretched upon the floor, then thoroughly brush on both sides with a moderately stiff clothes brush. Now sponge both sides thoroughly with tepid water, to which has been added two tablespoonfuls of turpentine. Lay them carefully away on shelves or in long cedar boxes.

How to Carve a Leg of Mutton.

When you are sure the leg is from a sheep of good breed and that it is really tender, take hold of it by the knuckle with the left hand and then cut the slices perpendicular from the joint to the bone of the filet; then remove the muscle of the knuckles; next turn the leg over and slice off the back portion. For this essentially primitive way of carving gourmets substitute carving by curvilinear slices, which renders the pieces more succulent.



It must be remembered that neither of these ways should be resorted to except when the meat is of the best quality and of great tenderness. In other cases, the better way to proceed is to cut horizontally instead of perpendicularly, that is, cut off the slices paralled with the bone. The slices should be cut very thin, and when a sufficient number have been sliced off, plunge the fork into what remains of the leg several times and let the gravy run over them. A few drops of lemon juice and a little pepper and salt added will improve the flavor amazingly.—Paris letter in Boston Herald.

Veal Loaf.

To make veal loaf use three or four pounds of veal and a slice of fat pork, all chopped very fine. Add two eggs and four large crackers. Roll the crackers and mix the crumbs with the egg and meat; season with cinnamon, spice, cloves, pepper and salt. Mold into an oblong loaf, place in the pan and bake for two hours. Pound two crackers and put some water, with butter to pour over it while baking; baste two or three times with this. When the loaf is cold cut into thin slices and serve. This is one of the nicest preparations of cold meat for luncheon that I know of.

Foiled.

BROCKVILLE, July 15.—A young Englishman, who for some time past has been employed as cook with a gang of linemen the employ of the Bell Telephone Company, came into town from the work near Lyn Saturday and celebrated the 12th. Yesterday morning he called at Harding's drug store, and asked Dispensing Clerk Leslie for a supply of laudanum, cheerfully stating that he wanted to end his life. His intentions were to write to his girl first and then take the laudanum. The purchase was not effected, however, and the young man's distorted body has not yet been discovered.

He Was Insane.

HAMILTON, July 15.—James Cleland, whose body was found in the Grand River, was admitted to the Hamilton Hospital on Jan. 28 and discharged on June 14. He was suffering from hysteria, and his mind was apparently affected.

To-day was the hottest of the summer, the thermometer registering 94 in the shade at noon.

While out sailing on the bay this afternoon John Kagan lost his hat overboard and jumped in the water after it. He was taken with cramps and drowned. The body has Mustard Oil as a Lubricant.

Mustard oil has of late been given some attention as a lubricant and it is reported to have been successfully used for some time in Germany for lubricating purposes. It is said not to be susceptible to cold, and, besides, does not easily become rancid or form fatty acids which would attack metal. Its lubricating value, moreover, according to Prof. G. Herman, of Aix-la-Chapelle, is of a relatively high order. No particulars have been yet given as to the cost of the new lubricant, its specific gravity, etc.

The Important Item of Sleeves.

Sleeves are the most serious item in dress this season. Beside sleeves, every other point connected with dress is dwindling into insignificance. They are of a contrast to the rest of the dress in color and material. The big velvet and plush sleeves of the spring now look uncomfortably hot and heavy. The sleeves of the summer dresses are made of silk, satin, brocade and lace. Silk sleeves are very pretty. On summer gowns they are frequently veiled with lace or covered with embroidery.

Marvellous Beyond Precedent,

is the effect of Sozodont upon the whole economy of the mouth keeping the gums rosy and healthy, the teeth in perfect order, giving to the breath a balmy fragrance.

His Honor's Joke.

"What's the next case?" asked the Judge.

"The prisoner was arrested for ogling woman."

"Ah! sort of stare-case!" said the Judge, and the prisoner laughed so uproariously that the Judge was very lenient.—Boston

Obituary.

The death is announced of the late Jas. T. Elliott, which occurred on July 10th last at the family residence, Smith, and in the 62nd year of his age. Mr. Elliott was one of the best known residents of the township, having lived there for a very long period. He was born in the township of Cavan in 1828, and removed to Smith when a young man. He took up farming and followed it all his life. He was married to Katharine Weir, daughter of Mr. Robert Weir, of Otonabee, and had a family of nine children, three sons and six daughters, all of whom with the exception of one, now dead, were at the homestead at the time of his death. Mr. Elliott had a very wide circle of friends and was most highly respected for his sterling character and unblemished record. He was not active in municipal matters, though frequently urged to take part. He was a life long and esteemed member of the Methodist church, attending George-st. church at Peterborough. The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place on Sunday, the 13th inst., interment at the Little Lake Cemetery. The immediate cause of death was paralysis, and he passed away after an illness of two weeks.

The five coaches of picnickers who came up yesterday from Millbrook and went to Bobcaygeon passed through here on their journey home last evening and reported having enjoyed a good day. Music in the Park.

The band gave an excellent open air concert in the park last evening. The programme was listened to by an unusually large crowd of delighted citizens, who drank in the sweet melody as they promenaded the beautiful walks of the park and vicinity or enjoyed the cool breeze of the evening on the grassy terraces. These open air concerts are bright spots in the average citizens' days of toil during the hot season and are appreciated immensely.

Crowds for Stoney Lake.

The summer exodus to Stony Lake has set in in earnest this week. Citizens who are opulent enough to own a cottage are sending up furnishings and their families to follow. Prospects of a Bountiful Harvest.

A gentleman whose business led him during the past week through South Douro, Dummer, part of Asphodel and the north-western part of Otonabee, and who during the route interviewed many of the most respectable farmers in the districts mentioned, reports that as far as he can see (and he is undoubtedly a good judge) and hear, the prospects of a good harvest are beyond doubt very good.

The Sea Shore Meet at Long Island.

Members of the A.C.A. who propose attending the meet of the association near Sag Harbor, Long Island, during August next, will please hand their names to Ex-Com. E. B. Edwards or to Mr. Dobbin, at the REVIEW office. It is desired to have as large a party as possible and that this district; the home of canoeing, shall be well represented. The meet promises to be unusually interesting and will in all probability be the only meet on salt water for some years, so readily accessible. Members of the A.C.A. are entitled to special rates travelling and which render the trip comparatively inexpensive. Arrangements have been made for meals at the camp, for the meet, at $1 00 per day. Several routes are open for the trip and will be decided upon. To the man who spends his life in the island districts nothing is more invigorating than a spell of holiday spent where the sea breeze can be inhaled under pleasant circumstances. A number from town have arranged to attend and others will no doubt come forward.

THE QUESTION OF THE OWNERSHIP OF THE SCHOOL LANDS.

A Long Discussion at the Board of Education—The Estimates go Through as Read at the Last Meeting—The new Principal for the Collegiate Institute Appointed—Mr. Cortes Fessenden, of Napanee, to be the new Principal—Music in the Schools—Mr. Denne Objects to Forcing Music on any Child.

With the music of the fire brigade band floating in from the Court House park to their ears the Board of Education assembled in the Board room in the Collegiate Institute building last evening. The meeting was a special one called for the purpose of passing the estimates which were referred back to the Finance Committee at the last meeting. Mr. Jas. Stevenson, Chairman, presided and present were Messrs. Kendry, Hill, McKee, Ferguson, Hamilton, Dr. Boucher, Bradburn, Denne, English, Dumble and Corkery. The meeting was a long one and considerable discussion was indulged in before adjournment.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

MUSIC IN THE SCHOOLS.

Mr. J. H. Ketcham sent in a communication in which he informed the Board that the time at present given to music was too short. In the communication he said:—"Now what I would like to ask of the Board is to give me the full time, five days, to do the work in. I can give all the larger classes one hour each week, including one or two hours in the Institute. This will take all my time and will be almost all the singing I will be able to stand. For this I must ask a salary of $600 per year. Will the Board please make it compulsory for each pupil to have a book, just as in their other studies. Those without books do not take the desired interest. In fact some cannot sing that would if they had books. I believe music in our schools should be taught on educational principles." The remainder of the communication was in regard to the settlement of Mr. Ketcham's salary last year, he claimed a balance of $26.67.

When this communication was being disposed of Mr. Denne objected strongly to any of the children being forced to learn music. Mr. Denne said "My boy for one shall not learn music and I do not believe in forcing children to study it if they have no taste for it."

Mr. Denne spoke warmly but Mr. Dumble quieted matters by pointing out that the communication would have to be considered in committee. The communication was then referred to the Committe on Appointments.

FROM THE TEACHERS.

Miss S. McLeod sent in her resignation as teacher in the South Ward school, the same to take effect on September first.—Accepted, the resignation to take effect at once.

Miss Mary Sim made application for promotion to any vacancy which might occur.—Committee on Appointments.

Mr. HILL moved, seconded by Mr. KENDRY,—That the balance of Mr. Ketcham's salary be paid.—Carried.

NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE PRINCIPAL.

Mr. Dumble, Chairman of the Committee on Appointments, presented the following report:—

The Committee on Appointments, to whom was delegated the duty of selecting a principal for the Collegiate Institute to be recommended to this Board, respectfully submit the name of Mr. Cortez Fessenden, M. A., principal of the Napanee Collegiate Institute. Mr. Fessenden has held his present position for six years, during which time his school has attained a high state of efficiency.

Before submitting this name for the approval of the Board your Committee made most searching enquiries and then submitted the name to the High School Inspectors who most heartily approve of the selection, stating that Mr. Fessenden is a most successful and acceptable principal. Your Committee have much confidence in submitting Mr. Fessenden's name for your approval.

As to the salary to be paid to Dr. Tilley in consideration of his effective services to our schools your Committee recommend that he be paid at the rate of $350 a year from January 1st, 1890.

As to the vacancies in the public schools your Committee recommend the employment of Miss Leigh and Miss Lizzie McDonald and ask time for the selection of other teachers as they have not yet sufficiently considered other applications.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Chairman.

Mr. DUMBLE supported the report by saying that the Committee was in possession of considerable information in relation to the appointment which it could not make public without breaking confidence with the applicants. Mr. Fessenden stood very high in the estimation of the department, was a gentleman of high standing and was very successful in Napanee. The Committee had considered other names at salaries of $1,700 or $1,800 but it was simply a question of selection, giving greatest weight to the judgment of those upon whom they had to rely. Mr. Fessenden's salary would be $1,500.

Some discussion arose over the report, the members of the Board being anxious to secure a first-class principal and therefore were desirous of having full information regarding the appointment. Mr. Dumble accordingly went into a complete statement of the Committee's work, which the press were asked not to report.

On motion of Mr. Dumble the report was adopted, a clause being inserted fixing the salary at $1,500.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. HILL, in the absence of Dr. Burnham, Chairman of the Finance Committee, then presented the report of that committee as follows:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—The Finance Committee recommend the payment of the following accounts:—

Peterborough Gas Co.	$ 70
J. Montgomery	4 65
C. P. R.	1 32
H. H. McDonald	11 29
Wm. Chapman	2 80
Rathbun Co.	31 50
Canadian Office and School Furnishing Co.	15 00
Ed. Green	9 25
Geo. Wyatt	1 25
Francis Mason	75
E. G. Rundle	2 70
George Benton	50

McKee & Davidson	24 50
James Miller	3 00
Pay roll for work on grounds	90 08
N. S. McDonald	15 87
J. R. Stratton	72 04

Your Committee after having fully considered the question of rent charged by the Public schools to the Institute, cannot recommend that any reduction be made.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEO. BURNHAM,
Chairman.

The report upon being read was on motion immediately adopted.

THE QUESTION OF THE LANDS.

Mr. DUMBLE, when the report was read and adopted, was occupied for the moment with another matter. Upon noticing the last clause of the report, he asked to be allowed to speak on the report.

On motion of Mr. Kendry the report was taken up again and Mr. Dumble was allowed to speak.

Mr. DUMBLE said he wished to speak on the last clause of the report, and he proceeded to point out the rights of the High school to the grounds upon which the school buildings stand, claiming that the High school should receive some recognition of their rights to the grounds and the use of them, or there could be no equitable adjustment of the rent. If these rights were not recognized it would leave the Board open to a charge of unfairness. The land belonged to the Grammar school and not to the Public school, and it was only right that the Grammar school rights should be considered in making the adjustment. They should consider what the entire community should pay and what the Protestant portion should pay. He would move that the report be not accepted but be referred back to the committee.

Mr. HILL said the matter was given a good deal of consideration before the committee made the recommendation they had. The High School Board, it should be considered, had no deed of the land and the Public school paid for all the supplies and repairs to the buildings. Mr. Hill said they could have cut the rent down to $700 and allowed the High school to pay one-third of the cost of the repairs and supplies, which would amount to the same thing as the present arrangement. He did not think the rent was excessive as the Board could not rent suitable buildings for the same money.

Mr. STEVENSON,—Does the Board own this land, Mr. Dumble?

Mr. DUMBLE, certainly we do.

Mr. STEVENSON—It's a question.

Mr. ENGLISH said the grounds had been granted for school purposes and had not increased in value during all these years. The land was valued at a few hundred dollars when granted, and certainly it never had increased to $10,000, which was the basis upon which the rent was asked to be fixed. The ground could only be used for school purposes and therefore could not increase in value.

Mr. HAMILTON said he could not understand Mr. Dumble's position in this matter. The Board was a joint one and there had been an understanding at the time the Boards were united that things were to remain as they had been. This matter had never been brought up before, and he believed the men in the old board were as good as those who were there now.

Mr. HILL quoted the following clause from the Revised Statutes of Ontario regarding union boards:—On the dissolution of such union the school property held or possessed by the Board of Education at the time shall be divided or applied to school purposes as may be agreed upon by a majority of the public school trustees and of the high school (or Collegiate Institute) trustees respectively, present at meetings called for that purpose.—48 Vic., chap. 49, sec. 223.

THE OLD BOARD'S UNDERSTANDING.

Mr. STEVENSON said when the Boards were united they applied for the deed of the lands as a joint Board. The official in Toronto had answered that the deed would have to be issued to the Grammar School Board. Although Mr. Dumble said the Board owned the ground, he held that the deed was still with the Government. At the time the application was made there was no trouble among the old Board, and the understanding was that the subsequent legislation would cover the case. They had three other lots at that time in town, and these were sold and the Catholics got their proportion. This money was granted for High School purposes and the Catholics were represented on the Board and were still. It was clearly understood that the ground was free and no rent had ever been charged for them. But buildings had been built and the High School occupied part of them. The Public school made all repairs, and he did not think the rent excessive. The basis of the agreement as to the rent to be charged was carefully gone into by the late Mr. Shaw, and the figure was fixed at $700, but subsequent expense of repairs had caused it to be raised. If they built a new building they would find that the repairs would cost them a good deal more than $300. There had never been any trouble about the matter, and he doubted if any Government would refuse a joint deed after they had built the buildings as a joint Board. At the time the legislation referred to was passed, it was understood that it made the joint Board owners of the grounds. He said before they passed Mr. Dumble's resolution they should know what they were doing and get advice on the matter.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CLAIMS.

Mr. DUMBLE again presented his claims for a more equitable adjustment in consideration of the rights of the Collegiate Institute to the grounds. He asked if it was fair to allow the rights of one half of a partnership and ignore those of the other. They were a joint Board or a partnership. They charged rent for the buildings which were Public school property, but refused to allow the High School a fair adjustment for the land they contributed and which was used by Protestant Public school children. As regarded the question of title, they all knew that they could never get title by possession. In concluding he said the lands were a special grant to the Grammar School, now known as the Collegiate Institute, and if they ignored the claims of the High School Board, they would do what was inequitable. He had spoken against it and the responsibility would rest with the Board.

Dr. BOUCHER said a similar case had recently been settled at Brockville by arbitration.

Mr. DENNE said Mr. Dumble had been on the Board for years and had done with the rest of them what they thought was right. If he had now found this mare's nest he thought it should be left to a committee and have the matter settled and let the Boards separate if necessary, the sooner in his opinion the better.

TO REFER IT BACK.

Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Dr. BOUCHER,—That, inasmuch as the lands occupied by the Collegiate Institute are High school property, in adjusting the rent to be paid by the High school for school accommodations the value of these lands should be taken into consideration and a fair allowance to the Collegiate Institute made in respect thereof; that the rental of $1,100 a year charged by the Public school against the High school is an excessive rent, and that the Finance Committee be instructed to make such a reduction in the rent charged against the High school as may leave that rental an equitable one.

Mr. BRADBURN said when the Finance Committee considered the matter they had the same information before them as they had now, and he did not see what would be gained by sending it back again. He objected to the clause of the resolution which said the rent was excessive.

Mr. CORKERY said the Finance Committee had not considered the ownership of the land and if the High school owned that land it should be taken into consideration in adjusting the rent.

TO SEEK LEGAL ADVICE.

Mr. HILL said the question as to who owned the lands should first be settled before the report was referred back.

Mr. BRADBURN objected to the resolution on the grounds that it was an admission that the High school owned the property.

Several other gentlemen also objected to the resolution, and considerable further discussion was indulged in, the general feeling being that the question as to who owned the lands should first be settled. With this understanding Mr. Dumble withdrew his resolution, and Mr. DENNE moved, seconded by Mr. HILL,—That the Chairman of the Board obtain the best legal advice respecting the dispute of the ownership of the school property now before the Board.

This motion was carried, the report of the committee having been already adopted.

On motion the Property Committee were authorized to repair the roof of the Institute building.

The Board then adjourned.

St. Paul's Auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

The members of the above society again urge on the congregation the claims of the Indians on the Northwest mission stations, and respectfully solicit contributions towards the box annually sent for their benefit. New and cast off warm clothing in GOOD condition, such as shirts, stockings, socks, mufflers, mitts, hoods and caps. New material, flannel and factory cloth, wincey or woollen goods, as well as factory cotton, prints for dresses and shirts, are particularly appropriate; patch work pieces of any description, yarn and knitting needles, blankets, comforters, and feather pillows. Any of these things will be most thankfully received and faithfully distributed by the missionary. As the box must be despatched from Peterborough by the first of September, it is desirable that all packages and contributions be forwarded without delay to Mr. Walter Wood, caretaker of St. Paul's church, Murray-st., who will kindly receive them. Any persons who prefer sending their contributions in money, by handing it to R. Innes, Esq., of Hall, Innes & Co., or to Mrs. R. Innes, will thus ensure its being expended on whatever necessary articles may have been overlooked by those sending goods.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

WEDNESDAY JULY 16, 1890.

WHITE V. BLACK.

How the Planters Enforce Contracts with Negroes in Louisiana.

MERROUGE, LA., July 15.—Sunday night 21 laborers from the plantations of A. Heffner near Oakridge, Morehouse parish, whose passage he had paid from North Carolina quit their homes and commenced in the darkness to make their way into Arkansas. They were pursued by a posse of Heffner's friends and this morning were found lying in ambush in a dense thicket. When notified that they were surrounded by men who would do them no harm and only asked their return to their homes they expressed willingness to return, but when the posse went forward to meet them the negroes led by one bold troublemaker opened fire on the posse and for a minute did some wild shooting. The posse returned the fire and five negroes were killed.

The running away of laborers from men who have brought them from North Carolina, their only object being to beat planters out of their passage to Louisiana, has become too common of late.

A Race War in South Carolina.

CHARLESTON, S.C., July 15.—A riot is reported near Kearse, Barnwell county. Three hundred negroes armed with new rifles are said to confront 25 white men. One negro has been killed. Assistance has gone from the neighboring towns.

WEEKLY WAGES.

The New York Law to Be Rigidly Enforced—Provisions of the Act.

ALBANY, July 15.—Factory Inspector Connolly will probably begin to-morrow to take steps toward the enforcement of the law for weekly payment of wages. The law took effect July 1, but Mr. Connolly allowed those affected 14 days in which to comply with its requirements. He will now through the Attorney-General bring action against all employers who have not lived up to the law. He holds that salaried officers are not exempt from the provisions of the law, as it expressly states that every manufacturing, mining or quarrying, lumbering, mercantile, railway, surface, street, electric and elevated railway, except steam surface railways, steamboat, telegraph, telephone and municipal corporations and every incorporated express company and water company shall pay weekly each and every employe engaged in its business the wages earned by such employe to within six days of the date of such payment.

Mr. Connolly will bring actions against all municipalities that refuse to obey the law. He claims that city officers and all employes generally come under the law, excepting, however, mayors and heads of departments who have appointing power.

Failed to Get a Wife.

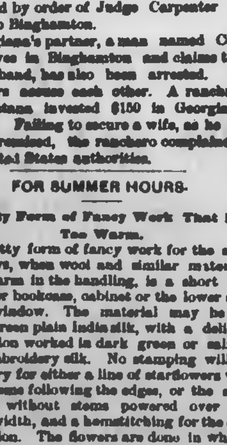
PROVIDENCE, R.I., July 15.—Georgiana Cosroft, a pretty waitress aged 21, employed in a restaurant here, was arrested to-day on complaint of Deputy United States Marshal J. Flack of Binghampton, N.Y., on the charge of conducting a bogus matrimonial agency. United States Marshal Blaisdell took Georgiana into custody and she was arraigned before Commissioner Douglas. She waived examination and was held in $500 for her appearance in the United States Court of the northern district of New York to be held in Buffalo the third Tuesday in September. She couldn't furnish bail, and by order of Judge Carpenter was taken to Binghamton.

Georgiana's partner, a man named Coon, who lives in Binghamton and claims to be her husband, has also been arrested. The prisoners accuse each other. A ranchman in Montana invested $150 in Georgiana's agency. Failing to secure a wife, as he had been promised, the ranchero complained to the United States authorities.

FOR SUMMER HOURS.

A Pretty Form of Fancy Work That Isn't Too Warm.

A pretty form of fancy work for the summer days, when wool and similar materials seem warm in the handling, is a short curtain, for bookcase, cabinet or the lower sash of a window. The material may be the palest green plain india silk, with a delicate decoration worked in dark green or salmon pink embroidery silk. No stamping will be necessary for either a line of starflowers with short stems following the edges, or the same flowers without stems powered over the whole width, and a hemstitching for the edge decoration. The flowers are done in what is called daisy stitch, one chain stitch half an inch long forming the petal, which is held down at the point by another short stitch.



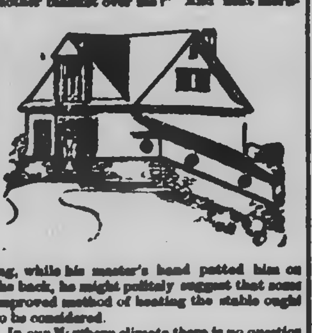
There are seven petals, all radiating from a central point where the needle goes in. The short line for a stem is worked in ordinary stem stitch. The silk should be a trifle coarse, and the long stitch spread open a little to widen the petal. Instead of the daisy or star flower the decoration may be drawn from the circumference of a silver 25-cent piece, the circles being in groups of two or three, arranged according to fancy and worked in outline stitch, which is a long stitch forward on the right side of the material and a very short stitch back on the wrong side. In doing it always bring the needle through to the front on one side of the stitch already taken to avoid splitting the silk.—Harper's Bazar.

——The diamond trade is much interested in remarkable artificial diamonds which came into notice during the Paris Exposition. So perfect are some of the imitations that they puzzle dealers and experts. By the same chemical analysis as applied to precious stones they are found to melt at only a very high degree of heat, and, of course, were exceedingly hard—in fact, so hard that they would scratch and almost cut mirror glass.—Court Journal.

ARCHITECTURAL ADVICE.

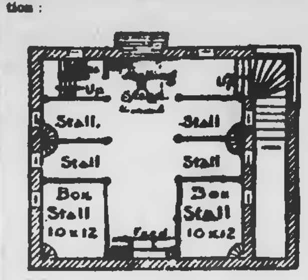
Plan for Basement Stable That Would be Always Comfortable.

If our faithful friend, the horse, could talk he would probably startle his groom on some cold winter night just before the retiring hour, by saying: "Will you please throw another blanket over me?" And next morning, while his master's hand patted him on the back, he might politely suggest that some improved method of heating the stable ought to be considered.



In our Northern climate there is no question that horses suffer much from cold, particularly those horses that are clipped of the winter coat that nature provides. A basement stable is a very comfortable one, being warm in winter and cool in summer. Great care should be taken to provide thorough ventilation and to guard against dampness.

A good example illustrates this article. Following will be found a detailed description:



FIRST FLOOR.

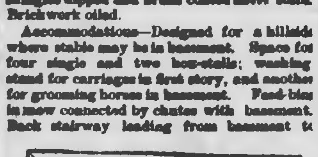
General dimensions—Width, 30 ft. 6 in. depth, 33 ft. Heights of stories: Basement 8 ft. 6 in.; first story, 13 ft.; loft, 12 ft. to ridge of roof.

Exterior materials—Foundations, stone; first story, gables and roofs, shingles; run-way roof, tinned.

Interior finish—Flooring in all stories and run-away, soft wood. Run-way to have cleats to prevent horses slipping. All timbers in carriage room, also the under side, of all sheathing and mow flooring, to be smoothed and varnished. The inner side of stone work extending up to window sills, to be wainscoted with hard pine ceiling boards.

Colors—Preferably the colors should harmonize with colors of residence. If standing alone use the following scheme: All stone work pointed with red mortar. All wall shingles dipped and brush coated Colonial yellow. Trim cornices, etc., white. Outside doors and sashes, dark green. Roof shingles dipped and brush coated silver stain. Brickwork oiled.

Accommodations—Designed for a hillside where stable may be in basement. Space for four single and two box-stalls; washing stand for carriages in first story, and another for grooming horses in basement. Feed-bins in mow connected by chutes with basement. Back stairway leading from basement to mow. Grain, hay, etc., may be taken in at front of the mow by tackle hung to the outlooker provided for that purpose.



BASEMENT.

Feasible modifications—Heights of stories, general dimensions of plan, kind of material and colors may be changed. The covered run-way may be omitted. For a level site the stable may be planned at rear of carriage-room. Chimney may be omitted. Stone work above first floor level may be omitted.

CATCHING BUTTERFLIES.

How a New Haven Collector Easily Replenishes His Collection.

John Maier is of Teutonic extraction, and he is a tailor. Whenever he can he devotes his time to catching butterflies. This is his hobby. What does he do with them? He simply chloroforms them and frames them by thousands. About the walls of his store are six such collections, averaging about two and a half feet square.

Mr. Maier has certainly done some wonderful work in gratification of his whim. Take any one of his collections. It contains at least 580 butterflies of all shapes, sizes, colors, and shades, and these are arranged in circles and crosses, and all sorts of figures. The largest and rarest are placed in the centre, and the lesser lights around them. All are placed with wings outspread, perfect specimens.

During the spring and summer months Mr. Maier uses a net in collecting specimens, and in the fall and winter months he puts in his spare time climbing trees and obtaining butterflies in chrysalis form. To-day in his store there is a regular butterfly hatchery. He has fully 2,000 cocoons. These are divided according to their size and are now resting peacefully in shallow boxes about a foot square. The boxes are supplied with covers, and in consequence act just as do incubators, and scores of the chrysalises are daily expanding into beautiful butterflies. Alive, they float about the store and sun themselves until Mr. Maier is ready to put them to sleep.

To do this he has a novel arrangement. This consist of two narrow smoothed pieces wood sloping toward each other in a gentle angle, yet not connecting; a sort of trough separating them. The whole is about 18 inches long and the trough about half an inch wide. The body of the captured butterfly is placed in the trough, his wings are spread out on the sloping wood on either side, and then the restless little insect is sent on his long journey to the happy hunting ground of butterflydom by the administration of just a little chloroform. The wings are then pinned to the wood to insure their holding their perfect form, and when the arrangement is full of dead butterflies it is relieved of its cargo, and the pretty, gauzy little fellows are tucked upon the background of the coming addition to the collection. Mr. Maier has been doing this sort of thing for six years.

Fatal Accident Near Springford.

WOODSTOCK, July 15.—A fatal accident occurred on the farm of J. M. Inglesby, South Norwich, near Springford, the other day. John Delaney, aged 23, who was employed on the farm, was engaged in driving the horse on the hay fork. While in the act of unloading, the horse stopped suddenly and Delaney struck him with the lines, causing the animal to jump forward. In the jump the tug broke and the whiffletree flew back, striking the unfortunate young man, who was close behind, in the stomach. He went to the house apparently not seriously hurt and went to bed. He was around as usual next day, although he did no work. That afternoon, however, the pain became so severe that a doctor was sent for, who declared that inflammation had set in, but that there was no danger. During the night the young man became worse and before morning he was dead.

GEN. MIDDLETON'S SUCCESSOR.

It is Said the Government Will Select Col. Charles Robinson.

OTTAWA, July 15.—It is said that the Dominion Government will make an effort to satisfy the demand for the appointment of a Canadian commandant of the militia by selecting Col. Charles Robinson, a Canadian, now assistant military secretary at the Horse Guards in London, to the position. Col. Robinson is a son of the late Chief Justice Sir John Beverley Robinson and a brother of Hon. J. B. Robinson, late Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and of Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C. He has seen active service in Ashantee, in Zululand and elsewhere, and is a full colonel in the imperial service.

Some time ago the Department of Justice forwarded to Mr. Sam Bedson, the warden of the Manitoba penitentiary, a copy of the report of the select committee of the House of Commons on the Middleton-Bremner affair, with a request for an explanation as to his own conduct. Mr. Bedson has sent a curt reply stating in effect that he knows nothing whatever about the Bremner furs business.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

Pure Lime-Fruit Juice.

WHAT is Lime Juice? This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.

By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied to the British Government), in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, prepared Lime Juice, &c.

SAVED BY GOV. HILL.

JOSEPH CHAPLEAU'S SENTENCE COMMUTED.

The French-Canadian Murderer, Condemned to Be Electrocuted, Escapes the Deadly Spark But Must Spend the Rest of His Days in Prison.

ALBANY, July 16.—Governor Hill has commuted to imprisonment for life the sentence of Joseph Chapleau, convicted in Clinton county of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be executed during the week commencing July 21. In his decision the Governor says:

"This application for executive clemency is based upon a petition signed by many of the leading citizens of Clinton County, including nearly all the county officials. The County Judge strongly favors the application, the district attorney does not oppose it, the twelve jurymen who rendered the verdict against the defendant unanimously unite in asking for a commutation."

Dr. Chapleau Doesn't Know Him.

OTTAWA, July 16.—Dr. Chapleau, brother of Hon. J. A. Chapleau, was seen to-day. He says he knows of no cousin or relative of his living in the States. This man may be a cousin, but he would be a very distant one. He says that his near relatives are all residing in the County of Terrebonne, as far as he knows.

FRYE TO BLAINE.

The Maine Senator Asks for Information Touching Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Senator Frye, in reply to Mr. Blaine's letter of July 11, wrote as follows:

Your letter leaves me in some doubt as to facts. I assume that your views are as contained in what is known as the Hale amendment; that you know for instance what the Latin republics will receive of ours free from duty in compensation for free sugar. I assume that that amendment was the result of thorough investigation. The difficulty about it is this: The amount of sugar to be received from those states would be comparatively small and the consumers of sugar would receive no benefit from it. Your letter to me extends this idea of reciprocity to Cuba and Porto Rico. I admit if sugar is received free from these islands, as well as from the Latin republics, the people would be benefited and sugar would be practically free. But will Spain admit into those islands free of duty the list of articles named in that amendment? Of course we could not enact a law more favorable to Spain than to the republics. Do you know what Spain would exchange for free sugar and can you give a list of the articles she would receive? The better way, probably, would be to make the list she would receive the controlling one for all these countries.

Losses Caused by Flames.

CHICAGO, July 16.—The steam scow Two Henrys, a freight boat, was burned off shore about three miles from South Chicago at noon to-day. The crew escaped in the yawl. Loss $5000.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 16.—A fire this afternoon, which started in Cronley & Co.'s junk store, threatened to make sad havoc, and did destroy several buildings, entailing a loss of $25,000.

VALPARAISO, Ind., July 16.—The residence of John Hamlet near here was burned this morning. Mrs. Hamlet and four children, the eldest about 8 years old, were burned to death.

BOSTON, July 16.—A serious fire started in the Congregational Church at Rockland this afternoon, and spread rapidly to adjoining buildings. The fire caught from a gasoline lamp. The total loss will reach $100,000.

The Carolina Race War.

BLACKVILLE, S.C., July 16.—The arrival of the military prevented further trouble at the Kears settlement. Most of the military have left the place, as no further trouble is anticipated. The negroes have all returned to work. Eleven negroes who ambushed several young white men have left the county. If possible they will be arrested. Several white men were wounded, Mr. Kears probably fatally.

The Drouth Broken.

LINCOLN, July 16.—Good rains fell in most parts of eastern Nebraska Monday and yesterday. Corn farmers are greatly encouraged.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., July 16.—The scorching drouth from which this section has been suffering for many weeks has at length been broken. The rainfall which began at midnight and continued for about three hours was tremendous.

The "Gold" Watch Racket.

ELMIRA, July 16.—Several well-dressed, smooth-tongued rascals have been "doing" the townships of Woolwich and Peel and have succeeded in swindling a good many of our farmers. Their specialty is gold watches which they claim they have been obliged to take on a bad debt. Their story was so well rendered that many of our farmers fell victims to their snares and paid from $10 to $15 for watches which are worth less than $3 each.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

WAS WHEELSMAN MILES ROBERTSON MURDERED?

The Dead Body of a Chicago Sailor Found at Port Dalhousie—There Had Been Drinking and a Quarrel—Suspicious Wounds and Bloodstains.

PORT DALHOUSIE, July 16.—Early this morning the dead body of a man was found lying on the bottom of the dry dock here, who was subsequently identified as Miles Robertson of Chicago, employed as wheelsman on the steamer S. L. Tilley of St. Catharines. The Tilley went on the dry dock here yesterday, and last night some of the men, among them the deceased, were drinking, and did not go on board till nearly midnight, during which time deceased had an altercation with one of the other men, one or two blows being exchanged.

Dr. Considine, the coroner, empanelled a jury to enquire into the particulars and this open verdict was rendered: "The deceased, Miles Robertson, was found dead on the bottom of the dock near the propeller Tilley with a clean cut wound on the back of his head, how done we cannot say, but such was the cause of his death, being supposed to have fallen or been thrown from off said propeller."

There is a feeling among the people here that deceased met his death by foul means, as the distance from the deck of the Tilley to the bottom of the dock is nearly 30 feet, and the body when found was lying full length, with the feet together and no bones broken, with a deep cut on the back of the head and a small portion of the brain oozing out of one ear, and there were blood stains on the side of the steamer from the main deck down.

Was He Murdered?

BROCKVILLE, July 16.—The body of the man who was found on the lake shore near Three Mile Bay a few days ago has not yet been identified. A fracture of the left temple leads to the conjecture that the man was murdered and thrown into the lake. At first it was thought that it was one of the ill-fated crew of the schooner Breck, which went down near Horseshoe Island about two months ago, but the clothes do not support this conjecture.

GRAND LODGE OF CANADA.

Kingston Overflowing With Masons—Forecast of the Election of Officers.

KINGSTON, July 16.—Five hundred delegates were present at the opening of the annual convocation of the Grand Lodge of Canada this morning in the City Hall. Grand Master Walkem presided, and read a lengthy address, reviewing his official acts for the past year. Routine business occupied the attention of the Grand Lodge all day. The discussion on the third degree question was adjourned, and will come up as the first order of business in the morning.

Grand Master Walkem, assisted by Deputy Grand Master J. Ross Robertson and the members of Grand Lodge, laid with appropriate ceremonies the corner stone of the Nickle Wing of the General Hospital.

The election of grand officers takes place to-morrow. J. Ross Robertson of Toronto will be elected unanimously Grand Master and Hon. J. M. Gibson or Ed. Mitchell of Hamilton will be chosen Deputy Grand Master. C. C. Robinson of Aurora is in the field for Grand Registrar. The wardens will likely be A. McGinnis of Belleville and George Davis of London. For District Deputy Grand Master of Toronto district the candidates are George J. Bennett and Fred Inwood. Hamilton district will elect C. W. Mulligan.

The hotels are all filled and Kingston people were evidently unprepared for the influx of visitors. Mayor Drennan stayed up all night and personally accompanied late arrivals to private houses and managed to get sleeping accommodation for delegates.

A BRACE GAME.

Husband and Wife Arrested on a Charge of "Raising" Bank Bills.

MONTREAL, July 16.—Joseph Berthiaume and his wife, Emelina Narbonne, have been arrested on a serious charge. About two weeks ago a butcher at St. James' market sold 58 cents worth of meat to a woman and gave her the change for a Bank of Hochelaga $10 bill, and it was not until some time after that he discovered that the bill was useless, or rather had been raised from a $1 bill. He did not see the woman again. This woman, Narbonne, subsequently went into Leclair's saloon, on the corner of Ontario and Jacques Cartier-streets, and asked for change for a $50 bill. Leclair gave it but found shortly afterwards that he had been duped, as the bill had been raised from a $5 bill. He followed the woman home and made her give up the change, at the same time retaining the bill. He then notified the police, who placed her and her husband under arrest. Search in the house revealed a wooden box containing acids, type, glass cups and various utensils necessary for the work of raising bank notes. Their 4-year-old boy went with them to the cells. They appeared before Judge Desnoyers yesterday morning, but the case was postponed. It is supposed Berthiaume is the same person who some time ago tried to work off a supposed $20 bill upon N. Michaels.

RAILWAY SUBSIDIES.

The Amount Expended Since Confederation by the Dominion Government.

OTTAWA, July 16.—An amended return has just been issued showing the amount of money expended by the Dominion in each province since Confederation to June 30, 1889, as subsidies to railways, excepting the Canadian Pacific main line and Sault branch:

Ontario	$1,970,846
Quebec	2,488,844
New Brunswick	690,110
Nova Scotia	1,115,612
British Columbia	750,000

And for the several railways built by the Dominion in each province, including Intercolonial branches and extensions, but not the main line as originally constructed:

Quebec, including purchase of Riviere du Loup branch	$5,530,[illegible] 8
New Brunswick	3,671,984 74
Nova Scotia	7,821,070 11

To Reduce Grain Rates.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission has decided that it will issue an order making a reduction in grain rates from Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri to St. Louis and the Mississippi River and to Chicago. Food product rates east of the Mississippi and not involved in other suits before the commission are not found to be excessive.

Failure of the Delaware Peach Crop.

WILMINGTON, Del., July 16.—President Mills of the Delaware Railway has furnished the annual estimate of the peach crop. The total estimated shipments are placed at 12,973 baskets. This is the smallest yield in the history of peach growing with two exceptions: 1866, when the shipments were 23 carloads, and 1891, when 70 carloads were sent [illegible].

THE U.S. DEPENDENT PENSION BILL.

A Measure in Which Many Canadians are Peculiarly Interested.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Thousands of Canadians who served in the Union ranks in the civil war, or who had near relatives in that conflict, will be interested in the Dependent Pension Bill which became law by the President affixing his signature to it the other day. As it was finally passed the bill reads:

An Act granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who are incapacitated for the performance of manual labor, and providing for pensions to widows, minor children and dependent parents.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That in considering the pension claims of dependent parents, the fact of the soldier's death by reason of any wound, injury, casualty or disease which, under the conditions and limitations of existing laws, would have entitled him to an invalid pension, and the fact that the soldier left no widow or minor children having been shown as required by law, it shall be necessary only to show by competent and sufficient evidence that such parent or parents are without other present means of support than their own manual labor or the contributions of others not legally bound for their support: Provided, That all pensions allowed to dependent parents under this act shall commence from the date of the filing of the application hereunder and shall continue no longer than the existence of the dependence.

Sec. 2. That all persons who served ninety days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late War of the Rebellion, and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and who are now or who may hereafter be suffering from a mental or physical disability of a permanent character, not the result of their own vicious habits, which incapacitates them from the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn a support, shall, upon making due proof of the fact according to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may provide, be placed upon the list of invalid pensioners of the United States, and be entitled to receive a pension not exceeding $12 per month, and not less than $6 per month, proportioned to the degree of inability to earn support; and such pension shall commence from the date of filing of the application in the Pension Office, after the passage of this act, upon proof that the disability then existed, and shall continue during the existence of the same, provided that persons who are now receiving pensions under existing laws, or whose claims are pending in the Pension Office, may, by application to the Commissioner of Pensions, in such form as he may prescribe, showing themselves entitled thereto, receive the benefits of this act, and nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent any pensioner thereunder from prosecuting his claim and receiving his pension under any other general or special act; provided, however, that no person shall receive more than one pension for the same period, and provided, further, that rank in the service shall not be considered in applications filed under this act.

Sec. 3. That if any officer or enlisted man who served ninety days or more in the army or navy of the United States during the late War of the Rebellion, and who was honorably discharged, has died, or shall hereafter die, leaving a widow without other means of support than her daily labor, or minor children under the age of 16 years, such widow shall, upon due proof of her husband's death, without proving his death to be the result of his army service, be placed on the pension-roll, from the date of the application therefor under this act, at the rate of $8 per month, during her widowhood, and shall also be paid $2 per month for each child of such officer or enlisted man under 16 years of age, and in case of the death or remarriage of the widow, leaving a child or children of such officer or enlisted man under the age of 16 years, such pension shall be paid such child or children under the age of 16; provided, that in case a minor child is insane, idiotic or otherwise permanently helpless the pension shall continue during the life of said child or during the period of such disability, and this proviso shall apply to all pensions heretofore granted or hereafter to be granted under this or any former statute, and such pensions shall commence from the date of application therefor after the passage of this act. And provided further, that said widow shall have married said soldier prior to the passage of this act.

Sec. 4. That no agent, attorney or other person engaged in preparing, presenting or prosecuting any claim under the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, contract for, demand, receive or retain for such services in preparing, presenting or prosecuting such claim a sum greater than $10, which sum shall be payable only upon the order of the Commissioner of Pensions by the Pension Agent making payment of the pension allowed, and any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section, or who shall wrongfully withhold from a pensioner or claimant the whole or any part of a pension or claim allowed or due such pensioner or claimant under this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall for each and every such offence be fined not exceeding $500 or be imprisoned at hard labor not exceeding two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Dr. Potts' Claim.

HAMILTON, July 16.—Dr. Potts of Queen-street south, formerly of Parkdale, is an applicant for a pension from the American Government, which, if it is secured, will be a handsome sum. The doctor was an army surgeon during the war of the rebellion and received injuries while on duty in Texas which have since seriously affected his hearing. The back pension money claimed amounts to $10,000 and a further pension of $1500 a year.

PRISON REFORM.

The Commission at Kingston—Many Witnesses Examined.

KINGSTON, July 16.—The Prison Reform Commission to-day heard evidence from Sheriff Hope and Jailer Appleby of Belleville, Sheriff Gillespie and Jailer Patterson of Picton, Deputy Sheriff Pruyn and Jailer Van Luven of Napanee, Jailer C. H. Corbett, Mrs. Chown, President of the W.C.T.U., Chaplain Cartwright of Kingston Penitentiary and Warden Lavell. The evidence generally endorsed county poor houses, classification in jails, and supervision of jails by the Government, though Sheriff Hope favored the councils having control. Another central prison was advocated and work on the streets advised for second-term criminals. "Temperance Acts will not lessen drunkenness," said Jailer Patterson. Warden Lavell urged education as a means to lessen drunkenness and favored industrial schools but not reformatories.

OWEN SOUND, July 16.—The new steel steamer Seguin, built by the Polson Iron Works Company here for the Parry Sound Lumber Company, was successfully launched at 2½ to-day. The launch was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators.

SHOT ACROSS HER BOWS.

FRESH TROUBLE ON THE NEWFOUNDLAND COAST.

An Island Cruiser Fires at a French Fishing Brig Caught in the Act of Securing Bait—Serious Complications Likely to Result.

NEW YORK, July 16.—A special to The Journal, from Halifax, says: "It is rumored here to-day that there has been fresh trouble, the most serious yet reported, between the French and English on the Newfoundland coast. It is said that the Newfoundland cruiser Fiona, which has been recently put into commission to patrol the coast for the purpose of enforcing the bait act, has had a conflict with a French fishing brig from St. Malo, France.

The story is to the effect that on Friday the Fiona discovered the Frenchman in North Bay, on the south coast, securing bait. Immediately on seeing the Fiona the Frenchman made sail. The cruiser followed, and a lively chase ensued. The Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow. The Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be greatly exaggerated, but color is lent to the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when interviewed on the subject, said he had no official information yet of a French ship being fired at on the high seas, but if such was the fact it might possibly lead to a more serious complication.

BRISTLES WITH AMERICANISMS.

Mr. Blaine of Maine Twists the British Lion's Tail.

NEW YORK, July 16.—A Washington special to The World says: An important statement is made to-night on excellent authority in explanation of the delay attending the transmission of the Behring Sea correspondence to Congress in accordance with the resolution recently adopted by the House of Representatives. It is now understood that Mr. Blaine has caused the delay in order that an important despatch, which he has prepared in reply to Lord Salisbury's latest representations, should appear among the documents when they are made public. This despatch was written by Mr. Blaine several days ago and forwarded to Minister Lincoln for delivery to the Acting Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. It is understood that a copy of this despatch is already in the hands of the state department officials, but courtesy between the two nations forbids the publication of any part of it in advance of its receipt by Lord Salisbury.

This latest emanation from the pen of Secretary Blaine is said to fairly bristle with what his admirers style "Americanisms," but which is denominated by his critics "Jingoes." It is feared, however, that the cold and cautious nature of the President may induce him to suppress either the whole or a portion of the despatch at this time, as being calculated to increase the secretary's popularity with the masses, and particularly with those who find amusement and relaxation in twisting the British lion's tail. There is little doubt here that the President had the Irish-American vote in view when he rejected Salisbury's proposition for a settlement of the Behring Sea controversy—a settlement exactly in line with that for which Secretary Bayard contended. On the other hand, it is urged that the President will not be likely to suppress Blaine's letter because it will certainly be made public when Salisbury sends the Behring Sea blue book to parliament.

It is of course understood that the recent threat made by the British Government, with regard to the protection of British sealers will be eliminated from the correspondence as sent into the house, but all the dispatches bearing upon the former contentions of the two governments are likely to be given in full.

ACCIDENTAL BUT CARELESS.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury on the Dartmouth Disaster.

HALIFAX, July 16.—The inquest on the victims of the Dartmouth disaster was concluded to-night. No new facts were elicited. The jury's verdict was:

"Accidental death, but had the gate at the head of the wharf been securely fastened the accident would not have occurred."

Canuckophobe Cullom.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—In the Senate today Mr. Cullom offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury to report whether loading, bonding, sealing and manifesting cars or vehicles in Canadian territory for transit through Canadian territory in bond to American ports can be done with safety to the revenue and with a proper regard to American interests, capital and labor and with the proper enforcement of the Inter-State Commerce Law upon all transportation alike, whether partly in transit through foreign territory or whether within the United States, and whether and to what extent such loading, bonding, sealing and manifesting cars or vehicles in Canada is done and under what law or statute or treaty.

A Millbank Sensation.

STRATFORD, July 16.—On Saturday a young woman came to Millbank on the evening train from the north. She was unknown to any one in the village and on her arrival went to the hotel. On Sunday morning she went out in a neighboring field and gave birth to a baby. She tore up some of her underclothing and wrapping the infant up in it left it in the field and returned to the hotel, where she had breakfast. She stayed around the inn and ate dinner and supper and then went to bed. In the morning she was too ill to get up, the force of will that had kept the unfortunate girl up so well having collapsed. Some person went out in the field during the morning and found the child. It is still alive and the authorities are looking into the affair.

Drowned in Six Inches of Water.

BRANTFORD, July 16.—A two-year-old boy named Fisher, whose mother lives on Farmer Atkinson's place in Tranquility-road, was accidentally drowned during the temporary absence of his mother. The little fellow had toddled out into the barn yard, where a pool of water about six inches deep had formed, and wading into it fell on his face. He was unable to get up and was drowned before assistance arrived.

A Candidate for the Cat.

BELLEVILLE, July 16.—News has just been received of a heinous case of assault committed on a young French girl in North Hastings. The fiend who is charged with the crime has left for parts unknown. It is believed that he is hiding in the woods.

Charged with Horse-stealing.

BRANTFORD, July 16.—Daniel Johnston is under arrest charged with having stolen a horse, buggy and harness, the property of Smith Bros., from Brickmaker Waghorn of Newport, to whom the rig had been let.

HAVELOCK HAPPENINGS.

The Village Building Up—Burglary—Improvements—Personal—Notes.

Correspondence of the Review.

PROGRESS.—The growth of our village has been something remarkable. Three or four years ago, where there was nothing but a dense cedar swamp almost impenetrable, with rabbits and other small game roaming through at will, now stands the thriving village of Havelock. A large schoolhouse is being built this summer and is to be ready for the opening of school. There will be four rooms in the school, but three of them only will be needed, as that number of teachers will be able to instruct the youth. The people take an active interest in all educational affairs as well as all other matters pertaining to the welfare and prosperity of the place. Stores to the number of fifteen supply the wants of the people and a fair stock is kept. There are several blacksmith and waggon shops to supply the wants of the people of Belmont and Methuen in this line. Churches are also being built and now there are four very nice little churches belonging to the respective denominations, Roman Catholics, Church of England people, Presbyterians and Methodists. There is a saw mill owned by Paul & Wiseman, who do a good business in cutting and shipping lumber. The forests around furnish abundance of wood, of which a great amount is shipped every year and employment given to a number of men. Three hotels are found here to furnish stopping places for travellers.

BURGLARY.—Monday night two unsuccessful attempts were made by burglars, but nothing was secured by them as they were frightened away. The stores broken into were A. V. Fuller's, who also keeps the postoffice, and W. H. Stephenson's. First the thieves broke into a blacksmith shop and secured the necessary tools to carry out their nefarious plans and then proceeded to Mr. Stephenson's store and broke in the door by braking the lock. Mr. Stephenson, fortunately, was lying asleep on the counter, he being unable to sleep in his bed from some cause he could not explain and so went down to the store, when the strangers appeared. He seized a pitchfork that was close at hand and attacked the villians, but they escaped. Still they were not to be defeated, for they went to Mr. Fuller's and pried in his side door, breaking the lock and had the tills open, but there being no money there except some coppers and a few ten cent pieces it was not touched. Mr. Fuller thinks they were also frightened away from here, as his dog made a great noise in the night and he got up and lit a light and his house being very close to the store the burglars thinking they were discovered decamped taking with them nothing at all. This is not the first time that work of this kind has been done this summer here. The drug store has been entered on three different occasions and money taken from the till, leaving Dr. Jeffs the looser of some amount. If they are caught no doubt an example will be made of them and the law will deal with them to its fullest extent.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Great improvement is being made in the streets. The place being so low is is found very difficult to build roads that will stand in the spring, but commission McAully has expended the amount appropriated to the very best advantage. Mr. Hamilton has begun the erection of a store on the corner of Orange and George-sts. Success is wished him in his undertaking.

PERSONAL.—Capt. Burnett is home again. He reports a splendid time with his regiment at Kingston. His place as agent was taken by Mr. Wm. Redding who is the day operator here.

NOTES.—The financial meeting of this district will be held here sometime during August.... The engine that pitched into the washout at Locust Hill passed through on Tuesday on its way to the shops at Montreal to be repaired.... Philips Bros. have placed a set of scales for weighing hay, etc. They are Guerneys' manufacture. We hope financially it will prove a success. Those having hay to sell will no doubt take advantage of the scales.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

Correspondence of the Review.

BUILDING.—Mr. Jno. Lightfoot has finished moving his barns. They are now in a splendid position, with stone foundations underneath nearly completed......There is also a new barn erected on W. H. Hutchison's place, near Centreville. It is a fine looking building, complete, with a good horse stable underneath......Mr. S. Might, of Cavan, has moved his barns on a fine, airy hill.

BAILIEBORO.—We are sorry to learn that our neighbor, Mr. H. Nesbitt, is about to leave us. We hope he will enjoy his new home in Peterborough.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATION.—The celebration of the battle of the Boyne in Millbrook was the grandest ever known. First, because it was such a fine day, and all the lodges and bands did their duty so well. Everything in the way of refreshments was duly provided and the village was beautifully decorated with arches and flags, and we are sure everybody can join in and sing that "Millbrook is truly a loyal place."

THE SEAWING'S VICTIMS.

Thirty-one Bodies Recovered Yesterday—Capt. Wethern Arrested.

REDWING, Minn., July 16.—The bodies of 31 victims of the Seawing disaster were recovered to-day as follows: Mrs. Merritt Green, Julia Persig, William Anons, William Jorgenson, Frederick Christ, Peter Olson, Miss E. J. Crawford, John Adams, Ira Fulton, Edna Way, Mary Skoglund, Louis Lillyhred, Ed. Merritt, Henry Schulenberger, Henry Newton, James Wilson, Louis Brennan, Johnny Strouse, Randal Olson, a small son of Peter Gerken, Charles Peterson, Albert Blake, Mattie Flynn, Ella Adams, Augusta Iro, George Hartman, an unknown, Maggie Schulenberger, Martin Schari, Mrs. Cramer and Joseph Carlson.

The bodies recovered thus far number 100. It is thought there are still about a dozen not found. The bodies found last night and to-day were bloated and blackened beyond recognition so that clothing, jewelry and papers were the only means of identification.

The warm weather and shallowness of the water, together with the fact that several large steamers sent up heavy swells to-day as they passed up the river, brought the bodies to the surface very quickly.

It is stated Captain Wethern of the ill-fated Seawing had been arrested at the instance of United States officials and taken to St. Paul.

Another Minnesota Cyclone.

ST. PAUL, July 16.—It was reported to-night that Stillwater had been visited by a cyclone, but later specials report the place as all right. The tornado seems to have struck Marine, a small town six miles north-east of Stillwater, Clear Lake, Wis., and New Richmond. The wires are all down.

There was a storm in Southeastern Minnesota to-night with reports of cyclones in various places. These reports have not been confirmed. Considerable damage to farm property is reported. The wires are now working to Stillwater. There was damage to property but no loss of life at Marine.

DID THE POPE RIDE OUT?

The Question Which is Now Agitating the Sacred City—Cable Notes.

ROME, July 16.—The clerical newspapers deny that the Pope drove outside the Vatican yesterday. The Riforma maintains the truth of the statement that the Pope drove out and that the sentries at the mint saluted the papal carriage.

A Congregational Council.

LONDON, July 16.—Dr. Dale has accepted the presidency of the International Council of Congregationalists to be held in July, 1891. Rev. Dr. Storrs of Brooklyn will deliver an inaugural sermon.

Hot Weather in the Alps.

VIENNA, July 16.—Intense heat prevails in Central Austria and in the Alps from Graubenden to Lower Austria. The melting of the snow on the mountains has caused the affluents of the Danube to rise. The inhabitants are greatly alarmed. Much damage has already been done.

Floods and Pestilence.

VIENNA, July 16.—The Danube has overflowed near this city. Several bridges have been swept away near Presburg. The villages on Schutt Island are inundated.

The Board of Health here has been informed that cholera has reappeared in 31 communes of Valencia and Alicante, Spain.

THE CASE COLLAPSED.

Hamilton's Abduction Sensation—A Missing Butter Merchant.

HAMILTON, July 16.—The McGillivray abduction case collapsed this morning. Counsel informed the magistrate that, acting with the sanction of the parents interested, they had come to an arrangement which was mutually satisfactory. The mother was to retain possession of the child and the father was to be permitted to see it whenever he desired. An agreement was signed to that effect. In view of this turn of affairs the magistrate consented to a dismissal of the charges of abduction against Mrs. Dr. McGillivray and John Littlehales. There was less difficulty in coming to this conclusion when the County Crown Attorney had delivered himself of the opinion that the prosecution could not have sustained the charge anyway, as against the mother of the child.

Robert Bessey, the butter and egg dealer of this city who was arrested last week and taken to Caledonia, was allowed to go on his own recognizance to appear for trial by Judge Upper. Now he is wanted, but cannot be found. The police in Hamilton want him and a warrant has been issued in Cayuga for his arrest there. He is also wanted in Dunnville, Smithville and Grimsby.

William McCawley of the postoffice department in this city died yesterday. He leaves a widowed mother and only brother (Mr. R. J. McCawley, of Ford & McCawley, Toronto).

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Verdict of Manslaughter Against C.P.R. Section Foreman Roach.

TORONTO, July 17.—The World says that R. M. Wells, Q.C., ex-M.P., ex-Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, and solicitor of the C.P.R., will soon be called to the Senate. Mr. Wells is a Reformer.

Mr. Ballantyne, M.L.A. for South Perth, will probably be the choice for speaker of the Ontario Legislature.

Rev. Dr. Samuel Rose, one of the leading figures in the Methodist Church for the last half century, died yesterday morning at the age of 84, after a long illness.

The coroner's jury which has been investigating the disaster on the Canadian Pacific Railway, near Locust Hill, by which five men lost their lives returned a verdict last night of manslaughter against Section Foreman Roach.

At Bolton yesterday little Willie Griffin was playing on some logs in the creek and while standing on one it turned beneath him and he slipped into the water. His grandfather, William Griffin, after whom the lad was named, sprang to his rescue. Although 80 years of age he jumped into the water, but his strength was not equal to the task, and both sank to a watery grave before assistance could be given.

Hon. Oliver Mowat starts to-day for the White Mountains, where he will spend three weeks.

Some Things Never in Fashion.

There are some things that are never in fashion, although the enterprising shopman may fill his windows with them. One is green gloves. If one green glove can be worse than another it is that kind with V shaped sections of white kid set in them. These never were and never will be fashionable, and do not let anybody induce you to spend your money on them.

Then while scarlet crepe bonnets and scarlet trimmings are in good taste leave all red hats, especially the large ones, to the people in the nursery. Arrange your red coloring in some other way and do not have it all in a hat. La Mode never approves of them.

Then do not believe that blacks, grays and browns are to be forgotten for some odd shade of green, pink or blue; the first are always in good taste. Peculiar tints are never to be desired unless one has a wardrobe in which gowns are very numerous.

Do not be persuaded into buying anything. Think out before you start what you want, and endeavor to get it. The penance of wearing unbecoming and unsuitable costumes, or adjuncts, is a trying one; so be wise, and by choosing judiciously do not put yourself in a position that will involve your having to undergo it. Sackcloth and ashes mean happiness as compared with silk and tulle for all hours and occasions.—Ladies' Home Journal.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,

Picnics and Rain.

This was another day of picnics and rain. Three different picnic parties left this morning to enjoy an outing. Seven coaches carried a large crowd to Chemong on the annual picnic of the Charlotte-st. The young men's Bible class of St. John's church went down the river to Jubilee accompanied by a number of friends.

A New Serial.

The death of Sylvanus Cobb, jr., a few months ago caused renewed interest in his stories, which were very popular at the time they were written. To the present generation they were almost unknown, but they have not lost interest, as the plots are as fresh and the easy style as pleasing now as then. We commence to-day the publication of one of his strongest works, "Valdimir the Monk," a story of Russian life in the days of Peter the Great, and all who care for stirring fiction should read it.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

A Family of Five Persons Perish in a Burning House.

By Telegraph to the Review.

QUEBEC, July 17th.—About two o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a bar room on St. Joseph-st., owned by Delamare and Oullet. The flames made such rapid progress that the whole house was soon ablaze. The fire brigade promptly answered the alarm call, which, however, was a little late. On arriving at the scene they worked with energy at preserving the surrounding property, unaware that the occupants of the upper part of the burning house were roasting to death. It was only after the flames had been extinguished that the firemen came in sight of the bodies of five persons who had been burnt to death. The family consisted of Piere Miranda, his wife and three children. It is thought that more people perished in the flames, as the Mirandas were lodging several visitors from the country.

Accidents of a Year.

In Canadian railway accidents for the year ending June, 1890, there were 210 persons killed and 875 injured. Of these 25 were killed and 144 injured on the government railways. On the Canadian Pacific system 56 were killed and 252 injured; on the Grand Trunk system 104 were killed and 385 injured. The total number of passengers carried on the Government railways was 1,289,052; on the Canadian Pacific, 2,477,206; and on the Grand Trunk, 5,917,742

Guarding the Royal Mail.

A young man by the name of Wm. Dale, who drives the mail waggon between the post office and the trains, was brought before the Police Magistrate this morning, a complaint having been made to the police that he was carrying a revolver on his person. The revolver was found on the young man, but he said he thought he was justified in carrying the weapon in order to defend the mails while carrying them through our streets. The days of highwaymen and daylight robberies have passed over Peterborough and the Magistrate informed the young defender of the royal mail that his occupation was no justification for his carrying the fire-arms, as there was no particular danger to his life or property. The young fellow accordingly relinquished his claim on the revolver and the police did not prosecute him.

The Civic Holiday and the Celebration.

A petition is being circulated by the 'Prentice Boys asking the Council to proclaim our Civic Holiday on August 12th, Jubilee Lodge, accompanied by the Fire Brigade band, goes to Belleville where a grand celebration is to be held. Referring to the demonstration the Belleville Ontario says:—"There will be a grand procession formed on the market square at 12.45, and a march made through the principal streets of this city to Exhibition park. No pains have been spared to make it one of the grandest celebrations ever held in the city of Belleville. All the visiting brethren in the procession will be admitted to the grounds free. There will also be a baseball match between Peterborough and Belleville, and many other attractive features not mentioned on the bills." According to a resolution of the Council last year the second Thursday in August was fixed as Peterborough's annual civic holiday, but a strong effort will be made to have it two days earlier this year.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The board of directors met last evening, President Early occupied the chair. The General Secretary read the report of work for the past month, which was considered very satisfactory. The devotional committee reported through Mr. I. Richardson, chairman. All felt much encouraged by the manifested interest shown in our spiritual work, also the earnestness of God's presence with us. Our finances are still a source of anxiety and we are believing that our citizens will come to our aid that the work of the Lord among our young men may be carried on without this continual worry about funds. We thank God for what is done and do believe He will supply all our need through Christ Jesus. Any subscriptions received will be gratefully received and have God's blessing. Our future prospects for a new home was earnestly discussed and all the Board felt we should and would seek God's guidance in the matter. After devotional exercises the meeting adjourned.

The camp at Stony Lake, August 3rd to 15th promises to be a season of much pleasure and profit. Bible readings will be given each afternoon, also camp-fire song services in the evening. Eminent Bible students are expected from Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, London, etc. Sabbath services will be held, commencing Sabbath evening next, when Mr. T. S. Cole will have charge of the evening service on Juniper Island. Let all who desire Bible study and recreation attend and enjoy these privileges.

We thank Miss Everett for a handsome ,, chia for the parlor.

The Game on the Diamond.

The baseball match between Campbellford and Peterborough will be commenced on the P.A.A.A. grounds at 1.30 to-morrow afternoon. The game is called early to allow the visitors to leave for home in the afternoon. A game is to be played here with the Hastings club on Saturday afternoon.

Down the River.

The children of the Sunday school of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, had their annual outing yesterday at Jubilee Point. The day was an ideal one for a picnic and the large crowd which took in the trip were delighted with the sail down the river on the Golden Eye. The day was most pleasantly spent in picnic fashion and the children seemed to enjoy themselves to the fullest. The return trip was pleasant, although the logs in the river were a source of much inconvenience and annoyance to the officers of the Golden Eye.

A Free Trip to Europe.

The Publishers of the Canadian Queen will give a free trip to Europe to the person sending them the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the name of their well known magazine, "The Canadian Queen." Additional prizes consisting of Silver Tea Sets, Gold Watches China Dinner Sets, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantle Clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. Webster's Unabridged Dictionary to be used as authority in deciding the contest. This is a popular plan of introducing a popular publication. Everyone sending a list of not less than ten words will receive a present. Enclose thirteen 2c. stamps for illustrated catalogue of presents and three months trial subscription to The Queen. Mr. Harry Rubidge, of Chicago, Secretary and Auditor of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway, who has been attending a convention of freight agents at Cape May, arrived in town this morning on a brief visit to his brother, Mr. Geo. Rubidge. It is nineteen years since Mr. Rubidge went across the line to Uncle Sam and he has prospered as he well deserved.

Dr. Hall and Mr. Harman W. Needer, of Schenectday, N.Y., arrived in town yesterday evening, the guests of Mr. Robt. Fair. The gentlemen came to Canada with an eye to fishing and brought the implements to prosecute the gentle sport with them They went to Buckhorn this morning and will remain at the Buckhorn house for a fortnight. It is expected that the waters in the immediate neighborhood will be cleared of fish, and that the wires between Lakefield and Schenectday will grow hot with messages announcing big catches of big fish. Both anglers have yet to receive an introduction to the Canadian maskinonge, and it is expected that that voracious and active fish will astonish the doctor and his comrade.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Is there any person in charge of the Otonabee river? Who is supposed to see that navigation is kept open? Will it be necessary, as it was with the sawdust, to send petition after petition to the Government to find an overseer? It was a disgrace to see the state of the river yesterday. After wiggling from shore to shore on the river, when we reached Hale's bridge there was a big raft of boom timber chained together right in the swing, stuck fast, and a quarter mile of logs above it, and not even a sign of a man to keep it clear. And on the upper side was the steamer Beaver waiting patiently till the Golden Eye came to make an opening, which she did after three-quarters of an hour of hard struggling, and the loss of nearly all her paddle wheels. There was hardly enough left to bring her to the docks. Whose fault is this?

PASSENGER.

Peterborough, July 17th, 1890.

THE SINGLE TAX.

SECOND ARTICLE.

In my last I tried to place before those of yours readers who have not studied this question a simple statement of what the Single Tax means—a tax on "land" in relation to its value. Later on I shall endeavor to state the current objections and their answers. It must not be forgotten that many terms that are used as "rent," &c., are used in their economical sense and as approved and agreed upon by the leading scientific authorities.

Land values are taxed at the present time. The value given to bare land or land considered exclusive of improvements, or as John Stuart Mill calls it, "the unearned increment," is the subject of taxation. This increase accrues to the laziest man that was ever born. All he need do is to "lie still and slumber" and the over-plus of the product of human energy, that is, a large part of such a product which should be laid by is expropriated by the fortunate owner of land well situated This does not exist in regard to any other material which we can handle. If a man mow the grass upon the hill-side which the wind sowed and the rain nourished it belongs to him because he gave to nature a recompense—"the sweat of his brow." Further, if a mechanic from stubborn material fashion out something of usefulness and of beauty he has paid for all that he may get in return. This analogy might be carried on indefinitely, and nowhere should we find that anything precisely similar and like in kind to the "unearned increment" existed within the scope of the economist. But taxation, by an ancient and crude process, is applied to all—to that which is earned and unearned alike. Therein lies the main injustice. The collection of taxes is a matter of current jest. We shall have to do with that when that question is being discussed. These taxes, other than those upon land, are the last that should be imposed. Let the "unearned increment" go to its true owners first. A tax on land as land, and solely because it is open to the light of day, and an easy victim would be, of course, illogical and absurd. The single tax is based upon the truth of two great and axiomatic principles. One is, "Do not tax that which you wish to encourage or promote." The other is, "Render to every man according to his due."

As the name implies, this tax involves absolute free trade. It is not, however, the intention of its advocates to give up the protecting arms of a country in time of war though peace is infinitely preferable. The world had free trade once. It may, with the single tax, most reasonably adopt it again.

"Anti-poverty" is not in the dictionary of single tax. The God of Nature decreed that "by the sweat of thy thou shalt eat bread." You will observe, gentle reader, that it was not said, "Thou shalt sweat and not eat." Mankind supplements the injunction in this way, "A tax on production is a taking away of that very 'bread.'" There are plenty of human weaknesses to supply material for poverty. The single tax is no panacea. It is taxation rightly applied and not applied in violation of the causes of science and common sense. Capital and labor are economically entitled to their shares. There is no catch-penny nonsense in it to fascinate the "poor man." What is scientifically due must be accounted for, though the tenderness of a good heart may waive the debt. Nature is order, not chaos. "A tax on rent," or on land-values, falls upon the landlord only. Agricultural products are unaffected by it, for the value of these "is determined by the cost of production in the most unfavorable circumstances," and on these "no rent is paid," —(John Stuart Mill, "Principles of Political Economy;" Book v., chap. iii., sec. 3.) So, likewise, with everything emanating from land. What does not emanate from land directly or indirectly?

By the rise of land values, by the accruing of the fictitious premium, the sum total of remuneration which must go to the only factors of production, namely, land, labor and capital, is more and more unequally divided. For example, if the reward of the three were a certain sum to be divided equally then as soon as land (considered always exclusive of improvements) rises, though labor may increase in the aggregate and capitalists may throng (which may, in itself, have caused the land to rise) the unearned increment alone increases and land bags the lion's share for its owner. Labor and capital at best are as before. I am not now considering the rise in wages due to strikes or unions. That is quite beside the question.

This is plainly wrong, but it is a fact, as any one who will study the subject will see. It is not a needless warning to say that each one of the component parts or factors must be considered in its totality. An objection that is often made is that if a poor man and a rich one live side by side on lots equally good, but one in a good house, the other in a hut, the single tax will compel the poor man to pay just as large a tax as his rich neighbor. Of course it will. This system does not discriminate in favor of any man who chooses to call himself poor. As Mr. George says, "If two men go to an hotel they must pay the same for like accommodation, though all else that they have is out of proportion." The reverse would soon bring it about that the erection of good houses would be done away with. "Should a rich man pay any more than a poor man for a thing of a like kind?" This is the general proposition to which this part of the question must be reduced. I instance this to show the necessity of sticking to the principle.

Correspondence of the Review.

COUNCIL MEETING.—A meeting of the Village Council was held on Monday evening. There were present, Reeve Casement in the chair and Councillors Hull, Moore and Lillicrap. The minutes of the last regular and of a special meeting were read and confirmed. Communications were received from the County Clerk, enclosing a resolution of the County Council regarding the abolition of statute labor; from S. Nelson, submitting a tender for the supply of coal; from E. Green, Peterborough, enclosing a tender for supplying window shades for the Council Chamber; and from W. A. Eastland and others enclosing $14.75 and asking the Council to grant the balance to procure a uniform for the constable. The Secretary of the School Board sent in the demand for school purposes for S.S. No. 10, Lakefield and Douro, the amount required being $1,950. Of this $1,618 50 was required from Lakefield and $331.50 from the Douro division. On motion of Councillor Lillicrap, seconded by Councillor Hull, the communications from E. Green and the County Clerk were received, and the demand of the School Board and Mr. S. Nelson's tender were referred to the Finance Committee. On motion of Councillor Hull, seconded by Councillor Lillicrap, the Reeve and Clerk were instructed to procure the uniform for the village constable in accordance with the petition of W. A. Eastland and others. The special committee to which was referred the application of Mr. W. McDonald for drain pipe reported recommending that no action be taken, and on motion of Councillor Lillicrap, seconded by Councillor Moore, the report was adopted. Councillor Lillicrap moved, seconded by Councillor Moore,—That in the opinion of this Council it would be in the interests of the corporation to encourage additional manufacturing industries to locate here, and that the following committee be appointed, viz., the Reeve and Councillors Hull, Moore and the mover to take such action as they may deem necessary, and report at the next meeting of the Council.—Carried. Councillor Hull presented the report of the Finance Committee recommending the payment of the following accounts:—

Isaac Watson	$33 75
Wm. Smith	6 88
M. Flanigan	119 20
Lakefield L. & M. Co	40 73
Geo. Curtis	8 00
John Cooper	5 25
C. Hales	3 34
Dr. Bell	32 34
Chief of Police, Peterborough	4 81
G. A. Milner	9 00
G. Fitzgerald	1 23
	$264 13

The report was adopted. Councillor Hull moved, seconded by Councillor Lillicrap,—That with reference to the communication of Mrs. Crowe, the Clerk be and he is hereby instructed to inform her that this Council has no responsibility in the matter, anything that this Council has given towards assisting Mr. Purser having been given as charity.—Carried. Mr. Dench then addressed the Council in reference to the condition of a road. Councillor Moore moved, seconded by Councillor Hull,—That this Council be a committee to examine the drain as requested by Mr. Garbutt, to see what will be done with the same, and that the verbal communication of Mr. Dench be referred to the Road and Sidewalk Committee.—Carried. Councillor Hull moved, seconded by Councillor Moore,—That with regard to the printing of by-laws and rules of order, they be left in the hands of the Reeve and Clerk, and that they procure prices from some of the Peterborough offices, with power to act.—Carried. The Council then adjourned.

THE GRAND TRUNK WHARF.—The Grand Trunk railway is doing much to give a good service this year. There are three trains a day too and from Peterborough, and the conductors and trainmen are most courteous and obliging. The company is now building the new wharf here, and if it could only see its way to rebuild the bridge at Auburn so as to shorten the distance the train service would be perfect. Mr. T. A. Ray, C.E., and Mr. R. Tivey were here last week, and on Monday Col. Poole arrived and put men at work building the wharf. It will be at the end of the present track and will be 420 feet long and 80 feet wide at the widest part. The timber for the wharf, which was brought down by Mr. C. Young, is at hand and being prepared. There will be from seven to twelve feet of water at the outer edge of the wharf, and the trains will be able to run out on the dock and meet the steamers.

R. T. OF T.—On Monday evening at a regular meeting of Lakefield Council No. 93, R. T. of T., the officers for the present half year were installed. This Council has grown in numbers rapidly since its organization a few months ago. It started then with a membership of 24, which has been increased to 94. The officers for this term are:—

Bro. W. M. Graham	S. C.
" W. Harper	V. C.
" D. McLean	P. C.
Sister S. E. Graham	R. S.
" Alice Sherlin	A. S.
Bro. Rev. F. Johnston	Chaplain
Sister B. Buchannan	F. S.
" May Nelson	A. F. S.
Bro. A. M. Bowen	Treasurer

BURLEIGH BRIDGE.—Warden Casement and County Engineer Belcher, accompanied by Mr. R. S. Davidson, went to Burleigh on Tuesday in connection with the approaches to the bridge at the Falls. New approaches will be built and the work will be commenced on Monday. On the way enquiries were made regarding the flooring of the Young's Point bridge, in which repairs were ordered, and it was ascertained that the repairs had been made.

CHURCH NOTES.—The pulpit of the Methodist Church was occupied last Sunday evening by Rev. Dr. Galbraith, of Toronto, who delivered an excellent discourse to a large congregation.... On Sunday evening last Rev. Mr. McEwen, of the Presbyterian Church, delivered the last of a course of six Sunday evening lectures on the life of Christ. The subject of last Sunday's lecture was "The Year of Public Favor," and it was replete with valuable information, the result of deep study.

FINE BOATS.—Mr. Thos. Gordon has just finished two very fine boats, a skiff and a canoe, for Capt. Sloan, of New York, to be used in the Stony Lake waters. They are built of cedar and trimmed with walnut, and are fine looking, light and strong.

ANNIVERSARY.—Anniversary sermons will be preached in the Methodist church on Sunday next, in the morning by the pastor, Rev. F. Johnston, and in the evening by Rev. S. J. Shorey, of Peterborough. Mr. Johnston will take Mr. Shorey's pulpit in Peterborough in the evening. On Tuesday the annual picnic will be held on the Cruiser to Young's Point, or the picnickers may take the sail through the lakes. An enjoyable time is expected.

PERSONAL.—Miss Petrie, of Guelph, is the guest of Mr. Robert Graham......Mr. Wm. Hendron, lately with Mr. M. Tierney, Peterborough, has opened a grocery in the premises formerly occupied by Mr. R. Cotten.

London Lancet says of hot weather drinks: "Beer and other stimulants are hurtful rather than helpful." The "Montserrat" Lime-Fruit Juice is absolutely pure and is perferable to any form of alcoholic drink.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back end kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

CHAPTER I.

The time at which we open our story is midwinter, and towards the close of the seventeenth century. Russia had passed through the long and bitter ordeal of National night. The Tartan yoke had been worn until the very bones of the nation were galled; and when this was thrown off civil dissensions and insurrections commenced. The Poles and Swedes plundered the country, and amid general tumult and confusion some half dozen men were clamoring for the throne. At length a few patriotic citizens, pledging everything they held dear on earth to the cause of freedom from this curse of anarchy, and headed by a noble prince and an humble, patriotic butcher, made a bold stand to save the country. Moscow was retaken, and Michael Romanoff was chosen Czar;—and this illustrious family still occupies the imperial throne. And now the day of Russian greatness dawned; but the sun was not fairly up—and the broad light opened not upon the empire—until Peter came to the throne.

In the department of the Slobods—the suburbs of Moscow—and very near the river Moskwa, stood an humble cot, the exterior of which betrayed a neatness of arrangement and show of taste that more than made up for its smallness of size. Nor was it so very small, in fact, but only in contrast; for near at hand about it stood many large, shabby, dirty-looking structures that overlooked the prim cot, as bleak mountains may look down upon a verdant hill. And within this cot was as neat as without. The two apartments in front, one of which was only used in winter, were furnished not only with neatness, but with a fair show of ornament and luxury. Back of these were a large cooking and dining room, and two small bedrooms; and back still from these was an artisan's shop, and other out-buildings. This shop was devoted principally to the manufacture of fire-arms. Some swords, and other edged weapons, were made here upon special application.

The gun-maker now stood by his forge watching the white smoke as it curled up towards the throat of the chimney. He was a young man, not over three-and-twenty, and possessed a frame of more than ordinary symmetry and muscular development. He was not large—not above the medium size—but a single glance at the swelling chest, the broad shoulders, and the sinewy ridges of the bare arms, told at once that he was master of great physical power. His features were regular, yet strongly marked, and eminently handsome; his brow, which was full and high, was half covered by the light brown curls that waved over it; while his eyes which were of a bright, brilliant, deep gray in color, lent a cast of genius to the intellect of the brow. His name was Ruric Nevel. His father had been killed in the then late war with the Turks, and the son, leaving his mother properly cared for, went to Spain soon after the bereavement. There he found work in the most noted armories; and now, well versed in the trade, he had returned to his native city to follow his calling, and support his mother.

Near by stood a boy—Paul Peepoff—a bright intelligent lad, some fifteen years of age, who had bound himself to the gun-maker for the purpose of learning the art. His hair and his eyes were darker than his master's, and if he possessed not so much sound intellect, he certainly possessed an unwonted degree of keen, quick wit, and unswerving integrity.

The sun had been some time below the horizon, and the only light of any consequence that made things partially visible within the shop came from the dull blaze of the coals on the forge, as Paul ever and anon bore down upon the brake that moved the bellows. Suddenly Ruric started back from the forge as his mind broke from the deep reverie into which he had fallen, and having bade his boy to see that matters were properly disposed for the night he turned towards the door, and was soon in the kitchen, where his mother had supper all prepared and set out.

Claudia Nevel was a noble looking woman, if the impress of a noble, generous soul can be called such, and the light of her still handsome countenance was never brighter than when gazing upon her boy. She had seen the snows of fifty winters, and if they had left some silver upon her head, and some age marks upon her face, the sunshine of full as many summers had left her with a thankful, loving heart, and a prayerful loving soul.

"It is snowing again, faster than ever," remarked Paul, as he took his seat at the table.

"Ah," returned Ruric, resting his knife a few moments while he bent his ear to listen to the voice of the storm. "I had hoped 'twould snow no more for the present. The snow is deep enough now. And how it blows!"

"Never mind," spoke the dame in a trustful easy tone, "it must storm when it listeth, and we can only thank God that we have shelter, and pray for those who have none."

"Amen!" responded Ruric, fervently.

After this the trio remained some minutes silent, seeming to be busy in listening to the storm-notes that came pealing about the cot. The wind was high, and the snow was now dashing upon the windows with a dreary, melancholy sound. The meal was at length eaten, and the table set back, and shortly afterwards Paul retired to his bed. It was his wont to retire early, for he rose early to build the fires and prepare for the labors of the day.

Ruric drew his chair close up to the fire place, and leaning against the jamb he bowed his head and pondered again. This had become a habit with him of late. Sometimes he would sit thus during a whole hour without speaking, or even moving, and his mother did not interrupt him, as she supposed he might be solving some mechanical problem that had arisen to bother him. But these fits of thought had become too frequent, too lengthy, and too moody, for such a conclusion, and the good woman was forced to believe that they were caused by something more remote than the business of the forge or the lathe. The youth now sat with his brow resting upon his hand and his eyes bent upon the hearth. For half an hour he had not moved, and his face wore an anxious troubled look.

"Ruric, my son," spoke the mother at length, in a low, kind tone, "what is it that occupies your thoughts so much?"

The young man started and turned his gaze upon his mother.

"Did you speak to me, my mother?" he asked, after having recalled his mind to things about him.

"Yes, my boy," she said, "I did speak to you. I asked you what it was that occupied your thoughts."

"Oh—nothing—nothing," Ruric answered, after some moments of hesitation. "I was only thinking—that was all."

"I know you were thinking—and I know that was all at the time; but of what, Ruric? Come—hide no secret from your mother. I have noticed you of late, and I know you are changed. That old smile is gone from your face, and sometimes I have feared the gladness was gone from your heart. I have seen you bent in thought over your work when I knew that of your work you were not thinking; and I have seen you buried in deep thought when you should be reading or conversing with me."

"Have I then offended you, my mother?"

"No, no—oh, no, my noble boy. Never did such a thought enter my mind. If I have been made uneasy thereby it is only in love for thee, and the fear that thou wert not so happy as in the past. Will you not tell me all? Oh, I hope my boy fears not to trust his mother with his thoughts."

As she spoke thus she moved her seat close to where Ruric sat, and placed her hand upon his arm.

"Tell me, my boy," she added in a low, persuasive tone, "what is it that dwells thus upon your mind."

Ruric reached out and took his mother's hand, and having gazed for some moments into her face he said:

"Surely, my mother, I have nothing in my soul that I would hide from thee. If I have kept my thoughts to myself with unseeming silence, it has been because I feared you would laugh at me if I told you of them."

"Ah, no, my son," the mother replied, almost reprovingly; "nothing that could claim such deep and absorbing consideration from a mind like yours would move me to derision. Speak plainly, and be sure of my sympathy."

A few moments more the youth gazed silently upon his mother, and then he answered:

"All this thought has been of one person—of—Rosalind Valdai."

Claudia Nevel started as she heard that name, and for the while the color forsook her cheeks.

"What, my dear boy—what of her have you thought?" she asked, tremulously.

"What, but of one thing, could I think, my mother? You have seen her?"

"Yes, Ruric."

"And you have marked the grace, the loveliness, and soul-given beauty of the noble girl?"

"I know she is beautiful, my son; and also that she is good—at least, so I think."

"Then what but love could move me with deep thought of her? Oh, my mother, I do love her. I love her with the whole strength of my heart and soul."

"Alas, my Ruric, she will never dare love thee."

"You know not that," the youth quickly replied, his eyes burning deeply, and his open brow flushing. "Did I not know she loved me be sure I would never have allowed my thoughts such range. We were children together, and even then we loved. Fate has dealt differently by us in the years that have passed since those childhood times; but yet I am sure that her love for me is not changed, save as increasing age must change all the emotions of our nature into deeper, stronger lights and shades."

"But think, my boy; you, a mere artisan—she the offspring of nobility and the ward of a duke—a stern, old, proud aristocrat, who looks upon our station only as harsh masters look upon their beasts of burden. I fear you will find little else but misery in such a course of thought."

"At least, my mother, I will see Rosalind; and if she loves me as I love her—and if she would accept my hand—"

"Hush, my boy. Do not cherish such hopes. Why should she mate with thee when the richest nobles of the land would kneel for her hand?"

"Hold!" cried Ruric, starting to his feet, his handsome face flushed and his bright eye burning. "Speak not thus—at least, not now. I flatter not myself; but I claim a soul as pure, and a heart as noble, as any man in the land. My mind is as clear, my hope as high; my ambition as true to real greatness, and my will as firm, as any of them. If Rosaland seeks the love of a true heart, and the protection of stout arms and determined success, then I fear not to place myself by the side of any suitor in the land. But if she seeks immediate wealth, and the glitter of some high-sounding title, then—ah, I know she does not. But let it pass now. I will see her."

Claudia would not oppose the wishes of her son, and she said no more on the subject. For a while nothing further was said, until Ruric remarked upon the increasing force of the storm.

"Hark!" uttered his mother, bending her ear in a listening attitude. "Was that a knock upon our door?"

"Surely no one is out on such a night that could seek shelter here," returned Ruric, "You must have—"

The youth did not finish the sentence, for at that moment the knock came so loud that it was not to be mistaken. The youth caught up the candle and hastened to the door. He opened it, but the blast came roaring in, whirling a cloud of snow into Ruric's face, and extinguishing the light at once.

"Is there any one here?" the gun-maker asked, bowing his head and shielding his eyes from the driving snow with one hand.

"Yes," returned a voice from the Stygian darkness. "In God's name let me in, or I shall perish."

"Then follow quickly," said Ruric. "Here—give me your hand. There—now come."

Oleomargarine is Shut Out.

OTTAWA, July 16.—It was learned at the Department of Inland Revenue that a bulletin would soon be issued in connection with the charge that oleomargarine was being imported into Canada and sold as butter. Mr. McFarlane, chief analyst, has had tests made of samples of butter from all parts of the Dominion and it was found that while some of an inferior character was sold to the public still there was no oleomargarine discovered.

WINNIPEG, July 16.—A telegram from Rapid City says a special train passed over the Great Northwestern Central Railway today.

Henry Battell, one of the oldest residents of the Moosejaw district, and Herbert McLean, the 12-year-old son of Dr. McLean, the well-known Indian missionary, were instantly killed by lightning last night while eating their supper at Battell's homestead.

Shiloh's Cure will immediately relieve Croups Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. For sale by Geo. A Schofield, Druggist, Peterborough.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Disease," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

FIVE WERE DROWNED.

FATAL COLLISION IN THE ST. LAWRENCE RIVER.

A Yacht Run Down by A Steamer—Four of the Victims Well-Known Pennsylvania Society People—A Marine Disaster at Detroit—Sunk in Lake Michigan

UTICA, July 17.—The steamer St. Lawrence collided with the pleasure yacht Catherine in the St. Lawrence River near Alexandria Bay to-night. Of a party of 12 on the yacht five were drowned. They were:

EDWARD PEMBERTON.
MRS. EDWARD PEMBERTON.
MRS. W. D. HART.
MISS MARGARET HENRY.
ENGINEER JOHN SENESCAL.

They are all from Bradford, Pa., except Senescal, and are people well known in social circles there.

TWO YACHTS WRECKED.

Supposed to be the Sable and the Igo of Chicago—A Lake Michigan Disaster.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Nothing definite has yet been learned as to the identity of the two yachts found wrecked in the middle of Lake Michigan yesterday by the captain of the steamer Puritan. It is surmised, however, that they are the Sable and the Igo, which left Chicago one week ago last Tuesday. They belong to and were sailed by James and Joseph Beaupre of this city. The Sable was the larger of the two, and had in tow the Igo.

COLLISION IN DETROIT RIVER.

The Steamer City of Detroit Cuts the Steambarge Kesota in Two.

DETROIT, July 17.—This evening as the steamer City of Detroit with three excursion parties aboard came within the city limits her steam steering apparatus gave out unaccountably and she sheered about and ran into the steambarge Kesota owned in Cleveland, cutting her completely in two amidships. The Kesota's cargo was iron ore, and it slid into the river, holding the severed parts under water, leaving the bow and stern above water with the City of Detroit directly over her. Captain Fick and a crew of 17 were rescued by row boats and yachts.

The aged mother of the steward, name unknown, was drowned. The captain's wife was saved by a seaman diving after her as she was sinking. Judge Nichols of Batavia, O., an excursionist on the City of Detroit, was quite severely injured by the breaking of some shrouds, and his son and three or four other passengers were slightly hurt. All except the judge were able to continue their trip.

The damage to the City of Detroit is $20,000, and she will be on the dry dock for three weeks. The Kesota was valued at $120,000, and is a total wreck.

DUKES BUYING CANADIAN LAND.

English Noblemen and Capitalists to Develop Phosphate Deposits.

OTTAWA, July 17.—A strong company with $5,000,000 capital has formed in London, Eng., for the purpose of acquiring and working the phosphate lands in Canada. The list of founders is a remarkable one. It is headed by the Duke of Westminster, whose name is followed by the Duke of Richmond and Gordon, the Duke of Portland, the Duke of Abercorn, the Duke of Sutherland, and the Duke of Fife. These names are succeeded by a Marquis, two Earls, six Barons, and the Prince Camilla de Polignac. Then come a number of other well-known names, such as those of Sir James Whitehead, Mr. Mundella, M.P., Mr. Sampson Lloyd of Lloyd Bank, Mr. Whitmore, M.P., etc. There can be no question of the strength of the company, and a great development of the phosphate industry may be looked for.

This Makes the Twentieth.

TORONTO, July 18.—The Kingston election, in which J. H. Metcalfe was elected by a small majority over D. Thompson, was attacked yesterday by a petition filed in the Court of Appeal. The petitioner is Sidney W. Day of Kingston, salesman. There are the usual charges of bribery, both personal and general, and in addition it is alleged that the election was not conducted in accordance with the principle, policy and provisions of the Ontario Election Act in that agents of respondent obstructed the access of voters to the polls and such were prevented from voting and wrongfully refused ballots and ballots were improperly counted and rejected.

Return of the Last Boodler.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Ex-Alderman Charles Dempsey, one of the members of the Board of Aldermen of 1884, and the last of the Canadian colony of "boodler" refugees, was yesterday placed under $25,000 bail by Judge Martine to answer the indictment of having accepted money for his vote as alderman for the Broadway surface railroad franchise.

Emin Pasha's Successor.

MONTREAL, July 17.—Capt. Huntley B. McKay, R.E., a native of this city, has been appointed resident at Uganda under the Imperial British East Africa Company. He thus becomes the virtual successor of Emin Pasha, though in an adjoining province and in a different service, Emin having held his position from the Khedive of Egypt.

Dolly Beeley Safe for a Year.

HAMILTON, July 17.—Dolly Beeley, the noted confidence woman who pleaded guilty to obtaining $5 from Mrs. Eliza Imboden by false pretences, was this morning sentenced to a year in the Mercer Reformatory.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

CHOLERA IS ON THE MARCH IN EUROPE AND ASIA.

Bulgaria's Demands on Turkey—Russia Building Ironclads—A Disastrous Storm in England—A Family of Eight Smothered by Charcoal Fumes.

LONDON, July 17.—In the House of Commons to-night Mr. Gourlay (Lib.) asked whether there was any truth in a cable despatch stating that President Harrison, replying to Lord Salisbury, had declared the intention of the United States Government to deal summarily with British sailors in the Behring Sea.

Sir John Gorst replied that the Government had not received any report that such a statement had been made by President Harrison. He said the negotiations on the Behring Sea question continued.

W. H. Smith intimated that the negotiations with France regarding Zanzibar proceeded in a perfectly friendly spirit on both sides.

Shooting at Bisley Butts.

LONDON, July 17.—The annual matches of the National Rifle Association opened at Bisley on Monday. The Canadian team arrived here on Saturday evening and found that Lieut.-Col. Prior, commandant, had made the most complete arrangements for their welfare. Sunday was spent quietly in camp and Monday the team fired in the Alexandra match, range 500 and 600 yards, seven shots at each range, Martini-Henri rifles. Staff-Sergeant Ogg of the First Brigade Field Artillery, Guelph; Private Hutcheson of the 43rd Battalion, Ottawa, and Color-Sergeant Henderson of the 62nd Battalion of St. John, N.B., each won £3; Corp. H. Marris, 13th Battalion, Hamilton, won £2. This is not so good a record as the first day last year, when the team's winnings amounted to £25.

Yesterday the team fired in The Daily Graphic match, range 200 yards standing, when Pte. C. A. Windatt, 45th Battalion, Bowmanville, and Capt. H. H. Gray, Governor-General's Foot Guards, Ottawa, each won £5. Sergt. C. M. Hall, 79th Battalion, Waterloo, took a prize of £3.

Cholera Spreading.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—Cholera has spread from Mesopotamia to Lake Van. Nomads are spreading the infection.

An extraordinary meeting of the Ministerial Council to-day discussed Bulgaria's demand for the recognition of Prince Ferdinand as ruler of Bulgaria.

Quarantine Measures Adopted.

SOFIA, July 17.—The Bulgarian Government has adopted quarantine measures against arrivals from Spain.

Cholerine in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—Cholerine is prevalent in Kowdo and Vilna and is spreading. Many fatal cases are reported.

The Austrian Floods.

VIENNA, July 17.—The floods at Kustendel have caused much damage.

The McKinley Bill.

PARIS, July 17.—M. Dupuy will question the government in the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow in regard to the result of negotiations with the powers aiming to minimize the effect of the McKinley Bill, whether it is possible to appeal to international law to prevent America from pronouncing condemnations, and whether the common law tribunals cannot settle customs disputes.

Minister Ribot will reply to-morrow or Saturday.

Reparation Demanded.

BELGRADE, July 17.—The Servian Government has sent a circular to the powers with reference to the recent murder of the Servian consul at Pristina. The circular says the murder was not due to personal vengeance but to religious fanaticism and demands special reparation from Turkey.

Substantially Correct.

LONDON, July 17.—The Press Association understands that the American version of the Behring Sea communications between Lord Salisbury and Mr. Blaine, although in substance correct, is couched in stronger terms than Lord Salisbury used.

Injured the Crops.

LONDON, July 17.—Thunder storms and torrential rains in the Southern and Midland counties of England have had a destructive effect upon the crops.

War Rumors Denied.

PARIS, July 17.—The Guatemalan Legation here denies that war is imminent between Guatemala and San Salvador.

A whole family consisting of father, mother and six children was suffocated by charcoal fumes in a room on the Rue Aveon to-day.

Attempted Assassination.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—The agent of Bulgaria here has demanded that the Porte answer his Government's recent note whatever the nature of the reply.

Acquitted the Rioters.

PRETORIA, July 17.—A jury of Boers has acquitted the Englishmen charged with rioting and with insulting the Transvaal flag on the occasion of President Krueger's visit to Johannasberg.

A HONEYMOON QUICKLY ENDED.

A Denver Couple Arrested for the Murder of the Woman's First Husband.

DENVER, Col., July 17.—Frank W. Millington and Mrs. Mary E. Avery were married just one month yesterday when their honeymoon was suddenly brought to a termination by a coroner's inquest, which resulted in warrants being sworn out charging them with murder. Three years ago W. H. Avery and Millington were in partnership at Fort Collins. Millington was a handsome young fellow and Avery, being of a jealous disposition, they soon had some words over Millington's attention to Avery's wife, and a dissolution of partnership was the result. June 2 her husband died, leaving an estate valued at over $100,000. Twelve days afterward she was secretly married to Millington and to-day the couple were ar- [illegible]

QUEENSTON, July 17.—Horse thieves were busy here last night. Messrs. Robert Currie, Robert Wood and George Clement were the losers of valuable animals. No clue has been found yet, and it is probable that the thieves have crossed the border with their booty.

THE CATTLE TRADE.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Lowe Talks About Rusk's Move.

OTTAWA, July 17.—The other day a Washington despatch was published detailing steps taken to convince the British authorities that there was no cattle disease in the United States to warrant the restrictions placed upon their cattle in Great Britain. Montreal cattlemen, especially those who have been agitating for a long time for permission to export American cattle from Canadian ports, are anxious that those engaged in this agitation should succeed. A correspondent had a talk with Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, to-day regarding the matter. Mr. Lowe said the question was an old one, and strong efforts were time and again made to compel the minister, Hon. John Carling, to accede to the request of admitting American cattle to Canada for exportation, but so far he could not see his way clear to do so. Failing in their efforts with the Canadian Government, the Americans were now directing their attention to the home authorities with a view of showing that there was no necessity for these restrictions.

In his opinion it would be unwise to endanger our present exceptional facilities as compared with the States, in respect to the cattle trade with Britain, by permitting American cattle to be brought into and exported from our ports. In the meantime cattle were only imported for breeding purposes after passing through quarantine. Strict quarantine regulations kept Canada free from disease and allowed us to place our live stock on the English markets, while the United States was placed on the scheduled list.

A GOOD SWIMMER DROWNED.

Another Boating Fatality Near Hamilton—Gave His Life for Another.

HAMILTON, July 17.—Another boating fatality occurred last night. Frank Morgan, son of R. R. Morgan, and Will Barnes, son of Thomas Barnes of East Hamilton, are camping on the lake shore between Hamilton and Grimsby. Yesterday afternoon the campers were visited by two young men named Hagar and Williams. Hagar is a son of the Grimsby farmer who has already lost two boys this year—one by drowning and another by an accident on land—and Williams was a young fellow, about 22 years of age, who recently leased the farm of George Chambers, near Winona.

A boat was in the near vicinity and Hagar, Barnes and Williams got in it and rowed out from shore. In some way the boat upset, and the three young men were precipitated into the water. Barnes and Williams could swim; Hagar could not. Williams immediately struck out for the shore, but Barnes pluckily stayed to assist Hagar. It was only a matter of 200 yards, and the swimmer seemed to have no fear of not being able to do it. He swam easily along until he reached comparatively shallow water, when he sank and was drowned. At the spot where he went down the water was not more than six feet deep. Young Barnes succeeded in getting Hagar ashore all right and then the body of Williams was recovered.

No inquest will be held.

DYING FROM HER FAST.

Mrs. Wachter Has Not Eaten for Over One Hundred Days.

EASTON, Pa., July 17.—Mrs. Ellen Wachter, who has not taken any nourishment for more than 100 days, is lying at the point of death in her home at Whitehall. For most of the time the woman is unconscious. She is gradually and painlessly passing away. The convulsions that have been racking her body have ceased and her husband is no longer compelled to restrain her.

The last time the patient attempted to quench her thirst was ten weeks ago, when she swallowed some coffee, which she was unable to retain. The very sight of food is unbearable. Night and day her husband has sat at her bedside, pathetically watching his wife drifting away from him.

The case has attracted wide attention, and scores of medical men have visited Mrs. Wachter's residence. Every known remedy has been tried, but unavailingly. It is now eight years since the patient was first afflicted with her illness, and during that time she has not been able to partake of anything like solid food. Her death is momentarily looked for.

INDETERMINATE SENTENCES.

Favored by Witnesses Before the Prison Commission—Off for Ottawa.

KINGSTON, July 17.—The Prison Commission finished its work here to-day. Warden Lavell of the Penitentiary did not think a prison could be self-sustaining and justice be done the prisoners. He favored the indeterminate system of sentences. The system at Penetanguishene he considered unsatisfactory.

Chief of Police Horsey considered the reformatory for boys a nest to propagate crime. They learned more crime inside than outside. He favored an industrial school and compulsory education. Married men who would not support their families should be made to work under compulsion and their earnings be bestowed on their families.

Sheriff Ferguson favored governmental control of jails and thought the treatment of prisoners in the Central Prison cruel. Drunken men should be tenderly treated and not made to appear as criminals.

Jailer Corbett wanted the power of appointing turnkeys transferred from the sheriff to the jailer. In 25 years he had been given 25 turnkeys, half of whom were unfit for the position.

The commissioners left for Ottawa this afternoon.

Kansas' Corn Crop a Failure.

KANSAS CITY, July 17.—A paper says advices from Kansas state that the condition of corn crops grows worse day by day. In some sections the farmers have about given up hopes of harvesting any crop at all. In many sections the farmers are marketing their hogs, fearing they will have no corn to feed them.

Acquitted Because of Insanity.

BRACEBRIDGE, July 17.—William Brown, the lunatic who recently beat Charles Robinson's brains out with a gun in the township of Morrison, has been acquitted on the ground of insanity and remanded to custody for safe-keeping. Robinson was over 80 years of age.

The Cariboo Stage Held Up.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 17.—The Cariboo stage was stopped by highwaymen near Ashcroft last night. It is not known how much booty they secured, as particulars are not yet obtainable.

A Drug Clerk's Mishap.

WINDSOR, July 17.—William Tomlinson, clerk in Laing & Fleming's drug store, had a narrow escape from being burned to death yesterday. He had gone into the basement for some alcohol with an oil lamp. No sooner had he entered the room than an explosion occurred, caused by alcohol leaking from a barrel. Tomlinson was surrounded by flames, and his call brought the other clerks of the store to his help. A stream of water from the hose and a blanket put the flames out. Tomlinson was badly burned

HE KEEPS THE PAPERS.

HARRISON IGNORES THE REQUEST OF CONGRESS.

Blaine Was Ready to Present the Behring Sea Documents, but the President Locked Up the Correspondence—His Action Confirms Recent Reports.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The President held a long conference to-day with Representative Hitt of Illinois, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, with relation to the Behring Sea correspondence called for by Mr. Hitt's resolution. Representative Dingley of Maine, a member of the Committee on the Merchant Marine and Fisheries and a close student of the Behring Sea controversy, also called on the President and conferred with him on the subject of the House resolution. It can be stated without violating the confidence of any one that the President has indicated clearly that he does not at this time regard it as a wise move to lay the correspondence before the House of Representatives and so make it public. He bases his objection on the ground that the threat made by Lord Salisbury regarding the protection of British sealers in Behring Sea by British war vessels must necessarily be confirmed by the publication of any material portion of the correspondence, and that such confirmation would tend to increase the present feeling of irritation and possibly defeat the purpose of the negotiations now again in progress.

This idea urges itself the more strongly on the President by reason of his great reluctance to make public any part of the modified instructions to our revenue cutters in Behring Sea. It would require the publication of these instructions to show conclusively that they have been rendered so inoffensive that Lord Salisbury will doubtless never have an opportunity to carry out his threat. Here again the President and Secretary Blaine are at odds. As already indicated, Secretary Blaine, through his intimate friend, Representative Hitt, has assured the House of Representatives that the documents will be forthcoming. The President now steps in and declares that he will not permit the papers to be made public at this time. Secretary Blaine was willing that the correspondence should go to the House to-day, and so notified the State Department officials.

The documents are now within the jurisdiction of the President, however, and will likely remain under seal for some time to come. The President does not intend that the secretary shall monopolize the applause for twisting the British lion's tail. A New York paper that recently devoted several columns to an attempt to establish the falsity of the announcement of the British threat, prints this morning the following paragraph as a part of the correspondence between Lord Salisbury and Mr. Blaine: "Then Lord Salisbury ordered a written protest to be delivered to Mr. Blaine, with a verbal statement that the British vessels in Behring Sea, if refused ordinary comity by the United States, would be taken care of in that common highway by their own Government."

The rumor is revived that Mr. Blaine will shortly resign the state portfolio.

THE WORK OF THE STORM.

Disasters Reported From Various Sections of the States.

NORWALK, O., July 17.—A violent wind and rain storm struck Monroeville to-night, doing serious damage. Lightning struck Otto Goldner's house, killing three sons, Freddie, Willie and Otto, who were sitting on a lounge. Kate Smith was badly burned.

A Quaker City Blow.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—A severe storm passed over this city this evening. Considerable damage was done to property. The schooner Nellie and Mattie was blown from her wharf and capsized. A number of houses were unroofed. Two trees fell, crushing a frame store. The roof of the street car stable at Belgrade-street was blown off. A portion of it fell on a street car, killing the horses. No passengers were hurt.

The 101st Victim.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 17.—One body was found this morning, that of a little girl named Rosie Rander. This makes the 101st body recovered. No more people are reported as missing.

Destructive Storm in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N.J., July 17.—A destructive storm of wind, hail and lightning visited this city this afternoon, unroofing a number of houses and making havoc with the foliage. Michael Corcoran and Louis Schlegel, who took refuge under a tree when the storm came, were struck by lightning and instantly killed. Four persons were stunned and felled to the ground at the ball grounds.

EDUCATION AND LABOR.

An eminent European statesman is reported to have recently ascribed much of the world's present troubles, including trades unionism and strikes, to over-education. No doubt many will agree with him, and if he had said education larger numbers would have concurred. There was a time in the world's history when a very few enjoyed an education such as now, in English speaking communities at any rate, all may obtain. Then feudalism and other systems existed and those who through them were subject to others did not revolt. But as the people became enlightened these systems vanished, and political freedom took their place.

How, then, has education been the cause of new troubles? It cannot be said to be the direct cause of what is known as trades-unionism, or the labor problem, but it is one cause. Education has shown the great body of the people that they have latent literary, artistic and other tastes and can enjoy relaxation and recreation with mental and physical benefit, but they perceive that a few still retain the means to indulge these tastes, while the many cannot spare time from their great struggle for subsistence to do so. They find that it is as much, and sometimes more, than than they can do to maintain comfortable homes and procure decent food and clothing for themselves and their families, while a few live in mansions, fare sumptuously and have means to enjoy life. These differences have always existed, under one system or another, but the general advancement, fostered by the educational institutions, from the colleges to the public schools, has opened the eyes of the people to the differences and lead them to ask what reason there is for their existence and to take measures to counteract the influences which lead to them.

In some European countries the trouble—for in the cause for trades-unionism, not in trades-unionism itself, the trouble really lies—is ascribed to monarchy or despotic government, and Russian nihilism and German socialism are developed by this idea. On this continent, where, as in Canada, there is no despotism and no monarchial oppression, the evil exists, but, owing to a more advanced civilization, in a greatly modified form. Here it is seen that one great cause of poverty and of the discomfort of large numbers of the people is in the competitive system, through which wages are kept down to a low point. When there are a number out of employment, as unfortunately often happens, the unemployed are not only in a sorry plight themselves, but they are forced to injure others, for by seeking employment they force down the wages of those who are engaged. Workingmen have not only seen the social differences that exist, but they have also perceived some of the causes that tend to make their own lot worse, and trades-unionism has been the result. They have combined to keep up wages and to protect their interests.

An ignorant man may live in poverty and not feel the keenness of its pangs; an educated or an intelligent man cannot. In these times among workmen are found men of intellect, of keen sympathies and of education, and the wealthy, who so long as they maintain their position are comfortable, cannot realize the fear, the anxiety and, too frequently, the anguish, that besets a man with others depending upon his precarious employment for the means of living. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that workmen combine to protect their interests, nor is it very wonderful that even among themselves men are sometimes found who will violate the rules to which they have subscribed in order to gain an advantage, even though by doing so they injure their union and eventually themselves. There is no doubt that evils have at times attended the operations of trade unions, but not to any extent when they have been wisely directed and their demands treated with due respect, and they have undoubtedly been of great benefit.

The proper course is not to denounce trades-unionism or to antagonize the labor movement. No movement should be met in that spirit, and especially not this one. The demands of the unions should receive respectful consideration, and when they tend towards the general advantage should be accepted and adopted. If at any time it would be injurious to the community to adopt their proposals, their history teaches that they are open to reasoning and conviction. It is utterly useless to cry out against over-education. General education has come to stay, and so long as the people are true to themselves they will keep it within the reach of all. The demands of the labor movement must be met, either by showing that they would be injurious to the masses of the people or by adoption.

THE BLACK MEN OF AFRICA

THEY HAVE WHITE HEARTS BENEATH DARK SKINS.

Some Extracts from Stanley's New Work on "Darkest Africa"—His Reward—What are Banquets to a man Who has Lived for Less than a Shilling a Day?

Stanley further says that he never received any acknowledgment from Emin of services rendered. The record certainly places the ex-Governor of the equatorial province in an unfavorable light. The most charitable conclusion must be that long residence among Arabs and Egyptians is fatal to mental and moral stamina. As for the reward of Emin's rescuer, here are Stanley's own words, written while reviewing the work of the expedition:—

"Now let me for a moment speak proudly. Knowing what my companions and I know, we have this certain satisfaction that let envy, malice and jealousy provoke men to say what they will, the acutest cross-examination of witnesses in a court of justice would elicit nothing more, so far as we are concerned, than a fuller recognition and higher appreciation of the sacrifice and earnestness of the endeavor which we freely and gratuitously gave to assist Emin Pacha and Captain Casati, and their few hundreds of followers. Money, time, years, strength, health, life, anything and everything—freely, kindly and devotedly—without even giving one thought to a reward, which, whatever its character might be, would be utterly inadequate as compensation. To one like me, what are banquets! A crust of bread, a chop and a cup of tea is a feast to one who for the best part of twenty-three years has not had the satisfaction of eating a shilling's worth of food a day. Receptions! they are the very honors I would wish to fly from, as I profess myself slow of speech, and nature has not fitted me with a disposition to enjoy them. Medals! I cannot wear them; the pleasure of looking at them is even denied me by my continual absence. What then! Nothing. No honor or reward, however great, can be equal to that subtle satisfaction that a man feels when he can point to his work and say:—'See, now, the task I promised you to perform with all loyalty and honesty, with might and main to the utmost of my ability, and God willing, is to-day finished.' Say is it well and truly done? And when the employer shall confess that "it is well and truly done,' can there be any recompense higher than that to one's inward self?"

DESCRIPTIVE AND REFLECTIVE.

While writing his book the author seems to have lived over the experiences of the expedition; in the first volume and nearly half of the second his heart and head seem sore over the trials, privations and disappointments which followed one another rapidly; as soon however, as the start of the expedition—and Emin—for the Indian Ocean is noted his spirits rise. The last half of the second volume is full of interesting chapters on the geography, inhabitants, resources and traditions of Central Africa.

There is a great deal about the dwarfs whom he identifies as descendants of similar people inhabiting the same country twenty-five centuries ago. Many Arab legends are reprinted, and there is a chapter full of quaint maps of Africa as it used to be regarded. His interest in human nature seems always to have been intense; while Emin studied the outside of a man Stanley was trying to search the heart. Bad and degraded though he found the natives at most times, he was quick to note human virtues when they were displayed. Here is a specimen paragraph:—

BLACK SKINS AND WHITE HEARTS.

"On arriving at Avejeli, opposite the Nepoko, the wife of the Manyuema drummer, a prepossessing lassie, went out to the gardens close by to collect herbs. A band of natives were in hiding, and they pierced her with arrows. Seven of them quivered in her body. Her screams attracted attention, and she was hastily brought in, but even as we were about to inject the ammonium she rolled over, raised her arms and embraced her young husband in the most touching manner, gave a long sigh and died. 'Oh, ye travellers! who belong to that clique who say the Africans know neither love, affection nor jealousy. What would you have said to this pitiful death scene?' We had also a Manyuema woman who was a hideous object, a mass of loathsome pustules, emitting an almost unbearable stench, but her husband tended and served her with a surpassing and devoted tenderness. Death, death everywhere, and on every day and in every shape; but love, supreme love, stood like a guardian angel to make death beautiful! Poor, unlettered, meek creatures, the humblest of humanity, yet here unseen and unknown of those who sing of noble sacrifices, of constancy and devotion, proving your brotherhood with us amid the sternest realities by lulling your loved ones to rest with the choicest flowers of love!"

In place of the customary "Finis" at the end of the book appears this line:—"The thanks be to God for ever and ever. Amen." And throughout the pages are many indications of devout sentiment. The author is not ashamed to admit that he read the Bible frequently and in great quantity, and rejoices in the coincidence of finding in his regular order of reading a most encouraging chapter just as he was full of forebodings regarding an impending battle.

The Prisoner Seconded the Motion.

I heard a pretty good story about a certain ignorant justice who does business up in Fulton County. This justice was elected over an able, but very unpopular lawyer, and his first case was that of a prisoner charged with violating the fishery law. The complaint and warrant were defective, and this the defendant's attorney took exceptions to in a masterly argument, winding up by moving the prisoner's discharge. "Is the motion seconded?" asked the justice. "It is," replied the prisoner. "Gentlemen," continued the judge, "it is regularly moved and seconded that the prisoner be discharged. All those in favor of the motion say aye." "Aye," came from the prisoner and his counsel. "Opposed, no." Silence followed, and after a short pause the scales-holder said: "The motion is carried and the prisoner is discharged," whereupon; to the surprise and amusement of all, court was declared adjourned.—Amsterdam Democrat.

A Hero's Deed.

At a fire at Blutlingen, in Altmark, recently it was discovered that a lady was in the burning house. Suddenly from the crowd came a voice: "A hundred marks to him who brings out Frau Werner!" Hereupon one Stegmann, a married man and the father of a family, quickly elbowed his way through the throng, and, saying as he did so, "Who thinks of thalers when a life's at stake?" rushed into the burning pile. The crowd awaited his return with breathless anxiety, and at length the half-suffocated man was seen on the burning threshold, bearing in his arms the insensible form of Frau Werner. Scarcely had he reached the street and delivered his burden into the custody of her friends than the walls fell in. The hundred marks were instantly forthcoming, but the brave fellow emphatically refused a pfennig, saying he had only done an act of common charity.—Galignani Messenger.

The Oldest Man in America.

On Sunday morning, May 11th, 1890, died, at the residence of Mr. Henry Bacon, Dunbar, James Page, at the advanced age of one hundred and twenty-three years. Mr. Page was supposed to have been the oldest man in America, if not in the world. He was born in the county of Sussex, England, on April 2nd, 1767. At the early age of fourteen he ran away to sea, and was under fire at the destruction of the Danish fleet at Copenhagen, 1801. He also fought under Admiral Lord Nelson off Trafalgar, 1805. In some former newspaper paragraphs his age has been given as near as could be ascertained by the oldest inhabitants; but since his death facts have been discovered of an application for pension which placed him as 34 years of age at the time of the engagement of Copenhagen in 1801, which gives his exact age as one hundred and twenty-three years and thirty-eight days. His longevity cannot be credited to the non-use of tobacco or stimulants.—Exchange.

A Modern Parable.

It came to pass that there were two wives, and as is frequently the case, one was wise and the other foolish.

The foolish wife thought that because she bought a large quantity of soap for very little money that she was doing wonders and displaying good judgment.

But it came to pass that on washing-day she took her cheap soap, and after adding washing-powder to the water, set about her work, rubbing and toiling over the steaming tub trying to get the clothes clean, and using a great deal of soap in the operation.

And that evening at the setting of the sun, this foolish woman had just finished her wash, and was tired and weary, so that her husband was moved to pity at her worn out condition.

And on the morrow she was still weary, and her hands were sore and rough, owing to the injurious effects of the cheap soap upon the skin and she could not stitch or sew for several days.

But the wise woman acted differently in her purchases.

And as it came to pass that she went to her grocer, she asked for soap, saying, "give me "Sunlight" Soap, for verily I say unto you there is no other soap like unto "Sunlight."

And her grocer said, "Thou art a wise woman and speakest truly, and thy opinion is shared by all wise people.

And the wise women was served with "Sunlight" Soap, paying a responsible price therefore, and went on her way.

And on washing day she used it according to printed directions, but used no washing powders, &c., and behold, the wash was done in an exceedingly short space of time, without steam or smell or hard work, and the clothes were made as white as snow.

And while the foolish woman with her poor soap was toiling up to sundown the wise woman with "Sunlight" Soap was finished in less than half a day, and found her work a pleasure.

And that evening so soft and pleasant were the wise woman's hands owing to the exceeding purity of "Sunlight" Soap that she took up her needle and sewed, and her husband was rejoiced to hear her tell of the grand and easy method of washing clothes by the use of "Sunlight" Soap.

And they counselled together and resolved that henceforth no other soap but the "Sunlight" would they ever use in that household. 1d16

The Route to the A. C. A. Meet.

Canoeists in this vicinity are enquiring as to routes to the Long Island meet of the American Canoe Association, August next. Several routes are open, and one of the pleasantest as well as least expensive, is by rail to Port Hope, steamer Norseman to Charlotte (port for Rochester, N.Y.,) and by rail from Rochester to New York. Quick time can be made by this route and great comfort enjoyed. The steamer Norseman will convey canoeists to the other side of the lake at a special rate, which will be announced later on, from Peterborough and return. From Rochester to New York the New York Central railway will grant tickets at the usual rate to members of the A. C. A., full fare one way and one-third full fare for return trip. The steamer Norseman will carry canoes and a fair amount of baggage, say 100 lbs., free. The route is a popular one, the people of the steamer attentive, careful and obliging.

VICTORY FOR PETERBOROUGH.

The Result of the Cricket Match Peterborough vs. Campbellford.

This match was played at Campbellford yesterday, Peterborough winning by 28 runs in the first innings. The ground was very rough and not at all in favor of long scoring, notwithstanding which Stratton and Ray put on 52 in fine style before a wicket fell, no one else getting double figures, the innings closing for 77. Campbellford scored only 40, "byes" scoring the only double figure. The Campbellford boys stole some very short runs, and in consequence two of them paid the penalty—run out. In the second innings Peterborough scored 59 for 8 wickets, Rogers contributing 28 and Stecker 13. Rogers' score contained two very fine leg hits for 4 each, one of which was made 5 by an overthrow.

As will be seen from the analysis, Attewell, Logan and Stratton (the two last of whom bowled over about at one end) all bowled well, while Horkins and Tate did good work for Campbellford.

The score is as follows:—

A CONVERTED CONSTABLE

GAOLED WITH THE PHŒNIX PARK MURDERERS.

"Irish Bob" Gives his Experience at the Salvation Army Barracks—Life on the Irish Constabulary—Serving a Term Behind the Stone Walls of an Irish Prison.

There was no extra flourish of trumpets or beating of drums in the street parade of the Salvation Army last evening, but as advertised, there was a special attraction at the Simcoe-st. barracks and a shining dime had to be parted with at the door by all who wished to gain an entrance. The announcement had been made a few days ago that Capt. Cunningham, known in the Army list as "Irish Bob," was to give his experience as an Irish constable and an inmate of Kilmainham gaol with the Phœnix Park murderers. Quite a fair audience gathered in the barracks and, after the opening exercises, sat for two hours and listened to the converted constable unravel the story of his past.

"Irish Bob" conducted the meeting himself and kept things moving all along the line. He sang himself, the soldiers sang and the people joined in. Capt. Jones sang a solo entitled "The Prodigal," the words of which had been composed by her husband. A few shekels were added to the Army coffers by a couple of cadets, who passed among the audience and disposed of copies of Capt. Jones' hymn at the moderate price of one cent.

THE BEGINNING OF THE STORY.

It was about half-past eight when the Irish Constable began the story of his life. He is a tall, rather slim, but athletic looking man, probably not yet thirty years of age, and he talked with a pleasing Irish accent. His story had its interesting points and was told in very good style, his Irish wit helping him on several occasions to keep the audience in good nature. Of course he opened his tale with a few earnest words in reference to the importance of salvation, and at various times during his address he made application of the lessons his own experience had taught, keeping as his text all through, the words "Be sure your sin will find you out." His life, briefly told, will not sound as interesting, perhaps, as when he told it. His early days were spent in a similar way to those of the average boy. His father being a Sergeant in the Royal Irish Constabulary he was brought up very strictly as regarded going to school and religious matters. He was brought up in the Church of England and was a regular attendant at church. Blessed with kind and indulgent parents he might have been in a different position to-day if he had taken advantage of the opportunities of his early days. But he had an aversion to attending school and went only when he had to. He managed, however, he said, to get enough education flogged into him to learn him how to read and write. He was surrounded as he grew up with influences which were none of the best. As his father was a constable he was reared in a police barracks. On the force were some wild young fellows from whom he soon learned to smoke, and from the pipe he went to the bar-room.

A DESIRE TO SEE LIFE

and get away from those whom he thought were domineering over him lead him several times to seek to enlist in the army, but his efforts were in vain. His father was desirous that he should join the constabulary. After one unsuccessful attempt to pass the doctor's examination he was sworn in as a recruit when only seventeen years of age. When leaving home to quiet his mother's mind, who knew that her boy had already learned to drink, he joined the temperance society. He was first sent to the Phœnix Park depot, where the recruits of the constabulary are drilled. There with about a thousand other young fellows, wild and reckless and ranging in age from 18 to 22 years, he learned vices which he had been a stranger to at home. When they got their pay they would spend it in

THE CANTEEN OF THE BARRACKS.

He did not have full swing here as the authorities were strict, but he went to such an extent that the demon of drink took a lasting hold of him. From Phœnix Park he was sent to Curragh, County Kildare, to practice ball firing. This town he said had about 18,000 inhabitants, made up of soldiers, policeman and their wives. The majority of these policemen were under thirty years of age, and were of the same reckless, wild character as the recruits at the other depot. Here he went in with the boys and indulged in every vice. After two months spent here he was sent back to the Phœnix Park depot for further examination. This over he was sent to Oldcastle in County Mead to do duty as a constable. Only a little over eighteen he was yet a smooth-faced gossoon. There were ten men and a sergeant on this force, and the men were after the same stamp as those he had encountered as a recruit. When a recruit he got £3 8s. and then as constable had received £4 4s a month. Drinking was a habit all the men had and they indulged the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night. His money flew and when his was gone he often went to his comrades trunks and stole theirs. He told of the schemes the men worked to get liquor into the barracks in the morning and of their drinking when on duty. He also told of the work of moonlighters and related several instances of the cruelty wrought by these people. He waxed eloquent over "poor old Ireland's condition" and said there was not a country that could be more happy and independent than Ireland but the people would have to be instructed and be given the joys found in salvation. Returning to his story he told of his drinking until finally one night he came into the barracks half drunk and having no money, stole into the sergeant's room and took his purse with £32 from his trunk. The money he hid outside and the purse he destroyed. A search was made of all the men's trunks and then the sergeant, suspecting none of the force, told them that whoever had the notes could not spend them without being detected as he had the numbers of each of them and had given lists to all the shopkeepers. Seeing that the money would be no good to him he went in and returned the money and asked for forgiveness. But the matter had been reported to headquarters and he had to stand the consequences. He was arrested and lodged in Kilmainham gaol to await trial. His relation of the difficulty he had in passing the time in his prison cell caused considerable laughter. After waiting two months he was tried in the County Mead, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment. He was taken back to Kilmainham gaol to serve his term. Here he was first put to work picking oakum and after a month was promoted to work in the kitchen. The Captain's style of relating his prison experience was funny and the people laughed as he described his efforts to pick oakum, his prison bed and other surroundings. Then he went into the Phœnix Park murder, related the particulars in an interesting manner, from the murder of Lord Cavendish and Burke to the killing of the informer Carey by the Irishman Macdonald on board the vessel in mid-ocean. He was in the gaol when all the murderers were executed and helped to paint the scaffold upon which they died. Carey, after he turned informer, was given his liberty but remained in the gaol for his own safety. While there Carey was in the habit of coming to the bars of a cellar window and talking to the constable prisoner and passing him in tobacco. Captain Cunningham's relation of the Phœnix Park murder, of the tracking of the Invincibles, of the execution of Joe. Brady and Tim Kelly and the subsequent killing of Carey was really good. Reverting to his own life, he finally reached the end of his term and was met at the prison gate by his father and taken home, where he was received with tears by his mother. He had solemnly resolved to do better and again joined the temperance society, but in two weeks he had broken the pledge again and was drinking. Giving up in despair he grew worse and finally his father concluding that there was no hope of his reformation sent him to America. He had money when he left home, but he drank and gambled it all away on the journey out and when he got off the train at Whitby he had only twenty-five cents in his pocket. The first day he struck a job with a farmer and worked with him during the harvest at fifty cents a day. In the winter he got a job as hostler at an hotel and while there, just about five years ago, he joined the Army. He had to leave his place, but got another job as porter at the Royal hotel and kept that place until he went into the Army as an officer. The captain said that Mr. Black of the Royal hotel, in Whitby, was so well pleased with the way he had done his work that now he would employ nobody but a Salvation soldier as porter. In closing the speaker made an appeal to young men to benefit by his experience and "be sure their sin would find them out."

PICNICKERS AT THE PICNICS.

The Rain Interferes with the Morning Pleasure—A Pleasant Afternoon.

Notwithstanding the rain the picnickers who spent the day out of town yesterday report that they had a pleasant time, and all returned home without accident.

AT STONY LAKE.

About two hundred and fifty persons went on the Good Templars' excursion to Stony Lake. The train left here in the morning. The sail up the lakes was rendered rather unpleasant by the rain which was falling, but upon arrival at Juniper Island the rain ceased and a good time was enjoyed there by a large number. Others took the steamer and went up the back lakes, returning again to the Island and taking on board those who had spent the day there. Burleigh was visited and about half an hour spent there before the return trip was started. At Juniper Island a programme of sports were run off for liberal prizes, among others being a quoit match, which was won by Mr. J. Rose. Home was reached at about 8 30. The sail around the lakes on the Cruiser was most enjoyable and the committee wish to thank Captain Reynolds for his uniform courtesy and kindness which aided greatly in making the outing a success. The Captain's kindness is sure to make his steamer popular among excursionists and travellers generally.

AT JUBILEE POINT.

The excursion which went down the river on the Golden Eye enjoyed a most pleasant day. The outing was given by the two Bible Classes of St. John's church, which are presided over by Rev. Mr. Davidson, the rector, and Rev. Mr. Kenrick. About 125 persons were on board and the sail was enjoyed immensely. Arrived at Jubilee Point three hours were spent around the beautiful picnic grounds before the home journey was begun. The return sail was as enjoyable as that of the morning and home was reached with everyone pleased with the day's outing.

AT CHEMONG PARK.

The Charlotte-st. Methodist Sunday school excurted to Chemong Park yesterday. About 250 boarded the train at the G. T. R. station and the number would probably have been increased to 800 if the day had opened up bright and fair. On arriving at Chemong station the new scow was in readiness to transport the picnickers to the Park. The sail on the lake was very pleasant and appreciative. On arriving at the park it began to rain so that it was some time before the children and friends could take advantage of the grounds. The scow being new and not having been tested before with a heavy shower of rain, did not prove itself thoroughly waterproof. About 1 p.m. the sun came out brightly and the remainder of the day was passed in a very enjoyable way, not the least attractive being the sports of the day. Rev. Mr. Shorey, Mr. Tebb and Mr. O. C Rowse managed this part of the programme.

The prize winners were as follows:—

Miss Hamilton's Class.—Boys—1st Robt. Jones, 2nd George Woods.

Miss Clark's Class.—Girls—1st Hattie Richardson, 2nd Minnie Batton.

Mrs. Brook's Class.—Boys—1st Robt. Cox, 2nd Harry Lane.

Miss Rowse's Class.—Girls—1st Maggie Reynolds, 2nd Minnie Shields.

Miss M. Sherlock's Class.—1st Epsey Jones, 2nd Julia Eastland.

Mr. Lewis' Class—Boys—1st Willie Lytle, 2nd Willie Cox.

Miss E. Sherlock's Class.—Girls—1st Maggie McClure, 2nd Bertha Lytle.

Mrs. Taylor's Class.—Boys—1st Sam Stenton, 2nd Frank Turner.

Miss Irison's Class.—1st Frank Cox, 2nd Sidney Shorey.

Boys in Infant Class.—1 Arthur Fuller, 2 Arthur Graham.

Miss Launderville's Class.—1 Fred Cox, 2 John Stein.

Miss Barrie's Class.—1 Arthur Stinson, 2 Chris Graham.

Girls under Six.—1 Bertha Weese, 2 Sybil Shields.

Girls under Ten.—1 Ada McBain, 2 Jessie Stein.

Boys under Fifteen.—1 Harry McClure, 2 Willie Edmondson.

Girls under Sixteen.—1 Maud Stein, 2 Lucy Edmondson, 3 Edith Fuller.

Girls of the School.—1 Jessie Stein, 2 Sarah Jones, 3 Maggie McClure.

Boys of the School.—1 Willie Lytle, 2 Johnnie Stein, 3 Robt. Jones.

Race between 2 Boys.—1 Fred Cox.

Boys under Ten.—1 James Moore, 2 Norman Stinson.

A baseball match was an interesting feature of the day. The two nines were chosen by Mr. O. C. Rowse and Mr. H. O. Fish, and the players included Rev. Mr. Shorey, Mr. Thos. Brooks, and the lady teachers of the school.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

The Special Committee Meets and Discusses the Question—The Levels of the Town to be Taken and the Cost Ascertained.

The question of sewerage has been discussed in Peterborough before to-day with no result of any description being forthcoming, but the present agitation in the direction of a sewerage system, which was started at the last Council meeting by a resolution brought in by Councillor Langford, promises at least to bring out some definite information in regard to the best system for the town, its probable cost, etc. The Special Committee which was appointed to consider the matter are going into it in earnest.

A meeting of this committee was held last evening, the gentlemen present being Councillor Langford, Chairman, Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Cahill, E. H. D. Hall, Moore and Davidson. Sewerage was discussed for over two hours, and the general opinion was that a system was a necessity in Peterborough. A large number of communications from experts have already been received and it is just possible that, after the preliminary work has progressed somewhat, a deputation may visit Brockville, where a system is partly in use and partly being laid. This is the separate system and is said to operate most satisfactorily. After the lengthy discussion it was finally decided to ask the local men for tenders to take the levels of the town for the purpose of submitting the matter to a practical expert to ascertain what system would best suit the town, what the probable cost would be, where the mains should run, etc.

This is a preliminary step, and if carried out will be the first real move that has been taken in the direction of a sewerage system in Peterborough.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes Twenty-five cents a bottle.

"Hackmetack," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. For sale by Geo A. Schofield, Druggist, Peterborough.

That Hacking Cough can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by Geo. A. Schofield, druggist, Peterborough.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you must'nt think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we havn't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

'Tis An Old Saying

that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak today. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. We are going to quote prices that are lower than asked by any other dealer. If you are wanting or will want in this line this year, you cannot afford to ignore this opportunity.

ADMIRAL HOTHAM TALKS.

THE NEW NAVAL COMMANDER AT VICTORIA, B.C.

A Man with a Fighting Record—He is Reticent About the Behring Sea Matter and Says He Has Received no Instructions.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 18.—H.M.S. Warspite steamed into Esquimalt Harbor at about 3 o'clock this afternoon and was received with a salute of 15 guns by the senior ship Champion. I was among the first to board her after she had anchored, and at once gained audience with Admiral Charles F. Hotham, who has come out to take charge of the squadron, and whose record as a fighting man is such as, so it is said, will fill the hearts of the American authorities with awe. He is the youngest admiral in the British Navy and made his record during the Egyptian war, and particularly at the siege of Alexandria. He is a man of about 45 years of age, short in stature, and wears his beard sharp at the point. He expressed few opinions, but in answer to a question as to the reason for the centralization of the fleet he said it was of no significance whatsoever, and that it simply amounted to the regular summer manoeuvres. In regard to the Behring Sea difficulty he was averse to talking.

It had not, he said, come up in the Admiralty as a subject for discussion when he was in England last March. It was, however, talked of in the Foreign Office, but to what effect he had not been informed.

As to instructions, he had received none in regard to the Behring Sea matter. The Admiral, however, would not say that there were no instructions in the big bundle of letters and despatches which stood on his table unopened. He believed that there had been no orders issued in regard to the subject later than those of two years ago, which were that a vessel might be sent to Behring Sea to protect and look after British commerce. He said that the squadron was ready to go at any time. The statement was accompanied with a sly wink of the eye.

"Are any vessels going to be sent north?" was asked.

"I do not know yet. I can't tell you where any of the ships are going, as I have not had time to examine the despatches on the subject from the Admiralty."

Continuing with the interview, the Admiral said that he thought United States cutters, in seizing vessels, taking out the cargoes and sending them to prize ports, ought to put prize crews on board and send the vessels to ports where the matter could be legally adjudicated. From his words it was evident that he thought the cutters had no right to do as was done last year, and as orders have been given to cutters to do this year; that is, to seize all the skins on board, hunting paraphernalia, etc., and send the seized vessel to the nearest port. Coming from the source it does the statement is very significant and may be taken as the ground upon which the mode of procedure of the United States seizing vessels will be questioned. Further than this the Admiral refuses to express any opinions.

Alongside the Warspite in Esquimalt Harbor are five warships, the Champion, Amphion, Espiegle, Nymph and Daphne. The three latter vessels could not make a trip to sea owing to small coal carrying capacity and the Champion is needed at the South American Station of the Pacific Division. Thus it is generally expected that the Amphion will be sent to the Arctic. She has recently been practising at gunnery here and is well stored with ammunition and fuel.

Sealing men here claim that the British Government will afford them protection from seizure, and say that the American Government understanding this will not seize any British vessels this year. This is the reason given for the non-departure of the revenue cutter Corwin for the north. No news of the sealers is expected till the latter part of the month, when the steamer Mischief, which was sent north to Sand Island by the owners of the sealing fleet, will probably arrive in Victoria with the catch of the fleet.

OTTAWA, July 18.—"There is nothing new in the Behring Sea case that can be given to the public," remarked a prominent member of the Cabinet to-night, "although we by no means despair of a satisfactory adjustment of the difficulty before long. It is very irritating to all parties to the negotiations to see the foundationless and sensational reports which have been telegraphed broadcast over the world in connection with the Behring Sea negotiations, as they can do no good, while, on the other hand, they tend to keep the country in an unwarrantable state of excitement.

On the most reliable authority it is learned that England did formally protest against the seizure of Canadian sealers, but made no declaration as to what course would be followed if their demands were ignored. It is generally admitted in high official circles here that some sort of an understanding has been arrived at between Secretary Blaine and the British Minister, which will insure Canadian sealers from molestation in Behring Sea during the pending negotiations. There is a continuous run of cable correspondence now passing between the Dominion Government and the British authorities on the subject, and it is believed that within a few weeks some important facts will be publicly announced in the direction of a settlement or understanding of some kind.

SMALLPOX RAGING IN MEXICO.

Four Hundred Deaths a Month from the Disease at Saltillo.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., July 18.—Mr. Warren returned to-day from a lengthy stay in the state of Coahuila, Mexico. Most of the time was spent in Saltillo, the capital. He describes the city as generally prosperous, but ravaged by smallpox. "I was told," he said, "that the deaths there from the disease averaged 400 people in a month for the last three months, and new cases are reported daily. The epidemic is mostly among children and is confined to no particular locality of the city. There seem to be no quarantine measures adopted to prevent the spread of the disease. There are scores of foreigners leaving the city and there is scarcely any travel into the stricken place. When a person dies of the disease the body is placed on a board and carted away on the heads of men to the burial ground. The face is exposed, and the winds passing over the body of the dead carry the pestilence to all quarters of the city and surrounding country.

A Pennsylvania Hurricane.

ERIE, PA., July 18.—A hurricane struck Girard yesterday. Scores of houses and barns were unroofed and the costly Presbyterian church was almost destroyed. The damage to farm property was heavy.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF THE WEEK'S BUSINESS.

The Volume of Trade—"Short Pack" Salmon Reports—The Sugar Crop—The Nebraska Drought—Railway Earnings—Wheat and Flour Exports.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's point out that the volume of general trade is of large proportions, though smaller than in recent weeks, with the distributive movement fairly active only. San Francisco, New Orleans and Chicago present the most marked exceptions, with business quite active and improving in nearly all leading lines. On the Pacific coast fresh and canned fruits and lumber are higher in price, while salmon packers are circulating the usual "short pack" reports. Country orders for staples are increasing rapidly at New Orleans, where the crop outlook has a marked influence. The Louisiana sugar crop is progressing very well, and in many parishes the stand is finer than has been the case at this date in many years. Rice, though a little late, is doing well, and the stand is excellent.

The extreme heat this week has had less effect in checking the movement of goods than had been expected. Through Nebraska the drouth promises to be serious for the corn crop unless it rains soon.

Net railroad earnings for May show the effect of the heavy traffic handled that month in offsetting losses from rate-cutting and large expenditures for permanent improvements. Both the ratio and amount of gain compare well with the preceding month in this and other years. The total net earnings of 105 railroads for May aggregate $16,062,499, a gain over last year of 13.75, and for the first five months of the year 103 roads report net earnings of $68,095,104, an increase over last year of 12.34, which in turn exceeded 1888 by 10.7 per cent.

Nails and barbed wire have been in better demand at the west at slightly higher prices and Philadelphia reports muck bars firmer and higher in price. There is no gain or change in pig iron or steel rails. Copper gains in strength. Lake ingot is now firm at 17c and casting brands 15c. Anthracite coal is moving less satisfactorily than has been reported and it is not believed that the late advance is being obtained.

Wheat has remained quite firm and fairly steady in price during the week. Exports of "wheat and flour" continue heavy, amounting to 1,995,630 bushels, against 1,730,368 bushels last week and 1,400,203 bushels in the like week of 1889. Exports of wheat for three weeks of July equal 4,940,250 bushels, against 4,391,987 bushels in a like portion of 1889 and 4,257,000 bushels in 1888, while the price now is 10c per bushel higher than one year ago and 5c higher than two years ago.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 181 in the United States this week, against 134 last week and 170 this week last year. Canada had 21 this week, against 28 last week. The total number of failures in the United States, Jan. 1 to date, is 5988, against 6495 in a like portion of 1889.

Stock speculation at New York is stagnant with a firm undertone. Although the continuation of gold exports creates some uneasiness, money has been firmer under increased demands from the agricultural regions and somewhat restricted collections at various points.

The damage by fire to the plant of the Western Union Telegraph Company at New York yesterday not only interfered with trade at that city but seriously affected general business.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Well-known Politician Charged With Felonious Wounding.

TORONTO, July 19.—John J. Muldoon has sworn out an information against Peter Ryan, registrar of Toronto, the charge being felonious wounding. The alleged assault was committed yesterday.

A protest was filed yesterday against the return of Mr. Godwin, Conservative M.L.A. for East Elgin. J. E. Durdle is the petitioner. This makes the 21st protest.

PERFECTLY SANE.

An Inmate of Longue Pointe Asylum Seeking Release.

MONTREAL, July 18.—The petition for the release of Loraide Beauchamp from the Longue Pointe Asylum came up in court to-day before Mr. Justice Ouimet. She has been detained for the last eight years. Dr. Lachapelle of Laval University testified that he had subjected the girl to the severest tests, and that she was perfectly sane. Dr. Brisson, physician for 20 years before her admission, testified in a similar manner, and neighbors who have known her all her life join in pronouncing her of sound mind. The case will be continued Monday.

Used a Flour Barrel for a Fig Leaf.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—A strange sight was seen in Lynch-street last night. William Straube went bathing in a pond near California-avenue, and while in the water his clothing was stolen. Bill made a sneak on a grocery store two blocks away and picked up an empty flour barrel. Knocking out the heading he put the wooden garment on as a woman does her dress, and then gingerly picked his way home over the cobble-stones, in no wise refreshed by his bath.

A Rich Corporation.

WINDSOR, July 18.—Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerville are applying for articles of incorporation as a joint stock company. The capital stock is $5,000,000, and all the various industries of their concern are included.

The Deadly Level Crossing.

MIDDLETOWN, July 18.—Henry Clay and James Stott drove in front of a Middletown way train at Goshen last evening and were struck by the locomotive. Clay's head was cut off and Stott was probably fatally injured.

A Georgia Double Murder.

SAVANNAH, July 18.—At Guyton yesterday R. N. Norton, jr., son of a physician, shot and killed two brothers named Willie and John Bird, who were trying to take back from Norton's stables some mules they had traded off. Norton escaped.

The Montmorency Election.

QUEBEC, July 18.—L. G. Desjardins (Con.) and J. B. Prevost (Lib.) were nominated in Montmorency this afternoon for the seat in the Commons made vacant by the resignation of Charles Langelier (Lib.)

Leda's Legal Light.

QUEBEC, July 18.—Leda Lamontagne, who was lately arrested in Massachusetts for incendiarism, has retained the services of F. X. Lemieux M.L.A., for her defence Mr. Lemieux left to-day for Boston.

Royal Arch Masonry.

KINGSTON, July 18.—The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Canada to-day unanimously elected these officers: Grand Z, J. J. Mason, Hamilton; Grand H, J. E. Hardy, Stratford; Grand J, J. Ross Robertson, Toronto; Scribe E. David McLellan, Hamilton.

DIED OF A DOG'S BITE.

A Boston Boy Stricken Down After Nearly Four Months.

BOSTON, July 18.—Last March two persons in Lowell were bitten by a mad dog. One of them, William Harwood, died of hydrophobia March 29. To-day the other, a bright little newsboy, Willie Johnson by name, died a victim to the same disease. Notwithstanding that the boy was bitten by the same dog as Harwood and that the details of the latter's horrible death provoked a profound sensation in the neighborhood, Willie received no medical treatment other than such as might aid the healing of the wound. The lad went about at play and work much the same as usual until a week ago yesterday, when, after returning to swimming for three hours, he seemed [illegible]. After drinking some water Friday morning he was seized with [illegible] faintness. His strength left him and his body and limbs twisted [illegible]. However, to that day he pluckily continued with the delivery of his papers.

His parents becoming alarmed at his condition summoned a physician Sunday morning. The latter, after a thorough examination, pronounced the case one of hydrophobia. Monday Willie suffered a horrible convulsion, but was permitted to walk outdoors. Yesterday morning he attempted to dress, saying that he didn't want to be late with his papers. But convulsion followed convulsion and strong opiates were administered. His death occurred at 10 o'clock this morning, resulting directly from exhaustion.

FROM HIGH LATITUDES.

A Ship From Labrador—The Reports of Destitution Groundless.

MONTREAL, July 18.—The arrival of a heavily built wooden steamship of the model of Arctic exploring ships caused somewhat of a curiosity along the river front this morning. She turned out to be the Hudson Bay Company's steam bark Erik, Captain Shaw, from Labrador. The Erik left London for Labrador early in June with a cargo of manufactured goods, and was as far north as the company's post at Rigolet in 54 latitude. The vessel arrived at this port on July 3, and fishing had not yet begun. A large fleet of Harbor Grace fishing schooners arrived about the same time as the Erik, but could not begin fishing as the bay ice was only just beginning to move out. At the company's posts it was reported that the winter had been the severest for thirty years, and this had interfered with the fur crop, which was very small. Surprise was, however, expressed at the reports that destitution prevailed in Labrador; as both whites and Indians had had plenty to live upon and were fairly comfortable. The company's officers reported that there had been no deaths from privations during the winter. The mate of the Erik reports that there are large masses of ice all along the Labrador coast, and the fishing vessels have had great difficulty in reaching the coast. One of Munn & Company's vessels was stuck fast in the ice for twelve days. The mate added that even in high latitudes he never saw such large icebergs as those passed in the Straits of Belle Isle. The Erik returns to Labrador at the end of the week with supplies of provisions for the company's post.

FOR POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

Provisions of a Bill Introduced in the United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker's energy is giving Dr. Norvin Green and the Western Union Telegraph Company a world of trouble. He kept them on the jump for months by his advocating of postal telegraphy, and it was only after infinite pains that the House sub-committee was induced to shelve the various bills on the subject for the present session. The Senate is usually slower than the House, but sometimes surer, and the Postmaster-General has now turned his batteries in that direction. To-day Senator Sawyer, Chairman of the Postoffice Committee, introduced the department's bill for a limited postal-telegraph system, and action is promised upon it by the committee. The bill provides that all postoffices where the free delivery system exists shall be postal telegraph stations, and in addition the Postmaster-General may designate those postoffices and telegraph offices as postal stations. The Postmaster-General shall contract with one or more of the telegraph companies now in existence for a period of 10 years.

Rates proposed are: For the first 20 words or less, counting address and signature, between postal stations in the same State and less than 300 miles apart, 15 cents. Between stations not less than 300 miles apart and not in the same State, 25 cents for the first 20 words or less. No rate shall be greater than 50 cents for 20 words.

Within two years after the passage of the bill one-half of the postal telegraph stations contemplated shall be connected by wires of the companies receiving the contract, and within the next succeeding year at least one-half of the remainder shall be so connected.

The Postmaster-General shall prescribe the rules and regulations for carrying out the purposes of the bill.

THE ILLINOIS CYCLONE.

Disasters Near Peoria—Telegraphic Communication Interrupted.

PEORIA, Ill., July 18.—A Lake Erie and Western train coming into this city was struck by the cyclone at Bridge Junction last night and one car was whipped out of the train and smashed to pieces. A coach containing about a dozen passengers was overturned and hurled down an embankment and several people injured. It was rumored here the town of Green Valley on the line of the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville road and Morton on the Santa Fe were swept away. Telegraphic communication with those places is shut off, the wires being badly demoralized by the storm.

The storm travelled towards Pekin and messages from there say it approached the outskirts of the city and suddenly rose to the clouds, disappearing from view. It is reported that seven were killed by the destruction of a brickyard at Westerly. At a late hour last night it was known great damage had been done across the river and men have gone across to investigate. A yellow spot, similar to the one from which the funnel hung, was noticed to the north of the city yesterday, and it is thought the towns of Lacon and Henry have suffered from the storm. In this city the only damage done was the overturning of cars.

Is It Major Andre's Sword?

NEW YORK, July 18.—Henry Reipe keeps a boat-house and fishermen's resort on the Passaic river at Avondale. Just behind his residence is a little vineyard. While hoeing among his vines a few days ago he came upon a long, narrow piece of rusted metal. After cleaning off the gravel, dirt, and mould he saw that he had an officer's sword of revolutionary pattern. The sword was of the regulation size and had an old-fashioned English handle. It was stuck almost fast in a metal scabbard. Excepting about six inches just below the hilt, it was in perfect condition. Reipe polished it with cleaning powder, and was rewarded for his pains with the discovery of this inscription in old English letters on the blade: "Major John Andre." There is no other letter or mark on the sword. Major Andre is said to have traversed all the ground in the neighborhood of Reipe's place, so it is thought there is little doubt that the old sword once hung at his side. Reipe says the sword lay about one foot under the surface, and 60 feet from the river shore.

Grew Out of an Old Feud.

TUSCUMBIA, Ala., July 18.—John W. Goodwin and Pete Challen, armed to the teeth, came here to-day and met Judge John A. Steele in a drug store. Judge Steele was unarmed, but his son came in soon and he and Goodwin drew pistols and opened fire. Steele fell dead, shot through the head. Tom Steele, another son of the judge, appeared with a shotgun and opened fire, Goodwin and Challen replying with pistols. Goodwin was mortally wounded. The affair grew out of an old feud originating in an insult to a lady.

Wrecks in Lake Erie.

ASHTABULA, O., July 18.—The large schooner Verona, ore laden, was run into and sunk outside the harbor this morning by the propeller Cambria. A heavy northeast gale was blowing and the Verona drifted across the Cambria's bow. No lives were lost.

The schooner Superior is aground near Fairport. Her crew have not been rescued, but are in no danger.

THE QUEBEC HOLOCAUST.

ESCAPE WAS EASY HAD THE VICTIMS BEEN AROUSED.

The Big Blaze at Gotham—Where the Fire Originated—About 2000 Telegraph Instruments Burnt—How the Restaurant Girls Were Rescued—Other Losses.

QUEBEC, July 18.—The coroner's inquest on the remains of the victims of the fire at Delamare's tavern in St. Joseph-street yesterday was held to-day at the morgue. The remains of the deceased were identified by Mrs. Pageau of St. Pierre de Charlesbourg, sister of Mrs. Maranda, as Pierre Louis Maranda, aged 41; Marie Esperance Duquet, his wife, aged 42, and their three children, Almaide, aged 15, Alphonse, 8, and Zelie, 5.

The jury went to inspect the ruins and ascertain if there were any means of escape by the rear. It is thought they might have escaped by the roof of the adjoining building if they had been aroused.

Chief Dorval of the fire brigade testified that his men were promptly at the fire. When he arrived the whole building and the sheds in the rear were in flames. He related the efforts made to save the adjoining buildings, as the fire had made great headway in Delamare's. There was a good supply of water and as soon as they could safely do so they placed ladders in position to reach the top flat. Some of his men entered and found the bodies of a man and child in a bed and on the floor the body of a woman. In answer to one of the jurors the Chief said he had appliances for rescuing the inmates had he known they were in the building.

Attorney-General Turcotte visited the morgue this morning and attended the inquest for a short time.

The remains of the Maranda family will be buried to-morrow by the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

A $7000 Fire at Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 18.—A $7000 fire broke out tonight in rear of 713 Notre Dame-street and spread to some tenements and sheds.

A Blaze at Sarnia.

SARNIA, July 18.—Fire broke out this evening in Loveley Bros.' celluloid collar works in the Owrey Block and burned fast. The Owrey Block was damaged considerably. Loveley Bros. lost their stock of goods and tools. The postoffice was damaged by water and The Sun office also sustained serious damage by water. James Higgins' fruit store was also damaged. All were insured except Loveley Bros.

JAY GOULD BURNT OUT.

The Western Union Telegraph Company's New York Building Consumed.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The big Western Union Telegraph building was gutted by fire at an early hour to-day. The building is eight stories high, with a cupola, and contains the offices of Jay Gould, the Pacific Railroads and the Associated Press, together with the operating rooms of the Western Union Telegraph Company. There were several narrow escapes from accident, but as far as reported no one was seriously hurt.

Later details of the affair state that the fire broke out in the battery room on the sixth floor and soon the entire upper portion of the immense structure was enveloped in flames. On the arrival of the firemen some exciting scenes were enacted. When the fire broke out there were about 40 operators at their tables in the operating room on the seventh floor of the building. The men were made aware of their danger by smoke issuing through the apertures connecting the battery room with the operating room. The battery room is situated in the rear of the building. This did not reassure the men, however, and they scampered downstairs pell mell. A few of the more clear headed waited for the elevator, and this was kept running until the drum operating it above began to smoke and sparks to fall. All in the lower portion of the building had gotten out by this time. The last to leave the operating room were Night Chief Tobler and Chief Operator James Robinson. They looked for the source of the flames as soon as the force took flight in alarm, and in the centre of the room, where is located the distributing ring which contains the numerous annunciator pneumatic tubes and the distributing tubes of the Western Union Company, they saw a tongue of flame shoot up from the floor below. It was a fierce flame and soon shot up several feet. Tobler grabbed up some hand grenades and threw them into the flames, while Robinson seized a Babcock fire extinguisher and turned it on. These methods proved futile and the men as a last resort seized the fire hose kept in the building and connected it with the nozzle which enters the operating room near by. This was put in operation and the stream directed against the flames. Three minutes showed them that this too was futile and they abandoned the work.

As described by an attache of the building the flames in the battery room at this time must have made that place a raging furnace. The ceiling of the room is literally covered with lines of wire and cables, some of the latter being of immense size and covered with insulating material of a highly inflammable nature.

When the operators had all left the building the crowds in the streets discovered half a dozen or more women standing on the roof of the structure which is bordered with iron railing. These were the kitchen help and others employed in the restaurant on the eighth floor where most of the employes of the Western Union take their meals. Just beneath where the women stood flames could be seen bursting from the windows and curling upwards. The women were comparatively calm for a time, but noticing the flames beneath them they began to scurry backward and forward, evidently puzzled as to what they should do. This sight caused great commotion on the streets below. One woman was seen to raise herself above the railing and peer in a terrified way down the side of the building on the Fulton-street side. The crowds standing by the railing of St. Paul's Church waved their hands and shouted themselves hoarse. "Stay there," "The firemen are coming," "Don't jump," went up from the excited people, but it is doubtful if even an echo of the shouts reached the imperilled women. The woman who had clambered up the railing desisted from her purpose, if such it was, of jumping and returned to her position on the roof, wringing her hands and looking appealingly to the crowds below. Meanwhile the life-saving corps of the fire department and many of the regular force were bending their energies to the rescue. A ladder was raised to the roof of the building, No. 5 Dey-street, and another thence up the burning structure. In raising the ladder from the street great delay and difficulty were encountered because of the mass of wires entering there. The ladder from the roof proved too short to reach the women. Life-lines were brought into requisition. From the top of the ladder a line was shot up to the roof by means of a bomb. In this way strong ropes were placed on the top of the building and the women were safely lowered one at a time to the roof of 5 Dey-street. This successful rescue elicited shout after shout of appreciation from the crowds who witnessed it from the street.

Firemen were distributed on all the adjacent housetops, whence they directed streams of water into the fiery furnace. The fire was got under control about 9 o'clock, after burning fiercely for two hours. The entire upper portion of the building was destroyed. This embraced the main operating room, the battery room, the gallery operating room, the dressing room, the main office of the Associated Press, the Western Union restaurant and the Western Union bookkeeping department. Among the offices damaged by water are those of Jay Gould, Russell Sage, Sidney Dillon, Dillon & Swayne's law office and the commercial news department. The fire burned and melted all the wires entering the building, and it is thought it will take a week to repair the damage. In the meantime the business will be badly crippled. The damage to the operating room alone is estimated at $200,000. About 2000 instruments averaging $40 a piece are destroyed.

Cronin's Murderer Dying in Prison.

JOLIET, July 18.—It was reported here last night that Patrick O'Sullivan, the iceman, now serving a life sentence for his complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin, is dying. The authorities at the prison refuse to confirm the report, however.

PLUCKY MRS. PARKER.

A Wisconsin Woman Kills Single-Handed a Huge Bear.

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 18.—Mrs. Harriet Parker, who lives with her husband and little daughter at Dedham, fifteen miles down the Eastern road, had an exciting experience this morning. While her husband was absent, about 6½ o'clock, she heard the little girl, who had gone out in the yard, scream, and a second later the little one came running into the house, saying that there was a big bear out there. Mrs. Parker took her husband's Winchester rifle and went out. The bear was within twenty feet of her when she fired, sending the bullet into the brute's head. The bear started for her and she fired again breaking the bear's back. A third bullet struck the animal in the head, killing it. The brute weighed 400 pounds and was very thin and savage.

When Mr. Parker got home the bear was skinned and the meat all dressed. Mrs. Parker is quite a huntress, having frequently accompanied her husband on his trips.

Gas Struck in Kent.

RIDGETOWN, July 18.—On the farm of William Mead, near Mull, in sinking a well for water, Mead struck gas at 60 feet, and a pipe and reducer were put in. By turning a tap a stream of gas escapes with a deafening roar, showing a pressure estimated at 30 to 60 lbs. to the square inch. The gas is without odor, and Mead has probably enough to run powerful machinery for generations. In the meantime he will put it into his house and utilize it for cooking, heating and lighting purposes. The Mead well is only 5½ miles in a bee line from Ridgetown. The Ingraham well is only half that, and is probably as powerful.

The Binghamton Cigarmakers' Strike.

BINGHAMTON, July 15.—About 350 striking cigarmakers assembled in front of Hall, Grammond & Co.'s factory at 6 o'clock to-night where a number of non-strikers were at work. The police force kept order, but the non-strikers were imprisoned in the factory half an hour and finally left under the escort of the police and their employers. The crowd followed close upon their heels and followed several of the men to their homes. About the same thing occurred at Reynolds & Rogers' factory, where a woman was notified that if she went to work she would be shot. The strike thus far has been a very peaceful one and this is the first demonstration of bad feeling.

BREMNER'S CLAIM.

His Solicitor Demands Payment from the Dominion Government.

OTTAWA, July 18.—Stuart Henderson, Bremner's solicitor, has written the Dominion Government to-day demanding that the sum of $5000, with interest from the time of the Northwest rebellion in 1885, be paid to Bremner for furs taken from him by Gen. Middleton. It will depend on what answer Mr Henderson gets whether he will sue the Government or take action against Sir Fred Middleton, Hayter Reed and Sam Bedson for the portion they took. In addition to this claim of $5000, Bremner has also another claim of $14,000 against the Government for goods taken during the rebellion from his general store near Battleford, for furniture, carts, cattle, horses, farming implements and general products, so that the total amount of his losses is nearly $20,000. This claim came before the Royal Commission and was thrown out on the grounds that Bremner was alleged to have been a party to his own losses. Mr. Henderson also asks the Government for this claim, and shows that from these losses his client and his family are destitute.

The Ontario Prison Reform Association commenced to take evidence here in the court house this forenoon.

Adam Brown, M.P., is in the city. He had a long interview with Mr. Haggart, Postmaster-General.

The Minneapolis Flour Output.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 17.—The Northwestern Miller says: The flour output last week was the heaviest since May. The aggregate production of 15 mills was 99,100 barrels. Most everybody has more or less orders ahead. The number of mills running to-day was 17, and they were producing at the rate of about 20,000 barrels per 24 hours. These figures are to be materially added to next week by several of the very largest mills being got under full headway. The flour market continues strong, but it is less active than for two weeks past. Bakers' and low grades are in good demand, especially for export shipment, and could be sold far ahead if it was considered safe to do so. But with orders enough booked to keep their mills running from two to seven weeks millers are no longer willing to sell very freely of these grades. Patents have dragged for several days past. At the prices asked the domestic market is quiet. Up to Saturday there was a fair demand for patents to be exported, but lower bids have been the rule since then and few transactions have occurred. The export shipments for the week were 38,100 barrels.

Man Wants But Little Here Below.

ST. PAUL, July 17.—The Farmers' Alliance and United Labor party convention re-assembled to-day. A platform was adopted which demands that the "war tariff" be radically revised; denounces the McKinley Bill as "the crowning infamy of protection"; demands Government control of railways that discrimination may cease, reasonable rates be established, watered stock not receive the reward of honest capital and pooling of rates be absolutely prohibited. For producers it demands free and open markets for grain and proper facilities for transportation, etc. It holds that mortgage indebtedness should be deducted from the tax on realty, demands lower interest, an increase in the volume of money and free coinage of silver, asks for the Australian ballot system, holds that United States senators and railway commissioners should be elected by ballot and finally considers that recent Supreme Court decisions are fraught with danger to our form of government.

Drowned.

OTTAWA, July 18.—Mr. Lemieux, Department of Agriculture, was drowned this morning in the Ottawa at the foot of the Parliament buildings. Lemieux was about 50 years of age. His hat and clothes were found on the river edge, but so far the body has not been recovered.

Burnt by a "Live" Wire.

OTTAWA, July 18.—An unfortunate accident befell a young man named Brown, who is in the employ of the Incandescent Electric Light Co. He was making repairs to wires in the Rideau Club when he caught hold of a "live" wire. His hands were badly burned.

The Cook Withdrew.

A lady living in a fashionable neighborhood in the northern part of the city secured a new cook the other day, says the Detroit Free Press, but the girl had not been in the house an hour when she asked for an interview, and said:

"Madame, I think it best for me to withdraw and let you fill my place."

"Why? Is anything wrong?"

"Yes—your husband."

"But what of him?"

"It would be very embarrassing for me to continue to meet him."

"Explain yourself!"

"We were once engaged to be married. I found that he was unworthy of me, and so I gave him the skip."

"You—you did! Now get your bundle and go!" exclaimed the indignant lady.

"I simply withdraw, madam—withdraw for the sake of peace and harmony. I hope your husband is a better man than when I gave him the walk. Au revoir!"

THE WISE MAIDEN.

There was a maid in our town,
And she was wonderous wise,
She stirred about and looked around,
And made use of her eyes.
Along the streets where'er she went
She read in letters bold—
"SUNLIGHT SOAP," and then thought she
Would see where it was sold.

At all the best shops in the town
She found that she could buy it,
And therefore bought a single bar—
Then went home to try it.
A wrapper placed around the soap,
Giving full directions
As to the way it should be used,
Caused her some reflections.

"This SUNLIGHT SOAP, I see," said she,
"Is not like any other;
"The SUNLIGHT way of washing clothes
"Is little or no bother.
The wrapper says we do not scald
"Or boil a single piece,
"This, surely, is a novel way
"Of washing if you please."

"Soap well the clothes and roll them tight,
"Then leave them in the tub
"For half-an-hour or thereabouts
"Before you start to rub.
"SUNLIGHT will then have got to work
"And loosened all the dirt,
"The wash is then so easy done
"A child it would not hurt."

This way of using SUNLIGHT SOAP
The maiden then did follow.
"Well, well," said she, "this washing day
"Beats all the others hollow!"
"With SUNLIGHT SOAP we labor save,
"As well as coal and wood.
"Besides having no steam or smell
"To mingle with our food."

"Not only that," the maiden said,
In words of glad delight,
"No other Soap I ever used
"Made things so clean and bright,
"Cashmeres, woollens, and flannels, too,
"And laces, oh, so fine,
"Are washed with SUNLIGHT perfectly,
"That Soap's forever mine."

"Another thing about SUNLIGHT SOAP
"I want you understand,
"It will not injure anything—
"Your lace, your clothes, your hand.
"So pure is it in all respects,
"You cannot misapply it;
"So pleased am I with SUNLIGHT SOAP
"I say, 'go you and try it.'"

Nassau Took the Palm.

The Cobourg World says:—"The Orange demonstration in Cobourg on 'the glorious 12th' was a brilliant success. About 800 knights of Prince William invaded the town. Nassau Lodge, Peterborough, took the palm for fine appearance."

A Large Awning.

Mr. Turner has shipped to Mr. W. Sperry, of Lindsay, the largest awning that has been put up in that town. It is a pretty one, of red and white stripes, as well as large. He has also shipped a large sail to Mr. George G. Hilliard, Alexander, Manitoba, to be used for covering hay. 1d16

Five Dollars or ten Days.

Personal.

Mr. Wm. Wallbrook addressed a series of meetings in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in Lindsay this week.

Mr. Wm. Smith, Principal of the Public Schools, was in Millbrook this week as presiding examiner in the examinations for entrance and for third-class certificates.

Mr. Phil. W. Peters and wife, (nee Miss Nettie Martyn), of Louisville, Ky., who were connected last season with W. H. Bishop's "Mug's Landing" Co., are spending their summer vacation in town among relatives and friends.

He is Equal to the Task.

The Lindsay Post says:—"The good work of repairing the picturesque verandahs goes bravely on. Seeing that they are apparently fixtures the town council should amend the chimney sweeping by-law by adding a clause making it compulsory to sweep all debris off them into the drains below at least once a month. As it is at present the debris eventually gets there, but during the tenure of its lodgement the effect is decidedly inartistic. It is almost a pity a small western cyclone couldn't be induced to strike the north side of Kent-st. some day and carry the rotten rookeries called verandahs clean down to Scugog lake and bury them fathoms deep. They are an eye sore to our citizens and the laughing stock of visitors. Turner of Peterborough has a decided mission to perform in Lindsay."

ON THE DIAMOND.

A Victory for Peterborough by a Score of 22 to 9—Campbellford Defeated.

The baseball game played yesterday afternoon on the P.A.A.A. grounds between Campbellford and Peterborough resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 22 to 9. The game was not a bad exhibition of ball playing. The visitors did not play as good ball as the home team either in the field or at the bat. McCabe, the one-armed twirler, was in the box for the home nine and did effective work, the visitors failing to find him to any extent. Graham was behind the bat and played a good game. Beatty, who was doing the throwing for the visitors, was hit pretty hard by the Peterborough men, some of whom, among them Brennan, Hay, Somers and McGlynn, found the sphere every time.

The score was as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	PO.	A.	E.

A Fine Sample of Fall Wheat.

Mr. J. D. Crowley, of Smith, exhibited at the REVIEW office yesterday a very fine sample of fall wheat. The specimen was an unusually good one, the grain being well filled out. It was taken from a ten acre field which was being cut yesterday. It was pretty early for to be harvesting fall wheat.

A Free Trip to Europe.

The Publishers of the Canadian Queen will give a free trip to Europe to the person sending them the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the name of their well known magazine, "The Canadian Queen." Additional prizes consisting of Silver Tea Sets, Gold Watches China Dinner Sets, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantle Clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. Webster's Unabridged Dictionary to be used as authority in deciding the contest. This is a popular plan of introducing a popular publication. At Chemong Park.

The Port Hope Times in a lengthy report of the Methodist Sunday school picnic at Chemong Park on Wednesday says of the park:—"Chemong Park is a magnificent place to hold a picnic, and is destined to become very popular with tourists and others desiring to spend the warm weather in a cool and healthy retreat. There are at present nine cottages within the grounds, and tents are also quite numerous. The occupants of the cottages are mostly Peterborough people—business men and their families. The "head of the house" can reach town, from which the park is distant but five miles, by means of a large three-horse bus, leaving his cool retreat in the morning and returning in the evening, in true suburban style. On a small island in the lake, a short distance from the shore, stands the boat house of the Peterborough Canoe Club. The lower part of the building, which is cottage-shaped, is occupied by the canoes, boats, etc., of the club, while the upper portion is fitted up handsomely as club-rooms. The situation is a most beautiful one for the purpose. Bridgenorth, a small village, is situated about half a mile east of the Park, and were the little hamlet accessible by rail, instead of by stage and a roundabout water way, it would soon grow out of its swaddling clothes. Many of the excursionists visited the place during the afternoon." The report also says:—"Ex-Mayor Peplow, late Assistant-Superintendent of the Port Hope Methodist Sunday school, together with Mrs. Peplow, joined the party at Peterborough, and were heartily welcomed by their old friends."

NATIONALIZATION OF LAND.

The Single Tax in Reference to the Urban and Rural Population.

THIRD ARTICLE.

In regard to compensation the question is how this can be made. When the owner or original purchaser bought the land he considered the safety of the investment which includes good faith on the part of the public, a fair return to capital invested and an increase in the value of the land as well. This increase does not morally belong wholly to him, but at the time of purchase it was legally within his contemplation. The contract so far was bad. The safety must result in a return of the capital if unimpaired, as in that event he must be taken to have complied with the requirements of a proper investment. As to the increase, capital earned only a part; land and labor have their shares, because no increase could have taken place without them and they are the three sole factors. Therefore as "compensation" on this readjustment of single tax the owner gets all that he can morally claim or with justice could be awarded, that is his money invested, a fair per cent. and a part of the increase. In the event of loss capital should alone sustain that, as the investment was bad, except when land and labor can be shown to have been consenting parties. In other words what is known as "speculation" cannot be considered in regard to them. It is assumed, it will be observed, that a proper combination will produce correct results and an improper one incorrect results, and the loss should fall upon him who made the blunder. In one case the unearned increment goes where it belongs and in the other the loss goes where it belongs.

Where a house and lot bear a certain tax the fact that it is shifted to the land alone is in accordance with the true principle and injures no one. Where a house upon a lot adjoining a vacant lot equal in value to the lot the house is on, is relieved of its burden and a proper proportion of taxation is transferred to the vacant lot, a tax is removed from the product of industry and placed upon speculation. One should be encouraged and the other checked in a healty state.

Though taxation may decrease consumption and therefore ultimately lessen the quantity produced, a tax on speculation does not lessen the quantity of land available for industry but increases it. Every opportunity is afforded for production and hence there, certainly, will be less want or starvation than if production be discouraged. The improvement of our tax system must follow. We should have fewer collectors and time would be given to them to assist the state, practically, instead of their depleting its coffers in drawing their pay. Labor and capital always need land as a sine qua non for their employment. When a premium is put upon use and every facility is granted and the multifarious obstructions incident to ownership removed we may expect to see a better state of things. The taxation of incomes has resulted in much fraudulent suppression. Is it not evident to-day that as monopolists grow in wealth those whom they take from sink deeper in ruin and despair? Though the increase of one does not necessarily mean the ruin of the other. Land may be acquired and so held that the tax-gatherers of the Sultan are but play-things in comparison. This could not be where the state controls the land. The average of production in the United States is, according to Mr. Atkinson, the great statistician, the immense sum of fifty-five cents a day for the American worker. The result is that there is much want. Now the single tax men want to know if, with a "fair field" and properly managed affairs, the American citizens cannot produce enough to live upon with any degree of comfort? Capital is not short, for in large sums it can be got as low as two and a half per cent. Labor is not short, for laborers are kept out of the country. Then land must be short, for there are only these three elements of production. But the territory of the United States will sustain one thousand millions of people and there are only sixty-five millions in it. This last supposition then is absurd. The answer is: Land in itself is not short but speculation withholds it and the system of taxation assists the speculators. No one should own land who does not wish to use it. What is now rent will not (as will be shown) be increased, but rather decreased by a great deal under this plan. The question at once arises in considering the application of this system, "Could the public needs be supplied by the single tax?" Mr. Atkinson, who, by the way, is not an advocate of the single tax, estimates the value of land in 1880 in the United States at $13,000,000,000. He estimates that the rent produced at five per cent. would be $650,000,000. This net rent, with the $140,000,000 taxes added, gives a gross rental of $790,000,000. The gross revenue is $580,000,000. Thus it is plain that the single tax would produce $220,000,000 more than is needed (1880). Another renowned statistician, Thos. G. Shearman, says that sixty-five per cent. of the present rental would produce the required revenue. Also we should consider that the necessary revenue is made up in a great degree of expenses, etc.

A few words to the farmers. Where a farm returns no profit over an ordinary living, or where a poor year brings about the same thing, the rental value of that farm is nothing. As there is no real land value in this case the tax on "land values" cannot injure the farmer. The tax is removed from his implements, house, etc., so that he would pay no taxes at all.

Again, where the farm does return a profit it has, by so much, a "value," the suitability of position remaining constant. Then its selling value is made up of its profit-bearing capacity, which includes its suitability of situation or the "unearned increment." Now, apart from tillage, it would yield, practically, no profit. This cultivation is "improvement," and must not be taxed, so that the net profit, less the "unearned increment," escapes. Therefore, in case the property has no value—that is, has no increment and no rental value, even including improvements, it logically cannot, and as a matter of fact, will not be taxed at all. If a man have a piece of property, and though he pays high taxes the property is valueless even if he has no taxes to pay, then taxation is to that man a distinct penalty upon his toil.

All economists admit that land is at present in farming communities valued improperly in comparison with land in urban localities. It is valued too highly. The unearned increment in rural districts (where a few miles, unless it be from water supply, does not matter so much) is of small importance. So that to farmers the single tax or tax on land values and upon those alone means this: If the farm return but a fair recompense to labor and to capital and no rental value or recompense that can be awarded to land, then that farm will not have any tax to pay. There will be farms and good city and village lots enough (as already shown) in all the broad country which should pay the required share of its increase in value into the general fund, to sustain and promote the best interests of good government. No matter how men might scheme to evade the payment of their just debts to the state, not one of them could escape. The man who owns no land of value owes nothing to the unearned increment, and therefore has nothing to pay. The man who does own land of value (always excluding improvements) should and must satisfy the debt. All else is or has been produced by individual toil. Mental capacity will not be hampered in its desire to produce nor shall mental incapacity suffer an unjust punishment by the natural overflow of human productions going to the landed rich instead of to the poor. If a man pocket all he earns he does no other man wrong; if he reap what some other man has sown that other man pays the penalty of good fortune. I cannot help thinking that the denial of any value to some land is unscientific and incorrect. If, however, it were so, that is, that some land had no value, a tax on all land would be ridiculous.

This nationalization of land would do away greatly with the necessity of conveyances and law suits regarding land. This, perhaps, is not desirable. The handling of land transfer would be reduced to an exact science.

If capitalists get possession of land and pay the only tax that is levied let us say "joy be with them." It is an odd thing that with no taxes and no rent to pay, with food free from taxation and clothing also, a man cannot live. At any rate the probabilities are stronger than at present.

It must be carefully marked that the possession of land is not endangered but rather rendered more secure.

An idea here occurs to me that may illustrate our contention. Supposing that A; a man of brains, deals with land greatly to his own and the public advantage and from motives which we have no right to assail nor to applaud. A thousand fools come to live about him, that is, men to whom nature has given a small share of brains. A owns all the land—they own none. Should he pay all the taxes? Certainly not. As one of one hundred and one he should pay. Where did the unearned increment come from? It was given by all. Then to all should it be returned. "Every man according to his due." That one man is a trustee and the most capable of all for the others. How wisely all the laws of nature worked out!

I am greatly obliged for the forbearance of your readers. My intentions are good.

Points & Pointers

Some of our customers seem surprised that people as polite as we are never raise our hats to them. It is against our principles to do so. We do not raise our hats to any one. They are two dollars each; one price to all.

People who try on our Summer Suits seem to have very pleasant reflections. They can't help it when they stand in front of one of our mirrors.

If you should enter our store some day and see a sign, "Keep to the Right and Keep Moving," you mustn't think it is addressed to you. That is our motto. We go ahead when we're sure we're right, and then we keep to the right and keep moving. But we haven't put up that sign yet, and we do not know that we shall, for it is against our principles to put up anything. We keep things down. We don't even allow our customers to put up very much. Ten dollars for a Nobby Suit. Think of it.

Speaking of mottoes one of our steamed competitors (we say "steamed," because he's gone up the spout now) had for his motto, "Watch and Wait." He gave a watch with every suit, and then waited for the customer to come back and kick. It is said that patient waiting suffers no loss, but it wasn't so in this man's case by a good deal or a bad deal, to be more accurate.

Some clothing dealers give away a base-ball and bat with every purchase, but we don't because we are not up to any games.

There's no ball to every suit at our store but there are some of our suits at every ball if we mistake not.

No, we do not give away watches, but we do give to every purchaser first-class value for his money.

Call and see us if you do not see what you want ask for it, and if you don't get it then you'll have to whistle for it, it isn't in the market.

'Tis An Old Saying

that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak to-day. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. We are going to quote prices that are lower than asked by any other dealer. If you are wanting or will want in this line this year, you cannot afford to ignore this opportunity.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

With these words the monk turned away, and ere Ruric could command presence of mind enough to follow him he had gone from the house. The youth wished to say something, but amid the varied emotions that went leaping through his mind he could gather no connected thoughts.

After the monk was gone Ruric returned to his bench and resumed his work. He asked his boy if he had ever seen the strange man before, but Paul only shook his head, and answered dubiously.

"What do you mean?" the gun-maker asked, gazing the boy in the face. "Do you think you have seen him before?"

"I cannot tell, my master. I may have seen him before, and I may not. But surely you would not suppose that my memory would serve you better than your own."

Ruric was not fully assured by this answer. He gazed into Paul's face, and he fancied he detected some show of intelligence there which had not been spoken. But he resolved to ask no more questions at present. He had asked enough, he thought, upon such a subject, and he made up his mind to bother himself no more about it, feeling sure that if his boy knew anything which would be for his master's interest to know it would be communicated in due season. So he applied himself anew to his work, and at noon the pistols were finished.

Towards the middle of the afternoon, just as Ruric had finished tempering some parts of a gun-lock, the back door of his shop was opened, and two men entered. They were young men, dressed in costly furs, and both of them stout and good-looking. The gun-maker recognized them as the Count Conrad Damonoff and his friend Stephen Urzen.

"I think I speak with Ruric Nevel?" said the Count, moving forward.

"You do," returned Ruric, not at all surprised by the visit, since people of all classes were in the habit of calling at his place to order arms.

The Count turned a shade paler than before and his nether lip trembled; but Ruric thought that might be the result of coming from the cold into a warm place. However, he was soon undeceived, for the Count's next remark was significant:

"You are acquainted with the Lady Rosalind Valdai?" he said.

"I am," returned Ruric, now beginning to wonder.

"Well, sir," returned Damonoff, with much haughtiness, "perhaps my business can be quickly and satisfactorily settled. It is my desire to make the Lady Rosalind my wife."

Ruric Nevel started at these words, and he clasped his hands to hide their tremulousness. But he was not long debating upon an answer.

"And why have you come to me with this information, sir?"

"You should know that already. Do you not love the lady?"

"Upon my soul, Sir Count, you ask me a strange question. What right have you to question me upon such a theme?"

"The right that every man has to pave the way for his own rights," replied Damonoff sharply. "But if you choose not to answer, let it pass. I know you do love the lady. And now I ask you to renounce all claims to her hand."

"By St. Paul, Sir Count, your tongue runs into strange moods of speech. I renounce all claims to Rosalind Valdai's hand?—Was't so you meant?"

"Aye, sir—precisely so."

"Perhaps you will inform me what claims I may have upon the lady," Ruric returned, with some tremulousness in his tone, for the very subject was one that moved him deeply.

"Ruric Nevel, you shall not say that I did not make myself fully understood, and hence I will explain." The Count spoke this as speaks a man who feels that he is doing a very condescending thing, and in the same tone he proceeded: "The Lady Rosalind is of noble parentage and very wealthy. My own station and wealth are equal with hers. My station, at all events. She may possess the undivided right to more property than I do. But that matters not. I love her, and must have her for my wife. I have been to see the noble Duke, her guardian, and he objects not to my suit. But he informed me that there was one impediment, and that was her love for you. He knows full well—as I know, as all must know—that she could never become your wife; but yet he is anxious not to interfere too much against her inclinations. So a simple denial from you, to the effect that you can never claim her hand, is all that is necessary. You understand me, I [illegible]. We seek this only for the [illegible] good. Of course, you must be aware that the Duke would never consent [illegible] with you; and yet he wishes [illegible] your denial to show to [illegible] announces his decision. I have a paper here all drawn up, and all that will be necessary is simply your signature. Here—it is only a plain, simple avowal on your part that you have no hopes nor thoughts of seeking the hand of the lady in marriage."

As the Count spoke he drew a paper from the bosom of his marten doublet, and having opened it he handed it towards the gun-maker. But Ruric took it not. He drew back and gazed the visitor sternly in the face.

"Sir Count," he uttered, in a tone of full noble indignation, "what do you suppose I am? Do you mean to tell me that Olga, Duke of Tula, has commissioned you to obtain such a renunciation of me?"

"Of course," spoke the Count, turning to his companion, "you heard the instructions the Duke gave me this morning?"

"Aye," returned Urzen, directing his speech to Ruric. "I did hear; and you have stated the case plainly."

"I may be as much surprised as yourself," resumed the Count, haughtily, "at this strange taste of the Duke. Why he should seek this signal from you I can only imagine upon his desire to call up no regrets in the bosom of his fair ward. He knows that she was once intimate with you, and that she now feels a warm friendship for you. For her sake he would have this signal from you."

"But how for her sake?" asked Ruric.

"Why," returned Damonoff, do you not see? Rosalind, in the simplicity of her heart, may think that you—a—that you might claim her love; and out of pure principle grant it to you simply because you were the first claimant."

"But I never claimed her love," said Ruric, warmly. "If she loves me, she loves me from her own heart. With the noble Duke I never spoke but once, and then he came here for me to temper his sword. If you would marry with the lady, do so; and if you seek help in the work, seek it from those who have some power in the matter."

"You mistake, sir," uttered the Count, hotly. "I seek not power now. I only seek a simple word from one who may have some influence—even as a beggar, having saved the life of a king, may, through royal gratitude, wield an influence. Will you sign the paper?"

Now all this seemed very strange to Ruric, and he knew that there was something behind the curtain which he was not permitted to know. He knew the proud and stubborn Duke well enough to know that he never would have sent such a message as this but for some design more than had yet appeared. In short, he could not understand the matter at all. It looked dark and complex, and its face was in direct conflict with the nature of the man from whom it now appeared to have emanated. Ruric pondered upon this a few moments, and he made up his mind that he would on no account yield an atom to the strange demand thus made upon him.

"Sir Count," he said, calmly and easily, "you have plainly stated your proposition, and I will as plainly answer. I cannot sign the paper."

"Ha!" gasped Damonoff, in quick passion. "Do you refuse?"

"Most flatly."

For a few moments the Count gazed into Ruric's face as though he doubted the evidence of his own senses.

"It is the Duke's command," he said at length.

"The Duke of Tula holds no power of command over me," was the gun-maker's calm reply.

"Beware! Once more, I say—sign the paper!"

"You but waste your breath, Sir Count, in speaking thus. You have my answer."

"By heavens, Ruric Nevel, you'll sign this!" the Count cried madly.

"Never, sir."

"But look ye, sirrah: Here is my whole future of life based upon my hopes of union with this fair girl. Her guardian bids me get this paper of you ere I can have her hand. And now do you think I'll give it up so easily? By the saints of heaven, I'll have your name to this, or I'll have yo[illegible]!"

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

The Porte Discharges a Couple of Governors—Stanley Better.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 18.—Samih Pasha, Governor of Erzeroum, and Halid Bey, Governor of Vanea, have been dismissed from their posts by the Porte.

The Austrian and German Ambassadors here have addressed to the Porte an identical note apropos of the capture by brigands of Chief Engineer Gerson and Superintendent Major of the Ismidt and Angora Railway, who are both Austrians. The note declares that such events are too frequent, and better measures must be taken to protect foreigners who are devoting labor or money to public works in Turkey.

This Settles It.

ROME, July 18.—All the Papal nuncios have been instructed to formally deny the report that the Pope left Papal territory during his recent drive.

Casus Belli.

PESTH, July 18.—Intelligence has been received that a Hungarian custom guard has been fired upon by persons on the Servian side of the Danube.

An Inquiry Ordered.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 18.—The Porte has ordered that a searching inquiry be made into alleged Ottoman oppression in Armenia.

The Grip's Return.

PARIS, July 18.—The influenza is epidemic in St. Louis and the whole population there is affected. Business in the public departments is paralyzed.

Stanley is Better.

LONDON, July 18.—Henry M. Stanley is improving. He is able to take short walks.

ENGLAND'S FATTEST BOY.

Five Years Old, Stands Four Feet and Weighs 117 Pounds.

LONDON, July 18.—The Lancet publishes to-day an account of an extraordinary child, born in West Camel. He is now 5 years and 6 months of age, and is of the following dimensions: Height 4 feet, weight 117 pounds, circumference of abdomen 46½ inches, chest 37 inches, neck 14 inches, head 22½ inches, thigh 26 inches, arm 11½ inches, forearm 10¼ inches. He is very healthy, eats all day long and is fairly intelligent. The parents and their other children are of ordinary size.

France's Fattest Girl Dead.

PARIS, July 18.—The fattest girl in Paris, by name Victorel Fautin, died last Sunday and was buried to-day with great ceremony. She was only 19 years of age, and weighed 670 pounds. Her limbs were enormous. She was engaged at the Eden theatre, but her size was such that she made very few appearances. It required seven strong men to assist her from her house to the stage.

Betrayed By a Finger Nail.

PARIS, July 18.—A finger nail on one of the window sills of Rimmel's perfumery works led to the discovery that the establishment had been robbed. Jules Labrun, a young man employed there, was suspected. It was learned that the nail of one of his fingers was torn off. The police heard he was hiding in his mother's house, to which they went to arrest him. As they entered the house Labrun opened a window on the sixth floor and jumped into the street, killing himself instantly.

The Shooting at Bisley.

LONDON, July 18.—Four of the Canadians have secured places in the 300 who will fire in the second stage of the match for the Queen's prize at Bisley. They are: Staff. Sergt. Ogg of Guelph, Capt. Bishop of Halifax, Sergt. Hall of Waterloo, Que., and Lieut. Smith of St. John, N.B. In the next hundred there were three Canadians: Lieut. Horn, of Kingston; Lieut. Manning, of St. John, N. B., and Private Hutcheson, of Ottawa. These three retire from the competition with prizes of £2 each. The best hundred in the first and second stages combined fire in the final stage.

To Nervous Debilitated Men.

If you will send us your address, we will mail you our illustrated pamphlet explaining all about Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and Appliances, and their charming effects upon the nervous debilitated system, and how they will quickly restore you to vigor, and manhood. Pamphlet free. If you are thus afflicted, we will send you a Belt and Appliances on a trial.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

WAR IN SAN SALVADOR.

THE INVADING GUATEMALANS LOSE A BATTLE.

A Force Numbering 9000 Driven Back With Heavy Loss—The Guatemalan Artillery Captured—The Cause of the Conflict—Union by Coercion.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 20.—El Universal publishes an account of a battle between Guatemalans and San Salvadorians in San Salvador, in which the former were defeated with heavy loss.

The Guatemalan force numbered 9000.

General Barrundia, the Guatemalan refugee, has left Oaxaca to take part in the war. He will probably raise the standard of revolt in Guatemala.

Private telegrams from San Salvador say the San Salvadorians captured the Guatemalan artillery in the battle which took place on Thursday.

It is rumored that President Barillos of of Guatemala talks of resigning.

THE CAUSE OF THE WAR.

Attempting to Force San Salvador Into the Central American Union.

GUATEMALA CITY, July 20.—The trouble between the Central American States grows out of the proposed union of the republics of San Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Costa Rica and Nicaragua. The convention for the union of the states was signed by Honduras, San Salvador and Guatemala, while a favorable report was received from the Senate of Costa Rica in regard to signing it. The convention will also be presented to Nicaragua next year, it being too late this year, as the Senate had already met.

Gen. Eyeta, the new president of San Salvador, sent word that he would agree to every policy of the four other Republics except that upon the the union of the States. This was almost an open declaration of war, and Guatemala and Honduras will endeavor to make San Salvador live up to the agreement. It is believed that Eyeta represents the old Conservative or Church party, which is endeavoring to return to power.

Guatemala, which has been the foremost in endeavoring to bring about this union, has two objects in view—namely, to protect herself from home invasion and to strengthen her credit abroad. The meeting of Commissioners upon the Mexican boundary question is to be held in November. The decision of the Commissioners, if averse to Guatemala, will take a large slice out of her territory, and there will, undoubtedly, be some dispute over the matter. Mexico is supposed to be casting longing eyes upon Guatemala with a view to annexation, and she is certainly a power to be feared by such a small nation.

Costa Rica and Nicaragua will undoubtedly range themselves under the banner of the coming union, and it would be a difficult task for Mexico to endeavor to interfere with the affairs of the Republics just now, for that would doubtless change San Salvador's attitude.

LIKE "AN ARROW WITH A ROAR."

The Daily Cyclone Visits Iowa Carrying a Heavy Jag.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., July 20.—A special from Pacific Junction, 16 miles south of here, gives news of a cyclone which struck that place at 3½ o'clock Saturday morning. During the night a severe electric storm prevailed. In addition the rain fell in torrents. The atmosphere about midnight became remarkably still yet dense. It was difficult for one to breathe. Egyptian darkness prevailed, dispelled only by a vivid flash of lightning at the above hour when, without warning, a large, funnel-shaped cloud descended from the heavens like an arrow with a roar that terrified the entire city. The clouds struck the ground about 800 feet from the Burlington depot, and in a moment two business blocks, a grocery store, a feed store and three residences were torn to pieces as if made of paper. The timbers were carried up into the air and lost sight of. The cloud after traveling about 300 feet on the ground rose in the air only to alight again within a block's distance. It struck the second time a trifle to the west of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy station, and hurled a passenger coach belonging to the C., B. and Q. into a ditch and badly damaged it. A conductor sleeping in the coach was terribly bruised and cut and may die. After wrecking the coach the cloud flew upward and vanished.

Killed by Lightning.

NEW ORLEANS, July 20.—A severe rain and electrical storm visited this city and vicinity this evening. At Millerburg lightning struck a shed, instantly killing Victor Marchand, fatally injuring Edgar Charles and seriously injuring Edward Williams. At Gentilly Road a dairyman was killed in the same way.

TROUBLE AT BUENOS AYRES.

The Political Situation Disturbed—The Garrison Under Arms.

BUENOS AYRES, July 20.—The political situation here is disturbed. Reinforcements of troops have arrived and the garrison is under arms. At the close of the market yesterday the premium on gold was 200.

Conflicting reports are current of the discovery of a plot against the Government. Semi-official papers declare the reports have no foundation.

A national convention will be convoked in January to designate a candidate for the presidency

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

THE WARCLOUD AGAIN LOWERS IN THE EAST.

Emperor William Curtails His Northern Tour and Hastens His Conference With the Czar—France's Objections to the United States Tariff Bill.

BERLIN, July 19.—Emperor William has announced that he will return to Wilhelmshausen from his trip in Norwegian waters on July 26. Ministers DuVernois and Miquel will meet him there. The Reichsanzeiger last night declared the Emperor's plans for his trip had not been altered owing to the political situation, but the facts contradict the official statement. Arrangements were made for his voyage to extend a week longer. Affairs in the east are hastening to a crisis and this caused Emperor William to advance the date of his conference with the Czar.

Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Ambassador to Berlin, who is now in St. Petersburg, has sent Chancellor von Caprivi a formal intimation that the Czar will receive Emperor William on Aug. 10. The great manœuvres to which Emperor William has been invited will begin on Aug. 7 and last for two weeks.

THE FIRST GUN.

A Democratic Senator Will Open Out on the McKinley Tariff.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The debate on the Tariff Bill is expected to begin in the Senate to-morrow. The understanding is that in the morning hour the Indian Appropriation Bill shall be taken up and considered until 2 o'clock and then give way to the Tariff Bill. Senator Voorhees (Dem., Ind.) has stated his intention to deliver a general speech on the Tariff at 2 o'clock Monday. The Republicans do not intend under the present arrangements to engage in general debate on the bill, therefore a Democratic senator will make the opening speech. Republican members of the Finance Committee have been informed the Democratic minority will not make a formal report against the passage of the bill.

PARIS, July 19.—The American consulate here is overrun with French merchants making inquiries and complaining of the effects of the American customs administration bill.

The president of the French Budget Committee advocates a commercial treaty with the United States to take effect in 1892 when France will have regained her economic liberty.

German critics say the French army never appeared to so great advantage as on July 14 on the celebration of the fall of the Bastile. They especially praise the artillery.

The Chamber of Commerce has sent a petition to the Government, asking that it try to secure a delay of two months in the time of enforcing the provisions of the Customs Administration. The petition also requests the Government to open negotiations with the other European powers for the holding of a congress to adopt measures for the protection of the export trade of Europe against the provisions of the bill.

WHO OWNS BEHRING SEA?

Great Britain's Investigations Into American and Russian Seizures.

LONDON, July 19.—The British Government is preparing to lay before Parliament the correspondence in relation to Behring Sea. The contention of the Government briefly is that the limits of American jurisdiction extend only to the three-mile limit from the shores of the mainland and islands of Alaska. To this position it is well understood that the Government will adhere, agreeing, however, to a close season for seals during nine months of the year with freedom to kill during July, August and September.

The British Government is also proceeding further to investigate the seizure of the British sealer Avannah in 1888 by the Russian authorities at the instance of the American Alaska Company, the vessel having been confiscated, the Russians claimed, for fishing within three miles of the Russian shore, the owners of the Avannah, however, having always asserted that they were at least six miles away. The case has for some time been dormant, but is being revived with vigor.

Down on Secret Societies.

DUBLIN, July 20.—In his sermon at the cathedral at Armagh to-day Rev. Mr. Neece denounced secret societies. He referred especially to the Ancient Order of Hibernians. He said this society, which was founded in America, was seeking new members in Ireland, and he warned all Catholics against having anything to do with the organization.

Victoria's Railways.

MELBOURNE, July 20.—The Premier has introduced in Parliament a railway bill providing for the construction of 1077 miles of country lines and 29 miles of suburban lines, the whole to cost £12,500,000 besides a grant from the treasury of £2,000,000. He said the scheme was necessary in order to meet the growth of the population which, as the census proved, was increasing faster than the population of America. The bill was well received.

Osman Digna's Losses.

CAIRO, July 20.—It is reported that Osman Digna is at Omdurman and that his followers have returned to Tokar. Osman, it is said, lost 400 men by famine and sickness.

A Fatal Fight With Smugglers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—A company of gendarmes had a fatal encounter with a gang of smugglers at Therapia to-day. The gendarmes were seizing contraband tobacco near the British Embassy when they were set upon by smugglers and badly defeated. Two officers were killed and a number of others were wounded.

A deputation of merchants of Broussa has waited upon the Governor protesting that they are not safe from brigandage.

The Latest From China.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—Chinese advices say Barrados, formerly superintendent of the money order department of the Hong-Kong general postoffice, was brought to Hong-Kong from Manilla June 23 under extradition papers, charged with having appropriated $46,000.

A passenger boat plying between Hong-Kong and Tai-Kok-Tsui sunk during a squall June 26 and seven persons were drowned.

The Portuguese and Chinese are in a disturbed state over the question of boundary lines between their possessions at Green Island.

A collision between steamers of the Osaka Merchant Steamship Company and the Yamamoto Company at Jizozki June 20 resulted in the loss of the latter company's vessel and 14 lives.

The Behring Sea Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—It was stated at the State Department to-day that the Behring Sea fisheries correspondence would undoubtedly be sent to Congress next week. The reason of the delay was said to be a desire to have Secretary Blaine's answer to a very recent despatch from Lord Salisbury included in the correspondence to be placed before the Government.

GAS FOR BUFFALO.

The Bison City to be Supplied From the Canadian Fields.

PORT COLBORNE, July 19.—Donald McGillivray of this town, treasurer of the Provincial Natural Gas and Fuel Company, to whose pertinacity and enterprise the great success in developing the natural gas fields is very largely due, was seen to-day in regard to the dispatch from Ottawa, stating that his company had signed a contract with the Standard Oil Company to supply the Buffalo district with gas from the Bertie fields.

Mr. McGillivray spoke with some hesitation. He was free to say, however, that such a contract as was referred to in the dispatch had not been signed, but he would not affirm or deny the truth of reported negotiations looking to such a consummation. "Of course," he said, "we would like to be able to put our gas in Buffalo. One of our wells could supply double the quantity that would be required. It is true, too, that the engineering difficulties in the way are not sufficiently serious to require much consideration. But there are a hundred other things—small items, some of them, but none the less are they obstacles. We do not apprehend that the American Government would put a duty on gas, because cheap fuel would be a very desirable thing for the manufacturers and for the people, but they might, under pressure from the coal barons, be induced to hamper us if we went to Buffalo direct."

EXPLOSION OF MOLTEN IRON.

Seventeen Workmen in a New York Foundry Terribly Burnt.

NEW YORK, July 19.—This afternoon while the employes of Cassidy & Adler's iron foundry in West 53th-street were standing about a smelting furnace which contained about six tons of iron, some of which was being run off into moulds, the cupola exploded and seventeen men were more or less burned by the moulten metal. Foreman Peter Scallon was probably fatally burned. The liquid metal covered his entire body so that recognition was barely possible. Edward McNally and Fred Rosenken were also terribly burned about their bodies, but may pull through. The rest were able to go home after treatment. The explosion was caused, it is said, by the neglect of some workingmen, who were assigned to that task, to keep stirring the molten iron while it was being strained into the moulds. The gases that generated in the molten iron caused the explosion.

WHEN KURNEL MEETS KURNEL.

Then Comes the Shock of War—The Battle of Stinking Creek.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 20.—Another outbreak of the Smith-Messer feud is reported from Knox County. The battle occurred Thursday evening at Hubbard's mill on Stinking Creek, one of the most lawless sections in the state. There was a political meeting there, the candidates for the various county offices being advertised as speakers. Both the Smith and Messer factions were on hand carrying their Winchesters and "forty-fours." It is not known just how the trouble began, but at about 3 o'clock the shooting commenced and when the smoke had cleared away four men were found to have bitten the dust while the rest had disappeared. Eighteen men were arrayed on one side and about 25 on the other. Those killed are two of the Mills boys belonging to the Messer fachon and Robert Burchett and John Howard belonging to the Smith crowd.

A COLORADAN KIDNAPPED.

Held For $2000 Ransom—Fears that He Has Been Killed.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 20.—Three weeks ago B. F. Spinney, a business man of this place and a ranch owner in South Park, was kidnapped and taken into the mountains by a Texan named Harris, who claimed Spinney owed him $2000 for cattle he had purchased of him. Since that time nothing has been heard of Spinney. Mr. Harrington, a brother-in-law of Spinney, raised the requisite sum recently and went into the mountains to pay the ransom but he too has disappeared. The Texan said he would hold Spinney ten days and if the money was not forthcoming in that time he would kill him. It is feared he has carried out his threat.

Sudden Death of a Scientist.

UTICA, N.Y., July 19.—Christian Henry S. Peters, director of Litchfield Observatory and Professor of Astronomy of Hamilton College, was found dead this morning. An assistant janitor of the college was making his usual morning rounds about 7 o'clock and discovered Dr. Peters lying on the first step of the lower steps leading into one of the halls. On his head was the little cap he usually wore when taking observations and in the fingers of his left hand lying on his breast was a half burned cigar. Death had resulted from apoplexy. He was in his usual health yesterday and the night being a clear and fine one he had his astronomical apparatus for the purpose of taking observations through the night.

The Canadian Won.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 20.—A prize fight took place at Hyde Park, Friday night, between Frank Clark, light weight champion of Canada, and Richard Dunn of Chicago. Thirteen lively rounds were fought. There were 150 spectators. In the thirteenth round Clark forced the fighting to a finish, chasing the Chicago man into his corner, where he dealt him terrific blows upon the head and body. Dunn's seconds seeing their man too weak to defend himself further, threw up the sponge, and the purse, $150, was awarded to Clark.

Murderers Exterminated.

TUCSON, Ariz., July 20.—It is now known that of eight Apache prisoners under the Kid, who murdered Sheriff Reynolds and his deputy and escaped, all save three have been killed. Kid and two others are at large. Detachments of troops from all the forts are out with hopes of intercepting them. Lieut. Mitchell with scouts has been in pursuit since his fight on Friday, in which one of the renegades was killed.

Found Guilty of Manslaughter.

BRACEBRIDGE, July 19.—Thomas Byron and Francis John O'Donnell were found guilty at the assizes to-day of causing the death of William O'Donnell by drowning and were sentenced to three months' imprisonment each.

The deceased could not swim, but supported by a plank ventured into deep water with the prisoners, who withdrew his support from him so often that he became exhausted and sank.

IT LOOKS BAD FOR DELAMARE.

The Quebec Saloon-keeper Thought to Have Kindled the Fatal Fire.

QUEBEC, July 19.—At the inquest to-day on the Miranda family, victims of the late fire, a young man named Dufour testified that Delamare, who had a bar in the burned building, offered him $10 on two occasions to set fire to the premises and that he refused. It is now all but certain that Delamare fired the building himself or hired some one to do it.

THE WORLD OF LONDON.

STRONG COMMENTS ON THE BEHRING SEA BUSINESS.

The Papers For Once Agree, Which Bodes Ill For Uncle Sam's Claim—The Disgraced Grenadier Guards—Sheffield's Protest Against the McKinley Tariff.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Mr. G. W. Smalley cables The Tribune from London: More very curious dispatches have been sent here by cable professing to give a further account of the negotiations relating to Behring Sea. The British public is invited to believe that Lord Salisbury addressed a direct threat to Mr. Blaine; that the President declined to explain his views to the Secretary of State; that the President subsequently told the Cabinet that American cruisers ought to deal summarily with British sealers; and that Lord Salisbury learned this privately and surreptitiously and thereupon told Mr. Blaine that England would take care of her own subjects. This surprising story is received here with some incredulity, but is nevertheless made the occasion for some pretty strong comments on the whole Behring Sea business. The London papers who discuss it are agreed in resisting America's claim. The Times sums up by saying: "Behring Sea outside the three-mile limit is just as free to all the world as the English Channel or the Mediterranean, and any attempt to restrict that freedom is a usurpation of well-established rights."

Questioned in the House of Commons on Thursday Ministers' answered that they had received no report touching the President's alleged statement. The mischief done by such a story, if untrue, is considerable. Were it true, in the form stated, we should be within measurable distance of a diplomatic rupture.

The second battalion of the Grenadier Guards are ordered to South Africa. It is the first time in their history that they have been sent abroad except during a war, and it marks the extreme seriousness of the situation from a military point of view. It is for the guards themselves at once a punishment and a disgrace. It impairs, if it does not destroy, the prestige of this favored and favorite regiment, and leaves an ineffaceable blot on its long record of hitherto untarnished and honorable service.

The Secretary of State for War refused to answer any questions in the House of Commons relating to the recent mutiny in the second battalion of the Grenadier Guards, and declined absolutely to state the result of the Court of Inquiry. The truth is that the inquiry revealed a state of things far worse than anybody suspected. The battalion is honeycombed with disaffection, discontent and even disloyalty. The Socialist emissaries had not been satisfied with working from the outside. They had actually enlisted in the regiment, and had been working day and night to foment insubordination, above all things seeking to induce the troops to side with the mob when ordered out to quell the mob. Colonel Maitland's harshness had aided this systematic Socialistic debauchery, but the root of the trouble lay deeper. The Horse Guards became convinced that there was but one way to deal with it; and the battalion goes into military exile. It starts at three days notice and remains three years. A certain number of soldiers remain for trial by the court-martial which assembled yesterday. Colonel Maitland resigns, and Colonel Eaton takes command of the battalion, which sails on Tuesday next. Meantime there is witnessed the novel spectacle of guard duty at Buckingham Palace and Marlborough House performed in part by that Yorkshire line regiment which was ordered up from Portsmouth. The sentries on duty at the gates of these royal residences for the first time within the memory of man are not in Guards uniform. The white glazed helmet replaces the bearskin.

Half of Sheffield is up in arms. The Sheffield cutlers think the new American tariff likely to disturb their hold on American markets, and have held a great meeting, the Mayor presiding. The master cutler moved a resolution of protest against what he calls the prohibitory tariff. This resolution proceeds in a tone seldom heard between friendly nations. It summons the British Government to inform the President of the United States that this tariff, being hostile and unfair to the manufacturing population of Great Britain and Ireland, is viewed with great disfavor in this country. This, supported by the president of the Chamber of Commerce, was carried unanimously. An interesting comment on it is supplied by Colonel Howard Vincent, the member for Sheffield, and a member also of what is called the Fair Trade Party—perhaps its only member. Colonel Vincent says that Sheffield wants retaliatory duties; and these are, in his opinion, a certain result of the course the Americans are pursuing towards British trade. There are, at any rate, 20,000 Sheffield artisans who demand them.

THE SINGLE TAX.

The able articles by Mr. J. Hampden Burnham on the single tax having been concluded, a few observations may not be out of place. Single tax men generally assert that those who do not agree with them on all points do not understand their theory or their terms, but if that should be the case no one should object to give, or to receive, more information.

The propositions of the President of the Single Tax Association may be stated in this way. All taxes should be levied on land values, and as this would result in depriving owners of land of the benefit they expected to receive from their purchases they should be compensated. Evidently Mr. Burnham's sense of justice revolts from the idea of confiscating land values, and he therefore adopts compensation as part of the scheme. But would not this put a burden on land that would be unbearable? The state would have to compensate the land owners, and to do so would have to raise the money. This would increase tremendously the debt of the state and the burden of interest. And as all taxes would have to be levied on land values, the whole burden of government, with the additional burden thus created, would have to be borne by the land. That is, the interest of the purchase or compensation money would have to be paid by the land, or in other words the user of the land. That would probably amount to a fair rental or at least to the greater part of the present rental value. But in addition to that the user o the land would be called upon to provide for the whole expenses of government, national and municipal. If land would be equal to the burden, besides paying for the labor upon it, there must be unsuspected productiveness in it. Surely more light is needed on this point, and unless it is given the system of the single tax combined with compensation must fail.

However, it may not be amiss to enquire—for we are only enquiring—a little farther. Mr. Burnham lays down as an axiomatic principle, "Do not tax that which you wish to encourage or promote." Very well. In Canada a great desire is to encourage and promote settlement on land and the tillage of the soil. For that purpose land is given in free grant districts to those who will till it and agencies are maintained to induce immigrants to come here and take up these lands. This is done because it is believed that greater production from the land will increase the wealth of the country and its prosperity, not only benefiting those who settle on the lands but also those engaged in manufacture and trade. Now, if settlers were told that land values would have to pay all taxes, and that as population increased and their land became valuable they would have to pay into the treasury of the state the whole product of that value, would the settlement of the country be encouraged or promoted? Perhaps a little light here would do no harm. One of the great objects all our governments have in view is to encourage agriculture. Would that be done by compelling all who now own their farms to pay in taxes the rental value of the land?

Mr. Burnham says: "Where a house and lot bear a certain tax the fact that it is shifted to the land alone is in accordance with true principle and injures no one." That, as it stands, looks plausible as to no injury resulting from the change. But the same person does not always own the house and lot. Besides, all taxes are not levied from houses and lots, for the greater part of the taxes are levied on whisky and other liquors, tobacco, silks, and other expensive articles or luxuries. All these taxes would also be shifted to the land.

Further, all houses are not taxed alike, and after the taxes were shifted to the land a house and lot worth $1,000 might have to pay as much as a house and lot worth $3,000 or $4,000, because the value of the lots might be the same, though one might be a small and the other a costly house. Mr. Burnham has thought of this and he answers, "Should a rich man pay any more than a poor man for a thing of like kind?" But some people had an idea that the single tax was intended to benefit the poor man and not the rich one! However, it certainly is true that each should pay alike for a thing of the like kind. This leads to an inquiry as to what taxes are raised for. A part of the service given for taxes is fire and police protection and road building. Now, does not a man with a fine residence that contains valuable plate and jewellery require more fire and police protection than one living in a small house without the plate and jewellery? Then should he not pay more? If the insurance rates are low because good fire protection is provided by the municipality, the owner of the more costly house receives the greater benefit and should he not pay more of the cost of the protection? Again, the owner of the larger house may have a stable and horses in it, while the other has no stable and no horses. While one rides the other walks. Should not he who drives and uses the roads pay more towards their construction and maintenance than the man who has no horse?

One point more. "A tax on rent, or on land values," Mr. Burnham says, "falls on the landlord only." How can this be? Who will be the landlord? The owner of the land, according to Mr. Burnham, is to be compensated—his land is to be purchased. Then the state will be the landowner. And will the tax then fall on the state? The former owner has received his money, and may have invested it in houses or machinery or goods, which will not be taxed, while the state owns the land. How, then, is the tax to fall on the landlord only? Again more light seems to be needed.

THE EMPIRE OF WOMEN.

MID-SUMMER HINTS ABOUT HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Simple But Useful Medicines—Shirley Dare's Ideas as to the Exercise of Common Sense and Common Caution During the Distressing Heat of July.

People are leaving city homes for cooler resorts, and, the momentous questions of stitchery and dress being over, turn what attention they have to spare to the health of the bodies under their gowns. Considering how long ago it was said, "Is not the life more than meat?" and who it was that said it, ideas on the point should be far better defined than they are.

Families go away from town languid and thin, pale and blue lipped, to return pasty faced from the mountains and seaside, freckled and burnt, not with the clear tan like a brown, which is beautiful in its way, as the pink and white of an English girl, but that coarse, fiery hue like crisped flesh which is too like erysipelas to be desirable or becoming.

What good most people get from the Summer vacation is from air and change of scene. The food in general is most unfit for hot weather, the drainage is simply dreadful and the water worse. If any one wants to get rid of an enemy without suspicion the best way would be to invite him to a Summer sojourn at a boarding house and feed him assiduously on clam fritters and fried clams, hot breakfast cakes and underdone oatmeal for breakfast, fat mutton and string beans, spinach and early cabbage dripping with fat, and suet puddings in August, and sure-to-kill pastry of the consistence of tripe.

PASTRY AS A MEANS OF DEATH.

Modern pastry was a vehicle of death unknown in the time of the Medici, or they would never have risked their throats by sending white arsenic in confectionary, or putting chopped horsehair in an enemy's victuals. That compound of lard dripping and white flour which has just escaped baking in an underheat produces morbid effects in the system, which exactly follow the symptoms of slow poison.

I do not wish to speak disrespectfully of good pastry, which is one of the best-made dishes in the world; but pastry is like religion, it must be the right sort or it is the worst diabolism. If tombstones told truth they would say, "Died of green currant pie and boiled dinner in the midst of his usefulness," or "She died, deplored by her friends for a tart temper, caused by too much fondness for strawberry shortcake and Washington pie," or "She was widely beloved among the King's daughters and active in the Society of Christian Endeavor, but she never attended to her health; her system was never cleansed from year's end to year's end; she lived on the worst food and the closest air she could get; affronted her body and its Maker in every way, and died suddenly of Bright's disease, just as life was worth living. May Heaven have mercy on her sinful soul."

In choosing a resort for Summer one does not omit questions as to how far it is to church or station, whether 6 o'clock dinner is served or there are spring mattresses on each couch—matters of just interest and comfort. But add such pertinent inquiries as these: Do you serve oatmeal or cracked wheat for breakfast? Can I have brown bread and fruit three times a day? Have you a water filter in good condition? How far is the well or the water supply from the cess pool and drains? And, last but not least, have you a well ventilated earth closet? All boarding houses and Summer resorts should be visited monthly by a sanitary inspector with power to enforce necessary improvements for the health of inmates. The Catskills and the North shore demand supervision in this way just as much as Mulberry Street, Baxter Street and South Fifth Avenue, those flowers of the slums.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

My dear madam, you can't depend on sea and air to undo all the injury to health by careless diet and bad drainage. You may come back feeling fresher for a time; but the effect is short, and the strength which should carry you through the fatigues and inferior conditions of city living three parts of the year you have been cheated of by the cook and the proprietor together.

Suppose you should for your own sake do a little evangelizing for health, and take a dollar's worth of cracked wheat for instance in the country with you to be served at your own table. It is surprising in how many parts of the country this article is wholly unknown.

The grocers do not keep it, the housekeepers do not know it when they get it or how to prepare it. They send for expensive health foods and fine preparations which are not nearly so good for sedentary folks as the coarse rolled wheat or the clean cracked wheat, which costs not over three or four cents a pound, and is much easier to cook and more relishing than oatmeal.

En passant, madam, since you value your figure, it is less fattening.

For beverages, instead of the cheap soda water, with its corrosive ingredients and syrup made of spoiled fruit, insist on having pure lemonade or fruit juice. Good soda water, as offered by the best city druggists or any man who understands his business, is not a bad thing for health or taste; although caution ought to be used not to pour down a large glass of iced drink when one is warm after the almost invariable habit. The rule with everybody, men and women alike, seems to be how soon they can swallow the soda and depart. The result of turning a pint of cold acid water into a heated stomach is to burden it with too much liquid reduce the temperature with dangerous suddenness, and headache or cramps are in the direct line after this.

DRINK YOUR SODA SLOWLY.

Good soda should be sipped; quickly drinking off the effervescence, which is mere foam, an interval of a minute or two should be allowed before the last half of the glass is taken. Clerks should know this and give customers time, without warning by looks or actions that they are expected to leave in the shortest possible order after bolting their soda and paying for it. A glass of soda so taken is a refreshing stimulus, better than food in a very hot noon, but tossed of as most people take it is a recipe for cramps and indigestion. If it is poor soda, tasting of metal with the silver worn off, or standing in silver too long, flavored with syrups made from oranges or lemons whose musty taste is plain to all refined palates, the less one takes the better for life and health. Girls who serve the cheap soda fountains at fancy stores well know this from experience, and the old hands rarely touch soda themselves. The girls behind the counters who depend on soda to keep up their strength through the close days injure their digestion by it, and perhaps owe more of their sudden indispositions to it than they imagine.

By all means take a quarter pound of baking soda with your medicines and use for any acidity of the stomach one-fourth of a teaspoonful in half a glass of water; hot water if there is pain and uneasiness. Most Summer troubles of health begin with fermentation, which is active in hot weather, and anti-acids are indispensable.

USES OF BAKING SODA.

Try powdered charcoal or magnesia, lime water or soda till you find which suits best, but have the latter ready, for a cup of hot soda water taken in time will often prevent the worst Summer attacks of nausea and cramps. It may be your lot, as it has been mine more than once, to want soda for some victim in distress, only to find that neither house or shop could produce a pinch of baking soda, obsolete since the advent of baking powder. Keep down the acid tendency and you prevent pimples, redness and rawness of the face, fishy eyes and unpleasant odor of the perspiration, all derived more or less from acids in the blood. With cool, healthy blood the heat is felt less, there is less tendency to freckles and sunburn.

I wish merely remind you, as readers need to be reminded each year, that a spoonful of powdered charcoal in water taken first thing in the morning is a great purifier of the blood, and prevents morbid, choleraic conditions. Most people find themselves better in very warm weather for taking this dose after each meal. If plenty of fresh fruit and brown bread cannot be counted on, a seidlitz powder every other morning, Carlsbad salts, congress water or vichy or some laxative known to suit the system should be taken also.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

She Heard From the Stupid Boy in After Life.

A fashionable physician told me an interesting experience the other day. Thirty years ago he was a boy in one of the villages near New-York. Like most lads of his age he had a sweetheart, with whom he used to attend prayer-meetings, parties, and other affairs. Like some other village maidens, this maid was capricious, and one fine day she coolly gave him the go-by for some other fellow. To add insult to injury she badgered him about his prospects, and asked tauntingly what he was going to do when he grew up to be a man. Oh! he was going to be a doctor, and a great doctor. She laughed and said, contemptuously, as only wicked, heart breaking girls can, that he'd never amount to much, because her mother had told her that he was very stupid.

"Well, that's all right," responded our doctor grimly. "You'll hear from me some day, because I am going to make a success of it." The village lad kept his word. He became a famous doctor, and attended some of the most celebrated persons in the United States. He rose constantly in his profession, and had almost forgotten his village maid when one day not so very long ago, he received a note from her asking if he was the same person she had known as a boy. He replied courteously, but without unnecessary words that he was. About two weeks later the lady called on him at his office. She was gray-haired and matronly. She had seen his name hundreds of times in the public prints, but had supposed that it must be some one other than her former admirer. Then she asked would he do her a favor. Her husband had had reverses, and was at present a sort of demented paralytic. She was too poor to provide for him, and had vainly tried to have him admitted to one of the hospitals for incurables. The doctor gave her a note to the superintendent of the hospital, with which he happened to be connected, that was tantamount to an order for the admission of the patient. Two months after, the husband died in the institution and the widow called to thank the doctor for his services. A tear glistened in in her eye, and with a deep sigh, she hinted at how different things might have been if her mother hadn't forbidden her to have anything more to do with the stupid village lad. The doctor who, saw the ticklish ground that the widow was treading, rapidly changed the subject, and soon after bowed the lady out, with much dignity, to receive one of his high-priced patients. But he was very absent-minded, and shocked his new caller considerably by the diffident manner in which he asked after her symptoms. His mind was with the Hudson-river-village girl of 30 years ago.—N. Y. Star.

To do this the local men only require to practice a little, but they must do this. Practice will be held every evening now.

A Place to Sober Up.

A citizen who had been tarrying with the wine cup too frequently for his own steadiness staggered into the police station on Saturday night, and running against Chief Roszel inquired "If this was a good place to sober up." The Chief with due hospitality informed the dizzy stranger that there was no better place in the land and showed him into one of the chambers. The self-confined prisoner laid his weary form on the hardwood couch and sank into a peaceful slumber. He remained a prisoner until about ten o'clock, when the Chief allowed him to go in a more sober condition.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

A Sermon on the Labor Question—Christianity to Settle the Social Problem.

Dr. Barnardo, of London, Eng., is in town and preached in St. Paul's church yesterday morning. The sermon was an exceptionally able one and was listened to with interest by the congregation.

The work of renovating and refurnishing the interior of St. Andrew's church is progressing and will soon be completed. The interior of the edifice will be greatly improved by the work that has been done.

Rev. W. M. Roger, of London, brother of Mr. G. M. Roger, of town, conducted the evening service in St. Paul's church yesterday. The rev. gentleman's discourse was an able one, well delivered, having for its theme the labor question and its settlement. The minister took for his text the words:—

"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things will be added unto you."—Matthew vi, 33.

The rev. gentleman referred to the present condition of affairs and society which was the cause of so much discussion and for the settlement of which so many different problems had been suggested. He said some bold men had proposed plans for the settlement of these grievances and evils which should be examined by them as Christian people, as they were detrimental to society, opposed to the Word of God and interfering with the accomplishment of the good work. He referred to Socialism and Nationalism and their fundamental defects and proceeded to show that Christianity was the only cure for the evils which existed in the world and the only plan for the settlement of the social problems. To prove this he compared the conditions of the workingmen in early days with that of the workingmen to-day and the condition of the people in heathen lands with that of those in Christian countries. Where Christianity prevailed they found progress and where it had not gone or did not prevail they found no progress. In conclusion he told them all to see that they were citizens of the Kingdom and then realizing that citizenship to be workers in that Kingdom. The sermon was listened to throughout with interest.

Very favorable comment was made by the congregation of George-st. church on the service Sunday evening. The choir shared in the commendation, the singing of the young ladies in the fine anthems rendered being especially spirited and bright. Under Mr. Seward's instruction the choir is making good progress, and the selections given are pleasing and in good taste.

Applying to the Provincial Body.

It appears that some of the residents of the south part of the town are in earnest in regard to their objections to the presence of slaughter houses, which they have complained of from time to time. A number of these ratepayers sent a petition to the Provincial Board of Health asking that body to take some action to abate the alleged nuisance. A reply was received to the effect that the Provincial body did not see why the local Board of Health could not act in the matter, and the section of the statutes under which action could be taken was cited.

An Ode to Campers.

Camper, leave that worn out shoe,
Served its purpose—more than true,
Stood the racket, felt the wear,
Roads or sidewalk—foul or fair
Be the weather, well they've stood,
Clearly, buyer, well they should,
Doff them, try anew a pair,
Quality first-class, prices fair.
Canvas tops and rubber soles
Fit for gravel, rock or boles,
Joyous you will tread the brakes
Round the shores of Stony Lake,
Take your pleasure as you did,
Buy these rubber shoes of Kidd. d11tf

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

There was a fair attendance on Saturday night at our young men's meeting. Mr. Albert Hamilton gave an earnest address on "Esau."

A blessed time was spent at our consecration meeting on Sunday morning. The subject taken up was. "Looking unto Jesus." Mr. Fred Saunders led the meeting.

Our open air service is increasing both in number and interest. Mr. James Hannah delivered a message from the King to a large audience in the Central Park on Sabbate afternoon.

Our hall was crowded last night to hear Dr. Barnardo, of London, England. He spoke from Acts xxvi, verse 28, earnestly persuading the young men present to give their hearts to God.

God was very present at all our meetings yesterday, and we believe He is going to answer the prayers of our many friends in the salvation of several of the young men of Peterborough.

A GAME OF BALL.

The Hastings-Peterborough Match Ends at the Seventh Innings with a Score of 26 to 15 in favor of the Visitors.

It was something of an agricultural game of ball that was witnessed on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon when the Hastings nine played the local club. The score at the end of the seventh innings, when the visitors stopped play, stood 26 to 15 in favor of Hastings. The Peterborough club claim that no arrangement was made in regard to stopping play and therefore, according to rules, the game would go to the Peterborough nine by a score of 9 to 0. The Hastings men said they intended only to play until they could catch their train. Thus the game ended in perfect good feeling and harmony as far as the two nines were concerned, but the umpire and the Peterborough people—baseballists and the crowd which witnessed the game—were not entertaining the same good feeling and harmony towards one another. To say the least the umpire, Mr. T. Howard, was rank in some of his decisions, and, while it is possible the many errors of the Peterborough boys might have lost them the game, still his, perhaps unintentional, partial decisions aided in no small degree in running up the Hastings score. Some decisions were made evidently through lack of knowledge of the rules, while others again could not be explained upon the same grounds. An umpire usually draws down upon his head the maledictions of the crowd, no matter how honest his intentions, but on Saturday there was an excuse for indignation. The position of umpire is a hard one to fill to the satisfaction of all parties, but a man undertaking the task should know the rules.

The game as the score shows was a loose one on both sides, especially on the part of the home nine. In the third innings the error making started with the home men and the visitors began accordingly to run up their runs, and scored on errors in every innings following. In the last two innings the visitors began to shake a little in their steady play and Peterborough scored 5 and 6 runs in the two innings respectively.

It is just possible that the home men might have batted out enough runs to win if the other two innings had been played, but it is highly improbable, although they found Day and hit him pretty hard in the last two innings. McCabe was in the box for the Peterborough nine, but his support in the infield was disheartening. Turnbull was behind the bat for five innings and caught a fine game. Day was in the pitcher's box for the visitors and he threw a pretty game, while Gibson (of Belleville) received him well behind the bat. The latter made a home run in the fourth innings when he knocked the ball over the east fence. If Peterborough plays ball they can win in a game with Hastings.

The score was as follows, no account being kept of errors, etc:—

Death of Mrs. Jenkins.

One of Peterborough's old residents died at her family residence, 384 Stewart-st., yesterday, in the person of Mary Brealey, relict of the late George Jenkins. The deceased lady had resided in Peterborough for many years and was widely known in town, where many friends will sympathize with her relatives in their bereavement. She had reached the ripe old age of seventy-one years and had always been a faithful member of the Church of England. The funeral will take place to morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

Two Rowed Barley.

The Toronto Empire of Saturday says:—"Prof. William Saunders, director of Dominion experimental farms, is jubilant over the success of the introduction of two rowed barley into Canada. He came up from Ottawa on Tuesday and has spent the last two days in the townships of Markham and Scarboro' inspecting the two rowed barley sown in those localities. Mr. Saunders returned to Toronto last evening and brought with him specimens of the plant which anybody could see were of a gratifying character. The straw is of a good size, the heads are very long and the berry gives every evidence already of filling out plump and clean. The chief variety sold under the auspices of the Government was the Prize Prolific, though Mr. Saunders had with him some very good specimens of Danish Chevalier, which had been distributed from the farm for test purposes. Altogether Mr. Saunders is most highly pleased with the outlook. With fairly reasonable weather from this out no doubt is left of the success of the two rowed barley, in this portion of Canada at least."

AT STONY LAKE.

The Fishing Reported to be Good—A Camping Party.

A large number of citizens went up to the lakes on Saturday evening to spend Sunday at Peterborough's summer resort. Everything is reported as thriving and the residents of the islands are having great luck fishing. The lunge are biting well and several fine catches were reported. On the way down this morning the Mary Ellen lost the key of her screw and the Cruiser had to go to her assistance. The damage can easily be repaired. This week will probably see quite an exodus to the lakes from town. Mr. T. E. Bradburn and family went up this morning.

Among the numerous camping parties on Stony Lake this year there is one occupying Mr. Lillicrap's new cottage, "Pinehurst," that is not only a holiday to members of the party but a specially pleasant re-union to the chief members: Mr. L. A. Morrison, of Toronto, and Mr. John Wigmore, of Auckland, New Zealand. These gentlemen, who are cousins, were boys and schoolmates in Dummer township thirty odd years ago. Twenty-five years ago they were members of a camping party on Stony Lake. Twenty-two years ago Mr. Wigmore left Canada to seek a fortune in New Zealand. He engaged in the lumbering business in a small way at first but increasing with the years until 1888, when an opportunity to sell out his mills and limits left him wealthy and independent. He visits Canada this summer to see his boyhood friends and his old home again, accompanied by his wife and family of three bright boys. His cousin Morrison some twenty years ago, found a larger sphere for himself than Dummer and after some knocking around finally settled in Toronto in 1876, since which date he has made a competence for himself and family, in a financial way, and a high reputation as a mechanical engineer and machinery manufacturer. Although an unusually busy man he yet finds opportunity in gleaned moments to cultivate the acquaintance of the muses and some of his "Tocsin" songs and hymns have had an extensive sale. The two cousins, with their wives and families, are having a pleasant re-union and outing together, a privilege they may never again enjoy.

OPPOSITE VIEWS OF MATRIMONY.

"I've made up my mind," said a blind beggar, as he sank into a seat on a bench in the City Hall Park beside a perspiring tramp with a red nose, "that I can't get along any longer without a wife. A dog's expensive to keep, a boy's more nuisance as a guide than a help, and besides he steals the pennies from your hat; but a good wife, now, would lead me to my stand in the morning, come for me to bring me back at night, take care of my money and earn her keep besides taking in washing during the day. I've been single long enough. I'm going to get married right off, to-morrow perhaps; this week at the fardest."

"Do," said the tramp, derisively, "it might cure your blindness, too."

"How's that?" replied the blind beggar.

"Why," answered the tramp, "from the idea you have of what a wife would do for you. I should say that if marriage does not open your eyes nothing ever will."

"Ha, ha," laughed the blind beggar, uneasily though, "that's good enough. But then you'll admit, my friend, that some men know how to manage a wife and some don't," and he raised his stick and made a vicious jab with it at his lean dog, who eluded the blow nimbly, as from long practice.

"Ay, ay," said the tramp with a meaning grin, "I understand, mister, but you wouldn't stand no chance with a woman who had two good eyes and a little spunk. You remind me of a scene I witnessed at a farm house I visited out west on one of my summer tramps. I was hungry, of course, and a neat cottage, embowered in shrubs and vines seemed to invite the weary through its hospitable wide-open door. As I approached I heard an awful din. It came from the back of the house. I peered into the kitchen and there saw a small man and a big woman fighting terribly.

"She had him down on the floor and was kneeling on his chest trying to pound and scratch him on the face. He had both hands twined in her hair and was pulling it from behind up over her head, so hard that her face was bent down over his, and she was not able to hit him much. He was afraid to let go, and she couldn't. They were shouting and scolding all the while like mad cats. I knocked loudly upon the open door to attract their attention, and producing no effect I after a while called out: 'Who runs this house, anyway?'

"The couple paused a moment, but did not loosen their hold a bit, and the little man, rolling his eyes toward me, gasped out: "Stranger, that's just what we're trying to decide."—[New York Tribune.

The Phonograph Taking the Stenographer's Place.

All the largest stenographic firms in Chicago have one or more "talking machines," in their offices. The man who has taken notes no longer dictates them direct to his typewriter or transcribes them himself. He talks them at lightning speed on to one of Edison's cylinders—as you pass his door you imagine that somebody has broken loose from Jefferson or Kankakee—and the typewriter takes the cylinder, and, by reducing the rate of speed, puts the matter into folios at her leisure. Some firms distribute their cylinders at the offices and homes of Chicago business men, call for them daily and transcribe the letters or sermon, or briefs or contract, which they talk off when put into the machine.

A Bank Accountant Arrested.

WOODSTOCK, N.B., July 20.—The arrest of Saunders, accountant of the branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, for larceny of $4000 of bank funds is causing a great amount of talk. Saunders says he went into the bank at 7½ Friday morning to get some money that was to be sent by the express, which leaves here at 8.30. While in the vault he was knocked down and became unconscious. He did not see the assailant, his back being towards the entrance.

Fishermen Advised to Resist.

ST. The newspapers now advise the fishermen to resist with physical force if necessary.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes Twenty-five cents a bottle.

The Nihilist Girl.

The Nihilist young woman is the most inexplicable of her sex and sect. Other young women learn to make bonnets and dresses or amuse themselves by making cake, but the young feminine nihilist gives her whole mind during leisure moments to preparing dynamite explosives. When she has learned her daily lesson on anatomy or physiology she springs up with a light heart, puts on her apron and exclaims, "Now I'll just run into the laboratory and make up a batch of bombs!" The three young women who were arrested here the other day do not appear to have been making bombs for use in any particular emperor's household, or for sale on race courses or elsewhere. Obviously their motive must have been the same which induces the ordinary young women to go into the kitchen at intervals and make cake with her own hands. That dynamite bombs and amateur cake are dangerous and deadly does not in the least disturb these light hearted maidens. They will have their little amusement no matter who may suffer from them.—N. KNOW HOW —TO— KEEP COOL!

In these cool days that succeed the hot weather of last week and which are to be followed by another heated term—so says the probs—there is opportunity to consider the problem of cool dress. Men try to solve it by wearing the outing shirt and a light coat, discarding the vest altogether. But the warmest part of man's attire is his suspenders. They make his shoulders burn, as any one can testify who has taken a long walk on a hot summer day, the clothing near the place where the pressure of the suspenders comes is sure to be soaked with perspiration. And so the man who wears an outing shirt but who will stick to suspenders, has accomplished only half his purpose in keeping cool. Throw aside the suspenders, adopt the belt and summer days will lose half their terrors.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

"Now your tongue runs away with you, Sir Count. I have given you my answer. Be sure that only one man on earth can prevail upon me to place my name upon that paper."

"And who is he?"

"I mean the Emperor."

"But you will sign it?" hissed Damonoff, turning pale with rage. "Here it is—sign! If you would live—sign!"

"Perhaps he cannot write," suggested Ursen, contemptuously.

"Then he may make his mark," rejoined the Count, in the same contemptuous tone.

"It might not require much more urging to induce me to make my mark in a manner not at all agreeable to you, sir," the youth returned, with his teeth now set, and the dark veins upon his brow starting more plainly out. "You have come upon my premises, and you have sought your purpose. You now have your answer, and for your own sake—for my sake—I beg you to leave me."

"Not until your name is upon this paper!" cried Damonoff, shaking the missive furiously and crumpling it in his hand.

"Are you mad, Sir Count? Do you think me a fool?"

"Aye—a consummate one."

"Then," returned Ruric, with a curl of utter contempt upon his finely-chiseled lip, "you need have no further dealings with me. There is my door, sir."

For some moments Conrad Damonoff seemed unable to speak from very anger. He had surely some deep, anxious purpose in obtaining Ruric's name to that paper; and to be thus thwarted by a common artisan was maddening to one who based all his force of character upon his title.

"Sign!" he hissed.

"Fool!" uttered Ruric, unable longer to contain himself in view of such stupid persistance. "Do you seek a quarrel with me?"

"Seek?—I seek what I will have. Will you sign?"

"Once more—No!"

"Then, by heavens, you shall know what it is [illegible] How's that?"

[illegible] the Count's [illegible] in a low, hissing whisper, he aimed a blow with his fist at Ruric's head. The gun-maker had not dreamed of such a dastardly act, and he was not prepared for it. Yet he dodged it sufficiently to escape the mark upon the side of his head. But he stopped not to consider now. As the Count drew back Ruric dealt him a blow upon the brow that felled him to the floor like a dead ox.

"Beware, Stephen Ursen!" he whispered to the Count's companion as that individual made a movement as though he would come forward. "I am not myself now, and you are safest where you are."

The man thus addressed viewed the gun-maker a few moments, and he seemed to conclude that he had better avoid a personal encounter, for his fists relaxed, and he moved to the side of his fallen friend and assisted him to his feet.

Conrad Damonoff gazed into his antagonists face a few moments in silence. His face was ashen pale, and his whole frame quivered. Upon his forehead there was a livid spot where he had been struck, but the skin was not broken.

"Ruric Nevel," he said, in a hissing, maddening tone, "you will hear from me. The mad spirit of a vengeance such as mine can not be trifled with."

And with this he turned away.

"Paul," said the gun-maker, turning to his body, after the men had gone away, "not a word of this to my mother. Be sure."

CHAPTER III.

That night Ruric Nevel had strange fancies while waking, and strange dreams while sleeping. Long and deeply did he ponder upon the strange business which had called Count Conrad to his shop, and in no way, under no light, could he get any reason from it. Why he, a youth who had never spoken with the proud Duke, save once on common business, and who was so far down in the social scale, should have been thus called upon to give a virtual consent to the bestowal of Rosalind Valdai's hand, was beyond his ken. He was but a poor artisan—she, a wealthy heiress and a scion of nobility—and she was under the legal guardianship of the Duke, whose word, so far as she was concerned, was law. And again—Conard Damonoff was a count, and reputed to be wealthy. To be sure, he was somewhat dissolute, but then a majority of his compeers were the same. Now, if this Count loved the lady Rosalind, and had asked for her hand, and the Duke was willing he should have it, why had this extraordinary proposal been sent to the poor gun-maker?

Ruric asked this question of himself a hundred times. He would begin and lay down all the premises in his mind, and then he would try to make the deduction; but no reasonable one could he arrive at. One thought clung about him like a dim specter at night, which hope would make an angel, and which fear would paint a demon. Could it be possible that Rosalind had told her love for him, and that the Duke would pay some deference to it? He tried to think so. Hope whispered that it might be so.

In the hall he threw on his heavy pelisse and having reached the nearest hostelry he took a horse and sledge and started off for the Kremlin, within which the Duke resided.

Within one of the sumptuously furnished apartments of the palace of the Duke of Tula, sat Rosalind Valdai. She was a beautiful girl, molded in perfect form, with the full flush of health and vigor, and possessing a face of peculiar sweetness and intelligence. She was only nineteen years of age, and she had been ten years an orphan. Her hair was of a golden hue, and the sunlight loved to dwell amid the clustering curls. Her eyes, which were of a deep, liquid blue, sparkled brightly when she was happy; and when she smiled the lovely dimples of her cheeks held the smile even after it had faded from her lips. There was nothing of the aristocrat in her look—nothing proud, nothing haughty, but gentleness and love were the true elements of her soul, and she could only be happy when she knew that she was truly loved. She liked respect, but she spurned that respect which only aims at outward show, while the heart may be reeking with vilest sensualism.

Rosalind sat there, in the apartment which was here for her own private use, and she was sad and thoughtful. One fair hand supported her pure brow, while with the other she twisted the ends of the silken sash that confined her heavy robe. Thus she sat when the door of her apartment was opened, and a young girl entered. The new-comer was a small, fair creature, bright and quick, with that raven hair, which bespeak the child of Moslem blood. Her name was Zenobie, and she was now about sixteen years of age. Rosalind's father had picked her up on the battlefield from which the Turks had fled, and being unable to find any claimant he had brought her home, then almost an infant. And now she was Rosalind's attendant and companion. She loved her kind and gentle mistress, and would have laid down life itself in her service.

"How now, Zenobie?" asked Rosalind, as she noticed the girl hesitate.

"There is a gentleman below who would see you," the girl replied.

"Tell him I can not see him," said Rosalind, trembling.

"But this is Ruric Nevel, my mistress."

"Ruric!" uttered the fair maiden, starting up, while the rich blood mounted to her brow and temples. "Oh, I am glad he has come. My prayers are surely answered. Lead him hither, Zenobie."

The girl departed, and ere long afterwards Ruric entered the apartment. He walked quickly to where Rosalind had arisen to her feet, and taking one of her hands in both his own he pressed it to his lips. He had had a well-formed speech upon his lips when he entered the room, but 'twas gone now. He could only gaze into the lovely face before him and murmur the name that sounded so sweetly to his ears. But the emotions of his soul became calm at length, and then he spoke with more freedom

A SCORCHER AT MIDLAND.

Coal Docks, Ice and Grain Houses and 6,000,000 Feet of Lumber Burnt.

MIDLAND, July 19.—A fire broke out this morning at 10 o'clock in a closet adjoining Jeffery & Co.'s coal dock and grain storehouse. A heavy northwest gale was blowing at the time. The fire soon spread to a coal heap and attacked the sheds, then to Varne's icehouse, Jeffery & Co.'s grain storehouse, Sullivan & Nunan's ice house on Burton's dock, J. A. Smith's boat house and workshop and finally into Yates & Co.'s, who lose their ice and house, and the Emery Lumber Co. yard. After seven hours, work the flames were finally subdued but not before destroying between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 feet of lumber owned by the Emery Lumber Company of East Saginaw and the Moore Lumber Company of Detroit. The loss on the lumber is heavy, as the best grades are put on the west side of the yard. The loss is covered by insurance. Jeffery & Co., Sullivan & Nunan and J. A. Smith are partly insured. The companies interested are the Northern, Commercial Union, Western, Hartford, London, Liverpool & Globe and Citizens'.

A Blaze at London, Ont.

LONDON, Ont., July 19.—Fire broke out about 11 o'clock to-night in W. Y. Brunton & Son's general drygoods store. The damage to the stock will amount to several thousand dollars but is fully covered by insurance.

A Mono House Consumed.

SHELBURNE, July 19.—The large stone residence of the late Thomas Buchanan, con. 5, lot 15 in the township of Mono, was consumed by fire at an early hour this morning. The inmates had to get out in their night clothes. Loss about $8000, insurance light. How the fire originated is a mystery.

Incendiarism at Paterson, N.J.

PATERSON, N.J., July 20.—The extensive machine works here of J. C. Todd were burned this morning. Loss $150,000. Several firemen were overcome by smoke and had to be carried from beneath the falling walls. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

Six Families Homeless.

UTICA, N.Y., July 20.—A serious fire occurred in Fort Plain, a thriving village in Montgomery County, this morning about 2 o'clock. It started in Smith & Moyer's block, Kellogg-street, burned that and eight wooden dwellings and rendered six families homeless. Loss $10,000.

A MEAN THIEF.

How a New York Banker Swindled Hundreds of Poor People.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Bernard Aronson, who carried on a banking establishment in Canal-street, was remanded to-day in Police Court on the charge of swindling many poor people who have been sending money and tickets to Europe. More than 300 poor foreigners were complainants and they crowded the capacity of the court room. Yesterday there was a lively scene at the banking establishment when a crowd of people who had been swindled broke into the place and used the banker and his clerk very roughly. Mrs. Annie Josephs told a sample story. She had sent to the banker $75 to be forwarded for a ticket to her sister and children in Poland. After her sister traveled 200 miles to the steamer's pier she found her ticket was no good. There were 100 people in the same fix and the scene of misery was pitiable.

California's Crops.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 20.—The following is the weekly telegram sent by Sergeant Barwick to the chief signal officer at Washington: Grain harvest about over, yield and acreage much below average but quality is good. Abundant fruit crop, except peaches, reported from nearly all portions of the state fruit belt.

ST. PAUL, July 20.—The weather during the past week has been watched closely, as at this season a week of general bad weather would do great damage to growing crops. The reports received from all over the North-west, however, are decidedly encouraging. There are localities where some complaints are made but as a whole the outlook is extremely favorable. In the southern and southwestern part of this state the barley and rye harvest is well under way, while in Northern Iowa the oat crop is being rapidly secured. The general reports indicate a better general yield of grain than for several years.

A Parkhill Man Badly Scalded.

LONDON, July 19.—Frank Howard, fireman at McGinnis Bros.' factory in Parkhill, stood on a log to lift it out of a boiling vat. As he reached overhead to grasp the chain to which the grab hook was attached to steady himself while he threw his weight towards the higher and apparently lighter end of the log, the hook slipped its hold and the log fell back into the vat, carrying Howard with it. The poor man sunk into the boiling water over his knees and was terribly scalded, though rescued by another workman named Michael Clancy at once. About his ankles his flesh was literally cooked, and the skin peeled off when his boots and socks were removed. Clancy's presence of mind in seizing Howard by the shoulders as he was falling saved the latter from instant death, and it is hoped Howard may recover.

The Knights of Pythias Adjourn.

MILWAUKEE, July 19.—The Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias concluded its sixteenth biennial session here yesterday. Before adjourning the long-talked-of liquor question was settled. A long and bitter debate was entered into between the prohibition representatives and the local option men. The latter finally won, the Supreme Lodge deciding that the various grand lodges were to judge whether saloonkeepers should be admitted to membership in the lodges subordinate to them. The two children of Founder Rathbone of the order, who were left destitute, are to receive $150 every three months from the Supreme Lodge while they remain unmarried.

CANADA AND THE STATES.

TESTIMONY TAKEN BY THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

Canada, on the Whole, Has the Best of the Situation — Puget Sound at Our Mercy—Gen. Miles Frankly Talks of Affairs.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 21.—Mr. Hoar, chairman of the Senate Committee on Relations with Canada, presented to the Senate to-day the testimony which has been taken by that committee. This testimony was not accompanied by a report. It is understood that the committee will make a report of its conclusions at a later period after additional testimony shall have been taken at Buffalo, Detroit and other points. The testimony already taken comprises some 1200 printed pages. It consists of testimony of the military men, railroad officials and prominent business men of the United States and Canada; men engaged in the fishing industry along the northern boundary of the United States and Canada. The testimony covers all the points of vital interest as to the relations between the United States and the dependency of Great Britain in North America. The first witness examined was Gen. N. A. Miles in command of the Pacific coast. General Miles, commenting upon the defenceless condition of the United States on the northwestern border, said: "I would simply say that the information that I have was gathered for myself and for the higher officers of the Government and was regarded as confidential, but in stating to you as a body of representatives of the legislative branch of the Government I should feel it my duty to lay before you any facts that I have, and of course will consider myself relieved from any responsibility as to secrecy after that—will state what is well known in regard to Canada. I believe that the railway system of British Columbia could be occupied by American troops in ten days. In other words, that the principal port of British Columbia could be occupied by American troops; not, however, through Victoria. That is on the Island of Vancouver, occupied by British forces, a place where the British Government has expended millions in building dry-docks, navy yards and made some surveys for fortifications. They have there at the present time a fleet of warships under command of a British admiral.

"I think it is fair to say, what every intelligent man must know, that during 10 days the British fleet could destroy every town and city in Puget Sound, destroy our railroad system there and occupy our outlets for the northwestern country. They could also send ships up the Columbia River and destroy the City of Portland and that railway system. There is not a gun or an earthwork on Puget Sound, nor a single artillery soldier. There are a few obsolete guns at the mouth of the Columbia at Fort Canby, but that is not now occupied by troops. That is the condition of affairs north of the harbor of San Francisco."

South of the harbor of San Francisco there is not a gun in position, a round of ammunition or a single artillery soldier to defend the harbors and cities of Sandiego, Santa Barbara and San Pedro, the terminus of one of the railways, and from those points a small force could destroy the railway system in Southern California.

The following is a concluding sentence of the report of a board of officers appointed to investigate the condition of fortifications of San Francisco harbor and the Golden Gate: From the defective character of the carriage and emplacement upon and in which the existing armament of this harbor is mounted it is not possible to fire a single gun with a service charge, nor could this state of affairs be remedied in the course of a month.

The report contains an account of the British fortification at Esquimalt, where it is reported that Great Britain is now concentrating war vessels with a view to possible contingencies in Behring Sea. A great number of witnesses discuss in all relations the question of subsidies to steamers from the Pacific coast to China, notably the lines which have been subsidized by Great Britain in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and which constitute a continuous subsidized line from China to Liverpool over the Canadian Pacific.

The general policy and effect of the Canadian Pacific Railway upon the United States railroad is discussed by the friends and the opponents of that system. One of the curious features of the testimony is a consideration of the possible transfer of a portion of the fisheries interest from the Atlantic to the North Pacific coast. The testimony gives the latest information as to the salmon industry on the Pacific coast and the coal production along the northern frontiers and on northwestern states. The testimony is important contribution to many subjects connected with the tariff and will be likely to be found of use in the tariff debate.

Nearly every question connected with the tariff as effected by the relations between the United States and Canada is treated on both sides. The managers of the United States transcontinental railway system set forth at length their complaint at competition of the Canadian road, which is made possible by the fact that those roads are not subject to the operation of the Inter-State Commerce law. A great many different remedies for the evils of which the United States companies complain were suggested. Most of the American railway managers maintain the Canadian Pacific is inimical to American railway interests. Many of them suggest that the long and short haul and the pooling relations of the Inter-State Commerce Law should be repealed. The advocates and the opponents of reciprocity state their cases at length. Some very curious information is given as to the nature of the seal fisheries. Most of the fishermen engaged in the food fishing on the North Atlantic coast insist that the seals are very destructive of food fish and that it will be a benefit to the country when they shall all disappear. There is abundant evidence to show that seals are destroyed in the most wanton manner by shooting, irrespective of the season which ought to be regarded as close and even when the seals are in the breeding season. The testimony contains full information as to the wool growing interest and the wool manufacturing industry on the Pacific coast and along the northwestern border.

The relations of the fishery question on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts are set forth. One of the fishermen of the northwestern coast said it requires over forty million pounds of food fish per day to supply these seals, and that it may become necessary on the coast to get rid of the seals in order to preserve the food fish for mankind. Some of the fishermen predict that with the existing methods of hunting the seals, there will not be any seals in Behring Sea in five years' time.

The testimony contains a vast amount of detailed information as to the new northwest. The advocates of commercial union, of reciprocity, of free raw material, have been permitted to state their views at length. The complaints of New England fishermen and the operations of the modus vivendi in Canada are detailed. There is exhaustive information as to the material and political condition of Canada. There is complete information as to the vessels and fisheries of the United States. Some light is thrown upon the controversy between Newfoundland and France as to the French fisheries at the Island of St. Pierre-Miquelon, which are becoming a sensational feature of Canadian news just now. The rights of American fishermen under the several treaties with Great Britain are considered. The subject of annexation, of which so much has been said, is incidentally referred to by a number of witnesses, and the advantages and disadvantages which it is assumed would result from a union of the two countries are explained by individuals. There are Canadians as well as Americans. The committee itself makes no statement upon this subject, nor does it communicate any conclusion of any kind in connection with the testimony.

The conclusions, as has already been stated, are reserved for a subsequent period after additional testimony shall have been taken.

An appendix to the testimony contains a great deal of information about the Dominion of Canada from official Canadian and other sources, which is hardly to be found in any other compilation. In one portion of the appendix the present exciting race question in Canada between the French and English speaking portion of the Dominion is fully explained.

Full information as to the trade and commerce and the political and physical material and relations of the Dominion of Canada are contained in the appendix and throughout the testimony.

Voorhees on the McKinley Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—At 2 o'clock the Senate took up the Tariff Bill and was addressed by Mr. Voorhees in opposition to it. He characterized the bill as a financial monster every claw and tooth of which had been carefully inspected in the lobbies and found to be sound and reliable. It was only in an impure political and moral atmosphere generated by a corrupt monopoly of wealth that a financial measure like this would dare to show the hard lines of its guilty face, much less would it expect to be treated with respect, spoken well of and treated as law.

France Knows What to Do.

PARIS, July 21.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, replying to the interpellation of M. Dupuy in regard to negotiations with the powers relative to the American Customs Administration Bill, said the Government had been in negotiation with the other European powers with the object of trying to concert collective action against the bill. The other powers, he said, were averse to entering into any engagement in connection with the matter.

M. Ribot declared that he feared further action would defeat its own object. M. Dupuy said he hoped M. Ribot would strenuously try to secure from the United States Government a moderate application of the provisions of the bill. In any case, he declared, the French Customs Committee know now what course to adopt.

A GHASTLY SPECTACLE.

A Horrifying Spectacle at a Missouri Funeral.

SPRINGFORD, Mo., July 21.—The wife of John N. Peterson died here last Thursday of dropsy. She weighed nearly 300 pounds. The largest casket to be procured in Sedalia was the exact measurement required at the time of death, but as it was not delivered until Friday morning the body had swollen so much that it was crowded into the casket with difficulty. The lid was then screwed down and the body left for burial. Ice could not be procured.

The funeral services were set for Saturday afternoon, and a number of neighbors acted as watchers Friday night. At midnight the watchers were startled by a loud report in the room where the coffin had been placed. It was found that the gases of the body had accumulated within the casket until their forces burst the glass over the face of Mrs. Peterson. So great was the force of the explosion that the body was shot forward and upward, the head protruding from the coffin.

It was decided that the funeral should take place at once. The grave having been prepared the coffin was carried into the burial place and ropes were placed under the casket. As the coffin was being lowered one of the assistants let go of his end of the rope. This threw the weight to the head of the coffin and the ropes were jerked from the hands of the men stationed there.

The coffin fell with great force head downward and burst to pieces. The grave was filled up at once without waiting for another casket.

ST. CATHARINES, July 21.—These appointments were made by the 34th annual conference of the B. M. E. Church of Ontario this evening: Toronto, Rev. P. Brooks; Buxton, Rev. William R. Drake; Guelph, W. T. Minter; St. Catharines, C. A. Washington; Windsor, R. Miller, superintendent; Hamilton, W. T. Minter; Dresden and Natrey, Chapel Nathan Ellsworth; Brantford, George R. Blount; Chatham, W. Hawkins, superintendent; Collingwood mission, H. M. Cephas; London, T. C. Oliver, A.M.; Ingersoll and Woodstock mission, Bro. S. A. Lucas; Peace River mission, Charles Mayo; Bro. R. P. Ball, general home agent and evangelist; Rev. T. H. Slater, general foreign agent.

A DRY DOCK MYSTERY.

How Did He Come By His Death?—A Chance for Good Detective Work.

ST. CATHARINES, July 21.—There is considerable feeling in Port Dalhousie over the termination of the coroner's inquest concerning the death of the man Miles Robinson, who is alleged to have fallen from the deck of the steambarge Tilley into the bottom of the dry dock. The jury rendered what is known as an "open verdict," and probably could do nothing else with the evidence, but the general impression at the Port seems to be that Robinson was the victim of foul play. It is pointed out that when he was found he was lying at the bottom of the dock as if stretched out for a sleep and there was not any appearance of his having fallen from the boat. The distance from the point he is said to have fallen from must be thirty or forty feet and yet there was not a bone broken in his body and the rotten planking on which he lay when found was intact. There was a deep gash apparently cut with a sharp instrument near the base of the brain, from which the brain was oozing, but there was no indication that this wound was received in falling. Blood was found, too, spattered over the side of the boat in a suspicious manner and which would not have happened had the man fallen over. There is enough in the surrounding circumstances to warrant the authorities in reopening the whole case and exerting every means in their power to clear up the mystery.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

TORONTO, July 21.—The market to-day has been quiet and steady, with nothing of a speculative nature. Flour prices are nominal. Straight roller at $4.50 and extra at $4.20. There has been a steady demand for wheat, and oats have been quiet.

The following stocks are in store in Toronto elevators:

	Bush.	Bush.
Fall wheat	28,281	30,824
Spring wheat	69,288	75,277
Oats	785	2,080
Barley	14,609	17,285
Peas	3,971	3,971

There is no change in produce. Eggs are still held at 13c; butter is held at from 13c to 15c; other products are unchanged.

There was little done on the street, at these prices:

Wheat, white	$ 96 to $	98
" red	96 to	98
" spring	90 to	98
" goose	70 to	74
Oats	44 to	45
Barley	45 to	50
Peas	58 to	61
Timothy	13 00 to	16 00
Mixed hay	7 00 to	12 00
Straw	7 00 to	8 00
Dressed hogs, 100 lbs	6 50 to	7 00
Beef, forequarters, 100 lbs	4 00 to	6 00
Beef, hindquarters, 100 lbs	7 00 to	9 00
Veal, 100 lbs	6 00 to	8 00
Mutton	7 00 to	9 00

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

Liverpool reports: Wheat firm; demand poor; holders offer sparingly. Spring wheat, 7s 2½d; red winter, 7s 1½d; No. 1 Cal., 7s 3½d. Corn, 3s 9½d. Peas, 5s 7d. Pork, 53s 3d. Lard, 30s 3d. Bacon, long clear, heavy, 29s 6d; light, 30s 6d: short clear, 30s 6d. Cheese, 41s 6d.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat and corn firmer. Cargoes on passage—Wheat, firmer, held higher; corn, firm. Mark Lane—Wheat and corn a turn dearer; flour, English, firmer; American, a turn dearer. Mark Lane—Spot, good mixed American corn 18s 6d, was 17s 3d; straight Minneapolis flour 21s, was 26s. French country markets generally dearer. Weather in England fair, with showers. Liverpool—Spot wheat, steady; corn, a turn dearer.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: There were free offerings of cheese to-day, market very dull, and only sale was 1000 boxes of Cloverfield at 7¾c.

Little Falls reports: Cheese—From bad to worse seems to be the tendency of the cheese market. To-day shows another sharp decline, and the prices are off fully ¼c from last week. Transactions: 36 lots at 6¾c, 54 lots at 7c, 21 lots at 7¼c, 1 lot at 7½c and 9 lots commission. Total 9653 boxes.

Farm dairies—Sales of farm dairy cheese amount to 905 boxes and the prices ranged 7 to 7½c, with the bulk at the former figure. Butter—485 packages of creamery sold at 16 to 16½c, with the bulk at 16, and 12 packages of dairy butter at 16 to 17c.

Utica reports: The market appears demoralized. The margin of profit is extremely slight, and there seems to be no demand from abroad and the home consumption at this season requires only a nominal supply. Trade was decidedly dull. Buyers were conservative and cautious. The ruling price was established at 7½c, as against 7¾c last week and 7¾c the week before. Transactions were: 4 lots, 400 boxes at 7c; 88 lots, 9220 boxes at 7½c; 38 lots, 4098 boxes at 7¼c; 30 lots, 3875 boxes at 7¾c; one lot, 250 boxes at 7½c; 22 lots, 2078 boxes, commission. Transactions same date last year aggregated 19,962 boxes, ruling prices 7¾c.

A Bad Storm.

QUEBEC, July 21.—A severe storm visited the Lake St. John district last week, doing considerable damage to property and the crops, more especially in the parish of St. Prime. Barns and fences were blown down, trees uprooted and glass in many of the houses broken. The grain crop may be seriously affected. The steamer Pioneer belonging to Messrs. Price & Co., while at anchor opposite Belle River, was struck by a hurricane and stranded on a sand bank a total wreck. There were thirty men on board at the time, all of whom escaped with difficulty.

The Captain Exonerated.

QUEBEC, July 21.—Judge Chauveau has dismissed the charges brought by the sailors of the ship Polynesian against Captain Charron, owing to the contradictory nature of their evidence. The ship's log proved that the deceased sailor Duffy received proper treatment, but his illness was so far advanced that it was impossible to save his life. Captain Charron was exonerated from all blame in the matter.

A Partial Solution of the Difficulty.

HAMILTON, July 21.—At a meeting of the Hospital Committee of the City Council tonight, it was decided that the committee recommend Dr. Olmsted of this city for the position of medical superintendent of the City Hospital, with a salary of $1500 a year. Dr. Olmsted has had charge of the hospital since the resignation of Dr. Crosthwaite on July 1, and has given general satisfaction.

To the Falls at Lightning Speed.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 21.—A company has been incorporated to build an electrical road from Buffalo to Niagara Falls, through Tonawanda. Capital $250,000. J. C. Conway, R. H. Butler and Michael Nellany are trustees. It is said operations will be commenced at once and the road finished to Tonawanda by Christmas. The company has ample funds.

IT DOES NOT SPECULATE.

BUYS THE SILVER IT NEEDS AT CURRENT MARKET PRICES.

The Silver Question in the House of Commons—A Neat Back-Handed Slap for United States Methods—The Chancellor of the Exchequer a Mild Sarcasmist.

LONDON, July 21.—In the House of Commons to-day S. Williamson asked, in view of the marked influence of American legislation regarding silver on the price of that metal in London, that steps be taken by the Government to secure a full supply for mintage purposes.

Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the mint does not speculate in silver. It must, subject to reasonable foresight, purchase according to its requirements.

LEOPOLD LAUDATORY.

Taffy for Belgium and a Tight Grip for the Congo Country.

BRUSSELS, July 21.—The 60th anniversary of Belgian independence and the 25th year of the reign of King Leopold were observed today with a Te Deum service in the cathedral in the presence of the members of the royal family, the cabinet ministers, the foreign diplomatic representatives and the members of the Senate and Chamber of Representatives. Afterward a reception was held at the palace. In responding to an address from the Senate, King Leopold referred to the work of Belgium in Africa as receiving an impetus through the decisions of the Anti-Slavery Conference. Belgium, he said, had taken a great part in a vast enterprise, and he hoped she would take a still greater part in the future. The object of his life was to render the country beautiful, strong and happy. The present session of parliament would be occupied with great acts marking an epoch in Belgian history. In responding to an address from the Chamber of Representatives the King said he deemed the time opportune to assure to Belgium his African possessions after the expiration of 10 years, which period was necessary to consolidate the state. In the event of his death, Belgium, his heir, would surely never wish to diminish the extent or importance of her new possessions.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA.

Uxbridge as a Port of Entry—Drowned Bodies Recovered.

OTTAWA, July 21.—Mr. E. B. Elliott of Uxbridge was in the city to-day and called on the Minister of Customs to urge the importance of making the town of Uxbridge a port of entry.

The body of Mr. Lemieux, the civil servant who was drowned in the river here on Saturday, was recovered this evening.

Andrew Pringle, who was arrested on suspicion in connection with the recent indecent assaults upon little girls, appeared before Magistrate O'Gara this morning on a charge of chasing two little girls, Ellie McAllister of Redpath-street and her sister in New Edinburgh on the 13th instant. The two girls were seated on the witness bench when Pringle was led into the prisoners' box. They immediately recognized him and Ellie became so frightened that she attempted to leave the court. Pringle was greatly excited and frightened. He reached his head over the box and without being spoken to said in a slow and hesitating manner: "I didn't run after you, I only stood there and said you were foolish to run away from me." His Worship at once imposed a fine of $60 and $3 costs or in default three weeks in jail. Pringle took the latter and went down. Pringle acknowledged to-day to Detective Montgomery that it was he who escaped from Cannington lock-up some time ago on a charge of indecently assaulting some little girls. He said that he made his escape by burning the wood around a bar in the cell by a red hot iron which he heated by a small stove in his cell. Chief McVeity has written Chief McBain asking if he will send Pringle on to Cannington after he has served his term here.

Hon. Mr. Drury, speaking to a reporter at the close of the Prison Reform Commission, said he believed it would have practical results. Certain defects were believed to exist in the present prison system, and the evidence so far had largely gone to sustain the belief. "When we come back from the States," said Mr. Drury, "we will draw up a report to the Government, and it is quite likely that the recommendations therein made will be included in a bill and brought before the next session of the Legislature."

The body of the boy Severin, who was drowned at Tetreauville on the Aylmer road on Tuesday, was found this morning at the Upper Ottawa Improvement Co.'s works at Hull. It was wedged between the logs, showing that it had come down since Saturday night, as logs were behind it which had come down since. Coroner Graham took the body in charge. An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental drowning returned.

The customs department desires it to be announced that no authorized official list of the new customs tariff is in existence. One will be issued shortly.

Returns of the American consulate here show that during the year 1889-90 835 immigrants came to this city.

A Hint 'Twas the Husband.

BERLIN, July 21.—A tragedy surrounded with mystery was perpetrated in the Thiergarten Park near Gold Fish Lake early this morning. The body of Marie Wender, the pretty wife of a postoffice official, was discovered with a bullet wound in the left breast and her throat cut. There is no clue to the murderer. The husband of the woman was away from home much of the time. It is suspected that the couple did not live happily together, and that Mrs. Wender had a lover. The husband has not been seen since the crime was discovered.

Housberger's Narrow Escape.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 21.—A team of horses owned by Jacob Housberger were instantly killed by the G.T.R. express this morning. Mr. Jordan and a son of Mr. Housberger narrowly escaped death. Young Housberger says he did not hear the whistle and was on the track before he realized the train was upon him. The horses were struck about the middle and the wagon overturned, the driver being thrown underneath it. The animals were dreadfully mangled, but young Housberger escaped without a bruise. The men who saw the accident about Jordan station say the train did not whistle.

The Old Lady Escaped.

CREDITON, Ont., July 21.—The dwelling house of Mr. P. Speardown was destroyed by fire at noon to-day during the absence of all the family except Mrs. Speardown and mother, an aged lady, who was asleep in bed. The neighbors discovered the fire and carried her from the burning building. Loss $600.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 21.—A lad named Hugh Hanlon was drowned this morning while bathing off Barrack Point. Two companions made efforts to save him, but without avail. The body has not yet been recovered.

THE PARTIES.

In order to create a diversion in the discussion in the Liberal papers regarding the leadership of the party the Globe is discussing the prospects of the Conservative party after Sir John Macdonald is gone. Even should a difficulty then arise in the Conservative party, there is the great difference that the trouble is only a prospective one that may not have to be met for a number of years, while the Liberal party's trouble is a present one. Frequently the journals supporting the Liberal party take up the discussion of the leadership, which shows a continual dissatisfaction even when to appearance all might seem serene within the ranks. The frequent eruptions are evidences of the smouldering fires that are never extinguished. Recently Mr. Blake, Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Erastus Wiman were each mentioned in different quarters as the man who should be called to the leadership, while other members of the party could see no advantage in displacing Mr. Laurier. There was more in these differences of opinion than personal preferences, for they were largely the outcome of differences of opinion as to the policy of the party. Some Liberals who wished to see a vigorous and uncompromising free trade or commercial union campaign, free from Quebec Nationalist connection, looked to Sir Richard to lead them. Others who wished to benefit by the Nationalist idea in Quebec and to allow the tariff policy to remain in its present dubious condition desired no change in the leadership and scowled at their confreres who frowned on Mr. Laurier. Others again who have become convinced that the National Policy cannot be overthrown by unrestricted reciprocity or any similar scheme desired to recall Mr. Blake that he might repeat his Malvern performance and assure the people that the National Policy would not suffer in their hands. Thus the discussion of the leadership by the Liberal press shows a difference of opinion within the party that would bode ill for stable government or any consistent policy should the Liberals by any hocus-pocus climb into office.

It is satisfactory to know that no signs of dissatisfaction with their leader is felt in the Conservative party. It is accustomed to united action. It has inaugurated and enforced a policy that has given satisfaction and has no cause for uneasiness. "It is perhaps only natural that Conservatives should feel nervous at the prospect when Sir John is gone," says the Globe. But the Conservatives do not fret; their nerves are not shaken by the prospect. Sir John shows no signs of going. And the Conservatives have faith in the country and its people, and when another does, years hence, have to take Sir John's place the Conservatives will continue to work in the best interest of the country.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes Twenty-five cents a bottle.

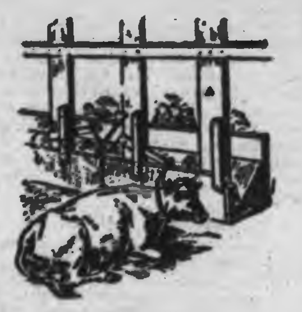
FARM AND GARDEN.

NOTES OF VALUE TO FARMERS AND GARDENERS.

Management of Plants After the Fruit has been Harvested—Renewal of Old Beds Summer Fertilizing—Horticultural and Farm Notes—A New Tie for Cattle with Illustration.

The picture of the unpatented tie for cattle hardly requires any description. A is a standard plank 1 foot wide and 2 inches thick; B is a lever 1 inch thick, tapering in width, being 2½ inches in the wide end and 1 inch at "tie" end; C is the slat bolted to the standard, with pieces inserted between the slat and standard, so as to leave a space in which the lever is held in place while allowed to work up and down freely; D is a bolt fastening the lever to the standard; E is a peg on which the ring on one end of the chain is hung. When the cow is let loose the ring should be hung on the peg. When she is to be tied she puts her head and neck over the lever and the chain is handy to go around her neck. The chain from each lever is always to be hung on the next standard. The lever has the motion of the cow's neck—when she is up the lever is up; when she is down the lever is down.

There is no stationary stanchion which does not inflict cruelty on the cattle fastened in it. No cow can lie down in a natural way with her head or neck between two standards, however they may be arranged, and whenever an animal is in an unnatural position it is in more or less misery. Fastened in this contrivance a cow can turn her head and freely lick her back as far as her hips. Everybody can make the cow manger according to fancy, but this device is adapted to all styles of mangers. The lever can be attached to any plank stanchion. If the standard is light set another and let the lever work between them. If not wide enough add to its width. The front plank or base to which the manger and standard are fastened can be very much wider, that is, higher, than for stationary stanchions. The ones shown in the cut are fourteen inches high or wide. The bottom of the manger consists of two inch planks with beveled edges to give the right slant, and so tightly fitted together that food can be given without waste.



A NEW TIE FOR CATTLE.

CARE OF PLANTS.

The proper management of the plants after the fruit has been harvested is more important in growing small fruits than the treatment given in spring. The effort of the plants next season may be successful or not according to the aid and assistance given from now until frost. The growth of the plants and the storage of food for the early spring, in the roots, is done before winter sets in, as experiments have shown conclusively that the first food derived by the plants which begin to grow early in the season comes not from the soil but from the roots, which have the power to store food for that purpose. The more food that can be stored in the roots the more vigorous the growth in the spring. To secure large yields next season the grower must devote his attention to the promotion of growth at this season.

RENEWAL OF OLD BEDS.

The strawberry bed soon ceases to produce choice fruit unless it is given the best of care, and many growers rely exclusively on new beds every year, rather than to depend on the plants of the preceding year, yet a strawberry bed can be made to yield well until the third year if properly managed. The greatest difficulty, however, is the labor of preventing the weeds and grass from taking possession, as it is not an easy matter to eradicate the weeds without destroying the new runners. If plants are set out in the spring the weeds and grass can be kept down, which work, if persisted in, will greatly lessen the number of weeds the second year, but with the old beds it is rare that weeds will not at times appear. Some growers find that by plowing between the rows, and allowing the runners to cover the plowed space, following by plowing under the old plants, that a new bed may be made, but it will be difficult to prevent weeds. The plan recommended as the best is to burn the bed over when the ground is frozen, when new plants will spring up early in the season and produce equal to a new bed, the fire not injuring the plants but destroying the seeds of weeds.

SUMMER FERTILIZING.

Fertilizers contain no seeds, and should be used in the summer in preference to manure. The blackberry, raspberry, and strawberry will derive more benefit from an application of fertilizer now than in the spring, but an application may be made in the spring also. The object should be to secure vigorous growth after the fruit is off, as the production of fruit weakens the plants, and ratio of growth will largely depend upon the amount of available food ready, the soluble fertilizer providing food at once. With the use of the cultivator and the plants pushed in growth a crop will seldom fail in the spring.

Horticultural and Farm Notes.

Put in your turnip crop. It will pay you in the winter season.

Hay should be stacked only after it is well cured and dry. Wet hay will either heat or deteriorate.

Rather early to give the advice, but the land for rye may be plowed now, which will be found an advantage later on.

Grass chopped fine, especially clover, and sprinkled with bran, is the best and cheapest food for hens in confinement at this season.

At this season, when the weather is very warm, one of the best methods of preserving manure is to throw the soapsuds over the heap on wash-days.

When the raspberry crop has been harvested give the canes an application of manure or fertilizer, and cultivate well. Next year's crop depends on this year's cultivation and treatment.

During the summer it is better to avoid corn as feed for horses than to use it. Plenty of hay is the best food, with a small allowance of oats twice a day. It is no advantage to have the horses very fat.

High prices for good animals are not confined to any class. Imported dogs have cost $1000. Three buff Cochin fowls sold at New York last February for $140, and an Oxford Down ram sold a few years ago for $5000.

Do not sell off a poor or inferior animal until it is prepared for the market. To attempt to sell poor stock is but little better than giving it away. Make it fat, thus increasing the price per pound as well as securing greater weight.

Improvement goes on in all branches. Even the bee-keepers now know how to cross and to improve their stock. There are almost as many varieties of bees as there are of cattle. Over seventy-five breeds of fowls are now bred to a standard of points.

Some farmers are afraid to use large amounts of manure for fear that the manure will "burn" the crop. It is doubtful if any kind of crop is injured in that manner, unless during a very unfavorable season, but many crops fail because not enough manure is used.

If you wish to preserve eggs for next fall or winter remove all males from the yards. The hens will lay well without the presence of males, and the eggs will keep three times as long as those that are from hens in company with males. This is an important point in preserving eggs.

Mixed grasses are better for stock than a single variety. No matter how valuable any particular grass crop may be, or how large the yield, the stock will thrive better when fed on a variety. The individual preferences of cattle differ, and they will at all times accept a change of food, which promotes appetite and thrift.

The blackberry crop is being gradually reduced every year, owing to insect attacks, which could be avoided if growers would unite in destroying the old canes. The failure on the part of a single grower to do so causes injury to the crops of a whole neighborhood and prevents extermination of the insect pests.

If you wish to grow a crop of fodder corn do not be tempted to plant too thickly. One stalk in a place, one foot apart in the row, is better to cultivation, and permits of more air and sunlight to the plants. Cut the corn as soon as the ears begin to glaze, cure well and stack under shelter, which will keep it bright and clean.

Somebody estimates that an acre of clover will make 600 pounds of pork. Whether this will pay or not depends on how the clover is fed, the management of the hogs and the value of the land and crop. Clover will probably pay better if fed to cows, but even in that case the value will depend on the manure as much as on the milk.

"G. K. H." asks how to drive black ants from his shrubbery. By freely dusting the leaves, twigs, trunk and the ground over the roots and around the base of the trunk with good, fresh insect powder the ants will be destroyed. It may be mentioned, however, that the ants destroy aphides (which may be the real enemies), but the insect powder will be effectual in either case.

A subscriber asks what is meant by "thumb and finger" pruning. It is simply to remove all new shoots that appear on the trunks by picking them off. This applies also to any shoots left on trees or vines which are to be shortened by pinching off the ends, which prevents growth, except in the laterals therefrom. By pinching the ends of some plants they become more stocky.

Always endeavor to secure the healthy growth of plants. By producing a thrifty, well-matured crop you secure that which is nutritious and adapted for the purposes required, but when the crop is weak and immature you will secure only woody fibre and water. A matured crop not only gives a larger quantity of food for stock, but also that which will give good results in proportion.

Inventors have greatly lessened the labor of the farmer, compared with the mode of a farm twenty years ago. It is doubtful if farm work is as hard as that required in some other occupations. At the present day the farmer rides when he plows, when he harrows and when he cultivates the land, and he does more work in a day than formerly. Where a dozen men were required to cradle the wheat the farmer now sits on a seat and cuts rakes and binds his wheat at one operation, and can work a large field alone.

Canadian Railway Entrance Into Chicago.

MONTREAL, July 21.—Sir Joseph Hickson, General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, was seen to night in connection with an Associated Press despatch which announced that the Canadian Pacific Railway had obtained a legal decision confirming their right to obtain an entrance into Chicago. He explained that the legal proceedings referred to were between the Wabash & Chicago and Western Indiana Companies, the latter being the company that supplies terminal accommodation to the Wabash, Grand Trunk and four or five other companies entering Chicago. The point at issue was whether the Wabash had the right to bring in the traffic exchanged with the Canadian Pacific without paying additional rental. As a matter of fact the Canadian Pacific does not run its trains into Chicago. It merely exchanges traffic with the Wabash Company at Detroit, nearly 300 miles east of Chicago, and the Grand Trunk was not a party to the legal proceedings referred to and did not interfere with any Canadian Pacific rights, real or fancied, which it might possess.

Charged as a Vagrant.

Bartholomew Fox has frequently been in the grasp of the law for drunkenness, but this morning he appeared before the Magistrate on a new charge. Early this morning Constable McGinty found him wandering the streets and locked him up as a vagrant. At the Police Court he asked the Magistrate to allow him to go to his work and the Court accordingly gave him his freedom, which he will keep just as long as he continues to work.

On the Public Highway.

There were three cases at the Police Court this morning in which citizens were charged with allowing their cattle to run at large. John Grady was charged with letting his horse roam the streets on the 19th and 20th. He pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars and costs—($5.90.) Messrs. P. McNamara and J. Gordon were charged with allowing their cows to wander on the public highway. The defendants said they pastured their cows and that the animals had simply been allowed to loiter on their way to the pasture. The Magistrate from the evidence accepted this statement and dismissed the cases.

Mr. Warrington started the bidding with an offer of 7c for the board, which was raised by Mr. Cluxton to 7⅛c. Mr. Warrington then offered 7⅛c for the board and Mr. Cluxton again raised his to 7¼c for selections. Mr. Warrington was after cheese and offered 7⅛c for the board, which was bettered by Mr. Cluxton offering 7¼c for selections. This offer was refused as also was an offer by Mr. Flavelle of 7⅛c for selections from the Victoria section.

The Board then adjourned for one week.

Said to Have Travelled to Fast.

Two men who were doing the town last evening with a horse and buggy, appeared before the Magistrate this morning charged with immoderate driving. The case was enlarged until Thursday to allow witnesses to be summoned.

Koh-i-nur ! Koh-i-nur !

Every brand of tea has its own peculiarities. So to get a perfect Tea, you can only do so by blending these different kinds in proportion, that by so doing the one flavor benefits the other. This being the case, how is it possible to obtain such perfection? Only by a long practical experience and having at your disposal large quantities of the several Brands to operate with. Such are the conditions by which the Tea is introduced for the first time to the Canadian public under the name and brand of KOH-I-NUR. This Tea has been carefully blended by those who have been engaged, and have had a life's experience, in the trade. For sale at Hawley Bros.' tea store. d15w30

A VERY LARGE FAMILY.

A TALK WITH DR. BARNARDO ABOUT HIS WORK.

A Farm of 9,000 Acres in Manitoba—The Object of Dr. Barnardo's Visit—The Work in General—$800,000 of English Money Spent in Canada—A Request to the Local Friends.

Dr. Barnardo, whose work among the waifs, orphans and unfortunate children of London, England, has made his name a familiar one all over Canada in the homes of which are scattered thousands of the children who have been rescued from a childhood of misery and probably a future of crime through the instrumentality of his institutions, arrived at Hazel Brae here on Thursday last and will remain until next Thursday, when he leaves for Toronto to visit the boys home there. From Toronto he will go to Manitoba to visit the large institution and farm which he has established there in connection with his work.

Yesterday afternoon a REVIEW reporter took a walk out to Hazel Brae and was given a short interview with the kind-hearted, energetic philanthropist who is giving his life and money to the work among and for the children. Hazel Brae looks beautiful at this season of the year, with its grassy lawns and slopes, shady walks and flowering verdure. During the last few weeks there have been changes in the management of the home, Captain Annesley returning to England and Miss Woodgate succeeding him. This young lady has experience, as she has for many years held a responsible position in the Girl's Village Home at Ilford, Essex county, England. Dr. Barnardo's last visit to Canada was made in 1887.

THE CHIEF OBJECT OF HIS VISIT.

In the course of conversation and in answer to a question as to whether his present visit had any special object Dr. Barnardo said:—"My chief object is to develop the work in Manitoba where we have a large institution. This institution consists of a farm of nine thousand acres, upon which are immense buildings which we have erected ourselves. We have already expended upon this Manitoba property over one hundred thousand dollars. We have a creamery there which is acknowledged to be the best in the Province, and it is to develop a system of colonization which I am particularly anxious to introduce. The farm is situated near Russell and Birtle, Manitoba, and on the line of the Manitoba and Northwest railway. This institution was established about three years ago." Continuing Dr. Barnardo said that he sent no boys to this farm under 17 years of age. Several hundred acres of the farm were being worked and they had about four hundred head of stock upon the place. A first-class superintendent, with several other subordinates, have charge of this immense farm, upon which at present there are perhaps 140 young men. Dr. Barnardo said further on when again referring to the farm: "Lord Stanley visited this farm when he was in the Northwest and pronounced high eulogies upon it. I received a very good letter, which was entirely unsought, the other day from the Minister of Interior telling me had visited our Manitoba creamery and premises and was greatly pleased with what he saw."

THE WORK IN GENERAL.

Speaking about his general work Dr. Barnardo said they also had a home for boys in Toronto where a satisfactory work was being accomplished. He had placed out altogether about 4,200 children in the colonies since he began the work in 1866 and about 16,000 in the colonies and United Kingdom combined. At present there were 2,450 children in the home in England, "which," remarked the doctor with a smile, "is a pretty large family."

In regard to the class of children sent out here he said that they sent only the pick of the thousands. They were very careful and rejected any whom they thought were not mentally, morally and physically sound, and sent out none but those whom they knew were what they ought to be. At home they were maintained, fed and instructed and after being sent out the vast proportion of them did well. The percentage of those who failed was very small, as they made it a rule not to allow upon the rates any of a profligate or immoral character. Any of such a class were sent home. Some might when in their last year succumb to some great temptation and being grown up would refuse to go home, but this was very exceptional.

WATCHING THE CHILDREN'S WELFARE.

"One great feature of our work," remarked Dr. Barnardo, "is that we never lose sight of our children. We have a staff going all over the country making surprise visits on the children and seeing that their religious welfare is being looked after and that they are properly fed and cared for. This is a very expensive part of the work. The work is nearly all maintained by English money, very little being contributed in Canada. It is estimated that in the aggregate we have spent in Canada since the work started not less than $800,000 of English money. It is a curious thing, also, that the demand for our children always continues, in fact we can never supply it. Our superintendent at Toronto cabled to us to send 500 boys, but we could only send 140. The agent was much disappointed and said he had to disappoint several hundred farmers who had been unable to be supplied. This is the case pretty well in about every shipment. Our President this year is the Marquis of Lorne, who wished me God speed and success when I sailed."

WORK FOR LOCAL FRIENDS.

After some further conversation Dr. Barnardo, being asked if he had anything more to say about the work here, said, "Yes, there is one thing more I would like to say. I think the town might put a new roof on the home here. This work will devolve an expense which we can ill-afford, and as the roof is badly broken up it will have to be replaced before winter. I thought our friends here might bear the expense for us. I do not wish to go round with my hat in my hand, but they have been supplied with some good servants in this vicinity, and to help on the work I think they might do this." Dr. Barnardo said that since he has been here several of his old children, who are located in the vicinity, called to see him. The majority of them had grown to be fine strapping fellows, or bright, nice looking young women.

At present there are about 18 or 20 girls at Hazel Brae, but the number keeps changing as one may be sent away to-day and another come back from a situation to-morrow, either being brought back because she was being ill used or being sent back on account of not being suited to the work.

The New Anglican Church—The Corner Stone to be Laid.

Correspondence of the Review.

Mr. A. Rutherford, the contractor for the new Anglican church in Bailliebоro, is rushing on the work. The stone work of the basement is nearly completed and on Monday next the corner stone will be laid at three o'clock by the Rector, the Rev. Rural Dean Allen, the clergy of the Deanery, also Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, M. P., Mayor of Peterborough; Henry Ward, M.P.; J. R. Stratton, M.P.P.; G. Campbell, M.P.P.; T. B. Collins, &c., have been invited and it is expected will be present and deliver addresses. Hymns will be sung by the choir. Tea will be served in the Lucas grove. The band will be in attendance. Admission 25 cents. Christ Church, Bailliebоro, is being built on the south-west corner of the township of South Monaghan, and the district comprises the whole of the township of South Monaghan and the south-east portion of Cavan.

Mortgage Statistics.

Writing to the Empire on the statistics furnished in the reports of the Building and Loan Societies Mr. George Johnston, the Ottawa statistician, says:—Connected with the question of the financial condition of our farmers, as it is to be ascertained from these returns, is the subject of the amount overdue and in default. If times are hard and money moves as if it was dragging its anchor, the defaults will inevitably show the pressure. Especially is this the case where the interest and part of the principal must be paid at rapidly recurring intervals, as in mortgages on the instalment plan.

We all know that the years 1879 and 1880 were years of great depression. During those years the amount overdue and in default averaged $4.50 on every $100 borrowed. Last year the amount overdue and in default was $2.50 on every $100 borrowed. In fact, it was, last year, the lowest of any year of the whole decade, taking the Province of Ontario alone into consideration.

The farmers, having by far the largest amount of the borrowed money, would certainly have caused an increase in the amount in default if they were in the ruined condition averred by some investigators into the general condition of the country.

That the farmers are by no means in a state of ruination is further seen from these returns in another way. In the United States, in many cases farms have been abandoned to the mortgagees, the farmers themselves having lost all hope of doing well under their load of mortgage indebtedness.

If our farmers were in a poor way, the fact would reveal itself in the returns showing the property abandoned to the mortgagees. In 1880 the property so abandoned to the loan and building societies of Canada amounted in value to 2.9 per cent. of the entire value of the real estate mortgaged to the societies. In 1889 the condition of the mortgagors had so greatly improved that the abandoned property was but 1.9 per cent. of the value of the entire mortgaged real estate. This great gain could not have been secured by the farmers if they had not been, in 1889, vastly better off than they were in 1880.

COOKERY CUTLETS.

BUTTERMILK MUFFINS.—Beat two eggs well into a quart of buttermilk, stir in a quart of flour, or enough to make thick batter, and lastly add a teaspoonful each of salt and soda. Bake in well-greased tins in a hot oven.

The muddy taste that is sometimes noticeable in carp, cat and other mud fish is said to be due to the skin becoming thoroughly saturated with mud, and the remedy is to skin the fish quickly as soon as it is taken from the water, which will leave the fish unimpaired in flavor.

A tempting way to fry and serve apples is the following: Pare sound apples, slice them half an inch thick, remove the cores without breaking the slices, fry them in hot butter until tender, lay them in little piles with sugar and spice dusted over them and serve them on slices of toast.

RICE GRIDDLE CAKES.—The rice is cooked until perfectly soft, drained dry, mashed with a spoon until the grains are well broken up. For each cupful of rice take two eggs, one pint of milk, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and flour enough to make a thin batter.

CUT DUMPLINGS.—Two eggs, one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, a little salt, a dessert-spoonful of baking-powder, flour to mix a little stiffer than pancake batter. Grease and flour six cups. Put three teaspoonfuls of jam in the bottom of each cup, pour in the batter and steam half an hour. Any pudding sauce or cream and sugar can be served with these.

CURRIED EGGS.—Boil three eggs twenty minutes; remove the shells and slice the eggs. Fry a small piece of onion in butter and add a teaspoonful of corn-starch mixed with a saltspoonful of curry powder; pour on slowly three-quarters of a cupful of milk, seasoning with salt and butter to taste, and simmer until the onion is soft. Add the eggs, and serve when they are thoroughly heated.

COOKED CELERY.—Cut in small; cross sections, using nearly the entire stock and roots, rejecting only the very green parts. Cook it in but little water so that when very tender the water will have boiled nearly away; then add milk sufficient for a nice gravy, season to taste with salt and pepper, rub butter and flour to a smooth paste, and add sufficient to make it of a creamery constituency. When the flour is scalded it is done.

A very nice breakfast dish is made as follows: Split pork tenderloins and rub with pepper, salt and summer savory and fry to a light brown in a frying pan. Slice then a half-dozen potatoes. Have some hot lard in a frying pan and put the potatoes in, covering them up closely. Take a cup of hominy boiled the day before, add a cup of milk, salt and pepper, and let it come to a quick boil. Serve also fruit for baked apples.

RASPBERRY AND CURRANT JELLY.—Put a quart of raspberries in a pint of currant juice, let them boil slowly together until the raspberries are broken up, then strain out the fruit through a sieve. Return the juice to the preserving kettle, boil for a quarter of an hour, and to each pint measured before boiling allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar. Boil gently, skimming as required for half an hour, or until the jelly will set. If a very sweet jelly is desired rather more sugar can be used.

A Thing for Jelly Makers to Know.

Instead of spending time in cutting out round pieces of paper for dipping in brandy and laying on the top of jelly and larger pieces for pasting with egg over the tumbler try the following, which a correspondent of Good Housekeeping says will do away with mold, sugary surface, papers and, best of all, trouble:

Lay a lump of paraffine on the top of the hot jelly and it will melt and spread over the surface. Use enough to have it touch the side of the tumbler all around. If doubtful whether the jelly is sufficiently stiff at the time of placing in the glasses the paraffine can be melted and poured over the cold surface after any length of time. When the jelly is needed for use a knife slipped under the edge will remove the whole cake, which should be washed and laid away for future use. A pound of paraffine is sufficient for covering two or three dozen tumblers.

Filling for Cracks in Floors.

Newspaper well soaked in a paste made of one pound of flour, three quarts of water and a tablespoonful of alum, thoroughly boiled and mixed, is said to make a very complete filling for cracks in floors. The final mixture should be about as thick as putty, and hardens like papier mache.

Cream Potato Soup.

Pare and wash six medium sized, silver skinned onions and the same number of potatoes twice the size or even larger. Cover with boiling water and boil together until tender; drain off the water in an earthen bowl and save it while you mash the vegetables until they are a smooth mass. Then pour back the water with the puree, stir the mixture about and run through a colander to remove any lumps that may have remained. Afterward return to the fire, add a quart of rich milk, a pint of water, a cup of sweet cream and salt and pepper to taste. Let it boil up once and serve immediately.

Novelties in Perfumes.

The use of scent increases every year. Everything is perfumed save the handkerchief. A curious novelty is a piece of flannel or thin leather saturated with odor and sewn into a woman's dress. It lasts a long time. Custom stamps a scented handkerchief as vulgar. If you wish your linen to have a particularly fresh, wholesome, old fashioned odor, buy one of the delightful lavender bags. They are filled with the crushed lavender flowers, and the pungent odor will last much longer than poudre sachet.

KNOW HOW —TO— KEEP COOL !

In these cool days that exceed the hot weather of last week and which are to be followed by another heated term—so says the probs—there is opportunity to consider the problem of cool dress. Men try to solve it by wearing the outing shirt and a light coat, discarding the vest altogether. But the warmest part of man's attire is his suspenders. They make his shoulders burn, as any one can testify who has taken a long walk on a hot summer day, the clothing near the place where the pressure of the suspenders comes is sure to be soaked with perspiration. And so the man who wears an outing shirt but who will stick to suspenders, has accomplished only half his purpose in keeping cool. Throw aside the suspenders, adopt the belt and summer days will lose half their terrors.

TUESDAY JULY 22, 1890.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

"Lady," he said, after he had taken a seat, "you will pardon me for this visit when you know its cause. And you will pardon me, too, if I speak plainly what I have to speak."

"Surely, sir—"

"Oh—call me Ruric. Let us at least not forget the friendship of childhood."

"Then I am not a lady," said Rosalind, smiling.

"No, Rosalind."

"Ah, Ruric."

"As we were in childhood," whispered the youth.

"In all but years," returned Rosalind, in the same low tone.

"And I may wear the same image in my heart?"

"I cannot cast it from mine if I would."

"The image of childhood, dear Rosalind?"

"Aye—save that it has grown to manhood, dear Ruric."

What more could he ask for love? He had not aimed at this confession so soon. But he put it not from him now. He gazed a moment into the fair maiden's kindling eye, and as he saw the love-lit tear gathering there and the happy smile working its way about the rosy lips, and away in the joyous dimples, he opened his arms and clasped the fondly loved one to his bosom.

"Oh, I am not deceived in this," he murmured. "Speak, dearest one."

"I can not forget the love of the happy times agone," the noble girl replied gazing up through her happy tears. "Oh, how many and many an hour have I prayed to God that those days might return, and that the one true heart of earth I loved might be mine once more. Ruric, why should I hide the truth, or why set it aside? To me thou art all in all. I have no one else to love, and none to love me else, save the noble girl who brought to hither. I can tell you no more."

Happy Ruric! Happy at that moment—forgetting all else but the love that gleamed out upon him then, he clasped the cherished object ardently to his bosom.

But the moments flew on, and at length his mind came to the subject of his visit.

"Rosalind," he said, holding one of her fair hands in his grasp, "you know the Count Conrad Damonoff?"

"Aye," returned the maiden, with a shudder. "He is here very often, and he has forced himself upon my companionship when, if he had sense, he must have known I liked it not."

"He is a suitor for your hand, is he not?"

"He was; but he is not now."

"Not now?" repeated Ruric, with surprise. "What mean you?"

"Why—simply that he has asked the Duke for my hand, and that he was answered in the negative."

"Did you hear the Duke answer him so?"

"No; but so the Duke assured me he had done. But what mean you?"

"I will tell you. Yesterday the Count came to my dwelling, accompanied by Stephen Urzen. He had a paper drawn up by the Duke's own hand, in which I was made to say—or rather, by which the writer said—that he disclaimed all pretensions to your hand, and that he wished not to marry you—that he freely gave you up, meaning to seek within the sphere of his own social circle some companion when he wished. And this I was asked to sign."

"By the Count?"

"Yes—by the Duke's orders."

"Oh—it cannot be," uttered the fair girl, trembling.

"And he further assured me that the Duke had requested him to obtain my signature thereto, so that he might receive your hand without impediment."

"So that the Count might receive my hand?"

"Yes."

"But the Duke assured me only yesterday that I should be troubled no more with the Count. May there not be some mistake?"

"There can be no mistake on my part. The instrument was in the Duke's own hand."

"But you did not sign it."

"Ask me if I took my own life—if I made a curse for all I loved."

"It is strange," the maiden murmured, bowing her head a few moments. "And yet," she added, looking up into her companion's face, "I do not think the Duke would be treacherous?"

"He may be," answered Ruric. "He knows how lightly our noble emperor holds empty titles, and perhaps he fears if this matter came to the imperial ear, and you should claim the right to marry with whom you pleased, Peter would grant your prayer. Hence he wished to get my claim out aside so that he may have a clearer field in which to move. Do you know how the Duke's affairs stand at present?"

Rosalind thought awhile ere she answered; and then, while a startled expression came to her face she said:

"Ruric, I do remember now that between the Duke and young Damonoff there is some matter of dispute. There is some question of property."

"Ah," uttered the youth earnestly. "How is that?"

"Why—as near as I can understand it, there was a dispute between the Duke and the elder Damonoff concerning the ownership of Drotzen, the estate on the Don, in Kaluga; and since the father's death Conrad has maintained his family claim. You know the Duke and the old Count married sisters, and this estate belonged to them."

"And now," suggested Ruric, "may not the Duke mean to compromise this matter by giving your hand to the Count, and taking Drotzen in exchange?"

"Oh, I cannot think so," the maiden returned earnestly. "The Duke would not do that. He is kind to me, I am sure. He loves me as though I were his own child. I know he does, for in a thousand ways he has shown it. He is mindful of my comfort, and anticipates my every want. No, no; if he is deceiving any one he must be deceiving the Count."

Ruric started as a new suspicion flashed upon him. Had the Duke sent Damonoff upon that mission on purpose to get him into a quarrel. "By my soul," thought the youth to himself, "the Duke knows that I have taught the sword-play, and he knows that the Count would be no match for me. So he thinks in this subtle manner to make me an instrument for ridding him of a plague." But the youth was careful not to let Rosalind know of this. He knew she would be unhappy if she knew that a duel was likely to come off between himself and the Count.

After some minutes of comparative silence Ruric touched upon a point which lay very near his heart.

"Rosalind," he said, taking both her hands in his own, "there is one point upon which we have never spoken; and I know you would have me speak plainly and candidly. You know my situation. My father and your father fought side by side, but my father fell, while yours returned to his home. For his eminent services your father received a title and a noble estate from the grateful Feodor, while my father was only forgotten. Hence our stations are now widely different. Yet I am not poor. No other man in the empire can compete with me in the manufacture of arms, and from my labor I derive a handsome income. You know it all. And now, if other obstacles were removed, would you give me your hand, and become mine for life?"

"Aye, Ruric," the noble girl answered, with beaming eyes and a joyful expression of countenance. "Were you reduced to the lowest estate of poverty, so long as your generous, pure soul was free, I should only be the more anxious to lift you up. Oh, my love knows only the heart whereon it is secured, and for my future of joy I ask only the truth of my husband's love."

"Bless you, dearest," Ruric murmured, clasping the fair being to his bosom. And for a long while Rosalind's head lay upon the shoulder of the man she so truly, fondly loved.

That was not the time for bringing forward doubts and fears. Ruric had many questions in mind concerning the impediments that stood in the way of their union, but he kept them to himself now. At length he arose to take his departure, and he simply said, as he drew the maiden to his side:

"You will not allow the Duke to give your hand away."

To be continued.

HAVE WE NOT PLENTY?

What Need Have Canadians to Steal Yankee Timber?

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Herald's special from St. Paul says that lumber stealing by Canadians along the northern border of Minnesota has become so extensive that the Government has concluded to put a stop to it. A large expedition, headed by four agents, will leave Duluth about August, and will start in a northwesterly direction, its destination being the western portion of Rainy Lake. The four officers of law and the interior department will be instructed to continue their work as far as in their own judgment seems best, and no time is fixed for their return. The expedition was decided on by the heads of the interior and land departments after an examination of the report by a special agent who made a trip along the northern boundary of the state. He reported that on Big and Little Rainy rivers great quantities of logs were being run into the lake and across to the Canadian border. Trees had been cut from government land. Work was being carried on under the direction of Canadian lumber firms, and was performed by Canadian half-breed Frenchmen and by some of the dwellers on this side of the line, who were probably not aware that they were engaged in a fraudulent enterprise. The special agent estimated that in these two rivers there were 75,000,000 feet of logs, and perhaps as much more was being gotten away with at other points along the boundary line. An effort will be made to secure this in the name of the government, and as soon as logs have been found by agents and branded with the government stamp, which the agents take with them, they will be held at all hazards.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

A Horse Tears Large Pieces from Its Forelegs.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., July 21.—A horse owned by P. H. Mathewson, a farmer, has died of hydrophobia. In its madness the animal tore its forelegs fearfully with its teeth and had to be bound with chains to prevent its doing injury to people. The horse was bitten a month ago by a strange dog, which was evidently mad and was subsequently killed. The horse did not appear to suffer from the bite until Thursday night.

The animal was one of a valuable pair of bays. They had worked together in a mowing machine all the afternoon. When about to put them up for the night the farmer drove the pair into the barnyard, gave them some water and left them in charge of his wife while he went to the house. He was called back to the horses by his wife. One of them had fallen and was acting strangely. He separated the animals and tied up the affected one in the yard. The animal's eyes had become blood-red. A stringy saliva started from the mouth and it began to bite at everything within reach.

HIS TONGUE CUT OUT.

Cowardly and Fiendish Attack on a Negro in Texas.

PARIS, Texas, July 21.—Early Saturday morning, 20 miles southeast of here in Red River county, six or seven men went to the house of Andy Young, a hard-working negro, and called him up. When he came to the door a volley from Winchesters, shotguns and pistols was fired into him. The Winchester balls went through his head in front of his ears and cut his tongue in two. His body, legs and arms were filled with bullets. He was alive at last accounts, and conscious, but it is hardly possible he can live. It is thought he knows who shot him, but his tongue being cut out he cannot tell. A number of shells picked up in the yard may give a clue.

NOTES FROM MONTREAL.

Death of a Customs Inspector—Drowned—A Wronged Girl Set Free.

MONTREAL, July 21.—Thomas Webster, inspector of customs at Brantford, Ont., who was staying with his brother at 498 St. James-street, died suddenly of heart disease last evening. A verdict to that effect was returned by the coroner's jury.

Alphonse Vallee, employed as bookkeeper by Vallee Brothers, St. Catharine-street, was drowned at St. Anne Bout de L'Isle yesterday.

The girl Laraide Beauchamp has been released unconditionally from the Longue Pointe Asylum by the court, where she was confined for eight years, it having been proved that she never was insane.

Decline to Testify.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Coroner Hertz, who is investigating the explosion on the steamer Tioga, to-day received an answer to his requests—from the Messrs. Bright, proprietors of the Genesee Oil Works of Buffalo, who shipped the naphtha on the Tioga—to come here and testify before the coroner's jury of inquest. The Messrs. Bright decline to come and say they see no reason why they should do so. They disclaim any responsibility for the explosion. They say: All carriers from Buffalo put all the products of petroleum in the same classification: charge the same freight and make no distinction between them, all these products being designated "Oil." There was no concealment whatever from the steamboat company of the character of the shipment. The steamboat company knew the character of this and previous similar shipments.

Arid New England.

BOSTON, July 21.—The damage in New England by the present drought is now past recovery whatever the future weather. Most districts have been without rain sufficient for a growing season for weeks. Corn and tobacco in the lowlands are still in fair condition. Pastures are drying up, rendering the early feeding of stock necessary. Streams are low and the beds of shallow creeks are dry. Grass is the only abundant crop, and a large yield of excellent hay has been secured. The second crop is of little value.

Muskoka Zephyrs.

PORT SANDFIELD, Muskoka, July 21.—A large addition to the Prospect House, which was almost completed, was struck by a hurricane the other day and blown down. Two carpenters working inside were injured. The loss to Mr. Enoch Cox, the proprietor, will be $1500.

ALL AGAINST SALVADOR.

COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA JOIN HANDS.

A Treaty of Alliance Signed With Guatemala—Gen. Eyeta's Resignation Demanded—President Barillas Preparing to Meet the Revolution.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 22.—Specials from Guatemala say the ministers of Costa Rica and Nicaragua yesterday signed with Guatemala a treaty of alliance. They demand of Gen. Eyeta in the name of United Central America: First, that he leave the supreme command in San Salvador; second, that a legal regime be established in accordance with the San Salvador constitution as before June 22, the date of the assassination of President Menendez, and third, that general amnesty be granted to all who participated in the revolutionary movement in San Salvador.

Honduras bound herself to this alliance by a previous treaty with Guatemala. Guatemala is daily increasing her forces on the San Salvador frontier. The commanders are ordered to remain on the defensive. One general disobeyed this order and has been subjected to court martial. The report of the defeat of Guatemalans by San Salvadorians is declared to be untrue. It was only a defeat of San Salvador insurgents, it is said.

A special from Cheapas, near the Guatemalan frontier, says the revolutionary movement against President Barillos of Guatemala has obtained considerable headway and that Barillos is preparing for it. The representative of San Salvador here has shown to the associated press correspondent telegrams from General Eyeta claiming that the report of a battle sent on Saturday was accurate.

THE WARRING STATES.

Something About the Extent and Trade of the Five Republics.

Of the five Central American republics involved in the pending issue the most northerly is Guatemala, which is Mexico's immediate neighbor. Guatemala's area is 46,800 square miles and its population in 1887 was 1,357,000, of whom a third were of European descent and the rest aboriginal or "Indian." The internal debt in 1886 was $4,571,417, the external debt $5,200,000, with $1,800,000 arrears of interest, besides a floating debt of unknown amount. The army consists nominally of about 2200 men, with an enrolled militia of 36,600. The total exports for 1886, consisting chiefly of coffee and indigo, were valued at $6,736,402 and the imports at $3,235,808.

Honduras has an area of 46,400 square miles, with a population (in 1884) of 458,000. The bulk of the inhabitants consists of aborigines. The fraction of the people tracing descent from Europeans, mainly of Spanish origin, is in the small ports on the Pacific coast and in the town of Santa Rosas. The active army consists of 680 men, with 31,500 militia. The exports of Honduras consists chiefly of cattle, mahogany, hides and India rubber, aggregating about $1,600,000 annually, while the imports of cotton goods, silks and hardware reach nearly the same figure. The foreign debt exceeds $27,000,000 most of which was raised professedly to build an interoceanic railroad from Puento Cortes on the Atlantic to the Bay of Fonseca on the Pacific coast.

San Salvador is a small state in area, embracing only 7225 square miles, but it had a population of 651,130 in 1886, including whites, mixed and aboriginal. Its silver and iron mines are profitably operated. Its principal agricultural products are indigo, coffee, sugar and balsam. Its imports for the year 1886 were worth $2,427,643, its exports $4,754,648. The army numbers 2000 men, with 13,000 militia. Despite pronunciamentos and disturbances it is a thriving commonwealth, keeping its expenditures generally within its revenues. It has two lines of railway and 1259 miles of telegraph.

Nicaragua covers 49,500 square miles, but its population in 1883 was only 275,817, among whom the percentage of Europeans or their descendants was very small. There are few towns and the principal occupation of the people is the raising of cattle. Commerce is naturally restricted, the imports in 1886 aggregating only $1,868,000 and the exports $2,557,000. The leading exports are coffee and India rubber. Nicaragua has 90 miles of railway in operation and 1300 miles of telegraph. The army consists of 708 men (397 of whom serve as police), with 9600 militia. The annual revenue is about $2,000,000 and the debt is a moderate one.

Costa Rica boasts an active army of five hundred men, and on a war footing can command forty thousand militia, as every able-bodied male over the age of eighteen is bound to serve. The area of the Republic is 23,000 square miles, the population (in 1883) 182,073. Coffee is the principal product, the crop being about 20,000,000 pounds annually. Bananas also are largely exported. The revenue for the same year was $3,000,000, which was slightly in excess of expenditures. The main part of Costa Rica's trade is with England. The republic has 176 miles of railroad and 300 miles of telegraph.

THE CYCLONE COUNTRY.

Seven Persons Killed in a North Dakota Windstorm.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 21.—A special to The Tribune from Fargo, N.D., says: A cyclone passed over the northern part of this county at 3 p.m. Seven persons were killed.

DENVER, Col., July 21.—A cloudburst has isolated the towns up Clear Creek Canon, destroying bridges, swept away buildings and left scarcely a vestige of the railroad.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

LARGE EXPORTS OF CANADIAN CATTLE FOR SCOTLAND.

The Dominion Marksmen's Scores at Bisley—French Lawmakers Opposed to Woman Suffrage—Floods in China—Baron Wissman's Illness.

LONDON, July 22.—Large cargoes of Canadian cattle are arriving in Scotland, and a still greater influx is expected next month, charters having been taken for the bringing of several thousands during August.

It May Be a Murder.

BERLIN, July 22.—A wealthy retired merchant named Max Haucke, 45 years of age, dwelling at No. 18 Leibnitz-strasse, Charlottenburg, died suddenly ten days after his young and pretty wife had induced two Samoan natives to desert a circus and had brought them into Haucke's house, where she treated them as equals, dressed them like gentlemen and took them out driving, to the great scandal of the neighborhood. Haucke was a wealthy man, and said to be worth ten million of marks. The police stopped the funeral and held the body for an autopsy. Cunningham, the manager of the circus, has sued the estate for 100,000 marks damages for the loss of his savages.

The Peace Conference.

LONDON, July 22.—The Parliamentary conference on international arbitration was opened to-day. Lord Herschell presided. The Earl of Aberdeen offered a motion declaring: "The conference hails the concurrent resolution of both houses of the American Congress as a fitting reply to the address from 234 members of the British House of Commons requesting President Harrison to negotiate with the powers for the purpose of concluding treaties of arbitration and congratulates the autonomous states of America which in pan-American congress agreed to a treaty providing for arbitration, which now awaits ratification." The motion was carried, as was also a resolution rejoicing in the efforts to conclude a treaty of arbitration between France and America.

The Persecuted Armenians.

LONDON, July 22.—A despatch from Tiflis to The Daily News says the Armenian Bishop of Erzeroum was among those killed in the riot June 20 and his death has aroused the Armenians to the highest pitch of excitement. The whole country is in a state of anarchy. Business is at a standstill. Traveling is impracticable. Half-starved Turkish soldiers and Kurds, under the pretence of maintaining order, patrol the country plundering wherever they go. The Persian consul at Erzeroum offers the persecuted Armenians an asylum in Persia.

Canad an Scores at Bisley.

LONDON, July 22.—Sergeant Bates' score at Bisley was 278. The following scores were made by Canadians in the contest for the Queen's Prize: Lieut. Smith 258, Capt. Bishop 256, Quartermaster Ogg 249, Sergeant Hall 248.

French Legislation.

PARIS, July 22.—The Chamber of Deputies has decided to discuss the sugar tax measure Thursday, M. Charmis having stated that a further delay would involve a deficit of 26,000,000 francs.

The Chamber has rejected M. Gastes' motion in favor of woman suffrage.

The Lion and the Lamb.

BERLIN, July 22.—A French commodore was allowed to inspect the forts at Kiel to-day. He was cordially received by the Germans.

Recruits For the Congo State.

Russia's Protection Invited.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—Advices from Erzeroum are that 575 Armenians, inhabitants of the village of Arzep, have petitioned the Russian Metropolitan at Ervan for admission to the Greek Church to be accompanied by protection of the Russian consulate. The Turkish authorities are vigilantly on the outlook to suppress all similar petitions from other districts.

Baron Wissmann Retired.

BERLIN, July 23.—Baron Wissmann has been placed on the retired list. His health has become affected from rheumatism.

Floods in China.

SHANGHAI, July 22.—The floods in the Hoang-Ho have destroyed the embankment at Lunwanmiao. Shang-Tung is inundated. The Peiho is also rising. The waters cover the country as far as the walls of Pekin.

France's War Minister Ill.

PARIS, July 22.—M. de Freycinet, minister of war, was seized with sudden illness last evening after he had been speaking for some time in the Chamber of Deputies. He is suffering from over-straining, the result of working hard when he was still enfeebled by the effects of influenza.

An Injudicious Pamphleteer.

STUTTGART, July 22.—Captain Killer of the German army has been deprived of his rank and uniform for issuing a pamphlet asperaing the military forces of the empire.

A SPOONFUL OF ARSENIC.

Ends the Domestic and Financial Troubles of a Woodstock Man.

WOODSTOCK, July 22.—John Robertshaw a well-known citizen of Woodstock, about 10 o'clock last night swallowed a spoonful of arsenic with the intention of ending his life. Robertshaw died this evening. Domestic, unhappiness and financial difficulties are said to be the cause of the deed.

Drowned in Buttermilk.

WELLANDPORT, July 22.—A little son of Charles Kesley, township of Canboro, was drowned in a firkin of buttermilk one day last week. The child was toddling around, and by some means fell into the firkin headfirst. The parents were in another part of the house at the time, and on going to see where the child was the little fellow was found as above described.

OTTAWA, July 22.—Joseph Cantwell, aged 11, was drowned last evening while bathing with several companions near the Chandiere Falls.

The River Gives Up Its Dead.

UTICA, July 22.—The bodies of the victims of the sunken [illegible] Catharine in the St. Lawrence River [illegible] Alexandria Bay, five in number, have been recovered by Diver Woods except that of Engineer Senecal.

The Great Northwest Central.

OTTAWA, July 22.—It is not at all improbable that the contract will be awarded this week for the construction of an additional 100 miles of the Great Northwest Central Railway.

The Daily Smash.

ANTIGO, Wis., July 22.—In a collision between two freight trains here to-day, Brakeman Seymour and Fireman Sims were killed. Engineer Laing had both legs broken and Engineer Ryan was fatally hurt. Both engines were completely wrecked.

AN ANGEL OF MERCY.

Miss Fanny Gary's Noble Act of Self-Sacrifice.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Miss Fanny Gary, the talented daughter of Judge Joseph E. Gary, has worked for two weeks in a Division-street tailor shop and has proved herself a worthy member of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. James' Church.

It was several years ago that Jane Anderson deserted his wife and children, leaving them penniless in the worst quarter of Milton-avenue. The day soon came when there was no food in the house and starvation stared the inmates in the face. Death was hovering near when a knock came at the door and Miss Gary entered. With the aid of her associates she soon saw that there was plenty to eat and to wear for the inmates of the little home. The two girls Mathilde and Mary were secured positions in a tailor shop, and work was also provided for the mother. Miss Gary never lost sight of her charges, and three weeks ago she noticed that the hard work and long hours were telling on Mary Anderson. So she offered to send her to a pretty resort on Lake Wisconsin.

"I can't go," sobbed the girl, who is only 15 years of age, when she called at Miss Gary's home a few days later. "The boss tailor will not allow me leave unless I find some one to take my place, and I can't find anybody."

Miss Gary thought a moment, then said: "You go and enjoy yourself, and I will see that your place is taken."

Mary left, and the next morning as the train was speeding the little worker westward, Miss Gary, clad in a plain black gown, entered the tailor shop and announced that she had come to take Mary Anderson's place. All that day she stitched away at the coarse cloth, and on every morning for two weeks she was at her self-appointed task. Leaving her father's home at 6 in the morning, she did not return until 7, and it was not until Mary Anderson returned that it was learned that Judge Gary's daughter had worked for two weeks in a tailor shop.

FLEECED OUT OF $5000.

Alanson See of New York Buncoed at Asbury Park.

ASBURY PARK, July 22.—Alanson See, a retired contractor of New York, was fleeced out of $5000 in cash by card sharpers tonight. See is about eighty years of age and his mental faculties have failed somewhat. The card sharpers have left town. One of them claimed to be the son of Mr. Park, of the firm of Park & Tilford. See says he met the sharpers first on Friday, on the fishing pier. Young "Mr. Park" in some way gained his confidence and learned his history. Saturday the sharper met him again, called him by name and introduced his companion, whose description is not known. Saturday evening the young man took their aged victim to a house in First-avenue and induced him to play in a game, the description of which Mr. See cannot give with any coherency.

They had played some time for small stakes when the old man was told he had won $40. He was then persuaded to arrange for a game for a stake of $5000. He did not have the cash here, but agreed to go to New York for it. Accordingly See and the sharpers went to New York this morning. There they separated, each agreeing to secure the amount of the stakes. See went to the Irving Bank, where he has an account, and drew $5000 in cash. He then met the sharpers and came to Asbury Park, arriving here at 5½ this evening. Within an hour from that time he had lost every cent of the money and the case was in the hands of the police. Mr. J. A. Bradley sent a telegram to Inspector Byrnes warning him of the loss and describing the sharpers.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

How a Mother Risked Her Life at Alexandria Bay to Save Her Son.

BROCKVILLE, July 21.—One of the most heroic acts and perhaps one of the narrowest escapes from a double drowning occurred about two miles from Alexandria Bay, up the river. A young son of Jonathan Bolton was fishing from a bluff of rocks near Lachie's point, and while endeavoring to land a fish was thrown into the river some four feet below, where the water is about thirty feet deep. Young Bolton's mother was near by at the time, and seeing her son sink beneath the water, immediately threw herself into the river, intending to rescue her drowning boy. She was also unable to swim and soon sank beneath the water, but when she came to the surface of the water she was holding her son in her arms. Mrs. Bolton made another desperate attempt to keep above the water, but to no avail. William Comstock, an Alexandria Bay oarsman who happened to be in the vicinity, seeing the frantic woman, hastily rowed to the scene of the accident. It was impossible to quiet the woman, although nearly exhausted, but Boatman Comstock nevertheless succeeded in catching the drowning pair and kept them above water while the party in the skiff paddled ashore. Mrs. Bolton is the wife of John Bolton, captain of Hayden's private steamer W.B.

Emancipation Day at Berlin.

BERLIN, July 22.—The annual celebration of the emancipation of the slaves of the West Indies will be held at Berlin this year on July 31 and Aug. 1. Extensive preparations are being made both by the colored people and the citizens to make it a grand success. Among the features is a colored band tournament for which large prizes are offered. Between $500 and $600 is offered alone for athletic sports.

On the second day a monster parade of colored people is to take place, consisting of all the bands, ex-slaves and colored societies. Reduced rates on all railroads have been secured. It is expected there will be fully 10,000 colored people present, besides the large number of white people who attend these celebrations. The colored people have chosen a delightful town in which to hold their celebration, and Berlin is second to none for amusement.

Lost an Ounce of Brain, Yet Lives.

FORT DODGE, Ia., July 22.—Willie Eberhart, a nine-year-old boy living here, is getting along with an ounce less brains than he had a week ago. Willie had his skull caved in by an accident at a mud-crusher a week ago. One side of his head was crushed like an eggshell, leaving the brain protruding in places. Although it was thought the boy could not live an hour the wound was dressed and a portion of the brain weighing an ounce was taken out. The bones were placed back in position and have knitted nicely. To-day the child is out of danger and, the surgeons say, is sure to recover.

The River Route.

WINDSOR, July 22.—George E. Dempsey, a colored man, committed suicide by jumping off the ferry Victoria last evening while the boat was on her trip from Detroit to Windsor. He was 28 years old and leaves a widow and two small children.

Ontario County Crops.

WHITBY, July 22.—The crop prospects in the southern townships of Ontario county are not at all bright. Excessive rains have damaged peas and barley. Hay is now practically all housed, is of the finest quality and is the most abundant yield for years.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

STRANGE ROBBERY OF THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA.

The Accountant Found Lying Unconscious on the Floor—Cashier Barron's Murder at Dexter, Me., Recalled—How His Slayers Were Brought to Justice.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 22.—The vault was wide open and the accountant, Robert G. Sanders, lay apparently dead on the floor. This was what J. M. Wagner, teller of the Bank of Nova Scotia, saw when he entered the building at Woodstock on Saturday morning.

It seemed evident that a robbery had been committed and an alarm was at once sent out. Restoratives were applied to the man, who lay unconscious between the heavy doors of iron, and in a half hour he was able to tell of the daring robbery that has aroused all Woodstock.

"I was instructed," said the young man, "to get some money out of the bank early in the morning and send it away by the express that leaves at 7.40. So I entered the bank at 7½ o'clock and opened the vault. I was standing inside and had just unlocked one of the compartments when I felt a blow on the head and felt myself falling. That is the last I remember. I did not see the assailant, nor did I hear anybody follow me into the bank."

As soon as the accountant's story was heard a thorough investigation was made and it was found that $4000 was taken from the vault. Not a clue of the robbery could be found, and no one living in the vicinity of the bank had seen any one enter the building or depart therefrom.

All Woodstock is mystified and pending a thorough examination Sanders has been placed under arrest. He is a native of Lambeth, is 20 years of age, and has been employed in the bank for three years.

Sanders was arraigned for trial this afternoon and remanded without bearing until 2 o'clock to-morrow. There are many rumors afloat concerning the burglary. One is that Sanders has a severe wound on his head which he said he received in the vault. Another rumor is that the money stolen has been returned to the bank and that all proceedings will cease.

Detective Power of Halifax, who has been working up the case, has left for his home. Sanders' father arrived at Woodstock this morning, and had a consultation with his son and then with the bank authorities.

The similarity between the assault upon Accountant Sanders and the assassination of Cashier John Wilson Barron of the Dexter, Me., Savings Bank is striking in most of the details. Mr. Barron was murdered on the afternoon of Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, 1878. He had left his home and gone to the bank during the afternoon to do some work on the bank's books which had been accumulating. It was a holiday and he entered the bank building, and unlocked the door to the private office. Before Mr. Barron could enter the room he was struck by a slungshot, and felled to the floor. Towards evening his body was found inside the locked doors of the bank vault, with handcuffs on his wrists, a rope drawn tightly about his throat and his head bruised and scarred.

For ten years the murder of Cashier Barron was a mystery which defied the combined talents of the best detectives of New York and Boston. Gradually the astonishing report was spread by the bank officials that Mr. Barron was a defaulter and that he had committed suicide to hide his crime. His faithful widow was socially ostracised and a suit was actually begun against her to recover the amount of an imaginary deficit.

After ten years of mystery information came into the possession of The New York World which led it to believe that the true clue to Mr. Barron's murderer was in its possession. Three years ago a skilful reporter of The World's staff was detailed upon the case and after six weeks' careful work he arrested David L. Stain and Oliver Cromwell—two notorious criminals. Upon evidence secured by The World reporter both men were convicted of the murder of Cashier Barron and are now serving life sentences in the Maine State Prison at Thomaston, Me.

BOLD BANK ROBBERY.

The Union Savings Bank at Quebec Plundered at High Noon.

QUEBEC, July 22.—A bold robbery was perpetrated at the Union Savings Bank in the Place d'Armes at noon to-day. A well-dressed individual entered the bank at that hour while Manager Veasey was alone, his assistant being at lunch, presented a card with the name "Rev. M. Meule" on it, and stated that the clergyman, who was in a vehicle at the door, wished to speak to Mr. Veasey, but was too feeble to come into the bank. Mr. Veasey went to the window to speak to the occupant of the buggy, and the thief going behind the counter quietly walked off with Mr. Veasey's private cash box, containing about $100 in money, $5000 of Town of Levis debentures, $1200 of the Quebec Steamship Company debentures, a quantity of private papers, keys, trinkets, etc. The man in the vehicle, who wore a white tie and black clothes, had no business with Mr. Veasey and as soon as the thief came out of the bank he entered the vehicle and the two drove off.

Fight at a Wedding.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 22.—Frank Hurbly and Bettie Wittner, Bohemians, were married yesterday at St. Wenceslaus Catholic Church. Last night they received their friends. A fine supper was served and the cup that cheers was passed around. Toward midnight the liquor began to have its effect and soon there was a free fight, in which all the guests took a hand. The groom carried his bride to an upper room, and she clung to him so that he could not return. For over an hour the battle raged until there was little left of the dishes. Nearly every guest was more or less damaged. A policeman finally quelled the disturbance and marched the party to the station house. This morning they paid for their fun.

A Motiveless Murder.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Nicholas Cosulita, an Austrian sailor, this afternoon murdered Joseph Moore, employed at a sailors' boarding house in Hamilton-street. The murder was apparently without motive. The Austrian used a huge sailor's sheath-knife, which he plunged in Moore's left breast, the blade penetrating the lung, and again into his abdomen, ripping it open for six [illegible]

The U.S. Merchant Marine.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The House Committee on Merchant Marine has recommended that the Senate Bill to place the American merchant marine engaged in the foreign trade on an equality with that of other nations be passed in place of the bill already reported favorably by the committee of the House, as they are almost identical.

Attempted Suicide at St. Kitts.

ST. CATHARINES, July 22.—Con. O'Brien, a cooper who works in Norris' cooper shop, attempted to commit suicide this forenoon by taking a heavy dose of laudanum. He was pumped out and may recover.

SOUTH MONAGHAN NEWS.

Items from Different Parts of the Township.

Correspondence of the Review.

FRASERVILLE.—Mr. Albert Goodfellow is working back at Springville. Mr. Langton, blacksmith, is doing a rushing business now, specially repairing reapers, mowers, &c., for the coming harvest. Hay time is coming to a close. It was a good crop around through this district. Fall wheat is a good crop. It is almost ripe and presents a fine appearance. Your correspondent took a trip through Otonabee and can say the crops look fine.

CENTREVILLE.—There was to be a new store erected here, but we are afraid Mr. Martin is not going to put it up.... New ministers are coming to preach at the church here every few Sundays till the congregation gets one to suit them. They are drawing large congregations.... Mr. Ed. Ball has a beautiful garden this year. It is nicely laid out and his flowers present a very fine appearance.

BRUNVILLE.—Mr. Thos. Donaldson's turnips are all eat off the second time with the flies. They are a poor crop around here this year.... Mr. Waddell has not painted his new fence yet, but we expect he will soon. It will then be a very pretty one.... The oats this year are a failure in a good many places.... Your correspondent saw some of Peter Hamilton's self-binding harvester coming through this way. They are very fine looking machines.

YOUNG'S POINT PENCILLINGS.

A Cheeky Thief—A Correction, and other News Items.

Correspondence of the Review.

LUMBER AND SHINGLES.—Mr. Geo. Young is busy this week shipping lumber and shingles to the front. He is turning out first class cedar shingles this season.

FISHING.—Our old friend Mr. Chas. Stapleton was up here last Friday on business and pleasure. He went out in the afternoon with your correspondent to Clear Lake, but the fish on that particular day remained in the water, no doubt having an eye on our tempting bate! but d—l a bite. Better luck next time, Charlie.

PADDLE STEALING.—Mr. McFarlane found one of his fine new paddles in the woodwork shop adjoining the blacksmith's, all scraped over and filed to erase the name, but no go, it left the mark. Some fellow had stolen it and took it to the shop in the absence of the blacksmith and had left it to go home to dinner. Rather cheeky work. Mac would like to know the individual to interview him and ask where he had received his early training. Mac in future will have a better eye on his paddles, &c, and lock them up when not in use.

POTATO BUGS.—The above bugs are as numerous as ever on the vine of the potato. A party asked your correspondent if such a thing was in the ark. I said if so old Noah should have put his foot on them.

CORRECTION.—In last week's issue you have J. Young instead of W. J. Young having gone for a tour to the Gulf of St. Lawrence for his health.

OUR VILLAGE DOCTOR.—"I say, Doctor, if a fellow took sulphuric acid what would you give him?" "I'd give him up!"

THE HOUSE FLY.—The fly joins us in the early summer and lingers with us until frost or later, while it is here it is most everywhere. It must have been one of the plagues of Egypt, as they cause a good many undesirable words to our language, especially when they alight on a bald head.

INDIAN RIVER STATION.

The Growth of the Village—The Crops—Obituary Notice.

Correspondence of the Review.

GROWING.—Since you last heard from us our village has grown finely. Mr. Borland is building a dwelling house close to the railway track, and Mr. Devlin is building a new dwelling house, and Mr. Duff has built a new store and post office where he keeps a good general store. A great many other improvements have been made. This is a very fine place for any parties retiring from farming or business to build and live here, as they can enjoy all the pleasures of rural life and still be within 15 minutes travel of, we may say, the city of Peterborough.

CROPS.—The crops look fine in this vicinity, all but oats, which has a little rusty appearance.

CHURCH NOTES.—Rev. Mr. Hyde, of Warsaw, preaches here at No. 8 school house every Sunday afternoon. The people turn out well to hear his very able discourses.

OBITUARY.—We are sorry to record the death of Mrs. John Grady, jr., which took place last Thursday morning. Her remains were followed to the grave yard in Douro by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors. Mr. Grady and family have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

WARSAW.

Correspondence of the Review.

FORESTERS' EXCURSION.—The Lodge of Court Warsaw have chartered the steamer Mary Ellen and palace scow for Tuesday next, the 29th inst., leaving Lakefield at 7 a.m. for Young's Point, McCracken's Landing, Julian's Landing and Burleigh Falls. The above date is Warsaw's joint civic holiday.

TELEPHONE SERVICE.—The Bell Telephone Co. are extending their wires to Warsaw, which will be a great boon to merchants and others doing business.

Navigation Blocked.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The Golden Eye has pulled through many a hard jam of logs, but she had to succumb this morning. Gilmour & Co.'s drive was all pushed out of the lake last night below the cemetery point and jammed the river full up from the bridge to the cemetery point, making it quite impossible for the Golden Eye to get through. The steamer Daisy had a party for Hastings and left the Ashburnham wharf at 7 30 and had not reached the locks at 10 a.m. Is this fair that we as passengers should suffer to please the greed of the lumbermen? Whose business is it to keep the river open, or has anybody control over it? Please let me know and oblige. Yours,

DISAPPOINTED PASSENGER.
Peterborough, July 23, 1890.

NED HANLAN AGAIN BEATEN.

Gaudaur's Four the Victors At the [illegible] Regatta.

DULUTH, July 22.—The amateur four oar [illegible] race, which was declared off yesterday by the fouling of the Larlines and Duluth crews, was won by the Minnesotas in 10.35, Duluth [illegible] 10.3[illegible] and the St. Pauls 3. The Winnipegs were out of the race from the start. The course was very rough and the wind strong.

All the races this afternoon took place in very rough water. The first event was the senior double sculls. Minnesotas, Larlines, Winnipegs, Cedar Rapids and Catlins started. The last two were the first to get away, but gave place to the Winnipegs, who pulled a magnificent stroke at ½ mile. The Winnipegs were in the lead with Minnesotas and Larlines close behind. The Minnesotas crossed at finish a length ahead of the Larlines, the Larlines being 2 lengths ahead of the Winnipegs, the Winnipegs 3 lengths ahead of the Catlins, and the latter half a length ahead of Cedar Rapids. Time 10.55½.

The senior singles had but two starters. Corbett and Pearson, who struck the water about the same time at start. Corbett maintained the lead from the beginning. Pearson made a magnificent spurt on the last quarter, but Corbett beat him easily about 3½ lengths. Time 12.20.

The great four-oared professional race, on which betting and pool selling has been lively for the past few days, was the last event. There were five crews entered as follows: Hanlan, stroke, Teemer, Hosmer and Wise; Ross, Harry Vail, J. A. Kennedy and D. E. Murphy; The West Ends of Buffalo; [illegible] stroke, Hamm, Gaudaur and Ten Eyck and the Eries of Buffalo. After the first half of the down stretch, Hanlan and Gaudaur's crews were the only ones really in the race. The Eries caught the water first, but the Hanlan crew soon forged ahead, followed closely by the Gaudaur crew. There never was seen a more exciting struggle than between these two. It was a race for blood, and both crews were straining every nerve to win. They reached the turning buoys almost at the same time, but Hanlan's turned first and pulled away on the home stretch with a stroke which left the Gaudaur crew behind a couple of lengths. The latter were only reserving their strength, and when the ¼ mile buoy was reached the Gaudaurs spurted and recovered the distance between them and Hanlan. Then came the tooth and nail pull. Every muscle was brought into play as the Gaudaur crew crept slowly ahead of the Hanlan crew until they reached the finish about a length and a half ahead of Hanlan. Erie came in a length behind, but the Ross crew was several boat lengths behind the Erie. The West Ends gave up in the race one-half way back. The time for the winners who captured the first prize of $1200 was 18.20; for Hanlan's crew 18.26, who took second money, $600.

The four-oared junior race, which was rowed this morning again on account of Larlines' foul, will have to be rowed over once more because St. Pauls fouled the Winnipegs by rounding the latter's buoy with the St. Paul's barred from race.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Reeve Jardine's Assailant Committed for Trial—A Brace of Burglaries.

HAMILTON, July 22.—John Mullin, who stabbed ex-Reeve Joseph Jardine of Saltfleet, was to-day committed for trial.

Asa Choate of North Glanford reported to the police this morning that $30 had been stolen from his place. He suspected a farm hand who has disappeared.

Burglars entered a residence in Hess-street near the mountain Sunday night or Monday morning during the absence of the residents and thoroughly ransacked the premises, carrying off a lot of silverware, ladies' jewelry and other valuables. While walking across a lot on the mountain brow last night a couple of gentlemen discovered a valise and basket with a quantity of the stolen property. A lot of the stuff is still missing and detectives have the case in hand.

At a meeting of the Hospital Committee of the city council last evening it was decided to appoint Dr. Olmstead of this city to the position of resident physician of the City Hospital at a salary of $1200 and expenses.

General Manager Hickson of the Grand Trunk has tendered to Mr. Richard Quinn, district freight agent, the position of Canadian representative in England for the Grand Trunk company, with headquarters at Liverpool. It is likely Mr. Quinn will accept the position.

A FIERY DEATH.

Eight Persons Lose Their Lives in a Cincinnati Blaze.

CINCINNATI, July 22.—In a tenement house fire here to-night eight people were burnt to death.

NEW YORK, July 22.—This morning a fire broke out in a tenement in Third-avenue. Mrs. John Mackie, a paralytic on the fifth floor, was unable to move and was suffocated.

Losses Caused by Flames.

SIMCOE, July 22.—Fire broke out this morning about 1½ in the kitchen part of Rev. T. H. Carey's residence. The engines were out promptly, but as the house was some distance from the water the fire got a big start. Very little of the household stuff was saved. The property was partially insured. The origin of the fire is not known.

GRAVENHURST, July 22.—Dunn's skating rink was destroyed by fire about 1 o'clock this morning. The flames spread to an adjoining building known as the old planing mill and a wooden storehouse. These were also totally consumed. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

OTTAWA, July 22.—Ald. John Heney's tug Resolute took fire at her moorings, at the foot of the Rideau Canal locks, about 12½ this morning. The tug burned to the water's edge. The crew had a narrow escape. Loss $4500, insured for $3500 in the Guardian Insurance Company.

Conspirators on Trial.

BUENOS AYRES, July 22.—The trial of conspirators against the Government is proceeding. The feeling of alarm is subsiding. The gold premium is 211.

Nova Scotia's Gold Output.

HALIFAX, July 22.—Two thousand five hundred and fifty-one ounces of gold valued at $48,500 were crushed from 2210 tons of Nova Scotia quartz last month.

The official supervisor's figures of Portland's (Me.) population are 36,475. There is general dissatisfaction, those in a position to estimate judging the actual population to be several thousands more than that.

Should and Would.

Mr. Richard Grant White says: "I do not know in English literature another passage in which the distinctions between shall and will, and would and should is at once so elegantly, so variously, so precisely and so compactly illustrated as in the following lines from a song in Sir George Etherege's 'She Would if She Could' (1704):

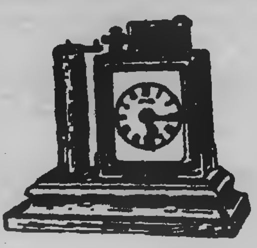
"How long I shall love him I can no more tell
Than, had I a fever, when I should be well.
My passion shall kill me before I will show it,
And yet I would give all the world he did know it;
But, oh! how I sigh when I think should he woo me
I cannot refuse what I know would undo me!"

A New and Powerful Light.

A new phare-light, which is said to be as powerful as an electric light and unimpaired in its efficiency by fog, is described by a foreign journal. A clockwork arrangement pours every thirty seconds ten centigrammes of powdered magnesium into the flame of a round wick lamp, producing an extremely brilliant flash of light.

An Alarm Clock Lighting a Candle.

A German watchmaker has recently received an imperial German patent for an alarm clock with a contrivance that lights a candle. The Horological Review gives the following illustration and description of it:



AN ALARM CLOCK THAT LIGHTS A CANDLE.

The candle is lighted by a match at the end of the lever A, the match is specially prepared, ignites readily and burns for a length of time. The watch lever A is unlocked during the sounding of the alarm, and a spring gives it one-half a turn to the left, whereby the match touches a frictioning surface lying at the back and visible in the illustration; it is ignited thereby and then completes its turn and applies itself to the candle, which is lighted thereby.

Scientific Brevities.

A Vienna correspondent of a London paper tells of recent explorations in the famous Adelsberg cave. After a journey of six hours through the galleries the explorers concluded that they had not penetrated the remotest part and that a wide field of discovery still remains.

Zinc mining is being started in Morgan county, Mo., notably at the "Big Three Shaft," about five miles southwest of Versailles.

Onion juice is said to be a good glue for making paper adhere to a metal surface; the metal to be first cleaned with soda and rubbed dry with a clean rag.

Pure olive oil has a greenish or light yellow tinge.

Newspaper Advertisement.

Advertisements were first circulated in newspapers during Charles II's reign. One printed in 1679 read in this wise: "At the sign of the Golden Ball and Coffin there are ready made to be sold very fashionable laced and plain dressings for the dead, of all sizes, with very fashionable coffins."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

A Poor Way to Get Even.

Peter Lynch appeared before the Magistrate this morning charged with having maliciously destroyed the property of Mr. Robt. White by killing two ducks. That the ducks were killed there was no doubt, but Peter said Mr. White owed him six dollars for wages and he wanted to get even with him. As he now has learned by experience it was an expensive way to "get even," for the Magistrate fined him $5 or twenty days in gaol.

Leclaire, an elderly man, who had not the least vestige of hair left on his shining pole, pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars or ten days. John Kelly, who bore the marks of his carouse on his face in the shape of a big scar on his cheek, also pleaded guilty to an over indulgence and was fined two dollars or ten days. Both men were a little short financially, but friends came to their aid and they paid their fines.

His Name, What is it?

Chief Roszel received a letter from Mr. J. E. Farewell, Q.C., County Crown Attorney, of Whitby, asking him to ascertain if possible the name of a man who is supposed to live in Peterborough, and who walked with Mr. Hastings, of Clairmont, from Locust Hill to Clairmont on the C.P.R. on the night of the accident at the bridge between these two stations. Mr. Hastings is an hotel keeper at Clairmont, and the supposed Peterborough man was going from Saginaw to Peterborough. Any information that will lead to the receiving of the name of this man will be thankfully received by Chief Roszel. The unknown Peterborough man need not fear to give his name, as it is simply wished to ascertain if he possesses certain information regarding the details of the accident.

OUT WITH FORESTERS.

The Picnic to Sturgeon Point—A Contest Ends Fatally.

The Foresters of Court Peterborough held their excursion yesterday to Sturgeon Point and a most successful and enjoyable outing it proved. There were some three hundred persons on board and it is safe to say that they were all, without exception, delighted with their day's excursion.

The train left here about 8.30 in the morning and arrived at Lindsay in due time. There the steamer Beaubocage and palace scow Paloma were boarded and about 11.30 the picknickers were landed at Sturgeon Point. Everything was looking its prettiest and quite a large number of American visitors were at the hotel enjoying the scenery and the fresh air of the Point. These strangers came in for considerable amusement and enjoyment with their Canadian cousins. Of course the first attraction after disembarking were the lunch baskets. Tables were spread in picnic fashion by some, while many others took advantage of the arrangements that had been made with the hotel for dinner.

The noonday meal partaken of to the individual satisfaction of all the afternoon was pleasantly spent. Dancing, music and sports furnished a menu for all. The lovers of the light fantastic enjoyed themselves to their heart's content on the pavilion and on the scow, while any amount of fun was furnished by the sports. The programme of events was not carried out exactly, but it was no fault of the committee. For instance no baby was entered in the competition for the baby with the largest feet, while no entries were received for the fat lady's or fat man's race. The prize for the handsomest lady was not sought by any of the fair sex, probably through natural modesty. Messrs. A. McNeil and F. Robinson, V.S., ran off the sports, the prize winners being as follows:—

Best Looking Baby.—Mr. W. Simpson's.
Boys' Race.—Thos. Spratt, Lindsay.
Girls' Race.—J. Mathieson, Lindsay.
100 Yard Race.—A. Moore.
Hop, Step and Jump.—J. File.
High Jump.—A. Moore.
Foresters' Race.—T. Hooper, sr.
Throwing Heavy Weight.—A. Moore.
Man with Largest Family.—Mr. C. Dodge, 12 children.

The tug of war came next between married and single men. The married men won in the struggle, but the single men gathered in the prize.

Catching the greasy pig was the last event on the programme and furnished rare sport for the crowd. Several competitors could almost reach the pig on the end of the pole when their feet would slip and down they would go into the water. At last by accident the pig went into the water in the box and was drowned. The contest thus ended fatally, although great efforts were made to resuscitate the drowned grunter.

The return trip was begun about five o'clock and home was reached about nine o'clock. Everyone was pleased with the day and the committee are to be congratulated on the success of their outing.

Music in the Park.

The band gave an open air concert in the Court House Park last evening. A large crowd turned out to listen to the music, the programme which was rendered being an excellent one.

A Valuable Stallion Dead.

A valuable stallion named "Cheriot," owned by Mr. Sam Staples, of Cavan, died at the Balmoral hotel this afternoon. The animal was purchased by Mr. Staples for $2,000, but was valued at about $6,000. Mr. John Ryan has travelled the animal this season and had had a very successful season so far. Inflammation was the cause of death. There was no insurance on the horse.

An Ode to Campers.

Camper, leave that worn out shoe,
Served its purpose—more than true,
Stood the racket, felt the wear,
Roads or sidewalk—foul or fair
Be the weather, well they've stood,
Clearly, buyer, well they should,
Doff them, try anew a pair,
Quality first-class, prices fair.
Canvas tops and rubber soles
Fit for gravel, rock or boles,
Joyous you will tread the brakes
Round the shores of Stony Lake,
Take your pleasure as you did,
Buy these rubber shoes of Kidd. d11tf

A Splendid Trip.

Another excursion is announced for the Civic holiday, August 14th, and one that will be an attractive one. It will be under the auspices of the Royal Templars. The route is by rail to Chemong, and by steamer from there through the chain of lakes to Lakefield, passing through Chemong, Buckhorn, Lovesick, Stony, Clear and Katchewanooka lakes and the magnificent Trent Valley canal locks. From Lakefield the return will be made by rail to town. The Alice Ethel, of Lindsay, a very fast steamer, has been engaged, and railway connections can be made and from two to three hours allowed for picnicking on land.

Koh-i-nur! Koh-i-nur!

Every brand of tea has its own peculiarities. So to get a perfect Tea, you can only do so by blending these different kinds in proportion, that by so doing the one flavor benefits the other. This being the case, how is it possible to obtain such perfection? Only by a long practical experience and having at your disposal large quantities of the several Brands to operate with. Such are the conditions by which the Tea is introduced for the first time to the Canadian public under the name and brand of KOH-I-NUR. This Tea has been carefully blended by those who have been engaged, and have had a life's experience, in the trade. For sale at Hawley Bros.' tea store. d18w30

TALKED MUCH, DID LITTLE

THE TOWN COUNCIL HAVE A PROLONGED MEETING.

The All-night Electric Light Service Attacked and Discussed—The Matter Laid Over—The Building By-law Discussed and Also Referred Back—The River Front Land Patents—The By-law Regulating Telegraph, Electric Light and Telephone Poles also Referred Back—A By-law to Improve the Sanitary Condition of the Town Introduced—The Civic Holiday to be on the 14th of August—No Liquor to be Sold in the Market Buildings—Other Business.

The Town Councillors last night had a taste of that bad and disagreeable odor which pervades the town buildings and of which complaints have been made times without number. When the municipal legislators assembled a far from pleasant odor had worked its way from the stables in the fire hall below and made the atmosphere in the hall almost unbearable. This nuisance, of which the town officials have complained so frequently, was the subject of much comment by the Councillors and perhaps now the reports that have been received of its existence will be credited and call forth action. After the windows had been raised and the doors opened to allow the air to circulate, Mayor Stevenson took his big cushioned seat and the following ward representatives were present:—Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Winch, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, Dawson, Moore, Rutherford, Langford, Kendry and Hartley.

FROM RATEPAYERS AND OTHERS.

After the minutes had been read the following communications were presented:—

From Wm. Whitehair and George Robinson protesting against paying the statute labor tax for which they were assessed.—Court of Revision.

From nearly one hundred ratepayers petitioning that Civic holiday be fixed for Tuesday, August 12th.—Received.

From the town auditors presenting their report for 1889.—Received.

From Mr. Robt. Pope, Street Inspector, asking for an increase in his salary.—Finance Committee.

From the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co. asking that two branch hydrants be placed in their yard.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From A. L. Coates re taxes.—Court of Revision.

From the Board of License Commissioners stating that the amount paid the town this year was $2,469.

From the Secretary of the Oddfellow's Joint Decoration Committee thanking the Mayor and Council on behalf of the Oddfellows of town for proclaiming the civic half holiday on decoration day and for having the streets leading to the cemetery watered. The business men were also thanked for the general manner in which they observed the half holiday.—Received and filed.

From the Secretary of the Board of Education submitting the school estimates for the year (which have been already published in the REVIEW) showing the demand from the town to be $17,599.—Finance Committee.

LIQUOR IN THE MARKET BUILDING.

The following resolution which had been adopted by the Commissioners of the Town Trust, was sent to the Council for approval by Mr. Edg. Pearse, secretary-treasurer:—"That the store south of the arcade be rented to Edward Brown at a rental of five hundred dollars per annum, rent payable quarterly, free from taxes for the year 1890, Brown to supply all fixtures, etc."—

The Mayor stated that Mr. Brown had made application for the shop south of the arcade for an eating and liquor saloon.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL asked if the Commissioners had not been informed of the resolution the Town Council had passed that no shop in the new market building be rented to any person who sold liquor.

The MAYOR said the Commissioners had received no notice, but he had informed them that such was the case.

THE ALL-NIGHT LAMPS.

Councillor A. HALL, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, presented the report of that committee, placing the all-night electric lights which it is proposed to take from the Electric Light Company. The report read as follows:—

To the Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Peterborough:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the Peterborough Electric Light and Power Co. be instructed to place the all-night electric lamps in the following places:—One at the corner of London and Ross, Ross and Hunter, Sheridan and Brock, College and McDonnel, Harvey and London, Water and Charlotte, Water and Simcoe, Water and Hunter, Water and Murray, Water and McDonnel, George and Wolf, George and Sherbrooke, George and King, George and Charlotte, George and Simcoe, George and Hunter, George and Brock, George and Murray, George and McDonnel, George and London, George and Dublin, George and Edinburgh, George and Antrim, Charlotte and Louis, Simcoe and Lock Works, Hunter and Belleghem's store, Aylmer and Dublin, Aylmer and London, Aylmer and Murray, Aylmer and Simcoe, Aylmer and King, Aylmer and Dalhousie, Smith and Water, Bethune and Charlotte, Bethune and McDonnel, London and Stewart, Brock and Stewart, Simcoe and Stewart.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ADAM HALL,
Chairman.

LIGHT FOR THE OUTSKIRTS.

Councillor KENDRY objected to the adoption of the report, as he said it was the same report that had been presented at the last meeting. The Chairman had not seen the company in regard to the arrangements which were suggested at the last meeting. He thought the lights should be divided between the north, west and south part of the town and the outskirts given some of the all night lamps. He would move that the report be referred back to the Committee until the Electric Light Company was seen and an effort made to make arrangements for spreading the lights on the outskirts.

IT WILL COST MORE.

Councillor A. HALL replied that he had spoken to the manager of the Electric Light Company and had been told that the Company could not give a service such as Mr. Kendry wanted. The Company had been asked to tender for lamps in a certain limit and had given a close figure. If this limit was extended they would have to ask more for the service.

Councillor DAVIDSON said he had spoken to the Manager and Secretary of the Company and they had told him that they had considered the matter and had come to the conclusion Mr. Hall had stated.

ALL-NIGHT LAMPS UNNECESSARY.

Councillor RUTHERFORD objected to the manner in which the Fire, Water and Light Committee did its work and also objected to the great expenditure for all-night lamps. A few lamps on the main streets might be kept burning all night, but he was opposed to an expenditure of $1200 a year for these lamps, as he considered the expense unnecessary.

Councillor DAWSON also thought it was an unnecessary expenditure.

Councillor MOORE said he had a conversation with the manager of the Electric Light Company and he was convinced that they either had to accept the Company's terms or throw the all-night lamp service out altogether. He thought that the expenditure this year would be high enough without this great expense and he would favor throwing out the service altogether.

Councillor KENDRY said that when they were going into such large expense for a service he thought the lamps should be placed where the outskirts would get a little of the light.

Councillor CAHILL also wanted lights on the outskirts. As to throwing the whole matter out, he said that when the question of all-night service was first brought up he had voted against it, but now that the Council had gone so far he did not think they could go back on it. He, however, wanted the service put in properly and the people on the outskirts get some of the lamps.

Councillor HARTLEY desired to see the lamps thinned out in the centre of the town and some placed on the outskirts, even if it did cost a little more. However, he was of the opinion that the entire service could be done without at present.

Councillor A. HALL explained that if the lamps were put on the outskirts another circuit would have to be employed, which would mean additional expense.

Councillor KENDRY said one dynamo would run forty lamps and these forty lamps could be spread over the town. He thought the Electric Company should meet the Council. Councillor Kendry grew quite warm in speaking on the matter and wanted the rights of the people on the outskirts respected.

The MAYOR interrupted here, and said that he intended to enforce the rules of the Council and allow no Councillor to speak more than once on any question.

Councillor LANGFORD was willing to have all-night lamps on the principal streets and at the railway stations, but he would not vote for forty all-night lamps.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL explained that the forty lamps could be run by one dynamo and would cost little more than a dozen or fifteen. Mr. Hall favored the all-night service and wanted it extended as much as possible.

Councillor KELLY also favored the all-night service, but he also wanted the lamps thinned out in the centre of the town and extended to the outskirts.

THE REPORT REFERRED BACK.

Councillor KENDRY moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee be referred back to be reconsidered by a committee of the whole Council.

Councillor CAHILL pointed out that the report recommending the taking of forty all-night lamps had been adopted and could not be gone back on now.

The CLERK read the minutes of the meeting at which the report was presented and found it had been adopted.

Councillor CAHILL then spoke to the question of placing the lamps, favoring the distribution of them on the outskirts even if it cost a few hundred dollars more.

The amendment of Councillor Kendry carried.

BUILDING BY-LAW.

Councillor A. Hall moved the Council into Committee of the whole to give the Building By-law its second reading. The fire limits were fixed by the by-law as being bounded on the south by King-st., on the west by Aylmer-st., on the north by McDonnel-st., and on the east by the line forming the easterly limit of of the lots number four east of Water-st. These limits are the same as fixed by the former by-law except the western boundry, which had been changed from Bethune-st. to Aylmer.

When the by-law was being considered in Committee considerable discussion arose over the change which the by-law made in the limits. Several of the Councillors objected to lessening the limits, but it was urged on the other hand that the property on Bethune-st. was clay suitable for storehouses and elevators, which were seldom built of brick. On this account the including of Bethune-st. in the extent of the by-law was felt to be a hardship on the property owners. It was also proposed that the southern limit be changed from King-st. to Charlotte-st. Finally the by-law was referred back for reconsideration by a Committee of the whole Council.

THE POLES AND WIRES ON THE STREET.

Councillor Moore moved the Council into Committee of the Whole on the second reading of the by-law regulating the maintenance and erection of the poles or wires of electric light, telegraph or telephone company. This by law makes it necessary for any company to submit to the Council a plan of where the poles were to be erected and receive its sanction.

A discussion arose over some of the regulations requiring the poles all to be painted, etc., and finally the by-law was referred back to be re-considered.

THE RIVER FRONT.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL introduced a by-law respecting the conveyance of the lands situated between the C P.R. spur line and the river bank. The by-law provided that the portion of the land lying in front of the Boating Club house and Mr. Wm. English's property should be given to the club and Mr. English, such being necessary to obtain their consent to the filling in of the stretch, and also to obtain the patent for the remainder of the land from the Government.

The by-law was given its three readings, passed and numbered.

SANITARY PRECAUTIONS.

Councillor MOORE introduced for its first reading a by-law for the purpose of improving the sanitary condition of the town. In doing so, Councillor Moore said it was proposed to build a system of sewerage in Peterborough, but this system would not at once reach the outskirts. He proposed by the by-law to drive out all deep pit closets, a plan which had been adopted in Brantford. These precautions should be taken, as a visit from cholera or an epidemic was prophesied for the near future. The Medical Health Officer of Brantford had written in regard to the satisfactory and beneficial results of the plan in that city. In Brantford the cost of removing night soil was just one-quarter of what it was to do the scavenging with the deep pit closets. It was proposed to prohibit the sinking in future of any deep pit closets in the town and compel before the first day of May next the closing up of all deep pits and the substitution of dry earth closets. Councillor Moore said he would be quite willing to have the matter referred to a committee to be considered.

The by-law was read a first time and referred to the Committee of the Whole Council.

THE SHOP IN THE MARKET.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL moved, seconded by Councillor HARTLEY,—That in reference to the communication of the Town Trust Commissioner with regard to renting a shop in the new market building to E. Brown, this Council beg to call the attention of the Commissioners to the fact that they have already by unanimous resolution requested the Commissioners not to rent any of these shops to any one who intended to deal in the sale of intoxicating liquors, and as this Council understands that Mr. Brown proposes to keep a saloon, they strongly urge the Commissioners not to rent any of the shops in the new market building to Mr. Brown or any other liquor dealer.

The motion was carried without discussion.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Councillor LANGFORD moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That Tuesday, August 12th, be proclaimed civic holiday.

Councillors E. H. D. HALL, CAHILL, RUTHERFORD objected to changing the civic holiday from the 14th August, the day recommended as civic holiday last year. It was argued that societies had made arrangements to observe the holiday on the 14th and it was said the Council should keep to the resolution of last year.

Councillor KELLY moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor E. H. D. Hall,—That Thursday, the 14th of August, be proclaimed civic holiday as recommended by the Council last year.

After a little discussion the amendment was carried.

THE PEANUT VENDOR MUST GO.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DAWSON,—That the Chief of Police notify the owner of the peanut and candy stand at the corner of George and Hunter-sts. to remove from that position to the market square or to some other place to be fixed by the Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, and that any money paid to the town for the privilege be returned to him.—Carried.

THE MARKET BUILDING.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor WINCH,—That the matter of fixing the rents of the shops of the new market building be left entirely in the hands of the Town Commissioners.

Mayor STEVENSON stated that the Town Commissioners had instructed him to place the old market building in the hands of an auctioneer and have it sold or removed at once.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to put down sidewalks on the market square where necessary.—Carried.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor WINCH,—That Nightwatchman Gordon be allowed thirty cents per week during the pleasure of the Council for looking after the new market buildings at night.—Carried.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the Fire, Water and Light Committee be authorized to provide for an all-night light in the market arcade.

A LOST MOTION.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DAWSON,—That the Street Inspector be instructed to complete the work commenced on Weller-st. so as to properly grade Weller-st and find an outlet for the water to the west.

After a little discussion the motion was lost and the Council adjourned at 11.20.

Honors in Oddfellowship.

Peterborough lodges are being honored in the higher circles of Oddfellowship. At the Grand Encampment of Ontario held at Kingston Mr. D. H. Moore was elected Grand High Priest, the second highest office, and the honor of the highest office no doubt awaits him. Mr. Moore is a member of Peterborough Lodge and of Mount Hebron Encampment. All Oddfellows in Peterborough, as well as the members of the two Encampments, will congratulate Mr. Moore.

Blocked by Logs.

When the steamer Golden Eye turned around the cemetery point this morning the river was found to be full of logs belonging to a Gilmour drive and the steamer could not get through. The Daisy, with a number of passengers on board, could be seen trying to force her way through. The Golden Eye returned to the wharf with her passengers. This blocking of navigation is a great inconvenience to travellers and traffic and some means of providing a remedy should be found. The Golden Eye will make her regular trip to-morrow.

Brevities.

—There was a fair market this morning.

—The 14th of August will be the civic holiday for certain now.

—Several new crossings are being laid in the centre of the town, all of cedar block.

—An order was sent to day for 500 feet of new hose for the fire department, 300 feet of Eureka and 200 feet of King hose.

—A report comes from Buckhorn of an immense maskinonge caught in that vicinity, rivalling the monsters fished out of the Bay of Quinte last year. Particulars, it is said, may be obtained from Mr. Chas. Burnham, now at Buckhorn.

KNOW HOW —TO— KEEP COOL!

In these cool days that succeed the hot weather of last week and which are to be followed by another heated term—so says the probs.—there is opportunity to consider the problem of cool dress. Men try to solve it by wearing the outing shirt and a light coat, discarding the vest altogether. But the warmest part of man's attire is his suspenders. They make his shoulders burn, as any one can testify who has taken a long walk on a hot summer day, the clothing near the place where the pressure of the suspenders comes is sure to be soaked with perspiration. And so the man who wears an outing shirt but who will stick to suspenders, has accomplished only half his purpose in keeping cool. Throw aside the suspenders, adopt the belt and summer days will lose half their terrors.

never, Ruric."

"If he asks you for your hand to bestow upon any of his friends, you will tell him—"

"That my heart is not mine to give, and that my hand cannot go without it."

"Oh—bless you, Rosalind—bless you! God keep and guard you ever."

There was one warm, ardent pressure of lip to lip, and then Ruric Nevel turned away, and was soon in the open court. Here he entered his sledge, and then drove to the barracks in the Khitagorod, where he inquired for Alaric Orsa, a lieutenant of the guard. The officer was quickly found, and as he met Ruric his salutation was warm and cordial. He was a young man, not over five-and-twenty, and one of the finest-looking soldiers in the guard.

"Alaric," said the gun-maker, after the first friendly salutations had passed, "I may have a meeting with Conrad, Count Damonoff. He has sought a quarrel—insulted me most grossly—aimed a blow at my head—and I knocked him down. You can judge as well as I what the result must be."

"Most surely he will challenge," cried the officer, excitedly.

"So I think," resumed Ruric, calmly. "And now, will you serve me in the event?"

"With pleasure."

"I may refer his messenger to you?"

"Yes—surely. And how shall I act? What will you do?"

"Knock him down again under the same provocation."

"I understand. You wish to retract nothing?"

"No. Listen; I will tell you all since I seek your aid."

And thereupon Ruric related all that had occurred at the time of the Count's visit to his shop.

"Good!" uttered Alaric, as the gun-maker finished. "He must challenge you and then you'll punish him. He's too proud now. He can handle some of his lilytops who associate with him; and perhaps he thinks he can do the same when he comes out among the harder men. But never mind—I will be punctual and faithful."

Ruric reached home just as his mother was placing the board for dinner. He often went away on business, and she thought not of asking him any questions.

CHAPTER IV.

In the afternoon Ruric retired to his shop, where he went to work upon a gun which had been ordered some days before. As yet he had said nothing to Paul concerning the affair of the day before since his return from the Kremlin. He asked him now, however, if anyone had called.

"Only the monk," returned Paul, without seeming to consider that there was anything very important in the visit.

"Do you mean the black monk—Valdimir?" asked the young man, starting.

"Yes, my master. He called here about the middle of the forenoon. He wanted one of the small daggers with the pearl haft."

"And did you let him have one?"

"Certainly. He paid me four ducats for it, and would have paid more had I been willing to take it."

"And did he make any conversation?"

"Yes. He asked me why the Count Damonoff came here yesterday."

"Ha—How he did he know of their visit?"

"He was waiting at the inn for a sledge when he overheard the Count and his companion conversing upon the subject."

"And did he ask you any questions touching the particulars?"

"Yes—many."

"And how answered you?

"I told him the whole story, from beginning to end. I found that he knew something of their purpose from what he accidently overheard, and rather than have him go away full of surmises, I told him all."

"Of the message, too?"

"Yes, my master. I told him all that happened, from the showing of the paper which the Duke had drawn up, to the departure of the angry man."

"And what did the monk say?" Ruric asked very earnestly.

"Why—he said he knew the Count, and that he was a proud, reckless fellow, and worth but little to society. That was all. He did not seem to care much about it anyway; only he said he should have done just as you did, and that every law of justice would hear you out. He had more curiosity than interest, though I am sure all his sympathies are with you."

"Very well," returned Ruric. "It can matter little what the monk thinks about it, though I would rather have him know the truth if he must know anything, for I would not be misunderstood."

"He understands it all now, my master; and I trust you are not offended at the liberty I took in telling him."

Not at all, Paul—not at all."

Here the conversation dropped, and the work was resumed in silence. It was past three o'clock when Ruric's mother came and informed him that a gentleman in the house would speak with him.

"Is it Stephen Urzen?" asked the youth.

His mother said it was.

Then bid him come out here."

Claudia retired and in a few moments more the gentleman made his appearance.

"Ruric Nevel," he said, bowing very stiffly and haughtily, "I bring a message from the Count Damonoff."

"Very well, sir," returned the gun-maker proudly. "I am ready to receive it."

Thereupon Urzen drew a sealed note from his pocket and handed it to Ruric, who took it and broke the seal. He opened it, and read as follows:

"RURIC NEVEL.—An insult of the most aggravating nature has for the time levelled all distinction of caste between us. Your blood alone can wash out the stain. I would not murder you outright, and in no other way but this can I reach you. My friend, the bearer of this, will make all arrangements. If you dare not meet me, say so, that all may know who is the coward.

DAMONOFF."

When Ruric had read the missive he crushed it in his hand, and gazed its bearer some moments in the face without speaking.

"Will you answer?" asked Urzen. He spoke more softly than before, for he saw something in the gun-maker's face he dared not provoke.

"Are you acquainted with Alaric Orsa, a lieutenant of the guard?"

"Yes, sir—I know him well."

"Then let me refer you to him. He will make all necessary arrangements, and I shall hold myself bound by his plans. I trust that is satisfactory."

"Yes, sir."

"Then you and I need have no more to say."

"Only on one point," said Urzen, with some little show of confusion. "You are the challenged party, and you will have the choice of weapons. The Count has not mentioned this—mind you he has not; but I, as his friend, deem it no more than right to speak of it—I trust you will choose a gentleman's weapon. In the use of the pistol, or the gun, he is not versed."

"While you imagine I am," said Ruric with a contemptuous curl of the lip; for he knew that the man was lying. He could see by the fellow's very looks that Damonoff had commissioned him to broach this matter.

"Of course you are," returned Urzen.

"And the Count is most excellently versed in the use of the sword, is he not?"

"He is accounted a fair swordsman."

"Aye—so I thought. But it matters not to me. The thought had not entered my mind before, save that I supposed swords would be the only weapons thought of. However, Orsa will settle it with you. I have given him no directions at all, save to serve me as he thinks proper, and to act upon the understanding that if I have given offence to the Count, I would do the same again under provocation. You understand now!"

"I do, sir," returned Urzen, in a choking tone.

"Then wait a moment, and I will give you a message to Orsa."

Thus speaking Ruric went to his desk, and upon the bottom of the missive he had received from the Count he wrote:

"DEAR ALARIC—I send this to you by the same hand that bore it to me, and you are hereby empowered to act for me as you may deem proper. I shall be governed strictly by your arrangements.

"RURIC."

To be continued.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

The New Fad is for Conventional Fancy Work on Linen.

There never was a greater variety of styles of linen embroidery than at the present day, says Good Housekeeping. The prevailing taste is for conventional rather than artistic work, and even the old-fashioned cross stitch is becoming revived. Center pieces have been a pretty fashion of table decoration for some time. If sufficiently independent to run the risk of being considered a little behind the times we may convert our old sheets into beautiful sets of center piece and doylies that will never fail to win admiration. For the center piece hemstitch a square that will be twenty-seven inches after a hem two inches in width has been made. Procure a perforated pattern of seaweed and shells, which can be found at any designer's, and stamp this pattern all around the edge of the square. Make the doylies nine inches square, with a hemstitched fringe about an inch wide, and by selecting portions of the design for each one manage to have them different from each other.

Now, if choosing to trace the outlines with indelible ink, a very pretty and durable set, which will cost very little work, may be had, but it will not have the dainty beauty of color that more work will give it. Select, in filo-floss wash silk, delicate shade of salmon pink, golden brown and pale Nile green. Outline the graceful tracery of the seaweed in the green and pink, and use the brown for all the shells except the little scallop shells, which should be pink. If using linen sheeting, it will not be necessary to split the silk, but if the material should be fine linen lawn the silk should be split for the seaweed, though the shells are more effective if worked with a single thickness.

Rules for Dyspeptics.

People who suffer from acute indigestion will be interested in considering how far the following rules laid down by an English physician for such cases are applicable to them.

Do not eat beef; it is too hearty for the average dyspeptic. Eat the lean of mutton (boiled preferred).

Bacon in small quantities may be eaten also thin slices of aerated bread fried in bacon fat; also boiled pig's feet and tripe and the fish not known as oily fish,

Eat no fruit. Of vegetables partake sparingly of baked potatoes, rice and boiled peas.

Bread may be eaten (aerated bread preferred) in thin slices toasted until they are brittle.

The brown meat of fowl may be eaten. Avoid all gravies and sauces.

Abstain from all liquors and drink no tea unless it be fresh made.

Eat no eggs, except fresh raw, well whipped. Sugar should be avoided.

Drink no iced water; partake freely of hot water and hot milk (not boiled).

Lie down for twenty minutes after each meal.

Remedy for Obstinate Nose Bleeding.

Obstinate nose bleeding sometimes resists the ordinary remedies and is found very difficult to check. In several severe cases Dr. D. H. Agnew is reported to have used ham fat with marked success. Two large cylinders of bacon were forced well into the nostrils and the hemorrhage quickly ceased. This is a simple remedy worthy to be remembered, especially by people at a distance from a physician.

The Tomato of Small Nutritive Value.

It is evident that the tomato cannot be valued as a nutritious food, says the chemist of the Maryland experiment station. It is so poor in nutritive elements that its value must depend upon those constituents which gratify the sense of sight, taste and smell, promote appetite, aid digestion and in other ways contribute to health and pleasure.

Cannot Afford to Get Angry.

Temper is never permitted to get the better of Mme. Modjeska. She says: "I cannot afford to get angry. A woman at my time of life must economize her emotions and her nerves if she wants to hold the remnants of her youth and beauty."

Mackenzie's Release Ordered.

OTTAWA, July 23.—The Governor-General has ordered the release of John Mackenzie, who has been in the Central Prison, Toronto for eight months and who is suffering from ill-health. Mackenzie was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment for larceny at Port Arthur.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00 you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

THE BEHRING SEA PAPERS

TRANSMITTED TO CONGRESS BY PRESIDENT HARRISON.

Secretary Blaine's Presentation of the United States' Case—Lord Salisbury Exposes the Fallacies in His Argument—Protests, Recriminations and a Warning—Canada Consulted.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The President today sent to the House of Representatives, in answer to the resolution introduced by Representative Hitt, the official correspondence between the Government of the United States and the Government of Great Britain touching the seal fisheries of Behring Sea. In his accompanying letter transmitted to the President Secretary Blaine, under date of Bar Harbor, July 19, regrets the delay in transmission which the President directed July 11, and says the correspondence is still in progress. The correspondence includes 20 separate papers, beginning with a letter from Mr. Edwards, first secretary of legation and charge d' affaires after Minister West's recall, dated Aug. 24, 1889, and closing with one from Secretary Blaine to Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, dated July 19, 1890. The first letter from Mr. Edwards to Mr. Blaine reads as follows:

BAR HARBOR, Aug. 24, 1889.

SIR,—In accordance with instructions which I have received from Her Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, I have the honor to state to you that repeated rumors have of late reached Her Majesty's Government that United States cruisers have stopped, searched and even seized British vessels in Behring Sea outside the three-mile limit from the nearest land. Although no official confirmation of these rumors has reached Her Majesty's Government, there appears to be no reason to doubt their authenticity. I am desired by the Marquis of Salisbury to enquire whether the United States Government are in possession of similar information and further to ask that stringent instructions may be sent by the United States Government, at the earliest moment, to their officers with the view to prevent the possibility of such occurrences taking place. In continuation of my instructions I have the honor to remind you that Her Majesty's Government received very clear assurances last year from Mr. Bayard, at that time Secretary of State, that pending the discussion of the general questions at issue, no further interference should take place with British vessels in Behring Sea.

In conclusion, the Marquis of Salisbury desires me to say that Sir Julian Pauncefote, Her Majesty's Minister, will be prepared on his return to Washington in the autumn to discuss the whole question, and Her Majesty's Government wish to point out to the United States Government that a settlement cannot but be hindered by any measures of force which may be resorted to by the United States. H. G. EDWARDS.

To this letter Mr. Blaine replied on the same day and, at the same place that the same rumors, probably based on truth, have reached the Government of the United States; but that up to date there had been no official communication received on the subject. He adds: "It has been and is the earnest desire of the President of the United States to have such an adjustment as shall remove all possible ground of misunderstanding with Her Majesty's Government concerning the existing troubles in the Behring Sea, and the President believes that the responsibility for delay in the adjustment cannot be properly charged to the Government of the United States. In the opinion of the President the points at issue between the two Governments are capable of prompt adjustment on a basis entirely honorable to both."

Sept. 12 last year Mr. Edwards asked when he might expect an answer to the request of his Government made Aug. 24 that instructions might be sent to Alaska to prevent the probability of the seizure of British ships in Behring Sea. He says Her Majesty's Government are earnestly awaiting the reply of the United States Government on this subject, as the recent reports of seizures having taken place are causing much excitement in England and Canada.

Mr. Blaine, still at Bar Harbor, Sept. 14, replied that he had supposed Her Majesty's Government was satisfied of the President's earnest desire to come to a friendly agreement touching Behring Sea and that the official instruction to Sir Julian Pauncefote (the new Minister at Washington), to proceed immediately after his arrival in October to a full discussion of the question removed all necessity for preliminary correspondence touching its merits.

Referring to Mr. Edwards' question he says: "A categorical response would have been and still is impracticable, unjust to this Government and misleading to the Government of Her Majesty. It was therefore the judgment of the President that the whole subject would more wisely be remanded to the formal discussion, so near at hand, which Her Majesty's Government has proposed and to which the Government of the United States has cordially assented. It is proper, however, to add that any instructions sent to Behring Sea at the time of your original request upon Aug. 24 would have failed to reach those waters before the departure of the vessels of the United States."

Next Mr. Edwards left at the Department of State a despatch received by him from the Marquis of Salisbury, in which he recalls that in 1886 and 1887, when the seizures made in Behring Sea were under discussion, the United States Minister had made overtures with respect to the institution of a close time for the seal fisheries to prevent the extirpation of seals in that part of the world. He says that, without admitting the justice of the seizures, his Government was very ready to agree that the subject was one deserving of the gravest attention, and that the Russian Government was disposed to join in the proposed negotiations, but they were suspended for a time in consequence of objections raised by the Dominion of Canada and of doubts thrown on the physical data on which any restrictive legislation must have been based. The Marquis adds:

"Her Majesty's Government are fully sensible of the importance of this question and of the great value which will attach to an international agreement in respect to it. Her Majesty's representative will be furnished with the requisite instructions in case the Secretary of State should be willing to enter upon the discussion."

In another letter to Mr. Edwards, dated Oct. 2 last, the Marquis transmits copies of affidavits bearing on the seizures of the British sealers Black Diamond and Triumph by the United States revenue cutter Rush. He says further:

"It is apparent from these affidavits that the vessels were seized at a distance far in excess of the limit of maritime jurisdiction which any nation can claim by international law. The cases are similar in this respect to those of the ships Caroline, Onward and Thornton, which were seized by a vessel of the United States outside territorial waters in the summer of 1887. In a despatch to Sir L. West, dated Sept. 10, 1887, which was communicated to Mr. Bayard, I drew the attention of the Government of the United States to the illegality of these proceedings and expressed a hope that due compensation would be awarded to the subjects of Her Majesty who had suffered from them. I have not since that time received from the Government of the United States any intimation of their intentions in this respect or any explanation of the grounds upon which this interference with the British sealers had been authorized. Mr. Bayard did indeed communicate to us unofficially an assurance that no further seizures of this character should take place pending the discussion of the questions involved between the two Governments.

"Her Majesty's Government much regret to find that this understanding has not been carried forward into the present year and that instructions have been issued to cruisers of the United States to seize British vessels fishing for seals in Behring Sea outside the limit of territorial waters. The grounds upon which these violent measures have been taken have not been communicated to Her Majesty's Government and still remain unexplained. But in view of the unexpected renewal of these seizures of which Her Majesty's Government have previously complained, it is my duty to protest against them and to state that in the opinion of Her Majesty's Government they are wholly unjustified by international law."

It appears that Mr. Blaine enquired what authority there was for the above stated assurance of Mr. Bayard, as in a note on Oct. 14 last Mr. Edwards said it was an assurance communicated unofficially to His Lordship by the United States Minister in London, and also by Mr. Bayard to Minister West in April, 1888.

The correspondence between Secretary Blaine and the new British minister began Jan. 22 of this year with a very long letter from the Secretary to Sir Julian Pauncefote. The Secretary opened with an acknowledgment of the receipt of the papers bearing on the seizures made by the Rush. He says:

In the opinion of the President the Canadian vessels arrested and detained in Behring Sea were engaged in a pursuit that was in itself contra bonos mores, a pursuit which of necessity involves a serious and permanent injury to the rights of the Government and people of the United States. To establish his ground it is not necessary to argue the question of the extent and nature of the sovereignty of this Government over the waters of Behring Sea, it is not necessary to explain, certainly not to define, the powers and privileges ceded by His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Russia in the treaty by which the Alaskan territory was transferred to the United States.

"The weighty considerations growing out of the acquisition of that territory, with all the rights on land and sea inseparably connected therewith, may be safely left out of view, while the grounds are set forth upon which this Government rests its justification for the action complained of by Her Majesty's Government."

The Secretary then speaks of the value of the seal fisheries, which were controlled by Russia without interference or question until the cession of Alaska to the United States in 1867. This undisturbed possession continued to the United States until 1886, passing whaling vessels abstaining from seal capture. He says this uniform avoidance of all attempts to take fur seal in those waters had been a constant recognition of the rights held and exercised first by Russia and subsequently by this government. It had also been the recognition of a fact, now held beyond denial or doubt, that the taking of seals in the open sea rapidly leads to their extinction.

The Secretary says this is proved not only by expert testimony but by the total destruction of all seal fisheries, except the one in Behring Sea, which the Government of the United States is now striving to preserve not altogether for the use of the American people, but for the use of the world at large. He recites the successful efforts of the United States Government to improve and preserve the fisheries, resulting in the payment of more than $12,000,000 to English laborers for the preparation of the seal skins and the elevation to civilization of the natives of the Alaskan islands. He says:

"This, in brief, was the condition of the Alaska fur seal fisheries down to the year 1886. The precedents, customs and rights had been established and enjoyed either by Russia or the United States for nearly a century. The two nations were the only powers that owned a foot of land on the continents that bordered on the islands included within the Behring waters where the seals resort to breed.

"Into this peaceful and secluded field of labor, whose benefits were so equitably shared by the native Aleuts of the Pribyloff islands, by the United States and by England; certain Canadian vessels in 1886 asserted their right to enter, and by their ruthless course to destroy the fisheries, and with them to destroy also the resulting industries which are so valuable.

"The government of the United States at once proceeded to check this movement which, unchecked, was sure to do great and irreparable harm.

"It was cause of unfeigned surprise to the United States that Her Majesty's Government should immediately interfere to defend and encourage (surely to encourage by defending) the course of the Canadians in disturbing an industry which had been carefully developed for more than ninety years under the flags of Russia and the United States—developed in such manner as not to interfere with the public rights or the private industries of any people or any person.

"Whence did the ships of Canada derive the right to do in 1886 that which they had refrained from doing for more than 90 years? Upon what grounds did Her Majesty's Government defend in the year 1886 a course of conduct in Behring Sea which she had carefully avoided ever since the discovery of that sea? By what reasoning did Her Majesty's Government conclude that an act may be committed with impunity against the rights of the United States which had never been attempted against the same rights when held by the Russian Empire?

"So great has been the injury to the fisheries from the irregular and destructive slaughter of seals in the open waters of Behring Sea by Canadian vessels that, whereas the Government had allowed 100,000 to be taken annually for a series of years, it is now compelled to reduce the number to 60,000. If four years of this violation of natural law and neighbors' rights has reduced the annual slaughter of seal by 40 per cent, it is easy to see how short a period will be required to work the total destruction of the fisheries.

"The ground upon which Her Majesty's Government justifies or at least defends the course of the Canadian vessels rests upon the fact that they are committing these acts of destruction on the high seas, viz.: more than three marine leagues from the shore line. It is doubtful whether Her Majesty's Government would abide by this rule if the attempt were made to interfere with the pearl fisheries of Ceylon, which extend more than 20 miles from the shore line and have been enjoyed by England without molestation ever since their acquisition. So well recognized is the British ownership of those fisheries, regardless of the limit of the three mile line, that Her Majesty's Government feels authorized to sell the pearl fisheries right from year to year to the highest bidder.

"Nor is it creditable that modes of fishing in the Grand Banks altogether practicable but highly destructive would be justified or even permitted by Great Britain on the plea that the vicious acts were committed more than three miles from shore. There are, according to scientific authority, great "colonies" of fish on the Newfoundland bank. These 'colonies' resemble the seals of great populations on land. They remain stationary, having limited range of water in which to live and die. In these great 'colonies' it is, according to expert judgment, comparatively easy to explode dynamite or giant powder in such manner as to kill vast quantities of fish and at the same time destroy countless numbers of eggs.

"Stringent laws have been necessary to prevent the taking of fish by the use of dynamite in many of the rivers and lakes of the United States. The same mode of fishing could readily be adopted with effect on the more shallow parts of the banks; but the destruction of fish in proportion to the catch, says a high authority, might be as great as ten thousand to one. Would Her Majesty's Government think that so wicked an act could not be prevented and its perpetrators punished, simply because it had been committed outside of the three mile line?

"Why are not the two cases parallel? The Canadian vessels are engaged in the taking of fur seal in a manner that destroys the power of reproduction and ensures the extermination of the species. In exterminating the species, an article useful to mankind is totally destroyed in order that temporary and immoral gain may be acquired by a few persons. By the employment of dynamite on the banks it is not probable that the total destruction of fish could be accomplished, but a serious diminution of a valuable food for man might assuredly result.

"Does Her Majesty's Government seriously maintain that the law of nations is powerless to prevent such violation of the common rights of man? Are the supporters of justice in all nations to be declared incompetent to prevent wrongs so odious and so destructive?

"The forcible resistance to which this government is constrained in Behring Sea is, in the President's judgment, demanded not only by the necessity of defending the traditional long established rights of the United States, but also the rights of good government and good morals the world over. In this contention the government of the United States has no occasion and no desire to withdraw or modify the position which it has at any time maintained against the claims of the Imperial Government of Russia. The United States will not withhold from any nation the privileges which it demanded for itself when Alaska was part of the Russian empire. Nor is the Government of the United States disposed to exercise in those possessions any less power or authority than it was willing to concede to the Imperial Government of Russia when its sovereignty extended over them. The President is persuaded that all friendly nations will concede to the United States the same rights and privileges on the lands and in the waters of Alaska which the same friendly nations always conceded to the Empire of Russia."

Sir Julian Pauncefote Feb. 10 informed Mr. Blaine that his Government was willing to adopt the suggestion that the tripartite negotiations suspended in London in 1888 be resumed in Washington.

Mr. Blaine sent the British Minister a pamphlet containing a large mass of evidence given by experienced officers of the United States to demonstrate that the killing of seals in the open sea tends rapidly to exterminate the species. Mr. Blaine also proffered further evidence.

Sir Julian wrote Mr. Blaine that in view of the divergent views held, no solution would satisfy public opinion in Canada or Great Britain without a full enquiry by a mixed commission of experts. He was prepared to recommend to his Government provisional measures to remove apprehension of depletion of the fur seal species pending the commission's report. He cites authorities to show the number of seals is increasing and that the destruction caused by pelagic sealing is insignificant compared with that caused by the seal's natural enemies. He gives affidavits of seal hunters and other papers to show that the destructive nature of the modes of killing seal by spears and firearms has been exaggerated. The Canadian Government estimate the percentage of seals wounded or killed and not recovered at six per cent. The minister, to quiet all apprehensions on this score, proposes these provisional regulations:

1. That pelagic sealing should be prohibited in Behring Sea, the Sea of Okhotsk and the adjoining waters during May and June, and during October, November and December, the "migration periods" of the seal.

2. That all sealing vessels should be prohibited from approaching within 10 miles of the breeding islands.

These regulations should stop the slaughter of female seals with young during the navigation periods and the destruction of female seals by marauders landing on the breeding islands during dense fogs. This regulation if accepted by Her Majesty's Government would certainly manifest a friendly desire on their part to co-operate with your Government and that of Russia in the protection of their rookeries.

The minister encloses the draft of a preliminary convention providing for the appointment of a mixed commission to report on specified questions within two years. The draft contains the above temporary regulations.

The draft adopts the fishery line suggested at the outset by Mr. Blaine. The Minister says the draft contemplates the conclusion of a further convention after the commissioners' report is examined. It also provides for the ultimate settlement by arbitration of differences which the report may fail to adjust. The draft provides that the other powers shall be invited to accede to it.

Lord Salisbury, May 22 last, in a letter to the British Minister, says the negotiations afford strong reason to hope for a satisfactory adjustment and undertakes to reply to Mr. Blaine's arguments. He says:

"It is obvious two questions are involved: first, whether the pursuit and killing of fur seals in certain parts of the open sea is, from the point of view of international morality, an offence contra bonos mores, and, secondly, whether, if such be the case, this fact justifies the seizure on the high seas and subsequent confiscation in time of peace of the private vessels of a friendly nation. That such action is only admissible in the case of piracy or in pursuance of special international agreement is a principle universally admitted by jurists and distinctly laid down by President Tyler in his special message to Congress Feb. 27, 1843. Lord Salisbury argues that pursuit of seals in the open sea has never been considered as piracy, and even if the United States should declare it piracy the United States Government could not punish foreign citizens violating such a law outside the territorial jurisdiction of the United States."

He then says that Her Majesty's Government must question whether this pursuit can itself be regarded as contra bonos mores until it has been agreed by international arrangement to forbid it. Fur seals are animals feræ naturæ and they have universally been regarded by jurists as res nullius until they are caught.

"It requires something more than a mere declaration that the Government or citizens of the United States or even other countries interested in the seal trade are losers by a certain course of proceeding to render that course immoral." He declares that his Government is ready to consider a remedy if the United States has been injured by the pursuit of fur seals by British vessels on the seas, but says it would be unable on that ground to depart from a principle on which free commerce on the high seas depends.

Says the Marquis: "The negotiations now being carried on at Washington prove the readiness of Her Majesty's Government to consider whether any special international agreement is necessary for the protection of the fur seal industry. In its absence they are unable to admit that the case put forward on behalf of the United States affords any sufficient justification for the forcible action already taken by them against peaceable subjects of Her Majesty engaged in lawful operations on the high seas."

The Marquis declares that, in accord with the views which previous to the present controversy were successfully maintained by the United States, his Government has opposed all claims to exclusive privileges in the non-territorial waters of Behring Sea. The rights it has demanded have been free navigation and fishing in waters which previous to their acquisition of Alaska the United States declared to be free and open to all foreign vessels.

The British Minister, writing to Mr. Blaine, May 29, says that as the Secretary has confirmed the newspaper statements that revenue cutters have been ordered to Behring Sea to seize foreign sealers, a formal protest against such interference with British vessels will be forwarded without delay.

Mr. Blaine on May 29 writes Sir Julian that he is instructed by the President to protest against the course of the British Government in authorizing and protecting vessels which are interfering with American rights in Behring Sea and are doing violence to the rights of the civilized world. The Secretary sketches the history of the negotiations under the previous administration and says that from Nov. 11, 1887 to April 28, 1888, Lord Salisbury had in every form of speech assented to the necessity of a close season for the protection of seals. These assurances were given to the American Minister, to the American charge, to the Russian Ambassador and on more than one occasion to two of them together. The United States had no reason, therefore, to doubt that the whole dispute touching the seal fisheries was practically settled.

Mr. Blaine says that five days after that assurance Lord Salisbury said that neither an act of Parliament to give effect to seal fishery regulation nor an order-in-council to have naval vessels co-operate in the matter could be adopted "until Canada is heard from." "Mr. Blaine says "This Government cannot but feel that Lord Salisbury would have dealt more frankly if in the beginning he had informed Minister Phelps that no arrangement could be made unless Canada concurred in it and that all negotiation with the British Government was but a loss of time.

Mr. Blaine objects to Sir Julian's provisional arrangement on the ground that the open season selected by the latter would find the islands most crowded with seals, especially females, going forth for food for their young, and that deadly loss would follow. The sealing vessels would respect the 10-mile limit as wolves respect a flock of sheep. He says that the last proposition is in significant contrast with that made by Lord Salisbury in 1888, and remarks that the result with which the United States is expected to be content is that her rights within Behring Sea and on the islands are to be determined by one of Her Majesty's provinces. He says England would rightfully complain if an arrangement between her representative and the representative of the United States were broken off at the wish of California. Therefore the minister's proposition is rejected and negotiations are to be continued.

On June 14 Sir Julian presented his Government's formal protest against the instructions issued to United States revenue cruisers to interfere with the vessels of British subjects engaged in the seal fisheries on the high seas. The protest, says the minister, is instructed: "To declare that Her Britannic Majesty's Government must hold the Government of the United States responsible for the consequences that may ensue from acts which are contrary to the established principles of international law."

The correspondence closes with a letter of Mr. Blaine which would fill 20 newspaper columns, but which is a mere re-statement of the United States' position.

A Resolution of Sympathy—A Methodist Excursion—Personal and Other Notes.

Correspondence of the Review.

A RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.—At the regular communication of Clementi Lodge No. 313, A. F. and A. M., G. R. C., the following resolution was tendered to Mr. T. J. Bird on learning of the death of his mother, Mrs. E. Urquhart:—

To our Bro. Mr. T. J. Bird:—

DEAR SIR AND BRO.—It was with deep sympathetic sorrow that we your brethren of Clementi Lodge, No. 313, A. F. & A. M., G. R. C., became aware that the Grand Architect of the Universe had bereft your home of your loving mother, the sharer of your joys and of your sorrows, your guardian through ill and through good and the sole companion of later years in your home.

Dear brother, this lodge with which you are connected desires to extend to you its unbounded sympathy in your bereavement, and to direct your trust to the Grand Geometrician of the Universe, who having formed all things doeth all things for good.

Life with us all is fleeting, and to each of us comes the sorrow of parting with our loved ones for the last time on earth. May we, therefore, trust and believe and take consolation from the sure knowledge we have that the Most High in His infinite wisdom has so ordained it that we may by our lives here on earth build up an inheritance beyond the skies where parting and sorrow are known no more, where loved ones meet again never to part and where happiness is forever established.

Kindly accept, dear Brother Bird, the warm sympathy of Clementi Lodge, on whose behalf we subscribe.

WOR. BRO. ROBERT GRAHAM, P.M.

EXCURSION.—Under the auspices of the Methodist church a large excursion to Stony Lake took place on Tuesday, July 22nd, the steamer Cruiser and palace scow being crowded. Capt. Reynolds was, as usual, most obliging and considerate and the excursionists enjoyed themselves to the utmost. The weather was fine, with a cool breeze, so they had everything in their favor for a pleasant day.

FROM TORONTO.—Many Toronto people are now staying in Lakefield—Mr. and Mrs. Whitney and family, who have rented "D'Eyncourt Park," the beautiful residence of Mr. L. P. Strickland; Mr. and Mrs. Arnoldi at "Gwynedon," the residence of Mrs. Rolleston; Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown at the residence of Mr. F. I. Tate; Miss Sydney Tully has been paying a visit to Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Strickland; Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Baldwin, of Toronto, are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Whitney at D'Eyncourt Park.

PERSONALS.—Mr. Frank Webb-Peploe, of Cambridge College, England, is paying a short visit to his old Lakefield friends.... Mrs. F. R. S. Barlee and daughter are paying a visit to her father, Mr. H. T. Strickland, at Lake Cottage, Ashburnham....Mr. Alfred Le Fevre passed fifth in the recent entrance examination for the Royal Military College. Lakefield well to the front as usual.

VANDALISM.—On Sunday some of the "jack-knife whittlers" of the village amused themselves by cutting the hose of the Lakefield Lumber Company in about six places. This hose is kept on a hydrant close to the burning kiln to protect the lumber and surrounding property. By this wanton mischief thirty or forty dollars worth of damage was done.

ODDFELLOWS AT KINGSTON.

The Celebration a Great Success—Competitive Drill of the Patriarchs.

KINGSTON, July 23.—The Oddfellows' demonstration yesterday and to-day has been a great success. There was a great crowd in the city to-day, cantons of patriarchs-militant being here from Rochester, Oswego, Watertown, Belleville, Montreal, Ottawa, St. Thomas and Kingston, and delegations from many cities and towns in New York and Ontario. This afternoon four hours were spent in competitive drill, but results will not be announced until after tomorrow's exhibition.

Labor Day at Halifax yesterday was observed as a public holiday.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

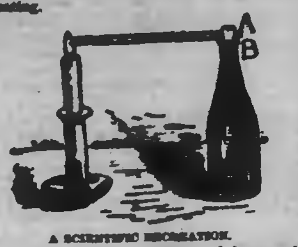
SCIENTIFIC THINGS.

SCIENTIFIC RECREATIONS AND POPULAR NEWS OF THE DAY.

Pleasing Experiment That Shows the Different Degrees of Conductibility of Heat in Metals—Copper Better Than Iron.

To show the different conductibility of heat of different metals take two stout wires, one of iron (A) and one of copper (B), heat them gently and rub a piece of paraffine or wax over them, so as to give them a thin coating.



A SCIENTIFIC RECREATION.

Then support them at one end by a cork placed in a bottle, taking care to incline the wires a very little toward the cork. Then place the other end in the flame of a candle, as shown in the illustration, and in a few seconds the paraffine will begin to melt and the resulting drop slowly move toward the bottle. It will be at once evident that the coating on the copper wire melts much faster than that on the iron, showing that the former is a better conductor of heat. The experiment may be varied by attaching a grain of shot or any small object to the wires by a bit of wax. If both are placed at the same distance from the candle flame the one attached to the wire which is the best conductor of heat will drop first. In this connection it may be mentioned that copper is almost the best conductor known, both of heat and electricity, being only exceeded by silver in a very slight degree. The foregoing recreation, originally illustrated in La Nature, was recently described by Popular Science News.

Artificial Ice Making.

A bath of salt and water is cooled by contact with pipes containing condensed ammonia. Into the bath the cans containing the distilled water are partially immersed, and the freezing process is perfected. One great advantage of the system is that the ice is in the cubes of uniform size and weight, and no scales are necessary in delivery. The cakes may be counted off like baker's biscuit.

The cost of a machine that will turn out fifty tons a day is about $80,000. The 120 ton machine is worth $160,000. This is, of course, exclusive of cost of land and buildings. Two engineers and two firemen are necessary for each factory, and six laborers for each machine. The system of manufacture, as described above by The Chicago Tribune, is known as the compression anhydrous-ammonia system.

Curious Facts About Turnip Seeds.

The seed of a globe turnip is exceedingly minute, not larger, perhaps, than the twentieth part of an inch in diameter, and yet in the course of a few months this seed will be elaborated by the soil and the atmosphere into twenty-seven millions of times its original bulk, and this in addition to a considerable bunch of leaves. Dr. Desaguliers has made some experiments proving that, in an average condition, a turnip seed may increase its own weight fifteen times in a minute. By an actual experiment made on peat ground turnips have been found to increase by growth fifteen thousand nine hundred and ninety times the weight of their seeds each day they stood upon it.

Composition for Softening Leather.

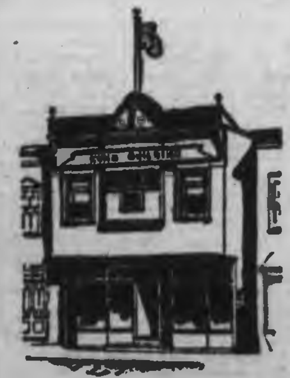
Dr. Zeroastroff, of Belostok, recommends a composition of olive oil four parts, lard four parts and one part caoutchouc (raw rubber), melted together on a slow fire, for making leather boots soft, pliable, shining and waterproof and increasing their durability. Having moistened the sole of the boot with water, the inventor warms the boot in a stove or before a fire and then smears it over with the compound.

A STORE BUILDING.

Although Inexpensive it is Not a Commonplace Affair.

There is no better opportunity for putting money in the purse than is afforded by building and letting low-cost but pretty stores in thriving villages. Shopkeepers instantly see the advantage; and bid against each other for leases, which results in high rentals.

Bearing in mind that an attractive store is built at very little cost in excess of building an unattractive one, it seems inexplicable that nearly all of such buildings should be commonplace. The most reasonable explanation is that the owner is determined to avoid paying a small fee to an architect, much the same as when he is seriously ill he may "doctor" himself with patent medicines. Unfortunately for the appearance of our villages this state of things promises to last a long time—there are so many people enjoying good health who have money without taste, and who unhappily are addicted to building.

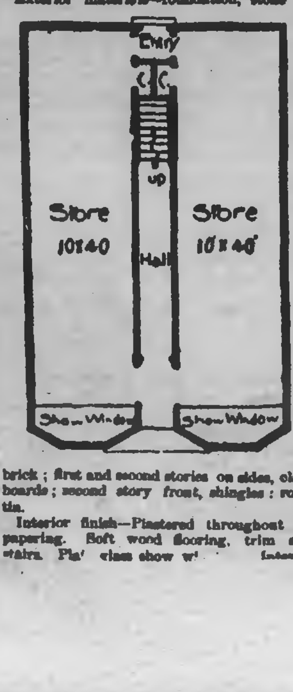


PERSPECTIVE OF FRONT.

The design given herewith is regarded as a good one for the purpose referred to. Following will be found a somewhat detailed description:

General dimensions—Width, 25 feet; depth, 41 feet, 6 inches. Heights of stories: First story, 10 feet; second story, 15 feet.

Exterior materials—foundation, stone or brick; first and second stories on sides, clapboards; second story front, shingles: roof, tin.

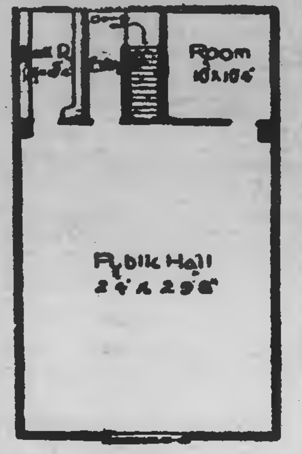


Interior finish—Plastered throughout for papering. Soft wood flooring, trim and stairs. Plate glass show windows. Interior woodwork, finished natural color with boiled oil.

Colors—All clapboards, trim and outside doors, dark green. Shingles on front dipped and brush coated red stain. Sign, red with gold lettering.

Accommodations—The principal rooms and their sizes are shown by the floor plans. No cellar nor attic. Two stores, with front and rear entrances, on first floor; public hall with clock and dressing rooms, on second floor. Chimneys are provided at each side of the building.

Cost—$2,800. The estimate is based on New York prices for material and labor. In many sections of the country the cost should be less.



Feasible modifications—Heights of stories, colors, sizes of rooms and kind of materials may be changed. Cellar may be placed under a part or whole of the building. Peaked roof may be built in place of the flat roof, giving attic rooms; or a third story may be added at moderate cost. The second story may be planned as a dwelling. The first story may be planned as one large store. The whole building may be used for store purposes.

A Famous Clock.

One of the best known clocks in the United States is probably that which surmounts the old State house in Independence square, Philadelphia. It is said to have been made by Seneca Lukens, a Quaker watchmaker who lived in the country, and whose custom it was to go to the city once a year to wind up and oil the clock, a custom which he continued till his death about 1835. This ancient clock is the companion of the "Liberty Bell," which was rung on the occasion of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776, in the room on the ground floor fronting on Chestnut street on the left of the main hall.

Lodges will also attend from Cavanville, Fraserville, Janetville, Pontypool and other points. Special trains will run on the C. P. R. The members of Lodges at Norwood have details well in hand and a successful day is expected.

The Central Fair.

The directors of the Central fair are at work forwarding the matters connected with the exhibition next September. The prize list has been revised and enlarged. It is the intention to secure if possible the attendance of the Governor-General or Sir John Macdonald on the opening day and which fact will be announced later. The feeling is that a very successful and interesting exhibition can be made and a concerted effort in that direction is being urged. It is understood that the local St. Andrew's society will assist the directors in a special way and will invite the attendance of the St. Andrew's society, of Toronto, on one of the day's of the fair.

CONSECRATING A CEMETERY.

Bishop O'Connor Officiates at Norwood—Presented with an Address.

On Sunday last His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was at Norwood and officiated at high mass in the morning, and immediately afterwards consecrated the new addition to the Asphodel cemetery. Of the interesting ceremony the Hastings Star says:—"The congregation of the R. C. church in Norwood, was edified on last Sunday by the arrival of Bishop O'Connor in the parish, the occasion of his Lordship's visit being the consecration of the newly-acquired addition to the Asphodel cemetery. Immediately after high mass in Norwood, His Lordship, Father Conway, and the entire congregation, which was augmented by large numbers from this section, wended their way to the cemetery. The plot to be consecrated was indicated by small, wooden crosses placed at intervals along the boundaries, a larger cross being erected in the centre of the plot. On the arms and bases of the crosses, were fixed lighted wax candles. All being in readiness, the Bishop, attired in mitre and cope, attended by a priest on his left carrying the crozier, Father Conway on the right, and followed by two surpliced boys, the one bearing a censer, the other with holy water, knelt at the foot of the cross in centre; the Bishop recited the litany of the Saints, the clergy and laity responding. Similar prayers were offered at the cross at the entrance, after which the consecrator and attendants made the rounds of the plot, the Bishop sprinkling on all sides as they went. Father Conway, preceding, chanting the prayers for the occasion, the ceremony ending by the Bishop invoking a blessing on the assemblage, and prayers for the souls already interred."

PRESENTED WITH AN ADDRESS.

While at the church in Norwood the Bishop was presented with the following address by the congregation of the parish of Norwood and vicinity:—

To Rt. Rev. R. A. O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough:—

My Lord,—We, the residents of this parish, gladly welcome you on this, your first official visit to us. Having heard of your many earnest and zealous works in the archdiocese of Toronto, where your Lordship labored so long and so successfully, we hailed with delight the news of your appointment to Peterborough to take charge of this young diocese; your successful labors in the past is a guarantee of your success here; your constant work is a proof of this—may its continuation be long.

We scarcely know, however, what to say of ourselves, but we ask your Lordship to judge of us by our works. A little more than two years ago, our respected pastor came to take charge of us. We then were little and had but little. To-day we have a residence for our pastor, our church renovated and equipped, a good choir with a new organ. Our cemetery is now in a respectable condition, and when consecrated by your Lordship, will be a fit resting place for our dead. Last but not least, our parish owes no man a dollar.

We have to express our gratitude in your Lordship's presence, to our worthy pastor who spared neither himself nor his pocket in leading us to the proud and happy position we hold.

We fervently pray that your Lordship may ye left long to your young diocese, and now ask your blessing.

Signed on behalf of the congregation of St. Paul's Church, Norwood.

Dennis Hurley, John Fitzpatrick, W.; Jas. McCarthy, J. Murphy, J. Fitzpatrick, S.; Chas. O'Reilly, Richard Walsh, David Kelly, Wm. O'Shea, W. H. Mullins, M. English, R. Coughlin.

His Lordship's reply was brief, but was feeling and appropriate.

They Travelled Too Fast.

On Monday night last two young men hired a livery horse and went out for a drive. The rate at which they made the animal travel was not, it appears, in keeping with the rules and regulations of street navigation. As a result on Tuesday morning they were before the Magistrate charged with immoderate driving. They pleaded not guilty and in absence of witnesses the case was enlarged until this morning. Neither of the accused appeared when their names were called at the court this morning. However the evidence in the case was taken and the young men were each fined five dollars or ten days in gaol.

Koh-i-nur! Koh-i-nur!

Every brand of tea has its own peculiarities. So to get a perfect Tea, you can only do so by blending these different kinds in proportion, that by so doing the one flavor benefits the other. This being the case, how is it possible to obtain such perfection? Only by a long practical experience and having at your disposal large quantities of the several Brands to operate with. Such are the conditions by which the Tea is introduced for the first time to the Canadian public under the name and brand of KOH-I-NUR. This Tea has been carefully blended by those who have been engaged, and have had a life's experience, in the trade. For sale at Hawley Bros.' tea store. d19w30

The Old Market Building on Fire.

A most deliberate and almost successful attempt was made to fire the old market building early this morning. When a number of workmen were passing along Water-st. to work about six o'clock they noticed smoke issuing from the window of the upper story. They ran to the police station and told Constable Stewart, who extinguished the blaze with a few pails of water. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary. Two small trap doors in the centre of the floor in the old Music Hall had been torn up and the fire started among a heap of papers which were packed in between the ceiling of the lower story and the floor of the upper. It was well started and a few minutes more would have seen the old landmark in flames. Market Clerk Doherty says that as much as he has been around the building he never knew the two trap doors were there. They had evidently been used when the hall was used for theatrical purposes and had been nailed down for years.

THE SINGLE TAX.

A REPLY.

In last Monday's issue of the EVENING REVIEW there appeared in the editorial column a friendly yet somewhat trenchant criticism of my humble contributions on the question of Single Tax. I may state, at the outset, that the number of men who, believing in this application of taxation, yet believe in "compensation," is very small. So small is it that, as far as I know, no other advocate of the single tax system entertains it. The arguments against such a purchase of the "owner's rights" are powerful and scientific but, in my humble opinion, distinctly unjust and immoral in their tendency. If anyone adopt the cry which the editorial suggests, namely, that failure to approve means failure to understand, that one need only read the works upon the subject and he will see that the editor has almost grasped the situation but is yet appalled by the sublimity of the plan.

It must be remembered that all taxation is a taking-away and that the people of a nation do not, by any means, contribute to the national revenue in the same proportion, nor in proportion, to their relative means. To insist upon "compensation" merely on the ground that one man would then pay more than another into the national treasury is going by false a standard. Such difference of contribution is not inequality or injustice, but diversity of requirements or of activity. That which demands this "compensation" is that where a sudden revision of the plan of taxation or, at least, a revision where notice has been given, the taxation or taking away would fall upon the present landowners only, as all others could "stand clear." To prevent this by requiring those who are not owners of land to pay a recompense where it is due is simply a matter of business. There is nothing hostile to single tax raises "compensation" in the article. Ample opportunity is given to clear away obstructions by answering certain questions placed at regular intervals. Notwithstanding this, it is necessary to particularize in response to wide-spreading generalities. The first question is "Would not this put a burden on land that would be unbearable"? The reference is made to the burden of taxation when compensation is added. That is purely a matter of figures and not of principle. This question I had partly anticipated in my last article. Mr. Atkinson, the great American statistician, admits that in the United States more than the present (1880), revenue could be raised by a single tax on land-values by $220,000,000 or one-third of the whole revenue. Mr. Atkinson is opposed to single tax as Mr. George represents it. Mr. Shearman is another statistician, equally great. He is a warm advocate of the scheme. With much labor upon the subject, especially directed, he demonstrates that 65 per cent of economic rent would raise the present revenue. The method of collecting is, certainly, ten per cent. additional in favor of our contention, as anyone who knows ought of direct and indirect taxation will testify. This leaves 55 per cent of economic rent. Then take away, what is absurdly small, 5 per cent, as the amount of the revenue that a few favored monopolists enjoy under the present systems in the world, that is, under protection and partial free-trade. Thus we have, on the basis of a valuation by a hostile man, in the year 1880 (1890 is not yet computed) in the typical country of the United States, under the single-tax, 50 per cent. of economic rent for national revenue, 10 per cent. for local revenue, leaving 40 per cent. as a sinking fund enabling the State to buy the ascertained and strictly accurate claim of the former landlord at not more than 20 years' purchase. This, I claim, is sufficient evidence to throw the burden of disproof upon the opponents of single-tax.

"If land would be equal to the burden besides paying for the labor upon it there must be unsuspected productiveness in it."

At the present time we have a national and local revenue to raise. This is done by taxing land, labor and capital. Land also yields "rent."

The proposition is to take away from the present "owner" his rent and relieve labor and capital. If "rent" equal the revenue wrung out of labor and capital and a sum equal to a legitimate compensation to the "owner," the scheme of "single tax" will work. If any one of these elements be wanting it may not work. The arithmetical calculations cited are evidence as to the truth of the assertion. Investigation has not yet lent color to the contrary. Rather is it confirming the probabilities outlined.

As to the paragraph in the editorial which says that "settlement of lands" would be discouraged, it is only necessary to answer that the removal of a high rent or embargo on possession (in tenants' case), which accrues to a favored few, and of all taxes on consumption and the substitution of a tax rent accruing to the state on the co-operative plan with all lands open to the worker and none held for speculation, and even apart from the land every possible encouragement given to industry—it is only necessary to answer that if settlement be not induced by such conditions, when will it? But the astute editor was, I think, nodding in his chair, when to the claim that settlement will be discouraged, he appends this corollary: "Now, if settlers were told that land would have to pay all taxes and that as population increased and their land became valuable they would have to pay into the treasury of the state the whole product of that value, would the settlement of the country be encouraged or promoted?" If people thought before the N.P. that, notwithstanding the benefit promised, they would have to pay more for their necessaries of life, would they have voted for the N.P.? No. Well they did so vote, and why? Because they were told that the general benefit would be great and prosperity extended.

That is our claim to-day. The prosperity and hence the settlement of the country would be extended. The enhanced value to which he refers is the unearned increment which, I hope, all admit should go to the state. There are no other taxes. How can settlement be discouraged?

The rise of a nation is, amongst other things, due to its aggregate prosperity. "The greatest good for the greatest number," is the watchword of single tax. We have faith in the moral strength of humanity if appealed to not unjustly.

The sum-total of national prosperity then will exceed the sum-total now, and the revolution will have been brought about peacefully and with honor. Let us briefly consider the case of the immigrant. A settler coming to a country under the new dispensation will see, truly, "a fair field and no favor," land open to the energy of the producer and to him only, apart from the necessity of domicile. He will ask for the possession of land that he may work upon it and get the reward of his toil—not that he may be idle and appropriate the reward of others' toil. When once at work he pays his tax rent and no other tax rent or rent tax. Now, it so happens that his neighbor is worth a million and has, really, no land. To this man's capital, if employed, a fair per cent. is due. Employment is the only means of existence for capital. Capital aids the tiller of the soil and gets paid for doing so. The tiller of the soil employs capital and reaps the surplus profit which is, at once, the wages of work and of success. If the tax is said to rest upon the farmer or holder of the soil, and upon him alone, the statement is illusory and misleading, because the value of the land, irrespective of improvements, upon which alone the tax falls, is not the farmer's, it is the state's. If there be a paltry increment there could be only a paltry revenue. It matters not who occupies the land; all combined created the unearned increment. There is no denial of the right to hold land. The Farmers' Alliance with 4,000,000 members in the United States, who have gone in heart and soul for single tax—the Province of British Columbia, which has just made one half of all personal property exempt, all understand that the possession, as I said, will be more secure, for it will be held from the state directly since the complete "naturalization of land" is involved. Of all these facts the farmer should take note. By reason of equalizing or proportioning of assessment throughout the whole country his burden will be lightened. In this assessment is included, of course, the fruits of indirect taxation.

We are invited to contemplate the rich man in his costly house with jewellery galore, plate and liveried servants, living alongside the man in the wretched house on a lot of equal value, yet paying the same for greater police and fire protection. Is this right? Yes. Should the owner of a fire proof building pay the general taxes for fire protection? Beyond doubt he should. Should the man with no children pay a school tax? Of course. Should bridges be paid for in toll by those who use them? This was the ancient way. This narrow, uncivilizing conception of things has gone except from the brains of cynics. Aspiration is not desperation. The one tax paid by all is to be considered as paid by the nation. Now, the whole nation lives in houses either good or poor. So it is evident that a national tax produces national results. It must not be forgotten, if I must continue in this distasteful strain, that the rich man's house has increased the value of the lot which the poor one is on, and this increase goes to the state, and thus the state returns, in protection, according to the function of true government. If the poor man cannot pay the increased tax he must leave. This could be no other way under any system. Thus we may say that the benefit of protection will, by its universality, find its level.

To solve such problems it is necessary to try if the general results are balanced by the agencies at work and the solution will be at hand. Even if the trial be confined to the bare instances at issue it will be found that a correct balancing really exists. If the world is to wag on the theory that what a man wants to pay for (where he should pay) is all that is his duty, in relation to other people, (the state) to pay for, I think it will soon stop. Such would be and is the essence of individualism and selfishness. What we contend for is a distinct incentive to production.

"A tax on rent or land values," Mr. Burnham says, "falls on the landlord only." How can this be? Who will be the landlord? Then the state will be the landowner."

I said that the tax on rent falls on the owner of the rent or upon the rent, which is the same thing. This is the theory of rent as hitherto ascertained. It is undoubtedly correct. I cited it to show that a land tax which did not appropriate the rent would not be added to the rent and come out of the tenant. I was providing for the gradual introduction of the scheme. The law of rent is well known. Where the whole rent is taken no "rent" remains, so that the relation of landlord and tenant ceases to exist and the editor's objection falls to the ground of its own weight. Something must be left to the reflection of my readers. I cannot ramble all over the paper in illustration.

Now the "unearned increment" is the former "rent" or the rent tax. They have coalesced. The state owns them both and must pay them out. Nothing more. Do not, I implore, imagine that what the state gets is more than belongs to it. In the editor's last objection just cited he uses the word "tax" as taken from the landlord and going to the state. When the state is landlord a land owner the tax will be taken from the state in one form and handed it to it in another. Many of the objections are just as transparent.

GRIFFIN'S PLIGHT.

An Agricultural Implement Agent in Jail at Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, July 23.—Lincoln Griffin, an agent for the Massey Manufacturing Company of Toronto, and who resides with his uncle at Caintown, in this county, has been arrested and lodged in jail here on the charge of committing an assault Sunday last, on the person of Sarah Ann Spears, 17 years of age, and who had been taken from Fairknowe Orphans Home about a year ago, by the relative with whom he has resided. The girl returned to the home on Monday, told the circumstances of the assault and was subsequently examined by Dr. Vaux. The physician told Mr. Burgess, of the Home, that the girl had undoubtedly been abused, and Mr. Burgess then swore out a warrant for Griffin's arrest and placed it in Deputy Sheriff Robertson's hands.

The prisoner was found early this morning at Lansdowne, where he had gone to put up an agricultural implement and at once submitted to arrest. He seemed to recognize the terrible position in which he has been placed but stoutly denies the charge. He admits having been criminally intimate with the girl but not without her consent.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1890.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

Having written this he showed it to Urzen, and asked him if he would bear it to the lieutenant. An affirmative reply was given, and then simply folding the note in the opposite way from the original fold, the gun-maker superscribed it anew to the lieutenant, and handed it to his visitor. Urzen took it, and with a stiff bow, but without speaking, he turned and left the place.

That evening, about eight o'clock, a sledge drove up to Ruric's door, and Alaric Orsa entered the house. He called the youth aside, and informed him that the arrangements had all been made.

"Damonoff is in a hurry," he said, "and we have appointed the meeting at ten o'clock to-morrow forenoon. It will take place at the bend of the river just beyond the Viska Hill."

"And the weapons?" asked Ruric.

"Swords," returned Orsa. "The Count will bring his own, and he gives you the privilege of selecting such a one as you choose."

"I thank you, Alaric, for your kindness thus far, and you may rest assured that I shall be prompt."

"Suppose I call here in the morning for you," suggested the visitor.

"I should be pleased to have you do so."

"I will, then. I shall be along in good season with my sledge, and we will both reach the ground together."

Thus it was arranged, and then Orsa took his leave.

When Ruric returned to his seat by the fireplace he noticed that his mother watched him narrowly, and with more than ordinary interest. He had once made up his mind that he would say nothing to his mother about the affair until it was over; but as the time ... and the hour drew nigh, his ... When he was over where ... But he was cut short in his reflections by the voice of his mother.

"Ruric," she said, and her voice trembled while she spoke, "you will pardon me for prying into your affairs, but I cannot hide from myself that something of more than usual moment is the matter with you. Why are these men calling to and fro? And why are you so thoughtful and moody? You know a mother's feelings—and you will pardon a mother's anxiety."

"Surely, my mother," the youth returned, gazing up for a moment, and then letting his eyes droop again. At length he resumed—"I had made up my mind to tell you all ere you spoke."

There was something deep and significant in Ruric's tone, and his mother quickly caught the spark.

"What is it?" she tremblingly uttered, moving her chair nearer to her child's side.

"Listen," the young man said; and thereupon he detailed the circumstances attending the visit of the Count Damonoff to his shop. Then he told of his own visit to Rosalind, and its result; and then of the visit of Stephen Urzen.

"And now, my mother," he added, without waiting for any reply, "you know it all. You see how I am situated. Remember, our nation has reached its present point by successful war. The soul of our nation is built upon military honor, and since our noble Emperor has opened the way of advancement of the lowest of his subjects who are brave and true, the coward is looked upon with disgust upon all hands. Yet, my mother, I would have you speak."

For some moments Claudia Nevel was silent. But at length she said, while a tear glistened in her eye:

"I have given one loved being up to my country's good. Russia took my husband from me, and I could ill afford to lose my son. Yet, rather than one stain should rest upon his name I would see him dead before me. Oh, Ruric, you know whether dishonor would rest upon you were you to refuse this challenge."

"I will speak, my dear mother," returned the youth in a tremulous tone, for his parent's kindness had moved him. "In my soul I should feel perfectly justified in refusing this meeting, for no principal of real honor is at stake. But were I to back out now from this, I should never meet another generous look in Moscow. Every one would point the finger of scorn towards me, and the word coward would always ring in my ears. It may be a false state of things—I feel that it really is so; but how can I help it? It is the curse of all great military epochs. Battle alone makes heroes, and so all must measure their honor by the force of their arms. The Count carries even now upon his brow the mark of my blow, and all will say he has a right to demand satisfaction; though I know that he provoked the quarrel on purpose. I cannot refuse him on the ground of station, for he is above me in that. I must meet him."

"Then," said the mother, in a low, calm tone, but with much effort, "you shall not feel that your mother thwart your design. If your own good judgment says, go—then go. If they bring your body to me in the stern grasp of death, I shall pray for the soul that has gone, and shall hope to meet you in the home of the redeemed. If you come back to me alive I shall thank God that you are spared; but alas! the joy will be clouded with the thought of blood upon your hands, and the knowledge that my joy is another's grief."

"No, no, my mother," cried Ruric, quickly and earnestly. "I will not have a fellow-being's blood on my hand if I can avoid it. Only to save my own life will I take his. He has done all this himself—all—all. The quarrel was his own, and the first blow was his. The challenge is —, and now is not the responsibility his also?"

"It is my son, so far as he alone is concerned. If you have a responsibility it must be to your own soul. But tell me—has not the Emperor made some new law touching this practice of duelling?"

"Yes—but only the challenger is responsible. The party challenged is held free from blame in the eyes of the law."

"Then I shall interpose no more objections," said the mother. She tried to speak hopefully, but she could not hide the fearful sadness of her heart. "Could fervent prayer avert the blow it should not fall; but I can only pray as one without power."

A long time after this was passed in silence. Both the mother and son seemed to have something upon their minds which they wished to say, but dared not. But the former at length overcame her reluctance.

"Ruric, my son," she said, keeping back the tears that struggled for utterance in their silent speech, "is there any little word you leave?—any matter of moment—"

"No, no," the boy answered, speaking calmly by effort. I am yours, and all is yours. But I shall not fall."

"Ah—be not too confident, my son. Let no such assurance lead you to forget your God. I have heard of this Count. It was he who slew Rutger; and Momjako, too, he slew in the duel. He is an expert swordsman, and surely means to kill you if he can."

"I am aware of that, my mother. But do you not know that we are all prone to overlook our own powers when wondering upon the feats of others? I may be pardoned for assuring you that the only man who has ever yet overcome the Count at the sword-play was one of my own scholars. While in Spain I practiced with some of the best swordsmen in the kingdom. But listen; I will send one word. For yourself I can tell you nothing which you do not know; but yet you may see Rosalind. If you do, tell her—but you know my soul. You can tell her as you please. But I shall not fall."

It was now late, and ere long Ruric kissed his mother, and then retired to his bed.

And the widow was left alone. With her eyes she followed the retreating form of her beloved son, and when he was gone from her sight she bowed her head and sobbed aloud. When she reached her humble couch she knelt by the side thereof, and poured forth her pent-up soul to God. When her head had pressed the pillow she tried to hope—she tried to fasten one hope on her mind; but she looked only into the night. Not one ray of light reached her struggling soul. She opened her eyes of promise in vain—for she looked into a gloom so utter that out of its depth loomed only the blackness of Despair.

Sleep on, Ruric. But oh, could'st thou know how thy fond mother's heart is racked there'd be no sleep for thee!

To be continued.

A TRAGEDY RECALLED.

Death of Mrs. Mack, Who Was Shot at Belleville Four Years Ago.

BELLEVILLE, July 23.—Mrs. William Mack, whose figure was well-known to all who pass the little frame grocery at the south end of the overhead bridge in the Madoc-road, died of consumption Sunday at the age of 55 years, and was buried to-day.

Her death recalls a page in the history of the crimes of this city. It was a bright day in July, 1886, that the police were telephoned that murder and suicide had been committed in Ridley-street, and soon the humble abode of the Macks was surrounded by an anxious throng. William Pentlandt, a British pensioner and a tenant of the Macks, had quarreled with them over a garden plot, and hot words had ended in a police court case in which Pentlandt could not see that justice had been done him. The Macks knew of his wrath, but had no thought of danger. The enraged man secured a revolver, and entering the small grocery fired twice at the old man at short range, but went wide of his mark each time. Mrs. Mack ran across the street screaming, but when in the centre of the road Pentlandt, who thought he had finished the old man, fired upon her, the ball striking her below the shoulder and passing through her body. Believing he had finished the lives of both the old people he fastened himself in the chamber of his part of the house and with his revolver stood at the chamber window to keep the crowd at bay. Chief McKinnon convinced him that it was useless to think of escape when, rather than surrender himself to the police, the man settled himself back upon a bed, placed the weapon to his head and sent a bullet into his brain.

Mrs. Mack lingered long, rallied and partially recovered, but fell into a decline, the result of the wound, and on Sunday her release came.

THE ENGLISH SYNDICATE

And the Canadian Cotton Mills—Why the Transfer Was Not Carried Out.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Mr. A. F. Gault, who has just arrived home from England, in speaking of the primary object of his visit to England, the arrangement of a transfer of the Canadian cotton mills to an English syndicate, said they had not been wholly successful. "We did not have all of the Canadian mills with us and we found some difficulty in arranging the scheme; however, things are in such a shape now that the arrangements can be taken up later and carried out. In England, before they invest in enterprises of this kind, they want to be sure that they have a good long record behind them, and unfortunately the records of our mills are not all satisfactory, as no very high profits have been made, and with some none at all. Where profits fall below eight or ten per cent. they do not care to invest." Then he said the time was not opportune. It was the holiday season when people were away, and there was some difficulty in seeing the persons concerned. For the present, therefore, the scheme is in abeyance, but it will likely be taken up in the autumn and, Mr. Gault thought, carried to a successful issue. The joint capital of the proposed syndicate of mills would be at least twelve millions of dollars.

WESTERN MILLERS.

Resolutions Passed by the Meeting of the Association at London.

LONDON, Ont., July 23.—A meeting of the Millers' Western Local Association was held here to-day, and this resolution was passed unanimously:

That this meeting of flour millers for the counties of Middlesex, Elgin, Essex, Kent and Lambton, having discussed the action of the Government in withdrawing the order-in-council making the 1-16 bushel measure a legal standard for testing the quality of grain, but at the same time permitting grain buyers to use the same to inform their own minds of its value, and having been informed by the secretary of the Dominion Millers' Association that the grain inspector in Toronto still intends to continue the small tester in ascertaining the standard of car loads and cargoes of grain in deciding whether such cargoes are number one, two or three grade;

Therefore, resolved, that this meeting of millers will continue to buy by tester, using their small tester to inform their own minds of the value of wheat, both farmers' loads and car lots; and in any dispute between buyer and seller about weight of any contract lots, then a peck or half bushel measure be used so as to legally decide the same.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1890.

THE WARRING REPUBLICS.

UNCLE SAM MAY TAKE A HAND IN THE FIGHT.

The Rifles Taken from the American Steamer Colima Will Possibly Cost Guatemala Dearly—More Conflicting Reports About Recent Battles.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The announcement of the fact that the Guatemalan authorities boarded the Pacific mail steamer at a Guatemalan seaport and seized many cases of rifles shipped from San Francisco for Salvador causes much surprise here, and the question is asked whether this arbitrary act upon the part of Guatemala will not tend to further complicate matters.

The Pacific mail steamers fly the United States flag, and it is possible that the boarding of the steamer and the seizure of a portion of her cargo may prove to be a serious breach of international law, which should justify our Government in treating it as a casus belli.

To say the least it was a most ill-advised proceeding on the part of Guatemala, for the United States is the only government to whom she can look for protection in the event that Mexico should show a disposition to interfere in the Central American difficulty.

Both Secretary Blaine and Assistant-Secretary Wharton are absent from the city and Assistant-Secretary Adee is quite unwell, so no information could be obtained from the department as to the probable view the administration may take of this seemingly gross breach of international courtesy.

By Way of Berlin.

BERLIN, July 24.—Despatches received here state that the United States and Mexico will offer to act as arbitrators to the questions at issue between the Central American Republics.

SALVADOR'S SIX VICTORIES.

Many Killed and Wounded on Both Sides—Determined to Be Free.

LIBERTAD, San Salvador, July 24.—News has been received confirming the reports of the success of the Salvador forces beyond the frontier in Guatemalan territory. The Salvador army has now gained six battles, capturing a large quantity of arms and ammunition. Many were killed and wounded on both sides.

The Salvador forces are now pushing their way into the interior of Guatemala and are meeting with success at every step. Great enthusiasm prevails and the intention is to overthrow the government of President Barillos before coming to any agreement.

Salvador is determined to free itself from the yoke of Guatemala and to assure its liberty and independence.

Conflicting Reports.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 23.—Guatemala advices Eyetas' army attacked the Guatemalans near the frontier of Guatemala yesterday and the Salvador forces were routed, leaving many dead, wounded and three cannons in Gen. Sanches' hands. San Salvador advices are exactly to the contrary, claiming five victories and the capture of a large amount of booty.

OBLIGING ADMIRAL HOTHAM.

Does a Good Turn to a Distressed American Captain.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 24.—The American steamship George W. Elder, plying between Victoria, Puget Sound and Alaska, reached Esquimalt last evening in a disabled and leaky condition, having been ashore near Port Townsend. She came to Esquimalt with the object of entering the dry-dock there. This dry-dock is owned conjointly by the Imperial and Dominion Governments and British warships have the preference over the merchant lines. On Saturday H.M.S. Espiegle entered the dock for the purpose of receiving an overhauling, and she had three week's work ahead before she would be in a condition to leave the dock.

Captain Hunter, upon his arrival, boarded the warship for the purpose of interviewing Admiral Hotham to see if it was possible that the Elder could be docked. He represented that his ship was in a disabled condition and that 200 excursionists were waiting to take passage to Alaska. Admiral Hotham received him courteously and immediately informed him that the excursionists would not be disappointed. As far as he was concerned that dock would be ready to receive the Elder as soon as that ship was ready to enter. In half an hour from the time that Captain Hunter boarded the warship the Espiegle was signalled as follows: "The Espiegle is ordered to leave the dry dock at once." In another hour the dock was full of water and the Espiegle floated out, the Elder taking her place. The admiral also offered any assistance in his power, sending a large number of man-of-war men to assist in docking the Elder. This prompt and courteous action of Admiral Hotham has without doubt saved the ship, and will result in saving a very large amount of money to the American company owning her. It will also show that a British officer is always ready to assist the distressed of any nation, even when it results in great inconvenience to himself and his ships

The Seawing Was Overcrowded.

RED WING, Minn., July 24.—The Government inspectors have secured the names of 214 persons who were on board the illfated steamer Seawing. The steamer and barge were allowed by law to carry only 175 persons.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

THE BURNING OF THE STEAMER EGYPT AT SEA.

Gladstone Praises Salisbury for the Anglo-German Agreement, but Will Not Vote on the Bill for the Cession of Heligoland.

LONDON, July 24.—The steamer Manhattan sighted the Egypt in full blaze in lat. 40-28 north long. 38 west, but being laden with oil dared not go near the burning vessel. She lowered her boats, however, and saved all on board the Egypt. Captain Robinson of the Manhattan, who formerly sailed in the National line, informed the rescued officers he had only enough provisions for 40 persons, and a discussion was had as to whether or not to make the Azores, 250 miles distant. It was finally decided to proceed for Dover, and everyone was placed on short rations.

There were 408 head of cattle on the Egypt and all were burned to death or breaking loose and plunging overboard were drowned. For a time there was much confusion on the Egypt but no panic. The National Company chartered a tug at Dover to meet the Manhattan and supply her with provisions. She started at 6 o'clock this evening with a full supply of provisions and other necessaries for the rescued people.

Captain James Sumner of the Egypt is the commodore of the National line. The company do not insure their vessels, but put the amount which they would have to pay as premiums into a special fund on account of their vessels.

Upon arriving at Dover the Manhattan sent the crew of the Egypt ashore in boats. The landing of the shipwrecked sailors was watched by a great crowd. It transpires that as the Manhattan approached the Egypt the German [illegible]ar, which was lying nea[illegible] distress. The decks of [illegible] and crowded with the [illegible] the Egypt. There was no [illegible] German vessel.

According to an official statement the fire occurred 1180 miles from Landsend, the flames first appearing among bales of cotton stowed over the boilers. The fire dried up the pumps until they refused to work.

The Cession of Heligoland.

LONDON, July 24.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir James Fergusson moved that the bill providing for the cession of Heligoland to Germany pass its second reading. He advocated the bill.

Mr. Gladstone made a speech in support of the African portion of the Anglo-German agreement. He paid a tribute to Lord Salisbury for the part he had taken in effecting the agreement, which he urged was conceived in a spirit of regard for the best interests of England. Mr. Gladstone blamed the Government for not securing beforehand an agreement with France regarding Zanzibar. He said the House had never before been asked to vote a cession of territory. There had been several cessions of territory without the consent of the Commons being asked. He was not disposed to make a precedent on a subject of profound practical importance in the constitution and would therefore decline to vote on the bill.

The debate was adjourned.

Blaine Smart but Wrong.

LONDON, July 25.—The Chronicle says: Mr. Blaine proves himself an abler man in controversy than Lord Salisbury, although having a worse case to defend. The representatives of England seem mere babies in the hands of Mr. Blaine. It is obvious that Lord Salisbury at an early period of the discussion became sensible of his inferiority in dialectic skill to his opponent, lost his temper and deliberately insulted Mr. Blaine by declaring he conducted the negotiations in the interests of a party and not of the country. Lord Salisbury has never been guilty of a more reprehensible breach of diplomatic courtesy. Happily Mr. Blaine, untouched by the taunt, was contented to drive Lord Salisbury into a corner. Clever as Mr. Blaine's logic may be, it does not alter the fact that no claim—Russian or American—no admission of John Quincy Adams, can convert a vast open sea into a mare clausum.

The Dockmen's Strike.

LONDON, July 24.—Work on the London and St. Catharine docks has stopped, the Dock Laborers' Union having ordered out the men because the directors refused to allow representatives of the union to go inside the docks to ascertain if men had the proper cards issued by the union.

The Dock Laborers' Union at Cardiff is supporting the strike for shorter hours on Saturday, an increase in wages and the abolition of middlemen. Benjamin Tillett is organizing the strikers. The strike threatens to paralyze the whole trade of Bristol Channel.

The trouble at the London and St. Catharine docks has been settled, the directors yielding to the demands of the union.

Minister Reid's Denial.

PARIS, July 24.—Whitelaw Reid, the United States Minister, explicitly denies the truth of the alleged interview with him in which he is represented as denouncing the McKinley Bill and declaring that the people of the United States would not long endure the tariff, etc. He says he saw no journalist and authorized nobody to speak on the subject in his name. The Secretary of the American Legation, who alone responds to press requests for information, denies the accuracy of the interview.

A Riot in Chile.

LONDON, July 24.—A despatch from Valparaiso states that a mob attacked a number of stores in the city of Santiago, the capital of the republic, and sacked them. The military quelled the disturbance.

Farmer Chaplin Talks.

LONDON, July 24.—Mr. Chaplin, Minister of Agriculture, to-day delivered an address at the Lincoln Agricultural Show. He said the recent rise in the prices of agricultural products was due to advance in the price of silver, which, in turn, was occasioned by the recent passage of the Silver Bill by the American Congress.

Carnegie's Liberality.

LONDON, July 24.—Mr. Carnegie has donated £10,000 for a library at Ayr.

Ireland Wins the Elcho Shield.

LONDON, July 24.—Ireland won the Elcho Shield at Bisley to-day.

The U. S. Bankruptcy Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The bankruptcy bill passed the House this afternoon.

A $10,000 Fire at Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 24.—Fire this evening destroyed the drygoods store of John Delisle, 673 St. Catharine-street, and damaged the grocery and saloon adjoining. Three families were burned out of home and six others had premises more or less damaged. Loss $10,000.

Theft of Time and Money Both.

ST. CATHARINES, July 24.—Burglars last night entered Dr. Yeomans' residence and stole $62 and a silver watch.

WEDDED A REVOLVER.

OSCEOLA, Fla., July 24.—The community was shocked this morning by news from Romeo that G. Tate Carr had shot himself through the right temple and was not expected to live. The surprise was increased as he had gone down last night to be married this morning to Miss Rubie Weston. The nuptial ceremony was to have taken place several months ago, but owing to some important phosphate deals in which he was engaged it was postponed. Yesterday Carr was busy all day making final arrangements for his marriage. Rev. J. B. Levy was engaged to perform the ceremony and took the train to Romeo, 21 miles distant. To the family of Dr. Weston he said, knowing how busy Carr was, that he did not doubt he would come out in a private conveyance or on a special engine. He was correct, for at 3 o'clock Carr arrived on a special engine, provided through the kindness of Superintendent Mann, who, learning the urgency of the case, made a voluntary offer of transportation.

The marriage was to have taken place at 6½ this morning, breakfast to follow, and then the couple were to go on an extended northern tour. Will Weston, brother of the bride, assisted the groom to dress. His toilet nearly completed, Carr asked Weston to go into another room and get a pair of suspenders. While absent young Weston heard a shot, and returning found Carr on the bed with a pistol hole in his temple. It was found to-day that before Carr took the engine he applied to several parties for a pistol, saying it was some distance from the depot to Dr. Weston's residence, and he wanted something to protect himself in case of danger, and he got George Battie's pistol.

Carr was dealing in phosphate lands and the impression got out that he had made considerable money. He had engaged to buy a fine residence in Osceola. He informed the phosphate company last week that he had not paid for his residence, and said he could not pay for the lands as agreed, owing to failure to get funds. Yesterday afternoon he deeded to George B. Battie eighty acres of land near Blue Springs, with the understanding that the latter was to sell the same or make a loan on it. In the letter of instructions occurs this passage: "Well, George, I am in the vicinity of two failures, neither of which I am directly responsible for, though I take the whole blame. If I could have gotten north I would have pulled through, but as I don't see how I can I will give it up." Carr was a bright young man, 24 years old, of good habits and fine character.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Upset in the Bay—To Bore for Gas—The Mimico Conduit.

HAMILTON, July 24.—Four young men were upset while rowing on the lake last night. They clung to the boat and finally reached shore in an exhausted condition.

The yacht Petrel capsized in the bay last evening. Hugh Hooper, who was sailing the boat, was rescued by Mr. E. Jarvis.

The 1800-foot iron conduit pipe opposite the new Mimico Asylum has been laid. The pipe is 16 inches in diameter and weighs 700 pounds per length of four feet.

N. B. Waddell, the solicitor for the Wentworth Gas & Oil Company, will leave for Pittsburg in a few days to consult with American experts on oil and gas. The opinions of Lieut.-Col. Grant, the well-known geologist of Hamilton, and Alf. R. C. Llewellyn, director of Geological Department, Ottawa, have been obtained, and from these opinions the promoters feel safe in going on with the work. Gas is what they are in search of principally, although the charter covers oil and salt. Early in September drilling will be commenced at some point in the county.

John Swinburne, the actor, who was arrested a week ago at the Grand Trunk station, where he was acting in an erratic manner, was discharged by the Police Magistrate this morning.

There is some kicking over the appointment of Dr. Olmsted as resident physician at the hospital, the salary of $1500 being the chief cause of complaint.

An officer of the inland revenue department has called upon all the cigar dealers in the city, and served them with the following notice: "You are hereby informed that by the amendment made to section 208 of the inland revenue act during the last session of parliament, it is required that all packages containing cigars shall be destroyed as soon as the same are emptied." The penalty for neglect to comply with this regulation is a fine of $200, and it applies to all people who buy cigars in boxes. The regulation will act particularly against dealers who are in the habit of filling up the shelves in their stores with empty cigar boxes. Henceforth all the boxes in sight will be known to be full of cigars, or the revenue officers will know the reason why. It is said the regulations will be strictly enforced.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

A Verdict Against the Quebec Saloonkeeper and His Wife.

QUEBEC, July 24.—The jurors in the inquest on the bodies of the five victims of the late fire rendered this verdict:

"Death was caused by suffocation through the burning of a house, which house was set on fire by the prisoners July 17, and said prisoners are guilty of murder in the first degree."

Delamare and his wife were conducted to jail to await their trial at the first term of the Criminal Assizes.

A VINDICTIVE WOMAN.

Attempt by a Discharged Employee to Fire a New York Hotel.

NEW YORK, July 24.—An attempt was made to burn down the big Grand Union Hotel at 42d-street and Fourth-avenue this afternoon. At 3½ one of the hall boys discovered smoke issuing from the air shaft on the second floor of the building. He found a bundle of rags which had been placed on the sill of the shaft afire. The flames were extinguished by employes of the hotel without damage. At the time the fire occurred over 500 persons were in the hotel. The building is old and if a fire should once gain headway the conflagration would be destructive and loss of life probable. Investigation showed that the rag bundle had probably been put on the sill and fired by a vindictive scrub woman who had been reprimanded for misconduct.

The Colorado Washout.

DENVER, Col., July 24.—The washout on the Colorado Central Railroad is the most disastrous that has occurred since the road was built. The loss is approximated at $250,000. The amount of track washed out covers a distance of 20 miles. The iron bridge at the forks of the creek looks like a bundle of wire, it has been so tangled up.

A MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSION

THREE PERSONS KILLED AND SIX INJURED.

Bullard's Boarding House at Savannah, Ga., Blown Up at 1 O'Clock in the Morning—The Building a Heap of Ruins—Rumors of an Ugly Nature.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 24.—W. J. Bullard's boarding house, a three-story brick dwelling at 308 Congress-street, was blown up at 1.20 o'clock this morning. Three persons were killed and six injured, two of whom will probably die.

There were 16 people in the house. The explosion shattered the walls, which collapsed in an instant a mass of ruins. Most of the occupants of the house were asleep and were buried from their beds and either buried under the falling debris or thrown on top of it. The killed are:

MRS. W. J. BULLARD.
MR. LOCKLEY.
GUS ROBIE.

The wounded are:

John Roberts, right ankle fractured and concussion of the brain from the shock.

L. J. Tate, contusion of face and chest.

Meadon Hywood (colored), shoulder dislocated and bruised.

J. A. Rimes, slightly bruised.

Edward S. Everitt, slightly bruised.

Mrs. Edward S. Everitt, slightly bruised.

Sam King (colored), badly injured about body.

The first person taken out of the ruins was L. J. Tate, collector for the Citizens' Bank, who was sleeping on the second floor and was pinned down by falling timbers. A few minutes later the mangled body of Mrs. Bullard was found eight feet under a pile of bricks, beneath the room where she was sleeping. Robie's body was taken out at 3 o'clock and was laid in Franklin-square on a mattress. Robie came here from New York a month ago and was employed by McDonoghue & Co. as scroll-man. He slept in the front hall room on the second floor, and was found under a sheet in the bed, where he had evidently been killed as he slept. He has a wife in New York, from whom he received a letter a day or two ago. He was about 40 years old. The body of Lockley was found about 4 o'clock. It was the last taken out of the building.

J. A. Rimes, who was sleeping in the front room on the third floor with Roberts, was hurled to the second floor, and was pinned between the bed and floor until he was pulled out by the firemen. He did not see Roberts after the explosion occurred. The first he heard was a grinding noise and then came the crash and then a blank. The next he knew was being taken out from under the debris. He was slightly bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Everitt, who were sleeping in the front room on the second floor, were pulled out from under the ceiling above, which held them fast. Mrs. John Paige and baby, who were sleeping in the room back of Mr. and Mrs. Everitt, escaped unhurt and were lifted out by the firemen.

As fast as the injured people were taken out they were carried into the rear of Andrew Jackson's residence, just east of the fallen building. Jack Roberts, who slept with J. A. Rimes on the third floor, sustained severe injuries about the body and head. Mr. Bullard, who was sleeping with his wife, had a marvelous escape and received but a few slight bruises. Mrs. Bullard was dead when taken out. She was fearfully crushed.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery. There are many rumors of an ugly nature, but nobody will take the responsibility of making a direct statement. One man insinuated that there had been a row in the house toward the end of the jollification in which the inmates had been indulging. The building was a three-story tenement built in the French flat style and faced north and south. The two top floors were used as sleeping apartments. The explosion blew the entire building to the northward. Some of the furniture was blown across St. Julian-street into splinters, while the flying bricks went as far as Bay-street. The entire structure collapsed outward in Congress-street.

Two Killed by this Explosion.

PATERSON, N.J., July 24.—The corning mill of the Laflin & Rand Powder Works at Mountain View blew up to-day with terrific force. Two workmen in the building at the time were killed.

LABRADOR'S TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Details of the Manner in Which Oliver Killed His Children and Himself.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., July 24.—The steamer Panther brings the news of a terrible tragedy in Labrador. Thomas Oliver had lived for nine years at Pig Brook, Stag Bay, Labrador, with his wife and five children. May 4 he told his son to go across the river and hunt for partridges; he also sent his wife and daughter out to pick wild tea. Oliver then took his Bible and lay down on the bed. Before leaving his wife took the infant boy, six months old, and placed it on the bed.

When on the ice about half way across the river she heard the report of a gun. Looking around she saw the dogs running from the door. Thinking nothing was wrong she continued her journey.

After she and her daughter had gathered all the tea they wanted they returned home. There they beheld a sickening sight. On the floor was the baby. On taking it up the mother discovered that its head had been battered to pieces. The next sight that met her horrified gaze was the body of her daughter, 11 years old. She was in a sitting posture on the floor, with her head fearfully mangled, while across her legs lay a boy, six years old, with his head split open. He lived until sunset.

Mrs. Oliver next discovered the body of her husband stretched on the floor, with his gun grasped in his hands and a bullet hole through his head. The distracted mother, after waiting till her boy died, ran down to Seal Cove, three miles away, where her nearest neighbors lived, and told her awful story. The victims were buried near the house in which the crime was committed. The gun was put in the murderer's coffin. The children were killed with an axe. Melancholy caused the crime.

Attempted Suicide in Jail.

LONDON, Ont., July 24.—Thomas Hastings, an old man, made a desperate attempt to end his career at the jail some time during last night, using a rusty old knife which he got possession of from another prisoner. Gashes had been made at the side and in front of the neck, but they are not very deep. It was impossible for Hastings to have further injured himself with the kind of an instrument he used. The man is very weak from loss of blood, but it is thought that he will recover.

SINGLE TAX FIGURES.

In his reply to the observations in the REVIEW Mr. J. Hampden Burnham endeavors to lead his readers to believe that the present rental of land, if purchased by the state, would be sufficient to pay for the land and to provide all the revenue required by the Government. Mr. Burnham's scheme, be it understood, is not merely to levy all taxes on land. He proposes that the state shall purchase the land and, practically, rent it at such a rate as to pay for the investment and at the same time raise all the revenue required. This he believes can be done, and he basis that belief on calculations of United States statisticians.

Mr. Shearman's calculation is that 65 per cent. of economic rent would provide for the present revenues. Let that be, for the moment, taken as correct. That would leave 35 per cent. to pay the interest on the compensation or purchase money and the principal. Now, it is probable that four per cent. is an outside figure for the rental value of land. But let us consider it five per cent. At that rate the rental of land worth $5,000 would be $250. Of this 65 per cent. or $162.50 would be required for revenue, leaving 35 per cent. or $87.50 to pay for the land. But the state would have to pay $5,000 for the land, and the interest it would pay on that sum, at the average rate now paid by the Dominion, would be $175 per annum, and it would only have $87.50, or less than half, to meet it with, without providing a sinking fund to meet the principal. Even if Mr. Burnham's belief that 40 per cent. of the rent would remain after providing for the revenue there would still be a deficit of $74 on this piece of land for interest alone, and when the aggregate deficit over the whole country was computed it would be a very large sum, running high into millions.

Mr. Burnham, however, in his calculation estimates for a saving in the expense of collecting the revenue. He proposes that the taxes be placed on, or State rent collected from, land of value only, and he says (third article) that "where a farm returns no profit over an ordinary living, or where a poor year brings about the same thing, the rental value of that farm is nothing." So that in any year that a farm produced no more than an ordinary living for those using or working it, no tax or rent would be levied on it. But how are the facts as to the value of production, and amount necessary for an ordinary living, on each farm to be make known to the state or tax collecting authorities? It may be presumed that the same rule would apply to land occupied or used for other purposes, and a factory that produced no more than an ordinary return to labor and capital would pay no tax. But how is this to be known? Is it to be left to the statements of the users of the land? If so, Mr. Henry George's fulminations against the immortality of the income tax would apply as strongly to this system; and if it was not ascertained in that way a taxing officer would have to make an investigation every year into the operations of every farm and factory and store in the country, which would increase the expenses of collection considerably instead of decreasing them.

So far we have taken Mr. Shearman's estimate as stated by Mr. Burnham. But Mr. Atkinson's figures have also been appealed to by Mr. Burnham, and he has been held up as a "great statistican." Well, Mr. Atkinson states that had the revenues of 1889, the year mentioned by Mr. Burnham, been imposed upon land at its assessed value, the rate for the single tax would have been ten per cent. or more, and that, too, without any provision for compensation. It having been objected that the assessed value was below the real value, Mr. Atkinson takes another and more favorable estimate of the value of all the land in the country, and shows that even on that estimate a rate of from five to six per cent. would have been necessary "in the typical country of the United States." Mr. Atkinson adds that "land, as a whole, does not pay its owners five per cent." Of course he admits that the whole revenue might be collected from land—provided the rate was made high enough. But he says:—"I can myself find no trace of economic rent from farm lands, or of rental value in city lots, even approximating the total cost of government in this country, which is about ten dollars per head, or six hundred and fifty million dollars. I know of no economist or statistican of admitted reputation, who can be cited, who believes that there is any such sum secured by private owners from rent of land from simple possession under present conditions."

This is considering the matter simply on the basis presented, without considering the practicability of borrowing money to purchase the owners' rights or other questions that would arise, and on this basis the scheme seems to be found wanting, although presented with ability.

So far as we are concerned, this will end this discussion.

"THE TOWN OF FIRE"

BAKU, THE RUSSIAN CITY ON THE CASPIAN SEA.

Place of Diabolical Aspect, Enveloped in Smoke Traversed by Tongues of Flame—Springs of Oil so Abundant it is Impossible to Store Their Overflow.

This is midway on the railway that cut the Caucasus in its whole width and puts the two seas in communication—the port of Batoum on the Black sea with that of Baku on the Caspian. As we leave the capital in the latter direction, says Viscount Eugene Melchoir de Vogue in Harper's Magazine, the eye is at first ravished and then desolated by the changing aspects of the land. The track follows the Kour, which rolls its broad sheet of water majestically through wild forests and rich, tilled soil, with two chains of snowy ridges stretch away out of sight in the distance—the Caucasus to the left, the mountains of Armenia to the right. Soon we leave the river, which goes to join the Araxes toward the south; the plain gets broader and barer. tall cages built of planks perched on four tree-trunks rise in the midst of the rice-fields like watch-towers. The inhabitants of the villages, who are all Tartars in this region, take refuge at night in these aerial nests. The marshy land is so unhealthy that it is dangerous to sleep there. In spite of these precautions the peasants whom we see are devoured by fever. Their emaciated visages remind us of those of the inhabitants of the Roman Campagna. After leaving Hadji-Caboul, the station in Moorish style where a new line branches off—"the Teheran line," I am told by the engineers who are building it, and who hope to carry it into the very heart of Persia—we enter an African landscape, sad and luminous. The mountain chains become lower; they are now simply cliffs of gilded sandstone festooning against a crude blue sky. At their feet, the desert, a sandy expanse, covered here and there with a rose carpet of flowering tamarisks. Herds of camels browse on these shrubs, under the guard of a half-naked shepherd, motionless as a bronze statue. The fantastic silhouettes of these animals are increased in size and changed in form by the effect of the mirage, which displays before our eyes, in the ardent haze of the horizon, lakes and forests. From time to time we meet a petroleum train, composed of cistern trucks in the form of cylinders, surmounted by a funnel with a short, thick neck. When you see them approaching from a distance, you might mistake them for a procession of mastodons, vying in shapelessness with the trains of camels which they pass. The sun burns in space. Yonder a green band glitters beneath its rays; it is the Caspian. We turn around a hill, and behold! on this western shore, in this primitive landscape, which seems like a corner of Arabia Petrea, a monstrous city rises before our eyes. Is it once more the effect of mirage, this town of diabolical aspect, enveloped in a cloud of smoke traversed by running tongues of flame, as it were; Sodom fortified by the demons in its girdle of cast-iron towers! I can find but one word to depict exactly the first impression that it gives; it is a town of gasometers. There are no houses—the houses are relegated farther away on the right, in the old Persian city—nothing but iron cylinders, and pipes, and chimneys, scattered in disorder from the hills down to the beach. This is doubtless the fearful model of what manufacturing towns will be in the twentieth century. Meanwhile for the moment, this one is unique in the world; it is Baku—the "Town of Fire," as the natives call it; the petroleum town, where everything is devoted and subordinated to the worship of the local god.

The bed of the Caspian sea rests upon a second subterranean sea, which spreads its floods of naphtha under the whole basin. On the eastern shore the building of the Samarcand railway led to the discovery of immense beds of mineral oil. On the western shore, from the most remote ages, the magi used to adore the fire springing from the earth at the very spot where its last worshippers prostrate themselves at the present day. But after having long adored it, impious men began to make profit by it commercially. In the thirteenth century the famous traveler Marco Polo mentioned "on the northern side a great spring whence flows a liquid like oil. It is no good for eating, but it is useful for burning and for all other purposes; and so the neighboring nations come to get their provision of it, and fill many vessels without the ever-flowing spring appearing to be diminished in any manner." The real practical working of these oil springs dates back only a dozen years. At the present day it yields 2,000,000 kilograms of kerosene per annum, and disputes the markets of Europe against the products of Kentucky and Pennsylvania. The yield might be increased tenfold, for the existing wells give on an average 40,000 kilograms a day, and in order to find new ones it suffices to bore the ground so saturated is the whole soil with petroleum. C. Marvin ("The Petroleum Industry in Southern Russia") compares the Apsheron peninsula to a sponge plunged in mineral oil. The soil is continually vomiting forth the liquid lava that torments its entrails either in the form of mud volcanoes or of natural springs. The springs overflow in streams so abundant that it is hopeless to store their contents for want of reservoirs; often they catch fire and burn for weeks; the air, impregnated with naptha vapors, is then aglow all round Baku.

A Unique Calculation.

The writer is the owner of a curious little book published by Gaspar Schott in 1577, entitled, "Magia Universalis Naturæ et Artis," wherein the author, among many other odd things, attempts mathematical calculation of the number of "graces and glories." According to his computation there are exactly 115,792,089,237,316,195,423,570,985,008,687,907,853,269,984,665,640,564,039,457,584,007,913,129,639,936, which will surely be enough to go around and have plenty of grace and glory left. In proof that his calculation is accurate he says that the sum represented by the above figures is the two hundred and fifty-sixth power of the number two. What the number two and its two hundred and fifty-sixth power has to do with grace and glory he does not say. Others have attempted to solve the problem by transposing in every possible way the letters in the well-known question: "Thy graces, O Virgin, are told where the stars of heaven are numbered."—St. Louis Republic.

Parliament Houses Crumbling.

The British Parliament houses are crumbling to pieces so fast that there is constant danger of some portion of the buildings toppling down on the members. Parts of the front of St. Stephen's have had to be entirely refaced because of the wearing away of the soft stone. Only a week or two ago a heavy piece of a stone heraldic animal suddenly fell close to the entrance to Westminster Hall, in Old Palace yard—a means of entrance to the house which is largely favored. But a few days before a portion of the ornamental stonework fell close to the members' entrance itself, and another heavy piece fell on the pavement of New Palace yard not a month ago.

"I wish you could be cured of that complaint," his wife said as he growled about the dinner again

Too Late.

"Madam," said the grateful census enumerator, "you have replied courteously and kindly to all my questions. Unlike nearly every person I have met since I began this work, you have not treated me as if I were an enemy and an intruder. You have answered satisfactorily all the questions as to age, physical condition and ownership of property. Your conduct meets my hearty approval not only as a Government officer but as a citizen, and with your permission I will ask you a question not down in my list. Are you engaged to be married to anybody?"

"I am, sir," replied the handsome widow, blushing and smiling.

"I feared so," said the census taker, with a sigh.

And he put on his hat and went out into the cold world again, his faith in human nature restored but his heart broken.—Chicago Tribune.

A TELEGRAPH WAR.

Attempt to Oust the Western Union From the Northern Pacific Lines.

ST. PAUL, July 24.—The suit brought by the United States Government against the Northern Pacific Railway and the Western Union Telegraph Company is much more far-reaching than appeared from a cursory glance over the complaint. The object is to wholly forfeit the right claimed by the Western Union under franchises alleged to have been derived from the Northern Pacific Railroad. The telegraph franchise in question extends over 2150 miles of railroad.

The proceeding also denies the right of the Western Union Telegraph Company to succeed to the rights and franchise of the Northwestern Telegraph Company of Kenosha, Wis.; The United States Telegraph Company, the Independent Telegraph Company, the Pacific Telegraph Company, the Overland Telegraph Company and a number of others, the lines of which are not specified.

The complaint alleges that the Northern Pacific had no right to enter into contract with telegraph companies; that it was a breach of public trust and a violation of the Northern Pacific's charter rights. In spite of this these contracts are still in effect, says the complaint, and the Northern Pacific Railroad has long ceased to operate or maintain a telegraph line for any public or commercial purposes, and has sought, and still seeks, to protect the defendant telegraph companies in their enjoyment and possession of their monopolies of such business.

It averred that the contracts are induced by corrupt considerations which render them void against public policy and a violation of the rights of the United States.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Fined For Assault—The Price of Whisky by the Glass to be Raised.

TORONTO, July 25.—Peter Ryan, the well-known politician, was yesterday fined $10 and costs or 30 days for the assault on Muldoon reported the other day.

The trouble in the Toronto Vocal Society has culminated in the formation by 54 members of that body of a new organization called the Haslam Vocal Society.

The hotelkeepers have decided to raise the price of whisky by the glass to 10 cents.

In th[illegible] Cou[illegible]terday, Joseph Sm[illegible]er, was sent to th[illegible] months for steal[illegible] boxes of the company [illegible] route. Smith by some means had obtained possession of a key to the boxes and had been depleting the receipts quite considerably. This, however, was not the worst feature. He had eight duplicates made by a Queen-street west locksmith. Of these he sold six to other drivers at $1 each and two he gave away. When arrested he gave the names of the eight to Superintendent Franklin and in consequence there are eight vacant places on the King and McCaul-street lines. The men were dismissed, but they still retain the keys, and in consequence the locks in the fare boxes of all the bob-tail cars will have to be changed at considerable expense.

THE FLOUR MARKET.

Minneapolis' Output—Prices About the Same—The Exports.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 24.—The Northwestern Miller says: The aggregate flour production last week was 123,200 barrels. Orders are not coming in as freely as millers would like and some mills are fast catching up with those they had booked ahead. There is some talk about the necessity of curtailing production again soon if business does not improve. There has not been much life to the flour market the past week, this dulness possibly being more since Saturday than before. Prices are about the same. Bakers and low grades are not in very good demand for export. Patents are usually reported slow of sale. The export shipments last week were 43,900 bbls.

The flour output of the Minneapolis mills for June was the smallest of the present crop year. However, for the past ten months the total grind was 687,000 barrels ahead of that of last season. The direct exports for June were extremely light, though for the ten months the figures exceed last year's work by 500,000 barrels.

Free After Eight Years in Jail.

WOODSTOCK, July 24.—A. S. Ball has received a telegram from the Attorney-General's Department notifying him that an order-in-council has been made discharging his client, Mrs. Nancy Legg, who has been confined in the jail since 1882, when she was arrested on a charge of infanticide. She will be taken to Michigan and cared for at the home of her son.

The girl, a young domestic, deposited her babe in a privy vault. She was weak-minded, but not sufficiently demented to warrant her incarceration in an asylum, and in consequence of her enfeebled health she was not sentenced to the penitentiary.

Cutting Wool Rates.

CHICAGO, July 24.—East-bound wool rates are apparently going to pieces. A week ago these rates were reduced from Chicago to the seaboard to the basis of 50 cents per hundred pounds to New York and 55 cents to Boston, to meet the competition of one of the southern routes. It has since been discovered that some lines have been quoting the same rates from the Missouri River that are in effect from Chicago. The eastern roads have now issued a circular announcing a rate of 40 cents from the Mississippi River to New York, and 45 cents to Boston.

Wedding at Omemee.

Miss French, eldest daughter of Rev. W. H. French, rector of Christ church, Omemee, was married Wednesday morning to R. W. Anderson, B.A., Dublin, now classical master at Smith's Falls. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by his son, Rev. H. French, of Cookstown. The bridesmaids were Miss Cole, of Sutton, and Misses Edith and Alice French. Mr. Packenham, of Peterborough, Messrs. R. and W. French acted as groomsmen. The ceremony was witnessed by a large audience. The happy couple left for Chautauqua and the lakes.

Koh-i-nur! Koh-i-nur!

Every brand of tea has its own peculiarities. So to get a perfect Tea, you can only do so by blending these different kinds in proportion, that by so doing the one flavor benefits the other. This being the case, how is it possible to obtain such perfection? Only by a long practical experience and having at your disposal large quantities of the several Brands to operate with. Such are the conditions by which the Tea is introduced for the first time to the Canadian public under the name and brand of KOH-I-NUR. This Tea has been carefully blended by those who have been engaged, and have had a life's experience, in the trade. For sale at Hawley Bros.' tea store. d18w20

A Daisy Trip.

In this neighborhood there are a number of very pleasant routes for a sail, and one of the pleasantest was chosen by a party of Hastings, Campbellford and Peterborough people on Wednesday. Those from the east came up on the Belleville train and were joined here by their Peterborough friends. They boarded the trim little steamer Daisy, of Calcutt's line, and took a trip down the Otonabee, through Rice lake and down the Trent to Hastings. The Daisy had some trouble with logs after leaving Ashburnham wharf, but after that was overcome the trip was a pleasant one indeed. At the popular resort, Jubilee Point, the party had dinner, and then proceeded through the lake. This is indeed a fine sail. The scenery is beautiful along the route and was thoroughly enjoyed. The people of the town are familiar with the route as far as Jubilee Point, which is very pretty, but they are not as familiar as they should be with the beauties of Rice lake. The Daisy with the party arrived at Hastings in good time, and the Peterborough section had an hour in that village before it was time to take the regular evening train for town. The whole party was so pleased with the trip that they intend going over the same route again.

Mocha Coffee.

I have a fine Mocha Coffee fresh roasted which is delicious. My trade for Coffee is so large I am obliged to use a water motor (the only one in Peterborough) for grinding, consequently you can rely on getting good Coffee. ALEX. ELLIOTT, 258 George-st. d31

Christian Alliance.

A very interesting meeting of this society was held last evening. Notwithstanding the hot weather the meetings seem to be increasing in attendance and interest. Some testimonies were given of the Lord's power and willingness to heal the body, one man, a mechanic, swinging his arm around to show that it had been healed, after being diseased for about twenty years. The meetings are held every Thursday evening and all are welcome.

Pay the Statute Labor Tax.

Five young men were summoned before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning charged with non payment of their statute labor tax. It is a failing of many young men to conveniently neglect the payment of this two dollar tax, but the collector has now decided that they shall do so or suffer the consequences. This morning the five who were summoned immediately paid the two dollars and costs ($2.65) with one exception and the latter went to gaol for one week.

An Ode to Campers.

Camper, leave that worn out shoe,
Served its purpose—more than true,
Stood the racket, felt the wear,
Roads or sidewalk—foul or fair
Be the weather, well they've stood,
Clearly, buyer, well they should,
Doff them, try anew a pair,
Quality first-class, prices fair.
Canvas tops and rubber soles
Fit for gravel, rock or holes,
Joyous you will tread the brakes
Round the shores of Stony Lake,
Take your pleasure as you did,
Buy these rubber shoes of Kidd. d11tf

Contemptible, if True.

It will be remembered that on Tuesday a number of cases were heard at the Police Court in which citizens were charged with allowing their cows to run at large. The principal witness for the prosecution in these cases was an old lady by the name of Mrs. Faucher, who, with her aged husband, lives in a small place on Wescott-st. The old lady makes her living and that of her husband by washing, and also finds time to cultivate a small patch of a garden which is attached to the house. It was to save this garden that she was so anxious that no cows should be allowed to wander the streets. But she has suffered from the very thing she feared and it would appear that it was the mean, contemptible trick of some heartless person. On Wednesday night, the night after the trial in the Police Court, and immediately after the rain, her small garden of vegetables was tramped down and pretty well destroyed. From all appearances it was the deliberate act of some evil disposed person, as the tracks would lead to the belief that the cows had been lead or driven into the garden and made to tramp around and then led away again. The fact that not a bit of herbage was eaten or even bitten would lead to a confirmation of this belief. If such was the case the mean scoundrel who would perpetrate such an act should be caught and made to suffer, as the poor woman can ill afford to suffer the smallest loss.

For the Thirsty Man and Beast.

One of the new drinking fountains which the Council decided recently to have placed in the town arrived this morning and was unloaded at the town buildings. The new fountain is similar in style to those now in use in the city of Hamilton. Its beauty of design may not be admired by everyone, but it must be borne in mind that its usefulness and cheapness were considered before its beauty and elegance of appearance. It is not by any means an eye sore to the street and is not only constructed for convenience and utility but it is durable as well. As was said in the Council there is accommodation for man and beast. The horse trough is a basin, oval in shape, 2 feet four inches long and 1 foot 5 inches deep. In the centre of this basin rises an ornamental pillar, surmounted by a lion's head, from the open mouth of which issues the tube from which the "ever-flowing" stream of aqua pura will run for the regalement of the thirsty traveller. Then at the foot of the fount is a small basin or cup where the canine race can slack their burning thirst. The fountain proper is made of cast iron and surmounts a stone base, which makes its height about 4 feet 9 inches. It was made in Hamilton. The committee have decided to place it near the police station on Water-st. It is probable that if this one gives satisfaction that another one or two may be ordered. The cup which is attached to the fount is a model, as there is a certainty that no person in his sober senses will ever steal it. The great trouble with cups at fountains is the habit of some evil spirited mortal carrying them away, but no one would take this one. It is exactly like a bell in shape, but much thicker and heavier. No time will be lost in getting the fountain in working order.

"Laboring John" in the Toils.

"Laboring John" Sullivan again fell a victim to his old and ever-clinging habit of over indulgence in the inebriating cup and was run in by the police. At the Police Court this morning John was penitent as ever, but it cost him two dollars to get his liberty and save himself from a ten days' visit to the castle on the hill.

New Railway Station.

The excavation for the new railway station at Campbellford was commenced several days ago the Herald says. Its site is on a level piece of ground purchased from the Cumming's estate, on what has been known as "The Commons." It is very suitable for sidings, and affords a clear view of the track for several hundred yards east and west. The distance from the west end of the bridge is about the same as that to the present railway station.

Tidings of a Missing Boy.

The Campbellford Herald says:—The little twelve-year-old son of a widow residing in Campbellford, ran away from his home on Saturday last, through fear, it is supposed, of a promised punishment for having tobacco in his possession and using it, and trying to cover up disobedience with falsehood. The Reeve and Constable Bell were acquainted with the matter, and search was made, the thought having prevailed that the missing boy might have been drowned in the river, but no tidings were received until Monday, when it was learned that he had been put off the train a few miles this side of Peterborough for not having a ticket or any money to pay his fare. He doubtless stole a ride to Peterborough and was on his homeward trip.

Summer Resorts.

The Grand Trunk has published a neat book on the summer resorts reached by that railway, including routes and fares for tourists tickets. Points of interests in Ontario, Quebec, the Northwest, the Maritime Provinces and in the United States are described with a facile pen aided by numerous illustrations. The chapter on "The Midland Lakes" describes a canoeing tour up the Trent and through to Stony lake, and the scenery of the route is described by a series of pen pictures. Peterborough is spoken of as "a thriving town which is now entering the dignity of a city, and whose growth and development have been rapid and well assured." A picture of the town is also given. No one should go away for a summer tour without first consulting this guide.

Where to Build a Home.

It is a fact with regard to the development and extension of growing towns that invariably the rate of progress in building and improvement is greater in a western direction than any other. What is the reason has not been explained, but the fact has been noted. This is true of Peterborough, for the western side of the borough has shown greater progress than either the north or south. The eastern side, hemmed in by the river, provides only limited room for extension. Of the blocks in the west that afford room for building and in which the opportunity has been taken advantage of, the most desirable is the "Erin" property, two blocks west of Park-st. and north of Cedar-st. Though only opened up for location and put on the market late last summer by the enterprising owner, Mr. W. Fitzgerald, over 11 lots have already been disposed of out of the number available. The property is situated on the bluff that rises from west of Cross-st., affording an elevation that commands a fine prospect of the whole town and a generous supply of fresh air. The breezes from the west temper the heat in summer and afford all the luxury of coolness attained by a residence surburban, while the locality is convenient to the business centre of the town and to the leading manufactories. The facilities for drainage are simply perfect. As the land has been under cultivation for many years it is in a thorough state for gardening, while the freedom from buildings ensures that the water is practically pure and abundant. A glance at the locality shows that no less than six fine roomy and well built homes have been put up and are all occupied. The buildings are of a superior class and laid out with an eye to accommodation. Of those who have bought lots are Messrs. Chas. Crowe, W. Henry, John Law, J. E. Stratton, (3), A. Mercer, J. J. Hartley (2), R. Tamblin, A. Moore and W. J. Beavis. Messrs. Crowe, Henry, Tamblin and Beavis are living in their own houses, and vow that they would not exchange the locality and property for any other, though of twice the commercial value. Mr. Fitzgerald has several offers for lots and will no doubt arrange to sell. The terms are so liberal, prices so moderate and the advantages so apparent that men of moderate means can easily secure a home with the future to pay for it: Cedar-st. has been opened and graded as far as the foot of the bluff, and the western part only awaits the action of the Street and Bridge Committee to put in order. The balance of the property is now in the market, and those who are looking for lots would do well to see Mr. Fitzgerald before the best selections are made.

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—Readers of the first two instalments of Alphonse Daudet's Port Tarascon will turn with impatience to its continuation in the August number of Harper's Magazine. Extracts from the diary of Secretary Pascalon portray in a realistic manner the life of the colonists in their island home, their discomforts, their amusements, and everything said and done in the Free Colony under the government of Tartaria. Theodore Child contributes to the same number of the Magazine a paper describing an American's Impressions of Berlin, with some account of the leading attractions of the German capital. Edward Everett Hale, in Magellan and the Pacific, relates the old story of the first circumnavigation of the globe, but adds to it some facts hitherto not generally known. Captain Charles King, U.S.A., contributes and interesting paper giving an account of Custer's Last Battle. Octavia Hensel, in an article fully illustrated from photographs, tells the history of the famous printing-house of Plantin-Moretus, and describes a visit to the museum in Antwerp, where the literary and art treasures of that establishment are preserved. Ellen B. Bastin contributes a paper on the Geology of Chicago and Vicinity. Dr. Francis Parkman, in A Convent at Rome, relates his experience during a brief stay many years ago in the convent of the Passionists at Rome. Short stories are contributed by Richard Harding Davis, Thomas A. Janvier, and Lina Redwood Fairfax; and poems by Coates Kinney, Rennell Rodd, John B. Tabb, and Harriet Prescott Spofford. In the editorial departments George William Curtis relates some reminiscences of Dicken's last visit to America; William Dean Howells discusses the ethics of criticism; and Charles Dudley Warner offers some suggestions relative to "conversation lunches" and the influence of culture upon individuality.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by mothers for children teething for over fifty years with perfect success. It relieves the little sufferer at once, produces natural, quiet sleep by freeing the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Mayflower Wins.

The final heat in the open trot at the Port Hope races was trotted yesterday afternoon and resulted in A. P. Morgan's "Mayflower" winning the heat and the race, with "Grey Tobb" second, and "Blake" third. Time, 2.32. "Little Fred" won the three minute trot, with "Stothard" second and "Bellflower" third. It took eight heats to decide this race.

Another Musical Evening at St. John's.

The organ recital given at St. John's church last evening by Dr. Davies, the new organist, was well attended. The programme was of a varied and generally interesting type and was rendered in the masterly manner which has characterized all the talented organist's efforts since he came to Peterborough. The audience appreciated the musical treat and it is hoped that before long another similar entertainment of the same high character will be offered. Last evening's programme lasted about an hour and the audience was delighted. The numbers rendered were as follows:—

1. Organ Concerto .... Rink
2. Meditation Religeuse ... Camille Saint-Saens
3. Allegretto Piacevole (from a violin sonata) .... Beethoven
4. Grand March, "Leonore," .... Raff
5. a. Berceuse .... Delbruck
   b. Bourree, (Fire Music) .... Handel
6. "The Phantom," Characteristic March.... .... Spindler
7. Andante Expressivo .... Mendelssohn
8. Concert Fantasia, "Dinorah," ... Meyerbeer
9. Marche Triomphale, Opus 24.... ...... Davies

Brevities.

—The cells were tenantless again last night.

—Mr. John Hodgson, of Burnt River, fell from a car on Friday and displaced his shoulder.

—The Orangemen and kindred societies of Lindsay will celebrate Aug. 12th at Bobcaygeon.

—Mr. P. O'Shea, of Norwood, has gone to New York, where he has secured a lucrative position in a large wholesale house.

—The vital statistics of Campbellford for the first six months of this year were 25 births, 6 marriages and 10 deaths.

—A cricket eleven will go to Lakefield on Monday to play a match with the local club there.

—Secretary D. Hampton, of the Millbrook Curling club, received on Wednesday the medal won by the Millbrook curlers from Campbellford last winter.

—The Street and Bridge Committee is called to meet this evening to open the tenders for the crib work and new side walks.

—Mr. D. Chambers, of Burnt River, fell through the loft floor of his stable on Monday and received a severe cut on his head and injured his side.

—An addition is being built to the Presbyterian church at Campbellford which will add thirty feet to its width and give it a large seating capacity.

—At the cheese market in Campbellford on Wednesday 710 boxes were boarded and 500 were sold to Messrs. Warrington at 7 13-16 cents.

—A gravel train is making several trips a day with ballast from the cut west of Campbellford to the place where the road is being straightened about two miles east of Hastings.

—The Golden Eye made her regular trip yesterday, the logs having been got out of the way of the channel. It is altogether improbable that she will have any more trouble of this kind this season.

—The great Lawrance-Townley bubble, a case brought by a number of Canadians and Americans to recover the Townely estate in England as heirs of one John Lawrance, has burst. The case was dismissed as vexatious, and was appealed to the House of Lords, which dismissed the appeal.

—Patrick White, who was arrested in Marmora charged with theft at Glen Ross and Madoc, will be tried at the fall assizes at Belleville and has been liberated on bail.

—A game of cricket was played on Saturday afternoon last on the Agricultural grounds at Millbrook, between Omemee and Millbrook, resulting in a victory for Omemee by a score of 79 to 60 with three wickets to spare. Mr. W. H. Wrighton, of Peterborough, played with the Millbrook eleven.

A Brakeman Badly Hurt.

BRANTFORD, July 24.—Brakeman P. A. Shea met with a serious accident yesterday morning between Brantford and Harrisburg. There were some freight cars on the train, and Shea in climbing down from the last car to get on the engine missed his footing and fell on the tender of the engine and from there to the ground. He broke three ribs in the fall and injured himself internally. He is lying at Harrisburg in a precarious condition being unable to be removed.

Andrew Carnegie and an Oil Farm.

Andrew Carnegie, the iron king, says the New York World, made his first money in the oil country as a producer of oil. He and some friends bought the William Story farm on Oil creek in 1860 for $35,000. They organized the Columbia Oil company in May of that year and proceeded to develop the farm for petroleum. The farm consisted of 400 acres and was not far from where "Coal Oil Johnny" found his pot of gold. Every acre of the farm proved productive, and it soon developed into one of the richest bonanza farms of the region. Its first years output was 30,000 barrels, and the following year this was increased to 80,000 barrels. The company was organized with a capital stock of $350,000, and in two and one-half years dividends had been declared amounting to 130 per cent of the capital. In three years the production of the farm had increased to 141,000 barrels, and during this year the average price of oil was $9.87½ a barrel. During the first six months of this year four dividends were declared, amounting to 160 per cent of the capital stock, which was soon increased to $3,500,000. In ten years the farm produced 1,716,970 barrels of oil, and is still producing a small amount. The total value of the output has been upward of $10,000,000.

DIED.

BUCK.—At Norwood, on Tuesday, July 22nd, FRANK, eldest son of Mr. Geo. Buck, aged 3 years, 3 months and 21 days.

There is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures lameness and soreness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claims to public confidence.

And They Still Lived.

Six hearty-looking, full-blooded young men attired in the half uniform and peaked caps of petty officers of one of the "tramp" or freight ocean steamships, entered a big all-night eating house near Washington Market the other night, and found seats at a table. They were accompanied by a chubby boy of 13 or so, also in half naval uniform. One of the young men had evidently been in the country at least once before. The others were undoubtedly making the most of their first night ashore in a foreign land. They were sober, steady-going young fellows, but how they did eat, despite the sultriness of the night! One had mutton chops, another pork chops, a third veal cutlets, and so on; while the boy ate a sirloin steak, with occasional cuts from his elders' well-laden plates. Vegetables galore and plenty of coffee went with the first course. Then the young officer who had been here before whispered to his mates the name of a famous American delicacy, and behold, every man Jack of them, including the boy, ordered a soft-shell crab and a bottle of beer. Then they consulted with the man who had been here before, and mince pie for the party was ordered. Anything else? Oh, yes. The experienced member of the little band of marine visitors said he thought he would try some vanilla ice-cream, and every one followed suit. The boy downed two plates of the frigid delicacy in a jiffy.

"Now," said one of the unsophisticated young sailors, "let's have some 'arf an' 'arf."

This was too much for even the chaperon. "Ale in this climate, after such a supper," he said severely, "is out of the question. You would be dead before morning. Don't trifle with your stomach, man; but when you're in America, do as Americans do. Try a mint julep!"

And a mint julep was swallowed by every man and the boy. I have watched the papers pretty close since, but have heard of no deaths or even cases of serious illness on board of any foreign vessel in port.—[New York Star.

KNOW HOW
—TO—
KEEP COOL!

In these cool days that succeed the hot weather of last week and which are to be followed by another heated term—so says the probs—there is opportunity to consider the problem of cool dress. Men try to solve it by wearing the outing shirt and a light coat, discarding the vest altogether. But the warmest part of man's attire is his suspenders. They make his shoulders burn, as any one can testify who has taken a long walk on a hot summer day, the clothing near the place where the pressure of the suspenders comes is sure to be soaked with perspiration. And so the man who wears an outing shirt but who will stick to suspenders, has accomplished only half his purpose in keeping cool. Throw aside the suspenders, adopt the belt and summer days will lose half their terrors.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

'Tis An Old Saying

that a pleasant companion on a journey is as good as a carriage, therefore the fond mother possessing both a baby and a perambulator must be doubly blest. There are some, however, that have not yet provided themselves with the carriage, there may be many more who contemplate such a purchase in the near future. 'Tis of the latter we speak today. We want them to know that we are going to give special inducements for immediate purchases. In addition to offering the largest and most varied assortment to be found. FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1890.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

On the following morning Ruric was betimes and at the breakfast table not a word of the one all-absorbing theme was uttered. After the meal was finished the gunmaker went out to his shop and took down from one of the closets a long leathern case, in which were two swords, both of the same make and finish, only different in size. They were Toledo blades, and of most exquisite workmanship and finish. Ruric took out the heaviest one, which was a two-edged weapon with a cross-hilt of heavily gilded metal. He placed the point upon the floor and then with all his weight he bent the blade till the pommel touched the point. The lithe steel sprung back to its place with a clang, and the texture was not started. Then he struck the flat of the blade upon the anvil with great force. The ring was sharp and clear, and the weapon remained unharmed.

"By St. Michael, Paul, Moscow does not contain another blade like that. Damascus never saw a better."

Thus spoke the gun-maker to his boy as he balanced the beautiful weapon in his hand.

"I think you are right, my master," the boy returned, who had beheld the trial of the blade with unbounded admiration.

"But," he added, "could you not temper a blade like that?"

"Perhaps, if I had the steel. But I have it not. The steel of these two blades came from India, and was originally in one weapon—a ponderous, two-handed affair, belonging to a Bengal chieftain. The metal possesses all the hardness of the finest razor, with the elasticity of the most subtle spring. My old master at Toledo gave me these as a memento. Were I to mention the sum of money he was once offered for the largest one you would hardly credit it."

"How much?" asked Paul, with a boy's curiosity.

"It was a sum equal to about seven hundred ducats."

"And yet he gave it away?"

"Aye—for its price was but imaginary, while its worth to him was only commensurate with the good it did him. If he told the truth he loved me, and these he gave me as a parting gift, as the best patterns I could wish for when making such."

After this Ruric put up the small sword, and then he gave Paul a few directions about the work, promising to be back before night. The faithful boy shook his head dubiously as he heard this promise, but he said nothing, and shortly afterwards Ruric went into the house. Just then Alaric Orsa drove up to the door.

Ruric was all ready but putting on his bonnet and pelisse. His mother was in the kitchen. He went to her with a smile upon his face. He put his arms about her and drew her to his bosom.

"God bless you, my mother! I shall come back." He said this, and then kissed her.

"God keep—and—"

It was all she could say.

Ruric gazed a moment into her face—then he kissed her again—and again he said:

"God bless you, my mother! I shall come back."

He dared not stop to speak more. Gently seating his fond mother upon a chair he turned and hurried from the place. In the hall he threw on his pelisse and bonnet, and then he opened the door and passed out.

"Have you a good weapon?" asked Orsa, as the horse started on.

"I have a fair one. I think it will not deceive me," returned Ruric.

"I asked," resumed Orsa, "because Damonoff prides himself upon the weapon he wears. It is a German blade, and he thinks he can cut in twain the blade of any other weapon in Moscow with it."

"I have a good weapon," Ruric said quietly; "and one which has stood more tests than most swords will bear." And after some further remarks he related the peculiar circumstances attending the making of the sword, and his possession of it.

At length they struck upon the river, and in half an hour more they reached the appointed spot.

The day was beautiful. The sun shone brightly upon the glistening snow, and the air was still and calm. The sharp frost of the atmosphere served only to brace the system up, and Ruric threw open his pelisse that he might breath more freely. He had been upon the ground but a few minutes when the other party came in sight around the head of the river.

As soon as the Count and his second arrived, and the horses had been secured, the lieutenant proposed that they should repair to the building which was close at hand. This was a large open boat-house, which was unused and deserted in the winter, and it was proposed to go in there because the reflection of the strong sunlight from the bright snow was calculated to blind and blur the eye.

"Ha! what means that?" uttered Orsa, as he saw a sledge just turning the bend of the river with an officer in it.

"It is only a surgeon," replied Damonoff. "I would not cut a man's flesh without giving him a fair chance to survive it."

"And then you may find him serviceable to yourself, eh?" suggested the lieutenant.

"Of course. There is no telling what may happen."

In a moment more the new sledge came up, and Ruric recognized its inmate as an army surgeon whom he had seen before, though he knew not his name.

"Now for the old boat-house," cried Urzen.

"Aye," added Damonoff, [illegible] "Let us have this business done, for I would be back to dinner. I dine with Olga to-day, and a fair maiden awaits my coming."

"Notice him not," whispered Orsa, who walked close by Ruric's side. "That is one of his chief points when engaged in an affair of this kind. He hopes to get you angry, and so unhinge your nerves."

"Never fear," returned the gun-maker. "Be sure he only brings new danger to himself, for such efforts will find their point in the muscle of my arm."

The party halted when they reached the interior of the rough structure, and the Count threw off his pelisse and drew his sword. Ruric followed his example.

"Sir Count," the latter said, as he moved a step forward, "ere we commence this work I wish all present to understand distinctly how I stand. You have sought this quarrel from the first. Without the least provocation from me you have insulted me most grossly, and this is the climax. So, before God and man, be the result upon your own head."

"Out, lying knave—"

"Hold," cried the surgeon, laying his hand heavily upon the Count's arm. "You have no right to speak thus, for you lower yourself when you do it. If you have come to fight, do so honorably."

An angry reply was upon Damonoff's lips, but he did not speak it. He turned to his antagonist and said:

"Will you measure weapons, sir? Mine may be a mite the longest. I seek no advantage; and I have one here of the same length and weight as my own if you wish it."

"I am well satisfied as it is," replied Ruric.

"Then take your ground. Are you ready?"

"I am!"

The two swords were crossed in an instant, with a clear, sharp clang.

There was some contrast between the two combatants, but not much apparently. The Count was a little the taller and Ruric was somewhat heavier. But to a close observer there was a peculiar contrast in the bearing of the two men. That breast swelling out so nobly, and those massive shoulders, made for the seat of physical power, were Ruric's alone to possess. Yet Conrad Damonoff was accounted a strong man. In the athletic sports of the court-club he had few superiors, and not many equals. But Ruric Nevel had never shown his strength there.

Now, for the first time, that contemptuous look passed from the Count's face. As his eye caught his antagonist's position—as he noticed the calm, dignified, quiet ease of every limb; and as he caught the deep, mystic fire of those expressive eyes, he knew that he had no common amateur to deal with.

To be continued.

THE FAKIR'S CURSE.

A Prophecy of Evil That Came True With Crushing Effect.

James Mann, the traveller, tells this story: "It was about 5 o'clock in the evening, and Col. Yeager and I sat on the veranda of the Vicuilah Hotel in Bombay, and on the edge of the native city, which is called Vicuilah, and not Bombay. The Colonel is dead; all that he once owned and loved is gone. He was expecting his wife and daughter, who had been out to England on a year's visit, and the vessel was to arrive at Calcutta next day, while we were going to get the bungalow ready to receive them. The Colonel was in the best of spirits. He joked and laughed and told old stories of love and war: how he was nearly captured and murdered by the renowned Nana-Sahib at Cawnpore; of his vast poppy plantations and the revenue he derived from the opium he distilled every year. Finally we started to walk to where we had our horses stabled, and then for a canter over the beautiful roads to the bungalow fifteen miles away. We had to go through Vicuilah to reach our destination. What a kaleidoscope that native city is! The burrahwallah water carrier, wearing nothing but a breech clout, and the male body servant, with his red turban and long white jackets. Jews from Palestine, Parsees, or fire worshippers, who travelled 2,000 miles over desert and mountain from Persia and carried their sacred fires, all picturesque, all in white, bordered with red or other bright colors.

"Well, in turning a corner in Vicuilah we found a crowd being harangued by one of the best known fakirs in India. I had heard him spoken of as one who could put a blight upon you. People called him Sadi-Saib, Sadi, my master. Col. Yeager pushed through the crowd to within a few feet of the fakir, to whom he said something in Hindostanee. It seemed to enrage Sadi, who jumped from his little platform in front of Yeager, saying:

"'Englishman, be careful, or blight may fall upon you and yours. Tread not upon the smallest thing Buddha has created, or it may turn and sting you.'

"Before I could stop him the Colonel had cut the fakir across the face, and with an oath had shouted: "Out of the way, you Hindoo pig!"

"The fakir with blazing eyes said:

"'Englishman, you will not meet your wife. You will not meet your child. Your plantations will be devastated; your craven heart will wither within you. You will die.'

"The fakir's words were prophetic. I felt it then, and I also think the Colonel did. We reached the bungalow, and were soon in bed. How I slept that night I don't know. The words, 'Englishman, beware,' were continuously raging in my ear. Next morning I went into the breakfast room, and I shudder when I think of it. The Colonel was there walking up and down with a telegram in his hand, his face drawn, and he looking twenty years older than he did the night before. With tears in his eyes he handed me this message: 'Steamship Flago went ashore at the mouth of the Hoogaly. Your wife and child drowned.' I have never seen the Colonel since, but I have watched his career. His poppy crop was a failure that year and it ruined him, his bungalow was burned by either accident or design, and Yeager died within a twelve month of a broken heart."—Phila. Inquirer.

Fatality at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, July 24.—David Trainer, who was injured on Monday while attempting to put a belt on a pulley at Still's factory, where he was employed, died this morning at 12½ o'clock. The stick with which he was moving the belt had slipped, and catching in the spokes of the pulley, had been driven with great force against his abdomen. Inflammation ensued. Deceased came from Tilbury Centre and was 20 years old. He leaves a wife and two children. His physicians, Drs. Duncombe and McLarty, could not determine how severe were the injuries that resulted, but they feared from the first that inflammation would ensue. This was the case, and at noon yesterday the change in the condition of the injured man showed that the worst was to be feared. The inflammation made rapid progress, and as stated Mr. Trainer died early this morning.

Kingston's Celebration Wound Up.

KINGSTON, July 24.—The Oddfellows' celebration closed to-day. The Oswego canton was awarded first prize for drill, St. Thomas second, and only a few points behind Oswego: Belleville canton secured third place. The judges were Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Chief of Police Horsey of Kingston, and Major Marshall of Little Falls. Ottawa canton got the prize for the largest number on parade, and St. Thomas for coming the longest distance.

BRUSH YOUR HAIR, GIRLS.

If You Want to Get a Gloss on It—How to Remove Moles.

Brush and brush your hair, if you want to get that lovely gloss that society girls are so eager for. Give your hair 200 strokes every night before jumping into bed.

Don't be afraid of brushing it too much. The more you brush the more gloss you get. If your eyebrows are thin brush those too, with a tiny brush, and if they don't curve to suit you, get a tiny comb and train them in whichever direction you wish them to go. Brushing keeps them in good shape, and it is so much easier to brush than to trim them. Besides if you do not understand how to trim them properly, you are apt to look funny until they grow out again.

If you wish to keep away wrinkles, sleep on your back. I know you will have bad dreams if you do so, but I had rather put up with the dreams than the wrinkles.

Hadn't you?

Sleeping on your side causes wrinkles under the eye.

Be sure to both wash and wipe your face toward your nose, for the nose never wrinkles. By wiping toward it you will prevent those little wrinkles near the ear which are so plainly seen.

When you smile, do it with the eyes and mouth, and not with the face.

Laughing makes wrinkles, but keep on laughing, only don't do it with the face.

I have just taken four moles from my face, and it is very badly done. You can do it yourself, only be careful; for it burns, but...

Get five cents worth of muriatic acid and three times a day, touch the mole with a toothpick dipped into the acid. It will come off in about a week, leaving a red spot on the face. Leave that spot alone and it will heal by itself.

They say "moles is a sign of beauty," but I prefer the beauty without the moles.—[Boston Globe.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES

THE HELIGOLAND CESSION BILL PASSES THE COMMONS.

Details of the Erzeroum Riot—Fifty Dead Bodies Found, 350 Persons Wounded and 100 Missing—The British Consulate Stoned—Turks Fighting Arnauts.

LONDON, July 25.—The Heligoland Cession Bill passed the second reading in the House of Commons to-night, 209 to 61.

The Liberal leaders abstained from the division. A number of Radicals also refrained from voting. Lord Hartington, Mr. Chamberlain, Sir Henry James and Mr. Bradlaugh voted with the majority.

France Placated.

PARIS, July 25.—It is officially announced that the negotiations with England regarding Zanzibar will probably be favorably concluded within a few days. The questions of Madagascar and Lake Tschad are being discussed. The renunciation of the Anglo-Tunisian compact will not be included in the Anglo-French agreement.

The Erzeroum Riot.

LONDON, July 26.—The News gives the following details of the recent riots at Erzeroum: The soldiery were ordered to disperse Armenians who were holding a meeting in a churchyard. The soldiers began a massacre of the Armenians and the Turkish populace joined in the attack. The shops and houses of the Armenians were pillaged. The sack lasted four hours. The British Consulate, at which on the same night a fete was being given for the benefit of the poor Armenians, was stoned and its gates and windows broken. The Consul and his family took refuge in the cellars of the building and the fete was abandoned. The American mission served as a refuge for 50 fugitives. Numbers of Armenians relying on the promises of Turks to escort them to places of safety were murdered in the streets. Fifty bodies have been found, mostly of persons who were bayonated. 350 persons were wounded and 100 are missing.

The Dunlo Divorce Trial.

LONDON, July 25.—The trial of the divorce suit of Viscount Dunlo v. Lady Dunlo (Belle Bilton, the concert hall singer) is proceeding before Judge Hannen. The court room is thronged, and the proceedings are interrupted by frequent bursts of laughter.

Detective Clark, a witness for the plaintiff, in his testimony gave it as his impression that Wertheimer, the co-respondent, kissed Lady Dunlo once when sitting near a window in the lady's house. Clark admitted, however, that he really did not see the kiss, nor did he hear it, but he detected giggling, which he construed to mean that a kiss had preceded it. Judge Hannen indicated considerable annoyance at the flimsy character of this evidence and indulged in a bit of sarcasm at the expense of the counsel for the prosecution. It was then proved that Wertheimer visited Lady Dunlo in her apartments in Hanover-square and elsewhere, but no evidence was produced to show he ever remained in them over night. On the contrary, several landladies appeared who testified to Lady Dunlo's perfect propriety while an inmate of their houses.

Another witness was Alexander Lumsden, dramatic agent, who obtained an engagement for Lady Dunlo and her sister in Manchester at $40 weekly. Lumsden swore that Wertheimer kissed Lady Dunlo four or five times in his presence, and, when playing on the piano together, he had frequently seen her head on Wertheimer's shoulder, while upon one occasion in St. John's Wood he had detected the lady raising her cheek for her companion to kiss, while at the same time both were smoking cigarets and drinking champagne. When Mr. Lumsden got into the hands of Lady Dunlo's attorney, it was speedily discovered that his loquacity and excellent memory were sharpened by the fact that he had been paid a percentage on the Manchester engagement contract, and so, as he expressed it, he felt justified in giving his evidence against the lady. He admitted having told Wertheimer he had been treated badly, but denied saying that he could get a pony from Lewis, attorney for Lord Clancarty, for swearing that he had seen Wertheimer in Lady Dunlo's bedroom.

The last witness to-day was Charles Nunn, formerly Wertheimer's coachman, who testified to having driven his master and Lady Dunlo in a cab and during the drive he noticed that his passengers were locked in each other's arms. The witness concluded his testimony with the appreciative remark that he saw no harm in that and would have done the same thing himself if he had enjoyed an opportunity. Judge Hannah expressed himself as deeply annoyed by the demonstrations of the spectators, and directed that a sufficient number only be admitted to-morrow to fill the seats, and said that he would clear the room if these theatrical displays continued.

Arnauts and Turks Fighting.

LONDON, July 25.—A band of Arnauts recently made a night attack upon the Montenegrin village of Rogmore, surprising the inhabitants, many of whom were murdered. The Arnauts plundered the village and then left. Afterward the band was attacked by Turkish troops and in the fight which ensued 60 Arnauts were killed and many wounded.

Cholera in Bakun.

ODESSA, July 25.—It is officially announced that there have been 70 cases of Asiatic cholera in Bakun and vicinity. The heat is intense.

BOLD DIAMOND ROBBERY.

A REMARKABLE SCHEME WORKED BY PHILADELPHIA PAWNBROKERS.

Big Haul of Brilliants—Inside History of One of the Boldest Swindles Ever Practiced in the United States and Its Compromise.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—There has recently come to light the inside history of one of the boldest diamond robberies ever attempted in this country. It was an attempt on the part of Philadelphia parties to steal from some New York Hebrews $60,000 worth of diamonds. The case was finally compromised and therefore the full circumstances, which follow, didn't become fully known.

In 1880, or thereabouts, there lived in this city a very bright young man, a Hebrew, who, from sheer ability, had won a great name as a diamond salesman. Having gained the confidence of a number of prominent people he embarked in the diamond business for himself. One day two men who ran a pawnbroker's establishment on Eighth-street, just below Chestnut, having approached the young man, unfolded to him a great scheme to buy up in New York the greatest quantity of diamonds he could get on credit.

The young diamond dealer was to effect as many purchases as practicable, paying in each case as little cash as possible. When he had made a purchase he was to telegraph his friends in Philadelphia how much cash he had paid in part payment, and they were immediately to deposit that much money to his credit in bank so that his check would be duly honored when presented.

The young diamond dealer carried out the plan. He succeeded in obtaining from six or seven large wholesale diamond dealers in New York diamonds worth $60,000, for which he advanced about $4000 cash. The diamonds were brought to this city and turned over to the pawnbrokers, who in about a month told the young diamond dealer he must fail.

The young diamond dealer was obedient. He went to the office of Lawyer James H. Shakespeare, on Sixth-street, and told that gentleman he wanted to assign for the benefit of his creditors, paying them ten cents on the dollar. Lawyer Shakespeare is far from being obtuse. He suspected that his client was not telling him the whole story. If his client did not have the diamonds what had become of the $60,000 which represented their value? Less than a month was a short period in which to get rid of that much money. The young diamond dealer had a ready story. While coming up on the cars from Baltimore some one, he alleged, had stolen his pocket-book, containing a large sum of money. On another occasion he had been enticed into a gambling den and lost there a considerable sum. Another large amount had been lost on horse racing.

Lawyer Shakespeare was plain spoken. "If that is the case, then," he said, "you are on the straight road to the penitentiary. Men will not accept a story like that. You have no right to play with other people's money in that way. Nothing can save you." The lawyer still suspected that other parties were back of the transaction and insisted on being told who they were. The young man, however, persisted in his story as given. There was nothing left to be done but try to effect a settlement. The offer of 10 per cent. was made to the New York creditors through their lawyer, Mayer Sulzberger. It was rejected, the New Yorkers, however, not suspecting any trickery, agreeing to accept twenty-five cents on the dollar.

This the young diamond dealer, after many consultations with his mysterious friends, said he could not pay and then Mr. Sulzberger said his clients proposed to push the matter and fight.

Application was then made to Governor Hoyt for a requisition for the person of the young diamond dealer, so that he might be taken to New York on a criminal charge. As the notes which had been given for the remaining $56,000 at stake did not fall due until the end of the month, Lawyer Shakespeare had no difficulty in convincing Governor Hoyt that a requisition ought not be granted for a default of payment of which his client had not yet been guilty, since it was not yet really known what his client would do until the time expired.

Meanwhile, however, the young diamond dealer had been arrested pending the granting of the requisition, and when Mr. Shakespeare returned from Harrisburg he found his client lodged behind the bars in Moyamensing Prison. Once within the prison walls and with 10 years of penitentiary life before him the young man began to weaken. He sent for his lawyer at once and then for the first time the whole story came out. The lost pocketbook, the losses at gambling and horse races were made from the whole cloth. The part the pawnbrokers, Morris Rosenberger and his old partner, Myers, had played was laid bare.

When the New York parties learned they had failed to get the requisition they immediately had the young diamond dealer rearrested and held for a civil suit charging him with having obtained goods under false pretences. Judge Finletter held him in $60,000 bail to appear at court. Lawyer Shakespeare's client now found himself between two fires. The New York creditors were making all efforts to convict his client for having done them injury, the two pawnbrokers were eager to keep him in prison so that his mouth should be closed against them. If they could only get him once to repeat under oath the stories of the stolen pocket book and reckless losses in gambling, then they would be saved.

When, however, the charges had been brought against his client Lawyer Shakespeare refused to allow him go on the stand and be questioned or make any charge. The time had come for action. Going to the pawnbrokers Mr. Shakespeare demanded that they go his client's bail. This they refused to do. "Well, then," he said, "unless you do I propose to make known your proper position in this matter. If you do not furnish bail by 2 o'clock to-day before night I shall have you in Moyamensing too." The bail was not furnished. At 2½ Mr. Shakespeare went to the law office of Mayer Sulzberger and laid before that gentleman the whole conspiracy. Mr. Sulzberger was astounded. The sworn affidavit of the young diamond dealer was taken. The pawnbrokers were summarily arrested and taken before Magistrate Martin, who placed them also under $60,000 bail. They only escaped spending the night in Moyamensing by paying a constable $500 to spend the night with them in one of the city hotels.

When Lawyer Cassidy learned the turn affairs had taken he immediately advised his clients to make a compromise. On promise that the case would not be pushed the pawnbrokers agreed to make complete restitution.

The young diamond dealer and weak dupe is now living in the West. His short experience in prison proved a severe lesson and he has since pursued a very honorable career.

BLAINE AND RECIPROCITY.

The Secretary Writes Another Letter Against the McKinley Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Senator Frye to-day received the following letter from Secretary Blaine regarding the reciprocity question:

BAR HARBOR, ME., July 22, 1890.

DEAR MR. FRYE: I have your reply to my letter and am glad that the essential part of it has been given to the press. You ask me what assurance I have as to Spain's willingness to enter into reciprocal arrangements of trade with the United States. Your question surprises me, for you cannot have forgotten that only six years ago the Prime Minister of Spain, in his anxiety to secure free admission to our markets for the sugar of Cuba and Porto Rico, agreed to a very extensive treaty of reciprocity with Mr. John W. Foster, then our minister at Madrid. A year before—in 1883—a very admirable treaty of reciprocity was negotiated by General Grant and Mr. William H. Trescot, as United States Commissioners, with the republic of Mexico, a treaty well considered in all its parts and all its details—whose results would, I believe, have proved highly advantageous to both countries.

In view of the pending discussion it is a somewhat singular circumstance that both these treaties of reciprocity failed to secure the approval of Congress, and failed for the express reason that both provided for the free admission of sugar. Congress would not then allow a single pound of sugar to come in free of duty under any circumstances whatever. And now the proposition is to open our ports free to everybody's sugar and to do it with such rapidity that we are not to have a moment's time to see if we cannot make a better trade, a trade by which we may pay for at least a part of the sugar in the products of American farms and shops. Our change of opinion has certainly been remarkable in so brief a period. Indeed, the only danger of our not securing advantageous treaties of reciprocity now is the possible belief on the part of those countries that we are so anxious for free sugar that by patient waiting they can secure all they desire without money and without price.

Fearing that result I sought an interview with the eight Republican members of the Committee on Ways and Means more than five months ago, to be exact on Feb. 10. I endeavored to convince them that it would be expedient and wise to leave to the President as the treaty making power an opportunity to see what advantageous arrangements of reciprocal trade could be effected. I was unable to persuade the committee to take my view. I mention this circumstance now because it has been charged in many quarters that the suggestion for reciprocity came too late. In fact my effort was made before the Tariff bill was reported to the House or even framed in committee.

It is, I think, a very grave mistake to oppose this reciprocal proposition touching sugar from the fear that it may conflict in some way with the policy of protection. The danger is, I think, wholly in the opposite direction. Let us see what is proposed: Our government has heretofore collected a heavy duty from sugar—amounting one year in the aggregate to $58,000,000, and averaging $50,000,000 per annum for a considerable period. We wish now to cheapen sugar by removing the duty. The value of the sugar we annually consume is enormous. Shall we pay for it all in cash or shall we seek a reciprocal arrangement by which a large part of it may be paid for in pork and beef and flour, in lumber and salt and iron, in shoes and calico and furniture, and a thousand other things? In short, shall we pay for it all in cash or try friendly barter in part? I think the latter mode is the highest form of protection and the best way to promote trade.

I address this note to you, as I did my first, because you have taken an active and most intelligent interest in the increase of our trade with South America. When shall we enlarge our commercial intercourse with that great continent if we do not now make a beginning? If we now give away the duty on sugar, as we already have given away the duties on coffee and hides and rubber, and get nothing in exchange which shall be profitable to the farm or the factory in the United States, what shall be our justification for the policy?

You have recently received congratulations, in which I cordially joined, on carrying the shipping bill through the Senate. Do you not think that a line of ships generally aided by the Government will have a better prospect for profit and for permanence if we can give them outward cargoes from the United States and not confine them to inward cargoes from Latin America?

JAMES G. BLAINE.

THE BATTLE OF LUNDY'S LANE.

Celebration of the 76th Anniversary—Speeches and Resolutions.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 25.—The 76th anniversary of the Battle of Lundy's Lane was duly celebrated at Drummond Hill to-day under the auspices of the Lundy's Lane Historical Society. All the graves of the dead heroes were decorated with flowers and flags—Canadians with the Union Jacks, and Americans with the Stars and Stripes. There was a large crowd in attendance.

The chairman, Dr. John Ferguson, M.P., made a brief speech referring to the necessity for the study of Canadian history as a means of inculcating patriotism in the hearts of the people.

William McCleary, M.L.A. for Welland, proposed a resolution expressing gratification at the grant of $10,000 by the Dominion Government for the erection of suitable monuments to the memory of the heroes of the war of 1812. The resolution was seconded by John A. Orchard, and adopted.

J. Alexander of Hamilton moved, and Sheriff McKellar seconded, a resolution, which was adopted, favoring the organization of Canadian historical societies in every county, city and town, of and a provincial historical institute composed of delegates from the local institutes.

A resolution moved by Charles Durand of Toronto and seconded by Rev. Mr. Young of Drummondville advocated the placing of the study of Canadian history in the curriculum of every college and university in Ontario. This was also unanimously adopted.

Mrs. Curzon of Toronto read a paper on the "Erection of Monuments to our Dead Heroes." Alex. Muir of Toronto made a patriotic address and sang "Canada the Land of the Maple." Rev. R. J. Fessenden of Chippewa, Rev. Mr. Kerr of St. Catharines and Rev. Mr. Spencer of Brantford also made brief addresses.

Two Americans were next introduced by the chairman, J. Fraser Gluck of Buffalo and S. B. Proctor of Albany. Both made speeches, which were warmly applauded, paying glowing tributes to the Canadian heroes of 1812, and eulogizing the institutions of the Dominion.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

A Kansas Embezzler Found in London, Ont.—He Goes Back.

LONDON, Ont., July 25.—James Mansfield, until within the last two months manager of the Topeka (Kas.) branch of the Kansas & Texas Coal Company, left Topeka with his wife on June 3 and the management, becoming suspicious at his prolonged absence, ordered an inspection of his books and found that all was not right. A Pinkerton man soon located Mansfield in this city, where he had on June 28 purchased the goodwill and stock of James Annett, who kept a grocery store in Dundas-street, London East. Yesterday detectives proceeded to the store and placed Mansfield under arrest. He decided to return across the border voluntarily to answer the charge against him. The party left this afternoon on the 3½ train for Detroit. The amount of embezzlement has not been exactly ascertained, although it will run up in the thousands. Mansfield's wife went with him.

Broke Jail.

HALIFAX, July 25.—Tom Davidson, a notorious thief, awaiting sentence for stealing $700 from the Italians at Oxford, broke jail at Amherst last night. He had only been out of penitentiary a few months.

WINNIPEG, July 25.—The first case of ticket scalping of the season came up before Justice Shelton at Calgary yesterday. The return part of a farmers' excursion ticket issued to an Ontario farmer named Kelp, from Toronto to Calgary, was sold to Tom Cavan, who sold it to a third party for $32. Cavan, who pleaded innocence of the law, was fined $20.

Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock a wealthy farmer, Thomas Latimer, was found by his hired man lying dead under his wagon 1½ miles from his home at Portage la Prairie. Wednesday morning he went to town and was bringing a load of lumber home. When found the wagon was partly sagged to one side of the road. He evidently fell off and rolled under it. No marks were found to show the cause of death.

Mrs. Enos Sanford, widow of a well-known Methodist minister who died last spring, set fire to her clothes to-night with coal oil and received fatal injuries. Her mind has been upset for some time owing to her husband's death. She went to a closet and sprinkled oil on her clothes and lighting them ran to the house, in which the flames ignited the curtains. The neighbors extinguished the flames, but not before she was terribly burned. Her mind was apparently restored through her suffering and she made her will.

THE IDAHO IN A BAD WAY.

Making Water Fast and Not Likely to be Saved.

MONTREAL, July 25.—The stranding of the Dominion line steamship Idaho upon the inhospitable shores of Anticosti seems likely to prove one of the most costly wrecks for many years. Not only is the vessel herself a valuable one, being estimated as worth £50,000, but her cargo is one of the largest and most valuable that ever left Montreal upon any ship which met mishap. Many Montrealers are heavily interested in her, and news from the vessel is anxiously awaited.

Ill news invariably travels fast, and, peculiarly enough, sometimes outstrips even the electric telegraph. It was rumored round town yesterday afternoon that the vessel was rapidly filling with water, that her cargo was in much danger, and that the vessel was a total loss. A reporter went to the head offices of the Dominion line only to be told that the Messrs. Torrance had not received any other information beyond that published except the fact that the vessel's ballast tanks were filling with water, but that the cargo was in no immediate danger. They were, however, expecting news hourly. This was satisfactory to some extent, but it was unfortunately followed soon afterwards by news of a more serious nature.

A despatch from South Point, dated 9 p.m., said: "The steamship Idaho is making water fast and is not likely to be saved as there is a heavy ground swell on. The schooners Florence and Snow Queen of Quebec are alongside loading the cattle and cheese. The schooners Diver and Lady Belleau are expected in the morning. No cattle have been landed yet." A previous despatch brought the intelligence that she was laboring heavily, heading east, with a moderate list to seaward. She had driven in broadside over the Shandon reef a short distance. The crew were then all on board.

The Dominion line agents at once ordered extra assistance to be sent from Quebec, and the wrecking steamer Lake left there last evening with schooners, which should reach the scene of the disaster on Saturday morning. Orders have also been given for schooners to be sent to the wreck from Gaspe, and every effort will be made to save as much of the cargo as possible.

The Idaho's cargo, which consists of cattle, sheep, cheese and grain, is valued at $680,000 and is believed to be well covered by insurance in Montreal and western offices, a large portion of the grain being through shipments from Chicago. There are about 80,000 bushels of grain consigned by Crain & Baird and Norris & Carruthers, some 40,000 boxes of cheese, belonging nearly wholly to Montreal shippers, and 300 head of cattle. Of these 193 were shipped by Aitkins & Flanigan of Toronto and 76 by Robert Bickerdike of Montreal. There are also on board 68 head of sheep belonging to Wilson & Verral of Toronto.

The Idaho is a steamer of 2490 tons register and 4000 tons actual capacity. She is 375 feet long, has a width of beam of 42 feet, and has triple expansion engines of 2000 horse power. She is a new vessel, having only been launched last autumn. She was chartered for the season by the Dominion line from the Pinkey & Sons Shipping Company of Sunderland, and until shortly was on the owner's line between England and the East Indies. Capt. Brotherton has made many trips to the St. Lawrence on other steamers.

Messrs. Kingman, Brown & Company, consignees of the cargo of coal of the steamship Thornholme, ashore near Riviere du Loup, have abandoned the cargo to the underwriters, all hope of saving the ship, which is being battered to pieces on the rocks, being abandoned.

THE DAKOTAS.

MANY Canadians who were induced by the specious advertisements of railway companies and land departments and the plausible tales of their agents to settle in Dakota instead of going to the Canadian Northwest are now sorry that they did not remain on Canadian soil. Crop failures and taxes have driven many in South Dakota from bad to worse, until last year a general appeal to the country and a special appeal to Canada was made for aid to prevent starvation. This year, again, the same story is heard, as is shown in the following letter:—

LEOLA, McPherson County, S. Dak.
Secretary Wells and Board of Trade:

DEAR SIR,—We are after you again; our crops are all gone this time so we can't get our seed back. Our town is all alike for that; even the potatoes and corn are cut with the hot winds till they look as if a frost had been through them. You must not believe the American papers for the statement they make is not true. What I want to know is this: Can the people of your parts aid us over to the British possessions? If I go there are more to follow. We are all alike, poor with nothing to help ourselves. Some of us have some stock to take. I have written to the Board of Trade in Regina to hear of the chances there is for settlement there. It can't be any worse there than here. As for the men we could walk out, but it is the families that hold us. Let me hear from you. These people are like a lot of sheep without a leader, and don't know where to go.

JOHN W. SILVERTHORN.

In North Dakota, which is nearer the Canadian line, things have not been so bad, but there is trouble for the farmers there also. A despatch from Chicago on July 21st says:—

"A special from Jamestown, N. D., says it will be a startling piece of news to the wheat growers of North Dakota to find out on the eve of harvest that no elevator in the state will store grain this year. This radical change in handling of the crop has been kept as secret as possible. It was determined upon, it is said, soon after the law was passed this year which makes all public elevators and warehouses pay an annual license of $2.50 per 1,000 bushels capacity. Nine-tenths of the crop of the state has heretofore been bought by the elevator companies upon the Duluth and Minneapolis quotations. A farmer could store his grain in these elevators for fifteen days for nothing, and keep it in store as long as desired if he pay a small fee therefor. Now the elevators will refuse this on the ground that they are not public elevators, and the farmer who is mortgaged to the ears this year will be compelled to sell his crop at whatever price the company chooses to allow him. In most cases this will leave him penniless for the winter."

The tax-gatherers seem to be driven to all kinds of expedients when they tax the elevators by the thousand bushels for storing grain. These reports must show the Canadian farmers, what they probably know already, that the western States are good places to stay away from. If one desires to go west, and to establish a new home, the Canadian west offers better opportunities, which may be secured without being subjected to a change of laws and nationality.

THE Examiner's attack upon the County Inspector of Public Schools is so bitter the conclusion is irresistible that it was the outcome of personal and political feeling rather than of any desire to benefit the schools. Its enmity towards the Inspector is nothing new; it has existed ever since Mr. Brown became Inspector, and the present attack is but another outbreak of ill-feeling towards him.

The Market Block Stores.
To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Permit me to express my surprise at learning from your report of the proceedings of the Town Council on Tuesday evening last that the commissioners of the Town Trust had passed a resolution authorizing the lease of one of the stores in the new market building to be used as a saloon, seeing that at the last meeting of the commissioners at which I was present (on the 4th June last I think) the matter of leasing these shops for such a purpose was discussed, and, as I understood it, those present (Messrs. Stevenson, Paterson, Davidson and myself) were unanimously of the opinion that no such lease should be granted. I also understood them to assent to my proposition (we were then discussing the lease to the U.P.S.) that a clause should be inserted in all future leases rendering them null and void upon the premises mentioned therein being used for such a purpose.

Yours,
JOHN CARNEGIE.

Preston Springs, July 24th, 1890.

A ROMANCE OF NEW YORK.

If Not Exactly True, it is Certainly Well Invented.

A beaming, placid, fine-looking woman of 35 attracted my notice at the races on the day of the great Suburban. She was in a box, and about her were many of the handsome men and beautiful women that make the history of high society hereabouts. A girl of 15, possessing a pair of handsome hazel eyes that proved her a daughter of the handsome woman, was eagerly watching the horses as they drew up to the starting post. The girl will be one of the belles of the town when she comes out three seasons from now.

I looked at the mother. Not a trace of the miserable suffering endured by her in her youth remained in her beautiful face. It is so long ago now that I can only just recall her story, so much has happened since to bury it.

One night seventeen years ago Eddie, a bright, handsome, and dissipated youth from up town, was wandering about the slums of the city alone. He had quarrelled with his father, the rich railroad speculator, who seemed to be reaching out for all the millions in Wall street, and he had decided not to go home to the parental roof until some sort of an apology was made. It was 3 o'clock in the morning when he passed through Bleecker street, which was thoroughly deserted and very dark. Suddenly he heard a cry of pain and then a door opened on the opposite side of the street, a feminine figure was thrown out onto the sidewalk, a fearful volley of oaths filled the air, and the door was banged to leaving the woman outside. As she gazed about the street Eddie saw that she was a remarkably pretty girl, and all the sympathy in him, of which he had a fine share, was instantly aroused.

He was preparing to cross the street to offer his aid to the outcast when she turned and fled away from him. He called to her softly to wait for him, but she took no heed, gliding along with a rapidity that he could hardly equal. Not a policeman was met in the flight and so the pair sped on unnoticed.

A sudden realization of the girl's intentions struck the young man when she flew across the last avenue before East River was reached, and he now began to regularly run after her, while she, hearing him behind her caught up her skirts and endeavored to escape, striking straight for the long wooden pier extending over the river.

Had the distance been a little shorter the girl must have carried out her desperate purpose of suicide, but by the time she had gained the middle of the dock her pursuer had overtaken her and was holding her tenaciously by both arms, while she demanded to be released and struggled to throw off her rescuer. The young man was sharp and sensible, and the first words that he uttered were such as to convince the girl that she might do better than to die. He met her declaration that she would not go back to the old life with the assurance that he could put her into an honest business position, where she could be free and comfortable. He was influential, and he would certainly see her provided for. She listened, and she went up into the street again with the young man. He took her to an all-night restaurant, and, by ordering an immense supper, gained the privilege of sitting at a table there until morning. Then he left her, after making her promise to meet him at an appointed place that same day.

At 11 o'clock he was at his father's office, penitent, apologetic, and declaring on his honor that he would live inside his allowance henceforth. His father thought he saw an expression in his face that bore out his words and he gave him the money he had refused that morning, saying they would begin fresh, and if the boy kept his word he would go up a little on the old figures.

The young man kept his word for a year, and that was up to the day of his father's death, and then he found himself possessor of more millions than he knew what to do with. The first thing he did after the estate was settled was to sail away to Europe, and the passenger list of the ship contained the only public acknowledgment that a wife went with him. Five years later he returned to New York with his wife and child. A happier household could not exist, and, though no one is sure about the ancestors of the wife there is no question that she is a great ornament to the fashionable circle in which she moves.—Cincinnati Enquiry.

Unwholesome Sleep.

Not always is sleep "tired nature's sweet restorer." Sometimes, instead of a balm it brings a bugaboo in the shape of the nightmare. Man is a wonderful piece of work but his machinery may be thrown out of gear and be set a whizzing by so slight a thing as a late supper. An indigestible Welsh rarebit at 11 p. m. may result in a big, suffocating black dog across his chest at 1 o'clock in the morning; an overplus of leaf-pastry, which his gastric juices can not conveniently assimilate, may precipitate from a precipice in dreamland to a bottomless abyss; or a surfeit of pat de foie gras sent him to a morphean gallows, there to endure all the tortures of actual strangulation. This sort of thing, by the way, is only one remove from apoplexy, and the incubus-ridden victim of inordinate and untimely self-indulgence is likely enough to be at last bestridden in his sleep by a nightmare too strong for his vitality—even death.

The term nightmare is supposed to have been derived from Mara, the name of a demon which, according to the Scandinavian mythology, pounced upon men in their sleep and held the will in thralldom. The old Saxons called the distemper Elf-sidenne, or elf-squatting. With the doctors, who are nothing if not classical, it is Ephialtes, from a mythic giant of that name who undertook to climb to heaven, but, missing his foothold tumbled into the fathomless depths. Most of us have probably been convulsed in our sleep with the same sort of horror which the tripped-up Titan is fabled to have experienced during his "lofty fall" from the celestial battlements.

In our boyish days, or rather nights, we were frequently pitched headlong from the tops of sky-cleaving mountains, thrown over staircases and into wells from which the bottoms had dropped out; to say nothing of falling, bed and all, through trap-doors in the floor into illimitable chaos; or being caught up by the hair into the realms of ether and there kept dangling and kicking like a jumping-jack, without any apparent prospect of rescue. Well do we remember the start of terror with which we awoke on such occasions and the deep-drawn sighs of relief which followed the consciousness of safety. It is doubtful whether any waking agony surpasses the torment that has been endured in dreams.

There can be little doubt that many of the specters of the dark ages were Maras begotten with indigestion. Your Saxon gormandizer, who sometimes feasted far into the night on bear's flesh and venison pasty, washing them down with frothy mead, must have gone to bed with his stomach in a nice condition. No wonder that of the internal fermentation, caused by such stuffing and swilling hobgoblins and hippogriffs in endless variety were born.

The surest way to avoid the nightmare, and procure that sound, healthful repose, with which each day's life should be "rounded off," is to live temperately, regularly and honestly. Ay, honestly, for a troubled conscience as well as an overladen diaphragm, may engender evil dreams.—N. Y. Ledger.

NOT EVEN A MONUMENT.

A Clergyman of Acton Who Did Not Believe in Toggery at Funerals.

ACTON, July 26.—Following is an extract from the will of the late Rev. D. B. Cameron of this place:

"Considering the extravagance displayed by the community in general, and as a protest against it I direct that my body, when dead, shall be decently wrapped in bleached cotton, neatly prepared for the purpose, laid in a simple coffin made of pine, with no ornamentation, not as much as my name, and carried to my grave in a sleigh, if in winter, or a spring wagon, and laid in the grave without a shell; and that no monument or stone of any kind be put up to mark the place, unless some friend take a boulder from the field to mark the spot, and if he desires to cut thereon the initial letters D. B. C."

THE SINGLE TAX.

CLOSING REPLY.

The discussion ends with this rejoinder. I shall confine myself to the rules of debate and answer specifically. The editorial says: "At that rate, the rental of land worth $5,000 would be $250. Of this 65 per cent or $162.50 would be required for revenue, leaving 35 per cent, or $87.50 to pay for the land," which it further alleges would not pay the interest, let alone a sinking fund. This is true, on its showing. But the REVIEW makes one mistake. Capital borrowed in immense quantities, unless in time of war, requires, on security, a low rate of interest. Mr. Atkinson says that money is lying idle in New York with 2½ per cent asked. He might have added that people in England pay one per cent. to the Bank for the privilege of depositing it there. The REVIEW says a fair rental of land is five per cent. This is preposterously low when it is the sole tax. Call it six and one-half. The country can borrow a large sum at, say 2 per cent., pay off as many "owners" as it can, just as in any other business transaction, pay for revenue and for collection and put the balance into a sinking fund. This would pay the debt in time and justice would be done. But does the county stand still? Do vacant lands not fill up? When the nation has become landlord it will find that in a decade the usual progress, at least, has been made. The rental or single tax from these as well as from the increased value of their old lands will, I am safe in saying, make the solution an easy matter. On page 390 of the July number of the Century, paragraph 2, Mr. Atkinson says (to repeat) that land valuation in the United States in 1890 was $13,000,000,000. Five per cent. (his own figures) on that is $650,000,000. The total required revenue of the United States (see Mr. A.) was $500,000,000. Where, even in the showing of an opponents, the land-tax is more than ample. I quote these figures merely to show that the plan is feasible. The process of valuation can be made. That is quite manifest.

These are the points in the last issue. I have been treated with the courtesy which I expected by the REVIEW, and I hope to see the editor throw in his weight for Single Tax. So far as I am concerned this closes the argument.

REVIEWS.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.—Scribner's for August is a fiction number containing six short stories, five of them illustrated. As is usual in this magazine, a number of entirely new writers are brought forward with stories of striking originality. They show great variety of scene and subject, and include a newspaper story, a tale of Army life, a California story, a Maine woods story, and a New York City story, besides Mr. Bunner's capital burlesque modernization of Sterne's Sentimental Journey. There is also the beginning of part second of the remarkable anonymous serial, Jerry, which brings the hero to manhood and opens his adventurous career. In this new phase of the novel the writer exhibits virile characteristics which were not demanded in the pathetic descriptions of Jerry's youth. The fiction idea of the number is further carried out in the very richly illustrated article by the Blashfield's on The Paris of the Three Musketeers. The veteran London publisher and close friend of Stanley, Mr. Edward Marston, tells, with striking illustrations made at Cairo, How Stanley Wrote His Book. There are also poems by Thomas Bailey Aldrich and Andrew Lang. Among the notable artists represented in the illustrations are J. H. Twachtman, C. D. Gibson, E. H. Blashfield, Kenyon Cox, Joseph Bell, and Frank Fowler. The pictures in the leading article are among the best that Mr. Blashfield has made, reproducing the costumes, architecture, furniture, etc., of the Paris of Louis XIII.'s time (1627)-(1660). The whole article reconstructs the background of Dumas's great romance with pen and pencil, and makes very real a distant period and people. The Point of View discusses The Tyranny of Things, An Obsolete Distinction, and The Passing of a Week.

Ten Acres in Eight Hours.

Mr. Robt. Morton, of Smith, tells of a good record made in cutting a ten acre field of wheat which belonged to him. The field was cut by Mr. John Little, also of Smith, in eight hours, which is pretty good work.

The St. Lawrence, Lakefield.

The Lakefield Chronicle says:—"Mr. Wm. Leahy, late manager of the Balmoral hotel, Peterborough, has succeeded to the St. Lawrence hotel, recently occupied by Capt. Dion. Mr. Leahy took possession last Saturday morning and is now giving the premises a thorough overhauling. 'Billy' graduated in the art of 'mixing drinks' in the village, and from the extensive experience since, knows how to run a hotel. He proposes making several alterations in the hotel that will add to the comfort and convenience of guests, and no doubt will meet with a fair share of public patronage."

Koh-i-nur! Koh-i-nur!

Every brand of tea has its own peculiar ties. So to get a perfect Tea, you can only do so by blending these different kinds in proportion, that by so doing the one flavor benefits the other. This being the case, how is it possible to obtain such perfection? Only by a long practical experience and having at your disposal large quantities of the several Brands to operate with. Such are the conditions by which the Tea is introduced for the first time to the Canadian public under the name and brand of KOH-I-NUR. This Tea has been carefully blended by those who have been engaged, and have had a life's experience, in the trade. For sale at Hawley Bros.' tea store. d18w30

Can it be True?

This neat little story is taken from the Lindsay Post:—"It is whispered about that a protest is to be entered by the sports committee of the Peterborough Court of Foresters which excurted to the Point Tuesday. Their unique programme provided a prize of a handsome high chair for the best looking baby on the ground, and it was awarded by unanimous consent to a little cherub proudly held up for inspection by Mr. Wm. Simpson, manager of the hotel. It has since leaked out that the dimpled darling was the property of one of the lady guests and had been surreptitiously whisked away from the nurse to be presented 'at court.' The action in itself was scarcely blameable, but such a cool usurpation of a parent's rights should be condemned."

THE WORK OF THE STORM.

A Barn Struck by Lightning and Destroyed—No Damage in Town.

A severe electrical storm passed over this district last night between eight and nine o'clock, but again there was little damage done. The frequency of these storms has been a matter of much comment, but they seem apparently to be likely to continue through the entire summer. The town did not get the full force of last night's storm by any means. A farmer driving out the Bridgenorth road says that he actually scooped handfuls of large hail stones from the front of his buggy. The lightning's flash was almost constant. At the electric light station here a number of interested persons watched the working of a new lightning arrester, which Mr. H. O. Fisk has introduced. The object of the arrester is to prevent the fluid from entering the electric light station, but instead sends it down a wire into the waters of the Otonabee. Mr. Fisk's new arrester worked most successfully last night and will be an important and valuable invention.

A BARN DESTROYED.

The storm did not pass over without leaving some destruction to mark its visit. In its early part one of the barns on Mr. Wm. Garbutt's farm in Douro, about four miles from town, was struck by lightning and burned. The barn, which was the least valuable one, contained eight tons of hay and a number of farm implements. At about nine o'clock Mr. Davis, a neighbor, saw that the barn was struck and gave the alarm. By hard and quick work the implements were got out, but the hay and building were burned. There was no insurance on them.

The Lomb Prize Essay.

We are indebted to the American Public Health Association for a neat copy of the prize essay on "Practical Sanitary and Economic Cooking," by Mrs. Mary H. Abel. To this essay was awarded the first prize among seventy competitors, and the unanimous opinion of the judges of award, and testimonials from members of the American Public Health Association prove that it is a work of great practical value, and that it would in many cases assist in securing to families health, comfort, and happiness in life, if it could be placed in their hands. While the economic character of the book makes it especially adapted to persons of moderate or small means, it will prove useful in every household, and while it would be helpful to experienced housekeepers, it will prove also especially so to those, who sometimes without much knowledge or experience in domestic life and duties, enter married life.

THE NEW TELEPHONE COMPANY.

A Large and Representative Meeting—Election of a Directorate.

For some months past the project of establishing a new telephone company in Peterborough has been more or less active, and the organization more or less carried forward. Now, however, it would appear that the company and its service will soon be a reality, as the project is alive and has been taken hold of by many of Peterborough's business men. The authorized capital of the company has not been fixed, but sufficient stock has been subscribed. A meeting of the company was called for last evening in the office of Messrs. Edmison & Dixon, and a large and representative gathering was the result. Among the gentlemen present were the following:—James Kendry, Geo. Edmison, R. M. Dennistoun, A. E. Dixon, Robt. Fair, W. H. Hill, Macfarlane Wilson, H. S. Macdonald, W. H. Meredith, Geo. Stevenson, Thomas Brooks, H. C. Stabler, J. Wright, J. E. Dolan, Wm. Salisbury, R. B. Rogers, J. M. Walruth, W. R. Springer, A. V. R. Young, C. H. Clementi, R. Kingan, A. T. Ostrom, and J. W. Taylor.

Mr. James Kendry was chosen to preside as chairman when the election of a directorate was proceeded with. The result was the following Board of Directors:—Messrs. James Kendry, R. B. Rogers, A. Stevenson, Geo. Edmison, J. Wright, C. H. Clementi and F. E. Bell.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. Kendry was elected chairman, with Mr. T. E. Bell secretary, Messrs. Mulholland and Roger were appointed treasurers and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun solicitor.

The new company will be known as the Ontario Telephone Company and it is anticipated by the stockholders that the organization will prove a success both in point of service and financially. The company's solicitor Mr. Dennistoun, will take out the necessary incorporation papers at once while the work of construction will also be commenced immediately. Already a very large number of subscribers have been obtained for telephones, and the stockholders are most sanguine of their company's future.

A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Monday afternoon.

Two Rowed Barley.

We were shown to-day a sample of two-rowed barley grown in the township of Asphodel. There were five acres sown, with about one and a half bushels to the acre. The straw is straight and of even growth, and the berry is large. It will ripen from eight to ten days later than the six-rowed barley, and has every appearance of filling out plump. It will yield about twenty-five bushels to the acre.

Cribwork and Sidewalks.

The Street and Bridge Committee of the Town Council met last evening for the purpose of considering the tenders for the crib-work on Crescent-st. and the laying of sidewalks. Two tenders for each work were received. The contract for finishing the cribbing of Little Lake was not let, being held over for the present. Mr. Thos. Irwin was awarded the contract for laying the sidewalks. The first sidewalk to be laid is on Crescent-st. leading up to the cemetery. The walk will be laid on the north side between the two rows of trees which have been planted.

HALIBURTON.

PHOSPHATES.—We are much interested in the question of phosphates, and we have the finest phosphate territory in the world. Mr. Ledyard, of Toronto, who was here this time last year, exploring a mine in Monmouth, started the phosphate business. All the people around began to look for phosphate. Early this year the phosphate mine near Essonville was discovered, and after careful investigation the mine was purchased by a syndicate of about twenty gentlemen, among whom was Mr. Lockhart Gordon. The company secured the services of Mr. Miller, of Toronto, and that gentleman's reports being satisfactory the development of the mine commenced. It has proved a brilliant success. There is a force of about a dozen men now employed at the mine, and the product is simply splendid. The rock phosphate is inexhaustible in quantity and the percentage of phosphate is the highest ever known in phosphate history. From a pecuniary point of view the success of the mine will have great importance and give profitable employment to many men. The phosphate will be shipped from Irondale, or otherwise from this place. The distance from Haliburton to Essonville is about 13 miles with a good road, and the mine is perhaps a mile and a half from Essonville on a newly made road through the woods. It is the grandest thing for this district that has ever happened. One crystal taken out of the mine weighed 60 lbs.—Independent.

STRUCK IN THE BACK.

Wm. Brett Struck by a Train and Almost Instantly Killed.

A fatal accident occurred on the Midland railway last evening by which Wm. Brett was almost instantly killed by being struck by the engine of the Belleville train, which leaves here at 1.20 in charge of conductor Stanton.

The sad accident occurred at what is known as Falkiner's pit, a ballast pit about eight miles from Belleville. The unfortunate victim was a man about fifty years of age and was employed in the pit. He was very deaf and this affliction is the cause to which his trouble and awful sudden death can be attributed. The poor fellow was working in the pit and when the train came along he was in the act of crossing the track when the engine gave him

THE FATAL SHOCK.

Just before the train runs into the pit there is a slight curve. When the huge iron horse rounded this curve Driver E. Taylor saw a man walking along the road which approaches the track in a diagonal direction. The man was only a short distance from the train, and the idea that he would attempt to cross the track never entered the driver's head. His horror may be imagined when he saw the man step onto the track and start walking down ahead of the flying train. To reverse his engine and put on the brakes was the work of an instant, but it was too late. Another second and the unfortunate victim would have been saved, for some of his fellow-workers close at hand, seeing their comrade's peril had rushed to his rescue, knowing that his deafness rendered him unconscious of his fearful danger. One of the workmen was within a few feet of him, and in another minute would have pulled him from the track, but the approaching engine was the quicker and struck the poor fellow, throwing him off the track. The train was brought to a standstill a short distance further on and the train men went back to where the unconscious man lay. When Conductor Stanton picked him up he was just gasping his last and never spoke or opened his eyes. There were a couple of bruises on the forehead and chest and the left leg was broken.

The remains were put on the train and taken to Belleville, where Coroner Wilson was notified, but after hearing the particulars and viewing the remains decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

The deceased was a married man, but for some time past had not lived with his wife. He had a small house close to the pit where he met his death and there he lived alone and in quietude.

STONY LAKE.

Air:—"Scots Wha Hae."

(All rights reserved.)

Where "Chemong" its waters pours
Past the "Buckhorn's" sheltered shores,
Down through where the "Burleigh" roars
Into Stony Lake,
All the changing scenic miles,—
Shores and bays and festooned isles,
Wreath'd in summer's happiest smiles,
Rapturous joys awake.

There the laurell'd hills appear
Mirror'd in the waters clear,
While the fir-crown'd islands rear,
Tassell'd brows below;
Cloud and rack and rock and pine
Blending at the water line,—
In a harmony divine,
Bright and glorious glow.

But where "Burleigh" greets the sun
Nature's gifts are but begun;
Far o'er bight and bay they run,—
Fern and ferny brake;
Shores, that echo back the swell,—
Isles, wherein a god might dwell;
Not St. Lawrence can excel
Lovely Stony Lake.

"Julien's" terraced heights reveal
All that soulo-poetic feel
When sublime displays appeal
Unto sense and soul.
What a vision wins the eyes!
Green-robed, myriad isles arise
'Round whose base in sweet surprise
Laughing waters roll.

Yonder, by the sunbeams kiss'd,
Methuen's mountain cleaves the mist,
Like a royal amethyst
Set in opal green;
While, in midway east and west,
—Sacred guardian of the rest—
"Eagle Mountain's" granite crest
Over all is seen.

Lavish glories crown "Bo-shink"
Where her clust'ring islands link
Past each other, till they shrink,
—Seen from far above—
Into gems of rarest sheen,
Set in frills of azure green,
Where the sky-tint waves between,
Sing of peace and love.

Who may tell of Dummer's shore?
Sing her fountained life in store?
Laud her beauty evermore?
(Who, if not her son?)
There, the echoes always call
Soft and gently unto all,
When the evening shadows fall
And the day is done.

See, from where "Wa-bu-no" stands,
Reaching out in silver bands,
Laving countless island strands,—
All the waters flow:
Here, they kiss fair "Grassy Isle,"—
There, by crooning "Pinehurst" smile,—
On and on for many a mile,
Till they—far below—

Wash "Mt. Roscoe's" rugged beach—
Sing their hymns in runic speech
Past the "Katch-e-wa-nook's" reach—
Where—in sparkling spray—
O'er "O-ton-a-bee's" fair bead
Press they—by her luring led;
She—adown her shaly bed—
Bears them far away.

KNOW HOW
—TO—
KEEP COOL!

In these cool days that succeed the hot weather of last week and which are to be followed by another heated term—so says the probs—there is opportunity to consider the problem of cool dress. Men try to solve it by wearing the outing shirt and a light coat, discarding the vest altogether. But the warmest part of man's attire is his suspenders. They make his shoulders burn, as any one can testify who has taken a long walk on a hot summer day, the clothing near the place where the pressure of the suspenders comes is sure to be soaked with perspiration. And so the man who wears an outing shirt but who will stick to suspenders, has accomplished only half his purpose in keeping cool. Throw aside the suspenders, adopt the belt and summer days will lose half their terrors.

SIR C. A. CAMERON, M.D., Ex-President of the Royal College of Surgeons, Chief Medical Officer of Health for Dublin, &c., reports on "SUNLIGHT SOAP":—"The points in the composition of this Soap that are most valuable are its freedom from free alkali, the large percentage of fatty acids which it contains, and the purity of the materials employed in its preparation. I EMPLOY THE SOAP, and from my actual experience of it can strongly recommend it. (Signed) CHARLES A. CAMERON."

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1890.

VALDIMIR THE MONK.

BY SYLVANUS COBB, JR.

As sangta Conrad Damenoff started back, and a quick cry escaped his lips. His antagonist's point had touched his bosom—it had pressed against his heart, and had not been driven home. Well he knew that his life was his no longer, for the gun-maker had gained it, and—spared it.

"You fence well," he gasped, struggling to regain his composure.

"You are not a novice," returned Raric calmly, at the same time allowing his point to drop.

"Come on," the Count uttered, now gathering all his energies for another effort.

And again the weapons were crossed. This time Damenoff was more guarded. Before he had been impelled by his own assurance; but now he was forced to regard his opponent's power. Raric quickly found that the other was more careful than at first, and he carried his own point accordingly. At the twelfth stroke the Count made a feint to the left—then at the throat, and then, with a quick, lightning-like motion, he brought his point to his antagonist's heart. But his meaning had been read from the first by Raric. The youth caught the motion of the eye, and he saw that his heart was the place looked to. His own movement was almost instinctive. He received his antagonist's sword midway upon his own blade—then moved his arm quickly forward and caught the point under his cross-guard—then, with all his power, he wrenched his arm upward and backward, and the Count's sword went flying across the building. It struck the opposite wall with a dull clang, and the next instant it was half buried in the snow.

"Fear not, sir," said Raric, as the Count started back with both hands raised, "I never strike an unarmed man."

Damenoff's arms fell to his side, and a deep blush of shame mantled his face.

"By St. Paul," cried the surgeon, "your life is forfeited, sir Count; and now you should be satisfied."

"No, no," the discomfited man exclaimed, starting up with rage and mortification. "That was but a slip. 'Twas a false step—a cowardly feint. I am not overcome."

"But, man of mortality, even now your life is Nevel's. He may run you through now if he chooses."

"But he has not," the Count cried, springing to where his sword had fallen, and snatching it up.

"Sir Count," here spoke Raric, calmly, but with marked contempt, "you should not blame me for what I have done, for thrice have you tried to break my sword."

"Then try it again!" Damenoff returned. "Take my sword again if you can."

"Perhaps not," our hero retorted. "But be sure your sword shall be used no more after this day."

"Ha! Brag not, but strike. If you can—"

The conclusion of the sentence was drowned by the clash of steel.

At the second stroke the Count made another furious thrust at his antagonist's heart. Raric sprang quickly aside, and with the whole power of his good right arm he struck Damenoff's blade close to the haft and broke it in twain.

"My other sword! my other sword!" the Count shouted, now blinded by absolute madness. "Oh, give me my other—"

"Hold!" cried both the surgeon and Stephen Ursen in concert. "You are mad, Conrad."

"Mad?—Oh, I shall be mad! Where is my sword!" the reckless man yelled, casting the bladeless pommel down.

"But will you not listen one—"

"Away, I say! Shall I give up because my sword is broke? By the gods, the weapon deceived me. Where is the other?"

"Deceived thee, Conrad?" repeated the surgeon, sarcastically. "By the holy Host! had thy head but received a hundredth part of the blow, 'twould not be upon thy shoulders now."

But the Count was beyond all reason. In his madness he saw not that his sword had been broken on purpose. He did not see that he had been at his antagonist's mercy. But his friends saw it all.

"Ha! whom have we here?" cried Alaric, whose eye had caught a dark form at the entrance of the old building.

It was Valdimir the monk.

"How now? What seek ye here?" asked Ursen, as the fat, burly monk waddled towards the party.

"I heard the clash of arms, my son, as I rode by, and I stopped to see what it was. Surely, where the work of death is going on a child of the holy church of God may come."

"Aye," cried the Count, "Come in and welcome, but meddle not. Now!—my sword!—where is it?"

Reluctantly Ursen brought forward the second, but ere he gave it up he said:

"Beware, Conrad. You had better—"

"Peace, babbler!" the excited fool hissed, snatching the weapon, and then turning quickly upon the gun-maker.

Thus far Raric had remained silent, but he felt it his duty to speak now.

"Sir Count," he said, in a tone so stern and authoritative, and with a look so commanding, that the other was held in abeyance by it, "I must speak one word. You have provoked a quarrel with me—and you have challenged me. I have no fear of death when duty calls for my life, but I would not die thus, nor would I slay a fellow-being thus. Six separate times to-day, since our swords first crossed, have I spared your life—"

"Liar!"

—"And twice have I had you before unarmed," Raric continued, without noticing the interruption. "I had hoped this would have shown you that I sought not harm to you; and, furthermore, that you were no match for me at this kind of work."

"Out, fool!" yelled Damenoff, now fairly frothing with rage. "If you dare not cross swords again, say so; but do not crawl off like a coward!"

"One word more," uttered Raric, paling for an instant beneath the unmerciful insult of the conscious tongue that assailed him—and he stood proudly erect while he spoke—"before these men here assembled and before God, I swear that thus far I have spared you; but my own life may be the forfeit if I trifle with you more. So now—beware! You have sufficient warning!"

Perhaps the Count really overlooked the facts of which Raric had spoken. In his ungovernable rage he may have fancied that 'twas only accident that had worked against him. However, he started forward once more, and made a furious lunge at his antagonist.

"Now," he gasped, "play your best, for my sword's my own!"

But Raric spoke not. He saw that the Count was stronger than before—for his rage seemed to give him a maniac's power—and that he was earnest only for life or death. He struck quickly and furiously, and his movements were strange and unprecedented. He threw up all rules of exercise, and cut and thrust only in wild madness. Twice Raric came nigh being run through. He lost all run of his opponent's play, and quickly saw that he must put a stop to the conflict, or run the risk of leaving a childless mother in his home to see that day's sun sink.

"Will you give o'er?" he asked, as he struck the Count's point down.

"Never! Submit to such as you? Bah!"

A few moments more the conflict lasted. One more opportunity he had at Damenoff's heart—and he spared him. All present saw it save the madman.

"Fool!" uttered the monk, who trembled from head to foot with excitement, his huge belly shaking like a bag of jelly, "will you throw away your own life, Raric Nevel? Shall I tell your mother you left her of your own will?"

This mention of his mother called the last lingering doubt from Raric's mind. Again he struck the opposing point down, and then he pressed his own point upon the Count's bosom. He avoided the heart—he tried to avoid the vitals—but he threw his arm forward, and his glittering blade passed through the fool's body. With an expression of pain upon his features he started back, and rested his rocking point upon the trodden snow. The Count came furiously on again, but he struck wildly, and at random, Raric merely warding off his blows, until finally his arm sank. On the next moment his sword fell from his nerveless grasp, and he sank fainting back into the arms of his attendants.

To be continued.

BETTER SETTLE IT THAT WAY.

Gen. Eyeta of Salvador Challenges Guatemala's President to a Duel.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 25.—Gen. Eyeta, brother of President Eyeta of San Salvador, defeated the Guatemalans again at Atescatempo Chingo in Guatemala, twenty leagues from the frontier, obliging the Guatemalans to abandon their fortifications at Coco. The Salvadorans captured an immense booty, including the correspondence of Guatemalan generals and Salvadoran traitors. Geronimo Pou says Honduras takes no active part in the war, whilst Nicaragua and Costa Rica are privately friends of Salvador. General Eyeta has sent a personal challenge to President Barillas of Guatemala.

A special to El Universal says Guatemalan agents are spreading false reports of Guatemalan victories.

The Guatemala Story.

EL PASO, Texas, July 25.—The troops of Salvador invaded Guatemala and planted their flag upon Guatemalan soil. Guatemala was insulted and declared war. The Guatemalan troops fought with great courage. The loss was great on both sides. Yesterday the troops of San Salvador were driven out of Guatemala.

The Colima's Detention.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The Secretary of State has called upon the United States Minister to Guatemala for a report regarding the alleged detention of the steamship Colima at a Guatemalan port and the seizure of arms and ammunition forming part of her cargo. The only information received at the Department of State came from the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and the reports are somewhat conflicting.

A NARRAGANSETT ELOPEMENT.

Ex-Governor Sprague's Sister-in-Law Makes a Runaway Match.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, July 25.—Ex-Governor Sprague has had his hands full the last two days. His wife has been visiting here and her sister, Cleo Juliet Weed, a very pretty young girl, 20 years of age, had formed the acquaintance of Howard S. Eaton, of Lynn, Mass., who had been here about six weeks and was attending to some electrical engineering at the local electric light station.

Yesterday Miss Weed left the famous Canonchet and meeting Mr. Eaton entered his carriage and drove toward Kingston. Young Eaton had just before this gone to the office of the Clerk of Narragansett district and obtained a marriage license, giving the age of himself and intended as 21. On arriving at Kingston Hill they called on Rev. Mr. Clark, the Baptist minister, and were speedily made man and wife. They returned to the Pier, Mrs. Eaton going alone to her sister's house and informing Mrs. Sprague that she and Eaton had eloped and were married.

Word was sent to Eaton to report at once at Canonchet, and there he was catechized by Governor Sprague. The result of this interview was that Eaton was informed that his marriage was illegal, inasmuch as he had failed to comply with the law by neglecting to get a permit from Miss Weed's guardian and from his own people.

Last night the bride slept at Canonchet and the young husband cooled off his love at his boarding place. Governor Sprague objected to the marriage because he and his wife knew little or nothing of Eaton's antecedents.

SUPPOSED TO BE FROM TORONTO.

Henry James Attempts to Commit Suicide in Lindsay Jail.

LINDSAY, July 25.—A man named Henry James, supposed to be of Toronto, and who has been working on the Grand Trunk Railway here, attempted to commit suicide in the county jail here yesterday. He severed his windpipe and gullet with a piece of broken glass. His condition is critical in the extreme. He was committed as a lunatic Thursday.

Oysters Growing Scarce.

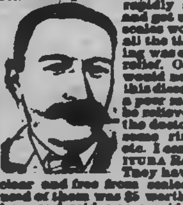
BALTIMORE, July 25.—The oystermen of the Chesapeake Bay are beginning to realize the condition of the supply, and there is a growing anxiety about its future. Last year, owing to the failure of the crop in Delaware Bay and Long Island Sound, the prices were unusually high, and the scramble in the bay was unprecedented. In spite of the most thorough dredging that the Chesapeake has ever known, the yield was one-third less than usual. This shows to the men more plainly than anything they have seen that unless some methods of recuperation are found the supply will soon be doomed.

The Montmorency Election.

MONTREAL, July 25.—The election in Montmorency to-day to fill the vacancy in the Commons, made vacant by the resignation of Langelier (Lib.) resulted in the return of Desjardins (Con.) by a considerable majority over Prevost (Lib.)

Mr. Langelier resigned in order to enter the recent provincial contest and was elected to the Assembly last month from the same constituency.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS.



If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot no larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.
DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

TRANSATLANTIC ADVICES.

SIR W. A. WHITE ARRIVED JUST IN TIME.

Had He Not Stiffened the Porte's Back to Resist Russia's Demands War Would Have Been Inevitable—Another Liverpool Cotton Corner.

LONDON, July 28.—The Standard's correspondent at Sofia says: The English Ambassador, Sir W. A. White, arrived at Constantinople at an opportune moment to stiffen the Porte's resolution to resist the demands of the Russian note. If Turkey had yielded to Russia's menaces a continuance of peace would have been impossible.

A despatch from Vienna says M. Stambuloff, the Bulgarian Premier, will assemble the colonels of all the Bulgarian regiments and the deputies of the leading towns at Sofia on Aug. 3, when Bulgaria will be proclaimed independent and Prince Ferdinand be declared King.

The Earl of Jersey has been appointed Governor of New South Wales.

Servia and Turkey.

LONDON, July 28.—[illegible] make reparation for the murder of M. Marinkovitch, the Servian Consul at Pristina, has caused much anxiety in diplomatic circles, especially as it is known that Russia is behind the Servian note, and also owing to the justice of the demand.

A Cotton Corner.

LONDON, July 27.—The Liverpool Journal of Commerce says: New York cotton operators have undertaken to run a corner in Liverpool in autumn deliveries. They have set local houses to buy all spot cotton at the present basis, as well as for immediate delivery. They will try to run a corner in New York also.

The rise in silver and the concurrent advance in Indian exchange have gradually raised the price of India Council bills from 1s 4d, the lowest level, to 1s 7d, making an annual addition to the India budget of £3,553,000.

The Erzeroum Garrison Reinforced.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—Nine battalions of Redifs have reinforced the garrison at Erzeroum.

The Sultan's irade granting berats of investiture to the Bulgarian bishops of Macedonia is officially published.

Kiamel Bey, director of police, has been dismissed. He is succeeded by Nazim Bey, the Governor of Constantinople.

Lieut. Wyse's Mission.

PARIS, July 27.—Le Paris publishes cablegrams containing news of the mission of Lieut. Wyse, who went to Colombia to secure a renewal of the Panama Canal concessions. The despatches say the Colombia Government has welcomed the proposals of M. Wyse, having had assurance that the French Government would do everything needful to facilitate the completion of the canal.

Bavaria's Prince Regent Injured.

MUNICH, July 27.—While the Prince Regent was driving in the suburbs to-day his carriage collided with a tram-car and the prince was thrown out and badly bruised.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

After the Soda Water Factories—The T., H. & B. Tunnel—Sudden Death.

HAMILTON, July 26.—English syndicates are now dickering for the soda water factories. Yesterday two agents of the syndicate, which has purchased several factories in Canada, were in Hamilton, and tried to purchase Pilgrim Bros.' factory, King-street east.

The officials of the T., H. & B. now say that work will be commenced on the tunnel on Monday.

Edward Rowland, an old man who has been a wanderer on the face of the earth and considerable of a nuisance to the city police for years, died suddenly at the jail a little before midnight last night.

John Gorman has been arrested charged with hitting Patrol Driver Harris with a stone while the officer was driving the wagon in response to a call Friday night.

The Knights of Sherwood Forest, the uniformed branch of the Ancient Order of Foresters, will have a meeting of representatives here Monday night to form a Canadian Supreme Conclave under the Canadian High Court. The Canadian body is severing connection with the United States Conclave in consequence of the latter's secession from the parent body in England.

A Tramp Tailor Drowned.

ARNPRIOR, July 26.—Joseph N. McGrath, a wandering tailor, hailing from the vicinity of Toronto, was drowned in the Madawaska River, at this place last night. He had been in the town but a week, and was under the influence of liquor when he fell in the river. The body was recovered about an hour afterwards.

Robbed the Bank.

WOODSTOCK, N.B., July 26.—Saunders, charged with stealing $4000 of the funds of the Bank of Nova Scotia, in which he was employed, was to-day committed for trial. The money has been paid back to the bank. Saunders claimed that he was assaulted and while senseless the bank was robbed, but he has since made a confession.

A Terrible Death.

LISTOWEL, July 27.—Mrs. Wm. Shewan, an old Mornington pioneer, in attempting to release a cow from a blazing barn had her clothes ignited by the flames. Her head and body were literally roasted and she died a few hours later after suffering untold agony.

RED REVOLUTION.

THE STREETS OF BUENOS AYRES RUN WITH BLOOD.

Two Days of Fighting in the Argentine Republic's Capital—The Dead Lying in Heaps—The Revolt Spreads to the Provinces—Insurgent Successes.

BUENOS AYRES, July 26.—A revolution broke out here this morning.

The troops in the garrison rebelled and firing is now [at noon] going on.

All the shops are closed and fighting is taking place in the streets.

Desperate fighting is now [1.50 p.m.] going on.

Many have been killed on both sides.

The insurgents are advancing toward the Plaza de la Victoria, where the President's palace and the Town Hall are located.

The President has escaped to Rosario.

A revolutionary government is announced, with Senor Arem as President and Senor Romero as Minister of Finance.

The authorities still hold out, but the revolutionary movement is extending hourly.

HEAVY LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES.

The Revolution Extending to the Provinces—Insurgent Successes.

BUENOS AYRES, July 27.—Generals Campos and Arredondo, commanding the insurgents, have seized the arsenal, barracks and Plaza Lavalle. Their forces include five battalions and two citizen battalions and expect reinforcements from Zarate. The street conflicts on Saturday were adverse to the Government.

The losses on both sides were heavy.

Many buildings were destroyed.

The navy remains neutral.

Senor Pellegrini, the vice-president, has assumed the presidency.

Another battalion of troops with arms and baggage joined the insurgents at 1½ this afternoon.

The populace support the revolution, which has extended to the provinces.

The authorities are negotiating with the insurgents.

Another Account.

BUENOS AYRES, July 26.—At 4 o'clock this morning a revolution was commenced by the Union Civica, assisted by the battalions of the garrison. President Celman has declared the whole republic in a state of siege. The National Guard has been called to arms.

Later reports are that [illegible] of the [illegible]

The postal and telegraph offices are surrounded by soldiers.

The revolutionists are reported to have completely triumphed. The Governor of Buenos Ayres is seriously wounded.
